REMOVAL.

THE subscriber takes this method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr. Samuel Copeland, it being more commodious and better adapted to his business; and also, would tender his sincere thanks for the liberal share of patronage which he has received during the past year from former customers and the public generally are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves among which is the

New England Air-Tight,

combining, in the highest degree of perfection, every essential quality requisite for any latitude. This stove presents itself externally in a plain dress, with neat and tasteful proportions, giving it the appearance of a chaste and tastefully made piece of Cabinet furniture. Internally, the location and capacity of the Fire Chamber is such as to remove effectually the objections often made to Air-Tight Cook-Stoves for family use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely what its projectors intended it should be, viz: the largest and most perfect ever constructed in a family stove. The Flues, upon which the great responsibility and reputation of a stove depends, differ from any before used, and are of such construction and capacity as to ensure the most perfect draught, without liability to fill up, and are easily kept clean. Already one hundred of this stove have been sold the past year and all have given the utmost satisfaction.

Also—A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYLINDER STOVES, together with a good assortment of TIN, BRITANIA, SHEET IRON and

Japaned Ware.

CHARLES HOLMES.

Quincy, Jan12. tf

QUINCY WASHING MIXUTRE.

THIS article has been tested by upwards of fifty families during the past week, and all have called it equal to anything of the kind which they have used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and sell it at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart, with directions accompanying it.

By this improvement, it is expected the dry goods will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this will wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so often will now be bought.

ELISHA PACKARD.

tf

Wood, Wood.

FOR sale, a constant supply of Hard and Soft, at the Granite wharf, Quincy Point.

By WHITON & ADAMS.

Quincy, August 17. tf

Periodical Agency.

GILL & Co are Agents for all the Quarterly, Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free of any expense for Postage or transportation. All who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be exchanged or single numbers purchased at the lowest rates. tf Quincy, Dec. 22.

Preparation for the Hair.

THE celebrated "Der Schon Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Gloss; Comms Spanish Lustral, or detailed hair preservative; Tompkins' Chloston Strake; Batchelor's instantaneous hair dye; Jules Allix vegetable jan dye. For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept 21. tf

Cider Vinegar.

JUST received, and for sale by the subscribers twenty barrels extra Cider vinegar.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850. tf

Wool Frocking.

200 TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.

Also—FROCKS ready made.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Sept. 29. tf

New Goods.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.,

HAVE recently made large additions to their Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows:

Muslin De Laine, a good assortment, very low;

Prints and Ginghams in great variety;

Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters

Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors

Wool Yarn, of all colors;

A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and 12 cts per yard;

Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other goods, all of which will be sold at the

VERY LOWEST PRICES.

Quincy, August 31 s tf

Salt Pork.

FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expence.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quincy March 9th, tf

Velvet Trimmings.

JUST Received, an assortment of Velvet Trimmings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by

GEO SAVIL & Co., Washington St.

Quincy, Sept 21. tf

Paper Hangings.

TO 400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 24th tf

Bay State Long Shawls.

AN Assortment just received of the different sizes Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the lowest prices, by GEO. SAVIL and Co., Washington St. Quincy,

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

PORK & BEEF.

SALT PEEKED BEEF and Bacon, of the first quality, will be kept constantly on hand during the season, and sold as cheap as can be bought at

Any Store in Town for Cash.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quincy, March 24. tf

For Cash Only.

Wood. Wood. Wood.

FOR sale one Freight of good Eastern Wood, just landed, on Granite wharf, Quincy Point.

Apply to

WHITON & ADAMS.

Quincy, April 20th. tf

QUINCY PATRIOT.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.....OVER MESSRS. JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO'S STORE.....HANCOCK STREET.

NUMBER 1. QUINCY (MASS.) SATURDAY, JANUARY 4, 1851. VOLUME 15.

JOHN A GREEN,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance—Two DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid till the end of six months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till the expiration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will be stopped previous to the payment of all arrearages unless at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers wish their papers discontinued, they will give notice to that effect at the time their subscription expires. Every subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of his paper so long as it is sent to his address at the Post Office, Tavern, or any other place wheresover he may have ordered it, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously, inserted at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, otherwise they will be continued until ordered out and charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business; and all advertisements for the benefit of other persons, as well as all legal advertisements, and advertisements of auction sales, sent in by them, must be paid for at the usual rates.

Business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.

☞ Single copies of the paper, FIVE CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscriptions:

JOSIAH BABCOCK,	Quincy Railway.
GEORGE H. LOCKE,	" Stone Quarries.
ORIN P. BACON,	Dorchester.
FISHER A. KINGSBURY,	Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVERLY,	Abington.
SAMUEL A. TURNER,	South Scituate.
N. B. OSBORNE,	Salem
FREEMAN HUNT,	New York City.

MISCELLANY.

GETTING A RAILWAY SUBSCRIPTION.

Having seen nobody for thirty miles, night overtook me in the centre of Jones county.—The road was only visible by the 'three chops' on the trees, the grass growing on it rank and tall, like that in the adjacent woods. I was striking for the court-house. I passed a small 'opening' in which stood three rickity cabins but they were untenanted. The road branched off in dozen trails. Compeletely puzzled, I threw down the reins and left the matter to the instinct of my horse. He struck into one of the paths, and in fifteen minutes halted at a large farm house.

'Halloo!' cried I.

'It's Halloo, yourself' said a man in the gallery.

'How far to the court-house?'

'Where are you from?' said the man.

'From Winchester?'

'Then,' said he, 'the court house is behind, and you come right by it down there,' pointing to the deserted cabins.

'Why, I saw nobody there.'

'I reckon you didn't,' said he. 'There's a doggery and a tarven twice a year, two days at a time, but they come with the court, and go with the court.'

'And the clerk and sheriff,' said I, 'where do they live?'

'O, the sheriff is clerk, and the clerk is sheriff, squire, assessor, and tax collector in the bargain, and he lives awry down on the Leaf.'

'But the lots, my friend—who owns the lots?'

'The same that owns the best half of Jones county—the only landlord that never sues for rent—old Uncle Sam.

'Well, Sir, I'm tired and hungry—can I stay with you to-night?'

'Light, stranger, light, Michael Anderson never shuts his door on man or beast.'

Having carefully housed and fed my horse, I soon sat down to a substantial supper of fried chickens and stewed vension, corn cake, peach cobblers, milk, butter, and honey, served with a welcome and abundance peculiar to the pine woods. My host was a shrewd man, well to do in the world, preferring Jones county to any place this side of Paradise, having lived there twenty years without administering a dose of medicine, and had never been 'crossed' but once during all that time. I was curious to know what could have disturbed the security of such a life.

'Why, sir,' said he, 'I don't make a practice of talking about it, but being as you're a stranger, and I've taken a liking to you, I'll narrate the circumstance. Maybe you've heard how the Legislature chartered the Brandon Bank, to build a railway through the pine-woods, away down to the sea shore. In these parts, we go agin banks—but roads sort o' shuck our prejudices. Before the Bank could be set a-going, the law required so much of the pure coin to be planked up. The managers all lived about Brandon, but the metal was mighty scarce, and the folks about there didn't have it, or they wouldn't not trust 'em.

They strung what little they had around the babies necks, to cut their teeth with. Well, it got wind that I had some of the genuine, and the managers kept sending to me for it, and offered to put me in the board. But I always answered, that the only board I knew anything of, wvs a clapboard, and that my money was safer in the old woman's stockings than in the bank. I heard nothing more about it for three months, when one night, a big, likely looking man rode up, and asked me for a chunk of fire.

'Squire Anderson,' said he, 'my men have camped a quarter of a mile down there on the creek. We are surveying the railway to Mississippi city, but have come to a dead halt, because our lines runs chock up against your clearing, and we shall have to make a big bend to get round to the court house. I'm sorry you're opposed to us.'

The big man said this with so serious an air, and seemed so mystified at having to crook his line round my field; that his words went right through me. I invited him in. We talked it over, and emptied a jug of liquor on the strength of it. Next morning we went down to camp. He took his compass, and run the line spang up agin my smoke, which I had just finished after six months labor. 'Well,' says he, 'squire, this is unlucky. The road will come right thro' your new smoke house; What's to be done? 'Done!' said I, 'you shall soon see;' so calling my boys, I ordered them to tear it down. Stranger, there lays the logs, the prettiest timber within fifty miles, and all hewed by own hand. I have never had the heart to put them up again. Well, the big man never changed countenance. He run on with his line, and the next day he came back on his return to Brandon. I was mighty lifted with the notion of the railroad, and a stopping place right afore my door. I entered six hundred and forty acres of land. My neighbor said we would get the State house here. The big man smiled and nodded; he pointed out where the cars would stop, and where the Govenor would like to have a summer seat—and when he went he carried away three thousand dollars for me, all in two bit pieces and picayunes.

'Well, Squire,' said I, 'I suppose you got the value of it.'

'Stranger,' solemny replied the Squire, 'I never saw this big man afterwards; I heard no more of the road. Here's my smoke-house log My old woman's got the empty stockings. Here's what they sent (a certificate of the Brandon bank stock) for the money, and if you've got e ten dollar mint drop in your purse I'm ready for a swap!'

Written for the Quincy Patriot.

TO THE FRIENDS OF TEMPERANCE.

MR. EDITOR.—I should like, through the medium of your paper, to address a few words to the friends of this reform respecting the proposed festival. Of what benefit will it be to the temperance cause? What is the object of the enterprise? If, as any one would naturally suppose, it be the object of the projectors to advance the cause of temperance, the principles of sobriety and good morals, of steady habits and the abscence of all dissipation; why have they introduced the proposed festival, a gambling apparratus, (for by no other name can the chance box be called) why, for the sake of increasing the treasury of temperance, do they bring in the twin sister of drunkenness, the hydra which has wrecked the prosperity and and happiness of thouands, sapped the foundation of the fondest domestic bliss, and sunk into utter degredation until old numbers who might have been otherwise have been useful members of socieiy. It is, in short the handmaid, or rather, the equal copartner of intemperance in all its grades, from the gilded saloons to the richly furnished halls, to the miserable groggeries, and nine-pin allies of the common sot. But it useless to picture the horrors of gambling, they have been commented and dilated upon by every temperance lecturer since the commencement of the reform, the combined efforts of oratory and logic have been directed against it from all quarters; and yet in the face of all this, nothwithstanding they believe and know that gambling is almost, if not quite as great an evil as intemperance, the temperance people themselves have resorted to it to replenish their treasury, and to excuse themselves for letting loose the firey mouthed dragroon, they argue that religious societies have set the example. It is true, they have from time to time resorted to the practice to raise funds, which cannot be raised so easy in any other way, and combined amusement with profit they have introduced it their social festivals. The effect of this system though not immediately apparent cannot but be injurious to the community. The springing up of lotteries of late does not cause such a start now, as it would have done, had not religious societies pursued a similar course. Individuals argue if it is right for a society to resort to games of chance to support their minister, it is equally right for them to do the same for their individual benefit, and it is perfectly rational conclusion. But its effect on the young and thoughtless, is what it it most to be dreaded, is to gambling what the first glass of wine is to intemperance, the first step in an evil, the result of which is often fatal, always injurious. The following which was published in the Boston Investigator, from the New York Sabbath Recorder, is a case in point:—

Not long ago, in time of a revival, a good man, the father of an interesting family, requested me to converse with his son, who had unfortunately became addicted to the vice of gambling. The young man was tenderly loved, and to his parents an object of anxious solicitude.

I called upon that son, and was received in a kind and amiable spirit. Frankly my object was stated an enforced by all the arguments familiar to my mind. I urged the debasing influence of the vice; its tendency to lead to all forms of dishonesty; the wrong which was done to the loser, and the manifest injustice of thus receiving money which might be needed by the family of another.

The young man heard me through in respectful silence, seeming to admit the justice of that had been presented. I supposed I had secured my object, and was about to leave with the prayer that God would bless my advice to his reformation and conversion when he requested me to be seated a moment, while he made a brief statement.

"Three years ago," said he, "the H—— church held a fair and festival. Those splendidly bound books you see on the table, were set up at lottery. After much persuasion of a female friend, a member of your church, I consented against my inclination, to purchase two tickets. The prize fell to me, and I was so elated with my good success, that I embraced the first opportunity to gamble on a larger scale, and since then have lost hundreds of dollars. But for that lottery under the patronage of a Christian church, I never should have become a gambler."

Friends of temperance and good morals, did you think of results like this when you proposed the chance box? Did you consider that for the sake of overcoming one evil, you have introduced another of equal magnitude! Do the law abiding, anti-nulifying, temperance professing people of Quincy, reflect, that they are violating the laws under which they live, as well as setting a bad example to the rising generation, by thus heedlessly giving their patronage to the chance box?

The laws of Massachusetts expressly forbid gaming of any sort; and yet the temperance people who have uttered complaints loud and just, that the license law is not better observed, do not hesitate to break the law which relate to gambling.

Why do we see this inconsistency? Has the temperance reformer forgot that gambling is an evil? It would seem so, truly. There is something so unnatural in this alliance of temperance and gambling, that it would be absurd to expect anything like healthy fruits; and to my mind, nothing could have been adopted by the friends of temperance that would have created so unhealthy a tone of public sentiment against the reform.

It is sincerely to be wished that every friend of good morals will reflect upon this subject, it is a growing evil, and bids fair to enter every ramification of society; and, if allowed to pass unrebuked, cause a most unhealthy state of public morals. It is to be hoped that the friends of temperance at least, will avoid a course so inconsistant to the spirit of reform.

A FRIEND OF TRUE REFORM.

THE BURNING PRARIE.

OR THE TEST OATH.

Late in the fall of 1850, Grand Prairie, in Illanois, was burned over one night, and an immense amount of damage done to the farmers living in and along its edge. Numerous fences were destroyed; and crops of corn, ready for the gathering, were laid waste; while numberless stacks of grain and hay; put up for the winter's use, were set on fire, and burnt to the ground. The havoc was worse because of the conflagration coming suddenly aad quite unexpectedly, as when the night came on fire was discernable, and such burnings were invariably perceivable long before night set in, warning the farmers to be prepared. But the evening of this catastrophe, when the sun went down and darkness covered the prairie, no smoke arose from the southern edge of the plain, nor could any lurid glare be seen resting upon the sky, to indicate that the grass was on fire—and as it generally took all night for the flames to cross the prairie, all the farmers living on the northern edge, retired to their beds in apparent security. But in the middle of the night many of them were aroused to find their fences on fire, their habitations surrounded by flames, and in some intances, even the houses in a bright blaze, from which they with difficulty escaped alive. A farmer whose family was composed of a wife and only daughter, the latter some seventeen years of age, who resided some six miles in the prairie, had his house destroyed, while himself perished in the ruins. The daughrer was saved by the daring energies of a young man named Clye, who had discovered the fire; and arrived just in time to tear her from the building ere the roof fell in.

The morning after the conflagration, the inhabitants of the little village of Bliffion, situated on the edge of the plain, were set in motion by rumors of the fire being the work of some heartless scoundrel, who had thus gratified his malice on some individual by injuring the whole community. These rumors at length became a fixed fact; as about ten o'clock, a man named Gray, a roving character, with no ostensible means of a livelihood, appeared before the Squire of the village, and stated that he wished a warrant issued for the apprehension of David Clyde, for setting the prairie on fire the previous evening, by which so much waste of property, and wanton sacrifice of lives had occurred.

The warrant was issued, and placed in the hands of the constables for serving; and while the official was absent in the search of Clyde, the young man himself came in the Squire's office, and entered a like complaint against Gray, but was informed that Gray had first appeared, and obtained a warrant for his srrest, which was in the hands of the constable.

He seemed taken back when he was first informed of this, but promising the Squire he would be present at 1 o'clock that afternoon, he departed. Word was sent to Gray to be present at the appofnted time; and as the case was an unsual one, the room of the justice was crowded to hear the statements of the two.

Gray's story was short. He swore that, having a wolf trap set some distance out in the prairie, he had taken up his lodgings near by it the night of the fire, and about twelve o'clock he was aroused by the snarl of a wolf which had been caught in a trap. He rose to go to it when he discovered another man near by, who dismounted from his steed, drew out a steel, flint, and tinder from his pocket, and striking a light, thrust it into the grass, which instantly blazed up, and favored by a strong southern wind, sped away towards the settlement, and in the exact direction of Mr. Fisher's house—That the horseman, whom he recognized as Mr. Clyde, then mounted his horse and rode away.

This statement had been listened to with breathless attention, and as Gray had delivered it apparently in a cool and truthful manner, it had considerable weight upon the audience. But it produced no effect upon David Clyde. The features of the young man was calm as ever, and his countenance underwent no change during the recital of Grey. When the latter was done, he arose to his feet and exclaimed:

"My statement of the facts as they occured upon the evening of that most deplorable fire, will be more minute than that of my accuser, and will occupy more time; but I hope that not only the Justice but the audience also, will listen patiently to what I have to say. It is well known to many here, that I have a brother, residing in Walnut Grove, and upon the night of the fire, I was returning from a visit to him. When about ten miles the other side of Mr. Fishers, as I was riding leisurely along, I saw a man a short distance ahead of me, kneeling by the road side, and apparently endeavoring to light a fire with steel and tinder. I started my horse into a gallop at the same instant giving a shout, and the man sprung to his feet, out dropped a burning lock of grass, as he did so, into the prairie, the dry hay of which was instantly in a blaze.

Scoundrel! I exclaimed, in a loud voice, as I came close to him; but with a horse 'ha, ha, ha,' he retorted.—

"Don,t be angry, Mr. Clyde, for getting mad won't stop the fire. I guess old Fisher'll catch it to-night, and his haughty, daughter too."

'Villain, you shall answer for this,' I replied, as I turned my steed and spurred him after the rolling flames, which were sweeping swiftly away before a strong south wind, and rolling on in the direction of Fisher's house. In vain I urged my horse to his utmost speed, for the cracking fire sped far ahead of me, and when over a mile and a half distant, I beheld the lurid blaze leap the fence like a staghound, and go careering on towards the house. Almost maddened at the sight, I goarded my gallant horse, who bounded forward like the wind, but when still half a mile from the building, I saw a bright sheet of flame arise from the roof, and became aware that the house was on fire. The burning prairie had made it light as day but my eye ran in vain around the premises to discover a single person, and the fearful thought flashed instantly through my mind that the family were asleep in the house. By the time I reached the door in front of the mansion, the roof was in one lurid glare, and leaping from my steed, I let him go, and throwing my whole force against the door, burst it in. A dense volume of smoke poured out, almost suffocating me for a moment, but regaining my breath, I ascended the steps to the second story. A door was visable on my right hand as I reached the top, and it required all my weight to break it in; but when I did so, a female form staggered forward and fell into my arms—I hastily bore her down stairs, by this time covered with cinders from the burning roof, and as I lept from the door it fell in with a terrible crash, showering the sparks thickly around me.—The person I had rescued was Mary Fisher; and the old man his wife perished in the flames. My horse had fled in alarm irom the spot, and as the nearest neighbor's was four miles distant, we were compelled to walk it on foot. Day broke by the time we reached the house, and leaving the disconsolate girl at her neighbors, I came immediately here, and found I was to late to lay my accusition before you first. Such are the facts in the case; although they are mostly exactly opposite to the statement made by Gray.'

Clyde had delivered his story in an impressive and convincing manner, but the justice was puzzled which of the two he should believe. The advantage lay with Gray, as he had made the first accusation, and the statement of Clyde might be only a tale invented to upset the evidence of his accuser. Neither had proof as no one else saw the deed, and the squire informed them that he knew no way to dispose of the case impartially, unless he bound them both over to the court.

To this Gray strenuously objected. He had appeared and accused Clyde, he said that the real author of the late catastrophe might be justly punished, and thought that to bind them both over, would have an effect in deterring others from making any accusations against malefactors from their own knowledge, unless, he had positive proof of their guilt. He demanded that Clyde should be held to bail and not himself.

When he had finished Clyde once more got up, and turning to the justice stated that as they both stood there without witnesses, and consequently it did not lay in his power to tell the guilty one, with his permission, and the consent of Mr. Gray, he would propose a plan by which he hoped the matter would be thoroughly settled. It was this:—'There is an Infinite Being, sir, who rules in a higher sphere than ours, and to whom all things are known, from whom nothing can be concealed. I propose to Mr. Gray, that we both make an appeal to Heaven; and let the God of the universe decide upon our guilt or innocence. I feel that I, sir, am not a malefactor here, and I challenge my accuser, in the presence of this evidence, to accept my proposition.'

Clyde ceased speaking, amid an utter stillness, during which he became the centre of all eyes. Gray also arose and replied.

'I will consent to do anything which the squire says is right.'

'I can see no objection to Mr. Clyde's offer, although I do not suppose the case will be materially altered by it,' said the justice.

'Then let him go on, and I will follow suit,' answered Gray, brazenly.

Slowly, David Clyde fell upon bended knees, and raising his face and arms towards heaven, uttered amid the most death like silence, the following appeal:

'Eternal Being! Thou who seeth and knoweth all things, and who only can tell the guilt of us two, into thy hands I commit my innocence, and beseech thee, Almighty God, if I am guilty of the crime of which I am accused, to strike me dead in the midst of this then most blasphemous appeal.'

For a full moment after he had finished Clyde remained upon his knees, then rose to his feet, and with his folded arms gazed around him. The countenance of Gray had paled during the prayer of Clyde, but as every eye was upon him, he nerved himself to the task, and also fell upon his knees with a loud and hurried voice, he repeated the appeal, but when he came to the words, 'Almighty God, if I am guilty of the crime of which I am accused, to strike me dead,' his face became more white, and he fell slowly forward.

The stillness which reigned at that awful moment was fearful. Not a sound could be heard in that room, and it seemed as if every breath was hushed, so deadly silent did every person appear. At last the justice who had bent forward with a horrid look to gaze upon Gray, motioned for a constable to approach, and turn over the body. He did so, and every eye which looked that way beheld the icy face of a corpse; and the lived hue of death resting upon the countenance of the blasphemer.

They bore forth the corpse, and buried it in silence in the prairie, and to this day the old farmers in the neighborhood shudder, as they recount to the passing travelor that answer of 'Appeal to Heaven.'—Columbian and Great West.

MOTHERS ADVICE.

For myself I am sure that a different mother would have made me a different man. When a boy I was too much like self-willed, excitable Clarence; but the tenderness with which my mother always treated me, and the unimpassioned but earnest manner in which she reproved and corrected my faults, subdued my temper. When I became restless or impatient, she always had a book to read to me, or a story to tell or some device to save me from myself. My father was neither harsh nor indulgent towards me; I cherish his memory with respect and love. But I have different feelings when I think of my mother. I often feel even now, as if she were near me—as if her cheek were laid to mine. My father would place his hand upon my head, carressingly, but my mother would lay her cheek against mine. I did not expect my father to do more—I do not know that I would have loved him better had he done more: for him it was a natural expression. But no act is too tender for a mother.—Her kiss upon my cheek, her warm embrace, are all felt now, and the older I grow, the more holy seem the influences that surrounded me in childhood.—"The Mother," by T. S. Arthur.

RECOGNITION OF VOICE BETWEEN THE EWE AND THE LAMB.—The acuteness of the sheep's ear surpassing all things in nature that I know of. An ewe will distinguish her own lambs bleat among a thousand all braying at the same time. Besides the distinguishment of voice is perfectly reciprocal between the ewe and the lamb, who amid the deafening sound run to meet one another.—There are but few things that have amused me more than a sheep shearing, and the sport continues a whole day.—We put the flock into a fold, set out all the lambs to the hill, and then set out the ewes to them as they are shorn. The moment that a lamb hears its dam's voice, it rushes from the crowd to meet her, but, instead of finding the rough, well-clad, comfortable mamma, which it left an hour, or a few hours ago, it meets a poor, naked, shrivelling—a most deplorable looking creature. It wheels about and uttering a loud tremendous bleat of perfect despair, flies from the frightful vision. The mother's voice arrest its flight—it returns—flies, and returns again, generally for ten or a dozen times, before the reconcilement is fairly made up.—Lay Sermons by the Ettrick Shepherd.

AN EDITOR IN A FIX.—An editor in the western part of New York is in a bad fix. He burned a subscriber for his subscription, which he refused to pay, and threatened to flog the editor if he stopped the paper.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 4th 1851.

John A. Green, Editor.

With this number we commence our fifteenth volume. We shall endeavor to render the Patriot still worthy of that liberal support which we gratefully confess has been bestowed on it the past years We hope to make it more faithful mirror of passing incidents and events.

Our readers must not forget our proximity to Boston and the perilous competition which a newspaper thus situated must maintain with the city Press. We have no complhints to make, our labors have been freely remunerated and our pathway cheered by the approbation of numerous friends.

We would on this occasion congratulate our fellow citizens on the prosperity we have seen crowning their industry and frugality. Our town has rapidly increased in population ; our mechanics have reaped their just reward of their untiring perseverence and cunning workmanship, very many of whom are now enjoying life dwellings which their own thrift has provided. Our Stone cutters a hardy, generous race have found in our inexhaustable rocky hills, health competence and ever abundance. All branches of industry have multiplied and flourished around us. Long may this prosperity continue.

Now readers one and all we wish you a happy new year. May health smile upon you and yours May all the virtues and delights of domestic life gather round your hearth. May your industry be generously rewarded. May no adversity befall you that you should not be able to hear with fortitude and hope.

May the dark clouds which have gathered over our beloved Country pass away so that on the return of this day a year hence our congratulations may be undisturbed by fearful forebodings. Again we would wish you all a happy happy new year

COURT OF DEDHAM.—We learn from Deputy Sheriff, French, that John Wade, concerned in the Milton Bank robbery, was sentenced to sixteen years imprisonment in the State Prison. Joan H. Brooks for receiving and passing stolen money of the above Bank, was sentenced to three years. Nathaniel Curtis, of Randolph, for setting fire to a barn in that town, received eight years residence in Charlestown.

BURNING OF THE PHILADELPHIA LEDGER BUILDING.—We were sorry to learn by our exchanges of the total destruction by fire, on yesterday morning, of the Ledger newspaper establishment, in Philadelphia. We have not yet heard how the fire originated. The fire extended to other buildings, and we learn the following facts from a private source. The fire originated in the Ledger building, which was a beautiful structure, six stories in height, and is reduced to a complete mass of ruins. The fire extended to Wood & Peterman's Station ery & Book store, which was with its contents, entirely destroyed; Zieber's store of Periodicals in Chesnut street, was injured by water, and the stock nearly destroyed; T. B. Peterson's store was partially destroyed. The Evening Bulletin Building, adjoining that of the Lodger, was badly injured by fire, and but for the great exertion of the firemen would have been entirely consumed. The new buildings South-East corner Third and Chestnut streets, were saved with great difficulty, being several times in imminent danger.

The Planter's Advocate, published at Macon, Noxubee county, Miss., says that on Sunday, the 8th, inst., Mr. Johathan Henkle and Mr. Adams, of hat county, were reclining upon the side of a hill basing in the genial rays of the sun, when suddenly a large eagle made a swoop and fastened its talons in the brsast of Mr. Henkle. A fight immediately ensued between the two young men and the eagle, and after a conciderable scuffle, they succeeded in capturing it alive, and carried it home No damage was done, except that Mr. H. received a slight wound in the breast. It is said to be a very large eagle.

The Philadelphia Ledger contains a n account of a dreadful accident which occurred on Friday last, at a limekiln. John Little, a lad of about 12 years of age, was running round the outer wall of the kiln, when he stumbled and fell in upon a mass of coal and oysters shells withwhich the kiln was about half filled. A workman ran to his relief, but was unable to extricate him. His remains, a blackened trunk, deprived of the head and limbs, were afterwards got out.

An Irishman named Martin Dooly, smuggled a passage from Liverpool to Boston in the ship South Carolina. He was obliged to take up his berth on some old sails during the long passage. When the ship arrived at the quarrantine, Dooly was taken from his quarters, literally covered with filth and both feet and legs frozen up to his knees.—Mortification has taken place, and both legs will have to be amputated.

DEAR SKINS.—Such is the demand for these skins that Victorines, six inches wide at the widest part, made of the variety known as Hudson's Bay Sable, are bought by the ladies in New York at prices varying from one to two hundred dollars.

The State Assayer of this state, says that in every instance in which he has examined the Cochitdate water received through lead pipes, he has ound it contains lead.

The Delaware and Raritan Canal was closed on Saturday last.

FRIEND GREEN.—The members elect of the two houses have met and organized. Mr Banks a young man, a machinist by trade, has been elected speaker. Gen. Wilson the Natick Cobler is President of the Senate. Mr Joslyn editor of the Bay State has been chosen Clerk of the House and Mr Knapp of the Lowell American, Clerk of the Senate. A discourse according to time-honored custom in Mass has been read to the Legislators in the Old South this day. Thus far all is peace and concord between the Democrats and Free Soilers. But the real difficulty between them the Senatorship for six years, is yet to be met.

The Whigs are calmly and cooly resting on their arms. They are united and animated as one man like a well trained army hemmed in by superior numbers and on the alert for a mis-step on the allies. Great sagacity and judgment in the councils of the latter alone can secure them in the victory they have won over their opponents. Events are rapidlly hastening to a crisis and before this letter shall have been published an adjustment of all matters of difference between them most probably will have been made or the fact demonstrated that no such adjustment can be made. The belief is general that the understanding before the election will be consumated by the choice of G. S. Boutwell Govenor and Charles Sumner Senator. Mr Palfrey's letter advising the Free Soilers to form no alliance with the Demoarats unless they come on to the Platform of the Free Soilers is regarded with derision. The men who have prevailed in the election grasped at no barren sceptre. The long series of grievances which have been accumulating for the last quarter of a century must be atoned. This is their view of the emergency whether just or unjust it does not become me to say.—But that this sentiment exists in a very lively state in the minds of the majority of the opposition to the Whigs seems to me very clear.

The city fathers have taken measures to prevent fast driving over the Neck because of the hazards to which it exposes the limbs and lives of travelers. Very good. Would that the same authorities would bar up the numerous avenues in the city over which hundreds and thousands are rapidly driving to ruin. These fathers, with beautiful consistency, tolerate the existence of all sorts of establishments in which vices are germinated and afterwards ripened into crimes, where intemperance gambling and licentiousness are publicly ministered to and in which so many hopes and virtues and even souls are yearly sacrificed.

Among the recipients of prizes given by the proprietors of the Chancey Hall School was B W Munroe of Quincy. Good behavior and good scholarship are the principles, I believe, on which these prizes are graduated. EDGAR.

Advertising List.

JANUARY 2d, 1551.

A

Adams, Isael Moss
Anderson, John F
Allen, John F
Allen, John Ager, John

B

Brown, George S.
Belzen, Wm R
Bass, George
Blake Samuel
Buckley, Thomas—2 L
Brown, Royal P
Brackett, Isaac

C

Chandler, L. W
Corbett, Michael—2 L
Calef, Nancy Jane
Collins, John
Collins, Michael
Carroll, Nancy

D

Donning, Samuel
Donehue, Martin
Dyer, S. S
David, Austin S
Dunn, John

E

Edwards Alexander
Essig, Leopold

F

Fisher, Joshua
Fraly, Michael
Fairbanks, Josiah
Fry, William
Fish, Daniel

G

Greene, Richard
Greene, Wm. S

H

Heath, Alfred
Harris J. Madiison
Hayden, Geo. W
Haywood, Wm
Hethurston, Nathan
Holman, James
Hickey, George
Hickey, Margaret
Harris, Cath. F. Mrs
Hodgdon, John
Hall, Gee. B. F
Hill, Henrietta
Hobart, Thomas

J

Jones, William—2 L

L

Lasmerden, Mrs
Lyons, John
Leavett, J. Franklin
Lynn, Patrick
Long, Thomas
Lamb, Thomas

M

McGowan, James
Marmeon, Daniel
Mede, Daniel
Muzey, Thomas
Maner, Peter
Marran, Bridget
McCurdy Robert
McGibney, Johanna
Murphy Garrett
Murphy, Martin

N

Newcomb, Geo. B
Newcomb, Alfred

O

O'Neil, John
Owen, Robert
O'Dea, Michael

P

Piper, David
Page, Caleb C
Palmer. Richard
Pierson, Ellen Mrs

R

Roberts, Thomus
Riordan, Owen
Ryan, Timothy

S

Sheldon, Parker C
Sleeper, Harvey W
Saunders, Lucretia
Sargent, Simpson—2 L
Sullivan, Anne
Sutheriand George
Sheldon, P. C
Sheldon, Eliza

T

Thurow, Samuel

W

Wendell, James
Wilson & Flint
Walker, Isaac
Williams, John
Walden, James

NOTICE.

Quincy Lyceum.

E. P. WHIPPLE Esq., of Boston, will deliver the Eleventh Lecture, before the SOCIETY the present season, on THURSDAY Evening next, commencing at 7 o'clock.

H. O. WHITNEY, Secretary.

A Social Levee.

Will be holden in the Town Hall, WEDNESDAY Evening, January 15th, for the benefit of the Methodist E. Church, in Quincy centre.

Good singing will be provided.

Rev. E. T. Taylor, of Boston—the far famed "Seamen's Preacher," and the Rev. K. Pierce, of Roxbury, have boen engaged to speak upon the occasion.

Revs. A. B. Wheeler. J. B. Gould and others, are also expected to be preselt and give additional interest to the evering.

The Ladies will undoubtedly sustain their reputation upon the occasion.

A rich treat may be expected.

Tickets, 25 cents—To be had at the door, and of the Committee.

Doors open at 6 o'clock.

THOMPSON SPEAR, Chairman of Committee.
E. B. BRADFORD, Secretary

Quincy, January 1st., 1851.

The Stockholders of Quincy Canal, are hereby notified that their annual meeting for the choice of Officers and the transaction of such business as may come before the meeting, will be held at the Hancock House, in Quincy, on TUESDAY Evening,, the 14th inst., at 9 1-2 o'clock

JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Clerk.

Quincy, Jan. 4th, 1850.

On Sunday afternoon, Jan. 5th, Rev. Mr. Dean of the Universalist Society will deliver a discourse relative to the late J. C. Edwards. Relatives and friends are invited to attend.

Dissolution of Copartnership.

THE COPARTNERSHIP heretofore existing between the subscribers, under the firm of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO, is by mutual consent this day dissolved.

All persons having demands against said firm, are requested to present the same, and all persons indebted are respectfully requested to make payment to either partner,

JOSIAH BRIGHAM.
ISRAEL W. MUNROE.

Quincy, January, 1st, 1851.

ISRAEL W. MUNROE,

WILL continue the business at the old staud of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO, and hopes by close personal application to business to receive a continuance of the patronage so long and liberally bestowed on the late firm.

Quincy, Jan. 4th. 1851. 3w.

Family Bibles.

WE continue to sell BEAUTIFUL QUARTO BIBLES, of superior quality and binding, at unprecedentedly low prices. Many have availed themselves of the opportunity offered in a former notice, to purchase a good Bible cheap. We have more left, and invite all to call and examine before purchasing. C GILL & CO.

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Quincy, Jan. 4th., 1850. 3w.

Blank Books

OF all descriptions, of the best paper and well bound. Having increased facilities for manufacturing and purchasing, we are now selling them at prices which defy all competition. All who want new Account Books for the New Year, will make money to call upon us.

C. GILL & CO.
QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Quincy, Jan. 4th, 1851. 3w.

Particular Notice.

WE give notice, that what remains of our stock of

CHRISTMAS & NEW YEAR'S GOODS consisting in part of

BEAUTIFUL ANNUALS,

—AND—

ILLUSTRATED BOOKS,

The work of Shakespeare, Byron, Burns, Cowper, Hemans, and other collections of the Poetry, Prose writing of well known authors, with an extensive collections of Minature volumes of Poetry, all in beautiful bindings for presents. A great variety of Juvenile and Toy Books. Also an apartment of too numerous to particularize. will be sold this day and evening at very low prices. Call an examine, if you wish for bargains.

FANCY GOODS,

C. GILL & CO.
at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Quincy January, 1st, 1851.

Collector's Notice.

NEARLY $7 000 of the Taxes for the year 1850, remain unpaid ; which by vote of the Town, are due the Treasurer on the 1st inst. All resident Tax payers, who owe Taxes, will be called upon once to pay. If not paid when called upon, they must call at my house, and pay there, previous to the first of February next.

LEWIS BASS, Collector of Quincy.

Quincy, Jan. 4th. 1851.

Notice.

THE Annual Meeting of the Members of the WEYMOUTH AND BRAINTREE INSTITUTION for SAVINGS, will be holden on MONDAY, Jan. 13, 1851, at the office of the Institution, for the choice of Officers for the year ensuing, and to transact any other business that may come before them.

A. S, WHITE, Treasurer.

Weymouth, Dec 30, 1850,

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, S. S. PROBATE OFFICE,

December, 20*th A. D.* 1850.

JOHN BEATH, the Administrator of the Estate of

JAMES T. LORING,

late of Braintree, in said County, victualler, deceased, having presented his account in his capacity for allowance,

Ordered, that said JOHN BEATH notify all persons interested therein, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same at a Court of Probate to be holden at Quincy, in said County, on the second TUESDAY of February, A D., 1851, by publishing this order three weeks successively in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot printed at Quincy.

S LELAND, Judge of Probate.

Quincy, Dec. 28, 1850.

Bounty Land.

FOR SOLDIERS' OF THE WAR OF 1812—and of any Indian War since 1790, their widows and minor children, obtained. All claims, business, and suits, under any of the PENSION or PATENT LAWS of the United States,—also PROBATE and other business connected with the settlement of Estates, of deceased persons attended to by

EBEN. SMITH, JR.

Boston, Dec. 28, 1850. 3m

W B. Learned

HAVING taken the Store formerly occupied by E. C. Redfern, and recently by D. R Adams, takes this method of informing his friends and the public that he has just received and is now opening a well selected stock of

WATCHES

JEWELRY

—AND—

Fancy Goods.

Suitable for Christmas and New Year's Presents.

Persons wishing any thing in his line are invited to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

☞ Particular attention given to the REPAIRING of Watches and Jewelry.

Hancock Street, Quincy, Dec. 21, 1850. tf

Hingham & Quincy

BRIDGE & TURNPIKE CORPORATION.

THE Proprietors of this Corporation, are hereby notified that their Annual meeting will be held at the Hancock House, in Quincy, on MONDAY, the 6th day of January next, at 1 o'clock, P. M., for the choice of officers, and the transaction of such other busines as may then come before them.

By order of the Directors.

LEMUEL BRACKETT. Clerk.

Quincy, Dec. 21st,, 1850, 3w

Deed Missing.

THE public are hereby informed that a Deed from Josiah Freneh to Otis Wild for a piece of Real Estate, which was made several years ago, but for which no considearttion was given, has been missed and cannot now be found. A suitable reward will be paid for the recovery of this Instrument, or for such information as will bring the matter to light. The Deed is hereby cancelled and of no value.

ELISHA HOBART, Guardian to Josiah French,

Braintree, Dec. 21st,, 1850. 3w

Christmas and Newyear's PRESENTS.

THE attention of the people of Quincy and vicinity are respectfully invited to the large and beauiful collection of

ANNUALS

AND.....GIFT BOOKS

Splendidly Bound and Illustrated.

JUVENILE AND TOY BOOKS

FANCY STATIONARY AND GOODS.

specially designed for Presents, and adapted to the trade of this communtty--being a larger and more complete assortment, and which will be sold at lower prices for Cash than ever before known in this place, now exhibiting at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

The Proprietors of this Bookstore, take the present opportunity to express their thanks to the citizens of Quincy for the patronage in former similar occasionis and will feel grateful to receive visits from them this season, being confident all will be satisfied with our Assortment, and while we assure them that nothing shall be wanting on our part, to supply the demand, we trust that our endevors will be appeeciated.

CALEB GILL & CO.

Quincy. Dec. 11. 1850. 4w

NEW DRY GOODS

Establishment !

REMOVAL.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

Have removed to their new and splendid

Wholesale and Retail Establishment

Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,

BOSTON,

Which is the largest sales-room in the United States being 150 feet long and 60 feet wide ;

And would invite the attention of Purchasers to their large Stock of Goods, unsurpassed in extent and variety, by any Stock exhibited in New England, consisting of

SHAWLS

Of every description, in entire new designs, both long and square.

Plaid Shawls from the Bay State Mills,

Also, from the best manufacturers in Scotland.

SILKS & SATINS

Of every quality, style and price, in new and beautiful colors and novel styles, for Cloaks and Dresses.

BLACK SILKS,

Of pure boiled silk, of superior lustre and durability.

Beautiful watered & plain Poplins.

DRESS AND CLOAK GOODS.

Our Stock is large and various, compising all costs and Styles, from the lowest to the most costly.

Merinos, Thibets and Cashmeres, with Velvits Silks and Cambrics to match, in all colors and shades.

HOUSE KEEPING GOODS.

Linens, Linen Sheetings, Pillow Case Linens, Shirtings, Damasks, Damask Table Covers, Napkins, Doylies, Sheetings, Flannels, Blankets, Quilts, Comforters and Prints.

BROADCLOTHS & CASIMERES.

EMBROIDERIES,

The largest assortment in the city.

HOSIERY AND GLOVES

SHIRTS AND DRAWERS,

Ladies', Gents.' and Children's ;

Handkerchiefs, Scarfs, &c., &c.

In fact, all articles usually found in different store may be found in this Establishment.

The Goods will be freely shown, and customers may rely upon receiving the most respectful attention and will find the goods at uniform low prices, as we import our own Goods, and have but one price.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

NEW STORE, Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET

BOSTON.

Oct 5. 3m

Notice.

THIS is to certify that my wife, Nancy H Austin, has left my Bed and Board, and I hereby forbid any person or persons either harboring or trusting her on my account, as I shall pay no debts of her contracting.

S. L. AUSTIN,

Quincy, Mass., Dec. 28, 1851, 3w

BOSTON MUSEUM,

Tremont Street,..... Boston.

ALWAYS OPEN DAY AND EVENING.

THIS MUSEUM is the largest, most valuable, and best arranged in the United States. It comprises no less than

SEVEN DIFFERENT MUSEUMS,

to which has been added the present year, besides the constant daily accumulation of articles, One Half of the celebrated

PEALE'S PHILADELPHIA MUSEUM,

swelling the already immense collection to upwards of

HALF A MILLION ARTICLES,

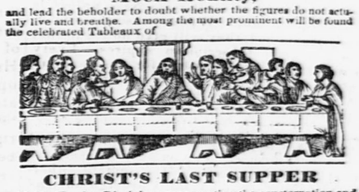
the greatest amount of objects of interest to be found together at any one place in America ; and an entirely

NEW HALL OF WAX STATUARY,

One Hundred Feet in length, filled to its utmost capacity with WAX FIGURES of the size of Life, singly and in groups, to the number of upwards of TWO HUNDRED, which have been in preparation for the last two years by a corps of the most distinguished artists to be found in either the old country or the new, and are so NATURAL and LIFELIKE as to

Mock Reality,

and lead the beholder to doubt whether the figures do not actually live and breathe. Among the most prominent will be found the celebrated Tableaux of



CHRIST'S LAST SUPPER

with his Twelve Disciples ; representing the consternation and dismay of the chosen ones at the moment when he told them that ONE OF THEM SHOULD BETRAY HIM.

THE PRODIGAL SON,

returned home clothed in rags, and received by his forgiving father. The imposing spectacle of

THE CRUCIFIXION,

composed of more than forty figures; a correct representation of that event, according to the best received authorities.

Christ Disputing with the Doctors ;

a characteristic group of seven figures.

THE GAME OF LIFE,

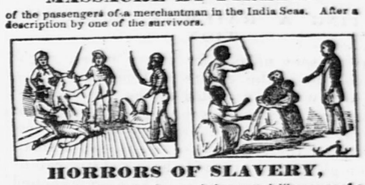
in which is shown the Christian and Satan contending for the mastery.

THE SIAMESE TWINS,

and their beautiful American wives.
Representation by nine figures, of the

MASSACRE BY PIRATES

of the passengers of a merchantman in the India Seas. After a description by one of the survivors.



HORRORS OF SLAVERY,

as exemplified by seven figures, being actual likenesses of a slave-owner, a slave-driver, and their victims.

MURDER OF MISS McCREA,

by the Indians during the Revolutionary war; a thrilling group, showing the characteristics of the Red Men.

INTEMPERANCE,

and its certain evils; illustrated in three groups, the last a correct picture of a

Wife Murdered by her Husband.

Also, groups of a School,—a Milliner's Shop,—a Shoemaker's Shop,—a Barber's Shop,—a Blacksmith's Shop, &c., as well as a variety of single figures of distinguished men, &c., with upwards of

One Hundred of Cabinet Size,

rendering it the largest collection of Wax Figures in America. The entire of the above, and the immense collection of

BIRDS, BEASTS, FISH, INSECTS & REPTILES,

obtained from all parts of the world, together with innumerable varieties of Natural and Artificial Curiosities;

Paintings, Engravings and Statuary,

OIL PORTRAITS

of the GREAT and GOOD of all nations,—Naval and Military Heroes, Patriots, Statesmen, and Divines;—Rare Coins and Medals;—Shells, Corals, and Fossils;

EGYPTIAN MUMMIES,

and ancient Sarcophagi, 3000 Years old ; and an entire

Family of Peruvian Mummies ;

the DUCK-BILLED PLATYPUS, the connecting link between the BIRD and BEAST, being evidently half each ;—the curious half-fish, half-human

FEJEE MERMAID,

which was exhibited in most of the principal cities of America, in the years 1840, '41, and '42, to the wonder and astonishment of thousands of naturalists and other scientific persons, whose previous doubts of the existence of such an astonishing creation were entirely removed ;

Elephants and Ourang-Outangs ;

ANIMALS and BIRDS of every nation; Sharks, Seals, and a variety of FISHES, including the curious

SAW AND SWORD FISH,

all in lifelike preservation ; the whole forming a School of Instruction, blended with Amusement, that for extent and interest is unequalled in the known world ;—the whole to be seen for the small admission fee of

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

In Addition to which, and

WITHOUT EXTRA CHARGE,

visitors are admitted to the gorgeous Exhibition Hall, which has been newly decorated at an expense of nearly five thousand dollars, where they can witness the magnificent

THEATRICAL ENTERTAINMENTS,

given EVERY EVENING, and WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, by a Company of Comedians and an Orchestra of Musicians, admitted to be SUPERIOR to any ever before collected in this country, with the aid of

Stage and Scenic Arrangements,

the most grand and superb ever seen in either Europe or America! thus warranting the universal admission that the Boston Museum, besides being the most comfortable and genteel, is also the

Cheapest Place of Amusement

IN THE WORLD! A single visit will prove the truth of this assertion, as the admission is only

☞ 25 Cents to the Whole!!!

Boston, Sept. 14. eoptf

For Sale.

THE late residence of the R... Quincy Apply to THOMAS B HAWK... Exchange Street, Boston.

West Woodstock, Conn. Sept. 7th, 1850

To Let.

A House at Braintree neck, ... for a large family. Enquire ... DANIEL BA...

Quincy, Sept. 7th. tf

House For Sale

A one story and a half House ... ent for two families, built ... stantial manner, with a SHED ... three fourths of an acre of LA... ted on Granite Street, and about one fourt... from the South Quincy Depot. Will be ... bargain, and payments made easy. For ... nquire on the premises of

ALPHEUS ...

Quincy, Nov. 16- 6m

For Sale, or To Let.

A new and convenient Dwell... very pleasantly situated, on ... Street, with a barn and about ... Land with Fruit Trees there... leased or sold. Apply to

SAMUEL COP...

Quincy, Nov 9th. tf

To Let.

ONE half of a good House ... Street, the other half oc... Capt. Stevenson. Also a good ... Barn, with three acres of Land ... on the Braintree and Weymouth turnpike, ... mile south of the Episcopal Church. E...

DANIEL BA...

Quincy, Sept. 28. tf

To Let.

A Convenient Dwelling H... pleasantly situated on Com... recently occupied by the Wid... with about three acres of good ... several fruit trees; an excellent well of wa... small Barn. Apply to SAMUEL COP...

Quincy, Aug. 10. tf

Brooks' Railroad Exp...

THE subscriber returns thanks to the ... Quincy and vicinity, for their libera... thus far and respectfully announces that h... tinues to convey passengers to and from th... lation to Quincy Point and Braintree No... 1-2 cents each.

All orders left at Peter Newcomb's, and ... & Adams stores, Quincy Point, or at Mrs ... Millinery Store, Quincy Centre, opposite ... ser's, will be promptly attended to.

ALSO—Will carry Letters and Parcels ... despatch.

THOMAS B...

Quincy, Sept. 14. 3mos

Jack Writing Ink

AT the QUINCY BOOK-STORE, will ... a new lot of the very best Writing ... market, which will be sold in small or la... ties to suit purchasers.

Nov. 16. 3w

Flannels.

WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixe... Twilled and plain, an assortment ... and for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co... ton Street Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21

Notice.

THE Subscribers return their thank... friends and the public generally who ... ed them with their custom, and would sa... who are purchasing goods, that we inte... a good assortment of English, West India ... Groceries of all kinds.

Also, Beef, Pork, Bacon, Lard, Mackere... stables, which will be sold as low as can ... elsewhere for cash or credit.

Also, Flour by the barrel or bag, as low ... bought for cash.

N. B. Goods delivered as usual

DANIEL BAXTE...

Quincy, Oct. 5th. tf

W. Porter.

DEALER IN

Pine, Spruce and Hem...

LUMBER,

CLAPBOARDS, SHING...

LATHS, PICKETS,

CEDAR POSTS,

At his new Wharf near Brackett...

Quincy, July 31 tf

For Sale.

ONE first rate Horse for teaming or farm... to JOHN WH...

Quincy, Oct. 5th. tf

Apples.

BALDWINS AND RUSSETTS, of the ... ity, for sale by H. A. R...

Quincy, Oct. 12, 1850. tf

Onions.

50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, for s... H. A. RANSOM

Quincy, Oct 12th, 1850. tf

Pure Cider Vinegar

BY the gallon or barrel, just received, ... by H. A. RANSOM

Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

CASH

PAID FOR

OLD IRON, COPPER, B...

PEWTER, LEAD, GLAS...

Rubbers and Ink Bottles,

COBDAGE, PAPER STOCK ...

—BY—

A. B. PACKARD.

Strayed.

FROM the Subscriber, Dec. 5th, two R... ERS, marked N. on the rump Wh... return them, or give information so that th... ound, shall be suitably rewarded.

THOMAS J. NIGHTI...

Quincy, Dec. 28, 1850. tf

OSTON MUSEUM,

emont Street, ... Boston.

ALWAYS OPEN DAY AND EVENING.

S MUSEUM is the largest, most valuable, and best anged in the United States. It comprises no less than

VEN DIFFERENT MUSEUMS,

h has been added the present year, besides the constant cumulation of articles, One Half of the celebrated

ALE'S PHILADELPHIA MUSEUM,

g the already immense collection to upwards of

ALF A MILLION ARTICLES,

atest amount of objects of interest to be found together one place in America, and an entirely

EW HALL OF WAX STATUARY,

nsions Feet in length, filled to its utmost capacity with FIGURES of the size of life, nicely and in groups, mber of upwards of TWO HUNDRED, which en in preparation for the last two years by a corps of t distinguished artists to be found in either the old coun- he now, and are so NATURAL and LIFELIKE

Mock Reality.

d the beholder to doubt whether the figures do not actu- and breathe. Among the most prominent will be found brated Tableaux of

CHRIST'S LAST SUPPER

Twelve Disciples; representing the consternation and of the chosen ones at the moment when he told them E OF THEM SHOULD BETRAY HIM.

THE PRODIGAL SON,

d home clothed in rags, and received by his forgiving The imposing spectacle of

THE CRUCIFIXION,

ed of more than forty figures; a correct representation event, according to the best received authorities.

ist Disputing with the Doctors;

acteristic group of seven figures.

THE GAME OF LIFE,

ich is shown the Christian and Satan contending for the ory.

THE SIAMESE TWINS,

their beautiful American wives. presentation by nine figures, of the e passengers of a merchantman in the India Seas. After a ription by one of the survivors.

MASSACRE BY PIRATES

HORRORS OF SLAVERY,

emplified by seven figures, being actual likenesses of a owner, a slave-driver, and their victims.

URDER OF MISS McCREA,

Indians during the Revolutionary war; a thrilling group, ing the characteristics of the Red Men.

INTEMPERANCE,

a certain evils; illustrated in three groups, the last a con- icture of a fe Murdered by her Husband.

groups of a School,—a Milliner's Shop,—a Shoemaker's —a Barber's Shop,—a Blacksmith's Shop, &c., as well as ty of single figures of distinguished men, &c., with up- of

ne Hundred of Cabinet Size,

ing it the largest collection of Wax Figures in America. gure of the above, and the immense collection of

S, BEASTS, FISH, INSECTS & REPTILES, ed from all parts of the world, together with innumera- cieties of Natural and Artificial Curiosities;

utings, Engravings and Statuary,

OIL PORTRAITS

GREAT and GOOD of all nations,—Naval and Military , Patriots, Statesmen, and Divines;—Rare Coins and ;—Shells, Corals, and Fossils;

EGYPTIAN MUMMIES,

cient Sarcophagi, 3000 Years old; and an entire amily of Peruvian Mummies;

CK-BILLED PLATYPUS, the connecting link between ED and BEAST, being evidently half each;—the curious h half-human

FEJEE MERMAID,

as exhibited in most of the principal cities of America, ears 1840, '41, and '42, to the wonder and astonishment ands of naturalists and other scientific persons, whose s doubts of the existence of such an astonishing creation ntirely removed;

ephants and Ourang-Outangs;

ALS and BIRDS of every nation; Sharks, Seals, ariety of FISHES, including the curious

AW AND SWORD FISH,

fe-like preservation; the whole forming a School of In- n, blended with Amusement, that for extent and interest nalled in the known world;—the whole to be seen for the mission fee of

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

In Addition to which, and

ITHOUT EXTRA CHARGE,

are admitted to the gorgeous Exhibition Hall, which newly decorated at an expense of nearly five thousand where they can witness the magnificent

EATRICAL ENTERTAINMENTS,

EVERY EVENING, and WEDNESDAY and SATUR- AFTERNOONS, by a Company of Comedians and an ra of Musicians, admitted to be SUPERIOR to any ever collected in this country, with the aid of ge and Scenic Arrangements,

st grand and superb ever seen in either Europe or Amer- a warranting the universal admission that the Boston n, besides being the most comfortable and genteel, is heapest Place of Amusement

E WORLD! A single visit will prove the truth of this n, as the admission is only

25 Cents to the Whole!!!

n, Sept. 14. eoptf

For Sale.

THE late residence of the REV. WM. ALLEN, near the Episcopal Church in Quincy. Apply to THOMAS B. HAWKES, No. 10 Exchange Street, Boston.

West Woodstock, Conn. Sept. 7th, 1850. 3m

To Let.

A House at Braintree neck, convenien for a large family. Enquire of DANIEL BAXTER.

Quincy, Sept. 7th. tf

House For Sale

A one story and a half House, convenient for two families, built in a substantial manner, with a SHED and about three fourths of an acre of LAND, situated on Granite Street, and about one fourth of a mile from the South Quincy Depot. Will be sold at a bargain, and payments made easy. For particulars, enquire on the premises of ALPHEUS HUNT.

Quincy, Nov. 16. 6m

For Sale, or To Let.

A new and convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated, on Common Street, with a barn and about one acre of Land with Fruit Trees thereon, to be leased or sold. Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND.

Quincy, Nov 9th. tf

To Let.

ONE half of a good House on Liberty Street, the other half occupied by Capt. Stevenson. Also a good house and Barn, with three acres of Land, situated on the Braintree and Weymouth turnpike, about half a mile south of the Episcopal Church. Enquire of DANIEL BAXTER.

Quincy, Sept. 28. tf

To Let.

A Convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated on Common Street, recently occupied by the Widow Driver, with about three acres of good Land, with several fruit trees; an excellent well of water, and a small Barn. Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND.

Quincy, Aug. 10. tf

Brooks' Railroad Express.

THE subscriber returns thanks to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity, for their liberal patronage thus far and respectfully announces that he still continues to convey passengers to and from the Railroad station to Quincy Point and Braintree Neck, for 12 1-2 cents each.

All orders left at Peter Newcomb's, and Whitton & Adams stores, Quincy Point, or at Mrs. E. Brooks' Millinery Store, Quincy Centre, opposite J. Briesler's, will be promptly attended to.

ALSO—Will carry Letters and Parcels with quick despatch.

THOMAS BROOKS.

Quincy, Sept. 14. 3mos

Jack Writing Ink.

AT the QUINCY BOOK-STORE, will be found a new lot of the very best Writing Ink in the market, which will be sold in small or large quantities to suit purchasers.

Nov. 16. 3w

Flannels.

WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels Twilled and plain, an assortment just received and for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washington Street Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21

Notice.

THE Subscribers return their thanks to their friends and the public generally who have favored them with their custom, and would say to those who are purchasing goods, that we intend keeping a good assortment of English, West India goods and Groceries of all kinds.

Also, Beef, Pork, Bacon, Lard, Mackerel, and Vegetables, which will be sold as low as can be bought elsewhere for cash or credit.

Also, Flour by the barrel or bag, as low as can be bought for cash.

N. B. Goods delivered as usual

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5th. tf

W. Porter.

DEALER IN

Pine, Spruce and Hemlock

LUMBER,

CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,

LATHS, PICKETS,

CEDAR POSTS, &c.,

At his new Wharf near Brackett's.

Quincy, July 31 tf

For Sale.

ONE first rate Horse for teaming or farming, apply to JOHN WHICHER.

Quincy, Oct. 5th. tf

Apples.

BALDWINS AND RUSSETTS, of the first quality, for sale by H. A. RANSOM.

Quincy, Oct. 12, 1850. tf

Onions.

50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Oct 12th, 1850. tf

Pure Cider Vinegar.

BY the gallon or barrel, just received, and for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

CASH

PAID FOR

OLD IRON, COPPER, BRASS,

PEWTER, LEAD, GLASS,

Rubbers and Ink Bottles, Junk,

COBDAGE, PAPER STOCK &c.

—BY—

A. B. PACKARD.

Strayed.

FROM the Subscriber, Dec. 5th, two RED HEIFERS, marked N. on the rump Whoever will return them, or give information so that they may be found, shall be suitably rewarded.

THOMAS J. NIGHTINGALE.

Quincy, Dec. 28, 1850. tf

LADIES

Of Quincy and Vicinity.

F. A. JONES & CO.

No. 1

TREMONT ROW,

BOSTON,

Would solicit your attention to the Immense Stock of

NEW GOODS

which they now have, and are daily receiving by every foreign arrival, suitable to the

AUTUMN TRADE OF

1850.

Every variety of

SHAWLS,

from the most expensive Cashmere to the cheapest Wool Plaid.

SILKS

of every kind and quality, in Blacks and Colors, ALWAYS AT LOW PRICES.

FRENCH THIBETS

and

GERMA MERINOS

Of all Grades.

FALL AND WINTER

DRESS GOODS,

Our usual Assortment.

VELVETS,

All Widths and Colors.

FRENCH CLOAKS AND SACKS,

New Patterns and Trimmings.

Together with the Immense Variety of all other Styles Dry Goods Adapted to the Present Season.

Our long experience in the City Retail Trade enables us to know the wants of our customers, and give us unusual facilities for supplying them. During the whole of our business career, it has always been our intention to offer CHOICE GOODS at LOWER PRICES than any other house in the city. Whether we have done so, we leave the public to judge; but we have succeeded, by always keeping this point in view, in building up the largest in the City of Boston, as the crowds of purchasers who daily throng our Establishment, show.

EXCLUSIVE RETAIL TRADE.

Our increased facilities will enable us, during the present season, to offer still greater inducements, by the simple multiplication of business to such an extent that we can afford to sell each article at a small advance from the cost of importation.

Every variety of goods, we shall, as usual, be supplied with. In short, we mean to make our place of business a resort for the shrewdest and closest purchasers, as well as the most fanciful and particular, where any lady may be sure of finding all the styles of Choice and Fashionable Goods, always at the very lowest market prices.

Thankful for past favors, we solicit a continuance of that patronage which now enables us to refer you to past experience to prove that at no other place can you receive more fully the value of your money, than at our house, and we feel warranted in asserting that at no time have we been able to offer so many bargains at the present season.

TREMONT ROW.

Silk and Shawl Store.

F. A. JONES & CO.,

NO. ONE TREMONT ROW,

Nearly opposite head of Hanover Street,

BOSTON.

Boston, Sept. 7. 6mos

N. B.

Geo. Savil & Co.,

Dealers in

READY-MADE CLOTHING

OF

EVERY DESCRIPTION,

AT

ROUGH & READY HALL,

WASHINGTON STREET,

Quincy.

—O—

A LARGE ASSORTMENT

Constantly on Hand!!

AND FOR

SALE

At the Very Lowest Prices!!!

Also,

A GOOD SELECTION

OF

GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.

Quincy, Sept. 28. tf

NEW ENGLAND PROTECTIVE

Union, Division No. 179.

JUST opened on Washington Street, a few doors below the Stone Temple, in the Store recently occupied by J. Williams.

The Company respectfully solicit the attention of the public to their mode of Trade, and examine for themselves the quality of their Goods, and their Prices, which will be always exhibited upon a bulletin board.

Their Stock of Goods consists of all kinds of Groceries, Country Produce, FLOUR, CROCKERY WARE, &c.

All of Superior quality, and sold at the lowest possible advance from cost.

No Damaged, Mixed, or inferior goods will be offered for sale.

Quincy, Oct. 5. tf

A CARD!

J. A. Holden,

Has just received the Fashions for the

FALL AND WINTNR

OF

1850.

He has also received Fashionable Goods of the present and approaching season, among which, are

FRENCH. GERMAN AND AMERICAN

Broadcloths!!!

of various colors and qualities.

A great variety of

PANT GOODS,

together with good styles of

VESTINGS, &C.

He is, therefore, more prepared to make Garments for his customers, which cannot fail to please them.

Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

FALL AND WINTER

Just Received at the

QUINCY HALL CLOTHING DEPOT,

ON THE

Braintree and Weymouth Turnpike.

JOHN DINEGEN

WOULD respectfully intimate to his friends and the public, that he has just received a very choice and select Stock of

Fall and Winter Goods!!!

Consisting in part of BLACK, BLUE, BROWN, OLIVE, DAHLIA, GREEN, and other Fancy colored Cloths, of

ENGLISH, FRENCH AND GERMAN

Manufacture.

Also—a good assortment of Plain and Fancy

Doe-Skins

for Pants.

VESTINGS

of the very latest designs. SILK VELVET, PLAIN and Figured SILKS and SATINS, VALENCIAS &c.

Gents wishing to obtain a Fashionable and tasty Garment of any description, are respectfully invited to call and see for themselves.

Garments made to order at very short notice, and by

THE BEST OF WORKMEN.

READY MADE CLOTHING of every description, and at prices to suit all parties.

ONLY ONE PRICE ASKED.

Quincy, August 31. tf

Jewett & Prescott's

SILK AND SHAWL STORE,

No. 2 Milk Street, Boston.

IMPROVED AND RE-STOCKED

For the Autumn Trade of 1850.

TO KEEP PACE WITH THE TIMES, we have just made Suitable Improvements in our well known Establishment, and have secured an assortment of

NEW SHAWLS,

SILKS, AND CLOAK GOODS,

that will distance all competition, without exception. We accordingly ask the attention of

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL PURCHASERS

to our variety of Black and colored Dress Silks, Satins, and Satins de Chene; Shawls of all kinds, including the celebrated Bay State Shawls; Paris Cloaks and Sacks, latest patterns; Thibet Cloths and Merinos; Silk and Woolen Fabrics for cloaks and dresses; Marceline Silks, and other Goods for trimming cloaks; Cashmere Scarfs; Watered Silks and wide Velvets; Crape Shawls; Bombazines; Alepines; and a large variety of similar goods.

To those who answer our call, we guarantee that the styles, qualities and prices shall meet their most sanguine expectations.

JEWETT & PRESCOTT,

No. 2, Milk Street.

Boston, August 31. 3mos

NEW FALL & WINTER

MILLINARY GOOD.

MRS. A. J. KENISON, would tender her grateful acknowledgements to her friends and customers for the liberal patronage with which they have favored her, and would respectfully solicit a continuance of the same.

Those wishing STRAW BONNETS, RIBBANDS, FLOWERS, etc. etc., can find a good assortment, and are invited to call and examine.

Also—A good variety of Misses and Childrens trimmings

SATIN, PLUSH AND VELVET HATS, made to order.

BONNETS altered, bleached and colored.

For bleaching or coloring, 25 cts.

For lining and trimming, 25 cts; unless extra work be added—if so, price accordingly.

Grave clothes and Mourning goods, constantly on hand.

WASHINGTON STREET, a few rods east of STONE TEMPLE.

Quincy, Oct. 19th. 2m

Flour Barrels.

200 FLOUR BARRELS, for sale cheap by J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, Sept. 7th. tf

Cider Vinegar.

FIRST rate article of good, Cider Vinegar. Just received and for sale by DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, August 17. tf

Singing School.

THE members of the Singing School, recently commenced by Mr. T. Reed, and all others interested, are requested to meet in the Vestry of the Orthodox Church, on TUESDAY EVENING next, (the 17th inst.,) to take measures to reorganize the School under the charge of Mr. Hanaford, of West Cambrige.

Quincy Dec 14th. 3w

DRY GOODS' NOTICE.

THE undersigned most respectfully inform the public that they keep constantly on hand a large Stock of

DRY GOODS,

well adapted to the wants of the community.

At all times can be found a good assortment of

Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinets and Doe-Skins, Prints, De Laines, Cashmeres, Alpaccas,

and a great variety of

DRESS GOODS AND SHAWLS,

Sheetings, Shirtings, Flannels, and Blankets,

With a good Assortment of such artices as are usually found in a well selected

Stock of Dry Goods.

Feeling confident that our prices will insure a ready sale, our GOODS will be freely shown to all wishing to examine them.

GEORGE SAVIL & CO.,

Washington Street, Quincy.

A few rods east of the Stone Meeting House.

Quincy, October 5. tf

Let the Public Call.

THE subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, stock of the best material only used, and the workmanship will vie with any other establishment

By attention to business and promptness to orders a liberal share of support is solicited.

Quincy April 13th.

NEW STORE! NEW GOODS!

AT THE OLD STAND,

Formerly occupied by Messrs. H. Pettes & Co. (who have removed to their new Granite Warehouse, Summer St

No. 224 WASHINGTON,

Corner of Summer Street, Boston.

GEO. W. PETTES

Has taken this well known stand, and will always be ready to show his customers the choicest, and in every respect the most desirable stock of

DRY GOODS,

WHICH CAN BE EXPOSED FOR SALE

The prices for all articles shown will be very low. No customer shall be able to better the purchase made at this store.

☞Please call and examine the elegant Stock of

SHAWLS of all kinds,
SILKS " "
DE LAINES "
PRINTS "
HOUSE-KEEPING GOODS, of all kinds,
GLOVES AND HOSIERY "
TRIMMINGS "

And all sorts and kinds and qualities of Dry Goods, suited to the wants of families and always at LOW PRICES.

Whenever you visit Boston, visit this new and very convenient Store, and make your purchases too, if you would consult your own interest.

No. 224 Washington, corner of SUMMER ST., BOSTON.

GEO. W. PETTES.

Boston, Oct. 19th, 1850. 3mis

Letter Paper.

FOOLSCAP, Note & Bill Paper, Envelopes, Steel Pens and Holders, Black and Blue Ink, all of the best quality, now selling at the lowest prices for Cash, at the QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Quincy, Nov. 2d. 3w

Beautiful

FAMILY BIBLES, superior paper, print and binding, can be seen and bought cheap for cash, at the QUINCY BOOK STORE.

The public attention is invited to this new and excellent lot of BIBLES, being the best ever offered in this town, and sold on favorable terms.

Quincy, Nov. 2d. 3w

For Sale.

SEVEN PRIME COWS, and from 10 to 15 Tons fine ENGLISHHAY, by CHARLES P. TIRRELL.

Nov. 2 tf

1851.

THOMAS' Old Farmers' Almanac, for 1851, for sale wholesale and retail, at the QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Quincy Nov. 2d. 1850. 3w

Ladies' Cashmere and Kid Gloves.

A good assortment for sale low by JOSIAH BRIGH&M & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5. tf

New Fall and Winter Goods.

IN great Fariety, for sale at the very lowest prices by JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5. tf

Magazines

FOR December—Graham's Magazine, Sartain's Petersons, Godey's Lady's Book, &c., for sale at the QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Quincy, Nov. 25, 1851. 3w

Pies, Puddings, Custards, &c.

MRS E HAYDEN has on hand, a variety of articles for flavoring, viz:—

Peach water; Rose water; etc., etc. Essence of Rose, Cinnamon, Lemon, etc.

Also—Sweet Marjorams, Sage, Summer Savory, Thyme, &c.

Quincy, Nov. 16. tf

Dr. C. S. Mann,

MEMBER OF THE MASS. MEDICAL SOCIETY,

HOUSE AND OFFICE ON SEA STREET,

Next door to Josiah Brigham, Esq.

Nov. 2. 6w

Potatoes.

150 BUSHELS good Potatoes for sale at 50 cts per bushel by D. BAXTER Co.

Quincy, March 9th. tf

Dyer's Washing Fluid.

A first rate article for washing clothes. For sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Sept. 11 tf

Old Colony Railroad.

Depot Corner of South and Kneeland Streets

FALL Arrangement, commencing September 16, 1850 Trains leave Boston daily, except Sundays—

For Plymouth, 8 1-2 A. M; 4 1-2, P. M.
For Bridgewater, 8 1-2 A. M; 4 1-2 P. M.
For Quincy and Braintree, 7 3-4, 8 1-2 A. M; 1 3-4, 3 4, 4 1-2, 9 1-4 P. M.
For Hingham and Cohasset, 8 1-2 A. M; 3, 6 P. M.
For Milton, U. M., 9 3-4 A. M; 1, 2 3-4, 5 1-2, P. M.
Plymouth for Boston, 7 1-4 A. M; 3 1-4 P. M.
Bridgewater for Boston and Plymouth, 7 1-2 A. M.; 3 1-2 P. M.
Cohasset for Boston, 6 3-4, 8, A. M; 4 P. M.
Milton U. M. for Boston, 8, 10 1-2 A. M; 1 3-4, 4 3-4, P. M.
Braintree for Boston, 7.18, 8 1-2, 8 40, 11 04, A. M. 2 48, 4 1-2, 5 13, P. M.

☞ The 5 P. M. Train from Boston for Plymouth, will not stop short of South Braintree.

JOS. H. MOORE, Sup't.

Boston, July 25. tf

Trains leave Quincy for Boston as follows:—

7 24, 8 38, 8 47, 11 10, A. M.; 2 54, 4 32 5 16 P. M.

Cholera, Dysentery, &c.

MRS. E. HAYDEN offers for sale various articles for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, &c.

Among which are Whiteman's Vegetable Syrup; Java Balsam, (a celebrated East Indian remedy;) Billings's Summer Cordial; Arnold's Balsam: Holden's Dysentery Cordial; Jayne's Carminative Balsam; Anti-Cholera Drops: Whitwell's Sulphur and Charcoal Pills. And a variety of other articles, for the same diseases.

Quincy, July 20. tf

Judd's Medicated Liquid Cuticle

FOR closing wounds without sewing; forming a smooth coating over them, impervious to air and water, much superior in its healing properties to any other plaster, and so elastic as not to impede the motion of a joint; an excellent remedy also, for Burns, Scalds, or any fresh wounds. Price—25 cents per bottle.

Sold by Mrs E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, August 31. tf

Estate of Simeon Williams

NOTICE is hereby given that the Subscribers have been appointed by the Judge of Probate for the County of Norfolk, Commissioners to receive and examine the claims of the several creditors to the Estate of SIMEON WILLIAMS, late of Braintree in said County, Bootmaker, deceased Insolvent, and six months from the 19th of October, A. D. 1850, is allowed unto the said creditors for bringing in their claims and proving their debts, and we shall attend to the duty of receiving and examining the same at the house of David N. Hollis on Washington street in said Braintree, on the third Wednesdays of February, March and April next, from two two four o'clock P. M.

JONATHAN FRENCH,
DAVID N. HOLLIS

Braintree, Nov. 12th, 1850. n16 6w

Thirty dollars Reward.

THE above reward will be paid for information that will lead to the detection and conviction of the person or persons who entered the Evangelical Congregational Meeting House, in Quincy, on the morning of the 4th inst., and mischievously or maliciously damaged said House.

N. B. In consequence of repeated depredations in said House, it will in future be kept locked. In case of fire the key may be found at E. S. Fellows.

CHARLES HARDWICK, } Parish
CHARLES SPEAR, } Committee
HEZEKIAH PRINCE, }

Quincy, July 13th. tf

Messenger's Notice.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

Norfolk ss. Roxbury, Dec. 12th, 1850

FRANCIS HILLIARD, Esquire, Commissioner of Insolvency in and for the said County of Norfolk, has issued a Warrant against the Estate of

FRANCIS M. LINCOLN, 3d.

of Cohasset, in said County of Norfolk, Cordwainer an Insolvent Debtor, and the payment of any debts, and the delivery of any property, belonging to said Insolvent Debtor, to him or for his use, and the transfer of any property by him, are forbidden by law.

A meeting of his creditors will be held at a Court of Insolvency, at the Commissioner's Court Room, in Roxbury, in said County, on the Ninth day of January next, at ten o'clock, forenoon, for the proof of Debts and the choice of an Assignee or Assignees.

SILAS BINNEY, Deputy Sheriff, Messenger.

Dec. 14 2w

Apples for Sale.

A few barrels of very good BALDWIN, RUSSETT & GREENING Apples, for sale by JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.

Quincy, Oct 26 3w

BACKGAMMON BOARDS.

VARIOUS Sizes; good finish; selling low at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE

Quincy, Dec 14, 1850 3w

GHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR.

COMBS,

FANCY ARTICLES,

PERFUMERY

AND.....HAIR WORK,

141 Washington Street, Boston.

SELLING OUT.

ON account of forming a new connection in business on the 1st of January next, the Subscriber will sell his present Stock of

COMBS, PERFUMERY, FANCY ARTICLES & HAIR WORK at the lowest possible cash prices. An opportunity is therefore afforded to those who design making CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR'S PRESENTS, to make a choice selection from a most extensive assortment at greatly reduced prices.

E. E. DYER, 141 Washington Street.

(Nearly opposite the Old South.)

Boston, Dec 21, 1850

☞His assortment of Combs is believed to be equal in quantity, quality and variety to any other establishment.

☞Needles of the best quality, manufactured expressly for the Subscriber, will be sold at four cents the paper.

Boston Dec. 21st, 1850. 2w

POETRY.

THE FARMER'S DAUGHTER.

She may not, in the mazy dance,
With jewelled maidens vie;
She may not smile on courtly swain
With soft bewitching eye;
She cannot boast a form and mien
That lavish wealth has brought her;
But, ah! she has much fairer charms—
The farmer's peerless daughter!

The rose and lilly on her cheek
Together love to dwell;
Her laughing blue eyes wreath around
The heart a witching spell;
Her smile is bright as morning's glow
Upon the dewy plain;
And listening to her voice we dream
That spring has come again.

The timid fawn is not more wild!
Nor yet more gay and free;
The lily's cup is not more pure
In all its purity;
Of all the wild flowers in the wood,
Or by the chrystal water,
There's none more pure and fair than she,
The Farmer's peerless daughter!

The haughty belle whom all adore,
On downy pillow lies—
While forth upon the dewy lawn
The merry maiden hies;
And with the lark's uprising song,
Her own clear voice is heard—
Ye may not tell which sweetest sings,
The maiden or the bird.

Then tell me not of jewelled fair—
The brightest jewel yet,
Is the true heart where virtue dwells
And innocence is set!
The glow of health upon her cheek—
The grace no rule hath taught her—
The fairest wreath that beauty twines
Is for the Farmer's daughter.

YOUTH AND AGE.

Remember that each tottering form
Which limps along in life's decline,
Once bore a heart as young and warm,
As full of radiant hopes as thine;
And each has had its dream of joy,
His own unequalled pure romance,
Commencing when the blushing boy
First thrills at lovely woman's glance.

And each could tell his tale of youth,
Of scenes of love that would evince
As much of feeling and of youth,
As any tale before or since;
Yes, they could tell of tender ties,
Which they had penned in sylvan shades,
Of days as bright as modern days,
And maids as fair as modern maids.

Of whispers in a willing ear,
Of kisses on a blushing cheek—
Each kiss, each whisper far too dear
For modern lips to speak;
Of passions too untimely crossed,
Of confidence and trust betrayed,
Of kindred spirits early lost,
Like blossoms opening but to fade.

Of beaming eyes and tresses gay,
Elastic form and noble brow,
Of beauty that has passed away,
And left them what we see them now;
And is it thus—is human love
So transient, and so frail a thing?
And must youth's brightest visions move
Forever on time's restless wing?

Must all the eyes that still are bright,
And all the lips that talk of bliss,
And all the forms so fair to sight
Hereafter only come to this?
Then what are earth's gay visions worth,
If we at length must lose them thus?
If all we value most on earth,
Ere long must fade away from us?

THE FARMERS.

In 1776

Men to the plow
Wife to the cow,
Girl to the yarn,
Boy to the barn,
And all dues settled.

In 1837

Man a mere show,
Gal, Piano,
Wife silk and satin,
Boy, Greek and Latin,
And all hands gazetted.

In 1850.

Men all in debt,
Wives in a pet,
Boys, mere muscles,
Girls, snuff and bustles;
And every body cheated.

ANECDOTES.

MORE TROUBLE.—"More trouble coming," said Mrs. Partington laying down the paper, "ther's the State of Affairs; I suppose it will be applying for admission into the Union," and the old lady resumed her darning with a look of patriotic anxiety RATIONAL.—A man residing in one of our interior towns, at some distance from a near relation, received a message one cold evening in November, to hasten to his residence, as he was in a dying state—When he arrived he was told that his reason had entirely left him. The sick man presently turned his head, saying in a faint voice—"Who is that?"

He was informed that it was his relative who had been sent for.

Oh," said he, he must be cold. Make him a good warm toddy—yes, a strong toddy.

"I guess he aint crazy," said the visitor, "he TALKS very rational."

Gold has been found in New Hampshire—in the tooth of an old lady.

Watches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at the Store of GEORGE B FOSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum,) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortment of

Gold and Silver

WATCHES,

Silver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Rich

HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

His attention will be given personally, at all times to the REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF WATCHES, which his long experience in that department with Mr JEFFREY R. BRACKETT, entitles him to the confidence of his friends and customers.

☞His friends and acquaintance when in Boston are invited to call.

THOMAS S. JOHNSON.

Boston, Feb. 23. istf

GREATLY

REDUCED PRICES

GEORGE W, WARREN & CO,

ANNOUNCE TO THEIR FRIENDS, AND THE PUBLIC GENERALLY, THAT THEY FEEL COMPELLED EITHER TO ABANDON THE "ONE PRICE SYSTEM," OR TO SUBMIT TO A GREAT SACRIFICE.

OF THEIR STOCK.

HAVING

Pledged themselves to the Public,

that their "One Price" should be as LOW or LOWER than the same goods could be bought under any circumstances, they now CHEERFULLY SUBMIT to a

HEAVY LOSS!

RATHER THAN YIELD THEIR SYSTEM TO THE PRESSURE OF THE HOUR.

THIS EVENING

WE SHALL CLOSE AT SIX,

—AND—

MARK DOWN

OUR STOCK

TO PRICES THAT WILL CONVINCE ALL

THAT WE WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD.

GEO. W. WARREN & CO.

FOR PARTICULARh SEE CIRCULARS.

Nov. 2. 6w

Crockery and Glass Ware.

JUST added to our previous assortment, new an choice patterns of

Tea and Dining Setts, Washbowls, and Ewers.

H A RANSOM & Co.

Quincy Sept. 1. tf

Brown's

ALMANAC, Pocket Memorandum and Account Book, for 1851. for sale at the

QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Quincy, Nov, 25, 1851.

Board in Quincy.

A Gentleman and his wife, or two single gentlemen, can have pleasant rooms and board, at the house of Misses J B & M TOWNSEND, on President's Hill, nearly opposite the depot

Quincy, Nov. 16. 3m

BROTHER JONATHAN.

PICTORIAL; for the Christmas Holiday and New Year

For sale at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE

Quincy, Dec 14, 1850 3w

For Sale.

20 GOOD PIGS: weigh from forty to eighty pounds

Enquire of DANIEL BAXTER

Quincy, Dec 14, 1850 2w

Hats and Caps.

2 CASES, Fall stylo, just received, and for sale cheap for cash, by

A. B. PACKARD.

Quincy, Dec 6. 6w

Apples and Potatoes.

50 Bbls RUSSET and GREENING APPLES 200 bushels POTATOES of various kinds.

For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, Dec. 7, 1850

HAT AND CAP STORE.

A. B PACKARD has remodled his Store, making the sales room twice as large as formerly, where he intends keeping a large stock of

HATS AND CAPS,

suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle-aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.

Also,

A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring styles.

Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Ginghams, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c.

With that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers' use

Quincy, April 13. tf

French Calf Boots.

MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a FIRST RATE FIT WARRANTED, by W. S. UNDERWOOD,

Hancock St., Quincy,

Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.

Quincy, May 5. tf

SKATES.

40 Pairs of extra SKATES For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, Dec 7, 1850

Beef and Pork.

A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere

Also—Fresh BEEF and PORK, constantly on hand, and delivered to any part of the town free expense.

H. A. RANSOM & CO.

m16 tf

P. LOW'S HOT UNION AIR.

Cooking Stove and Fuel Saver

THIS is a most beautiful and extraordinary Cooking Stove. The even and regular application of the heat to the Oven, gives this Stove all the advantages of a brick Oven—while at the same time the boiler holes are so constructed that the heat is immediately applied to the boilers from the fire pit, which makes this stove the most complete and finished Air Tight Cook Stove in America.

AS A COAL COOKING STOVE,

it is just suited for the use of families in cities and villages, and will perform the cooking of a family of from 2 to 8, 10 or 20 persons with certainty and despatch. The fire-chamber is constructed of a size, form and depth, to burn coal with the greatest freedom and economy. WOOD may be used with equal advantage by simply dispensing with the brick lining of the fire-chamber.

A SUMMER APPARATUS

is attached to the front, affording, of itself, ample convenience for light summer work, without the unpleasing effects and expense of heating up the main body of the stove; it may also be used at the same time that the rest of the stove is occupied, greatly adding to its value, and rendering it altogether the most efficient Cooking Stove for the class of families for whom it is expressly designed, ever yet invented.

Any person who will give this stove a fair trial will be convinced of its superiority for ECONOMY, CONVENIENCE and DURABILITY, over any other Air-Tight Cooking Stove.

☞Its price brings it within the means of all families who want a good stove.

A pamphlet containing a description and directions for fitting up and using this Stove is furnished, gratis to every purchaser.

These Stoves of the different sizes may be examined at the

Tin and Sheet Iron Manufactory

of the Agent in this town.

E. S. FELLOWS, Agent for the above Stove, has also for sale at his Store, the REGULATOR, ECONOMIST'S, and various other patterns of Cook Stove, as well as PARLOR, OFFICE, and CYLINDER.

—ALSO—

SHEET IRON, TIN AND COPPER WORK done to order,

Of the best Materials, and in a workmanlike manner.

Quincy, Sept. 1. tf

ALL READY!

AND NOW OP NING,

NEW STYLE FOR FALL AND WINTER TRADE,

JUST RECEIVED AT THE

Town Hall Cloth and Clothing Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD Respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made l ge additions to their present expensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would ipa ticularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect THEIR STOCK before buying elsewhere, feel ng confident we can sell BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.

N. B—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN, ENGLISH and FRENCH and AMERICAN GOODS. Some of the RICHEST VEST PATTERNS, and a HOST OF PANTALOONERY!

BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVERY DESCRIPTION ON HAND.

Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.

HATS, CAPS, &C.

P. S—RUSSELL & CO., having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for public and private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of very article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.

—NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.—

Quincy, March 23. tf

Mrs. Hayden

GRATEFUL for the patronag she has received for more than twenty years, offers to her friends and the public an ENLARGED STOCK of the best

FAMILY MEDICINES,

Selected and Prepared with care

—ALSO—

Various articles for the use of the sick, among which are, SPOUT DRINKING CUPS; Leech Glasses; Nursing Tubes, of Porcelain, ivory and silver, with and without bottles; India Rubber Breast Pumps, glass Pipes and Shells; Pratt's Patent Nursing Shields; India Rubber and Box-Wood do; Bed Pans; Metal and Glass Syringes; Crain's, Ingall's and Chapin's Supporters; Horse Hair Mittens; English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow; Spread Plasters, on kid, cloth and paper; Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes: Dtistering Paper and Tissue Dressing; European Leeches, &c, &c.

Physicians' Prescriptions,

Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH.

She has also on hand and is constantly receiving the New and Popular Medicines of the day.

Washington St., rear of Stone Temple.

Quincy, Oct. 20. tf

Salt Pork and Beef.

A FIRST rate article of PORK and BEEF, packed by the subscribers and for sale by the barrel or in smaller quantites to suit purchasers, cheap for CASH

J & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy. March 16th. tf

CROCKERY WARE

A Splendid Assortment of CROCKERY WARE just received and for sale at the Union Store, on Washington Street, Quincy

Blue Stone Chine Tea Setts	1.75
Mulbury " " "	1.75
Light Blue " " "	1.37
White " " "	1.37

—AND—

A Good Assortment of GLASS & BRITANIA OIL & FLUID LAMPS

Quincy, Dec 7 1850 tf

BAY STATE

Long and Square Shawls,

OF the best styles, for sale at the lowest prices Ladies are invited to examine them before purchasing.

JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5. tf

QUINCY HALL

Clothing Depot.

On the Weymouth and Braintree Turnpike.

Special Notice.

JOHN DINEGAN.

Has just received a supply of NEW GOODS from some of the most celebrated Manufacturers in Europe. Consisting in part of HEAVY WEST OF ENGLAND

PILOT & BEAVER

CLOTHS, suitable for OVERCOATS or SACKS, and comes very cheap.

Do. very heavy DRAB for travelling or Riding Surtouts. Also, Several splendid pieces

French and German Broadcloths!

of the most fashionable colors, worn and suitable for tasty Promenade or Business Coats.

VESTINGS.

SILK VELVET, PLAIN & FIGURED, some of the richest Paterns ever introduced in this market.

ALSO, SATINS of every design and pattern, Valencias, and other styles.

PANTALOON GOODS.

A first rate assortment, always on hand from the lowest price to the most costly.

READY MADE CLOTHING

of a superior quality, to suit all in want.

Our present stock of Goods is the richest and best selected, that is has ever been our pleasure to present to our friends and customers, and as the price has been fixed to each article, which we feel must be satisfactory to the buyer, ONE PRICE ONLY.

Hosiery.

Just received, a good assortment of FLANNEL SHIRTS AND DRAWERS.

GLOVES, SUSPENDERS, &c.

A complete assortment of MEN and BOYS CLOTH CAPS.

Quincy, Nov. 9th. tf

Particular Notice

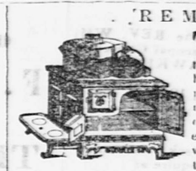
THE Subscribers respectfully inform their customers and the public, that on and after the First of OCTOBER next, all goods will be sold at reduced prices for cash only.

All those who wish to buy cheap, are invited to call, as the prices cannot fail to suit them.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy. Sept. 7th. tf

REMOVAL.



THE subscriber takes this method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr Samuel Copeland, it being more commodious and better adapted to his business; and also, would tender his sincere thanks for the liberal share a patronage which he has received during the past year His former customers and the public generally are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves among which is the embodying, in the highest degree of perfectn, everyd essential quality requisite for any latitude. This Stove presents itself externally in a plain dress, with just and admirable proportions, giving it the appearance of a chaste and tastefully made piece of Cabinet Furniture. Intrnally, the location and capacity of the Fire Chamber is such as to remove effectually the objections often made to Air-Tight Cook-Stoves for country use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely what its projectors intended it should be, viz: the largest and most perfect ever constructed in a family Stove. The Flues, upon which the great responsibility and reputation of a stove depends, differ from any ever before used, and are of such construction and capacity as to ensure the most perfect draught, without liability to fill up, and are easily kept clean. Nearly one hundred of this stove have been sold the past year and all have given the utmost satisfaction.

New England Air-Tight,

Also—A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYLANDER STOVES, together with a good assortment of TIN, BRITANIA, SHEET IRON and

Japaned Ware.

CHARLES HOLMES.

Quincy, Jan12. tf

QUINCY WASHING MIXUTRE.

THIS article has been tested by upwards of fifty families during the past week, and all have called it equal to anything of the kind which they have used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and sell it at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart, full directions accompanying it.

By this improvement, it is expected the dry goods market will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this will wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so often will new be bought.

ELISHA PACKARD.

tf

Wood, Wood.

FOR sale, a constant supply of Hard and Soft, ao Granite wharf, Quincy Point,

by WHITON & ADAMS.

Quincy, August 17. tf

Periodical Agency.

C. GILL & Co. are Agents for all the Quarterly, Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free from any expense for Postage or transportation. All who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time for which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices. tf Quincy, Dec. 22.

Preparation for the Hair.

THE celebrated "Der Schon Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Gloss; Camm's Spanish Lustral, or medicated hair preservative; Tompkins' Chlorion gustrale: Batchelor's instantaneous hair dye; Jules Haules vegetable hair dye. For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

Cider Vinegar.

JUST received, and for sale by the sbuscribers twenty barrels extra Cider vinegar.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850. tf

Wool Frocking.

200 TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.

ALSO—FROCKS ready made

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Sept. 29. tf

New Goods.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.,

HAVE recently made large additions to their Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows:

Mouslin DeLaine, a good assortment, very low;
Prints and Ginghams in great variety;
Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters
Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors
Wool Yarn, of all colors;
A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and 12 1-2 cts. per yard;

Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other Goods, all of which will be sold at the

VERY LOWEST PRICES.

Quincy, August 31 s tf

Salt Pork

A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and deiverep at any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quncly March 9th, tf

Velvet Trimmings.

JUST Received, an assortment of Velvet Trimmings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by

GEO. SAVIL & Co., Washington St.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

Paper Hangings.

3 TO 400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 24th tf

Bay State Long Shawls.

AN Assortment just received of the different sizes Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the lowest prices, by GEO. SAVIL and Co., Washington Street, Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

PORK & BEEF.

SALT-PETRED BEEF and Bacon, of the first quality, will be kept constantly on hand during the season, and sold as cheap as can be bought at

Any Store in Town for Cash.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quincy, March 24. tf

For Cash Only.

Wood. Wood. Wood.

FOR sale one Frieght of good Eastern Wood, just landed, on Granite wharf, Quincy Point.

Apply to

WHITON & ADAMS.

Quincy, April 20th, tf

PUBLISHED

NUMBER 2.

JOHN A GR

EDITOR AND PROPRIET

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in adv LARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid months—THREE DOLLARS if delay tation of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement previous to the payment of all ar the option of the proprietor. When their papers discontinued, they will effect at the time their subscription subscriber will be held responsible of his paper so long as it is sent to Post Office, Tavern, or any other he may have ordered it, until legal contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and co ed at the customary prices. The nu required must be marked on the adv wise they will be continued until charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual adverti their own immediate business; and for the benefit of other persons, a advertisements, and advertisements sent in by them, must be paid for at

Business letters and communication Editor, postage paid, will receive at ☞Single copies of the paper, Fi

AGENTS FOR THE PA

The following gentlemen are auth pay and requested to procure subscr

JOSIAH BABCOCK, Quin
GEORGE H. LOCKE, "
ORIN P BACON, Dorch
FISHER A KINGSBURY, Weym
JOSEPH CLEVERLY, Hing
SAMUEL A TURNER, South
N B OSBORNE, Salem
FREEMAN HUNT, New

MISCELLAN

THE MISER'S DEATH

BY AN ENGLISH PHYSIC

The physician sees many str scenes. We may render him, to sent, callous to those sights whi the stoutest heart, but still, in t long practice, even he must en death-bed scenes, the recollection cling to him and which he may shaking from his imagination. S which I am about to describe.

For ten or eleven years a bent old man had been in the habit o morning to my area rails, to beg broken victuals. His appearance gard, and his tone and manner depth of misery, that I gave orde fuse him anything that had co ble, so that, at last, he grew into sioner upon us, and we used to regularly every morning as our b

The name of the old mendic knew, nor where he resided. In dom spoke a word to my servants come in the heat of summer, wh genial sunshine lit even the worm to beauty, and cling to the iron the only miserable, or at least th ble object in creation. In the de too, when the bleak northwest win ly and the blinding snow drifted air, he would run; and, still cli rails, while his rags fluttered arou for his daily dole.

This had gone on so long, that when he did not come. I felt qui there was a general inquiry throu as to whether any one had seen The next morning passed away, came not, I began to think he dead and, wondering at the us another week, we began to forge gar who had visited us so long. however, he was brought to m again somewhat singularly.

I was told that a young girl w the hall to see me, and going ou she told me that a Mr. Temple soon as I could go to him.

'Where does he reside?' I sa She named a low, wretched st and wondering at the address, I s

'Who is Mr. Temple?'

'I don't know, sir,' said the gir with my mother, sir.'

'You are quite sure he sent fo

'Yes, sir. We did'nt know this morning, and he lived with born.'

'Indeed! that's odd enough.

'Oh, very; he's a groaning so

'Well, run back, and tell him ly as I can in the course of the

The girl departed, and about h I found myself sufficiently disen upon my new patient in——stree house was miserable and dirty and, upon, asking for Mr. Temp grinning looking woman screame en stairs—

'It's three pair back!'

'The what?' I said.

'The three pair back, to be the woman, just showing her h with the passage.

'Can't you show me his roo

'Who are you, I wonder?' woman. 'Hoity-toity! Show deed!—Perhaps you'd like a m

Postively declining the cand the staircase, surmising that th must be up three flights of stair room somewhere.

When I arrived at the landing very topmost story of the house, moaning sound proceed from a

REMOVAL.

THE subscriber takes this method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr. Samuel Copeland, it being more commodious and better adapted to his business; and also, would tender his sincere thanks for the liberal share of patronage which he has received during the past year from former customers and the public generally are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves among which is the combining, in the highest degree of perfection, every essential quality requisite for any latitude. This stove presents itself externally in a plain dress, with good and admirable proportions, giving it the appearance of a chaste and tastefully made piece of Cabinet furniture. Internally, the location and capacity of the Fire Chamber is such as to remove effectually the objections often made to Air-Tight Cook-Stoves for family use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely what its projectors intended it should be, viz: the largest and most perfect ever constructed in a family stove.

New England Air-Tight,

The Flues, upon which the great responsibility and reputation of a stove depends, differ from any before used, and are of such construction and capacity as to ensure the most perfect draught, without liability to fill up, and are easily kept clean. Upwards of one hundred of this stove have been sold the present year and all have given the utmost satisfaction.

Also—A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYLINDER STOVES, together with a good assortment of TIN, BRITANIA, SHEET IRON and

Japaned Ware.

CHARLES HOLMES.

Quincy, Jan12. tf

QUINCY WASHING MIXUTRE.

THIS article has been tested by upwards of fifty families during the past week, and all have called it equal to anything of the kind which they have ever used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and sell at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart, with directions accompanying it.

Should this improvement, it is expected the dry goods will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this will wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so often will new be bought.

ELISHA PACKARD.

tf

Wood, Wood.

FOR sale, a constant supply of Hard and Soft, at the Granite wharf, Quincy Point,

by WHITON & ADAMS.

Quincy, August 17. tf

Periodical Agency.

GILL & Co. are Agents for all the Quarterly, Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free of any expense for Postage or transportation. Any one wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be punctually supplied with all the numbers for the time which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be exchanged or single numbers purchased at the lowest rates. tf Quincy, Dec. 22.

Preparation for the Hair.

THE celebrated "Der Schon Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Gloss; Camm's Spanish Lustral, or Created hair preservative; Tompkins' Chlorion Wash: Batchelor's instantaneous hair dye; Jules Hair vegetable hair dye. For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

Cider Vinegar.

JUST received, and for sale by the subscribers twenty barrels extra Cider vinegar.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850. tf

Wool Frocking.

90 TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as low as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.

Also—FROCKS ready made.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Sept. 29. tf

New Goods.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.,

HAVE recently made large additions to their Stock of Goods consisting in part as follows:

Muslin DeLaine, a good assortment, very low;

Prints and Ginghams in great variety;

Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters

Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors

Wool Yarn, of all colors;

A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and 10 cts. per yard;

Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other Goods, all of which will be sold at the

VERY LOWEST PRICES.

Quincy, August 31 s tf

Salt Pork

FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quincy March 9th, tf

Velvet Trimmings.

JUST Received, an assortment of Velvet Trimmings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by

GEO. SAVIL & Co., Washington St.

Quincy, Sept 21. tf

Paper Hangings.

400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 24th tf

Bay State Long Shawls.

An Assortment just received of the different sizes Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the lowest prices, by GEO. SAVIL and Co., Washington St. Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

PORK & BEEF.

FAT-PEEKED BEEF and Bacon, of the first quality, will be kept constantly on hand during the season, and sold as cheap as can be bought at

Any Store in Town for Cash.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quincy, March 24. tf

For Cash Only.

Wood. Wood. Wood.

FOR sale one Frieght of good Eastern Wood, just landed, on Granite wharf, Quincy Point.

Apply to WHITON & ADAMS.

Quincy, April 20th, tf

QUINCY PATRIOT.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.....OVER MESSRS. JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO'S STORE.....HANCOCK STREET.

NUMBER 2. QUINCY (MASS.) SATURDAY, JANUARY 11, 1851. VOLUME 15.

JOHN A GREEN,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance—Two DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid till the end of six months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till the expiration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will be stopped previous to the payment of all arrearages unless at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers wish their papers discontinued, they will give notice to that effect at the time their subscription expires. Every subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of his paper so long as it is sent to his address at the Post Office, Tavern, or any other place wheresoever he may have ordered it, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously, inserted at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, otherwise they will be continued until ordered out and charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business; and all advertisements for the benefit of other persons, as well as all legal advertisements, and advertisements of auction sales, sent in by them, must be paid for at the usual rates.

Business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.

☞Single copies of the paper, FIVE CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscriptions:

JOSIAH BABCOCK,	Quincy Railway.
GEORGE H. LOCKE,	" Stone Quarries.
ORIN P. BACON,	Dorchester.
FISHER A. KINGSBURY,	Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVERLY,	Abington.
SAMUEL A. TURNER,	South Scituate.
N. B. OSBORNE,	Salem.
FREEMAN HUNT,	New York City.

MISCELLANY.

THE MISER'S DEATH-BED.

BY AN ENGLISH PHYSICIAN,

The physician sees many strange death-bed scenes. We may render him, to a certain extent, callous to those sights which would appal the stoutest heart, but still, in the course of a long practice, even he must encounter some death-bed scenes, the recollections of which will cling to him and which he may be years in shaking from his imagination. Such was that which I am about to describe.

For ten or eleven years a bent and miserable old man had been in the habit of clinging each morning to my area rails, to beg of my servants broken victuals. His appearance was so haggard, and his tone and manner bespoke such a depth of misery, that I gave orders never to refuse him anything that had come from the table, so that, at last, he grew into a regular pensioner upon us, and we used to expect him as regularly every morning as our breakfast.

The name of the old mendicant we never knew, nor where he resided. In fact, he seldom spoke a word to my servants; but he would come in the heat of summer, when the warm genial sunshine lit even the worn flagstones into beauty, and cling to the iron rails, looking the only miserable, or at least the most miserable object in creation. In the depth of winter, too, when the bleak northwest wind blew fiercely and the blinding snow drifted through the air, he would run; and, still clinging to the rails, while his rags fluttered around him, wait for his daily dole.

This had gone on so long, that one morning, when he did not come, I felt quite uneasy, and there was a general inquiry through the house as to whether any one had seen the old man. The next morning passed away, and still he came not. I began to think he must be ill or dead and, wondering at the usual hour for another week, we began to forget the old beggar who had visited us so long. One morning, however, he was brought to my recollection again somewhat singularly.

I was told that a young girl was waiting in the hall to see me, and going out to see her, she told me that a Mr. Temple wanted me as soon as I could go to him.

'Where does he reside?' I said.

She named a low, wretched street in Soho, and wondering at the address, I said—

'Who is Mr. Temple?'

'I don't know, sir,' said the girl. 'He lodges with my mother, sir.'

'You are quite sure he sent for me?'

'Yes, sir. We did'nt know his name till this morning, and he lived with us since I was born.'

'Indeed! that's odd enough. Is he very ill?'

'Oh, very; he's a groaning so.'

'Well, run back, and tell him I'll call as early as I can in the course of the morning.'

The girl departed, and about half past eleven I found myself sufficiently disengaged to call upon my new patient in——street, Soho. The house was miserable and dirty in the extreme, and, upon, asking for Mr. Temple, a slip-shod grinning looking woman screamed up the kitchen stairs—

'It's three pair back!'

'The what?' I said.

'The three pair back, to be sure,' replied the woman, just showing her head on a level with the passage.

'Can't you show me his room?' said I.

'Who are you, I wonder?' screemed the woman. 'Hoity-toity! Show you up. Indeed!—Perhaps you'd like a mole candle too?'

Positively declining the candle, I ascended the staircase, surmising that three pair back must be up three flights of stairs, and a back room somewhere.

When I arrived at the landing place at the very topmost story of the house, I heard a low moaning sound proceed from a room to my left and pushing open a low black door, I entered one of the most miserable rooms that I had ever seen.

Furniture it had none. A cracked water jug was upon the floor, and by its side an earthenware saucer, such as are used for garden pots. In one corner lay what at first appeared to be a mass of old rags, but the groans that proceeded from amongst them told me that a human being was there.

'Has he come!—has he come?' cried a thin voice, as if struggling with pain.

'Did you send for me?' said I.

'Thieves, murder, help!' suddenly cried the same voice, and from among the mass of rags and filth, a long skinny arm protruded, grasping a pistol.

I own I was a little alarmed, and said hastily 'I am Dr-——.'

'You—you have not come to rob me, then?'

'You, you! Certainly not.'

'But—but—you know if you had I—have nothing. Mind, nothing—nothing!'

'Is your name Temple?' I said.

'Ha!' he screamed 'how do you know that! No, no—I am a beggar.'

'A Mr. Temple sent for me.'

'Stay, stay! Fasten the door; place the jug against it. We—we shall be robbed else. Not that I have anything to loose. No, no; I am miserably poor, wretchedly poor.'

'Then you should apply for assistance,' said I, 'where you have a right to demand it. If I was to give you a prescription, you could not get it made up for nothing you know.'

'No, no,' he replied. 'I—know. Look at me—look, doctor, look.'

He raised himself on his arm, and in the thin emaciated face of my strange patient I recognized the old beggar who used to cling to my area rails.

'I do recollect you,' I said.

'You do now?'

'And your name is Temple, is it not?'

'Temple!' he screamed, 'who says my name is Temple?'

'Your own messenger.'

'Then—then—I must have raved.'

'Slowly he drew his hand from under the rags, and letting an old tarnished guinea drop from his clenched fist he said with a deep sigh—

'There's your fee.'

'I do not require it of you?' said I.

'You—you are sure?'

'Quite sure.'

'Then, I,—then I will keep it. Don't tell anybody you saw it or I shall be robbed!'

He clenched the coin again, and withdrew his ghastly attenuated hand and arm. I could see by his whole appearance that he was suffering from want of nourishing diet, and I said—

'You must spend that guinea to-day in some wine an arrow-root.'

'Guinea!' he cried, 'what guinea? I have no gold. Do you want to rob me? I am ill. I know I am ill. Tell me what's the matter with me; but mind one thing—'

'What is that?'

'I—I am not d—dying. Mind that—I am not dying. No, no, not dying!'

'You will, though,' said I. 'If you do not take some nourishing drinks.'

He fixed his glassy eyes upon my face as he muttered—

'Do you think half a pint of porter is really necessary for me?'

I laughed and said 'a bottle of good port wine, you mean.'

'Wine!' he cried, 'and I so wretchedly poor—so miserably poor!'

'Do you know,' said I, 'I begin to suspect—'

'What—what?' he cried.

'That you are not so poor as you affect to be. Have you not some secret hoard, now, that freely used you'd make the remainder of your life comfortable?'

'What, gold!' he shrieked, 'you do not think I have gold?'

'Yes I do. You are a miser.'

'A miser?'

'Yes.'

He fell back on the bed with a gasp; then suddenly springing up, he screamed—

'Thieves! thieves!—help, help, help, robbers!'

'I shall leave you,' said I, 'if you make such a noise.'

The door now opened and a coarse man put his head into the room, with the polite inqury of—'What's the row?'

'Nothing said I, 'the old man is ill, and raves.'

'Oh, that's the ticket, is it? He's going all for to assault the bucket at last, is he? There'll be a nut for Old Nick!'

Having delivered himself of this elegant opinion, the man withdrew his head, and shut the door. When I turned again to the old man, he lay in a swoon on his miserable bed

* * * * *

I am never without restoratives about me, and I very soon succeeded in restoring my patient to his former state. With a long drawn sigh he opened his eyes, and fixed them upon my face with an expression of mournful intensity.

'How are you now?' I said.

'Better—better,' he muttered.

I saw that it was not so, for a change had come across his face, and there was a peculiar gaze about his eyes, that told me he was dying. Impressed as I was with the conviction that he had money secreted, which might be of service to some one claiming kindred with him, I did not hesitate to tell him his real condition.

'Do not deceive yourself,' said I, 'you are dying.'

He sprung up in bed with a shriek, as if he had been galvanized.

'Dying?' he cried; 'no, no, not dying! Let me live—live on, though it be in want. Why should I die? No—no, I cannot—will not die!'

It was dreadful to see his agitation of his features. Hot, scalding tears poured down his cheeks; he clutched the scanty covering which was upon him till he blood started, and still he shrieked—

'I cannot—dare not die!'

Then he suddenly turned to me and clutching my arm, he cried, in the most supplicating tears—

'Save me! save me!—for the love of Heaven, save me. Hold me to the world. You are skillful—save me by your art. Look at me, a miserable poor old man. I will kneel to you—bless—be your slave, but give me life—life—life!'

I knew that a few hours must end the scene, and I seized the opportunity of leaving the room, and getting somebody in the house to fetch some wine and brandy, for I knew that by stimulants alone could the flickering flame of life be kept alive for the next few hours.

When I returned, I started, for he had risen from his pallet, and was kneeling before the wretched little skeleton grate, which by its rust had evidently not seen a fire for years. He did not hear me, and I paused to observe him.

With feeble efforts he wrenched from its place the little grate, and then I saw him eagerly clutch at something. With a scream, he sprang to his feet, and, as he did, a heavy bag fell from his relaxed hold, with a loud clsah, upon the floor.

'Wretched man!' I said, pointing to the bag, 'is it for this you cling to life?'

He tried to speak, but could not. His hand clutched the air wildly. Inarticulate sounds came from his throat, and I had just time to catch him, when he again fainted. I carried him to the bed, if bed it could be called, and then carefully replacing the grate, I lifted the bag he had dropped, and concealed it under some musty apparel which lay in a rotting heap in one corner of the room.

I was most anxious that he should live to make some bequest of his money to some good purpose, and I, with some anxiety, felt his pulse; it was beating freely, but there was a tolerably regular action. I left the room again, and was glad to meet on the staircase a girl with the wine and brandy. I took them from her, and returning, poured a little of the former into the miser's month.

In a few moments returning animation began to show itself, but I feared he was delirsous, for he talked strangely.

'They are all dead now,' he muttered—'dead, I tell you; they don't want my gold; it's twelve years ago. They are dead—dead!'

'Who are dead?' I said.

'He!' he cried. 'Who speaks to me in the dark?'

'The dark!' said I.

'Yes; the night is very dark, so very dark.'

I looked at his eyes, and perceived that the sight was gone. He was stone blind. I feared that the other preceptive qualities would quickly follow, and I said—

'Tell me truly have you any kindred?'

'Kindred?' he repeated.

'Yes; have you a child or a child's child?'

'A child—child? he said falteringly, 'have I a child's child? Did my own little blue-eyed Emma ever fondle a darling of her own, because—because, have mercy upon me—that would be my child's child.'

I never shall forget the burst of frantic grief which followed these words. His sobs were terrible. Such agony of sorrow I never before saw; and hope never to see again. I was deeply affected. Grief in the young is distressing, but there was something awful in the heartfelt anguish of that white haired old man.

'Calm yourself,' I said through my own voice was broken with emotion; 'there may be still time to repair, in some measure, the past. Confide all to me, and I promise, before Heaven, to do what I can, in furtherance of, I hope, your newly awakened kind feelings.'

'God bless and prosper you,' he said faintly. 'I will tell all—all.'

His voice was very faint, and I stopped over him to listen. Mingled with broken sobs and many tears, he thus addressed me—

'I had a wife, whom I loved, and—and a little blue-eyed thing, with a sweet laugh, who was happy as the day is long, and we called her Emma. My wife, she companion of my young days, wasted away before my eyes, and died. Then I was alone with my child, my little one; but there came a chilling shadow across my heart, and I was unhappy.

'At last it shaped itself into a form, and avarice became my passion—I hoarded—hoarded all, but still in want, in misery and privation, my little child clung to me, and loved me.—The pleasure of childhood she never knew; playmates she had none; yet she clung to me and she grew in beauty, too, till she was sixteen; then one day she hung upon my neck and told me she was loved by a mere youth I knew him. His genius was his only possession, and I scorned him. Then one day he came to me: and she, my child, my Emma—it was her mother's name—they knelt at my feet and asked for my blessing.'

He paused, for his tears choked his utterance, and the scene he had conjured up was too much for his feeling. I gave him some wine and he proceeded.

'I turned them from my door—and—and saved my gold.'

'And what became of them?'

'I left the place, and came to London, but a man met me in the street and told me—'

'What?'

'That my child—my little Emma you know—'

'Take time,' I said.

'He—he told me she was dead—the little thing who used to nestle in my breast he said she had died of want in giving birth to a child—absolute want.'

'Can that be true?' said I.

'Hush!' he cried, 'hear all—hear all. Her young husband—he, too, they said, had kissed his child and then sought a grave—and I had saved my gold!'

'When did you hear this?'

'The last time I clung to the railings of your house. Since then I have not tasted food.'

'The child,' I said, 'your Emma's child, did it live?'

'I know not.'

'Where did all this happen?'

'At——'

'That is a small place near——'

'It is.'

'And your daughter's husband's name?'

'Was Durham.'

I immediately formed a resolve, and rising, I said.

'Be calm till I return. Take a little wine occaaionally, and I will send you a nurse and other refreshments.'

'Take with you the dross which has been my destruction,' he moaned; 'take the gold.'

'I will return soon,' said I.'

I hurried from the room. Medical men know plenty of nurses, and in half an hour I sent one to the old man with medicine and food; then I hurried home to my wife.

'Mary,' said I, I am going to——.'

'To where?'

'Don't ask me any questions, but come with me, I have ordered post horses, and we shall be there within three hours, they tell me. I'll tell you everything on the road.'

* * * * * *

Good fast horses and a well paid postilion do wonders. As we neared——, I called to the driver——

'Is there a workhouse at——?'

'A workus?' he cried. 'Lor I thinks as there ins't; but there is at——. A workus! Lor!'

I had told the whole story to my wife, and she had at once suggested an inquiry at the workhouse, to ascertain if the child had lived or died, as the parish must have been cognisant of the whole affair. We soon rattled up to the workhouse door, and I was ushered into the master's room.

'I am. Dr.——,' said I. Have you a child here of the name of Durham?'

'Yes sir,' was the immediate answer.

'Thank Heaven,' said I. 'What is it, a boy?'

'No, sir, a girl.'

'Its age?'

'About eleven, sir.' You see we had to bury the mother, and the father drowned himself.'

'Will you trust the child to me?'

'I dare not sir,' said the man.

'I will hold you harmless,' said I. 'You know me by name.'

The master hesitated a moment, and then said—

'I will sir. Will you please to take a seat a moment.'

He was scarcely two minutes gone, when he returned, leading by the hand a little girl dressed in a blue stuff gown of five centuries ago, and a little pinched up white cap. She was a beautiful little thing, with blue eyes, and a look of earnest simplicity upon her face which I admired very much.

'Thank you sir,' said I to the master—'You shall hear from me to-morrow.'

He bowed, and I took the little orphan by the hand, and led her to the chaise. The moment I appeared at the workhouse door, a great crowd that had there assembled, greeted me with a loud hurah.

I handed the child into the chaise, and followed myself.

'To London,' said I.

'Hurah shouted the crowd, and away we went.

* * * * *

I had been away five hours exactly when I entered the miser's room with his daughter's child. He was asleep, and the nurse told me he had been quite delirious, I felt certain that it was his last sleep, and I motioned the child, who was a sweet tempered, tractable little thing, to stand quietly by the bed-side, while I awaited for his awakening. There was a dead silence for about a quarter of an hour and then he muttered in his sleep—

'Yes, darling—; kiss, me my little Emma! Bless—bless——'

'Are you better?' I said softly

'That's Dr.——' he said.

'Yes,' I replied.

'I am much better, thank you,' he said; 'in fact, quite strong and well. I had a pain but it's gone and its still night.'

'If, I said your daughter had a child, it would inherit all you have?'

'Dr.——,' he said, 'I could die happy if some one could assure me that my poor Emma's child was alive; but—but—'

'He burst into tears. The little girl who was very tender hearted, was so much affected, that she wept audibly. I shall never forget the expression of the old man's face as he heard her.

'Who is that?' he cried; 'who weep Who—who weeps for me?'

'Lisgen,' I said. 'It's your own Emma's child.'

He clasped his hands, and his face for a moment was lit up with heavenly joy; then opening his arms, he said—

'Come! come to my heart!—to my heart! I placed the child in his arms—

'Kiss your mother's father.'

She twined her little arms round his neck, and kissed his furrowed cheek.

Slowly the old man's arms relaxed their hold. He fell back on the pillow. There was a smile of joy on his face, but he was dead.

Property to the amount of five thousand pounds was found belonging to him, which the poor parish child came into indisputed possession; and I can only say for myself, that no event of my life has given me greater pleasure to think of.

RISING IN THE WORLD.

You should bear constantly in mind that nine tenths of us are, from the very nature and necessities of the world, born to gain our livelihood by the sweat of the brow. What reasons have we then, to presume that our children are not to do the same? If they, as now and then will be, endowed with extraordinary power, of mind, these extraordinary powers have on opportunity of developing themselves; and if they never have that opportunity, the harm is not so very great to us or to them. Nor does it hence follow that the descendants of laborers are always to be laborers. The path upward is steep and long to be sure. Industry, skill, excellence, in the parent, lay the foundation of a rise, and, by and by, the descendants of the present laborer become gentlemen. This is the natural progress. It is by attempting to reach the top at a single leap, that so much misery produced in the world. Society may aid in making the laborers virtuous and happy, by bringing children up to labor with steadiness, with care, and with skill; to show them to do as many useful things as possible; to do them all in the best manner: to set them an example in industry, sobriety, cleanliness and neatness; to make all these habitual to them, so that they never shall be liable to fall in the contrary; to let them always see a good living proceeding from labor, and thus to remove from them the temptation to get at the goods of others by violent or fraudulent means, and to keep from their minds all inducements to hypocracy and deceit.

LEARN A TRADE.

By all means have a trade. Don't go up and down in the world, and find nothing you can put your hand to. No matter if you dont have to work for a living. You may not always be prosperous as you are now. This is a moving planet. That man that is up today may be down to-morrow. Thank Heaven, we live in no land of primogeniture, no hereditary succession. Each man is morally bound to labor.

Have a trade, we repeat. Educate your hands. Have something you can turn your energies to when times pinch.—It will be an everlasting resource. We never knew a man who, with a good trade, could not get a good living—and much more with a right application. What though you are a going to college or into a profession? The case is not altered. You need it just as much. It will come in play every day of your life. It is much the better. Discipline of the head should always go before that of the hand. We never knew a college boy who wasn't better, for a substantial trade. He always graduates with the highest honors. He is sure to be a scholar. The story is, he knows how to warm—to pore—to conquer. He but transfers himself from the shop to the study.

Young man decide at once to learn a trade. Apply yourself with all your mind and heart and be its master. And when you graduate and ask your diploma, if you do not want, or are not obliged to work at it, you have laid by so much, and such a kind of wealth can never be lost or taken from you.

It is a want of judgment to see dangers but stupidity, or rashness not to fear.

Little things are not valued but when they are done by those who can do greater.

Of any art universally practiced, the first teacher is always forgotten.

True merit, like deepest rivers, makes least noise.

Raillery is more insupportable than wrong because we have a right to resent injuries; but it is ridiculous to be angry at a jest.

Let those who would affect singularity with success, first determine to be very virtuous, and they will sure to be very singular.

It is less difficult to feign the sensation we have not, than to conceal those we have.

It is proper to have the consciousness of having done well, but it is the height of vanity to be informed of it.

The glutton is the lowest souled of all animals, the butcher's boy is to him an Atlas bearing heaven on his shoulders.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 11th 1851

John A. Green, Editor.

A Valuable Treatise.—Crosby & Nichols 111 Washington Street, Boston, have published—"Practical Observations on the Inhilation of various Vapors and Powders in Diseases of the Air Tubes and Lungs—by Wm. M. Cornell, M. D."

Dr. C. has given a minute description of the treatment of diseases of the throat and lungs by inhalation, embodying many remarks and experiments of eminent men both in this country and abroad, as well as his own extensive experience upon this subject. His method of treating these distressing, and often fatal diseases, is, by applying the remedy directly to the diseased organs rather than by depositing medicines in the stomach to cure diseased lungs; the latter being the method of treating such diseases for a long time past, and now generally adopted by the medical profession. His plan is simple and involves no abtruse principles or great expense, the whole being comprised in inhaling an impalitble powder composed of the nitrate of silver and the pollen of the lycopodium or club-moss; and the expense of the inhaling apparatus and the powder will not exceed two or three dollars.

We have long thought that some more successful mode of treating this class of diseases would be discovered; and are happy to invite our readers to a pamphlet which points out a way, to say the least, if that promises much relief, and which, it only prevents or mitigates Consumption, will do much for suffering humanity.

Dr. C.'s office is at 496 Washington Street, Boston.

Legislature.—There has been but little done the past week.

Both branches met for the purpose of filling vacancies in the Senate.

Little has been accomplished as yet. The Coalition have the majority, and of course have made the principal appointments.

CALIFORNIA NEWS.

Extract of a letter from a miner in California to his wife in Quincy, dated Nov. 4th. 1850.

"There is in the country a plenty of Grizzly bears. There are a number within a mile of our camp; and sometimes their large tracks are seen where they resort to the river for water; and some have been taken as heavy as 1100 lbs. They are ferocious enemies it is not safe for one man to attack one even if he has a good rifle, unless in self-defence, and then he most always comes off second best.

I have had the honor of seeing his bear-ship under the following circumstances. When we were teaming in our lumber for the sluice, I had occasion to go up to the mountain in the wagon trail. I was alone with nothing in my hands. In passing a turn on the trail I met Mr. Bear face to face, about six rods off I stopped of course, and he stopped—reared up on his hind feet seven or eight feet tall—looked a moment and then turned into the bushes, with which the trail is lined on both sides. About an hour and a half afterward's when coming back Mr. Wiggins wanted to know where I saw the bear I told him. He then went into the bushes, which were from five to eight feet high, I turned round little, and in a few moments I heard Mr. Wiggins scream, I ran towards him, and when I came in sight of him, he was about ten feet from me, and the bear about as far from him—bounding towards him—with mouth open—and growling like thunder. The moment he saw me, he turned and ran to the great joy of us both. I never before saw a man so frightened as Mr. Wiggins was. All the people on the river say that the bear was afraid of me."

Communicated.

Mr. Thayer's Lecture.—The Lecture before the Lyceum, Thursday evening, December 26th, by Gideon F. Thayer, Esq., was of practical utility. Mr. Thayer's long experience in teaching imparts an interest and a value to his specimens on matters pertaining to education. In a city whose public schools offered every facility for the acquisition of mental discipline and knowledge which wealth can procure and public spirit suggests he maintains a private school that meets a generous approval and support.

I shall not attempt a report of his lecture, but aim to recall a few of its leading topics.

As is the Teacher, so is the school. On this point Mr. Thayer was quite earnest. As a general rule the Teachers are poorly paid—their recompense is not equal to the value of their services. They, alone, of all contracting parties, generally give more than they receive. If we would have good teachers, we should liberally reward their labors.

The doubt on the importance of parents giving to teachers their sympathy and support, and of the deleterious effect of their speaking disrespectfully and disparagingly of them in the presence of their children. If the master is unfit for his office the law has provided a remedy. The power of removal is in the hands of the parents. Let them not, then, impair the force of teachers labors and instructions by destroying the pupils confidence in him. Let them not pre-judge the teachers on ex-parte evidence, and that too most probably by the offending party.

He would interest the entire control of the school to the general School Committee rather than to Presidential Committees chosen by the several Districts, in accordance with the opinion of Mr. Mann and other friends of common Schools. The vote of the town at our last annual meeting was in opposition to this view and seemed to the lecturer to be a step backwards.

He would impress on the minds of all friends of education the duty of foregoing all partizan in selecting of the general School Committee. There should be a truce between all parties, when a question trought with so great interest to our children's welfare is decided.

Imagine for a moment the happy results which would flow from a High School in improving the manners, disciplining and developeing, the powers of the mind, and inculcating good sentiments in those who should partake of its teachings, he considered the subject in its bearing on the precuniary interests of the town. Even from that point of view he saw many reasons in favor of such a School.

From careful inquiry he has ascertained that full seven hundred dollars, were paid for private instruction last year by citizens of the town—some that would go far to support the proposed School

Then again men of property in the City who desire such a residence in the Country (a class of men rapidly increasing) would come among us. They will not content to abandon the advantages of a city School, if by so doing they must sacrifice the education of their children. Such men would build houses on our vacant land and aggregate property in and about them and thereby relieve our treasury by the payment of heavy taxes. Real estate would thus be increased in value; many branches of industry would be benefited and none injured. At present such men go elsewhere.

From San Francisco.—The Georgia brings San Francisco papers to December 1st.,

By the late overlands arrivals—about five million in Gold Dust has been received.

Cholera.—Between Monday noon, November, 29th, and November 30th, at the same hour, the board of Health reported 54 cases and 29 deaths by cholera, of which 24 cases and 12 deaths occurred during the twenty-four hours last named. The last accounts however, from San Francisco, contains the pleasing intelligence that his fearful epidemic is fast subsiding in that City.

From the Stockton Journal we learn that there has been a fight between the Indians and Americans, in the vicinity of Mokelumne Hill, in which fifteen of the latter were killed, and probably as many of the Indians. The Indians are thought to be those driven from the upper Sacramento by the force under Col Rogers.

Number of New buildings are said to be in progress of construction in Stockton, and business is flourishing.

The rainy season commenced in earnest on Tuesday, the 19th, of November, seventeen days later in the year than the rain of 1849. It was ushered in with a heavy gale of winds and floods.

Over two hundred thousand dollars in gold dust was stolen from Howland & Aspinwall's specil train while crossing the Isthmus. The Empire City was detained in consequence, in hopes that the money would be recovered.

Mr Wingerod, husband of the well known actress Mrs Kirby, was killed on the 16th, by being knocked from his horse while riding under a rope attatched to a derrick, in use at the above mentioned church.

Dr. John C. Fish died at San Francisco on the 24th, of November, from the effects of a pistol shot during an affray in the El Dorado, Saloon.—He was son of Dr. Fish, of New Haven, Ct. and resided for some time in Lewis County in this State.

There has been a battle between the force under the command of Gen. Morehead and the Youma Indians, near Colorado city, on the Gila in which the General, after one hour and a half hard fighting, was glad to retreat beneath the guns of the little fort, the Indians having lost ten men. The American force under Morehead was 104, their loss not stated. Subsequently they had completely vanquished the Indians, none being found within fifty miles of the old planting gaounds.

The specia train for the Crescent City was attackted by a party of sixteen men. Five mules were led into the woods and $100,000 taken from them; but it was finally all recovered except $6000. Two of the robbers were taken; one badly wounded. They were not Americans.

The recent rains have opened the upper rivers so that small steamers can now navigate. The rains also give the miners in the dry diggins a better chance to wash out the ore. Many new veins have been discovered. In fact, the gold stories seem very favorable.

The political complexion of the legislature is still doubtful both parties claiming a majority.—The opinion of the Atla California, is that it is democratic

The election in Sacramento yet to come off may change the present political aspect. The appointments to State offices give general satisfaction.

Among the passengers in the Georgia is Mr. J. Caverly Hall, of Cherry Valley, My., who comes from Nicaragua, where he has made $60.000.

Quite a general hope seems to be entertained by many persons whose want of success in attempts to drain the rivers, has been heretofore noticed, that they can recover their lost ground in the way of a fortune, by a winter's campaign in the mountains along the dry diggings.

Deaths in California.—Capt. J. T. Tilden, Belfast; J. G. Niles, Samuel E. Allen, Albert T. Balcon, and Samuel Cook, of Boston; N. Scammon, of Soca.

The coldest berth a man can find is to act as brakeman on a railroad car, when the locomotive is making thirty miles an hour against a wind sharp enough to cut your throat.

"Pa," said a little fellow the other day, "wasn't Job an editor?" "Why, Sammy?" "Because the Bible says he had much trouble, and was a man of sorrow, all the days of his life?"

Gold has been discovered in the bed of the Alaporha River, in Lowndes County, Georgia. About two hundred persons are already engaged in extricating it. The stream is low, and the metal is ound in its bed alone.

A poor widow woman who was relating to a neighbor how fond her husband was of having a good fire; how busy he would make himself on fixing it so it would burn. "Ah, poor dear man," she continued, "I hope he has gone to a place where they keep good fire."

A Warning to the Intemperate.—The terrible effects of indulgence in the use of intoxicating liquors have recently been forcibly illustrated in the awful and sudden death of Mr. Gardiner. We knew him a few years since as an intelligent and able young man, full of life and buoyant with hope. He married a beautiful girl and engaged in business, but he yielded to the intoxicating cup, and recently wandered off in state of intoxication, and his body has been found frozen in a field in Hallowell.—Bangor Whig.

An Eastern lecturer remarked that it would not be a very violent stretch of the imagination to believe "that a thoughtful Connecticut baby, six months old, sits in his mother's lap, eyeing his own cradle to see if he could not invent a better one, or at least suggest some improvement."

A Mr Shummans is preparing a box of wine of his manufacture, from grapes grown in Ohio, for the great London Exhibition. The peculiarity of the wine is that it is not fermented in the usual way, nor adulterated with sugar or brandy, but is the pure juice of the Catawaba grape, retaining the aroma and flavor of the fruit in a remarkable degree.

A swan shot near Eastern Me., measured from the tip of each wing seven feet three inches, and weighed nineteen pounds.

A ship in the Persian gulf, in the course of 20 months, had her copper encased with living coral to the thickness of two feet.

Sporting.—An interesting foot race, a match against time—is to come off at Longmeadow next week. The proposition is that five miles shall be run in thirty-one minutes, and on the day next following, ten miles in sixty-four minutes, both to be run by the same man. $500 is staked on each match The first race is fixed for the 15th, if the weather is fair, and the second on the day following the first, rain or shine.—Springfield Post.

Fatal Accident.—Michael Donovan, an Irishman in the employ of the Hartford Railroad Company, was run over and killed on Monday evening, near the depot in Springfield, by a locomotive which was backing down the track.

A New Year's Address.—The New York Sun published a decidedly original and peculiar Carrier's Address for New Year's. The new double mammoth last fast Hoe printing machine is represented on the sheet, together with the counting, editorial, composing and press rooms of the extensive establishment, over the whole of which, excellent portraits of the publishers, Messrs. Moses S. and Alfred E. Beach smile with a degree of amiability and satisfaction highly agreeable. We shall give the latter a permanent place in our gallery of portraits. The Sun is a great newspaper.

The Wild Hog of Longmeadow has at last been caught alive. He used up one or two dogs, and was taken after an uninterrupted chase of six days and nights. He has been taken to Springfield for exhibition.

Thirty years ago there were 10,000 slaves in the State of New York.

The oldest newspaper in New York is the Shipping and Commercial List." It was established in 1796.

Jenny Lind's Perilous Voyage.—The Wilmington (N. C.) Commercial contains a card signed by Jenny Lind and her company, bestowing warm praises on the captain, engineer and the crew of the steamer Gladiator, for the praiseworthy manner in which they managed the boat during their late passage, which they say was of an unprecedently temptuous nature, and lasted throughout the voyage of thirty-four hours, being seventeen hours beyond the usual period occupied in the trip generally.

POST OFFICE.

QUINCY, January 4, 1851.

Advertising List.

A

Adams, Newel Mrs.
Anderson, John F
Allen, John

B

Brown, George S.
Belzer, Wm. R
Bass, George
Blake Samuel
Buckley, Thomas—2 L
Brown, Royal P
Brackett, Isaac

C

Chandler, L. W
Corbett, Michael—2 L
Calef, Nancy Jane
Collins, John
Collins, Michael
Carroll, Nancy

D

Downing, Samuel
Donehue, Martin
Dyer, S. S
David, Austin S

E

Edwards Alexander
Essig, Leopold

F

Fraly, Michael
Fairbanks, Josiah
Fry, William

G

Greene, Richard
Greene, Wm. S

H

Heath, Alfred
Haywood, Wm
Hethurston, Nathan
Holman, James
Hickey, George
Hickey, Margaret
Harris, Cath. F. Mrs
Hodgdon, John
Hall, Geo B. F
Hill, Henrietta
Hobart, Thomas

J

Jones, William—2 L

L

Laswardin, Mrs
Lyons, John
Leavett, J. Franklin
Lyner, Patrick
Long, Thomas
Lamb, Thomas

M

McGowan, James
Marmeon, Daniel
Mede, Daniel
Musey, Thomas
Maner, Peter
Marran, Bridget
McCurdy Robert
McGibney, Johanna
Murphy, Martin

N

Newcomb, Geo. Dr.
Newcomb, Alfred

O

O'Neil, John
Owen, Robert
O'Dea, Michael

P

Page, Caleb C
Pierson, Ellen Mrs

R

Roberts, Thomas
Riordan, Owen
Ryan, Timothy

S

Sheldon, Parker C
Sleeper, Harvey W
Saunders, Lucretia
Sargent, Simeon—2 L
Sullivan, Anne
Sutherland George
Sheldon, Eliza

T

Thurlow, Samuel

W

Wendell, James
Wilson & Flint
Walker, Isaac
Williams, John
Walden, James

W. B. RUGBEE, Postmaster.

Quiney, Jan 4, 1851,

NOTICE.

Universalist Society, Festival.

Will be holden in the Town Hall, WEDNESDAY EVENING, January 29th, for the benefit of the First Universalist Society in Quincy.

Good Singing, good Speaking, and good Music will be provided and other amusements, that the friends may enjoy themselves. The evening entertainment will close with Dancing.

It is expected that the friends will provide for the the tables. All donations will be sent to the Hall on that day, and there will be a Committee to receive them.

Tickets 25 cents, to be had at the door and of the Committee.

Doors open 6 o'clock.

J. C. WEBB, Chairman.
W. R. BROWN, Secretary.

In addition to the above as some difficulty has has occurred on former occasions respcting Cloth ng we have chosen a Committee to take charge of the Clothing, who will be responsible for all hat is committed to their charge.

Wm. R. BROWN
J. G. BRACKETT
W. ABERCROMBIE } Committee on Clothing.

Quincy, January 9th, 1851.

A Social Levee.

Will be holden in the Town Hall, WEDNESDAY Evening, January 15th, for the benefit of the Methodist E. Church, in Quincy centre.

Good singing will be provided.

Rev. E. T. Taylor, of Boston—the far famed "Seamen's Preacher," and the Rev. K. Pierce, of Roxbury, have been engaged to speak upon the occasion.

Revs. A. B. Wheeler, J. B. Gould and others, are also expected to be present and give additional interest to the evening.

The Ladies will undoubtedly sustain their reputation upon the occasion.

A rich treat may be expected.

Tickets, 25 cents—To be had at the door, and of the Committee

Doors open at 6 o'clock.

THOMPSON SPEAR, Chairman of Committee
E. B. BRADFORD, Secretary.

Quincy, January 1st., 1851.

Quincy Lyceum.

GENERAL CALEB CUSHING; will deliver the Eleventh Lecture, before the Society the present season, on THURSDAY Evening next, commencing at 7 o'clock.

H. O. WHITNEY, Secretary.

The Annual meeting of the Quincy Total Abstinence Society for the choice of Officers, and transaction of such other business as may come before them will be held at the Lyceum Room next Monday Evening, January 13th. at half past seven o'clock.

JONATHAN BAXTER, Rec: See'y:

DIED.

In San Francisco, George Penniman, son of Mr. Stephen Penniman of this town. He was respected by all who knew him. There will be a discourse concerning his death, to be delivered by the Rev. Mr. Deane of this town, at his Church, next Sunday afternoon.

MRRIED

In this town, on the 25th. inst., in Christ's Church by the Rev. Dr Clark, Mr. George H. Veiazie of this place to Miss. Julia A. Harrington of Kirly Vt.,

Notice.

THE Subscriber has by mutual consent, this day, withdrawn from the Quincy Granite Association, now doing business under the firm of Wright, Barker & Co.

DON CARLOS BLAKE.

Quincy, Jan. 1, 1851. 3w

Notice.

THIS is to certify that my wife, Nancy H Austin, has left my Bed and Board, and I hereby forbid any person or persons either harboring or trusting her on my account, as I shall pay no debts of her contracting.

S. L. AUSTIN,

Quincy, Mass., Jan. 11, 1851. 3w

Bakery Business.

THE subscribers respectfully inform the public that they have commenced the baking business at the bakery formerly occupied by L. G Horton, and hope by their constant attention to the business to merit a share of the public patronage.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Jan. 11th, 1851. tf

To Let.

A GOOD HOUSE, situated about half a mile East of the Episcopal Church. Possession given immediately. Enquire of DANIEL BAXTER.

Quincy, Jan. 11th, 1851. 3w

Administratrix's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

DANIEL NOLEN,

late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Boot Treer, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to

BRIDGET NOLENS, Administratrix.

Weymouth, Jan 11, 1851. 3w*

Wanted to Hire

A MAN without a family, to take the care of the BARN and STOCK, until the first of April next Enquire of

NOAH CURTIS.

Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. 2w

Sloop for Sale.

SUITABLE FOR THE STONE BUSINESS.

FOR Sale, the SLOOP ALMIRA, now lying at Weymouth, near Graves' Mills. The said Sloop is in good order, and every way calculated for the above business—for which purpose she has been a number of years employed. Her Sails are nearly new, having been in use only a few months.

She will be sold on reasonable terms by application to

DAVID PRATT, Middle st. Weymouth, Mass.

Weymouth, Jan. 11, 1851. 4w*

Executors's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the Will of

LUDOVIC S HOLBROOK,

late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Yeoman, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to

NOAH TORREY, Executor.

Weymouth, Jan- 1, 1851. 3w*

New England Protective Union.

DIVISION.....No. 180.

AT the STORE recently occupied by Mr. Frederick Hardwick on Franklin street, may be found a good assortment of

GROCERIES, CROCKERY and GLASS WARE.

Together with a supply of

BOOT MAKERS FINDINGS.

— ALSO —

BEEF,
PORK,
SAUSAGES,
TRIPE,
LARD,
MACKEREL,
PICKELS,
POTATOES, &c.

All of which will be kept constantly on hand, and will be sold, at a small advance from cost, for cash.

The public are invited to call, and examine our goods, and become acquainted with our mode of trade

N B—The spacious Hall over the store will be let on favorable terms.

Quincy, Jan 11, 1851. tf

Israel W. Munroe.

OFFERS for sale at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO, a good assortment of

ENGLISH and WEST INDIA GOODS, CROCKERY, GLASS and HARD WARE. SHOES, HATS and CAPS, PAPER HANGINGS,

And almost every article kept in a variety store, at the lowest prices for cash or approved credit.

WHITNEY BLANKETS & BED COMFORTERS, for sale at reduced prices, by I. W. MUNROE.

REMNANT DE LAINES, from 2 to 6 yds., for sale low, at I. W. MUNROE'S.

Just received a good assortment of

GENTLEMENS', LADIES and MISSES INDIA RUBBER SHOES

of the best quality, for sale cheap, by

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, Jan. 11th, 1851. tf

Beautiful

FAMILY BIBLES, superior paper, print and binding, can be seen and bought cheap for cash, at the QUINCY BOOK STORE

The public attention is invited to this new and excellent lot of Bibles, being the best ever offered in this town, and sold on favorable terms.

Quincy, Nov. 2d. 3w

NEW FALL & WINTER

MILLINARY GOOD.

MRS. A. J. KENISON, would tender her grateful acknowledgements to her friends and customers for the liberal patronage with which they have favored her, and would respectfully solicit a continuance of the same.

Those wishing Straw Bonnets, Ribbands, Flowers, etc etc, can find a good assortment, and are invited to call and examine.

Also—A good variety of Misses and Childrens trimmings

SATIN, PLUSH AND VELVET HATS, made to order.

Bonnets altered, bleached and colored.

For bleaching or coloring, 25 cts.

For lining and trimming, 25 cts; unless extra work be added—if so, price accordingly.

Grave clothes and Mourning goods, constantly on hand.

Washington Street, a few rods east of Stone Temple

Quincy, Oct 19th. 2m

W B. Learned

HAVING taken the Store formerly occupied by E C. Redfern, and recently by D R Adams, takes this method of informing his friends and the public that he has just received and is now opening a well selected stock of

WATCHES

JEWELRY

— AND —

Fancy Goods.

Suitable for Christmas and New Year's Presents.

Persons wishing any thing in his line are invited to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

☞ Particular attention given to the REPAIRING of Watches and Jewelry.

Hancock Street, Quincy, Dec. 21, 1850. tf

Dissolution of Copartnership.

THE COPARTNERSHIP heretofore existing between the subscribers, under the firm of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO, is by mutual consent this day dissolved.

All persons having demands against said firm, are requested to present the same, and all persons indebted are respectfully requested to make payment to either partner,

JOSIAH BRIGHAM.
ISRAEL W. MUNROE.

Quincy, January, 1st, 1851.

ISRAEL W. MUNROE.

WILL continue the business at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO, and hopes by close personal application to business to receive a continuance of the patronage so long and liberally bestowed on the late firm.

Quincy, Jan. 4th. 1851. 3w.

Family Bibles.

WE continue to sell BEAUTIFUL QUARTO BIBLES, of superior quality and binding, at unprecedentedly low prices. Many have availed themselves of the opportunity offered in a former notice, to purchase a good Bible cheap We have more left, and invite all to call and examine before purchasing.

C GILL & CO.
QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Quincy, Jan. 4th., 1850. 3w.

For Sale.

THE late residence of the ALLEN, near the Episcop
Quincy. Apply to THOMAS B HAW
Exchange Street, Boston.
West Woodstock, Conn. Sept. 7th, 18

To Let.

A House at Braintree neck, for a large family Enqui
DANIEL
Quincy, Sept. 7th. tf

House For Sale

A one story and a half Hou ent for two families, bui stantial manner, with a SHE three fourths of an acre of l ted on Granite Street, and about one fo from the South Quincy Depot. Will bargain, and payments made easy. For nquire on the premises of
ALPHEU
Quincy, Nov. 16 6m

For Sale, or To L

A new and convenient Dw very pleasantly situated
Street, with a barn and abou
Land with Fruit Trees th leased or sold. Apply to SAMUEL C
Quincy, Nov 9th. tf

To Let.

ONE half of a good House
Street, the other half
Capt. Stevenson. Also a go
Barn, with three acres of l on the Braintree and Weymouth turnpi a mile south of the Episcopal Church.
DANIEL
Quincy, Sept. 28. tf

To Let.

A Convenient Dwelling pleasantly situated on C recently occupied by the W wick about three acres of gr several fruit trees; an excellent well o small Barn Apply to SAMUEL C
Quincy, Aug. 10. tf

For Sale.

ONE first rate Horse for teaming or to JOHN
Quincy, Oct. 5th. tf

Apples.

BALDWINS AND RUSSETTS, of ity, for sale by H. A
Quincy, Oct 12, 1850. tf

Onions.

50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, fo
H. A. RAN
Quincy, Oct 12th, 1850. tf

Pure Cider Vine

BY the gallon or barrel, just receiv
by H. A. RAN
Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

CASH

PAID FOR

OLD IRON, COPPER,
PEWTER, LEAD, GL
Rubbers and Ink Bottl
COBDAGE, PAPER STOC
— BY —
A B PACKARD

Strayed.

FROM the Subscriber, Dec. 5th, two
ERS, marked N on the rump eturn them, or give information so th ound, shall be suitably rewarded.
THOMAS J. NIGH
Quincy, Dec. 28, 1850. tf

Blank Books

OF all descriptions, of the best bound. Having increased facil facturing and purchasing, we are no at prices which defy all competition new Account Books for the New Ye money to call upon us
C. GILL & CO.
QUINCY BO
Quincy, Jan. 4th, 1851.

Collector's Notic

NEARLY $7.000 of the Taxes for remain unpaid; which by vote of due the Treasurer on the 1st inst. A payers who owe Taxes, will be call pay. If not paid when called upon, th my house, and pay there, previous to t
ruary next.
LEWIS BASS, Collecto
Quincy, Jan. 4th. 1851. 3w

Hingham & Qu

BRIDGE & TURNPIKE CORP

THE Proprietors of this Corporation notified that their Annual meeti at the Hancock House, in Quincy, the 6th day of January next, at 1 o'clo
the choice of officers, and the transactio busines as may then come before them.
By order of the Directors.
LEMUEL BRACKE
Quincy, Dec. 21st., 1850. 3

Bounty Land.

FOR SOLDIERS OF THE WA
and of any Indian War since 1790.
and minor children, obtained. All cla and suits, under any of the PENSION
LAWS of the United States.—also Pl other business connected with the sett tates, of deceased persons attended to b
EBEN. S
Boston, Dec. 28, 1850. 3m

Deed Missin

THE public are hereby informed that
Josiah French to Otis Wild for a
Estate, which was made several years which no consideartion was given, ha and cannot now be found. A suitable re paid for the recovery of this Instrumen information as will bring the matter to Deed is hereby cancelled and of no valu
ELISHA HOBART, Guardian to Josi
Braintree, Dec. 21st., 1850. 3

Executors's Notice.

OTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the Will of

LUDOVIC S HOLBROOK,

of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Yeo, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all ons having demands upon the Estate of the said ased, are required to exhibit the same, and all ons indebted the eto, to make payment to

NOAH TORREY, Executor.

eymouth Jan 1, 1851. 3w*

w England Protective Union.

DIVISION.....No. 180.

T the STORE recently occupied by Mr. Frederick Hardwick on Franklin street, may be d a good assortment of ROCERIES, CROCKERY and GLASS WARE.

Together with a supply of

BOOT MAKERS FINDINGS.

— ALSO —

F,
PORK,
SAUSAGES,
TRIPE,
LARD,
MACKERTL,
PICKELS,
POTATOES, &c.

of which will be kept constantly on hand, and be sold, at a small advance from cost, for cash.

The public are invited to call, and examine our ds, and become acquainted with our mode of trade N B —The spacious Hall over the store will be or favorable terms.

Quincy, Jan 11, 1851. tf

Israel W. Munroe.

FFERS for sale at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO , a good assortment of

NGLISH and WEST INDIA GOODS, CROCKRY, GLASS and HARD WARE, SHOES, HATS and CAPS, PAPER HANGINGS, d almost every article kept in a variety store, at lowest prices for cash or approved credit.

—

HITNEY BLANKETS & BED COMFORTERS, sale at reduced prices, by I. W. MUNROE.

—

REMNANMT DE LAINES, from 2 to 6 yds., for o low, at I. W. MUNROE'S.

—

Just received a good assortment of

NTLEMENS', LADIES and MISSES INDIA RUBBER SHOES

the best quality, for sale cheap, by

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, Jan. 11th, 1851. tf

Beautiful

AMILY BIBLES, superior paper, print and binding, can be seen and bought cheap for cash, at QUINCY BOOK STORE.

The public attention is invited to this new and exellent lot of BIBLES, being the best ever offered in s town, and sold on favorable terms.

Quincy, Nov. 2d. 3w

NEW FALL & WINTER

MILLINARY GOOD s.

RS A J KENISON, would tender her grateful acknowledgements to her friends and customers the liberal patronage with which they have favorher, and would respectfully solicit a continuance the same.

Those wishing STRAW BONNETS, RIBBANDS, FLOWS, etc etc , can find a good assortment, and are inted to call and examine.

Also—A good variety of Misses and Childrens immings

SATIN, PLUSH AND VELVET HATS, made order.

BONNETS altered, bleached and colored.

For bleaching or coloring, 25 cts.

For lining and trimming, 25 cts ; unless extra work added—if so, price accordingly.

Grave clothes and Mourning goods, constantly on d.

WASHINGTON STREET, a few rods east of STONE MPLE

Quincy, Oct 12th. 2m

W B. Learned

AVING taken the Store formerly occupied by E C. Redfern, and recently by D R Adams, es this method of informing his friends and the blic that he has just received and is now opening a l selected stock of

WATCHES

JEWELRY

— AND —

Fancy Goods.

ublic for Christmas and New Year's Presents.

ersons wishing any thing in his line are invited all and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

☞ Particular attention given to the REPAIRING Watches and Jewelry.

ancock Street, Quincy, Dec. 21, 1850. tf issolution of Copartnership.

HE COPARTNERSHIP heretofore existing between the subscribers, under the firm of JOSIAH GHAM & CO , is by mutual consent this day olved.

l persons having demands against said firm, are ested to present the same, and all persons indebter respectfully requested to make payment to either partner,

JOSIAH BRIGHAM.
ISRAEL W. MUNROE.

uincy, January, 1st, 1851.

ISRAEL W. MUNROE,

ILL continue the business at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO , and hopes by personal application to business to receive a ntinuance of the patronage so long and liberally owed on the late firm.

uincy, Jan. 4th. 1851. 3w.

Family Bibles.

E continue to sell BEAUTIFUL QUARTO BIBLES, of superior quality and binding, at ecedentedly low prices. Many have availed selves of the opportunity offered in a former notice to purchase a good Bible cheap We have more and invite all to call and examine before purng. C GILL & CO.

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

uincy, Jan. 4th., 1850. 3w.

For Sale.

THE late residence of the REV. WM. ALLEN, near the Episcopal Church in Quincy. Apply to THOMAS B HAWKES, No. 10 Exchange Street, Boston.

West Woodstock, Conn. Sept. 7th, 1850. 3m

To Let.

A House at Braintree neck, convenien for a large family Enquire of

DANIEL BAXTER.

Quincy, Sept. 7th. tf

House For Sale

A one story and a half House, convenient for two families, built in a substantial manner, with a SHED and about three fourths of an acre of LAND, situated on Granite Street, and about one fourth of a mile from the South Quincy Depot. Will be sold at a bargain, and payments made easy. For particulars, inquire on the premises of

ALPHEUS HUNT.

Quincy, Nov. 16 6m

For Sale, or To Let.

A new and convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated, on Common Street, with a barn and about one acre of Land with Fruit Trees thereon, to be leased or sold. Apply to

SAMUEL COPELAND.

Quincy, Nov 9th. tf

To Let.

ONE half of a good House on Liberty Street, the other half occupied by Capt. Stevenson. Also a good house and Barn, with three acres of Land, situated on the Braintree and Weymouth turnpike, about half a mile south of the Episcopal Church. Enquire of

DANIEL BAXTER.

Quincy, Sept. 28. tf

To Let.

A Convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated on Common Street, recently occupied by the Widow Driver, with about three acres of good Land, with several fruit trees; an excellent well of water, and a small Barn Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND.

Quincy, Aug. 10. tf

For Sale.

ONE first rate Horse for teaming or farming, apply to JOHN WHICHER.

Quincy, Oct. 5th. tf

Apples.

BALDWINS AND RUSSETTS, of the first qualities, for sale by H. A. RANSOM.

Quincy, Oct 12, 1850. tf

Onions.

50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Oct 12th, 1850. tf

Pure Cider Vinegar.

BY the gallon or barrel, just received, and for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

CASH

PAID FOR

OLD IRON, COPPER, BRASS,
PEWTER, LEAD, GLASS.
Rubbers and Ink Bottles, Junk,
COBDAGE, PAPER STOCK &c.

— BY —

A. B. PACKARD.

Strayed.

FROM the Subscriber, Dec. 5th, two RED HEIFERS, marked N on the rump Whoever will return them, or give information so that they may be found, shall be suitably rewarded.

THOMAS J. NIGHTINGALE.

Quincy, Dec. 28, 1850. tf

Blank Books

OF all descriptions, of the best paper and well bound. Having increased facilities for manufacturing and purchasing, we are now selling them at prices which defy all competition All who want new Account Books for the New Year, will make money to call upon us

C. GILL & CO.
QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Quincy, Jan. 4th, 1851. 3w.

Collector's Notice.

NEARLY $7,000 of the Taxes for the year 1850, remain unpaid ; which by vote of the Town, are due the Treasurer on the 1st inst All resident Tax payers who owe Taxes, will be called upon once to pay. If not paid when called upon, they must call at my house, and pay there, previous to the first of February next.

LEWIS BASS, Collector of Quincy.

Quincy, Jan. 4th. 1851. 3w

Hingham & Quincy

BRIDGE & TURNPIKE CORPORATION.

THE Proprietors of this Corporation, are hereby notified that their Annual meeting will be held at the Hancock House, in Quincy, on MONDAY, the 6th day of January next, at 1 o'clock, P M., for the choice of officers, and the transaction of such other busines as may then come before them.

By order of the Directors.

LEMUEL BRACKETT. Clerk.

Quincy, Dec. 21st,, 1850, 3w

Bounty Land.

FOR SOLDIERS OF THE WAR OF 1812—and of any Indian War since 1790, their widows and minor children, obtained All claims, business, and suits, under any of the PENSION or PATENT LAWS of the United States,—also PROBATE and other business connected with the settlement of Estates, of deceased persons attended to by

EBEN. SMITH, JR.

Boston, Dec. 28, 1850. 3m

Deed Missing.

THE public are hereby informed that a Deed from Josiah French to Otis Wild for a piece of Real Estate, which was made several years ago, but for which no consideartion was given, has been missed and cannot now be found. A suitable reward will be paid for the recovery of this Instrument, or for such information as will bring the matter to light. The Deed is hereby cancelled and of no value.

ELISHA HOBART, Guardian to Josiah French,

Braintree, Dec. 21st,, 1850. 3w

LADIES

Of Quincy and Vicinity.

F. A. JONES & CO.

No. 1

TREMONT ROW,

BOSTON,

Would solicit your attention to the Immense Stock o NEW GOODS

which they now have, and are daily receiving by every foreign arrival, suitable to the

AUTUMN TRADE OF

1850.

Every variety of

SHAWLS,

from the most expensive Cashmere to the cheapest Wool Plaid.

SILKS

of every kind and quality, in Blacks and Colors, ALWAYS AT LOW PRICES.

FRENCH THIBETS

and

GERMA MERINOS

Of all Grades.

FALL AND WINTER

DRESS GOODS,

Our usual Assortment.

VELVETS,

All Widths and Colors.

FRENCH CLOAKS AND SACKS,

New Patterns and Trimmings.

Together with the Immense Variety of all other Styles Dry Goods Adapted to the Present Season.

Our long experience in the City Retail Trade enables us to know the wants of our customers, and give us unusual facilities for supplying them During the whole of our business career, it has always been our intention to offer CHOICE GOODS at LOWER PRICES than any other house in the city. Whether we have done so, we leave the public to judge ; but we have succeeded, by always keeping this point in view, in building up the largest in the City of Boston, as the crowds of purchasers who daily throng our Establishment, show.

EXCLUSIVE RETAIL TRADE.

Our increased facilities will enable us, during the present season, to offer still greater inducements, by the simple multiplication of business to such an extent that we can afford to sell each article at a small advance from the cost of importation.

Every variety of goods, we shall, as usual, be supplied with In short, we mean to make our place of business a resort for the shrewdest and closest purchasers, as well as the most fanciful and particular, where any lady may be sure of finding all the styles of Choice and Fashionable Goods, always at the very lowest market prices.

Thankful for past favors, we solicit a continuence of that patronage which now enables us to refer you to past experience to prove that at no other place can you receive more fully the value of your money, than at our house, and we feel warranted in asserting that at no time have we been able to offer so many bargains at the present season.

TREMONT ROW.

Silk and Shawl Store.

F. A. JONES & CO.,

NO. ONE TREMONT ROW,

Nearly opposite head of Hanover Street,

BOSTON.

Boston, Sept. 7. 6mos

N. B.

Geo. Savil & Co.,

Dealers in

READY-MADE CLOTHING

OF

EVERY DESCRIPTION,

AT

ROUGH & READY HALL,

WASHINGTON STREET,

Quincy.

—O—

A LARGE ASSORTMENT

Constantly on Hand ! !

AND FOR

SALE

At the Very Lowest Prices ! ! !

Also,

A GOOD SELECTION

OF

GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.

Quincy, Sept. 28. tf

NEW ENGLAND PROTECTIVE

Union, Division No. 179.

JUST opened on Washington Street, a few doors below the Stone Temple, in the Store recently occupied by J. Williams.

The Company respectfully solicit the attention of the public to their mode of Trade, and examine for themselves the quality of their Goods, and their Prices, which will be always exhibited upon a bulletin board.

Their Stock of Goods consists of all kinds of Groceries, Country Produce, FLOUR, CROCKERY WARE, &c.

All of Superior quality, and sold at the lowest possible advance from cost.

No Damaged, Mixed, or inferior goods will be offered for sale.

Quincy, Oct. 5. tf

A CARD !

J. A. Holden,

Has just received the Fashions for the

FALL AND WINTNR

OF

1850.

He has also received Fashionable Goods of the present and approaching season, among which, are

FRENCH. GERMAN AND AMERICAN

Broadcloths ! ! !

of various colors and qualities.

A great variety of

PANT GOODS,

together with good styles of

VESTINGS, &C.

He is, therefore, more prepared to make Garments for his customers, which cannot fail to please them.

Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

FALL AND WINTER

Just Received at the

QUINY HALL CLOTHING DEPOT,

ON THE

Braintree and Weymouth Turnpike.

JOHN DINEGEN

WOULD respectfully intimate to his friends and the public, that he has just received a very choice and select Stock of

Fall and Winter Goods ! ! !

Consisting in part of BLACK, BLUE, BROWN, OLIVE, DAHLIA, GREEN, and other Fancy colored Cloths, of

ENGLISH, FRENCH AND GERMAN

Manufacture.

Also—a good assortment of Plain and Fancy

Doe-Skins

for Pants.

VESTINGS

of the very latest designs. SILK VELVET, PLAIN and Figured SILKS and SATINS, VALENCIAS &c.

Gents wishing to obtain a Fashionable and tasty Garment of any description, are respectfully invited to call and see for themselves.

Garments made to order at very short notice, and by

THE BEST OF WORKMEN.

READY MADE CLOTHING of every description, and at prices to suit all parties.

ONLY ONE PRICE ASKED.

Quincy, August 31. tf

Jewett & Prescott's

SILK AND SHAWL STORE,

No. 2 Milk Street, Boston.

IMPROVED AND RE-STOCKED

For the Autumn Trade of 1850.

TO KEEP PACE WITH THE TIMES, we have just made Suitable Improvements in our well known Establishment, and have secured an assortment of

NEW SHAWLS,

SILKS, AND CLOAK GOODS,

that will distance all competition, without exception. We accordingly ask the attention of

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL PURCHASERS

to our variety of Black and colored Dress Silks, Satins, and Satins de Chene ; Shawls of all kinds, including the celebrated Bay State Shawls ; Paris Cloaks and Sacks, latest patterns ; Thibet Cloths and Merinos ; Silk and Woolen Fabrics for cloaks and dresses ; Marceline Silks, and other Goods for trimming cloaks ; Cashmere Scarfs ; Watered Silks and wide Velvets ; Crape Shawls ; Bombazines ; Alepines ; and a large variety of similar goods.

To those who answer our call, we guarantee that the styles, qualities and prices shall meet their most sanguine expectations.

JEWETT & PRESCOTT,

No. 2, Milk Street.

Boston, August 31. 3mos

Flour Barrels.

200 FLOUR BARRELS, for sale cheap by J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, Sept. 7th. tf

Cider Vinegar.

FIRST rate article of good, Cider Vinegar. Just received and for sale by

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, August 17. tf

Singing School.

THE members of the Singing School, recently commenced by Mr. T. Reed, and all others interested, are requested to meet in the Vestry of the Orthodox Church, on TUESDAY EVENING next, (the 17th inst.) to take measures to reorganize the School under the charge of Mr. Hansford, of West Cambrige.

Quincy Dec 14th. 3w*

Notice.

THE Annual Meeting of the Members of the WEYMOUTH AND BRAINTREE INSTITUTION for SAVINGS, will be holden on MONDAY, Jan 13, 1851, at the office of the Institution, for the choice of Officers for the year ensuing, and to transact any other business that may come before them.

A. S. WHITE, Treasurer.

Weymouth, Dec 30, 1850, 3w

W. Porter.

DEALER IN

Pine, Spruce and Hemlock

LUMBER,

CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,

LATHS, PICKETS,

CEDAR POSTS, &c.,

At his new Wharf near Brackett's.

Quincy, July 31 tf

DRY GOODS' NOTICE.

THE undersigned most respectfully inform the public that they keep constantly on hand a large Stock of

DRY GOODS,

well adapted to the wants of the community.

At all times can be found a good assortment of

Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinets and Doe-Skins, Prints, De Laines, Cashmeres, Alpaccas,

and a great variety of

DRESS GOODS AND SHAWLS,

Sheetings, Shirtings, Flannels, and Blankets,

With a good Assortment of such artices as are usually found in a well selected

Stock of Dry Goods.

Feeling confident that our prices will insure a ready sale, our GOODS will be freely shown to all wishing to examine them.

GEORGE SAVIL & CO.,

Washington Street, Quincy.

A few rods east of the Stone Meeting House.

Quincy, October 5. tf

Let the Public Call.

THE subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, stock of the best material only used, and the workmanship will vie with any other establishment

By attention to business and promptness to orde ur liberal share of support is solicited.

Quincy April 13th.

NEW STORE! NEW GOODS!

AT THE OLD STAND,

Formerly occupied by Messrs. H, Pettes & Co. (who have removed to their new Granite Warehouse, Summer St

No. 224 WASHINGTON,

Corner of Summer Street, Boston.

GEO. W. PETTES

Has taken this well known stand, and will always be ready to show his customers the choicest, and in every respect the most desirable stock of

DRY GOODS,

WHICH CAN BE EXPOSED FOR SALE.

The prices for all articles shown will be very low. No customer shall be able to better the purchase made at this store.

☞ Please call and examine the elegant Stock of

SHAWLS of all kinds,
SILKS " "
DE LAINES "
PRINTS "
HOUSE-KEEPING GOODS, of all kinds,
GLOVES AND HOSIERY "
TRIMMINGS "

And all sorts and kinds and qualities of Dry Goods, suited to the wants of families and always at LOW PRICES.

Whenever you visit Boston, visit this new and very convenient Store, and make your purchases too, if you would consult your own interest.

No. 224 Washington, corner of SUMMER ST., BOSTON.

GEO. W. PETTES.

Boston, Oct. 19th, 1850. 3mis

Letter Paper.

FOOLSCAP, Note & Bill Paper, Envelopes, Steel Pens and Holders, Black and Blue Ink, all of the best quality, now selling at the lowest prices for Cash, at the QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Quincy, Nov. 2d. 3w

For Sale.

SEVEN PRIME COWS, and from 10 to 15 Tons fine ENGLISHHAY, by

Nov. 2 CHARLES P. TIRRELL. tf

1851.

THOMAS' Old Farmers' Almanac, for 1851, for sale wholesale and retail, at the QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Quincy Nov. 2d. 1850. 3w

Ladies' Cashmere and Kid Gloves.

A good assortment for sale low by JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5. tf

New Fall and Winter Goods.

IN great Fariety, for sale at the very lowest prices by JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5. tf

Pies, Puddings, Custards, &c.

MRS E HAYDEN has on hand, a variety of articles for flavoring, viz:—

Peach water ; Rose water ; etc., etc. Essence of Rose, Cinnamon, Lemon, etc.

Also—Sweet Marjoram, Sage, Summer Savory, Thyme, &c.

Quincy, Nov. 16. tf

Dr. C. S. Mann,

MEMBER OF THE MASS. MEDICAL SOCIETY,

HOUSE AND OFFICE ON SEA STREET,

Next door to Josiah Brigham, Esq.

Nov. 2. 6w

Potatoes.

150 BUSHELS good Potatoes for sale at 50 cts per bushel by D. BAXTER Co.

Quincy, March 9th. tf

Dyer's Washing Fluid.

A first rate article for washing clothes. For sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

Notice.

THE Subscribers return their thanks to their friends and the public generally who have favored them with their custom, and would say to those who are purchasing goods, that we intend keeping a good assortment of English, West India goods and Groceries of all kinds.

Also, Beef, Pork, Bacon, Lard, Mackerel, and Vegetables, which will be sold as low as can be bought elsewhere for cash or credit.

Also, Flour by the barrel or bag, as low as can be bought for cash.

N. B. Goods delivered as usual

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5th. tf

Old Colony Railroad.

Depot Corner of South and Kneeland Streets

FALL Arrangement, commencing September 10, 1850 Trains leave Boston daily, except Sundays—

For Plymouth, 8 1-2 A M ; 4 1-2 P. M.

For Bridgewater, 8 1-2 A. M ; 4 1-2 P. M.

For Quincy and Braintree, 7 3-4, 8 1-2 A. M ; 1 3-4, 3 4, 4 1-2, 9 1-4 P M.

For Hingham and Cohasset, 8 1-2 A. M ; 3, 6 P M

For Milton, U. M., 9 3-4 A. M ; 1, 2 3-4, 5 1-2, P. M.

Plymouth for Boston, 7 1-4 A. M ; 3 1-4 P. M.

Bridgewater for Boston and Plymouth, 7 1-2 A. M ; 3 1-2 P. M.

Cohasset for Boston, 6 3-4, 8, A. M ; 4 P M.

Milton U. M. for Boston, 8, 10 1-2 A. M ; 1 3-4, 4 3-4, P. M.

Braintree for Boston, 7.18, 8 1-2, 3 40, 11.04, A. M. 2 48, 4 1-2, 5 13, P. M.

☞ The 5 P. M. Train from Boston for Plymouth, will not stop short of South Braintree.

JOS. H. MOORE, Sup't.

Boston, July 25. tf

Trains leave Quincy for Boston as follows :—

7 24, 8 38, 8 47, 11 10, A. M.; 2 54, 4 39 5 10 P. M.

Cholera, Dysentery, &c.

MRS. E. HAYDEN offers for sale various articles for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, &c.

Among which are Whiteman's Vegetable Syrup ; Java Balsam, (a celebrated East Indian remedy !) Billings's Summer Cordial ; Arnold's Balsam ; Holden's Dysentery Cordial ; Jayne's Carminative Balsam ; Anti-Cholera Drops : Whitwell's Sulphur and Charcoal Pills. And a variety of other articles, for the same diseases

Quincy, July 20. tf

Judd's Medicated Liquid Cuticle

FOR closing wounds without sewing ; forming a smooth coating over them, impervious to air and water, much superior in its healing properties to any other plaster, and so elastic as not to impede the motion of a joint ; an excellent remedy also, for Burns, Scalds, or any fresh wounds. Price—25 cents per bottle.

Sold by Mrs E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, August 31. tf

Estate of Simeon Williams

NOTICE is hereby given that the Subscribers have been appointed by the Judge of Probate for the County of Norfolk, Commissioners to receive and examine the claims of the several creditors to the Estate of SIMEON WILLIAMS, late of Braintree in said County, Bootmaker, deceased Insolvent, and six months from the 19th of October, A D 1850, is allowed unto the said creditors for bringing in their claims and proving their debts, and we shall attend to the duty of receiving and examining the same the house of David N Hollis on Washington street in said Braintree, on the third Wednesdays of February, March and April next, from two two four o'clock P. M.

JONATHAN FRENCH,
DAVID N. HOLLIS.

Braintree, Nov. 12th, 1850. n166w

Thirty dollars Reward.

THE above reward will be paid for information that will lead to the detection and conviction of the person or persons who entered the Evangelical Congregational Meeting House, in Quincy, on the morning of the 4th inst., and mischievously or maliciously damaged said House

N B. In consequence of repeated depredations in said House, it will in future be kept locked. In case of fire the key may be found at E. S. Fellows.

CHARLES HARDWICK,
CHARLES SPEAR,
HEZEKIAH PRINCE, } Parish Committee

Quincy, July 13th. tf

BACKGAMMON BOARDS.

VARIOUS Sizes ! good finish ; selling low at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE

Quincy, Dec. 14, 1850 3w

GHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR.

COMBS,

FANCY ARTICLES,

PERFUMERY

AND.....HAIR WORK,

141 Washington Street, Boston.

SELLING OUT.

ON account of forming a new connection in business on the 1st. of January next, the Subscriber will sell his present Stock of

COMBS, PERFUMERY, FANCY ARTICLES & HAIR WORK at the lowest possible cash prices. An opportunity is therefore afforded to those who design making CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR'S PRESENTS, to make a choice selection from a most extensive assortment at greatly reduced prices.

E. E. DYER, 141 Washington Street.

(Nearly opposite the Old South.)

Boston, Dec 21, 1850

☞ His assortment of Combs is believed to be equal in quantity, quality and variety to any other establishment.

☞ Needles of the best quality, manufactured expressly for the Subscriber, will be sold at four cents the paper.

Boston Dec. 21st, 1850. 2w

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, S. S. PROBATE OFFICE,

December, 20th A. D. 1850.

JOHN BEATH, the Administrator of the Estate of JAMES T. LORING, late of Braintree, in said County, victualler, deceased, having presented his account in his capacity for allowance,

Ordered, that said JOHN BEATH notify all persons interested therein, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same at a Court of Probate to be holden at Quincy, in said County, on the second TUESDAY of February, A D., 1851, by publishing this order three weeks successively in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot printed at Quincy.

S LELAND, Judge of Probate.

Quincy, Dec. 28, 1850.

Flannels.

WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels Twilled and plain, an assortment just received and for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washington Street Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21

POETRY.

THE DEVOTED.

[It was a beautiful turn given by a lady, who on being asked where her husband was, when he lay concealed for having been deeply concerned in a conspiracy, resolutely answered that she had HIDDEN HIM. This confession caused her to be carried before the governor, who told her that nought but confessing where she had hid him could save her from the torture. "And will that?" said she. "Yes," replied the governor, "I will pass my word for your safety on that condition."

"Then," replied she, "I have hidden him in my heart, where you may find him."]

STERN faces were around her bent,
And eyes of vengeful ire,
And fearful were the words they spoke,
Of torture, stake and fire;
Yet calmly in the midst she stood,
With eye undimm'd and clear,
And though her lips and cheek were white,
She wore no signs of fear.

"Where is thy traitor spouse?" they said;
A half forced smile of scorn,
That curl'd upon her haughty lip,
Was back for answer borne;
"Where is thy traitor spouse?" again,
In fiercer tones, they said,
And sternly pointed to the rack,
All rusted over with red.

Her heart and pulse beat firm and free,
But in a crimson flood,
O'er pallid lips, and cheek, and brow,
Rushed up the burning blood;
She spoke, but proudly rose her tone,
As when in hall or bower,
The haughtiest chief that round her stood,
Had meekly own'd her power.

"My noble lord is placed within A safe and sure retreat!"
"Now tell us where, thou lady bright,
As thou would'st meet mercy meet,
Nor deem thy life can purchase his,
He cannot 'scape our wrath,
For many a warrior's watchful eye
Is placed o'er every path.

But thou may'st win his broad estates,
To grace thy infant heir,
And life and honor to thyself,
So thou his haunts declare."
She laid her hand upon her heart;
Her eye flashed proud and clear,
And firmer grew her haughty tread—
"My lord is hidden HERE!"

And if you seek to view his form,
You first must tear away,
From round his scarlet dwelling place,
These walls of living clay?"
They quailed beneath her haughty glance,
They silent turned aside
And left her all unharmed amidst
Her loveliness and pride!

A STORY FOR WINTER

BY CALDER CAMPBELL.

The wintry blast blows bitter cold
And rattles at the window pane;
The night grows late; heap high the grate,
We must not let the red fire wane;
The room is warm; we'll take no harm!
Here's wine, here's brandy! "Who's afraid?"
A voice came wailing up—it said
"I die for bread!"

They heeded not: the howl was strong;
Rich viands deck'd the supper board,
And witty words and jokes were heard,
And ribald ballads were encored.
'Tis sad to see how mirth can be
A thing of sinful madness made!
And fainter grew that cry, which said—
"I die for bread!"

Wilder and wilder waxed the din,
No sound now wander'd from below!
All storm without, all glee within,
The very "streets were dumb with snow;"
The lights are out, and all about
Lie guests and glasses; one alone,
With reeling foot and stammering tone,
Away hath gone!

And down the stairs; with many an oath
At every step; and lo! the door
(With mimic care unbarr'd) he opes,
Then on the threshold stumbles o'er
A stiffning mass of death! Alas!
"What is here?" the drunkard said,
And by the gas lights o'er them shed,
Behold the dead.

A women's face—a well known face—
A little babe within her arms;
Both stiff and stark in the cold dark,
Now lying in their murderer's arms!
The sudden chill—the drink—the thrill
Of mad remorse work on his brain;
He ne'er shall see that world again,
So loved in vain!

The morning saw a wondrous sight
Upon the snow clad threshold there!—
A peer in raiment rich bedight,
In rags a beggar, worn and bare;
Upon her breast a corpse-child pressed.
And all three huddled where lay spread
The snow! Hark, friends, yon voice! it said,
"Oh! give us bread!"

ANECDOTES.

A CONSIDERATE HUSBAND.—We once heard of a man who was reduced to such extreme poverty, that in a fit of desperation, he advertised in some London paper that he would hang himself on a certain day, at some well known place, for the benefit of his wife and children.—Admittance one shilling.

An exchange paper very gravely remarks.—that a boy has been arrested in Boston for selling to a stranger a ticket of admission to the Common to see the moon rise!

Watches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at the Store of GEORGE B FOSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum,) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortment of

Gold and Silver

WATCHES,

Silver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Rich

HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

His attention will be given personally, at all times to the REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF WATCHES, which his long experience in that department with Mr JEFFREY R BRACKETT, entitles him to the confidence of his friends and customers.

☞His friends and acquaintance when in Boston are invited to call.

THOMAS S. JOHNSON.

Boston, Feb. 23. 1sif

GREATLY

REDUCED PRICES

GEORGE W. WARREN & CO,

ANNOUNCE TO THEIR FRIENDS, AND THE PUBLIC GENERALLY, THAT THEY FEEL COMPELLED EITHER TO ABANDON THE "ONE PRICE SYSTEM," OR TO SUBMIT TO A GREAT SACRIFICE.

OF THEIR STOCK.

HAVING

Pledged themselves to the Public,

that their "One Price" should be as LOW or LOWER than the same goods could be bought under any circumstances, they now CHEERFULLY SUBMIT to a

HEAVY LOSS!

RATHER THAN YIELD THEIR SYSTEM TO THE PRESSURE OF THE HOUR.

THIS EVENING

WE SHALL CLOSE AT SIX,

—AND—

MARK DOWN

OUR STOCK

TO PRICES THAT WILL CONVINCE ALL

THAT WE WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD.

GEO. W. WARREN & CO.

FOR PARTICULARS SEE CIRCULARS.

Nov. 2. 6w

Crockery and Glass Ware.

JUST added to our previous assortment, new and choice patterns of

Tea and Dining Setts, Washbowls, and Ewers.

H A RANSOM & Co.

Quincy Sept. 1. tf

Brown's

ALMANAC, Pocket Memorandum and Account Book, for 1851. for sale at the

QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Quincy, Nov, 25, 1851.

Board in Quincy.

A Gentleman and his wife, or two single gentlemen, can have pleasant rooms and board, at the house of Misses J B & M TOWNSEND, on President's Hill, nearly opposite the depot.

Quincy, Nov. 16. 3m

BROTHER JONATHAN.

PICTORIAL; for the Christmas Holiday and New Year

For sale at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE

Quincy, Dec 14, 1850 3w

For Sale.

20 GOOD PIGS: weigh from forty to eighty pounds

Enquire of DANIEL BAXTER

Quincy, Dec 14, 1850 2w

Hats and Caps.

2 CASES, Fall stylo, just received, and for sale cheap for cash, by

A. B. PACKARD.

Quincy, Dec 6. 6w

Apples and Potatoes.

50 Bbls RUSSET and GREENING APPLES 200 bushels POTATOES of various kinds.

For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, Dec. 7. 1850

HAT AND CAP STORE.

A. B PACKARD has remodled his Store, making the sales room twice as large as formerly, where he intends keeping a large stock of

HATS AND CAPS,

suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle-aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.

Also,

A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring styles.

Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Ginghams, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c.

With that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers' use

Quincy. April 13. tf

French Calf Boots.

MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a FIRST RATE FIT WARRANTED, by W. S. UNDERWOOD,

Hancock St, Quincy,

Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.

Quincy, May 5. tf

SKATES.

40 Pairs of extra SKATES

For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, Dec 7, 1850

Beef and Pork.

A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere.

Also—Fresh BEEF and PORK, constantly on hand, and delivered to any part of the town free expense.

H. A. RANSOM & CO.

m16 tf

P. LOW'S HOTU NION AIR.

Cooking Stove and Fuel Saver

THIS is a most beautiful and extraordinary Cooking Stove. The even and regular application of the heat to the Oven, gives this Stove all the advantages of a brick Oven—while at the same time the boiler holes are so constructed that the heat is immediately applied to the boilers from the fire pit, which makes this stove the most complete and finished Air Tight Cook Stove in America.

AS A COAL COOKING STOVE,

it is just suited for the use of families in cities and villages, and will perform the cooking of a family of from 2 to 8, 10 or 20 persons with certainty and despatch. The fire-chamber is constructed of a size, form and depth, to burn coal with the greatest freedom and economy. WOOD may be used with equal advantage by simply dispensing with the brick lining of the fire-chamber.

A SUMMER APPARATUS

is attached to the front, affording, of itself, ample convenience for light summer work, without the unpleasing effects and expense of heating up the main body of the stove; it may also be used at the same time that the rest of the stove is occupied, greatly adding to its value, and rendering it altogether the most efficient Cooking Stove for the class of families for whom it is expressly designed, ever yet invented.

Any person who will give this stove a fair trial will be convinced of its superiority for ECONOMY, CONVENIENCE and DURABILITY, over any other Air-Tight Cooking Stove.

☞Its price brings it within the means of all families who want a good stove.

A pamphlet containing a description and directions for fitting up and using this Stove is furnished, gratis to every purchaser.

These Stoves of the different sizes may be examined at the

Tin and Sheet Iron Manufactory

of the Agent in this town.

E. S. FELLOWS, Agent for the above Stove, has also for sale at his Store, the REGULATOR, ECONOMIST'S, and various other patterns of Cook Stove, as well as PARLOR, OFFICE, and CYLINDER.

—ALSO—

SHEET IRON, TIN AND COPPER WORK done to order,

Of the best Materials, and in a workmanlike manner.

Quincy, Sept. 1. tf

ALL READY!

AND NOW OPNING,

NEW STYLE FOR FALL AND WINTER TRADE,

JUST RECEIVED AT THE

Town Hall Cloth and Clothing Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD Respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made large additions to their present expensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would particularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect THEIR STOCK before buying elsewhere, feeling confident we can sell BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.

N. B—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN, ENGLISH and FRENCH and AMERICAN GOODS. Some of the RICHEST VEST PATTERNS, and a HOST OF PANTALOONERY!

BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVERY DESCRIPTION ON HAND.

Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.

HATS, CAPS, &C.

P S—RUSSELL & CO., having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for public and private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of every article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.

——NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.——

Quincy, March 23. tf

Mrs. . Hayden

GRATEFUL for the patronage she has received for more than twenty years, offers to her friends and the public an ENLARGED STOCK of the best

FAMILY MEDICINES,

Selected and Prepared with care

—ALSO—

Various articles for the use of the sick, among which are, SPOUT DRINKING CUPS; Leech Glasses; Nursing Tubes, of Porcelain, ivory and silver, with and without bottles; India Rubber Breast Pumps, glass Pipes and Shells; Pratt's Patent Nursing Shields; India Rubber and Box-Wood do; Bed Pans; Metal and Glass Syringes; Crain's, Ingall's and Chapin's Supporters; Horse Hair Mittens; English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow; Spread Plasters, on kid, cloth and paper; Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes; Dtistering Paper and Tissue Dressing; European Leeches, &c, &c.

Physicians' Prescriptions,

Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH.

She has also on hand and is constantly receiving be New and Popular Medicines of the day.

Washington St., rear of Stone Temple.

Quincy, Oct. 20. tf

Salt Pork and Beef.

A FIRST rate article of PORK and BEEF, packed by the subscribers and for sale by the barrel or in smaller quantities to suit purchasers, cheap for CASH

J & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy. March 16th. tf

CROCKERY WARE

A Splendid Assortment of CROCKERY WARE just received and for sale at the Union Store, on Washington Street, Quincy

Blue Stone Chine Tea Setts	-	1.75
Mulbury " "	" - -	1.75
Light Blue "	" " - -	1.37
White "	" " - -	1.37

— AND —

A Good Assortment of GLASS & BRITANIA OIL & FLUID LAMPS

Quincy, Dec 7 1850 tf

BAY STATE

Long and Square Shawls,

OF the best styles, for sale at the lowest prices Ladies are invited to examine them before purchasing.

JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5. tf

QUINCY HALL

Clothing Depot.

On the Weymouth and Braintree Turnpike.

Special Notice.

JOHN DINEGAN.

Has just received a supply of NEW GOODS from some of the most celebrated Manufacturers in Europe. Consisting in part of HEAVY WEST OF ENGLAND

PILOT & BEAVER

CLOTHS, suitable for OVERCOATS or SACKS, and comes very cheap.

Do very heavy DRAB for travelling or Riding Surtouts. Also, Several splendid pieces

French and German Broadcloths!

of the most fashionable colors, worn and suitable for tasty Promenade or Business Coats.

VESTINGS.

SILK VELVET, PLAIN & FIGURED, some of the richest Paterns ever introduced in this market.

ALSO, SATINS of every design and pattern, Valencias, and other styles.

PANTALOON GOODS.

A first rate assortment, always on hand from the lowest price to the most costly.

READY MADE CLOTHING

of a superior quality, to suit all in want.

Our present stock of Goods is the richest and best selected, that is has ever been our pleasure to present to our friends and customers, and as the price has been fixed to each article, which we feel must be satisfactory to the buyer, ONE PRICE ONLY.

Hosiery.

Just received, a good assortment of FLANNEL SHIRTS AND DRAWERS.

GLOVES, SUSPENDERS, &c.

A complete assortment of MEN and BOYS CLOTH CAPS.

Quincy, Nov. 9th. tf

Particular Notice

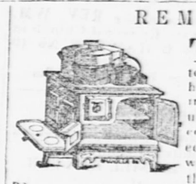
THE Subscribers respectfully inform their customers and the public, that on and after the First of OCTOBER next, all goods will be sold at reduced prices for cash only.

All those who wish to buy cheap, are invited to call, as the prices cannot fail to suit them.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy. Sept. 7th. tf

REMOVAL.



THE subscriber takes this method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr Samuel Copeland, it being more commodious and better adapted to his business; and also, would tender his sincere thanks for the liberal share of Patronage which he has received during the past year. His former customers and the public generally are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves among which is the embodying, in the highest degree of perfection, every essential quality requisite for any latitude. This Stove presents itself externally in a plain dress, with just and admirable proportions, giving it the appearance of a chaste and tastefully made piece of Cabinet Furniture. Internally, the location and capacity of the Fire Chamber is such as to remove effectually the objections often made to Air-Tight Cook-Stoves for country use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely what its projectors intended it should be, viz: the largest and most perfect ever constructed in a family Stove. The Flues, upon which the great responsibility and reputation of a stove depends, differ from any ever before used, and are of such construction and capacity as to ensure the most perfect draught, without liability to fill up, and are easily kept clean. Nearly one hundred of this stove have been sold the past year and all have given the utmost satisfaction.

New England Air-Tight,

Also—A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYLANDER STOVES, together with a good assortment of TIN, BRITANIA, SHEET IRON and

Japaned Ware.

CHARLES HOLMES.

Quincy, Jan12. tf

QUINCY WASHING MIXUTRE

THIS article has been tested by upwards of fifty families during the past week, and all have called it equal to anything of the kind which they have used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and sell it at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart, full directions accompanying it.

By this improvement, it is expected the dry goods market will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this will wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so often will new be bought.

ELISHA PACKARD.

tf

Wood, Wood.

FOR sale, a constant supply of Hard and Soft, on Granite wharf, Quincy Point,

by WHITON & ADAMS.

Quincy, August 17. tf

Periodica Agency.

C. GILL & Co are Agents for all the Quarterly, Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free from any expense for Postage or transportation. All who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time for which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices. tf Quincy, Dec. 22.

Prepartion for the Hair.

THE celebrated "Der Schon Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Gloss; Camm's Spanish Lustral, or medicated hair preservative; Tompkins' Chinon gustrale; Batchelor's instantaneous hair dye; Jules Haules vegetable hair dye. For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

Cider Vinegar.

JUST received, and for sale by the subscribers twenty barrels extra Cider vinegar.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850. tf

Wool Frocking.

200 TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.

ALSO—FROCKS ready made.

Quincy, Sept. 29. DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

tf

New Goods.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.,

HAVE recently made large additions to their Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows:

Mouslin DeLaine, a good assortment, very low;

Prints and Ginghams in great variety;

Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters

Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors

Wool Yarn, of all colors;

A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and 12 1-2 cts. per yard;

Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other Goods, all of which will be sold at the

VERY LOWEST PRICES.

Quincy, Augut 31 s tf

Salt Pork.

A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and deliverep at any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quncly March 9th, tf

Velvet Trimmings.

JUST Received, an assortment of Velvet Trimmings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by

GEO. SAVIL & Co., Washington St.

Quincy, Sept 21. tf

Paper Hangings.

3 TO 400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 24th tf

Bay State Long Shawls.

AN Assortment just received of the different sizes Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the lowest prices, by GEO. SAVIL and Co., Washington Street, Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

PORK & BEEF.

SALT-PETRED BEEF and Bacon, of the first quality, will be kept constantly on hand during the season, and sold as cheap as can be bought at

Any Store in Town for Cash.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quincy, March 24. tf

For Cash Only.

Wood. Wood. Wood.

FOR sale one Frieght of good Eastern Wood, just landed, on Granite wharf, Quincy Point.

Apply to

WHITON & ADAMS.

Quincy, April 20th. tf

PUBLISHED

NUMBER 3.

JOHN A GRE

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance LARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid till th months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed t ration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement wil previous to the payment of all arrear the option of the proprietor. When sub their papers discontinued, they will give effect at the time their subscription ex subscriber will be held responsible for of his paper so long as it is sent to his Post Office, Tavern, or any other plac he may have ordered it, until legally contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspic ed at the customary prices. The numbe required must be marked on the advertis wise they will be continued until or charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers their own immediate business; and all a for the benefit of other persons, as wel advertisements, and advertisements of sent in by them, must be paid for at the Business letters and communications ad Editor, postage paid, will receive early

☞Single copies of the paper, FIVE C

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT

The following gentlemen are authoriz pay and requested to procure subscriptio

JOSIAH BABCOCK,	Quincy
GEORGE H. LOCKE,	" Stor
ORIN P BACON,	Dorchest
FISHER A KINGSBURY,	Weymouth
JOSEPH CLEVERLY,	Abington
SAMUEL A. TURNER,	South Sc
N. B. OSBORNE,	Salem
FREEMAN HUNT,	New Yor

MISCLLANY.

A THRILLING STORY

INCIDENT IN RUSSIA.

On the 22d of May, 1831, a batt militia colony established at Nove drawn up on the parade ground ad extensive barracks, constructed in t cient and solitary portion of the ci church of St. Sophia.

In front of the ranks stood Gener a tall man of fifty, remarkable fo carriage, meagerness, sallow com large grey eyes. He was known the army for his bravery, of which many brilliant proofs in the ca Turkey and Persia; it was that d cilities had soured his temper, or t had become hardened by the frequ tion of a discipline, degrading in and often horrible in its effects. Ge come a terror to the soldiers, and day passed in which his comma signalized by acts of such severity served to be called ferocious.

It was known that this man cheri found attachment for a young girl, of an old companion in arms, kille He adopted the orphan child, brou with care, and never allowed her t ted from him. And she, though gr kindness of her father, by adoptio the less governed by an irresistabl constraint when in his presence, t his stern brevity of speech, imper and cold severity of his aspect. She among the troops by the expressi Solowiovo, (nightingale,) given to h nition of the grace with which sh wild pathetic ballads of the Sclavo

Solowiovo, to please the General the reviews. One day she was window of the General's quarters, i the ground floor, whence her eye r the extended ranks—and a bright spread her features as her glance moment on the handsome features surgeon-major. Ivan Polovoi, w form was set off to rare advantage ple uniform of his military grade.

General L passed and repassed front line of the battalion without word, but with a frowning brow an expression of his features, for he pe some of the men were absent. Si heard the slow and muffled beat of from the extremity of the plain w vancing a band of soldiers, each his hands one of these long rods still used in the Russian service as a hateful punishment. At this sig eral turned in amazements to his a a voice of thunder demanded who the order, and who was to be the v

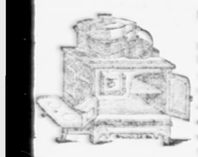
A seargent conspicuous by his livid countenance, darted before t snatched from him his sword, stru the face, and answered coldly, 'Y

At these words an electric shoc pass along the ranks, and a gleam ed up the habitually passionless fe men. By a spontaneous movemen advanced from the line to the res commander, but in a moment they thrown to the ground, and menac a half score of bayonets.

Ivan was alone exempted, for h had won for him the affection of t A granadier who stood near him whispered in his ear, 'Whether the nightingale mains silent do not move. A wo step, and your dead."

Recovering from his stupor Gen with each hand one of the bayon at his breast, turned them aside wi ful effort, and cried out, with a ferc

REMOVAL.



THE subscriber takes the method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr. Samuel Copeland, it being more commodious and better adapted to his business; and also, would tender his sincere thanks for the liberal share of patronage which he has received during the past year from former customers and the public generally, are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves among which is the unit-dying, in the highest degree of perfection, everyo essential quality requisite for any latitude. This Stove presents itself externally in a plain dress, with just and admirable proportions, giving it the appearance of a chaste and tastefully made piece of Cabinet Furniture. Internally, the location and capacity of the Fire Chamber is such as to remove effectually the objections often made to Air-Tight Cook-Stoves for country use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely what its projectors intended it should be, viz: the largest and most perfect ever constructed in a family Stove. The Flues, upon which the great responsibility and reputation of a stove depends, differ from any ever before used, and are of such construction and capacity as to ensure the most perfect draught, without liability to fill up, and are easily kept clean. Nearly one hundred of this stove have been sold the past year and all have given the utmost satisfaction.

New England Air-Tight,

Also—A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYLINDER STOVES, together with a good assortment of TIN, BRITANIA, SHEET IRON and

Japaned Ware.

CHARLES HOLMES.

Quincy, Jan12. tf

QUINCY WASHING MIXUTRE

THIS article has been tested by upwards of fifty families during the past week, and all have called it equal to anything of the kind which they have used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and sell it at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart, till directions accompanying it.

By this improvement, it is expected the dry goods market will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this will wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so often will new be bought.

ELISHA PACKARD.

tf

Wood, Wood.

FOR sale, a constant supply of Hard and Soft, no Granite wharf, Quincy Point,

by WHITON & ADAMS.

Quincy, August 17. tf

Periodica Agency.

C. GILL & Co are Agents for all the Quarterly, Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free from any expense for Postage or transportation. All who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time for which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices. tf Quincy, Dec. 22.

Preparation for the Hair.

THE celebrated "Der Schon Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Gloss; Camm's Spanish Lustral, or medicated hair preservative; Tompkins' Chlorion Rustrale; Batchelor's instantaneous hair dye; Jules Haules vegetable hair dye. For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept 21. tf

Cider Vinegar.

JUST received, and for sale by the subscribers twenty barrels extra Cider vinegar.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850. tf

Wool Frocking.

200 TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.

Also—FROCKS ready made.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Sept 29. tf

New Goods.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.,

HAVE recently made large additions to their Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows: Mouslin DeLaine, a good assortment, very low; Prints and Ginghams in great variety; Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors Wool Yarn, of all colors;

A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and 12½ cts per yard;

Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other goods, all of which will be sold at the

VERY LOWEST PRICES.

Quincy, August 31 s tf

Salt Pork.

A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quincy March 9th, tf

Velvet Trimmings.

JUST Received, an assortment of Velvet Trimmings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by

GEO SAVIL & Co., Washington St.

Quincy, Sept 21. tf

Paper Hangings.

TO 400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 24th tf

Bay State Long Shawls.

AN Assortment just received of the different sizes Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the west prices, by GEO SAVIL and Co., Washington next, Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

PORK & BEEF.

SALT-PETRED BEEF and Bacon, of the first quality, will be kept constantly on hand during season, and sold as cheap as can be bought at

Any Store in Town for Cash.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quincy, March 24. tf

For Cash Only.

Wood. Wood. Wood.

FOR sale one Frieght of good Eastern Wood, just landed, on Granite wharf, Quincy Point.

Apply to

WHITON & ADAMS.

Quincy, April 20th. tf

QUINCY PATRIOT.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.....OVER MESSRS. JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO'S STORE.....HANCOCK STREET.

NUMBER 3. QUINCY (MASS.) SATURDAY, JANUARY 18, 1851. VOLUME 15.

JOHN A GREEN,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance—Two DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid till the end of six months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till the expiration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will be stopped previous to the payment of all arrearages unless at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers wish their papers discontinued, they will give notice to that effect at the time their subscription expires. Every subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of his paper so long as it is sent to his address at the Post Office, Tavern, or any other place wheresoever he may have ordered it, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously, inserted at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, otherwise they will be continued until ordered out and charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business; and all advertisements for the benefit of other persons, as well as all legal advertisements, and advertisements of auction sales, sent in by them, must be paid for at the usual rates.

Business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.

☞Single copies of the paper, FIVE CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receiv pay and requested to procure subscriptions:

JOSIAH BABCOCK,	Quincy Railway.
GEORGE H. LOCKE,	" Stone Quarries.
ORIN P BACON,	Dorchester.
FISHER A KINGSBURY,	Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVERLY,	Abington.
SAMUEL A. TURNER,	South Scituate.
N B OSBORNE,	Salem
FREEMAN HUNT,	New York City.

MISCLLANY.

A THRILLING STORY.

INCIDENT IN RUSSIA.

On the 22d of May, 1831, a battalion of the militia colony established at Novogorod, was drawn up on the parade ground adjoining the extensive barracks, constructed in the most ancient and solitary portion of the city, near the church of St. Sophia.

In front of the ranks stood General L——off, a tall man of fifty, remarkable for his erect carriage, meagerness, sallow complexion, and large grey eyes. He was known throughout the army for his bravery, of which he had given many brialliant proofs in the campaigns of Turkey and Persia; it was that domestic infecilities had soured his temper, or that his heart had become hardened by the frequent application of a discipline, degrading in its nature and often horrible in its effects, Gen. L. had become a terror to the soldiers, and scarcely a day passed in which his command was not signalized by acts of such severity as well deserved to be called ferocious.

It was known that this man cherished a profound attachment for a young girl, the daughter of an old companion in arms, killed in battle. He adopted the orphan child, brought her up with care, and never allowed her to be seperated from him. And she, though grateful for the kindness of her father, by adoption, was not the less governed by an irresistable feeling of constraint when in his presence, the result of his stern brevity of speech, imperous manner, and cold severity of his aspect. She was known among the troops by the expressive name of Solowiovo, (nightingale,) given to her in recognition of the grace with which she sang the wild pathetic ballads of the Sclavonians.

Solowiovo, to please the General appeared at the reviews. One day she was sitting at a window of the General's quarters, in a room on the ground floor, whence her eye ranged along the extended ranks—and a bright flush overspread her features as her glance rested for a moment on the handsome features of a young surgeon-major. Ivan Polovoi, whose manly form was set off to rare advantage by the simple uniform of his military grade.

General L passed and repassed along the front line of the battalion without uttering a word, but with a frowning brow and an angry expression of his features, for he perceived that some of the men were absent. Suddenly was heard the slow and muffled beat of a drum, and from the extremity of the plain was seen advancing a band of soldiers, each carrying in his hands one of these long rods which are still used in the Russian service as the tools of a hateful punishment. At this sight, the general turned in amazements to his aids, and in a voice of thunder demanded who had given the order, and who was to be the victim.

A seargent conspicuous by his scarred and livid countenance, darted before the General, snatched from him his sword, struck him on the face, and answered coldly, 'You!'

At these words an electric shock seemed to pass along the ranks, and a gleam of hate lighted up the habitually passionless features of the men. By a spontaneous movement the officers advanced from the line to the rescue of their commander, but in a moment they were seized, thrown to the ground, and menanced each by a half score of bayonets.

Ivan was alone exempted, for his inhmanity had won for him the affection of the troops.—A granadier who stood near him whispered in his ear, 'Whether the nightingale sings or remains silent do not move. A word, a single step, and your dead."

Recovering from his stupor Gen. L. grasped with each hand one of the bayonets pointed at his breast, turned them aside with a powerful effort, and cried out, with a ferocious glance along the line. "To your knees vile brutes, and beg for mercy, or there will not be skin enough on your backs to expiate your crime."

A savage chuckle was the answer to this threat, and the sergeant with frightful tranquility, which indicates a settled purpose, said: "Every one of us knows the doom that awaits him, and is prepared to sacrifice his life. When your sentence is fulfilled we shall go before General Suroff the Govenor, or Govogorod: we shall lay at his feet your sword, belt, orders, and what remains of your body, and we shall say to him. General L. was a tiger; we have slain him, here are our weapons, we await our punishment." And thus saying, the sergeant tore away the General's epaulette and trampled them under his feet.

"The decoration belong not to you," he continues; "a knout should be borne by the executioner. Remember the soldier Batsakoff, scourged with rods for having been a moment too late in presenting arms. Remember the old subaltern, who for a spot on his uniform, was ordered from the ranks, and struck upon the face with your whip, until the blood ran down his cheeks. The unhappy man, frantic with rage and pain, lifted his hand in resistance—and for this he was flogged, and sent maimed and dying to Siberia."

The Sergeant, while he spoke, had continued, with a composure, to strip the General of his belt, his coat, and his under garments.

"That subaltern, like, myself, bore the name of Guedenoff; we were born in the same hovel—he was my brother."

Spite of his indomitable firmness, the general could not refrain from shuddering as he listened to this fearful accusation, so eloquent in its calm simplicity, so passionless in its brevity. As for Solowiovo, she had looked on at first with vague wonder, unable to comprehend the scene that passed before her; but when she saw the General deprived of his sword, his uniform torn away, his form exposed, then she began to perceive the purpose of his assailants, and to understand that he was doomed to receive the degrading punishment he had so often inflicted. Seized with horror, she rose to her feet, clasped her hands in supplication, and shrieked aloud in terror and despair.

Ivan had till this moment, stood motionless and silent, but he could not resist the anguish of her he loved. He forgot the stern excitement of the troops, the hopelessness of his interference, and made a step forward; but the loud ringing of a musket was heard — Ivan threw up his arms, turned on his heel convulsively, and fell to the ground a corpse. The bullet had pierced his heart.

A gigantic soldier stepped forward from the ranks, lifted the body, and bore it to the window where Solowiovo stood; he threw it at her feet and said, "Nightingale, this belongs to you."

White as marble, she gazed upon the corpse of her lover, bent towards it, wiped the bloody forehead with her handkerchief, gave forth one terrible cry, and fell by its side.

Meantime General L. had been bound to a gun carriage, dragged through the ranks, and scourged with rods, the torture of which was but the beginning of his punishment. He had scarcely reached the extremity of the line when a voice exclaimed, "To the ovens!"

The unhappy General, half dead with agony heard the words, and knew their horrid meaning. One hundred voices repeated. "To the ovens!"

A mortal paleness overspread his features; his courage gave way, he groaned and begged for mercy. But the hurrahs of the battalion drowned his voice, and Guedenoff, approaching him once replied:

"I too, begged for mercy when my brother fell dying with the blows you ordered."

We will not repeat the hideous details of the scene that followed, only adding that General L. and the superior officers of the battalion, shut up in the ovens, which the vengeful soldiers took care to heat slowly, were literally baked alive.

This crime presented a frightful originality, and it was deemed meet that its expiation should be likewise. The tidings were borne to the Emperor, and eight days afterward, several battalions of artillery marched through the streets of the ancient Russian capital; they had been preceded by a major-general, who had won for himself in the Polish campaign the title of Warsaws executioner. One of his aids appeared at the barracks of the mountaineers, and ordered them to parade the next morning in fugitive dress and without their weapons, in the small square at the end of the city. They replied by their invariable karacho, (good,) put on their long grey coats and round caps, and oiled their moustaches as for an ordinary field day; then pale, silent, with white lips, but keeping perfect order in their ranks, they traversed the city between two files of Corsacks, followed by the terrified gaze of the inhabitants. On their arrival in the square they posted themselves in solemn column; noiselessly and without confusion.

The drums beat—the bells of the churches pealed forth a solemn clang—and the batteries of cannon, planted in the avenues that led into the square, opened upon them a deadly fire of grape shot. Each discharge was succeeded by a shout, a multiduous groan, with which were mingled the wild songs of those who prided themselves on dying like men who knew no fear. Three hours the fire was kept up, and when at the close the executioners of this awful sentence traversed the place through a lake of blood, they found but five whom the grape-shot had not reached—among these was the sergeant, Guedonoff. They all perished under the murderous blow of the knout. The sergeant maintained his firmness and composure to the end. Stretched on the fatal plank, he seemed unconscious of the lash that tore his flesh, and addressing the executioner, he cooly asked if his alloted number of blows would soon be complete.

"They are finished now," said the executioner.

"So much the better," replied Guedonoff, 'for I am very hungry."

ADVENTURE IN A MILL.

A gentleman of New York related the following incident, while we were enjoying the luxury of a cool sea breeze on a hot summer's night. The subject of conversation was the narrow escape from death that are often experienced by mankind in the ups and downs of life.

When my father, said he, emigrated to Jefferson county, in the days of its first settlement, he located with his family in one of the southern towns. Among other improvements on his first premises there had been erected one of the first essentials of a new settlement—a saw mill. It was one of those old fashioned concerns, common in those days, rigged with the huge undershot waterwheel, long heavy putman and cumbrous saw-frame. Those unwieldy wheels are now quite forgotton in the improvements that have been made in these agents, but I never shall forget the one attached to my farther's mill.

I was engaged in getting out lumber, when an accident happened to the water works, and I went alone the next day to repair the damage. Carelessly kneeling upon one of the float-boards of the wheel, without observing the position of the crank, I preceded to survey the nature of the derangement. While thus occupied, I did not observe the slight motion towards a revolution which had commenced by the wheel, caused by my weight, and my attention was first called to the nature of my situation by a slow heavy pressure above my knee. At a glance I comprehended the peril I was in, and made an effort to extricate myself, but it was too late; I was fast wedged between the floats of the wheel, and the sill of the flume.

With considerable alarm, I now observed that the crank of the wheel was turned up, and that my weight had slightly moved it from the perpendicular. A moment's reflection increased my alarm, as I fully comprehended that the heavy putman, and the saw-frame above that, were pressing with their combined weight upon the crank.

To increase the horror of my situation I perceived that the crank was moving almost imperceptibly, and I knew that without instant relief I should inevitably be crushed to death between the wheel and the flume. I gazed around and called loudly for help; but no human being was near; and no answer was given to my cries. My eyes fell again upon the crank; it was still moving and drawing me into that awful death. I now looked around for some object to interpose between the wheel and the flume, and saw an axe that I had brought with me lying at one end of the wheel; but the joy that was lit up within me by the sight of this object was dispelled in a moment on finding that with my utmost exertions I could not reach it. In my desperation I then tried to wrench something from the wheel, but everything resisted my utmost strength. My last hope was, that somebody might pass upon the road which ran along the opposite bank of the stream; this hope died within me when I reflected how seldom it was that travellors came that way.

The crank had now reached an inclination of about thirty degrees, and I knew that its motion would become fearfully accelerated.—My limbs had gradually benumbed, as the circulation of the blood was interrupted, and in a sort of listless despair I laid back upon the wheel; and then in obedience to maternal instruction, I called on Heaven for help. While thus I lay half supplicating, my thoughts turned with a sort of impious alacrity, from the Almighty to a noise upon the bridge that crossed the stream below the mill, and I fairly screamed with delight as I recognized the sound to be that of a horse's tread. After crossing the bridge the horse commenced a slow trot, and I knew there must be a rider upon him, although the bushes on the roadside ptevented me from seeing him. When the sound came opposite the mill I hallowed as I supposed loud enough to be heard forty times the distance to the road; but owing to exhaustion my voice could not have reached far, for he did not stop. Still the sounds moved on, and as I fell back in utter despair upon the wheel it seeme to me that the horse and its rider, in that steady tramp—tramp—tramp, were barbarously treading upon my heart.

This disappointment was so great that, for a while I settled into a partial unconsciousness. A squeak of the pitman upon the crank however, recalled me again to the horrors of my situation. My limbs had been gradually drawn down so that the wheel would soon commence crushing my body; the crank would in a minute or two obtain a horrizontal position, after which the wheel would revolve with fearful rapidity, and I was utterly without hope. Then my heart went up to heaven in an earnest, heartfelt prayer, and I reproached myself for the selfish manner in which I had looked up to the Great Throne but a moment before. The scene of my past life flitted palpably before my vision, and with deep humiliation I besought forgiveness for the errors of my way. This communication gradually reconciled me to my fate; and feeling no pain in my revery, it seemed that I was floating in a delicious atmosphere up to the realms of bliss.

These delightful sensations were interrupted by a sound of something near, and gradually opening my eyes I discovered the figure of a man standing on a beam by the flummer. He seemed to me an angel from Heaven.—Again inspired with hope I gave a faint cry of joy. The man turned round as he saw me, in an instant he bounded to the crank and endeavored to raise it with his shoulder, but could not. He then seized a plank, and placing it under the crank, secured it from lowering any further down.—Then I heard him adjusting a lever, and in a short time the inexpressible felicity of feeling myself gradually elevated from my terrible situation, by the slow turning back on the wheel, caused me to faint entirely away.

When I again opened my eyes, I was lying upon the green grass, and my preserver by chafing my limbs, had partially restored my sensibility to my half dead body. With both hands I feebly grasped one of his, not endeavouring to speak; and the pleasant but anxious smile that lit up his countenance, told that he appreciated my acknowledgement of gratitude.

My deliverer happened to be a man with whom I was well acquainted, and he was also the man that passed the mill when I was in my perilous situation. He heard a faint norse as he rode by but being in thought he was not attracted by it. While going up a hill shortly afterwards, the train of his reflections was broken, and then it occurred to him that possibly the noise might have been a cry of distress. To be perfectly sure, he turned his horse and came back and thus was I providentially rescued.

AMERICAN WOODLANDS.

The forest lands of American preserve to the present hour something that is characteristic of their wild condition, undisturbed for ages. They abound in ruins of their own. Old trees, dead and dying, are left standing for years, until at length they are shivered and broken by the winds, or they crumble slowly away to a shapeless stump. There was no signs of decay appeared; they had no uses then, now they have no value. Broken limbs and dead bodies of great trees lie scattered through the forest; there are spots where the winds seem to have battled with the woods. At every step one treads on fallen trunks, stretched in giant length upon the earth—this still clad in its armour of bark, that bare and mouldering, stained by green mildew—one a crumbling mass of fragments, while others again lie shrouded in beautiful mosses, long green hillocks marking the grave of trees slowly turning to dust. Young trees are frequently found growing upon these forest ruins; if a giant pine or oak has been levelled by some storm, the mass of matted roots and earth will stand upright for years in the same position into which it was raised by the fallen trunk; and occasionally a good sized hemlock or pine, or beech, is seen growing from the summit of the mass, which in itself is perhaps ten or twelve feet high. We have found a stout tree, of perhaps twenty years growth, which has sprung from a chance seed, sown by the winds on the prostrate trunk of a fallen pine or chestnut, growing until its roots have stretched down the side of the mouldering log, and reached the earth on both sides, thus holding the crumbling skeleton in its young embrace. The decay of these dead trees is strangely slow; prostrate pines have been known to last fifty years undecayed, still preserving their sap; and upright gray shafts often remain standing for years, until one comes to know them as familiarly as the living trees. Instances are on record where they have thus remained erect in death for a space of forty years. Amid this wild confusion, we note here and there some mark left by civilized man, the track of wheels, a rude road sprinkled over by withered leaves, or the mark of the axe, sharp and clean, upon a stump close at hand, reminding us how freely and how richly the forests contributes to the wants of our races.—Miss. Cooper'c Rural Hours.

"I CAN."

Of course you can. You show it in your looks, in your motion, in your speech, in your everything. I can! A brave, hearty, substantial, soulful, manly, cheering expression.—There is character, force, vigor, determination, will in it. We like it. The words have a spirit, sparkle, pungency, flavor, geniality, bout them which takes one in the very right place.

I can! There is a world of meaning expressed, nailed down, epigramized, rammed in to these few letters. Whole sermons of stern, solid, grand virtues. How we more than admire to hear the young man speak it out bravely, bodly, determinedly; as though it was an outstretching of his entire nature,' a reflection of his inner soul. It tells of something that is earnest, sober, serious; of something that will battle and race, and tumble with the world in a way that will open, and brighten and mellow men's eyes.

I can! What spirit, purpose, intensity, reality, power is in the phrase. It is a strong arm, a stout heart, a bold eye, a firm part, an indomitable will. We never knew a man posessed of its energy, vitality, fire, and light that did not attain eminence of some good sort. It couldn't be otherwise. It is in the nature, constitution order, necessity, inevitably of events that it should be so. I can! rightly, truly said, and then rivitted and clenched by the manly, heroic determined deed, in the secret, solution, philosophy of men's lives. They took I can for a motto, and went forth and sturdily made themselves and the world what they pleased.

Then, young men, if you would be something besides a common, dusty, prosy way-farer in life, just put these magic words on your lips, and their musing, hopeful, expanding philosophy in your hearts and arm. Do it and you are a made man.

READING.

Make it a rule to read a litile every day, even if it be but a single sentence. A short paragraph, will often afford you a profitable source of reflection for a whole day. For this purpose keep som valuable book or paper always in your reach, so that you may lay your hand upon it any moment when you are about the house. We know a large family that has made itself intimately acquainted with history, probably more than any other family in the United States, by the practice of having one of the children, each one taking turns, read every morning, while the rest were at breakfast.

A PHYSOLOGICAL PROBLEM.

It has been observed, says the Medical Journal, that persons who have lost a limb, or a part of one, are at times very much troubled with an intolerable itching, or sometimes pain in the fingers or toes of the extremity which is lost. A case of this kind lately presented itself to us for advice, which, being a little out of the common course, we have thought proper to give to our readers. A young man had his hand amputated just above the wrist, on the account of having it shattered by the bursting of a gun. This happened some two years since, and the deficiency is supplied by a wooden hand.

At times, he tells us that he has the most intolerable itching between these wooden fingers, in fact unsupportable, and to use his own words, he would give a hundred dollars for the chance to give them a scratching. At other times, he has much pain where the fingers should be, and he can only obtain relief by altering their position. When free from pain or itching, he can discover no difference between that hand and the sound one. He can will the fingers of the lost hand to act, and they seem to obey. At times, the ends of the fingers are quite numb and cold; being partly flexed, he feels that he has not the power to extend them. There are other phenomena connected with this case, which, with those we have given, would be very difficult to account for on physiological principles.

Some philosophers of the spiritualist school explain phenomena like the above by the theory of a spiritual body, prevading the natural like water in a sponge; and receiving sensations through sympathy with the material parts.

WISE ADMONITION WELL EXPRESSED.

In the biography of Fisher Ames, written by the late Professor Kirkland the following just and beautiful sentiment occurs:

"When vice approaches the youthful mind, in the seducive form of a beloved companion, the ordeal becomes threatening and dangerous in the extreme. Few possess the prudence and unyielding firmness requisite to pass it in safety. Those who have been accurately observant to the dependence of one part of life on another, will readily concur with us, that Ames, future character derived much of it lustre, and his fortunes much of their elevation, from the untainted purity and irreproachableness of his youth. Masculine virtue is as necessary to real eminence, as a powerful intellect. He that is deficient in either, will never, unless from the influence of fortuitous circumstances, be able to place and maintain himself at the head of society. He may rise and flourish for a time, but his fall is as certain as his descent to the grave. He who holds parley with vice and dishonor, is sure to become their slave, and victim. That heart is more than half corrupted that does not burn with indignation at the attempt to corrupt it."

AGE OF ANIMALS.

A bear rarely exceeds twenty years; a dog lives twenty years; a wolf, twenty; a fox, fourteen. The average age of cats is fifteen years. Elephants have been known to live to the great age of four hundred years. Pigs have been known to live to the age of thirty years. A horse has been known to live to the age of seventy-two. Camels sometimes live to the age of a hundred. Cows live about fifteen years. Swans have been known to live three hundred years. A tortois has been known to live much above a hundred and ninety years.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 18th, 1851

John A. Green, Editor.

FROM CALIFORNIA.—We extract from the California Courier of the 30th, of November last, a paper published at San Francisco, the following notice, apprizing our readers, that Justin Spear, Esq., formerly of this town, is a member of Freeman & Co's firm. Parcels, packages, letters, etc, sent to the office of Adams & Co. in Boston, (care of Freeman & Co. in San Francisco,) will be sure to receive speedy attention. This arrangement of Mr. Spear will enable all in this quarter, who may have friends in California, to send with a degree of certainty that their letters, ect, will be received.

Adams & Co.—Freeman & Co.—For the last few days has been on a trip to Sacramento. While there, we were not a little astonished to find the immense amount of gold dust sent to that city to be despatched by the enterprising firm of Freeman & Co. late Hawley & Co. to the far-famed Banking and Express house of Adams & Co., of San Francisco, and by them to be shipped to the States. In three days, Freeman & Co., shipped to Adams & Co., nearly one hundred thousand dollars This is truly a wonderful development of the internal wealth of the mines. At the present rate of products are continued. California will be the second, if not the first exporting State in the Union.

Adams & Co. have done their full share in this remarkable commerce of the State. Their books show they have shipped nearly four millions of the precios metal, alone. This they have done too, in the short space of one year. Under the prudent, yet energetic management of D. H. Haskell, Esq., the shipment of gold dust has risen, from a mere experiment, to a business of extraordinary importance. In the absence of Mr. Haskell, the whole charge of the house in the hands of I. C. Woods, Esq., a gentlemen, every way competent to fill so responsible a trust. Indeed, Mr. Woods has managed the business with signal ability. The energy and accommodating dispositions of the owners and agents of Messrs. Adams & Co., and Freeman & Co., have made the two houses extremely acceptable and popular with the public. We do not mean by this declaration, however, to say that other houses are not obliging and energetic.

PICKEREL.—We enjoyed a rich dinner, yesterday, from a donation of that excellent fish, the Pickerel, made to us by our friend, Mr. Luke Rideout of this town. In order to enjoy a few pleasant hours, Mr. Rideout made a piscatory excursion to a town in this State, and by the aid of a lad, caught sixty-four Pickerel—the whole weighing one hundred and four pounds—and one of which weighed six pounds and seven ounces. Such good fishing must certainly be amusement to the lovers of this kind of sport. Our thanks are warmly due him for his liberal remembrance, proof of which he might have seen at the table.

We are happy to say that the Singing School recently commenced at the Vestry of the Orthodox Church by L. B. Hanford is now in succesful operation.

Any wishing to enjoy the pleasure and benefit of a well-ordered, and thoroughly taught School should lose no time in availing themselves of the present opportunity.

A MR. LYNTON has lately made a communication to the Asiatic Society of London, descriptive of a mode of punishment, peculiar to the criminal code of the Celestial Empire.

A Chinese merchant, named Hiam-ly, accused and convicted of having killed his wife, was sentenced to die by the total deprivation of sleep. The execution took place at Amery, in the month of June last. The condemned was placed in prison under the surveillance of three guardians, who relieved each other every alternate hour, and who prevented him from taking any sleep, night or day. He lived thus for nineteen days. At the commencement of the eight day, his sufferings were so cruel, that he begged, as a great favor, that they would kill him by strangulation.

FROM LAKE SUPERIOR.—The Green Bay Advocate, speaking of the mining operations on Lake Superior says that, in order to overcome the difficulty of cutting the copper into moveable masses, a gigantic furnace is now being constructed to melt them and cast them in such pieces as may be handled. The plan is thought to be feasible, and, if successful, promises to lessen very much the expense of mining. The vestiges of apparently very ancient mining operations continue to be met with, and in greater numbers and extent than any previously discovered. The age of traces is supposed to be at least two thousand years, but their connexion with a particular race has not been ascertained.

GENERAL COURT.—George S. Boutwell [dem.] has been chosen Governor, and Henry W. Cushman [dem.] Lieutenant Governor. Benjamin Stevens for many years the gentlemenly Sergeant at Arms', has been nearly unanimously re-elected. Of the nine Councillors chosen, six are democrats and three free-soilers—Edgar H. Whitaker, Esq., of Nedhham [dem.] being the worthy gentleman from the Norfolk District. Amara Walker, [free soil democrat,] has been chosen Secretary of State. There have been five ballotings for a United States Senator, Charles Sumner, [free soil] lacking five votes on the first ballot of a choice and eight votes on the last trial; further voting has been postponed to Thursday next.

Gov. Boutwell's address has been delivered, and is admitted to be a well written document, and quite moderate in its general tone and length.

☞ Col. Otis Wild of Braintree, was seriously if not dangerously injured by a tree falling upon him.

TERRIFIC STORY OF PIRACY AND MURDER.

Two sailors, by the name of Reed and Clements have lately been convicted in Richmond, Virginia, of the crime of piracy and murder, on the high seas. The Richmond Dispatch publishes the following letter from one of the accused, who is represented to be a young and intelligent man.

LETTER FROM REED, THE PIRATE.

Richmond, Va., July 1, 1850.

MY DEAR FATHER, MOTHER, BROTHER AND SISTERS.—It is with a heart full of grief and woe, and a trembling hand that I take my pen to address you. I had a great mind of not letting you know, for I know it will be heart rending news to you all. So, my dear parents, forgive me my past offences to you. as I hope God will have mercy on my soul for which I hope you will pray dear parents.

I am now confined in Richmond county jail with another person, and on no less a charge than mutiny and murder on the high seas. I will explain to you the whole affair. I was paid off from a U. S. sloop of war in December last. She was stationed in the Gulf of Mexico, and I was persuaded by my shipmate, (Clements by name,) to take a short trip to the West Indies. So I consented, knowing it would be but two or three months, and at my return it would be a good time to cross the Atlantic, and view once more the scenes of my early days. But God's will must be done, and instead of returning back in joy, I was confined in jail to stand my trial on the first Monday in December next.

E. Clements and myself shipped on board of a schooner in Elizabeth city N. C., about forty miles from Norfolk, where I was paid off, and proceeded to the West Indies. We touched at two or three different Islands until we arrived at Port Spain, Island of Trinidad, where we discharged our cargo, and took a passenger on board, and proceeded to sea on the 27th of January last. On that fatal night an affair took place, a few minutes after I relieved the passenger from the wheel. At 10 o'clock the mate and passenger went forward to sway up the fore-peak. This man, Clements, who belonged to the watch below, slept on deck this night, as he generally was in the habit of doing in fair weather in that hot climate. The mate aroused him up to sway up the fore-peak of the foresail, but it being his watch below, he refused, and so a scuffle ensued. The mate took a piece of handspike and struck him several times; but after the affray was going on in fierce combat, I perceived that the passenger, had a dirk or knife in his hand, and was making towards Clements with an intent, I expect, of killing him. I then left the wheel and grasped the passenger by the wrist, thinking to take the knife from him, but he grabbed me by the thigh with one hand and canted me on the rail of the schooner. I then thought I would be certainly would be thrown overboard, but I twisted his dirk-knife out of his hand and to save myself I had to turn his own weapon on himself; when he fell to rise no more, and saved me from a watery grave; but I fear for a worse one, as there was no witness to the affair. During this time Clements had killed the mate with his sheath knife. The captain being in the cabin, heard an unusual noise on deck, and taking his pistols came on deck, and without asking what was the matter, fired at Clemens and at me twice in succession. We having a brace of pistols in the the forecastle, we were determined to defend ourselves. The Captain, after firing returned to the cabin, where he did not long remain, but came on deck, while I stood by the mainmast. The Captain on seeing me, fired the pistol at me. I then fired mine and grazed his throat slightly but I did not know he was wounded. I then reloaded and went aft to the cabin door to let him know how all this sad affair occurred; but before I could speak to him, he fired at me and slighly wounded me in the nose, which can scarcely be perceived. I also fired my pistol but it being dark in the cabin, it did no injury. So we went forward and told the man that was in the forecastle (Costello) what had happened, and we then all three determined to defend ourselves in the case the Captain should attack us. The vessel was close hauled on a wind without any person at the helm. In this deplorable condition we remained for two days but little to eat or drink, when we hailed the Captain and asked him for the boat. After some hesitation he said we could take it and leave the vessel, which we concluded would be the safest, so as not to spill any more blood on either side. After Clement and myself got into the boat, this other man took an axe and cut the boat's painter. We expected all the time that he would go with us. So we were left at the mercy of the seas, without chart, compass or quadrant. We had two oars and a sail. So immediately after making sail on the boat, we put her below the wind, the North East trade wind blowing in those latitudes. In two days we reached a small island: We travelled some of this island in quest of water, but could not find any; but night coming on, we returned to find our boat, but missed our way and did not find her then. So we laid down on the rocks almost in despair.—About twelve o'clock I awoke—the moon being high in the heavens I Found myself greatly refreshed, and we proceeded to look for the boat, but we did not go far before we fell in with two Spaniards. The first thing we asked for was a drink of water, and they gave us about a quart which they had in a calabash—the first we had since leaving the vessel. We then soon found the boat, and we went to the west end of the island, where we found a hut and three Spaniards, the only inhabitants of the island, their only occupation being hunting wild cattle which they captured by the lasso and traps. We remained there about five days, and after getting all the necessary information concerning the Spanish main, we started early one morning from our island and in two or three days we reached a place called Jgarta, where, having no passport, our boat was seized by the commandant. We then paid our passage and went to E. Laguayra, where we were put in jail and kept there about three months, when we were sent to Norfolk and examined, and afterwards committed to Richmond jail to stand our trial in November next.

The custom of wearing ear-rings is said to have originated in this wise: Originally among the Hebrews, Arabs and other nations, the ears of the slaves were bored to signify the obligations of the servant to hearken to the commands of his master. Rings were afterwards invented, to denote the perpetuity of his bonds, as the servants who had their ears bored, were servants forever. Thus, ear rings were the badge of slavery. In modern times, they mean no more, perhaps, than that the person's progenitors were slaves, or perhaps, that the persons themselves are the slaves of vanity and fashion.

An affecting incident occured on Tuesday night last, in the cars between Trenton and South Trenton depot. An elderly Irish lady, who had been sent for in the old country, by her children in South Trenton, arrived a few days ago in New York, whither her two sons went to meet her while a daughter remained at home to prepare for the reception of their beloved mother. On arriving at the depot, and without the knowledge of any ailment, she was found to be dead, and she was borne to the place just prepared for an affectionate and joyful meeting a corpse, thus furnishing another commentary upon the uncertain tenure of life.

DEATH OF CAPT. COOK.—The Rev. Mr. Cheever, in his work, "The Island World," gives the following Hawaiia legend of the death of the great navigator, Capt. Cook. "It is a common saying on Hawaii, that Capt. Cook's mark was deep and deadly. In the providennee of God, he met his death by his own rashness and self confidence, at the very hands of the incensed barbarians whom he had wrongly allowed to worship him, and who were restrained from injuring him when they felt themselves wronged by the belief that he was a god, until a chief, whom he struck with his sword, instinctively grasped and held him in his powerful arms, at which Capt. Cook uttered a cry of distress The dread charm of his divinity was at office broken by that cry, and the chiefs and people fell upon him in anger and instantly slew him, exclaiming, He groans—he is not a god.

"Don?t call me a boy," said a precocious youth, when adressed by a playmate with that familiar term, "for I have chewed baccay these six year."

It is said that in 1853, when the next presidential term begins, Mr Clay will be seventy-six, Daniel Webster seventy-one, Mr. Benton seventy-one, Gen. Cass sixty-five, and Gen. Scott sixty-nine.

Altered bills, from Two's to Tens, on the Shoe & Leather Dealer's Bank have made their appearance. They are well executed, and are calculated to deceive, but may be detected upon examination.

EXECUTION IN MISSISSIPPI AND EXCITEMENT.—A man named Hick was hung, week before last, in Lawrence County, Miss, for the alleged murder of one Allen. He had been convicted entirely on circumstanttal evidence. To the very last, he proclaimed his innocence; when the cap fell ovet his eyes, and he had bidden to the world good night, his words were, 'Oh men, I am innocent.' The Monticello Journal speaks of much excitement prevailing, and strong prejudices being aronsed against capital convictions, on circumstautial evidence.

The currency of the world is stated to be nearly as follows: Bank currency, $655,000,000; specie in circulation, $655,000,000; specie in banks, $445,000,000.

DISTILLERIES.—Within a circle of sixteen miles around Easton, Penn., there are twenty-five distilleries, which annually consume 1,000,000 bushels of corn and rye. The Argus says corn is scarce, and is attributed to the large quantities used for distilling purposes.

EVEN WITH HIM.—One of the conductors on the New Haven Railroad, whose speech, making of the French or German accent, subjects him to an occasional quiz from the passengers, was wished "A happy New Year," by one of them, during the trip on New Year's Day. "Oh! tank you sar, merry Christmas, April Fool, Fours July, and all ze rest," was his ready reply.

Louis Napoleon, it is said, is involved in debt to the amount of near two millions of francs. His application to the Assembly for relief, will, it is reported, be obstinately but unsuccessfully contested.

The number of hogs slaughtered at Louisville the present season will reach, it is said, 200,000.

ICE.—The New England Ice Company have ten thousand tons of splendid ice, from twelve to fourteen inches thick, already stored at their spacious Lake in South Reading.

The report of the French Minister, M. Boir le Comte, was about to take his departure from this country, is entirely without foundation.

NOTICE.

"Grand Festival of the Season."

Will be holden in the Town Hall, WEDNESDAY EVENING, January 29th, for the benefit of the First Universalist Society in Quincy

Good Singing, good Speaking, and good Music will be provided and other amusements, that the friends may enjoy themselves. The evening entertainment will close with Dancing.

It is expected that the friends will provide for the the tables. All donations will be sent to the Hall on that day. and there will be a Committee to receive them.

Tickets 25 cents, to be had at the door and of the Committee.

Doors open 6 o'clock.

T. C. WEBB, Chairman.
W. R. BROWN, Secretary.

In addition to the above as some difficulty has occurred on former occasions respcting Cloth ing we have chosen a Committee to take charge of the Clothing, who will be responsible for all that is committed to their charge.

Wm. R. BROWN
J. G. BRACKETT } Committee on
W. ABERCROMBIE } Clothing.

Quincy, January 9th, 1851.

A CARD.

The Quincy Stone Division No. 73 Sons of Temperance, return their thanks to the Ladies of Quincy and vicinity, for the prompt and efficient assistance rendered by them at their late Levee, and also for the the bountiful manner in which they provided for the occasion.

Quincy Lyceum.

REV. W. W. DEAN; will deliver the Twelfth Lecture, before the SOCIETY the present season, on THURSDAY Evening next, commencing at 7 o'clock.

H. O. WHITNEY, Secretary.

The Members of the Ningra Engine Company No. 1 of Quincy are requested to meet at the Hancock House, on MOMDAY EVEMING next, at 7 o'clock, P. M.

N. B The Company would respectively invite all those in favor of a Fireman's Ball to meet with us and make all suitable arrangements.

Per Order. JOHN F. PIERCE, Clerk.

MARRIED.

In this town, the 1st. inst., by Rev Dr. Lunt, Mr A. Prescott Nash, of Weymouth, to Miss Elizabeth J Spear, of this town.

In Quincy, on the 27th ult, by Rev. N. Clark, Mr. Robert Craig, to Miss Janett Smith.

Executor's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the Will of

BETSEY LEWIS,

late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, widow deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to,

LEMUEL HUMPHREY, Executor.

Weymouth, Jan. 18, 1851. 3w*

House and Land for Sale.

FOR Sale, a story and a half House, in good condition—with Barn, sheds two wells of Water, and other out Build; ings—and nine Acres of excellent Land; all under cultivation, with a thrifty orchard of Apple and Cherry Trees, thereon. Situated on Adams' street, joining the Estate of William Newcomb, and about three quarters of a mile from the Depot. The said land, is well calculated for building lots, and will se sold at a bargain. For particulars, enquire on the premises of

MICHAEL GIRETY.

Quincy. Jan. 11, 1851. 2m

House for Sale.

FOR Sale a new and convenient dwelling House; one and a half stories high; pleasantly situated on Common street; and an acre of land, with a young orchard of Apple, Cherry and Peach trees, thereon. Said property is pleasantly situated, and will be sold on reasonable terms, by application to

MICHAEL GIRETY, Adams street.

Quincy, Jan. 18, 1851. 2m

Wanted

BY THADDEUS M. H. ROWELL, two first rate Light Brogan Makers; to such, steady employment and the best of prices will be given. Also, one or two good Fitters, to which the highest price will be paid; or will take one young woman to learn to fit.

To two single men Shop Room and Board can be obtained.

For further particulars, please call on the Subscriber—third house on Squant um road.

THADDEUS M. H. ROWELL

Guincy, Jan, 18, 1851. 4w

Real Estate for Sale.

WILL be sold at private sale, until the 1st. of April next,

EIGHT HOUSE LOTS on Mount Pleasant; Two House Lots on the Quincy Meadow; Nine House Lots on the Greenleaf Place. These Lots are all pleasantly situated, with one fourth of an acre of Land attached, and will be sold at prices varying from sixty to one hundred and five dollars per site. The lots on the Greeuleaf Place command a fine view of Boston Harbor, adjoining the Old Colony Railroad, and but a few rods from the principal Depot.

Also—On the Greenleaf Place, one lot of Land with a new dwelling House, suitable for two families, and which will be sold so as to pay twelve per cent.

The Subscriber hopes his friends will aid him in the sale of this property, as he desires to square accounts with all persons

All indebted, he hopes will pay before the 31st of January, and all he owes, are desired to present their claims by that time.

HARVEY FIELD.

Qnincy, Jan. 18, 1851. tf

Wanted to Hire

A MAN without a family, to take the care of the BARN and STOCK, until the first of April next Enquire of

NOAH CURTIS.

Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. 2w

Sloop for Sale.

SUITABLE FOR THE STONE BUSINESS.

FOR Sale, the SLOOP ALMIRA, now lying at Weymouth, near Graves' Mills. The said Sloop is in good order, and every way calculated for the above business—for which purpose she has been a number of years employed. Her Sails are nearly new, having been in use only a few months.

She will be sold on reasonable terms by application to

DAVID PRATT, Middle st. Weymouth, Mass.

Weymouth, Jan. 11, 1851. 4w*

REMNAMT DE LAINES, from 2 to 6 yds., for sale low, at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. tf

Super Cashmere Scarfs.

A GOOD Assortment of Colors and Sizes, just received, and for sale very low, at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

Quincy, Jan. 18, 1851. tf

---

50 PRS. KID GLOVES, a little spotted; for sale at 61-4 per pair. by

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy Jan. 18, 1851 tf

BROAD CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, TWEEDS and VESTINGS, for sale at a great discount from former prices.

Please call and examine before purchasing, at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

Quincy, Jan 18, 1851 tf

Deed Missing.

THE public are hereby informed that a Deed from Josiah French to Otis Wild for a piece of Real Estate, which was made several years ago, but for which no consideartion was given, has been missed and cannot now be found. A suitable reward will be paid for the recovery of this Instrument, or for such information as will bring the matter to light. The Deed is hereby cancelled and of no value.

ELISHA HOBART, Guardian to Josiah French,

Braintree, Dec. 21st,, 1850. 3w

Blank Books

OF all descriptions, of the best paper and well bound. Having increased facilities for manufacturing and purchasing, we are now selling them at prices which defy all competition. All who want new Account Books for the New Year, will make money to call upon us.

C. GILL & CO.
QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Quincy, Jan. 4th, 1851. 3w.

Executors's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the Will of

LUDOVICUS HOLBROOK,

late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Yeoman, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to

NOAH TORREY, Executor.

Weymouth, Jan. 1, 1851. 3w*

Bakery Business.

THE subscribers respectfully inform the public that they have commenced the bakery business at the bakery formerly occupied by L. G Horton, and hope by their constant attention to the business to merit a share of the public patronage.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Jan. 11th, 1851. tf

New England Protective Union.

DIVISION.....No. 180.

AT the STORE recently occupied by Mr. Frederick Hardwick on Franklin street, may be found a good assortment of

GROCERIES, CROCKERY and GLASS WARE.

Together with a supply of

BOOT MAKERS' FINDINGS.

—ALSO.—

BEEF,
PORK,
SAUSAGES,
TRIPE,
LARD,
MACKEREL,
PICKELS,
POTATOES, &c.

All of which will be kept constantly on hand, and will be sold, at a small advance from cost, for cash.

The public are invited to call, and examine our goods, and become acquainted with our mode of trade

N. B.—The spacious Hall over the store will be let on favorable terms.

Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. tf

Israel W. Munroe.

OFFERS for sale at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO., a good assortment of

ENGLISH and WEST INDIA GOODS, CROCKERY, GLASS and HARD WARE. SHOES, HATS and CAPS, PAPER HANGINGS,

And almost every article kept in a variety store, at the lowest prices for cash or approved credit.

Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. tf

WHITNEY BLANKETS & BED COMFORTERS, for sale at reduced prices, by

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, Jan.. 11, 1851. tf

JUST received, a good assortment of GENTLEMENS', LADIES and MISSES INDIA RUBBER SHOES

of the best quality, for sale cheap, by

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, Jan. 11th, 1851. tf

Administratrix's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

DANIEL NOLEN,

late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Boot Tree, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted therteo, to make payment to

BRIDGET NOLENS, Administratrix.

Weymouth, Jan. 11, 1851. 3w*

NEW DRY GOODS

Establishment!

REMOVAL.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

Have removed to their new and splendid

Wholesale and Retail Establishment

Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,

BOSTON,

Which is the largest sales-room in the United States being 150 feet long and 60 feet wide;

And would invite the attention of Purchasers to their large Stock of Goods, unsurpassed in extent and variety, by any Stock exhibited in New England, consisting of

SHAWLS

Of every description, in entire new designs, both long and square.

Plaid Shawls from the Bay State Mills,

Also, from the best manufacturers in Scotland.

SILKS & SATINS

Of every quality, style and price, in new and beautiful colors and novel styles, for Cloaks and Dresses.

BLACK SILKS,

Of pure boiled silk, of superior lustre and durability.

Beautiful watered & plain Poplins.

DRESS AND CLOAK GOODS.

Our Stock is large and various, comprising all costs and Styles, from the lowest to the most costly.

Merinos, Thibets and Cashmeres, with Velvits' Silks and Cambrics to match, in all colors and shades.

HOUSE KEEPING GOODS.

Linens, Linen Sheetings, Pillow Case Linens Shirtings, Damasks, Damask Table Covers, Napkins Doylies, Sheetings, Flannels, Blankets, Quilts, Comforters and Prints.

BROADCLOTHS & CASIMERES.

EMBROIDERIES,

The largest assortment in the city.

HOSIERY AND GLOVES

SHIRTS AND DRAWERS,

Ladies', Gents.' and Children's;

Handkerchiefs, Scarfs, &c., &c.

In fact, all articles usually found in different store may be found in this Establishment.

The Goods will be freely shown, and customers may rely upon receiving the most respectful attention and will find the goods at uniform low prices, as we import our own Goods, and have but one price.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

NEW STORE, Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET

BOSTON.

Oct 5. 3m

For Sale.

THE late residence of the [illegible] Allen, near the Episcopal [illegible] Quincy. Apply to THOMAS B HAWK Exchange Street, Boston.

West Woodstock, Conn. Sept. 7th, 1850

To Let.

A House at Braintree neck, for a large family. Enquire of DANIEL B[illegible]

Quincy, Sept-7th. tf

House For Sale

A one story and a half House out for two families, built in a substantial manner, with a SHED three fourths of an acre of LAND ted on Granite Street, and about one four from the South Quincy Depot. Will be bargain, and payments made easy. For inquire on the premises of ALPHEUS

Quincy, Nov. 16 6m

For Sale, or To Let

A new and convenient Dwe very pleasantly situated, Street, with a barn and about Land with Fruit Trees the leased or sold. Apply to SAMUEL CO

Quincy, Nov 9th. tf

To Let.

ONE half of a good House Street, the other half Capt. Stevenson. Also a good Barn, with three acres of La on the Braintree and Weymouth turnpike a mile south of the Episcopal Church. DANIEL B

Quincy, Sept. 28. tf

To Let.

A Convenient Dwelling pleasantly situated on Co recently occupied by the Wi with about three acres of goo several fruit trees; an excellent well of w small Barn Apply to SAMUEL CO

Quincy, Aug. 10 tf

Apples.

BALDWINS AND RUSSETTS, of t ity, for sale by H. A.

Quincy, Oct 12, 1850. tf

Onions.

50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, for H. A. RANS

Quincy, Oct 12th, 1850. tf

CASH

PAID FOR

OLD IRON, COPPER,

PEWTER, LEAD, GLA

Rubbers and Ink Bottles

COBDAGE, PAPER STOCK

—BY—

A. B. PACKARD.

Strayed.

FROM the Subscriber, Dec. 5th, two ERS, marked N on the rump return them, or give information so that found, shall be suitably rewarded.

THOMAS J. NIGH

Quincy, Dec. 28, 1850. tf

Collector's Notice

NEARLY $7 000 of the Taxes for t remain unpaid; which by vote of due the Treasurer on the 1st inst. All payers, who owe Taxes, will be called pay. If not paid when called upon, the my house, and pay there, previous to the ruary next.

LEWIS BASS, Collector

Quincy, Jan. 4th. 1851. 3w

Bounty Land.

FOR SOLDIERS OF THE WA and of any Indian War since 1790. and minor children, obtained All cla and suits, under any of the PENSION LAWS of the United States.—also P other business connected with the sta tates, of deceased persons attended to

EBEN S

Boston, Dec. 28, 1850. 3m

NEW ENGLAND PROTE

Union, Division No.

JUST opened on Washington Street, below the Stone Temple, in the occupied by J. Williams.

The Company respectfully solicit th the public to their mode of Trade, an themselves the quality of their Goods, cees, which will be always exhibited up board.

Their Stock of Goods consists of all ceries, Country Produce, FLOUR, WARE, &c.

All of Superior quality, and sold a possible advance from cost.

No Damaged, Mixed, or inferior good ered for sale.

Quincy, Oct 5. tf

Judd's Medicated Liquid

FOR closing wounds without sewing smooth coating over them, impervi water, much superior in its healing pro other plaster, and so elastic as not to tion of a joint; an excellent remedy al Scalds, or any fresh wounds. Price bottle.

Sold by Mrs. E.

Quincy, August 31. tf

Family Bibles.

WE continue to sell BEAUTIFU BIBLES, of superior quality a unprecedentedly low prices. Many themselves of the opportunity offered tice, to purchase a good Bible cheap left, and invite all to call and exami chasing. C. GILL & CO.

QUINCY BO

Quincy, Jan. 4th., 1850.

To Let.

A GOOD HOUSE, situated about h of the Episcopal Church. Possess mediately. Enquire of DANIEL

Quincy, Jan. 11th, 1851. 3w

Executors's Notice.

OTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the Will of

LUDOVICUS HOLBROOK,

of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Yeo. deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all us having demands upon the Estate of the said ased, are required to exhibit the same, and all ns indebted thereto, to make payment to

NOAH TORREY, Executor.

eymouth, Jan. 4, 1851. 3w*

Bakery Business.

HE subscribers respectfully inform the public that they have commenced the bakery business e bakery formerly occupied by L. G Horton, and by their constant attention to the business to t a share of the public patronage.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

uincy, Jan. 11th, 1851. tf

w England Protective Union.

DIVISION.....No. 180.

T the STORE recently occupied by Mr. Frederick Hardwick on Franklin street, may be d a good assortment of

OCERIES, CROCKERY and GLASS WARE.

Together with a supply of

BOOT MAKERS FINDINGS.

— ALSO. —

EF,
PORK,
SAUSAGES,
TRIPE,
LARD,
MACKEREL,
PICKELS,
POTATOES, &c.

of which will be kept constantly on hand, and l be sold, at a small advance from cost, for cash.

The public are invited to call, and examine our ds, and become acquainted with our mode of trade

. B —The spacious Hall over the store will be favorable terms.

Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. tf

Israel W. Munroe.

FFERS for sale at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO., a good assortment of

GLISH and WEST INDIA GOODS, CROCKY, GLASS and HARD WARE. SHOES, HATS and CAPS, PAPER HANGINGS,

d almost every article kept in a variety store, at lowest prices for cash or approved credit.

Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. tf

WHITNEY BLANKETS & BED COMFORTERS, for sale at reduced prices, by

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. tf

ST received, a good assortment of GENTLEMENS', LADIES and MISSES

INDIA RUBBER SHOES

he best quality, for sale cheap, by

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, Jan. 11th, 1851. tf

Administratrix's Notice.

OTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Goods Estate of

DANIEL NOLEN,

of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Boot er, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And persons having demands upon the Estate of the d deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and persons indebted thereto, to make payment to

BRIDGET NOLENS, Administratrix.

Weymouth, Jan 11, 1851. 3w*

NEW DRY GOODS

Establishment!

REMOVAL.

EORGE HILL & CO.

Have removed to their new and splendid holesale and Retail Establishment

Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,

BOSTON,

uch is the largest sales-room in the United States being 150 feet long and 60 feet wide;

d would invite the attention of Purchasers to their e Stock of Goods, unsurpassed in extent and va y, by any Stock exhibited in New England, consisting of every quality, style and price, in entire new designs, both long and square.

SHAWLS

aid Shawls from the Bay State Mills,

Also, from the best manufacturers in Scotland.

SILKS & SATINS

every quality, style and price, in new and beautiful colors and novel styles, for Cloaks and Dresses.

BLACK SILKS,

pure boiled silk, of superior lustre and durability.

Beautiful watered & plain Poplins.

DRESS AND CLOAK GOODS.

Stock is large and various, comprising all coste Styles, from the lowest to the most costly

Merinos, Thibets and Cashmeres, with Velvits ks and Cambrics to match, in all colors and shades.

HOUSE KEEPING GOODS.

Linens, Linen Sheetings, Pillow Case Linens ttings, Damasks, Damask Table Covers, Napkins ylies, Sheetings, Flannels, Blankets, Quilts, Com ters and Prints.

BROADCLOTHS & CASIMERES.

EMBROIDERIES,

The largest assortment in the city.

OSIERY AND GLOVES

SHIRTS AND DRAWERS,

Ladies', Gents.' and Children's;

Handkerchiefs, Scarfs, &c., &c.

fact, all articles usually found in different store may be found in this Establishment.

The Goods will be freely shown, and customers rely upon receiving the most respectful attention d will find the goods at uniform low prices, as we port our own Goods, and have but one price.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

ew Store, Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET

BOSTON.

Oct 5. 3m

For Sale.

THE late residence of the REV. WM. ALLEN, near the Episcopal Church in Quincy. Apply to THOMAS B HAWKES, No. 10 Exchange Street, Boston.

West Woodstock, Conn. Sept. 7th, 1850. 3m

To Let.

A House at Braintree neck, convenient for a large family Enquire of

DANIEL BAXTER.

Quincy, Sept. 7th. tf

House For Sale

A one story and a half House, convenient for two families, built in a substantial manner, with a SHED and about three fourths of an acre of LAND, situated on Granite Street, and about one fourth of a mile from the South Quincy Depot. Will be sold at a bargain, and payments made easy. For particulars, inquire on the premises of

ALPHEUS HUNT.

Quincy, Nov. 16 6m

For Sale, or To Let.

A new and convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated, on Common Street, with a barn and about one acre of Land with Fruit Trees thereon, to be leased or sold. Apply to

SAMUEL COPELAND.

Quincy, Nov 9th. tf

To Let.

ONE half of a good House on Liberty Street, the other half occupied by Capt. Steverson. Also a good house and Barn, with three acres of Land, situated on the Braintree and Weymouth turnpike, about half a mile south of the Episcopal Church. Enquire of

DANIEL BAXTER.

Quincy, Sept. 28. tf

To Let.

A Convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated on Common Street, recently occupied by the Widow Driver, with about three acres of good Land, with several fruit trees; an excellent well of water, and a small Barn Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND.

Quincy, Aug. 10 tf

Apples.

BALDWINS AND RUSSETTS, of the first quality, for sale by H. A. RANSOM.

Quincy, Oct 12, 1850. tf

Onions.

50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, for sale by

H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Oct 12th, 1850. tf

CASH

PAID FOR

OLD IRON, COPPER, BRASS,

PEWTER, LEAD, GLASS,

Rubbers and Ink Bottles, Junk,

COBDAGE, PAPER STOCK &c.

— BY —

A. B PACKARD.

Strayed.

FROM the Subscriber, Dec. 5th, two RED HEIFERS, marked N on the rump Whoever will return them, or give information so that they may be found, shall be suitably rewarded.

THOMAS J. NIGHTINGALE.

Quincy, Dec. 28, 1850. tf

Collector's Notice.

NEARLY $7 000 of the Taxes for the year 1850, remain unpaid; which by vote of the Town, are due the Treasurer on the 1st inst All resident Tax payers, who owe Taxes, will be called upon once to pay. If not paid when called upon, they must call at my house, and pay there, previous to the first of February next.

LEWIS BASS, Collector of Quincy

Quincy, Jan. 4th. 1851. 3w

Bounty Land.

FOR SOLDIERS OF THE WAR OF 1812—and of any Indian War since 1790, their widows and minor children, obtained All claims, business, and suits, under any of the PENSION or PATENT LAWS of the United States,—also PROBATE and other business connected with the settlement of Estates, of deceased persons attended to by

EBEN. SMITH, JR.

Boston, Dec. 28, 1850. 3m

NEW ENGLAND PROTECTIVE

Union, Division No. 179.

JUST opened on Washington Street, a few doors below the Stone Temple, in the Store resently occupied by J. Williams.

The Company respectfully solicit the attention of the public to their mode of Trade, and examine for themselves the quality of their Goods, and their Prices, which will be always exhibited upon a bulletin board.

Their Stock of Goods consists of all kinds of Groceries, Country Produce, FLOUR, CROCKERY WARE, &c.

All of Superior quality, and sold at the lowest possible advance from cost.

No Damaged, Mixed, or inferior goods will be offered for sale.

Quincy, Oct. 5. tf

Judd's Medicated Liquid Cuticle

FOR closing wounds without sewing; forming a smooth coating over them, impervious to air and water, much superior in its healing properties to any other plaster, and so elastic as not to impede the motion of a joint; an excellent remedy also, for Burns, Scalds, or any fresh wounds. Price—25 cents per bottle.

Sold by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, August 31. tf

Family Bibles.

WE continue to sell BEAUTIFUL QUARTO BIBLES, of superior quality and binding, at unprecedentedly low prices. Many have availed themselves of the opportunity offered in a former notice, to purchase a good Bible cheap We have more left, and invite all to call and examine before purchasing. C. GILL & CO.

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Quincy, Jan. 4th., 1850. 3w.

To Let.

A GOOD HOUSE, situated about half a mile East of the Episcopal Church. Possession given immediately. Enquire of DANIEL BAXTER.

Quincy, Jan. 11th, 1851. 3w

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, S. S. PROBATE OFFICE,

December, 20th A. D. 1850.

JOHN BEATH, the Administrator of the Estate of

JAMES T. LORING,

late of Braintree, in said County, victualler, deceased, having presented his account in his capacity for allowance,

Ordered, that said JOHN BEATH notify all persons interested therein, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same at a Court of Probate to be holden at Quincy, in said County, on the second TUESDAY of February, A D., 1851, by publishing this order three weeks successively in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot printed at Quincy.

S LELAND, Judge of Probate.

Quincy, Dec. 28, 1850.

LADIES

Of Quincy and Vicinity.

F. A. JONES & CO.

No. 1

TREMONT ROW,

BOSTON,

Would solicit your attention to the Immense Stock of

NEW GOODS

which they now have, and are daily receiving by every foreign arrival, suitable to the

AUTUMN TRADE OF

1850.

Every variety of

SHAWLS,

from the most expensive Cashmere to the cheapest Wool Plaid.

SILKS

of every kind and quality, in Blacks and Colors, ALWAYS AT LOW PRICES.

FRENCH THIBETS

and

GERMA MERINOS

Of all Grades.

FALL AND WINTER

DRESS GOODS,

Our usual Assortment.

VELVETS,

All Widths and Colors.

FRENCH CLOAKS AND SACKS,

New Patterns and Trimmings.

Together with the Immense Variety of all other Styles Dry Goods Adapted to the Present Season.

Our long experience in the City Retail Trade enables us to know the wants of our customers, and give us unusual facilities for supplying them. During the whole of our business career, it has always been our intention to offer CHOICE GOODS at LOWER PRICES than any other house in the city. Whether we have done so, we leave the public to judge; but we have succeeded, by always keeping this point in view, in building up the largest in the City of Boston, as the crowds of purchasers who daily throng our Establishment, show.

EXCLUSIVE RETAIL TRADE.

Our increased facilities will enable us, during the present season, to offer still greater inducements, by the simple multiplication of business to such an extent that we can afford to sell each article at a small advance from the cost of importation.

Every variety of goods, we shall, as usual, be supplied with In short, we mean to make our place of business a resort for the shrewdest and closest purchasers, as well as the most fanciful and particular, where any lady may be sure of finding all the styles of Choice and Fashionable Goods, always at the very lowest market prices.

Thankful for past favors, we solicit a continuance of that patronage which now enables us to refer you to past experience to prove that at no other place can you receive more fully the value of your money, than at our house, and we feel warranted in asserting that at no time have we been able to offer so many bargains at the present season.

TREMONT ROW.

Silk and Shawl Store.

F. A. JONES & CO.,

NO. ONE TREMONT ROW,

Nearly opposite head of Hanover Street,

BOSTON.

Boston, Sept. 7. 6mos

N. B.

Geo. Savil & Co.,

Dealers in

READY-MADE CLOTHING

OF

EVERY DESCRIPTION,

AT

ROUGH & READY HALL,

WASHINGTON STREET,

Quincy.

—O—

A LARGE ASSORTMENT

Constantly on Hand!!

AND FOR

SALE

At the Very Lowest Prices!!!

Also,

A GOOD SELECTION

OF

GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.

Quincy, Sept. 28. tf

Notice.

THE Subscribers return their thanks to their friends and the public generally who have favored them with their custom, and would say to those who are purchasing goods, that we intend keeping a good, assortment of English, West India goods and Groceries of all kinds.

Also, Beef, Pork, Bacon, Lard, Mackerel, and Vegetables, which will be sold as low as can be bought elsewhere for cash or credit.

Also, Flour by the barrel or bag, as low as can be bought for cash.

N. B. Goods delivered as usual

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5th. tf

Cholera, Dysentery, &c.

MRS. E. HAYDEN offers for sale various articles for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, &c.

Among which are Whiteman's Vegetable Syrup; Java Balsam, (a celebrated East Indian remedy!) Billings's Summer Cordial; Arnold's Balsam: Holden's Dysentery Cordial; Jayne's Carminative Balsam; Anti-Cholera Drops: Whitwell's Sulphur and Charcoal Pills. And a variety of other articles, for the same diseases

Quincy, July 20. tf

Notice.

THE Annual Meeting of the Members of the WEYMOUTH AND BRAINTREE INSTITUTION for SAVINGS, will be holden on MONDAY, Jan 13, 1851, at the office of the Institution, for the choice of Officers for the year ensuing, and to transact any other business that may come before them.

A. S, WHITE, Treasurer.

Weymouth, Dec 30, 1850, 3w

Cider Vinegar.

FIRST rate article of good, Cider Vinegar. Just received and for sale by

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, August 17. tf

A CARD!

J. A. Holden,

Has just received the Fashions for the

FALL AND WINTNR

OF

1850.

He has also received Fashionable Goods of the present and approaching season, among which, are

FRENCH, GERMAN AND AMERICAN

Broadcloths!!!

of various colors and qualities.

A great variety of

PANT GOODS,

together with good styles of

VESTINGS, &C.

He is, therefore, more prepared to make Garments for his customers, which cannot fail to please them.

Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

FALL AND WINTER

Just Received at the

QUINCY HALL CLOTHING DEPOT,

ON THE

Braintree and Weymouth Turnpike.

JOHN DINEGEN

WOULD respectfully intimate to his friends and the public, that he has just received a very choice and select Stock of

Fall and Winter Goods!!!

Consisting in part of BLACK, BLUE, BROWN, OLIVE, DAHLIA, GREEN, and other Fancy colored Cloths, of

ENGLISH, FRENCH AND GERMAN

Manufacture.

Also—a good assortment of Plain and Fancy

Doe-Skins

for Pants.

VESTINGS

of the very latest designs. SILK VELVET, PLAIN and Figured SILKS and SATINS, VALENCIAS &c.

Gents wishing to obtain a Fashionable and tasty Garment of any description, are respectfully invited to call and see for themselves.

Garments made to order at very short notice, and by

THE BEST OF WORKMEN.

READY MADE CLOTHING of every description, and at prices to suit all parties.

ONLY ONE PRICE ASKED.

Quincy, August 31. tf

Jewett & Prescott's

SILK AND SHAWL STORE,

No. 2 Milk Street, Boston.

IMPROVED AND RE-STOCKED

For the Autumn Trade of 1850.

TO KEEP PACE WITH THE TIMES, we have just made Suitable Improvements in our well known Establishment, and have secured an assortment of

NEW SHAWLS,

SILKS, AND CLOAK GOODS,

that will distance all competition, without exception. We accordingly ask the attention of

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL PURCHASERS

to our variety of Black and colored Dress Silks, Satins, and Satins de Chene; Shawls of all kinds, including the celebrated Bay State Shawls; Paris Cloaks and Sacks, latest patterns; Thibet Cloths and Merinos; Silk and Woolen Fabrics for cloaks and dresses; Marceline Silks, and other Goods for trimming cloaks; Cashmere Scarfs; Watered Silks and wide Velvets; Crape Shawls; Bombazines; Alepines; and a large variety of similar goods.

To those who answer our call, we guarantee that the styles, qualities and prices shall meet their most sanguine expectations.

JEWETT & PRESCOTT,

No. 2, Milk Street.

Boston, August 31. 3mos

Notice.

THE Subscriber has by mutual consent, this day, withdrawn from the Quincy Granite Association, now doing business under the firm of Wright, Barker & Co.

DON CARLOS BLAKE.

Quincy, Jan. 1, 1851. 3w

Notice.

THIS is to certify that my wife, Nancy H Austin, has left my Bed and Board, and I hereby forbid any person or persons either harboring or trusting her on my account, as I shall pay no debts of her contracting.

S. L. AUSTIN,

Quincy, Mass, Jan. 13, 1851. 3w

DRY GOODS' NOTICE.

THE undersigned most respectfully inform the public that they keep constantly on hand a large Stock of

DRY GOODS,

well adapted to the wants of the community.

At all times can be found a good assortment of

Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinets and Doe-Skins, Prints, De Laines, Cashmeres, Alpaccas,

and a great variety of

DRESS GOODS AND SHAWLS,

Sheetings, Shirtings, Flannels, and Blankets,

With a good Assortment of such artices as are usually found in a well selected

Stock of Dry Goods.

Feeling confident that our prices will insure a ready sale, our GOODS will be freely shown to all wishing to examine them.

GEORGE SAVIL & CO.,

Washington Street, Quincy.

A few rods east of the Stone Meeting House.

Quincy, October 5. tf

Let the Public Call.

THE subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, stock of the best material only used, and the workmanship will vie with any other establishment

By attention to business and promptness to order a liberal share of support is solicited

RALPH LOWE.

Quincy April 13th.

NEW STORE! NEW GOODS!

AT THE OLD STAND,

Formerly occupied by Messrs. H. Pettes & Co. (who have removed to their new Granite Warehouse, Summer St

No. 224 WASHINGTON,

Corner of Summer Street, Boston.

GEO. W. PETTES

Has taken this well known stand, and will always be ready to show his customers the choicest, and in every respect the most desirable stock of

DRY GOODS,

WHICH CAN BE EXPOSED FOR SALE

The prices for all articles shown will be very low. No customer shall be able to better the purchase made at this store.

☞ Please call and examine the elegant Stock of

SHAWLS of all kinds,
SILKS " "
DE LAINES "
PRINTS "
HOUSE-KEEPING GOODS, of all kinds,
GLOVES AND HOSIERY "
TRIMMINGS "

And all sorts and kinds and qualities of Dry Goods, suited to the wants of families and always at LOW PRICES.

Whenever you visit Boston, visit this new and very convenient Store, and make your purchases too, if you would consult your own interest.

No. 224 Washington, corner of SUMMER ST., BOSTON.

GEO. W. PETTES.

Boston, Oct. 19th, 1850. 3mis

For Sale.

SEVEN PRIME COWS, and from 10 to 15 Tons fine ENGLISHHAY by

CHARLES P. TIRRELL.

Nov. 2 tf

1851.

THOMAS' Old Farmers' Almanac, for 1851, for sale wholesale and retail, at the

QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Quincy Nov. 2d. 1850. 3w

Ladies' Cashmere and Kid Gloves.

A good assortment for sale low

by JOSIAH BRIGH&M & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5. tf

New Fall and Winter Goods.

IN great Variety, for sale at the very lowest prices by JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5. tf

Pies, Puddings, Custards, &c.

MRS E HAYDEN has on hand, a variety of articles for flavoring, viz:—

Peach water; Rose water; etc., etc. Essence of Rose, Cinnamon, Lemon, etc.

Also—Sweet Marjoram, Sage, Summer Savory, Thyme, &c.

Quincy, Nov. 16. tf

Dyer's Washing Fluid.

A first rate article for washing clothes. For sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

W. Porter.

DEALER IN

Pine, Spruce and Hemlock

LUMBER,

CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,

LATHS, PICKETS,

CEDAR POSTS, &c.,

At his new Wharf near Brackett's.

Quincy, July 31 tf

Flour Barrels.

200 FLOUR BARRELS, for sale cheap by

J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, Sept. 7th. tf

Old Colony Railroad.

Depot Corner of South and Kneeland Streets

FALL Arrangement, commencing September 10, 1850 Trains leave Boston daily, except Sundays—

For Plymouth, 8 1-2 A M; 4 1-2, P. M.

For Bridgewater, 8 1-2 A. M; 4 1-2 P. M.

For Quincy and Braintree, 7 3-4, 8 1-2 A. M; 1 3-4, 3-4, 4 1-2, 9 1-4 P M.

For. Hingham and Cohasset, 8 1-2 A. M.; 3, 6 P M

For Milton, U. M., 9 3-4 A. M.; 1, 2 3-4, 5 1-2, P M.

Plymouth for Boston, 7 1-4 A. M; 3 1-4 P. M.

Bridgewater for Boston and Plymouth, 7 1-2 A. M.; 3 1-2 P M

Cohasset for Boston, 6 3-4, 8. A. M.; 4 P M.

Milton U M. for Boston, 8, 10 1-2 A M; 1 3-4, 4 3-4 P M.

Braintree for Boston, 7.18, 8 1-2, 8 40, 11 04, A. M. 2 48, 4 1-2, 5 13, P M.

☞ The 5 P M. Train from Boston for Plymouth, will not stop short of South Braintree

JOS. H. MOORE, Sup't.

Boston, July 25. tf

Trains leave Quincy for Boston as follows:—

7 24, 8 38, 8 47, 11 10, A. M.; 2 54, 4 39 5.16 P. M.

POST OFFICE.

QUINCY, January 4, 1851.

Advertising List.

A

Adams, Newel Mrs.
Anderson, John F
Allen, John

B

Brown, George S.
Belzer, Wm. R
Bass, George
Blake Samuel
Buckley, Thomas—2 L
Brown, Royal P
Brackett, Isaac

C

Chandler, L. W
Corbett, Michael—2 L
Calef, Nancy Jane
Collins, John
Collins, Michael
Carroll, Nancy

D

Downing, Samuel
Donehue, Martin
Dyer, S. S
David, Austin S

E

Edwards Alexander
Essig, Leopold

F

Fraly, Michael
Fairbanks, Josiah
Fry, William

G

Greene, Richard
Greene, Wm. S

H

Heath, Alfred
Haywood, Wm
Hethurston, Nathan
Holman, James
Hickey, George
Hickey, Margaret
Harris, Cath. F. Mrs
Hodgdon, John
Hall, Geo B. F
Hill, Henrietta
Hobart, Thomas

J

Jones, William—2 L

L

Laswardin, Mrs
Lyons, John
Leavett, J. Franklin
Lyner, Patrick
Long, Thomas
Lamb, Thomas

M

McGowan, James
Marmeon, Daniel
Mede, Daniel
Musey, Thomas
Maner, Peter
Marran, Bridget
McCurdy Robert
McGibney, Johanna
Murphy, Martin

N

Newcomb, Geo. Dr.
Newcomb, Alfred

O

O'Neil, John
Owen, Robert
O'Den, Michael

P

Page, Caleb C
Pierson, Ellen Mrs

R

Roberts, Thomas
Riordan, Owen
Ryan, Timothy

S

Sheldon, Parker C
Sleeper, Harvey W
Saunders, Lucretia
Sargent, Simeon—2 L
Sullivan, Anne
Sutherland George
Sheldon, Eliza

T

Thurlow, Samuel

W

Wendell, James
Wilson & Flint
Walker, Isaac
Williams, John
Walden, James

W. B. BUGBEE, Postmaster.

Quincy, Jan 4, 1851,

W B. Learned

HAVING taken the Store formerly occupied by E C. Redfern, and recently by D R Adams, takes this method of informing his friends and the public that he has just received and is now opening a well selected stock of

WATCHES

JEWELRY

—AND—

Fancy Goods.

Suitable for Christmas and New Year's Presents.

Persons wishing any thing in his line are invited to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

☞ Particular attention given to the REPAIRING of Watches and Jewelry.

Hancock Street, Quincy, Dec. 21, 1850. tf

Dissolution of Copartnership.

THE COPARTNERSHIP heretofore existing between the subscribers, under the firm of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO, is by mutual consent this day dissolved.

All persons having demands against said firm, are requested to present the same, and all persons indebted are respectfully requested to make payment to either partner,

JOSIAH BRIGHAM.
ISRAEL W. MUNROE.

Quincy, January, 1st, 1851

ISRAEL W. MUNROE.

WILL continue the business at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO, and hopes by close personal application to business to receive a continuance of the patronage so long and liberally bestowed on the late firm.

Quincy, Jan. 4th. 1851. 3w.

Pure Cider Vinegar.

BY the gallon or barrel, just received, and for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

POETRY.

A MOTHER TO HER ABSENT DAUGHTER.

How sadly pass the lingering hours,
How wearisome the day;
My hopes are crushed like withered flowers
That bloom'd but to decay.

How oft I miss thy smiling face,
And ever cheerful voice!
Oh hasten back to my embrace
And bid my heart rejoice:

None can describe the boding fears
That fill my anxious breast—
Nought can restrain the gushing tears,
That will not be repress'

The bird that leaves its parent rest,
O'er other lands to rove,
Can find no safer place to rest,
Than in its native grove.

The fragrant flowers to thee so dear,
That lately bloomed so bright,
Tho' tended with my utmost care,
Seemed ting'd with sorrow's blight.

I wander sorrowing here and there,
Through vacant room and hall,
Oft lingering near thy window where,
The silvery moonbeams fall.

When eve her pearly dew distills—
When fades the parting day,
A sadness o'er my spirit steals,
For thou art far away.

GOOD WE MIGHT DO.

We all might do good
Where we often do ill—
There is always the way,
If we have but the will;
Though it be but a word
Kindly breath'd or suppress
It may guard off some pain,
Or give pence to some breast.

We all might do good
In a thousand small ways—
In forbearing to flatter,
Yet yielding due praise—
In spurning ill humor,
Reproving wrong done,
And treating but kindly
Each heart we have won.

We all might do good,
Whether lowly or great,
For the deed is not gauged
By the purse or estate;
If it be but a cup
Of cold water that's given,
Like "the widow's two mites,"
It is something for heaven.

ANECDOTES.

Quaint Dialogue.—A passing traveller in the backwoods of America meets with settlers near a house and inquires: "Whose house?" "Moggs's." "Of what built?" "Logs." Any neighbors?"—"Frogs." "Your diet?" "Hogs." "How do you catch them?" "Dogs."

—

Mrs. Partington thinks that there will be such facilities for travelling bimeby, that we can go anywhere for nothing and come back again.

—

What is the difference between a schoolmaster and an engine driver?—One trains the mind, the other minds the train.

—

Cure for a Cold.—The following prescription has been taken from an old black letter book—A. D. 1430.

Putte your feette in hot water,
As high as your thighes;
Wrappe your head up in flannelle,
As lowe as your eyees;

Take a quart of rum'd gruelle,
When in bedde, as a dose;
With a number four dippe
Well tallowe your nose.

—

There is a great deal of philosophy in a dog's tail. It is as great a tell-tale as a lady's face. If a dog is pleased, his tail is immediately in a waggish humor—if he is afraid, it s opes—if angry, it "sticks out" You can tell the character and disposition of a dog by his tail, as well as Fowler can decipher yours from the "bumps."

—

John Neal predicts that the time will come when a man's perspiration will be turned to account as steam, and drive him up hill like a locomotive. The poet must have that time in his mind when he said:

The post-boys with mails would mount upwards like rockets,
By the force of steam engines at work in their pockets;
And on their return by the downward momentum.
Would come driving back as if the de—l had sent 'em

—

A coquette at a ball asked a gentleman who was adjusting her tucker, if he could flirt a fan? "No, madam, answered he, proceeding to use it, but I can fan a flirt."

—

Fears having been expressed that the great concourse of foreigners at the "World's Fair" will produce an epidemic in London, Punch inquires: "Could'nt the foreigners be pitched in tents on Blackheath and Battersea Fields, and their pulses felt, and their tongues looked to by the Board of Health, every day before they come to London?" This eminent quidnunc also expects the following importation of diseases:

The Black Jaundice, from America;
Palsy, from Russia;
Convulsion Fits, from France;
The Mumps, from Greece;
The King's Evil, from Naples;
Rickets, from Spain;
St. Anthony's Fire, from Portugal;
Dropsy, from Holland; and
The Scarlet Fever, from Rome.

—

"What "graphy" do young schoolboys like best? *Top*ography.

Watches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself in the Store of GEORGE B FOSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum,) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortment of

Gold and Silver

WATCHES,

Silver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Rich HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

His attention will be given personally, at all times to the REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF WATCHES, which his long experience in that department with Mr Jeffrey R Brackett, entitles him to the confidence of his friends and customers

☞His friends and acquaintance when in Boston are invited to call.

THOMAS S. JOHNSON.

Boston, Feb. 23. 1stf

Crockery and Glass Ware.

JUST added to our previous assortment, new and choice patterns of

Tea and Dining Setts, Washbowls, and Ewers.

H A RANSOM & Co.

Quincy Sept 1. tf

Brown's

ALMANAC, Pocket Memorandum and Account Book, for 1851, for sale at the

QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Quincy, Nov, 25, 1851.

Board in Quincy.

A Gentleman and his wife, or two single gentlemen, can have pleasant rooms and board, at the house of Misses J. B. & M. Townsend, on President's Hill, nearly opposite the depot

Quincy, Nov. 16. 3m

BROTHER JONATHAN.

PICTORIAL; for the Christmas Holiday and New Year

For sale at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE

Quincy, Dec 14, 1850 3w

For Sale.

20 GOOD PIGS: weigh from forty to eighty pounds

Enquire of DANIEL BAXTER

Quincy, Dec 14, 1850 2w

Hats and Caps.

2 CASES, Fall stylo, just received, and for sale cheap for cash, by

A. B. PACKARD.

Quincy, Dec 6. 6w

Apples and otatoes.

50 Bbls RUSSET and GREENING APPLES
200 bushels POTATOES of various kinds,

For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, Dec. 7, 1850

HAT AND CAP STORE.

A. B. PACKARD has remodled his Store, making the sales room twice as large as formerly, where he intends keeping a large stock of

HATS AND CAPS,

suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle-aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.

Also,

A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring styles.

Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Ginghams, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c.

With that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers' use

Quincy. April 13. tf

French Calf Boots.

MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a First Rate Fit WARRANTED, by W. S. UNDERWOOD,

Hancock St., Quincy,

Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.

Quincy, May 5. tf

SKATES.

40 Pairs of extra SKATES
For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, Dec 7, 1850

Beef and Pork.

A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere.

Also—Fresh BEEF and PORK, constantly on hand, and delivered to any part of the town free expense. H. A. RANSOM & CO.

m16 tf

Thirty dollars Reward.

THE above reward will be paid for information that will lead to the detection and conviction of the person or persons who entered the Evangelical Congregational Meeting House, in Quincy, on the morning of the 4th inst., and mischievously or maliciously damaged said House

N B. In consequence of repeated depredations in said House, it will in future be kept locked. In case of fire the key may be found at E. S. Fellows.

CHARLES HARDWICK, CHARLES SPEAR, HEZEKIAH PRINCE, } Parish Committee

Quincy, July 13th. tf

BACKGAMMON BOARDS.

VARIOUS Sizes: good finish; selling low at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE

Quincy, Dec. 14, 1850 3w

Estate of Simeon Williams

NOTICE is hereby given that the Subscribers have been appointed by the Judge of Probate for the County of Norfolk, Commissioners to receive and examine the claims of the several creditors to the Estate of SIMEON WILLIAMS, late of Braintree in said County, Boatmaker, deceased Insolvent, and six months from the 19th of October, A D 1850, is allowed unto the said creditors for bringing in their claims and proving their debts, and we shall attend to the duty of receiving and examining the same the house of David N Hollis on Washington street in said Braintree, on the third Wednesdays of February, March and April next, from two two four o'clock P. M.

JONATHAN FRENCH,
DAVID N. HOLLIS.

Braintree, Nov. 12th, 1850. n166w

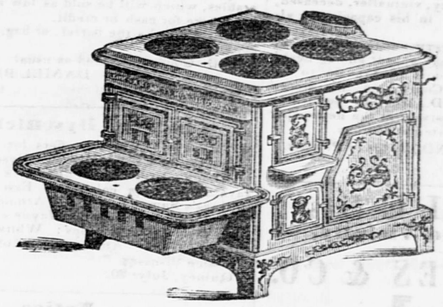
Flannels.

WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels Twilled and plain, an assortment just received and for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washington Street Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21

P. LOW'S HOT UNION AIR.

Cooking Stove and Fuel Saver



THIS is a most beautiful and extraordinary Cooking Stove. The even and regular application of the heat to the Oven, gives this Stove all the advantages of a brick Oven—while at the same time the boiler holes are so constructed that the heat is immediately applied to the boilers from the fire pit, which makes this stove the most complete and finished Air Tight Cook Stove in America.

AS A COAL COOKING STOVE,

it is just suited for the use of families in cities and villages, and will perform the cooking of a family of from 2 to 8, 10 or 20 persons with certainty and despatch. The fire-chamber is constructed of a size, form and depth, to burn coal with the greatest freedom and economy. WOOD may be used with equal advantage by simply dispensing with the brick lining of the fire-chamber.

A SUMMER APPARATUS

is attached to the front, affording, of itself, ample convenience for light summer work, without the unpleasing effects and expense of heating up the main body of the stove; it may also be used at the same time that the rest of the stove is occupied, greatly adding to its value, and rendering it altogether the most efficient Cooking Stove for the class of families for whom it is expressly designed, ever yet invented

Any person who will give this stove a fair trial will be convinced of its superiority for Economy, Convenience and Durability, over any other Air Tight Cooking Stove.

☞Its price brings it within the means of all families who want a good stove.

A pamphlet containing a description and directions for fitting up and using this Stove is furnished, gratis to every purchaser.

These Stoves of the different sizes may be examined at the

Tin and Sheet Iron Manufactory

of the Agent in this town.

E S FELLOWS, Agent for the above Stove, has also for sale at his Store, the REGULATOR, ECONOMISTS, and various other patterns of Cook Stove, as well as PARLOR, OFFICE, and CYLINDER.

—ALSO—

SHEET IRON, TIN AND COPPER WORK done to order,
Of the best Materials, and in a workmanlike manner.

Quincy, Sept. 1. tf

ALL READY!

AND NOW OPNING,

NEW STYLE FOR FALL AND WINTER TRADE,

JUST RECEIVED AT THE

Town Hall Cloth and Clothing Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD Respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made large additions to their present expensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would particularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect THEIR STOCK before buying elsewhere, feeling confident we can sell BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.

N. B—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN, ENGLISH and FRENCH and AMERICAN GOODS Some of the Richest Vest Patterns, and a HOST OF PANTALOONERY!

BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVERY DESCRIPTION ON HAND.

Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.

HATS, CAPS, &C.

P S—RUSSELL & CO., having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for public and private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of every article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.

——NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.——

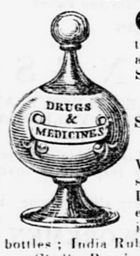
Quincy, March 23. tf

Mrs. . Hayden



GRATEFUL for the patronage she has received for more than twenty years, offers to her friends and the public an ENLARGED STOCK of the best

Family Medicines,

Selected and Prepared with care

—ALSO—

Various articles for the use of the sick, among which are, SPOUT DRINKING CUPS; Leech Glasses; Nursing Tubes, of Porcelain, ivory and silver, with and without bottles; India Rubber Breast Pumps, glass Pipes and Shells; Pratt's Patent Nursing Shields; India Rubber and Box Wood do; Bed Pans; Metal and Glass Syringes; Crain's, Ingall's and Chapin's Supporters; Horse Hair Mittens; English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow; Spread Plasters, on kid, cloth and paper; Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes: Dtistering Paper and Tissue Dressing; European Leeches, &c, &c.

Physicians' Prescriptions,

Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH.

She has also on hand and is constantly receiving the New and Popular Medicines of the day.

Washington St., rear of Stone Temple.

Quincy, Oct. 20. tf

Salt Pork and Beef.

A FIRST rate article of PORK and BEEF, packed by the subscribers and for sale by the barrel or in smaller quantities to suit purchasers, cheap for CASH J & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy. March 16th. tf

CROCKERY WARE

A Splendid Assortment of CROCKERY WARE just received and for sale at the Union Store, on Washington Street, Quincy

Blue Stone Chine Tea Setts -	1.75
Mulbury " " " - -	1.75
Light Blue " " " - -	1.37
White " " " - -	1.37

— AND —

A Good Assortment of GLASS & BRITANIA OIL & FLUID LAMPS

Quincy, Dec 7 1850 tf

BAY STATE

Long and Square Shawls,

OF the best styles, for sale at the lowest prices Ladies are invited to examine them before purchasing.

JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5. tf

QUINCY HALL

Clothing Depot.

On the Weymouth and Braintree Turnpike.

Special Notice.

JOHN DINEGAN.

Has just received a supply of NEW GOODS from some of the most celebrated Manufacturers in Europe. Consisting in part of HEAVY WEST OF ENGLAND

PILOT & BEAVER

CLOTHS, suitable for OVERCOATS or SACKS, and comes very cheap

Do very heavy DRAB for travelling or Riding Surtouts Also, Several splendid pieces

French and German Broadcloths!

of the most fashionable colors, worn and suitable for tasty Promenade or Business Coats.

VESTINGS.

SILK VELVET, PLAIN & FIGURED, some of the richest Paterns ever introduced in this market Also, SATINS of every design and pattern, Velocias, and other styles.

PANTALOON GOODS.

A first rate assortment, always on hand from the lowest price to the most costly.

READY MADE CLOTHING

of a superior quality, to suit all in want.

Our present stock of Goods is the richest and best selected, that is has ever been our pleasure to present to our friends and customers, and as the price has been fixed to each article, which we feel must be satisfactory to the buyer, ONE PRICE ONLY.

Hosiery.

Just received, a good assortment of FLANNEL SHIRTS AND DRAWERS.

GLOVES, SUSPENDERS, &c.

A complete assortment of MEN and BOYS CLOTH CAPS

Quincy, Nov. 9th. tf

Particular Notice

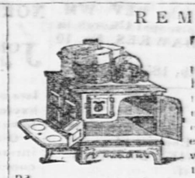
THE Subscribers respectfully inform their customers and the public, that on and after the First of OCTOBER next, all goods will be sold at reduced prices for cash only.

All those who wish to buy cheap, are invited to call, as the prices cannot fail to suit them.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy. Sept 7th. tf

REMOVAL.



THE subscriber takes his method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr Samuel Copeland, it being more commodious and better adapted to his business; and also, would tender his sincere thanks for the liberal share of patronage which he has received during the past year His former customers and the public generally are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves mong which is the embodying, in the highest degree of perfection, everyo essential quality requisite for any latitude. This Stove presents itself externally in a plain dress, with just and admirable proportions, giving it the appearance of a chaste and tastefully made piece of Cabinet Furniture. Internally, the location and capacity of the Fire Chamber is such as to remove effectually the objections often made to Air-Tight Cook-Stoves for country use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely what its projectors intended it should be, viz: the largest and most perfect ever constructed in a family Stove. The Flues, upon which the great responsibility and reputation of a stove depends, differ from any ever before used, and are of such construction and capacity as to ensure the most perfect draught, without liability to fill up, and are easily kept clean. Nearly one hundred of this stove have been sold the past year and all have given the utmost satisfaction.

New England Air-Tight,

Also—A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYLANDER STOVES, together with a good assortment of TIN, BRITANIA, SHEET IRON and

Japaned Ware.

CHARLES HOLMES.

Quincy, Jan12. tf

QUINCY WASHING MIXUTRE

THIS article has been tested by upwards of fifty families during the past week, and all have called it equal to anything of the kind which they have used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and sell it at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart, full directions accompanying it.

By this improvement, it is expected the dry goods market will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this will wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so often will new be bought.

ELISHA PACKARD.

tf

Wood, Wood.

FOR sale, a constant supply of Hard and Soft, at Granite wharf, Quincy Point,

by WHITON & ADAMS.

Quincy, August 17. tf

Periodica Agency.

C. GILL & Co. are Agents for all the Quarterly, Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free from any expense for Postage or transportation. All who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time for which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices. tf Quincy, Dec. 22.

Preparties for the Hair.

THE celebrated "Der Schon Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Gloss; Camm's Spanish Lustral, or medicated hair preservative; Tompkins' Chlorion australe; Batchelor's instantaneous hair dye; Jules Haules vegetable hair dye. For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

Cider Vinegar.

JUST received, and for sale by the subscribers twenty barrels extra Cider vinegar.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850. tf

Wool Frocking.

200 TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.

Also—FROCKS ready made

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Sept. 20. tf

New Goods.

—o—

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.,

HAVE recently made large additions to their Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows:

Mouslin DeLaine, a good assortment, very low;
Prints and Ginghams in great variety;
Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters
Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors
Wool Yarn, of all colors;
A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and 12 1-2 cts per yard;

Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other Goods, all of which will be sold at the

Very Lowest Prices.

Quincy, August 31 s tf

Salt Pork.

A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and deliverep at any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quncy March 9th, tf

Velvet Trimmings.

JUST Received, an assortment of Velvet Trimmings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by

GEO SAVIL & Co., Washington St.

Quincy, Sept 21. tf

Paper Hangings.

3 TO 400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 24th tf

Bay State Long Shawls.

AN Assortment just received of the different sizes Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the lowest prices, by GEO SAVIL and Co., Washington Street, Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

PORK & BEEF.

SALT-PETRED BEEF and Bacon, of the first quality, will be kept constantly on hand during the season, and sold as cheap as can be bought at

Any Store in Town for Cash.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quincy, March 24. tf

For Cash Only.

Wood. Wood. Wood.

FOR sale one Frieght of good Eastern Wood, just landed, on Granite wharf, Quincy Point.

Apply to WHITON & ADAMS.

Quincy, April 20th. tf

PUBLISHED EV

NUMBER 4.

JOHN A. GRIN

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

Two Dollars per annum in advance—T Lars and Fifty Cents if not paid till the e months—Three Dollars if delayed till t ration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will be previous to the payment of all arrearages the option of the proprietor When subscri their papers discontinued, they will give notic effect at the time their subscription expires subscriber will be held responsible for the of his paper so long as it is sent to his addre Post Office, Tavern, or any other place w he may have ordered it, until legally notifi contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuous ed at the customary prices. The number of required must be marked on the advertisemen wise they will be continued until ordered charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is their own immediate business; and all adver for the benefit of other persons, as well as advertisements, and advertisements of ar sent in by them, must be paid for at the time

Business letters and communications addres Editor, postage paid, will receive early attent

☞Single copies of the paper, Five Cents

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized pay and requested to procure subscriptions:

JOSIAH BABCOCK,	Quincy Rail
GEORGE H. LOCKE,	" Stone Q
ORIN P. BACON,	Dorchester.
FISHER A KINGSBURY,	Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVERLY,	Abington.
SAMUEL A TURNER,	South Scituat
N B OSBORNE,	Salem
FREEMAN HUNT,	New York C

MISCELLANY.

THE GOLDEN MAXIM.

BY ARTHUR WALBRIDGE LUNN.

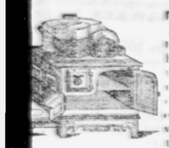
Experience is the best teacher—but means a gentle one. He lays on the without mercy, and if we do not go in t way it is certainly not for want of h thrashed when we go in the wrong. Th of it is, that we generally gain our when it is too late, and understand the we are crossing only when we are our journey's end. With the resting view we begin to regret our misspe and grow aware how much we have from the proper route.

Mr. John Richardson was one of t respected of London citizens. He had young in the Metropolis very foot-so with five-and-nine-pence in his pocket. course of thirty years he had increased and-ninepence to fifty thousand pounds was generally considered clever; but, the man had no cleverness in his com The luck was more than supplied by t session of that valuable quality called p He was slow, but sure; dull, but intel short seeing, but sharp eyed within h He passed through life acquiring few many guineas. He began ignorant, ended ignorant; he began poor, and rich.

Mr. John Richardson, at the age found himself retired from business, a with one son. Alfred, the son, was a young man. He despised trade and t and particularly despised the trades father. He owned to a very dim notio east-end of London, but paraded his knowledge of the west. His associat entirely aristocratic. Lord Cheroot, ward Allright, and the honourable To devi were his sworn friends. It was e pensive friendship certainly for amon they borrowed of him to the extent of dred pounds a month or so, not one fa which they made even a show of retu But he had his money's worth in praise assured him that his spirit, his wit, his were quite extraordinary, and, for a almost miraculous. To be sure there manner—an air—a something—only q quired by companionship with persons but he had improved greatly in this they said, and would in time, be perfe this was averred to his face; and if his back their remarks were differe they afforded them amusement, and ga no pain.

One evening, Mr. John Richardson, spectable elderly, well-to-do individu suddenly taken ill. He went to bed—h er rose again. Just before his death h for his son Alfred, and taking his han tionately, delivered himself thus, in a voice:—"Son Alfred, I am about to before I do so, I want to say a few wo have always made it a rule to do ev in a business-like manner. I shall le more than fifty thousand pounds, all estly, and by hard work. There is s else I shall leave, almost as valua tached by a green ribbon to the pare which is written my will, you will fin ed paper, containing the wisest sente put together. By acting in the spir maxim I made all my money; and by it you may use well the money I m not much of a philosopher, son Alfre say that all a man need know is co that maxim. Do not take it only in sense; it applies to every situation and if people only understood it be wouldn't be such fools. As you d venerate my maxim, so you will fa per." Soon after pronouncing thos the old gentlemen expired. At the p

REMOVAL.



THE subscriber takes this method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr. Samuel Copeland, it being more commodious and better adapted to his business; and also, would tender his sincere thanks for the liberal share of patronage which he has received during the past year from former customers and the public generally are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves among which is the

New England Air-Tight,

combining, in the highest degree of perfection, every essential quality requisite for any latitude. This stove presents itself externally in a plain dress, with neat and admirable proportions, giving it the appearance of a chaste and tastefully made piece of Cabinet furniture. Internally, the location and capacity of the Fire Chamber is such as to remove effectually the objections often made to Air-Tight Cook-Stoves for family use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely what its projectors intended it should be, viz: the largest and most perfect ever constructed in a family stove. The Flues, upon which the great responsibility and reputation of a stove depends, differ from any before used, and are of such construction and capacity as to ensure the most perfect draught, with facility to fill up, and are easily kept clean. Already one hundred of this stove have been sold the past year and all have given the utmost satisfaction.

Also—A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYLINDER STOVES, together with a good assortment of TIN, BRITANIA, SHEET IRON and

Japaned Ware.

CHARLES HOLMES.

Quincy, Jan12. tf

QUINCY WASHING MIXUTRE

THIS article has been tested by upwards of fifty families during the past week, and all have called it equal to anything of the kind which they have used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and sell at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart, with directions accompanying it.

As this improvement, it is expected the dry goods market will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this mixture will wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so much will new be bought.

ELISHA PACKARD.

tf

Wood, Wood.

FOR sale, a constant supply of Hard and Soft, at Granite wharf, Quincy Point,

by WHITON & ADAMS.

Quincy, August 17. tf

Periodica Agency.

T. GILL & Co. are Agents for all the Quarterly, Semi-Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free from any expense for Postage or transportation. All who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be exchanged or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices. tf Quincy, Dec. 22.

Preparation for the Hair.

THE celebrated "Der Schon Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Gloss; Camm's Spanish Lustral, or Medicated hair preservative; Tompkins' Chlorion Wash; Batchelor's instantaneous hair dye; Jules Allen's vegetable hair dye. For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

Cider Vinegar.

JUST received, and for sale by the subscribers Twenty barrels extra Cider vinegar.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850. tf

Wool Frocking.

300 TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.

Also—FROCKS ready made

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Sept. 29. tf

New Goods.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.,

HAVE recently made large additions to their Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows: Mouslin DeLaine, a good assortment, very low; Prints and Ginghams in great variety; Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors Wool Yarn, of all colors; A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and 12 cts per yard;

Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other goods, all of which will be sold at the

VERY LOWEST PRICES.

Quincy, August 31 tf

Salt Pork.

A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quincy March 9th, tf

Velvet Trimmings.

JUST Received, an assortment of Velvet Trimmings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by

GEO. SAVIL & Co., Washington St.

Quincy, Sept 21. tf

Paper Hangings.

TO 400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 24th tf

Bay State Long Shawls.

AN Assortment just received of the different sizes Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the lowest prices, by GEO. SAVIL and Co., Washington Street, Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

PORK & BEEF.

SALT-PETRED BEEF and Bacon, of the first quality, will be kept constantly on hand during season, and sold as cheap as can be bought at

Any Store in Town for Cash.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quincy, March 24. tf

For Cash Only.

Wood. Wood. Wood.

FOR sale one Freight of good Eastern Wood, just landed, on Granite wharf, Quincy Point.

Apply to

WHITON & ADAMS.

Quincy, April 20th. tf

QUINCY PATRIOT.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.....OVER MESSRS. JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO'S STORE.....HANCOCK STREET.

NUMBER 4. QUINCY (MASS.) SATURDAY, JANUARY 25, 1851. VOLUME 15.

JOHN A. GREEN,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance—Two DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid till the end of six months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till the expiration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will be stopped previous to the payment of all arrearages unless at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers wish their papers discontinued, they will give notice to that effect at the time their subscription expires. Every subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of his paper so long as it is sent to his address at the Post Office, Tavern, or any other place wheresoever he may have ordered it, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, otherwise they will be continued until ordered out and charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business; and all advertisements for the benefit of other persons, as well as all legal advertisements, and advertisements of auction sales, sent in by them, must be paid for at the usual rates.

Business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.

☞Single copies of the paper, FIVE CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscriptions:

JOSIAH BABCOCK,	Quincy Railway.
GEORGE H. LOCKE,	" Stone Quarries.
ORIN P. BACON,	Dorchester.
FISHER A. KINGSBURY,	Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVERLY,	Abington.
SAMUEL A. TURNER,	South Scituate.
N. B. OSBORNE,	Salem
FREEMAN HUNT,	New York City.

MISCELLANY.

THE GOLDEN MAXIM.

BY ARTHUR WALBRIDGE LUNN.

Experience is the best teacher—but by no means a gentle one. He lays on the rattan without mercy, and if we do not go in the right way it is certainly not for want of being well thrashed when we go in the wrong. The worst of it is, that we generally gain our wisdom when it is too late, and understand the country we are crossing only when we are just at our journey's end. With the resting place in view we begin to regret our miss-spent time, and grow aware how much we have strayed from the proper route.

Mr. John Richardson was one of the most respected of London citizens. He had arrived young in the Metropolis very foot-sore, and with five-and-nine pence in his pocket. In the course of thirty years he had increased the five-and-ninepence to fifty thousand pounds. This was generally considered clever; but, in truth the man had no cleverness in his composition The lack was more than supplied by the possession of that valuable quality called prudence. He was slow, but sure; dull, but industrious; short seeing, but sharp eyed within his ken He passed through life acquiring few ideas, but many guineas. He began ignorant, and he ended ignorant; he began poor, and ended rich.

Mr. John Richardson, at the age of sixty, found himself retired from business, a widower with one son. Alfred, the son, was a spirited young man. He despised trade and tradesmen and particularly despised the tradesman, his father. He owned to a very dim notion of the east-end of London, but paraded his intimate knowledge of the west. His associations were entirely aristocratic. Lord Cheroot, Sir Edward Allnight, and the honourable Tom Daredevil were his sworn friends. It was rather expensive friend-ship certainly for amongst them they borrowed of him to the extent of a hundred pounds a month or so, not one farthing of which they made even a show of returning.—But he had his money's worth in praise. They assured him that his spirit, his wit, his sagacity were quite extraordinary, and, for a citizen, almost miraculous. To be sure there was a manner—an air—a something—only to be acquired by companionship with persons of birth; but he had improved greatly in this respect, they said, and would in time, be perfect. All this was averred to his face; and if behind his back their remarks were different, why they afforded them amusement, and gave him no pain.

One evening, Mr. John Richardson, that respectable elderly, well-to-do individual, was suddenly taken ill. He went to bed—and never rose again. Just before his death he called for his son Alfred, and taking his hand affectionately, delivered himself thus, in a broken voice:—"Son Alfred, I am about to die, and before I do so, I want to say a few words, as I have always made it a rule to do everything in a business-like manner. I shall leave you more than fifty thousand pounds, all got honestly, and by hard work. There is something else I shall leave, almost as valuable. Attached by a green ribbon to the parchment on which is written my will, you will find a sealed paper, containing the wisest sentence ever put together. By acting in the spirit of that maxim I made all my money; and by acting on it you may use well the money I made. I'm not much of a philosopher, son Alfred, but I say that all a man need know is contained in that maxim. Do not take it only in its vulgar sense; it applies to every situation in life; and if people only understood it better, they wouldn't be such fools. As you despise or venerate my maxim, so you will fail or prosper." Soon after pronouncing those words, the old gentlemen expired. At the proper time the will was produced and read. Attached to it, sure enough, by a green silk ribbon, was a small sealed paper, on the back of which was written in German text:—"The Golden Maxim." The anxiety was intense as the man in authority broke the seal, and opened the mysterious paper. With a loud clear voice, he gave forth the contents, which were as follows:—

"You must pay the best Price if you want the best Article!"

At this strange end to their expectations, the auditors were variously affected. Some laughed—some whistled—some very angry; but not one, certainly, felt the least respect either for the maxim or the maxim giver. Alfred, for whose special benefit the seal had been broken, did not affect to conceal his contempt. As soon as the company had departed, and he was alone, he soliloquized thus:—"Well, this is pleasant, cuse me! The old fellow must not only bore me with his musty maxim, but render me ridiculous before my friends! As for the fifty thousand pounds, I'm so far obliged to him, but I want none of his narrow-minded posthumous advice how to use it and conduct myself in the world. These slow-goers are always so ready with their counsel—and a confounded deal more ready than welcome! I can take care of myself, or I'm mistaken."

The first thing he did, to show that he could take care of himself, was to sell the old house and the old furniture, and take residence in a more fashionable situation, which he immediately set about furnishing. But here one of his peculiarities came into operation. In spite of being foolishly extravagant, he had a great notion of bargaining; so he went to a cheap establishment, and purchased his furniture, and proudly did he chuckle when he saw the shining mahogony, the brilliant carpets, the resplendent gilding, and thought how little money he had given in return for these comforts and luxuries. It was not long, however, before the shinning mahogany went to pieces, the brilliant carpets faded and wore out, and the resplendent gilding pealed off. "Hump!" exclaimed Alfred, musing; "dad was right, certainly, here. As far as mere buying and selling went he know something, though he was an ignoramous on other points. Yes; I suppose, in trade, the cheapest things are the dearest. —you must pay the best price if you want the best article."

He now gave himself up entirely to the society of his somewhat loose, but well born, associates. Notoriety was the object of his existence. He wished to rank among the eccentric roues of the day, and become celebrated for breaking lamps, beating policemen, driving over old women, purloining knockers, and insulting street passengers; but either he had less spirit or more sense than the rest—for in drunkenness, folly, brutality, and vice, they went far beyond him. Whilst their names were known far and wide, and their deeds were imitated, he was known only as third rate genius, and more an imitator himself than an original worthy of imitation. He retired from the field considerably worse in pocket and constitution." Alas!" said he, "there was more in that fantastic maxim than I suspected. It does not apply to trade only. I was willing to purchase notoriety, and find, unhappily that the first quality of that commodity costs more than I can afford. It was foolish to wish to obtain it; but more foolish to expect to obtain it cheaply. Yes; you must pay the best price if you want the best article."

He has now bidden farewell to his unworthy companions; and resolved to pursue a better path. Love entirely occupied his thoughts.—He selected a beautiful, accomplished, and amiable girl, and thought that if he could induce her to be his wife happiness, would be his portion forever. But she was not easily won. There were some points in his conduct which she wished to see altered before she could prefer him to all others. These concessions he was not exactly inclined to make, and there was Mary Tompkins a very pretty girl, who was quite ready to have him just as he was. He married Mary Tompkins. Six months after marriage she ran off with Ensign Jenkins.—"Ah!" Sighed Alfred, "what an error did I commit. I lost a charming creature from idleness and pride. In proportion to the pain of acquisition, so would have been the pleasure of possession—You must pay the best price if you want the best article."

He had arrived at a time of life when love generally yields to ambition. Alfred determined to become great—and great as a philosopher He would examine into the nature of man and the constitution of society. And endeavor to leave the world wiser and better than he found it. He read—he meditated—he wrote—he published. But the course of his reading and meditation was very prudently and daintily in accordance with popular notions; whence it happened that the books he wrote and published were trite and common place. He gaiden no reputation as a philosopher, but he lost none as a man. Truth was not in his compositions, and consequently, defermation and abuse were not in the criticism on them. "I see clearly," said he, "that philosophy fame and the world's love are incompatable with each other. Every man who greatly benefits his fellow creatures is hated and despised, while living, by the majority of those he serves. The immortality of an inovater is purchased dearly indeed.—You must pay the best price if you want the best article. His hair was at this time beginning to grow grey, and the "old gentlemanly vice" stirred him exceedingly. "I will make money," exclaimed he. "True I have already some thousands; but a wise man should consider these merely as seed to produce a plentiful crop. I am not young enough to enter trade regularly, but I will speculate. That is the way to make a fortune in a few years"

Accordingly, he bought shares in Joint Stock Companies, and became a trafficer in stock of all sorts, "Bull," "bear," "scrip," "premium" were familiar words. He thought he dreamed of nought but speculation—of shares going down or getting up the market—of paid up and unpaid up capitol.

But commercial matters, even the most promising are uncertain. Alfred's Joint Stock Companies went successfully to the dogs, and all his stock evinced the greatest alacrity in sinking. A few knowing ones became astonishingly rich, but Mr. Alfred Richardson was not a knowing one, and lost nearly all he had in the world, Some must suffer that others may enjoy! Such is the rule of our charming competive civilization.

Mr. Richardson retired to a garret in the neighborhood of Clarkwell, to meditate on his fortune seeking. He came to the conclusion that wealth was most certainly procured by industry and self denial, and that here as elsewhere, you must pay the best price if you want the best article.

He had managed to preserve from the wreck of his property just enough to exist upon, and he emyloyed his time chiefly in walking about, and viewing, with unavailing regret, those places where he had formerly exercised influence. But whether this had a bad effect on his spirits or from whatever cause it might proceed, his health gradually become worse, until at las' he was unable to stir from his room — His old and severely punished son, however once more to call a proper medical adviser, but availed himself of the service of Mr. Abraham Solomons, who assured him that he was not only the cheapest but the cleverest Surgeon in London! Mr. Abraham Solomons gave him some hope of recovery; but finding that he got no better, he changed his mind and declared the case hopeless.

"Mrs. Dickinson," said our unfortunate hero, "I am dying. You have been a kind landlady, and shall have all I possess. I fall a victim to my neglect of a truly noble maxim. Oh! Mrs. Dicken-on, take warning by my example, and never yield to indolence and vanity.—you must pay the best price if——"

His voice failed; he never spoke again.—As through life, he understood not the Golden Maxim, so, in death, he was unable to pronounce it!

TAKING THE CENSUS.

BY OCEANUS.

'Madam, I have called to take the sensus.'

'The senses, is it; and what like do ye call the same?'

'I wish to send a return to Washington of the number of your family.'

'Shure, now, it's joking ye are. Is it Congressmen you would make uv us?'

'Oh, no, it's only to find out how many souls there are in the Union.'

'Well, thin, ax mee the questions, and if they are dacent, it's meeself as will answer.'

'Begin with the oldest, and inform me their names and occupations.'

'First, there is Teddy—and a fine broth uv a boy he is—he's forty-five years old, and is an elevator and discinder by thrade.'

'A what, madam? I do not understand.'

'It's Inglish I'm spaking; pure Malasian Inglish.'

'I do not apprehend you.'

'Apprehend me, is it, ye dirty loon? It's more nor the likes uv you can do the same.—For two pays I'd skin ye as I would a pratie.'

'Don't get into a passion; you misconceive me. I merely wished to say I do not understand your husband's trade.'

'Why don't ye spake Inglish thin? Teddy carries up bricks for new houses and brings them down from old ones.'

'I perceive, he is a laborer.'

'Just the same, vulgarly speaking?'

'In what county was he born?'

'Balinalee, County Longford, in ould Ireland, and may the devil burn the spalpeens that druv us from the graue sod.'

'Never mind, madam; I would willingly hear your grievances, but my time is precious I have but six months to complete my return. Now, your name next, if you please.'

'Me name's Biddy. Be the same token as I was blest be the praste be name of Bridget.'

'Now, your age?'

'The devil roast ye, and is it a lady's age, ye would be after axin her to her own face?'

'Madam, it is not my intention to insult you; but these questions must be asked, and there is a heavy penalty incurred by those who refuse to answer, which can be recovered by law.'

'Is it the law ye would be after threatening me wid, and me son Pat one of the Polace. too? Do ye think it's his blissid murther he'd be saying in humbo, when it's only a word he'd have to speak to the Mare to get her out?'

'Am I to understand then, you refuse to give your age?'

'Just the same, and I defy you to find it out.'

'It's not so very material, so I shall put you down at fifty years.'

'Murther! and a lie is it ye would be afther sinding to the President when he can say I am only forty-two, if he but tuk the throuble to examine the parish register in Roscommon where—'

'Thank you, madam, and now we will proceed with the rest.'

'But ye haven't axed all the questions about mesilf yit.'

'I have your name, age, and place of birth

'Thrue for ye, ye cunning divil; and don't ye want to know my thrade?'

'Not at all; I have your husband's.'

'But it's mesilf that thinks ye ought to put it down. I'm a char, and iv yerself or any of yer friends have any job in me line, going out to days work or the likes, ye can jist spake a good word for a dacent body?'

'I shall certainly always remember you! Now for the next oldest.'

'That's Pat, and he's twenty-three, baring a few months.'

'I think you said he is a Policeman?'

'Yes, shure, but can't ye put him down a Public Funkshunary, as he calls himself? It sounds more illegant, and should me friends in the ould country iver happen to say the book ye are writing, it's proud they will be.'

'Who comes next?'

'The next will be Dennie. He is twenty-one.'

'What is his occupation?'

'Divil the thrade he's got. Isn't he waiting for a vakincy in some of the departments? and he will get it, too, for he has a mighty influence at the Powls. He runs with the Fire Inginis, when they will let him pull the rope; and when they won't, why he jist hayves stones at thim. Independant is Dennis—mighty independent.'

'Who next? Please name them to me in rotation.'

'Nixt comes Maggy; she's nineteen. Thin Tim and Miles, they are seventeen next lady's day.'

'Yes, sure, they were all thray uv them born twins; and thin there's Kate, she's fourteen; and Biddy, she's twelve; and Dan O'Connell, he's ten; thin comes Sukey, she's eight; and Luke he's four; thin Jim, he's two; and—that's all at present!'

'Why, madam, you have a large family, and you are fortunate to have them all living, for I presume you have had no death in your family circle.'

'And is it the graif uv my heart ye would be now rakin' up about my childer that is dead, waked and buried in Ould Ireland? Haven't I lost four as swate babes as iver was born?'

'Excuse me, but in enumerating your family I forgot to ask how many was born in the country?'

'Jist none at all! Didn't we come over the deep say just a twelvemonth last Easter?'

'Indeed! How came it then that your son is a public officer?'

'Why, didn't he fight and vote at the powls the last election, and what for shouldn't he be awarded for his patriotism?'

'Are there any who cannot read and write?'

'And why should we do the same when the blissid prasie can do it for us? No, divil a one baring Pat, and he has learned to write his name, jist to be able to sign the documents.'

'Well, madam, that is all. I believe you have no more in your family, you say?'

'Not at prisint; but there will be another before your six months are up, and I would like ye to put it into your book, for it will be a genuine native, and there's no knowing what the country may do for it hereafter.'

'I can't do that; besides I don't know what gender it will be.'

'Arrah, now, can't ye jist have a place to put it down in? and ye can jist call at the time ye finish, and by that time the blissid crayture will say the light.'

'Well, madam, I will bear you in mind.—Good day.'

'Good day, and if you don't come and put in the baby, then devil a question I'll answer ye for the next ten years.'—N. Y. Sun.

HOWARD THE PHILANTHOPIST.

Howard was a singular being in many of the common habits of life. He bathed daily in cold water, and, both on rising and going to bed, swathed himself in coarse towels, wet with the coldest water. In that state he remained half an hour or more, and then threw off, refreshed and invigorated, as he said beyond measure. He never put on a great coat in the coldest of countries nor was ever a minute under or above his time of appointment for twenty-six years. He never continued at a place or with a person a single day beyond the period fixed for going in his life; and he had not, for the last ten years of his life eaten any fish flesh or fowl; nor sat down to his simple fare, of tea, milk, or rusks, all that time. His journeys were continued from prison to prison, from one group of wretched beings to another, night and day; and when he could not go in a carriage, he would walk. Such a thing as an obstruction was out of the question.

Some days after his return from an attempt to migrate the plague at Constantinople, he favored me with a morning visit to London.—The weather was so terrific, that I had forgot his inveterate exactness, and yielded up to the hope of expecting him. Twelve at noon was the hour, and exactly as the clock struck he entered the room; the wet—for it rained in torrents—dripped from every part of his dress like water from a sheep just landed from its washing. He would not have attended to his situation, having set himself down with the utmost composure, and begun conversation, had not made an offer of dry clothes.—"Yes," said he, smiling. "I had my fears, as I knocked at your door, that we should go over the old business of apprehension about a little rain water, which, though it does not run off my back as it does that of a duck, does me as little injury, and after a long draught, it scarcely less refreshing. The coat that I have on has been as often wet through as any ducks back in the world, and indeed gets no other cleaning. I assure you a good soaking shower is the best brush for broadcloth. You, like, the rest of my friends, throw away your pity on my supposed hardships, with just as much reason as you commisserate the common beggars, who being familiar with storms, necessity and nakedness, are a thousand times (so to cible is habit) less to be compassioned than the sons and daughters of ease and luxury, who, accustomed to all the enfeebling refinements of feathers by night, and fire by day, are taught to shiver at a breeze. All this is the work of art, my good friend; nature is intrepid, hard, and adventurous; but it is a practice to spoil her with indulgence from the moment we come into the world. A soft dress and soft cradle begin our education in luxuries, and we grow not more manly the more were gratified; on the contrary, our feet must be wrapped in wool or silk, we must tread upon carpets, bathe, as it were, in, fire, and fear the least change in the water.

SINGULAR TRAP.

They have a singular contrivance for catching wolves in Norway. It consists of a circle of about six or eight feet in diameter, in which stakes are driven so close to each other that a wolf cannot creep through, and which are high enough to prevent him from leaping over them. In the midst of the circle a single stake is driven, to which a lamb or kid is bound. Around this circle, a second is formed, of which the stakes are as close and as high as the inner one, and a distance not greater than will permit a wolf to pass conveniently, but not to allow his turning round. In the outer circle a door is formed which openes inwards, and rests against the circle, but moves easily on its hinges, and fastens itself on shutting. Though this door the wolves enter, sometimes in such a number as to fill the enclosure. The first wolf now paces the circle in order to discover some opening through which he can get at the lamb. When he comes to the back of the door which is in his way, he pushes it with his muzzle, it closes and fastens as he passes by, and goes the round for the second time, without being able either to enter the inner circle or to retreat from the outer. At length he perceives that he is a prisoner, and his hideous howling announces to those who have constructed the trap, that he is taken, who immediately come and despatch him. It is said that this sort of trap is also used for foxes, and even occasionly for mice.

SINGULAR RECORD OF SELF-DESTRUCTION.

The following is from an article in the Journal of Psychological Medicine and Mental Pathology, showing the progress of a wretched man towards destruction, who deliberately destroyed himself by the fumes of charcoal:—

"I wait until eight o'clock to light the charcoal. 7h. 55m.—The pulse beats eighty strokes a minute. 7h. 58m.—Ninety pulsations and upwards. 8h.—I light the charcoal. 8h. 3m.—The fire is out, and I am obliged to re-light it. Slight headache 8h. 9m—Eighty-five pulsations a minute; the chimney of the stove has just fallen. 8h. 13m—The headache increases; the room is full of smoke, which gets into my throat. Prickling sensations in the eyes; a feeling of constriction in the neck: sixty-five pulsations. 8h. 20m.—Combustion proceeding actively. 8h. 22m.—I have smelt at some smelling salts, but it has done more harm than good. My eyes are becoming watery. 8h. 23m.—A pricking feeling in my nostrils; I am beginning to suffer.—8h. 25m—I drink a little water. I can hardly breathe. I stop my nostrils with my handkerchief. 8h. 32m.—I feel better with my nose stopped up; the pulse beats sixty-three. 8h. 33m.—The lights are losing their brightness I upset the water, which I have great pleasure; in drinking. 8h. 35m—Headache augments. I feel a shivering throughout all my frame.—8h. 40m—The lights of the candle grows more feeble than that of the lamp. Only one furnace burns well. The stove does not burn at all. 8h. 52m.—Headache more violent. The lamp continues to burn better; in truth I turn it up from time to time. The stove is burning up. 8h. 49m.—When I keep my nostrils closed my eyes water more freely. The candle gives only a glimmering light. My ears tingle. 8h. 51m.—The candle is almost extinguished; the lamp still burns. I feel sick, and should like some water. 8h. 53m.—I suffer all over. I stuff my nostrils more tightly. 8h. 54m.—The candle is extinguished, the lamp still burns. 8h. 56m.—Eighty-one pulsations. My head feels very heavy, and I can hardly write. The furnaces are all well alight. 8h. 58m.—My strength is failing; if I had water I would take some. The lamp is still alight. The headache increases; the oppression is redoubled.—9h.—I make a last effort. I have taken some water, but all is over. I do not go straight off, I suffer horribly. The lamp is still burning.—9h. 1m.—I feel a little better. I have taken some more water. The lamp grows dim. A delirium seizes me. 9h. 5m.—The ? * *"

QUINCY PATRIOT.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 25th 1851

John A. Green, Editor.

THE BAKING BUSINESS.---Messrs. J. & H. H. Faxon have purchased of L. G. Horton Esq., his interest in Baking business, which he has for many years managed in this town, and now retires in comfortable circumstances. The Faxons, who succeed him, are gentlemen of great energy, untiring efforts, and a spirit to make their business popular and acceptable to the wants of the public They are now erecting a spacious Bake-house, near their Grocery store, and intend to have it furnished with all the improvements of the age. It is their intention to employ the best of workmen, use no article that is not of excellent quality, and make their bread to excel all competitors. As a specimen, the "huge loaf" received, speaks well of their future efforts.

FIREMAN'S BALL.---A civic and firemen's ball is to be given at the Town Hall in this town, under the auspices of Niagara Engine Company, No. 1, on the evening of the 14th, of February next. Kendall's Band of Boston,---eight pieces, has been engaged---a courteous and efficient board of Managers selected---and exertions are being made to render the affair one of the most pleasant and brilliant that has ever occurred in the town. As the season for this merry and healthful recreation is drawing to a close, all who desire to participate should secure a ticket in season.

MECHANIC'S MUTUAL ASSOCIATION.---An institution, styled "The Mechanics Mutual Benefit Association," located at Springfield, was chartered by the Legislature of this State, about two years ago. This praiseworthy society has a cash fund of nearly twenty thousand dollars---a guaranty fund of about thirty thousand dollars---and a careful, worthy and efficient Board of Officers. Several persons in this town, have already enjoyed its advantages. It is managed with strict attention so that its design shall not be perverted; and all promptly receive their dues on proper application, having their demand legally attested. George H. French Esq., of this town, is the only Agent for Quincy, Braintree and Weymouth, and from whom further information may be obtained.

"FLAG OF OUR UNION."---One of the most racy and excellent papers that we have received, is the one above named, and which has been missed from our desk for the last two weeks. We hope that friend Ballou the editor has not "cut our acquaintance," or that the liberal and enterprising Gleason, the deserving proprietor, has not applied the expunging principle." "The Flag of our Union," is decidedly the best paper of its kind published---its reading of a varied, interesting, and elevated character---and the mechanical execution a beautiful specimen of newspaper printing.

STATE ELECTIONS.—From every town but one in the Second District, give Upham, Whig, 4108; Rantoul, democrat, 2813; Sewell, 1619; Scattering, 74. Mr Upham's gain is 1325, but he lacks 296 of an election. In the Third District, in all Amesbury, Duncan, whig, has 979 majority. In the Fourth District, Thompson, whig, in thirty-seven towns, has, 1529 gain but lacks about 1100 of an election. In the Fifth District, in thirty-eight towns, Barton, whig, has 2510; Allen, free soil, 3592; Knowlton, democrat, 1852. The majority against Mr Allen is 387, which the towns to hear from will decrease, but not overcome. In the Sixth District, Mr Davis, the whig candidate, has made a gain of 863, and is elected by between three and four hundred majority. In the Seventh District in thirty two towns, Goodrich, whig, has made a gain of 319, but is again defeated. In the Tenth District, fourteen towns give a gain for Mr. Scudder, whig, of 546, and he is no doubt elected.

VOTE FOR SENATOR IN THE HOUSE.---A sixth balloting has been had with the following result: Whole number 382. Necessary to a choice, 192; Charles Sumner had 187; Winthrop, 169; others, 26, and 3 blanks; Mr Sumner failing of an election by five votes. On the 7th ballot, he lacked only four votes.

The Senate have voted. Charles Sumner receiving twenty-three votes---all others, fifteen---so he was declared elected by that branch.

P. S. Yesterday, there were two more ballotings in the House for United States Senator, Charles Sumner lacked five votes of an election.

HOUSE ROBBERS.---The house occupied by Mr Harvey French, and Mr Sargent, was entered one night during this week, and robbed of clothing, etc, to the amount of about fifty dollars.

MISSOURI SENATOR.—Jefferson City, Jan, 21. Three ballots have been had for Senator to-day. The last stood Benton 58, Gryer 74, scattering 24 The House than adjourned for dinner.

PRESIDENTIAL ITEMS.---It is a current report that there is a pledge in circulation at Washington, in both Houses, against supporting any man for President or Vice President who is not in favor of the compromise measure.

The whig candidate, Mr. Gryer, has finally been elected to the U. States Senate, from Missouri., for the ensuing six years, commencing on the 4th of March, next.

"SOLON" has been received, and will appear next week.

SNOW STORM IN ALABAMA.—Our Alabama friends it appears have been visited with what they pronounce "a Yankee notion," in the shape of a snow storm. This innovation of State right, and southern principles produced among all classes, quite an excitement—Unionist and Dis-unionist—Democrat and Whig, black and white, turned out en masse to agitate the subject.

Here is what the Tuscaloosa "Monitor," of the 9th, says upon the occasion :—

On Thursday last, that very unusual visitor, a regular snow storm, "dropt in," upon us with as little ceremony as if it were an a familiar acquaintance. For several hours the sky seemed to be made up of the scattered contents of some half a million of feather beds, and any number of well-shaken meal-bags. Large quantities accumulated in every dry place, and if Mother Earth had not been so much in the "melting mood," her fair countenance would have been speedily hidden by a thick veil of spotless white.

This instance of "Northern agression" (as the Montgomery Journal calls it) seems to have created much excitement every where. In our streets the excitement was intense. It was dangerous for a man to put his nose outside of his door, and it seemed to make no difference whether he was "sound upon the Southern question" or not. Our whole community seemed to be metamorposed into a tribe of reckless Ishmaelites---every man's hand was raised against his neighbor, and even the outlets of editorial sanctums were besieged with most annoying pertinacity. Neither gravity, modesty, nor virtue (hinc illae lachrymae) was a protection against the ruthless attacks.

THE CHEAP POSTAGE BILL---The following is the main feature of the Bill which passed the House on Friday Jan, 17th—by a vote of 130 to 75. It is thought it will pass he Senate with a few amendments.

The House of Representatives by a vote of 130 to 75, passed the bill to reduce and modify the rates of postage. It is divided into seven sections. The first section fixes the rate of postage on each letter, not weighing over half an ounce, at three cents, for all distances, and three cents for each additional half ounce or fraction of an ounce that the letter may weigh. It also provides that no post office or post route be discontinued in consequence of this bill; that new post offices and routes shall continue, to be established, as if the bill had not passed; and that the compensation of postmasters shall not be decreased by its operation.

The second section fixes the rate of one cent for every newspaper; or other printed matter, not weighed over two ounces; and for each additional ounce or fraction of an ounce, one cent Newspapers delivered in the State where printed shall be charged only half these rates: and all newspapers sent to actual subscribers in the county where printed, and for a distance of 30 miles shall be free, Fifty per cent of postage to be deducted on magazines, when prepaid.

The third section provides for the coining of three cent pieces by the mints, which will be a legal tender of debts of thirty cents.

Section four requires that deupty postmasters shall be supplied with three cent stamps for the prepayment of postage; to counterfeit the stampt is declared to be felony.

Section five appropriates a million and a half of dollars to meet any deficiency in the post office receipts.

Section six provides for the publishing of the list of letters uncalled for.

Section seven authorizes postmasters to establish in town or cities, sub post offices, and appoint carriers to take them to the post office, for which service not over two cents are to be charged; but the amount so paid to carriers is never to exceed the amount received for such service.

TWO WEEKS LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.---The Steamers Cherokee and Promethus arrived at New York, on Tuesday morning last, with dates from California to Dec. 18; bringing two millions of gold

The Philadelphia was to sail from Chagres on the 11th, with the mails for Havana and New Orleans. The California arrived at Panama on the 3d, the Isthmus on the 7th, and the Falcon at Chagros on the 10th—the latter was to sail for New York on the 13th—the Cherokee does not bring the mail.

The cholera has entirely disappeared from Kingston. Another fire has occurred at San Francisco, destroying property to the amount of $100,000. The fire commenced in the store of Cook and Brothers, foot of Sacramento city.

Markets at San Francisco were declining, owing to an overstock of goods.

The news from the mines is generally of a favorable character.

Improvements in San Francisco are rapidly progressing, and the city presents a far different aspect to what it did last winter. The miners are hard at work, and their labors yield a fair return. Thousands are wintering in the mines preparatory to commencing operations in the spring, and improving the opportunity afforded by the temporary cessation of the rains to work sufficiently to pay expenses.

An exceedingly rich silver placer has been discovered a few leagues from Montery, where a company is forming to work the mines upon an extensive scale.

A strong tide of immigration is settting towards the Atlantic States.

The cholera has entirely subsided to San Francisco and Sacramento City.

The diggings on the Feather River continue to yield good returns.

The total amount of gold cleared at the Custom House at San Francisco, from November 12th, 1849, to Dec. 13th, 1850, was nearly $29,000,000.

Among the passengers in the Prometheus are A U Edred of Providence T H Clark of New Hampshire, H W Bicknel of Rhode Island, H O Bartley of Maine. L D Davenport of Massachusetts, D N Wright of Keene, N. H. W Harmond of Providence, D J Dodge of Maine, E H Wade of New Bedford, Capt V Harding of Massachusetts, E Darling of Roxbury, J Hutchinson of Connecticut, J W Bigelow of Massachusetts, N Chase of Providence, W Clark of Maine. R Matthewsen of Providence' S N Fiske and B W Studley of Massachusetts, R C Hawley and E S Darling of Falmouth, Me. J C Clark of Boston, C C Greene and J Reynolds of Providence, S A Cornel of Rhode Island, W Winston of Nantucket, E Mulford of New Haven, C G Wadleigh of Me.

The San Francisco Herald thinks that Col. Fremont's chances for the Senatorship are desperate Col. Weller's friends are sanguine that he will be the successful candidate. Judges Bryant and Geary are also among those mentioned for the office.

The Fremont mining bill causes complaint and murmuring among the miners, and adds to the unpopularity of the author.

A very rich lead mine has just been discovered about 11 miles from Johnson's Ranch.

Snow has fallen to the depth of several inches at Nevada previous to the 6th of December.

Samuel Slocum, of Salem, Mass., was drowned by falling from the steamer New World.

A party of seven Americans had been attacked by Indians beyond Matiposi, and killed.

No case of cholera at San Francisco for three days.

MARRIED.---Moses Rogers, of Newburyport, to Miss Mina Frederica Boeling.

DEATHS.---John Smith, of Boston, aged 32; John J. Kelly of Smithfield, Rhode Island; Samuel D. Simmons, of Hingham, Mass; W. W. Forsaith, late pressman in the Boston Times office; M. Root, of New Bedford; B. R. Manchester, of Rhode Island; David G. Bartlett, of Agusta, Me.: Willard Barton of Medway, Mass.; Barnabas Cary, of do.; Thomas Ash, of Conn.

The town of Charlotte, N. C., is nearly destroyed in consequence of the ravages of the small pox.

WISCONSIN.—The Legislature of Wisconsin was organized on the 6th inst. F. W. Horn was elected speaker. The Govenor in his address, says that the finance in the State are in a fine condition. The expenditures during the year amounted to $62,746; receipts $93,789.

GETTING ROUND THE LAW.---The authorities of San Francico passed a law, that all the bar rooms should be closed at 12 o'clock at midnight. The keepers complied shut up at 12, and opened five minutes afterwards for the next day.

TALL TREES. A letter from California claims for that state valuable lumber interests. The writer says :

"Indeed, of all the wonders I have ever seen in the vegetable kingdom, nothing will begin to compare with the magnificent and lofty growths of cedars and pines which embellish the hills and mountains that lead to and make up the great Sierra Nevada range. The magnificence and grandeur of scenes in which these trees abound cannot be imagined by any man who has not seen them, and felt the awe and sublimity to which they give rise. I have counted in a circle fifty feet in diameter, thirteen pine trees, not one of which was less than three feet in diameter, or less than two hundred and fifty feet in heighth, nor was any one of them marked by the slightest curve or inclination.

COOL.—A correspondent of the Worcester Spy says: "Remove the State House from Boston, and you shorten the session one half; and what is of infinitely greater importance, you get rid, in a measure of the bribing, browbeating, corrupting power of that city in your legislation.

A DRY DOCK IN CALIFORNIA.—A despatch from Washington states the Secretary of the Navy has made a verbal contract with several parties in New York, for the construction of a dry dock in California. This is a matter of vast importance to the shipping in the Pacific, and it is hoped that the project may be speedily carried into execution.

The council of the Cherokees have imposed a tax on all free negroes and mulatoes residing in the nation.

SAGACITY OF THE HORSE.—In the State of Ohio, a man named Adams was killed by the kick of a horse. The owner of the horse, between whom and the deceased some difficulty had occurred, was arrested on a charge of murder, it being thought that he had taught the animal to kick, and knew that he could make it kick whenever he pleased! If the owner of the horse is convicted, we think his quadruped must be indicted as an accessory.---Post.

Ex President Van Buren is among the delegates appointed by the New York State Agricultural Society, to attend the World's Fair in London.

SPIRITUAL KNOCKINGS.---A drunken fight in a grog shop.

Horace Greely it is said, will visit the World's Fair at London.

The common schools in Indiana are in a wretched condition. There are fifty thousand adult persons in the State who cannot read or write.

Near Pottsville, Pa., some children at play found strings attached to bushes and leading under the snow where were found concealed hundreds of dollars worth of gold rings, pencils, chains and unfinished jewelry.

AN IRISHMAN'S WILL.---"I will and bequeath to my beloved wife Bridget all of my property without reserve, to my oldest son Patrick one half of the remainder, and to Dennis, my younger son the rest. If any thing is left, it may go to Terrence O'Cary, in sweet Ireland."

A returned California dog has made his appearance at his old home, in Burlington, Iowa. He was the property of a Mr Pearson, who came home by steamer, and it is supposed that the dog, having been left behind, took the most direct route home, and made the overland route alone.

It should be generally known, that a small quantity of vinegar will generally destroy immediately any insect that may find its way into the stomach, and a little salad oil will kill any insect that may enter the stomach.

An eminent artist is about, getting up a "panorama of a law suit." It opens in the year one and closes with doomsday.

A singular phenomena occurred at Rochester, New York, on the evening of the 16th, in the appearance of the moon. It looked like a liquid ball of fire, with two rings surrounding it, variegated with the colors of the rainbow, and continued to enlarge for about two hours, when they disappeared.

There is a negro living near Palestine, Illanois, who is the father of fifty-six children, has buried seven wives, and now, at the age of more than ninety years, is courting for the eight wife.

WASHINGTON MONUMENT.—The Chickasaw Indians have in council, contributed $200. During the discussion of the matter, it was stated by the members that the nation had never shed the blood of white men in war, and that they venerated the memory of Washington as much as their white brethren.

Two young men, 'with a humming in their heads,' retired late at night to their room in a crowded inn, in which, as they enter, are revealed two beds; but the wind extinguishing the light, they both, instead of taking, as they supposed, a bed apiece, got back to back into one, which begins to sink under them and come around at intervals in a manner very circumambient, but quite impossible of explication. Presently one observes to the other---

'I say Tom, somebody's in my bed.'

'Is there?' says the other, 'so there is in mine! Let's kick 'em out'

The next remark was---'Tom, I've kicked my man overboard.'

'Good!' says his fellow toper; 'better luck than I---my man has kicked me out---right on the floor!'

Their relative positions were not apparent until next morning.

ETHIOPIAN ENTERTAINMENT.

The Butler Company of Serenaders, composed of five COLORED MEN, gave an Entertaiment, in this town, last Evening, to a crowded and fashionable house. It was a good representation, and passed off with much enthusiasm. We have seen many exhibitions of the kind, but none equel to this They repeat their Entertainment on MONDAY EVENING next---when all who would enjoy a hearty laugh and witness a happy delineation of the negro character, go early and secure your seats, as this is the last opportunity,

NOTICE.

Quincy Lyceum.

REV. T. PARKER, may be expected to deliver the Thirteenth Lecture, before the SOCIETY the present season, on THURSDAY Evening next, commencing at 7 o'clock.

H. O. WHITNEY, Secretary.

Temperance Lecture.

Bro. Charles W. Slack of Boston, will deliver a lecture on Temperance, and the order of the Sons of Temperance, at the Town Hall in Quincy, on SUNDAY EVENING at half past six o'clock.

The public are respectively invited to attend.

Per order of the Quincy Stone Division No. 73 Sons of Temperance.

JAMES F. COE, R. S.

Quincy Total Abstinence Society.

At the Annual Meeting of the QUINCY TOTAL ABSTINENCE SOCIETY, held at the Lyceum Room, on the evening of the 13th inst. the following gentlemen were elected officers of the Society for the ensuing year :

William Pratt, President,
John Hardwick, Vice President,
Jonathan Baxter, Recording Secretary,
Seth Adams, Corresponding Secretary,
Abram Prescott, Treasurer.

DIRECTORS :

Bndjamin Bass, Charles Hardwick, jr. George S. T. Whiting, George Veazie, William Nash, Joseph G. Brackett and William Parker, jr.

"Grand Festival of the Season."

Will be holden in the own Hall, WEDNESDAY EVENING, January 29th, for the benefit of the First Universalist Society in Quincy

Good Singing, good Speaking, and good Music will be provided and other amusements, that the friends may enjoy themselves. The evening entertainment will close with Dancing.

It is expected that the friends will provide for the the tables. All donations will be sent to the Hall on that day, and there will be a Committee to receive them.

Tickets 25 cents, to be had at the door and of the Committee.

Doors open 6 o'clock.

T. C. WEBB, Chairman.
W. R. BROWN, Secretary.

In addition to the above as some difficulty has occurred on former occasions respecting Cloth ing we have chosen a Committee to take charge of the Clothing, who will be responsible for all that is committed to their charge.

Wm. R. BROWN
J. G. BRACKET
W. ABERCROMBIE } Committee on Clothing.

Quincy, January 9th, 1851.

☞Shirts.....Shirts☜

I. W. MUNROE, has just received a prime assortment of

☞.....FINE SHIRTS.....☜

of the latest style, which will be sold at very low prices.

Quincy, Jan. 25, 1851. tf

Shop Worn Ladies & Children's

☞.....SHOES.....☜

FOR Sale—at any price you please to give, at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

Quincy, Jan. 25th, 1851. tf

50 PRS. KID GLOVES, a little spotted; for sale at 61 4 per pair by

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy Jan. 18, 1851 tf

REMNANT DE LAINES, from 2 to 6 yds., for sale low, at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

Quincy, Jan 11, 1851. tf

Super Cashmere Scarfs.

A GOOD Assortment of Colors and Sizes, just received and for sale very low, at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

Quincy, Jan. 18, 1851. tf

New England Protective Union.

DIVISION.....No. 180.

AT the STORE recently occupied by Mr. Frederick Hardwick on Franklin street, may be found a good assortment of

GROCERIES, CROCKERY and GLASS WARE.

Together with a supply of

BOOT MAKERS FINDINGS.

— ALSO —

BEEF,
PORK,
SAUSAGES,
TRIPE,
LARD,
MACKEREL,
PICKELS,
POTATOES, &c.

All of which will be kept constantly on hand, and will be sold, at a small advance from cost, for cash.

The public are invited to call, and examine our goods, and become acquainted with our mode of trade

N B—The spacious Hall over the store will be let on favorable terms.

☞Goods delivered to any part of the town free of cheargе.☜

Quincy, Jan 11, 1851. tf

Executors's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the Will of

LUDOVICUS HOLBROOK,

late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Yeoman, deceased, and has accepted said trust And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to

NOAH TORREY, Executor.

Weymouth, Jan. 1, 1851. 3w*

Bakery Business.

THE subscribers respectfully inform the public that they have commenced the baking business at the bakery formerly occupied by L. G. Horton, and hope by their constant attention to the business to merit a share of the public patronage.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Jan. 18 th, 1851. tf

Executor's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the Will of

BETSEY LEWIS,

late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, widow, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to,

LEMUEL HUMPHREY, Executor.

Weymouth, Jan. 18, 1851. 3w*

Wanted

BY THADDEUS M. H. ROWELL, two first-rate Light Brogan Makers; to such, steady employment and the best of prices will be given. Also, one or two good Fitters, to which the highest price will be paid; or will take one young woman to learn to fit.

To two single men Shop Room and Board can be obtained.

For further particulars, please call on the Subscriber—third house on Squantum road.

THADDEUS M. H. ROWELL

Quincy, Jan, 18, 1851. 4w

Israel W. Munroe.

OFFERS for sale at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO, a good assortment of

ENGLISH and WEST INDIA GOODS, CROCKERY, GLASS and HARD WARE, SHOES, HATS, and CAPS, PAPER HANGINGS,

And almost every article kept in a variety store, at the lowest prices for cash or approved credit.

Quincy, Jan 11, 1851. tf

WHITNEY BLANKETS & RED COMFORTERS, for sale at reduced prices, by

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, Jan.. 11, 1851. tf

JUST received, a good assortment of GENTLEMENS', LADIES and MISSES

INDIA RUBBER SHOES

of the best quality, for sale cheap, by

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, Jan. 11th, 1851. tf

Administratrix's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

DANIEL NOLEN,

late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Boot Tree, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to

BRIDGET NOLENS, Administratrix.

Weymouth, Jan, 11, 1851. 3w*

Sloop for Sale.

SUITABLE FOR THE STONE BUSINESS.

FOR Sale, the SLOOP ALMIRA, now lying at Weymouth, near Graves' Mills. The said Sloop is in good order, and every way calculated for the above business—for which purpose she has been a number of years employed. Her Sails are nearly new, having been in use only a few months.

She will be sold on reasonable terms by application to

DAVID PRATT, Middle st. Weymouth, Mass.

Weymouth, Jan. 11, 1851. 4w*

Let the Public Call.

THE subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, stock of the best material only used, and the workmanship will vie with any other establishment

By attention to business and promptness to orders a liberal share of support is solicited.

RALPH LOWE.

Quincy April 13th.

Wanted to Hire

A MAN without a family, to take the care of the BARN and STOCK, until the first of April next Enquire of

NOAH CURTIS.

Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. 2w

BROAD CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, TWEEDS and VESTINGS, for sale at a great discount from former prices.

Please call and examine before purchasing, at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

For Sale.

THE late residence of the RE ALLEN, near the Episcopal Exchange Street, Boston. Quincy Apply to THOMAS B. HAWKE West Woodstock, Conn. Sept. 7th, 1850.

To Let.

A House at Braintree neck, c for a large family Enquire DANIEL BA Quincy, Sept. 7th. tf

House For Sale

A one story and a half House, ent for two families, built stantial manner, with a SHED three fourths of an acre of LAN ted on Granite Street, and about one fourth from the South Quincy Depot. Will be bargain, and payments made easy. For pa inquire on the premises of

ALPHEUS Quincy, Nov. 16 6m

For Sale, or To Let.

A new and convenient Dwelli very pleasantly situated, on Street, with a barn and about o Land with Fruit Trees there leased or sold. Apply to

SAMUEL COPE Quincy, Nov 9th. tf

To Let.

ONE half of a good House, on Street, the other half occ Capt. Stevenson. Also a good Barn, with three acres of Land on the Braintree and Weymouth turnpike, a mile south of the Episcopal Church. E DANIEL BA Quincy, Sept. 28 tf

To Let.

A Convenient Dwelling Hou pleasantly situated on Comm recently occupied by the Widow with about three acres of good several fruit trees; an excellent well of wate small Barn Apply to SAMUEL COPEL Quincy, Aug. 16 tf

House and Land for Sal

FOR Sale, a story and a hal in good condition—with Barn two wells of Water, and other co ings—and nine Acres of excelle all under cultivation, with a thrifty orchar ple and Cherry Trees, thereon Situated o street, joining the Estate of William Newe about three quarters of a mile from the Dep said land, is well calculated for building lots se sold at a bargain. For particulars, enquir premises of

MICHAEL GI Quincy Jan 11, 1851. 2m

House for Sale.

FOR Sale a new and convenie ing House; one and a ha high; pleasantly situated on street; and an acre of land, with orchard of Apple, Cherry and Peach trees. Said property is pleasantly situated, and wi on reasonable terms. Inquire of, or address by application to

MICHAEL GIBERTY, Adams Quincy, Jan. 18, 1851. 2m

Real Estate for Sale.

WILL be sold at private sale, 1st of April next, EIGHT HOUSE LOTS on Mea dow; Nine House Lots on the Green These Lots are all pleasantly situated, with o of an acre of Land attached, and will be s ces varying from sixty to one hundred and lars per site. The lots on the Greenleaf P mand a fine view of Boston Harbor, adj Old Colony Railroad, and but a few rods principal Depot.

Also—On the Greenleaf Place, one lot of l a new dwelling House, suitable for two fam which will be sold so as to pay twelve per c

The Subscriber hopes his friends will a the sale of this property, as he desires to c counts with all persons

All indebted, he hopes will pay before t January, and all he owes, are desired to pr claims by that time.

HARVEY Quincy, Jan. 18, 1851. tf

CASH

PAID FOR

OLD IRON, COPPER, B
PEWTER, LEAD, GLASS
Rubbers and Ink Bottles.
COBBAGE, PAPER STOCK &
—BY—
A. B. PACKARD.

Strayed.

FROM the Subscriber, Dec. 5th, two RE ERS, marked N. on the rump Who return them, or give information so that the ound, shall be suitably rewarded.

THOMAS J. NIGHTIN Quincy, Dec. 28, 1850. tf

NEW ENGLAND PROTECT

Union, Division No. 17

JUST opened on Washington Street, a l below the Stone Temple, in the Store occupied by J. Williams.

The Company respectfully solicit the at the public to their mode of Trade, and ex themselves the quality of their Goods, and ces, which will be always exhibited upon board.

Their Stock of Goods consists of all kind ceries, Country Produce, FLOUR, CR WARE, &c.

All of Superior quality, and sold at t possible advance from cost.

No Damaged, Mixed, or inferior goods w ered for sale.

Quincy, Oct 3. tf

Notice.

THE Subscribers return their thank friends and the public generally who h ed them with their custom, and would say who are purchasing goods, that we inte a good assortment of English, West India Groceries of all kinds.

Also, Beef, Pork, Bacon, Lard, Mackere stables, which will be sold as low as can elsewhere for cash or credit.

Also, Flour by the barrel or bag, as low bought for cash.

N. B. Goods delivered as usual

DANIEL BAXTE Quincy, Oct. 5th. tf

England Protective Union.

DIVISION.....No. 180.

e STORE recently occupied by Mr. Frede- k Hardwick on Franklin street, may be good assortment of ERIES, CROCKERY and GLASS WARE.

Together with a supply of

OT MAKERS FINDINGS.

— ALSO —

RK,
SAUSAGES,
TRIPE,
LARD,
MACKEREL,
PICKELS,
POTATOES, &c.

hich will be kept constantly on hand, and old, at a small advance from cost, for cash. ublic are invited to call, and examine our d become acquainted with our mode of trade -The spacious Hall over the store will be onable terms.

ds delivered to any part of the town free of CE

y, Jan 11, 1851. tf

Executors's Notice.

CE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has n duly appointed Executor of the Will of

LUDOVICUS HOLBROOK,

Weymouth in the County of Norfolk, Yeo- eased, and has accepted said trust And all aving demands upon the Estate of the said are required to exhibit the same, and all ndebted thereto, to make payment to

NOAH TORREY, Executor,

outh. Jan 1, 1851. 3w*

Bakery Business.

subscribers respectfully inform the public they have commenced the baking business ers formerly occupied by L. G Horton, and their constant attention to the business to, hare of the public patronage.

J. & B. H. FAXON,

, Jan 18 th, 1851. tf

Executor's Notice.

CE is hereby given that the Subscriber h s n duly appointed Executor of the Will of

BETSEY LEWIS,

Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, widow, , and has accepted said trust. And all pe ng demands upon the Estate of the said de re required to exhibit the same, and all pe bted thereto to make payment to,

LEMUEL HUMPHREY, Executor.

outh, Jan. 18, 1851 3w*

Wanted

ADDEUS M H ROWELL, two first- Light Brogan Makers; to such, steady em- ment the best of prices will be given. Also, good Fitters, to which the highest price, ; or will take one young woman to single men Shop Room and Board can be.

her particulars, please call on the Subscri- house on Squantum road

THADDEUS M H. ROWELL

Jan, 18, 1851. 4w

Israel W. Munroe.

S for sale at the old stand of JOSIAH GHAM & CO., a good assortment of

and WEST INDIA GOODS, CROCK- ASS and HARD WARE, SHOES, HATS, and CAPS, PAPER HANGINGS, t every article kept in a variety store, at prices for cash or approved credit.

Jan 11, 1851. tf

NEY BLANKETS & RED COMFORT- for sale at reduced prices, by

I. W. MUNROE.

Jan. 11, 1851, tf

eived, a good assortment of GENTLE- , LADIES and MISSES

INDIA RUBBER SHOES

quality, for sale cheap, by

I. W. MUNROE.

Jan. 11th, 1851. tf

ministratrix's Notice.

is hereby given, that the Subscriber has, ly appointed Administrator of the Goods. of

DANIEL NOLEN,

eymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Boot ased, and has accepted said trust. And having demands upon the Estate of the d, are required to exhibit the same, and ndebted thereto, to make payment to

BRIDGET NOLENS, Administratrix.

th, Jan. 11, 1851. 3w*

Sloop for Sale.

LE FOR THE STONE BUSINESS.

e, the SLOOP ALMIRA, now lying at outh, near Graves' Mills. The said good order, and every way calculated for usiness—for which purpose she has been years employed. Her Sails are nearly been in use only a few months. e sold on reasonable terms by applica-

PRATT, Middle st. Weymouth, Mass. Jan. 11, 1851. 4w*

et the Public Call.

scriber, at the shop formerly occupied ua Jones, continues the Collar and Har- and Carriage Trimming, in all its branch- he best material only used, and the work- ll vie with any other establishment on to business and promptness to orde r e of support is solicited.

RALPH LOWE.

il 13th.

Wanted to Hire

without a family, to take the care of the and STOCK, until the first of April next

NOAH CURTIS.

Jan. 11, 1851. 2w

D CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTI- S, TWEEDS and VESTINGS, for sale scount from former prices.

l and examine before purchasing, at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

For Sale.

THE late residence of the REV. WM. ALLEN, near the Episcopal Church in Quincy Apply to THOMAS B HAWKES, No. 10 Exchange Street, Boston.

West Woodstock, Conn. Sept. 7th, 1850. 3m

To Let.

A House at Braintree neck, convenien for a large family Enquire of

DANIEL BAXTER.

Quincy, Sept. 7th. tf

House For Sale

A one story and a half House, conveni- ent for two families, built in a sub stantial manner, with a SHED and about three fourths of an acre of LAND, situa- ted on Granite Street, and about one fourth of a mile from the South Quincy Depot. Will be sold at a bargain, and payments made easy. For particulars, inquire on the premises of

ALPHEUS HUNT.

Quincy, Nov. 16 6m

For Sale, or To Let.

A new and convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated, on Common Street, with a barn and about one acre of Land with Fruit Trees thereon, to be leased or sold. Apply to

SAMUEL COPELAND.

Quincy, Nov 9th. tf

To Let.

ONE half of a good House on Liberty Street, the other half occupied by Capt. Stevenson. Also a good house and Barn, with three acres of Land, situated on the Braintree and Weymouth turnpike, about half a mile south of the Episcopal Church. Enquire of

DANIEL BAXTER.

Quincy, Sept 28. tf

To Let.

A Convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated on Common Street, recently occupied by the Widow Driver, with about three acres of good Land, with several fruit trees; an excellent well of water, and a small Barn Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND.

Quincy, Aug. 16. tf

House and Land for Sale.

FOR Sale, a story and a half House in good condition—with Barn, sheds, two wells of Water, and other out Build- ings—and nine Acres of excellent Land; all under cultivation, with a thrifty orchard of Ap- ple and Cherry Trees, thereon Situated on Adams' street, joining the Estate of William Newcomb, and about three quarters of a mile from the Depot. The said land, is well calculated for building lots, and will be sold at a bargain. For particulars, enquire on the premises of

MICHAEL GIRETY.

Quincy Jan 11, 1851. 2m

House for Sale.

FOR Sale a new and convenient dwell- ing House; one and a half stories high; pleasantly situated on Common street; and an acre of land, with a young orchard of Apple, Cherry and Peach trees, thereon. Said property is pleasantly situated, and will be sold on reasonable terms, by application to

MICHAEL GIRETY, Adams street.

Quincy, Jan. 18, 1851. 2m

Real Estate for Sale.

WILL be sold at private sale, until the 1st of April next,

EIGHT HOUSE LOTS on Mount Pleas- ant; Two House Lots on the Quincy Meadow; Nine House Lots on the Greenleaf Place. These Lots are all pleasantly situated, with one fourth of an acre of Land attached, and will be sold at pri- ces varying from sixty to one hundred and five dol- lars per site. The lots on the Greenleaf Place com- mand a fine view of Boston Harbor, adjoining the Old Colony Railroad, and but a few rods from the principal Depot.

Also—On the Greenleaf Place, one lot of Land with a new dwelling House, suitable for two families, and which will be sold so as to pay twelve per cent.

The Subscriber hopes his friends will aid him in the sale of this property, as he desires to square ac- counts with all persons.

All indebted, he hopes will pay before the 31st of January, and all he owes, are desired to present their claims by that time.

HARVEY FIELD.

Quincy, Jan. 18, 1851. tf.

CASH

PAID FOR

OLD IRON, COPPER, BRASS,

PEWTER, LEAD, GLASS,

Rubbers and Ink Bottles, Junk,

COBDAGE, PAPER STOCK &c.

— BY —

A. B. PACKARD.

Strayed.

FROM the Subscriber, Dec. 5th, two RED HEIF ERS, marked N. on the rump Whoever will return them, or give information so that they may be found, shall be suitably rewarded.

THOMAS J. NIGHTINGALE.

Quincy, Dec. 28, 1850. tf

NEW ENGLAND PROTECTIVE

Union, Division No. 179.

JUST opened on Washington Street, a few doors below the Stone Temple, in the Store recently occupied by J. Williams.

The Company respectfully solicit the attention of the public to their mode of Trade, and examine for themselves the quality of their Goods, and their Pri- ces, which will be always exhibited upon a bulletin board.

Their Stock of Goods consists of all kinds of Gro- ceries, Country Produce, FLOUR, CROCKERY WARE, &c.

All of Superior quality, and sold at the lowest possible advance from cost.

No Damaged, Mixed, or inferior goods will be of- fered for sale.

Quincy, Oct 2. tf

Notice.

THE Subscribers return their thanks to their friends and the public generally who have favor- ed them with their custom, and would say to those who are purchasing goods, that we intend keeping a good assortment of English, West India goods and Groce ies of all kinds.

Also, Beef, Pork, Bacon, Lard, Mackerel, and Veg etables, which will be sold as low as can be bought elsewhere for cash or credit.

Also, Flour by the barrel or bag, as low as can be bought for cash.

N. B. Goods delivered as usual

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5th. tf

Collector's Notice.

NEARLY $7 000 of the Taxes for the year 1850, remain unpaid; which by vote of the Town, are due the Treasurer on the 1st inst All resident Tax payers, who owe Taxes, will be called upon once to pay. If not paid when called upon, they must call at my house, and pay there, previous to the first of Feb- ruary next.

LEWIS BASS, Collector of Quincy.

Quincy, Jan. 4th. 1851. 3w

Bounty Land.

FOR SOLDIERS OF THE WAR OF 1812— and of any Indian War since 1790, their widows and minor children, obtained All claims, business, and suits, under any of the PENSION or PATENT LAWS of the United States,—also PROBATE and other business connected with the settlement of Es- tates, of deceased persons attended to by

EBEN. SMITH, JR.

Boston, Dec. 28, 1850. 3m

Judd's Medicated Liquid Cuticle

FOR closing wounds without sewing; forming a smooth coating over them, impervious to air and water, much superior in its healing properties to any other plaster, and so elastic as not to impede the mo- tion of a joint; an excellent remedy also, for Burns, Scalds, or any fresh wounds. Price—25 cents per bottle.

Sold by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, August 31. tf

Family Bibles.

WE continue to sell BEAUTIFUL QUARTO BIBLES, of superior quality and binding, at unprecedentedly low prices. Many have availed themselves of the opportunity offered in a former no- tice, to purchase a good Bible cheap We have more left, and invite all to call and examine before pur- chasing. C GILL & CO QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Quincy, Jan. 4th., 1850. 3w.

Apples.

BALDWINS AND RUSSETTS, of the first qual- ity, for sale by H. A. RANSOM.

Quincy, Oct 12, 1850. tf

Onions.

50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Oct 12th, 1850. tf

Cholera, Dysentery, &c.

MRS. E. HAYDEN offers for sale various arti- cles for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, &c.

Among which are Wi'eman's Vegetable Syrup; Java Balsam, (a celebrated East Indian remedy!) Billings's Summer Cordial; Arnold's Balsam; Hol den's Dysentery Cordial; Jayne's Carminative Bal- sam; Anti Cholera Drops; Whitwell's Sulphur and Charcoal Pills. And a variety of other articles, for the same diseases

Quincy, July 20. tf

LADIES

Of Quincy and Vicinity.

F. A. JONES & CO.

No. 1

TREMONT ROW,

BOSTON,

Would solicit your attention to the Immense Stock o NEW GOODS

which they now have, and are daily receiving by every foreign arrival, suitable to the

AUTUMN TRADE OF

1850.

Every variety of

SHAWLS,

from the most expensive Cashmere to the cheapest Wool Plaid.

SILKS

of every kind and quality, in Blacks and Colors, ALWAYS AT LOW PRICES.

FRENCH THIBETS

and

GERMA MERINOS

Of all Grades.

FALL AND WINTER

DRESS GOODS,

Our usual Assortment.

VELVETS,

All Widths and Colors.

FRENCH CLOAKS AND SACKS,

New Patterns and Trimmings.

Together with the Immense Variety of all other Styles Dry Goods Adapted to the Present Season.

Our long experience in the City Retail Trade en bles us to know the wants of our customers, and give us unusual facilities for supplying them During the whole of our business career, it has always been our intention to offer CHOICE GOODS at LOWER PRICES than any other house in the city. Whether we have done so, we leave the public to judge; but we have succeeded, by always keeping this point in view, in building up the largest in the City of Boston, as the crowds of purchasers who daily throng our Establishment, show.

EXCLUSIVE RETAIL TRADE.

Our increased facilities will enable us, during the present season, to offer still greater inducements, by the simple multiplication of business to such an ex- tent that we can afford to sell each article at a small advance from the cost of importation.

Every variety of goods, we shall, as usual, be sup- plied with In short, we mean to make our place of business a resort for the shrewdest and closest pur- chasers, as well as the most fanciful and particular, where any lady may be sure of finding all the styles of Choice and Fashionable Goods, always at the very lowest market prices.

Thankful for past favors, we solicit a continuance of that patronage which now enables us to refer you to past experience to prove that at no other place can you receive more fully the value of your money, than at our house, and we feel warranted in asserting that at no time have we been able to offer so many bar- gains at the present season.

TREMONT ROW.

Silk and Shawl Store.

F. A. JONES & CO.,

NO. ONE TREMONT ROW,

Nearly opposite head of Hanover Street,

BOSTON.

Boston, Sept. 7. 6mos

Commonwealth of Massachusetts,

NORFOLK, S. S. PROBATE OFFICE,

December, 20th A. D. 1850.

JOHN BEATH, the Administrator of the Estate of

JAMES T. LORING,

late of Braintree, in said County, victualler, deceased, having presented his account in his capacity for al- lowance,

Ordered, that said JOHN BEATH notify all persons interested therein, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same at a Court of Probate to be holden at Quincy, in said County, on the second TUESDAY of February, A. D., 1851, by publishing this order three weeks successively in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot printed at Quincy.

S LELAND, Judge of Probate.

Quincy, Dec. 28, 1850.

To Let.

A GOOD HOUSE, situated about half a mile East of the Episcopal Church. Possession given im- mediately. Enquire of DANIEL BAXTER.

Quincy, Jan. 11th, 1851. 3w

Notice.

THE Annual Meeting of the Members of the WEYMOUTH AND BRAINTREE INSTI- TUTION for SAVINGS, will be holden on MON- DAY, Jan 13, 1851, at the office of the Institution, for the choice of Officers for the year ensuing, and to transact any other business that may come before them.

A. S. WHITE, Treasurer.

Weymouth, Dec 30, 1850, 3w

Cider Vinegar.

FIRST rate article of good, Cider Vinegar. Just received and for sale by

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, August 17. tf.

Dyer's Washing Fluid.

A first rate article for washing clothes. For sale by H. A. RANSOM & Co.

Quincy, Sept 14. tf.

W. Porter.

DEALER IN

Pine, Spruce and Hemlock

LUMBER,

CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,

LATHS, PICKETS,

CEDAR POSTS, &c.,

At his new Wharf near Bracket's.

Quincy, July 31 tf

A CARD!

J. A. Holden,

Has just received the Fashions for the

FALL AND WINTNR

OF

1850.

He has also received Fashionable Goods of the present and approaching season, among which, are

FRENCH, GERMAN AND AMERICAN

Broadcloths !!!

of various colors and qualities.

A great variety of

PANT GOODS,

together with good styles of

VESTINGS, &C.

He is, therefore, more prepared to make Garments for his customers, which cannot fail to please them.

Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

Pure Cider Vinegar.

BY the gallon or barrel, just received, and for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

1851.

THOMAS' Old Farmers' Almanac, for 1851, for sale wholesale and retail, at the

QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Quincy Nov. 2d. 1850. 3w

Ladies' Cashmere and Kid Gloves.

A good assortment for sale low by JOSIAH BRIGH&M & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5. tf

For Sale.

SEVEN PRIME COWS, and from 10 to 15 Tons fine ENGLISH HAY by

CHARLES P. TIRRELL.

Nov. 2 tf

N. B.

Geo. Savil & Co.,

Dealers in

READY-MADE CLOTHING

OF

EVERY DESCRIPTION,

AT

ROUGH

&

READY HALL,

WASHINGTON STREET,

Quincy.

—O—

A LARGE ASSORTMENT

Constantly on Hand!!

AND FOR

SALE

At the Very Lowest Prices!!!

Also,

A GOOD SELECTION

OF

GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.

Quincy, Sept. 28. tf

W B, Learned

HAVING taken the Store formerly occupied by E. C. Redfern, and recently by D. R Adams, takes this method of informing his friends and the public that he has just received and is now opening a well selected stock of

WATCHES

JEWELRY

— AND —

Fancy Goods.

Suitable for Christmas and New Year's Presents.

Persons wishing any thing in his line are invited to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere

☞ Particular attention given to the REPAIRING of Watches and Jewelry.

Hancock Street, Quincy, Dec. 21, 1850. tf

Dissolution of Copartnership.

THE COPARTNERSHIP heretofore existing be- tween the subscribers, under the firm of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO., is by mutual consent this day dissolved.

All persons having demands against said firm, are requested to present the same, and all persons indebt- ed are respectfully requested to make payment to ei- ther partner,

JOSIAH BRIGHAM,
ISRAEL W. MUNROE.

Quincy, January, 1st, 1851

ISRAEL W. MUNROE.

WILL continue the business at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO., and hopes by close personal application to business to receive a continuance of the patronage so long and liberally bestowed on the late firm.

Quincy, Jan. 4th. 1851. 3w.

Notice.

THE Subscriber has by mutual consent, this day, withdrawn from the Quincy Granite Association, now doing business under the firm of Wright, Barker & Co.

DON CARLOS BLAKE.

Quincy, Jan. 1, 1851. 3w

FALL AND WINTER

Just Received at the

QUINCY HALL CLOTHING DEPOT,

ON THE

Braintree and Weymouth Turnpike.

JOHN DINEGEN

WOULD respectfully intimate to his friends and the public, that he has just received a very choice and select Stock of

Fall and Winter Goods!!!

Consisting in part of BLACK, BLUE, BROWN, OLIVE, DAHLIA, GREEN, and other Fancy color- ed Cloths, of

ENGLISH, FRENCH AND GERMAN

Manufacture.

Also—a good assortment of Plain and Fancy

Doe-Skins

for Pants.

VESTINGS

of the very latest designs. SILK VELVET, PLAIN and Figured SILKS and SATINS, VALENCIAS &c.

Gents wishing to obtain a Fashionable and tasty Garment of any description, are respectfully invited to call and see for themselves.

Garments made to order at very short notice, and by

THE BEST OF WORKMEN.

READY MADE CLOTHING, of every descrip- tion, and at prices to suit all parties.

ONLY ONE PRICE ASKED.

Quincy, August 31. tf

Jewett & Prescott's

SILK AND SHAWL STORE,

No. 2 Milk Street, Boston.

IMPROVED AND RE-STOCKED

For the Autumn Trade of 1850.

TO KEEP PACE WITH THE TIMES, we hav just made Suitable Improvements in our well known Establishment, and have secured an assortment of

NEW SHAWLS,

SILKS, AND CLOAK GOODS,

that will distance all competition, without exception. We accordingly ask the attention of

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL PURCHASERS

to our variety of Black and colored Dress Silks, Sat- ins, and Satins de Ghene; Shawls of all kinds, in- cluding the celebrated Bay State Shawls; Paris Cloaks and Sacks, latest patterns; Thibet Cloths and Merinos; Silk and Woolen Fabrics for cloaks and dresses; Marceline Silks, and other Goods for trim- ming cloaks; Cashmere Scarfs; Watered Silks and wide Velvets; Crape Shawls; Bombazines; Ale pines; and a large variety of similar goods.

To those who answer our call, we guarantee that the styles, qualities and prices shall meet their most sanguine expectations.

JEWETT & PRESCOTT,

No. 2. Milk Street.

Boston, August 31. 3mos

Notice.

THIS is to certify, that my wife, Nancy H Austin, has left my Bed and Board, and I hereby forbid any person or persons either harboring or trusting her on my account, as I shall pay no debts of her's con- tracting.

S. L. AUSTIN,

Quincy, Mass., Jan. 11, 1851. 3w

New Fall and Winter Goods.

IN great Variety, for sale at the very lowest prices by JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO

Quincy, Oct 5. tf

Pies, Puddings, Custards, &c.

MRS E HAYDEN has on hand, a variety of ar- ticles for flavoring, viz:—

Peach water; Rose water; etc., etc. Essence of Rose, Cinnamon, Lemon, etc.

Also—Sweet Marjoram, Sage, Summer Savory, Thyme, &c.

Quincy, Nov. 16. tf.

Old Colony Railroad.

Depot Corner of South and Kneeland Streets

FALL Arrangement, commencing September 10, 1850. Trains leave Boston daily, except Sun- days—

For Plymouth, 8 1-2 A. M.; 4 1-2, P. M.

For Bridgewater, 8 1-2 A. M.; 4 1-2 P. M.

For Quincy and Braintree, 7 3-4, 8 1-2 A. M.; 1 3-4, 3 4, 4 1-2, 9 1-4 P. M.

For Hingham and Cohasset, 8 1-2 A. M.; 3, 6 P. M.

For Milton, U. M., 9 3-4 A. M.; 1, 2 3-4, 5 1-2, P. M.

Plymouth for Boston, 7 1-4 A. M; 3 1-4 P. M.

Bridgewater for Boston and Plymouth, 7 1-2 A. M.; 3 1-2 P. M.

Cohasset for Boston, 6 3-4, 8, A. M.; 4 P. M.

Milton U. M. for Boston, 8, 10 1-2 A. M.; 1 3-4, 4 3-4, P. M.

Braintree for Boston, 7 18, 8 1-2, 8 40, 11 04, A. M. 2 48, 4 1-2, 5 13, P. M.

☞ The 5 P. M. Train from Boston for Plymouth, will not stop short of South Braintree.

JOS. H. MOORE, Sup't.

Boston, July 25. tf.

Trains leave Quincy for Boston as follows:—

7 24, 8 38, 8 47, 11 10, A. M.; 2 54, 4 39 5 16 P. M.

DRY GOODS' NOTICE.

THE undersigned most respectfully inform the public that they keep constantly on hand, a large Stock of

DRY GOODS,

well adapted to the wants of the community.

At all times can be found a good assortment of

Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinets and Doe-Skins, Prints, De Laines, Cash- meres, Alpaccas,

and a great variety of

DRESS GOODS AND SHAWLS,

Sheetings, Shirtings, Flannels, and Blankets,

With a good Assortment of such articles as are usual- ly found in a well selected

Stock of Dry Goods.

Feeling confident that our prices will insure a ready sale, our GOODS will be freely shown to all wishing to examine them.

GEORGE SAVIL & CO,

Washington Street, Quincy.

A few rods east of the Stone Meeting House.

Quincy, October 5. tf

NEW STORE! NEW GOODS!

AT THE OLD STAND,

Formerly occupied by Messrs. H, Pettes & Co. (who have removed to their new Granite Warehouse, Summer St

No. 224 WASHINGTON,

Corner of Summer Street, Boston.

GEO. W. PETTES

Has taken this well known stand, and will always be ready to show his customers the choicest, and in ev ery respect the most desirable stock of

DRY GOODS,

WHICH CAN BE EXPOSED FOR SALE

The prices for all articles shown will be very low. No customer shall be able to better the purchase made at this store.

☞ Please call and examine the elegant Stock of,

SHAWLS of all kinds,
SILKS " "
DE LAINES " "
PRINTS " "
HOUSE KEEPING GOODS, of all kinds,
GLOVES AND HOSIERY " "
TRIMMINGS " "

And all sorts and kinds and qualities of Dry Goods, suited to the wants of families and always at LOW PRICES.

Whenever you visit Boston, visit this new and very convenient Store, and make your purchases too, if you would consult your own interest.

No. 224 Washington, corner of SUMMER ST., BOSTON.

GEO. W. PETTES.

Boston, Oct. 19th, 1850. 3mis

NEW DRY GOODS

Establishment!

REMOVAL.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

Have removed to their new and splendid

Wholesale and Retail Establishment

Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,

BOSTON,

Which is the largest sales-room in the United States, being 150 feet long and 60 feet wide;

SHAWLS

Of every description, in entire new designs, both long and square.

Plaid Shawls from the Bay State Mills,

Also from the best manufacturers in Scotland.

HOUSE KEEPING GOODS.

Linens, Linen Sheetings, Pillow Case Linens Shirtings, Damasks, Damask Table Covers, Napkins Doylies, Sheetings, Flannels, Blankets, Quilts, Com forters and Prints.

BROADCLOTHS & CASIMERES.

EMBROIDERIES,

The largest assortment in the city.

HOSIERY AND GLOVES

SHIRTS AND DRAWERS,

Ladies', Gents,' and Children's;

Handkerchiefs, Scarfs, &c., &c.

In fact, all articles usually found in different stores may be found in this Establishment.

The Goods will be freely shown, and customers may rely upon receiving the most respectful attention and will find the goods at uniform low prices, as we import our own Goods, and have but one price.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

NEW STORE, Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET, BOSTON.

Oct 5. 3m

POETRY.

GOD'S GIFTS PERVERTED.

BY L. M. SARGENT, ESQ.

God gave the gift to man;
But man with fatal skill,
Insensuate formed the plan
To change the good for ill;
The poison tortured from the cane,
Like Sampson hath a thousand slain.

God gave the golden grain
To hungry man for food;
But querulous and vain,
He spirited the proffered good;
And Egypts' slothful sons athirst
Drew forth the drowsy beverage first.

God gave the clustering vine;
Ingenious man perverse,
Exchanged the boon for wine,
And wrought Canaan's curse.
The Patriarch who had safely passed
The deluge was overwhelmed at last.

The madness came by wine,
That wrought Belshazzars fall,
And caused the hand divine
To write upon the wall—
Scoffer thy royal face is run!
Thy work of wickedness is done!

To earth the cup be hurl'd
That holds an adder's sting;
And let us pledge the world,
With nectar from the spring!
That hence like Rechab's ancient line,
Though Prophets urge we drink no wine.

TO-DAY AND TO TO-MORROW.

Don't tell me of to morrow!
Give me the man who'll say,
That when a good deeds' to be done
Let's do the deed to day.
We may all command the present,
If we act and never wait;
But repentance is the phantom
Of the past, that comes too late!

Don't tell me of to morrow!
There's much to do to-day
That can never be accomplished,
If we throw the hours away.
Every moment has its duty—
Who the future can foretell?
Then why put off till to-morrow
What to-day can do as well?

Don't tell me of to-morrow!
If we look upon the past,
How much that we have left to do
We cannot do at last!
To-day! it is the only time
For all on this frail earth;
It takes an age to form a life.
A moment gives it birth,

TOUGH STORY.—"You are rather a crooked character, Mr. Jones"

"Rather, sir, but not quite so crooked as a tree I once knew. It was the tallest Butternut I ever saw. Standing close to it one day in a thunder storm I saw a squirrel on one of the topmost branches. The lightning struck the same branch three feet above him; the squirrel started—the lightning had to follow the grain, and the squirrel went straight down. So confounded crooked was the tree, sir, that the squirrel, by the watch got to the bottom precisely three minutes before the lightning."

"That's a lie," exclaimed the landlord.

"A lie! true, sir, as any story ever was. I afterwards cut the tree down, and made it into rails for a hog pasture. The hogs would crawl through twenty times in a day, and so thundering crooked were them rails that every time that the hogs got out they found themselves in the pasture again!"

"Well! that's enough, Mr Jones," cried the landlord, "I never heard that before!"

CIVILIZATION.—Civilization, (says an American paper,) already begins to enervate the people of the Far West. Last month a piano made its appearance in Hard Scrabble; while the landlord of the "Fighting Bears," who nobly resisted the innovation of table cloths, has been compelled to strike his colors to a "cussed Yankee," who advertises "clean plates at every meal."

CAUSE AND EFFECT.—There is a man living in the backwoods, who being invited to a New Years dinner, ate so much bear's meat that he went home and hugged his wife—a thing that he had not been guilty of before.

EAR MARKS.—A witness in a court of justice, being asked what kind of "ear marks" the hog in question had, replied, "he had no particular ear marks, except a very short tail."

NEVER GIVE A KICK FOR A HIT.—I learned a good lesson when I was a little gurl, says a lady. One frosty morning I was looking out of the window into my father's barn yard, where stood many cows, oxen and horses, waiting to drink. The cattle all stood very still and meek, 'till one of the cows, in attempting to turn round, happened to hit her next neighbor, whereupon the neighbor kicked and hit another. In five minutes the whole herd were kicking each other with fury. My mother laughed, and said, 'See what comes of kicking when you are hit.' Just so; I have seen one cross word set a whole family by the ears some frosty morning. Afterwards, if my brother or myself were a little irritable, she would say, "Take care my children; remember how the fight in the barn-yard began. Never return a kick for a hit, and you will save yourself and others a great deal of trouble."

AN M. M. D.—"Is there any thing really the matter with you?" said a physician to a person who had sent for him. "I don't know how it is," was the reply, "I eat well, sleep well, and have a good appetite." "Very well, said the doctor, "I'll give you something to take away all that."

A PENNY'S WORTH OF ADVICE.—Keep a Sovereign in one end of your purse and a half crown at the other. It will prevent the rings from falling off.

INFORMATION WANTED.—Mrs. Partington wants to Know, whether Mason & Dixon's line was a line of Stage Coaches or Steam Packets?

DIGNIFIED MEN.—A cit in a country town a midshipman on quarter deck and a school committee on examination day.

Watches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at the Store of GEORGE B FOSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Musrum.) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortment of

Gold and Silver

WATCHES,

Silver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Rich

HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

His attention will be given personally, at all times, to the REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF WATCHES, which his long experience in that department with Mr JEFFREY R BRACKETT, entitles him to the confidence of his friends and customers.

☞His friends and acquaintance when in Boston are invited to call.

THOMAS S. JOHNSON.

Boston, Feb. 23. 1sif

Crockery and Glass Ware.

JUST added to our previous assortment, new and choice patterns of

Tea and Dining Setts, Washbowls, and Ewers.

P. A RANSOM & Co.

Quincy Sept 1. tf

Brown's

ALMANAC, Pocket Memorandum and Account Book, for 1851, for sale at the QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Quincy, Nov, 25, 1851

Board in Quincy.

A Gentleman and his wife, or two single gentlemen, can have pleasant rooms and board, at the house of Misses J B & M TOWNSEND, on President's Hill, nearly opposite the depot.

Quincy, Nov. 16. 3m

BROTHER JONATHAN.

PICTORIAL; for the Christmas Holiday and New Year

For sale at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE

Quincy, Dec 14, 1850 3w

For Sale.

20 GOOD PIGS: weigh from forty to eighty pounds

Enquire of DANIEL BAXTER

Quincy, Dec 14, 1850 2w

Hats and Caps.

2 CASES, Fall style, just received, and for sale cheap for cash, by

A. B. PACKARD.

Quincy, Dec. 6. 6w

Apples and otatoes.

50 Bbls RUSSET and GREENING APPLES
200 bushels POTATOES of various kinds,

For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, Dec. 7, 1850

HAT AND CAP STORE.

A. B PACKARD has remodled his Store, making the sales room twice as large as formerly, where he intends keeping a large stock of

HATS AND CAPS,

suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.

Also,

A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring styles.

Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Ginghams, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c.

With that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers' use

Quincy, April 13. tf

French Calf Boots.

MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a FIRST RATE FIT WARRANTED, by W. S. UNDERWOOD.

Hancock St., Quincy,
Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.

Quincy, May 5 tf

SKATES.

40 Pairs of extra SKATES
For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, Dec 7, 1850

Beef and Pork.

A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere

Also—Fresh BEEF and PORK, constantly on hand, and delivered to any part of the town free expense. H. A. RANSOM & CO

m16 tf

Thirty dollars Reward.

THE above reward will be paid for information that will lead to the detection and conviction of the person or persons who entered the Evangelical Congregational Meeting House, in Quincy, on the morning of the 4th inst., and mischievously or maliciously damaged said House.

N B. In consequence of repeated depredations in said House, it will in future be kept locked. In case of fire the key may be found at E. S Fellows

CHARLES HARDWICK, CHARLES SPEAR, HEZEKIAH PRINCE, } Parish Committee

Quincy, July 13th. tf

BACKGAMMON BOARDS.

VARIOUS Sizes: good finish; selling low at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE

Quincy, Dec. 14, 1850 3w

Estate of Simeon Williams

NOTICE is hereby given that the Subscribers have been appointed by the Judge of Probate for the County of Norfolk, Commissioners to receive and examine the claims of the several creditors to the Estate of SIMEON WILLIAMS, late of Braintree in said County, Bootmaker, deceased Insolvent, and six months from the 19th of October, A D 1850, is allowed unto the said creditors for bringing in their claims and proving their debts, and we shall attend to the duty of receiving and examining the same at the house of David N Hollis on Washington street in said Braintree, on the third Wednesdays of February, March and April next, from two to four o'clock P. M.

JONATHAN FRENCH,
DAVID N. HOLLIS.

Braintree, Nov. 12th, 1850. n166w

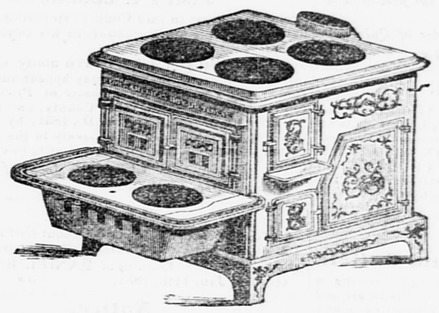
Flannels.

WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels Twilled and plain, an assortment just received and for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washington Street Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21

P. LOW'S HOT UNION AIR.

Cooking Stove and Fuel Saver



THIS is a most beautiful and extraordinary Cooking Stove. The even and regular application of the heat to the Oven, gives this Stove all the advantages of a brick Oven—while at the same time the boiler holes are so constructed that the heat is immediately applied to the boilers from the fire pit, which makes this stove the most complete and finished Air Tight Cook Stove in America.

AS A COAL COOKING STOVE,

it is just suited for the use of families in cities and villages, and will perform the cooking of a family of from 2 to 8, 10 or 20 persons with certainty and despatch. The fire-chamber is constructed of a size, form and depth, to burn coal with the greatest freedom and economy. WOOD may be used with equal advantage by simply dispensing with the brick lining of the fire-chamber.

A SUMMER APPARATUS

is attached to the front, affording, of itself, ample convenience for light summer work, without the unpleasing effects and expense of heating up the main body of the stove; it may also be used at the same time that the rest of the stove is occupied, greatly adding to its value, and rendering it altogether the most efficient Cooking Stove for the class of families for whom it is expressly designed, ever yet invented.

Any person who will give this stove a fair trial will be convinced of its superiority for ECONOMY, CONVENIENCE and DURABILITY, over any other Air Tight Cooking Stove.

☞Its price brings it within the means of all families who want a good stove.

A pamphlet containing a description and directions for fitting up and using this Stove is furnished, gratis to every purchaser.

These Stoves of the different sizes may be examined at the

Tin and Sheet Iron Manufactory

of the Agent in this town.

E S FELLOWS, Agent for the above Stove, has also for sale at his Store, the REGULATOR, ECONOMIST'S, and various other patterns of Cook Stove, as well as PARLOR, OFFICE, and CYLINDER.

—ALSO—

SHEET IRON, TIN AND COPPER WORK done to order,
Of the best Materials, and in a workmanlike manner.

Quincy, Sept. 1. tf

ALL READY!

AND NOW OPNING,

NEW STYLE FOR FALL AND WINTER TRADE,

JUST RECEIVED AT THE

Town Hall Cloth and Clothing Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD Respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made large additions to their present expensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would particularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect THEIR STOCK before buying elsewhere, feeling confident we can sell BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.

N. B—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN, ENGLISH and FRENCH and AMERICAN GOODS (Some of the RICHEST VEST PATTERNS, and a HOST OF PANTALOONERY!

BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVERY DESCRIPTION ON HAND.

Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.

HATS, CAPS, &C.

P S—RUSSELL & CO., having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for public and private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of every article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.

—NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.—

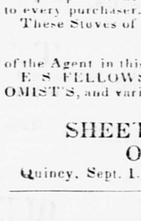
Quincy, March 23. tf

Mrs. . Hayden



GRATEFUL for the patronage she has received for more than twenty years, offers to her friends and the public an ENLARGED STOCK of the best

FAMILY MEDICINES,

Selected and Prepared with care

—ALSO—

Various articles for the use of the sick, among which are, SPOUT DRINKING CUPS; Leech Glasses; Nursing Tubes, of Porcelain, ivory and silver, with and without bottles; India Rubber Breast Pumps, glass Pipes and Shells; Pratt's Patent Nursing Shields; India Rubber and Box Wood do; Bed Pans; Metal and Glass Syringes; Crain's, Ingall's and Chapin's Supporters; Hose Hair Mittens; English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow; Spread Plasters, on kid, cloth and paper; Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes; Dustering Paper and Tissue Pressing; European Leeches, &c. &c.

Physicians' Prescriptions,

Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH.

She has also on hand and is constantly receiving the New and Popular Medicines of the day.

Washington St., rear of Stone Temple.

Quincy, Oct. 20. tf

Salt Pork and Beef.

A FIRST rate article of PORK and BEEF, packed by the subscribers and for sale by the barrel or in smaller quantities to suit purchasers, cheap for CASH J & H. H. FAXON

Quincy March 16th. tf

CROCKERY WARE

A Splendid Assortment of CROCKERY WARE just received and for sale at the Union Store, on Washington Street, Quincy

Blue Stone Chine Tea Setts	-	1.75
Mulberry " " " -	-	1.75
Light Blue " " -	-	1.37
White " " -	-	1.37

— AND —

A Good Assortment of GLASS & BRITANIA OIL & FLUID LAMPS

Quincy, Dec 7 1850 tf

BAY STATE

Long and Square Shawls,

OF the best styles, for sale at the lowest prices Ladies are invited to examine them before purchasing.

JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5. tf

QUINCY HALL

Clothing Depot.

On the Weymouth and Braintree Turnpike.

Special Notice.

JOHN DINEGAN.

Has just received a supply of NEW GOODS from some of the most celebrated Manufacturers in Europe. Consisting in part of HEAVY WEST OF ENGLAND

PILOT & BEAVER

CLOTHS, suitable for OVERCOATS or SACKS, and comes very cheap

Do very heavy DRAB for travelling or Riding Surtouts Also, Several splendid pieces

French and German Broadcloths!

of the most fashionable colors, worn and suitable for tasty Promenade or Business Coats.

Particular Notice

THE Subscribers respectfully inform their customers and the public, that on and after the First of OCTOBER next, all goods will be sold at reduced prices for cash only

All those who wish to buy cheap, are invited to call, as the prices cannot fail to suit them.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Sept 7th. tf

VESTINGS.

SILK VELVET, PLAIN & FIGURED, some of the richest Patterns ever introduced in this market Also, SATINS of every design and pattern, Valencias, and other styles

PANTALOON GOODS.

A first rate assortment, always on hand from the lowest price to the most costly.

READY MADE CLOTHING

of a superior quality, to suit all in want.

Our present stock of Goods is the richest and best selected, that is has ever been our pleasure to present to our friends and customers, and as the price has been fixed to each article, which we feel must be satisfactory to the buyer, ONE PRICE ONLY.

Hosiery.

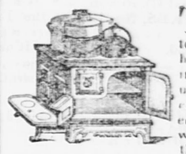
Just received, a good assortment of FLANNEL SHIRTS AND DRAWERS

GLOVES, SUSPENDERS, &c.

A complete assortment of MEN and BOYS CLOTH CAPS

Quincy, Nov. 9th tf

REMOVAL



THE subscriber takes this method to inform his customers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr. Samuel Copeland, it being more commodious and better adapted to his business; and also, would tender his sincere thanks for the liberal share of patronage which he has received during the past year His former customers and the public generally are invited to call, where will be found a variety of Stoves among which is the embodying, in the highest degree of perfection, every essential quality requisite for any latitude. This Stove presents itself externally in a plain dress, with just and admirable proportions, giving it the appearance of a chaste and tastefully made piece of Cabinet Furniture. Internally, the location and capacity of the Fire Chamber is such as to remove effectually the objections often made to Air-Tight Cook-Stoves for country use. The Oven proves itself to be precisely what its projectors intended it should be, viz. the largest and most perfect ever constructed in a family Stove. The Flues, upon which the great responsibility and reputation of a stove depends, differ from any ever before used, and are of such construction and capacity as to ensure the most perfect draught, without liability to fill up, and are easily kept clean. Nearly one hundred of this stove have been sold the past year and all have given the utmost satisfaction.

New England Air-Tight,

Also—A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYLANDER STOVES, together with a good assortment of TIN, BRITANIA, SHEET IRON and

Japaned Ware.

CHARLES HOLMES.

Quincy, Jan12. tf

QUINCY WASHING MIXUTRE

THIS article has been tested by upwards of fifty families during the past week, and all have called it equal to anything of the kind which they have used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and sell it at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart, full directions accompanying it.

By this improvement, it is expected the dry goods market will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this will wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so often will new be bought.

ELISHA PACKARD.

tf

Wood, Wood.

FOR sale, a constant supply of Hard and Soft, now Granite wharf, Quincy Point,

by WHITON & ADAMS.

Quincy, August 17. tf

Periodica Agency.

C. GILL & Co are Agents for all the Quarterly, Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free from any expense for Postage or transportation. All who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers Ex the time for which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices. tf Quincy, Dec. 22.

Preparation for the Hair.

THE celebrated "Der Schon Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Gloss; Canna's Spanish Lustral, or medicated hair preservative; Tompkins' Chlorion gustrale: Batchelor's instantaneous hair dye; Jules Haules vegetable hair dye. For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept 21. tf

Cider Vinegar.

JUST received, and for sale by the subscribers twenty barrels extra Cider vinegar.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850. tf

Wool Frocking.

200 TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.

Also—FROCKS ready made

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Sept. 20. tf

New Goods.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.,

HAVE recently made large additions to their Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows:

Muslin DeLaine, a good assortment, very low;
Prints and Ginghams in great variety;
Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters
Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors
Wool Yarn, of all colors;

A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and 12 1-2 cts per yard;

Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other Goods, all of which will be sold at the

VERY LOWEST PRICES.

Quincy, August 21 tf

Salt Pork.

A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quncy March 9th, tf

Velvet Trimmings.

JUST Received, an assortment of Velvet Trimmings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by

GEO. SAVIL & Co., Washington St.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

Paper Hangings.

3 TO 400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 24th tf

Bay State Long Shawls.

AN Assortment just received of the different sizes Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the lowest prices, by GEO. SAVIL and Co, Washington Street, Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

PORK & BEEF.

SALT-PETRED BEEF and Bacon, of the first quality, will be kept constantly on hand during the season, and sold as cheap as can be bought at

Any Store in Town for Cash.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quincy, March 24. tf

For Cash Only.

Wood. Wood. Wood.

FOR sale one Frieght of good Eastern Wood, just landed, on Granite wharf, Quincy Point.

Apply to

WHITON & ADAMS.

Quincy, April 20th. tf

REMOVAL

THE subscriber takes hee method to inform his cust tomers and the public, that he has moved to the new building lately erected by Mr. Samuel Copeland, it being more commodious and better adapted to his business; and also, would tender his sincere thanks for the liberal share o which he has received during the past year or customers and the public generally are in all, where will be found a variety of Stoves such is the

New England Air-Tight,

g, in the highest degree of perfection, every quality requisite for any latitude. This ents itself externally in a plain dress, with mirable proportions, giving it the appear elegant and tastefully made piece of Cabinet . Internally, the location and capacity of Chamber as such as to remove effectually the s often made to Air Tight Cook-Stoves for se. The Oven proves itself to be precisely projectors intended it should be, viz. the most perfect ever constructed in a family The Fires, upon which the great responsibilquisition of a stove depends, differ from any are used, and are of such construction and as to ensure the most perfect draught, with- ity to fill up, and are easily kept clean. he hundred of this stove have been sold the and all have given the utmost satisfaction. A variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and CYL- STOVES, together with a good assortment BRITANIA SHEET IRON and Japanned Ware.

CHARLES HOLMES.
Jan12. tf

INCY WASHING MIXUTRE

article has been tested by upwards of fifty ilies during the past week, and all have call- d to anything of the kind which they have erefore, the subscriber will manufacture and 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart, ttles accompanying it. Experience, it is expected the dry goods. will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this ethod are apt to be, consequently, not so ch soap need be bought.

ELISHA PACKARD.
tf

Wood, Wood.

sale, a constant supply of Hard and Soft, on ite wharf, Quincy Point,

by WHITON & ADAMS.
y, August 17. tf

Periodica Agency.

H. & Co are Agents for all the Quarterly, nthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving sub- ptions and furnishing the Numbers free- expense for Postage or transportation. A l- to subscribe for any Magazine can be supplied with all the numbers for the time ribed for. For Terms please apply at the BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be ex- single numbers purchased at the lowest

Quincy, Dec. 22.

reparation for the Hair.

celebrated "Der Schon Gloanz," or Jenny d Hair Gloss; Comin's Spanish Lustral, or d hair preparation; Tompkins' Chloreon Batchelor's instantaneous hair dye; Jules egetable hair dye. For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Sept 21. tf

Cider Vinegar.

received, and for sale by the subscribers y barrels extra Cider vinegar.

J. & B. H. FAXON.
Aug. 23, 1850. tf

Wool Frocking.

750 yds of all wool FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as can possibly be purchased elsewhere. ROCKS ready made.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Sept. 29. tf

New Goods.

ANIEL BAXTER & Co.,

recently made large additions to their of goods consisting of in part as follows: Delaine, a good assortment, very low; n Gingahams in great variety; Patterns, some very low, for Comforters n Cotton Flannels, of all colors on, of all colors; assortment of Bleached and Unbleached and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and per yard; r with a GREAT VARIETY of other of which will be sold at the

VERY LOWEST PRICES.
August 24. tf

Salt Pork.

PRIME article of Salt Pork, packed by subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and de- any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co
March 9th, tf

Velvet Trimmings.

Received, an assortment of Velvet Trim- Fancy Colors, and for sale by

GEO SAVIL & Co., Washington St.
Sept 21. tf

Paper Hangings.

00 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by

D. BAXTER & Co.
March 24th tf

y State Long Shawls.

rtment just received of the different sizes and Qualities, which will be sold at the es, by GEO SAVIL and Co., Washington ncy.
Sept. 21. tf

PORK & BEEF.

URED BEEF and Bacon, of the first , will be kept constantly on hand during and sold as cheap as can be bought at y Store in Town for Cash.

D. BAXTER & Co
March 24. tf

For Cash Only.

Wood. Wood. Wood.

e one Freight of good Eastern Wood, just on Granite wharf, Quincy Point.

Apply to

WHITON & ADAMS.
April 20th. tf

QUINCY PATRIOT.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.....OVER MESSRS. JOSIAH BRIGHAM & Co's STORE.....HANCOCK STREET.

NUMBER 5. QUINCY (MASS.) SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1851. VOLUME 15.

JOHN A. GREEN,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance—Two DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid till the end of six months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till the expiration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will be stopped previous to the payment of all arrearages unless at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers wish their papers discontinued, they will give notice to that effect at the time their subscription expires. Every subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of his paper so long as it is sent to his address at the Post Office, TAVERN, or any other place whereso- he may have ordered it, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously, inserted at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, otherwise they will be continued until ordered out and charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business; and all advertisements for the benefit of other persons, as well as all legal advertisements, and advertisements of auction sales, sent in by them, must be paid for at the usual rates.

Business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.

☞Single copies of the paper, FIVE CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscriptions:

JOSIAH BABCOCK,	Quincy Railway.
GEORGE H LOCKE,	" Stone Quarries.
ORIN P BACON,	Dorchester.
FISHER A KINGSBURY,	Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVERLY,	Abington
SAMUEL A TURNER,	South Scituate.
N B OSBORNE,	Salem
FREEMAN HUNT,	New York City

MISCELLANY.

THE OLD GOVERNESS.

BY HARRIET MARTINEAU.

The afternoon was come when the Morells must go on board. They were going to Canada at last, after having talked about it for several years. There were so many children, that it was with much difficulty they had gone on for some years past; and there was no prospect for the lads at home. They had with extreme difficulty, paid their way; and they had to a certain extent, educated the children.—That, however, was Miss Smith's doing.

"We, shall always feel, every one of us,' said Mrs. Morell, with tears; 'to the elderly homely governess, 'that we are under the deepest obligations to you. But for you, the children would have grown up without any education at all. And, for the greatest service you or any one could possibly render us, we have never been able to give you your due.—even as regards the mere money.

'I can only say again,' replied the governess, 'that you do not look at the whole of the case. You have given me a home, when it is no easy matter for such as I am, to earn one, with my old-womanish-ways and my old fashioned knowledge.'

'I will not hear any disparagement of your ways and knowledge, interrupted Mrs Morell. 'They have been every thing to my children; and if you could have gone with us——.'

This, however, they all know to be out of the question. Is was not only that Miss. Smith was between fifty and sixty, too old to go so far, with little prospect of comfort at the end of the journey; but she was at present disabled for such usefulness by the state of her right hand. It had been hurt by an accident a long time before, and it did not get well.—The surgeon had always said it would be a long case; and she had no use whatever of the hand in the mean time. Yet she would not part with the baby till the last moment—She carried him on the left arm, and stood on the wharf with him—the mother at her side—till all the rest were on board, when Mr. Morell came for his wife. It was no grand steamer they were going in, but a humble vessel belonging to the port, which would carry them cheap.

'Now, my love,' said the husband.—'Now, Miss. Smith,' taking the child from her.'—'Words cannot tell——.'

And if words could have told, the tongue could not have uttered them. It was little, too, that his wife could say.

'Write to us. Be sure you write. We shall write as soon as we arrive. Write to us.'

Miss. Smith glanced at the hand. She said only one word, 'Farewell!' but she said it cheerfully.

The steam-tug was in a hurry, and down the river they went. She had one more appointment to keep with them. She was to wave her handkerchief from the rocks by the fort; and the children were to let her try whether she could see their little handkerchiefs. So she walked quickly over the common to the fort, and sat down on the beach at the top of the rocks.

It was very well that she had something to do. But the plan did not altogether answer. By the time the vessel crossed the bar it was nearly dark, and she was not quite sure, among three, which it was, and she did not suppose the children could see her handkerchief. She waved it, however, according to promise.—How little they knew how wet it was!

Then there was the walk home. It was familiar, yet very strange. When she was a child her parents used to bring her here, in summer time, for sea air and bathing. The haven and the old gray bathing houses, and the lighthouse, and the old priory ruins crowning the rocks, were all familiar to her; but the point had so grown up that all else was strange. And how strange now was life to her! Her parents gone, many years back, and and her two sisters since; and now, the Morells! The had never any money to lose, and the retired way in which the Morells lived had prevented her knowing anybody out of their house. She had not a relation nor a friend, nor even an acquaintance in England. The Morells had not been uneasy about her. They left her a little money, and had so high an opinion of her that they did not doubt her being abundantly employed whenever her hand should get well. They had lived to much to themselves to know that her French, learned during the war, when nobody in England could pronounce French, would not do in these days, nor that her trilling, old fashioned style of playing on the piano; which they thought so beautiful would be laughed at now in any boarding school; and that her elegant needle-works were quite out of fashion; and that there were new ways of teaching even reading, spelling and writing.

She knew these things, and cautioned herself, against discontent with the progress of society, because she happened to be left alone behind. She suspected, too, that the hand would not get well. The thing that she was most certain of was, that she must not tack her brain with fears and speculations as to what was to become of her. Her business was to wait till she could find something to do, or to learn what she was to suffer. She thought she had better wait here. There was no call to any other place. This was more familiar and more pleasant to her than any other—the Morell's cottage being far away, and out of the question—and here she could live with the utmost possible cheapness. So here she staid.

The hand got well, as far as the pain was concerned, sooner than was expected.—But it was in a different way from what she had expected. It was left wholly useless. And though the time was not long, it had wrought as times does. It had worn out her clothes; it had emptied her purse. It had carried away every thing she had in the world but the very clothes she had on. She had been vering towards the resolution she now took for three or four weeks. She took it finally while sitting on the bench near the fort. It was in the dusk; for her gown, though she had done her best to mend it with her left hand, was in no condition to show by daylight. She was alone in the dusk, rather hungry and very cold. The sea was dashing surily upon the rocks below, and there was too much mist to let any stars shine upon her. It was all dreary enough; yet she was not very miserable, for her mind was made up. She had made up her mind to go into the workhouse the next day. While she was thinking calmy about it a fife began to play a sort of jig in the yard of the fort behind her, Her heart heaved to her throat and tears gushed from her eyes. In this same spot, fifty years before she had heard what seemed to her the same fife. Her father was then sitting on the grass, and she was between his knees, helping to tassel the tail of a little kite they were a going to fly; and when the merry fife had struck up, her father had scratched up her gay Harlequin that lay within reach, and made him shake his legs and arms to the music. She heard her own laugh again now through that long course of fifty years, and in the midst of these tears.

All that night she pondered her purpose; and the more she considered, the more sure she was that it was right. 'I might,' tho't she, 'get maintained by charity, no doubt: I might call on any of the clergymen of this place, and the rich people. Or I might walk into shops and tell my story, and I dare say the people would give me food and clothes.—And, if it was a temporary distress, I would do so. I should think it right to ask for help, if I had any prospect of work or independence in any way. But I have none: and this, I am convinced, points out of my duty. Hope less cases like mine are those which public charity—legal charity—is intended to meet.—My father little dreamed of this, to be sure; and the Morells little dream of it at this moment. But when do our parents, and friends, when do we ourselves, dream of what our lot is really to turn out? These old notions have nothing to do, if we could but think so, with my duty.—The plain fact is, that I am growing old—that I am nearly helpless—that I am cold and hungry, and nearly naked—that I have no friends within reach, and no prospect whatever. I am, therefore, an object for public charity, and I will ask for what is my duty I am afraid of what I may find in the workhouse;—the vicious people, the dirty people, the diseased people,—and, I suppose, not one among them who can give me any companionship whatever.

It is dreadful; but it can't be helped.—And the worse the case is about my companions—my fellow-paupers—(for I must learn to bear the word)—the greater are the changes of my finding something to do for them;—something which may prevent my feeling utterly useless in the word. This is not being wholly without prospect, after all. I suppose nobody ever is. If it were not so cold now, I could sleep upon mine.'

It was too cold for sleep; and when, in the morning, she offered her old shawl in payment for her bed, assuring the poor old woman who let it that she should not want the shawl, because she was going to have other clothes, the woman shook her head sorrowfully,—her lodger looked so wan and chilled. She had no fear that there was any thought of suicide in the case—No one could look in Miss. Smith's sensible face, and hear her steady, cheerful voice and suppose that she would do any thing wild or impatient.

'Who is that woman with a book in her hand?' inquired the visiting Commissioner, some months afterwards, of the governer of the workhouse. The governer could only say she was a single woman of the name of Smith, who had no use of her right hand. As to who she was, he could tell no more than this; but his wife had sometimes mentioned her as a different sort of person from those they generally saw there. She could not only read, but she read very well; and she read a great deal aloud to the old people, and in the infirmary. She talked unlike the rest, too. She said little; but her language was good, and always correct—She could not do much, on account of her infirmity; but she was always willing to do what could be done with one hand; and she must have been very handy when she had the use of both.

'I should have thought her eyes had been too weak for much reading,' observed the Commissioner. 'Has the medical officer attended to her?'

The governor called his wife; and the wife called a pauper woman who was told the question. This woman said that it was not exactly a case for the doctor. Nobody that shed so many tears could have good eyes. Ah! the governor might be surprised; because Smith seemed so brisk in the daytime, and cheered the old so much. But she made up for it at night. Many and many a time she cried the night through

'How do you know? asked the Commissioner.

'I sleep in the next bed, sir. I can't say she disturbs any body; for she is very quiet. But if any thing keeps me awake I hear her sobbing. And you need but feel her pillow in the morning. It is wet almost through.

'And does that happen often?'

'Yes, sir. Many a time when she has turned her back,—gone into the infirmary, or been reading to the old people,—I have got her pillow and dried it. And I have seen her do it herself, with a smile on her face all the time.'

The Commissioner walked away. Before he left the place, the woman Smith was beckoned out by the governor. She went with a beating heart, with some wild idea in her head that the Morells had sent, that some friends had turned up. While still in the passage, however, she said to herself that she might as well look to see her parents risen from the dead.

The Commissioner had indeed, nothing to tell. He wanted to ask. He did ask, as much as his delicacy would allow—But he learned nothing; except, indeed what he ought to have considered the most important thing, the state of her mind about being there.—About that, she was frank enough. She said over again to him what she had said to herself about this being the right place for one in her circumstances. She considered that it would be an abuse of private charity, for her to be maintained in idleness at an expense which might set forward in life some person in a less hopeless position.

'You speak cheerfully, as if you were in earnest,' said the Commissioner.

'Of course, I am in earnest,' she replied.

And cheerfully she remained throughout the conversation. Only once the Commissioner saw her eyes filled, and a quiver on her lips. He did not know it; but he had unconsciously called her 'Madam'

Would she prefer the children's department of the House? There was no doubt that she could teach them much.—Would she change her quarters? No. She was too old for that. She should not be a good companion now for children, and they would be too much for her. Unless she was wanted—

By no means. She should be where she preferred to be.

She preferred to be where she was. The Commissioner's lady soon dropped in, and managed to engage Smith in conversation.—But there was no result; because Smith did not choose that there should be. Perhaps she was more in the infirmary; and had often a warm seat by the fire, and was spoken to with more deference. But this might be solely owing to the sway she made with the people by her own acts and manners.—The invalids and the infirm grew so fond of her that they pourted out to her all their complaints. She was favored with all the knowledge of every painful sensation as it passed, and every uneasy thought as it arose.

'I never thought to die in such a place as this,' groaned old Johny Jacks.

'I wonder at that,' said his old wife; 'for you never took any care to provide yourself a better—to say nothing of me.' And she went on to tell how Johny, had idled and drank his life away, and brought her here at last. Much of Johnny's idling and drinking having been connected with electioneering in an abominably venal city, was a great talker on politics, and the State was made responsible for all his troubles. He said it was a shame that any body should die in a workhouse; he appealed to his neighbor Smith, who was warming his broth, whether it was not so?

'Which is best?' she answered; 'being here or on a common, or the sea-sands? Because,' she added,' there was a time when old people were left to die whenever they fell. There are countries now where old people die so. I should not like that.'

'You don't mean to say that you or any one likes being here?'

'Ah, no; I don't mean to say that. But things are better then they were once: and they may be better again.'

'I shall not live too see that,' groaned Johnny.

'No; nor I. But it is something to think of.'

'D—— it,' said Johnny. 'I am not the better for any good that does not happen to me, nor to anybody I know.'

'Are not you?' said neighbor Smith. Well now, I am.'

And so she was to the end. She died in that infirmary, and not very long after. When the Morell's letter came, it was plain that they had enough to do to take care of themselves. So she did not let them know,—in her reply, written by the hands of the schoolmaster.—where she was. The letter was so cheerful that they are probably far from suspecting, at this moment, how she died and was buried—As 'from the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh,' there was so much in her letter as rather surprised them about her hopes and expectation that the time would come when hearty work in the vigorous season of life should secure a easy close; and, when a greater variety of employment should be opened to women. There was more of this kind of speculation and less news and detail of facts than they would have liked. But it was a household event to have a letter from Miss Smith; and the very little children, forgeting the wide sea they had passed, began shouting for Miss. Smith to come to them just (as it happened) when her ear was closing to every human voice.

A UNION SPEECH.

The following is a copy of a Union speech, said to have been delivered in 'Hornby,' a town located somewhere "Down East". It is the best thing we have seen on that side of the question.

"Thunder an' guns! where are we? This are a day for the citizens of Hornby, an' if I wa nt too modest, it's a day an' a half for all creation—includin' the rest of mankind, and the people generally! The world, feller citizens, is lookin' at us, an' on the hete-rogenous exertions of this hewmane society hewmane liberty depends, an' hangs like a burdock to a boy's trowsis. Ar' we up to the crop? Duz every individooal feel the responsibility of a great crisis bearin' on him like a flat rock on a tode's back? Duz all feel like a young Herkelanium ready to take hold an choke the orry-gone stables as is wormin' in to squeeze the daylights out of our enlant liberties? I answer—We is! Let the potmutes of the whole airth hear an tremble?

Feller citizens, we have come here—every man prepared to take his life in his trowsis pocket—to preserve the Union—the blessed Union—fit for bled for, an' died for, by our revered posterity, on the bloody fields of Buena Visty, Yorktion, Madywasky, an' Waterlieu! This here glorious Union, feller citizens, is threatened within an inch of its life; an' by whom? 'Why, by a set of unsarcumsized, mean, nasty critters, who can't appreciate this blessed periadyum what pervides every man a vine an' a fig tree, under which we an' our fathers has sot, an' no one daest molest or skeer us.

Feller citizens! I'm for the Union? Yer, sir? An' though the hull world was agin' me though the devil joned with the abberlishunists—yet, as Webster said in his Newberryport letter, 'Pue stultum santa Parissma Lieloria sacre legs taglionis, eccos ignum et broadaze'—though pelican towered on ossy—I'd fire till all was blew!

[Hear! hear! an' stompin'.]

Feller citizens! The pint we've met here to consider is—Shall the Union be preserved—shall the star bespangled banner still flounce an' flount in the solewbrity of the omnitty gated space of ether—shall the American eagle, God bless him! [stompin' by the men, an' sobbin an' smillin' by the wimmin'] shall the American eagle continooe to sore an'—an'—an' do as he darned pleases? Or shall he be stove up an broke in like a worn out cider berrill—our flag torn an' sit like Eph Libey's trowsis overthere by the winder—an the glorious faoul of liberty plucked and picked like a thanksgivin' turkey? Saints, ministers, elders, an' deacons, forbid! Whar, I say, whar will Hornby be found when this grate battle of armygideon what is comin', is fit? Will she be skuikin' an' shukin' about like a woodchuck in a pertater field, or toein' the mark like a rat in a corner? Whar ar' yer Libbys, yer Peabodys, yer Wiggin-eses, an' yer Kyers—names illustrious in the Madywasky war? Trew, the fust run away afore he got thar, an' tother did'nt go; but then, of wust had cum to wust, that's no knowin' what they might have did for their country. Spents of seventy-six! e'en from that all the way up to this—from the hygerbollycal confluence of ajacent sarcumbiency—ye behold this crisis—smile on yer predecessors who are about to jine issoo with ongodly abberlishunists an' the cussed niggurs, to preserve the Union, perladyums, an' what-nots!

Feller citizens! I'm in airnest. A crisis is nigh. An' it is wakin' up the free, unterrified sperrits of these' ere still more suvriner States of the reskew.

Yes, every thin' is wekin' up an takin off its coat. Even the sleepy hon Daniel Webster, is a rousin' an' shakin' his tail an mane, preparped tew fight for hewman rights an' demmercratic usages. "The Great Confounder of the Constitooshun", as is justly stiled in his last letter to me, verry trewly and gasically sez:

'Ethan,' sez he, 'I don't speak as a Massachusetts man, nor nothin' else—no pen up yer turkeys countaract my powers—the hull continent, however bounded, is mine! But,' he continoers, things haint right. In the longwidge of Iulyus Seiz-her to the Pope of Rome.

Sometimes broke, an' every thin' is out of jint.' Finally, he concludes in this towchin' way: 'My dear Spike, I've undertook the job of fixin' an' patchin' the Union. I look to Hornby to lay holt and sustain me!' [Hear! hear!] N B P S—No body, so far as I've heern, sez a word again' the fewgative slave law; leastways, no body whose opinion is worth a cuss."

Now, feller citerzens, in the name of all that's demmercratic, shall we be found wantin? No, feller citerzens, no! From all our boarders—from the remorseless precipitations of Bethel Hill—on the dark and inscrewtable cravans of Lily Pond, to the ramified oscillations of Dan Wiggins's cow-pastur'—comes up a thunde in' patriotic double-brested NO. On, then—unerds. Let the watchword be, 'Webster, hewman rights, and dam a nigger.'

Feller citerzens, I'm dun. My speech is afore you. I hope it's dun good, for it has laid as hard on my stumic, the last few days, as would a cold biled tater.'

SCHOOL EDUCATION.

FOR THE PATRIOT.

Our schools is a subject worth discusing at this season of the year, there is not much else to engage the attention. No candid person, who will take the trouble to visit our schools, will deny but that some of them are laboring under evils from an excess of numbers. Among those to which this remark will apply most forcibly, may be mentioned the Centre District Grammar school, the South District Grammar and Primary School, the Point District Grammar and Primary School, and probably the West District Grammar and Primary School. Under the existing state of things it is evident that something must and will be done soon. There are probably but two salutary remedies that can be suggested. One is, to form a new district and build a new schoolhouse of sufficient capacity to accommodate three schools and to raise the standard of instruction of one of the schools in each district so as to meet the requirements of the Statute for a High School, and abolish the district and authorize the General School Committee so to distribute the children that each school shall have its proper share. How far or how long a High School would be able to relieve the crowded schools, it is not possible to foresee. But the two plans are well worthy of consideration both as regards expense and the benefit to be derived by the rising generation of all parts of the town. It will certainly be very inconvenient for children and youth residing in remote parts of the town to attend a central High School. The town is bound by every principle of justice as well as benevolence to provide as good learning in one part as another. She must be viewed as a parent that will not show partiality in bestowing opportunities for improvement on one portion of her offspring not enjoyed by another. The plan, therefore, to raise the standard of instruction and establish a new district seemes to possess many features of excellence. It will be much the most convenient for the pupils. It will enable the schools to go on for a succession of years with but slight changes as to building or location. On the other hand, a High School plan would not relieve the schools as constituted for more than one or two years. A High School could never benefit but a small portion, and that portion too who are the least needy of it. A High School would take out the best talent from the Grammar Schools and thus keep them depressed below the rank they now hold. The expense, too, of erecting and supporting the aristocratic institution added to our annual appropriations for schools, would be sufficient to place all the schools in town on the schools in town on the most ample foundation forever, or at least until the Adam Academy can come into operation!

SOLON.

A VICTIM OF THE LAW.

It must not be supposed that Chancery, however unusual, never does release its victims. We must be just to the laws of "Equity." There is actually a man now in London whom they have positively let out of prison? They had however, prolonged his agonies during seventeen years. He was committed for contempt in not paying certain costs, as he had been ordered. He appealed from the order; but until his appeal was heard, he had to remain in durance vile. The Court of Chancery like all dignified bodies is never in a hurry; and, therefore, from having no great influence, and a very small stock of money, to forward his interest, the poor man could only get his cause finally heard and decided on in December, 1849, seventeen years from the date of his imprisonment. And, after all, the court decided that the original order was wrong; so that he had been committed for seventeen years 'by mistake."

QUINCY PATRIOT

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1851.

John A. Greeps Editor.

AGRICULTURAL MEETING.—Gen H. A.S. Dearborn Mayor of Roxbury, presided at the Agricultural Meeting held in the State House last evening. The subject of discussion was "Through Draining and Sub Soil Ploughing," and the chairman delivered a learned address thereon. He was followed by Professor Fowler of Amherst, who, during his speech branched out on other topics, and suggested the propriety of a committee, to draw up a list of categorical querries arising out of the subject that have and may be discussed this season, and submit them to members of the next Agricultural Society, so that practical certified answers should be passed upon them.

The suggestion was approved, and Messrs Fowler and Caleb Cushion were deputed a committee to prepare the querries.

SOMETHING NEW.—A locomotive engine is being built in New York city, which is to be something of a novelty. Nothing but alcahol is to be used for heating the boiler. It is constructed upon a principle heretofore untried, but it is expected to be entirely successful in its operation. It is built for the Erie railroad, and will be tested on that road next week. We hope it may succeed, for we have never heard of a more suitable way of using up the fluid designed to be used.

FATAL RESULT. Mr Moses Redmond, who was injured at the depot of the Eastern Railroad in East Boston, on Saturday, died at his residence in Salem Saturday afternoon. Previous to his death both his legs were amputated by Dr E. B. Pierson. He was forty years of age, a native of Nova Scotia, and has left a wife and three children.

THE DIAMOND WATCH.—We learn from the New Orleans papers that the $10,000 diamond watch which has been exhibiting at New Orleans for some time was raffled on the evening of the 17th inst, at the St. Charles Hotel, and was won by Dr Knapp, (formerly of Baltimore,) and Capt Broadwell, of New Orleans. The fortunate parties purchased a tie throw 45 for $250, which was not afterwards beaten, and thus secured the beautiful prize.

AWFUL STEAMBOAT ACCIDENT—OVER 100 LIVES LOST. Buffalo, 30th. The steamer John Adams, bound from New Orleans for Cincinnati, sunk yesterday, at 3 o'clock, near Greenville. In five minutes afterwards her cabin parted from her hull and broke in two. All the deck passengers, numbering over 100, were lost; also the deck hands and firemen excepting two. None of the cabin passengers were lost, though they did not succeed in saving any of their baggage.

HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION IN ILLINOIS.—The Senate have passed a homestead exemption bill, exempting $1000 of real estate from seizure and sale under execution. It is uncertain as to what will be done with this bill in the House; but it is understood that the majority are in favor of some sort of exemption law.

THE GREAT SEA RACE.—New York, Jan 27.—Over $70,000 have been subscribed to build a clipper ship to make a race from Liverpool to New York and back with any English clipper. The American clipper is to cost $100,000. Moses H Grinnell is at the head of the plan.

DR OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES, the poet is writing a biographical sketch of the late Dr Parkman to form a part of work entitled, "The Benefactors of the Medical School of Harvard University," of which Holmes is one of the Professors.

Mr Bancroft, the historian, has estimated that at least one third of the population of the United States are directly descended from the twenty-two thousand Puritan emigrants who first settled New England.

Mr Merchant, 22 years of age, was killed at Lord's Hill gravel pitt, Hartford, on Friday, by the falling of frozen earth from the bank under which he was at work. His dog was found sitting by his master's remains.

Several farmers in Ohio, have commenced ploughing. The mould turns up as freely as in midsummer. This is indeed an open winter.

Two young men who recently arrived at New Orleans, from California, were a few days since robbed of all the money they had, amounting to $5,300.

The Legislature of Virginia, at its last session, voted a massive gold medal to Gen Winfield Scott, for his service during the late Mexican war.

The population of the city of Millwaukie is over 20,000. A few year's since the city's site was a wilderness.

Robert Fantoul Jr., of Beverly Dem., has been elected to the United States Senate, for the unexpired term.

RHODE ISLAND SENATORIAL ELECTION—EIGHT BALLOT. James, Dem., 50, Whipple 20 Simmons 19 Scattering 10 the election, was givin to James.

EARLY RISING.—In England resides a venerable Minister of great celebrity, both as a preacher and writer. For upwards of sixty years he has maintained a high degree of popularity in his public character, and has been singularly respected, beloved and honored in private life. A few years since, the writer of these lines, being on a visit to his house, was not a little surprised to see the good old gentlemen, between five and six o'clock in the morning, walking in his garden with the agility and energy of a young man, and this on Monday morning, after having conducted two public services on the preceeding day. He stated that this was usual practice, and a source of health and enjoyment. From a youth he had never been in a bed at six o'clock, except on occasions of real illness, which was of a rare occurrence.

"But," said he, "I do not imagine that it has cost me no effort to rise early. When young, I was much inclined to indulge in bed, but being convinced that it was a wicked waste of time, and a bar to improvement, I resolved to put an end to it.—So every night I had a large basin of water placed by my bedside, and the moment I awoke out I turned, and dipped my head into the water then you know, sleep was gone, and I had my senses about me. For a short time I required to be awakened at a certain hour, but it soon ceased to be necessary; I awoke of my own accord. The only thing required was to get my head into the water without entering into any debates. Any young person may, by this method, successfully cure himself of wanting to be a bed late. I am not sure that it would be effectual for an old sluggard, but it is worth making the trial."

SUCCESS IN THE WORLD.—Every man gets in the "slough of despond" occasionally, and struggles there a shorter or longer period, according to his native firmness of mind. Who has not had fits of "the blues" come over him, when every object of contemplation appeared to have been steeped in indigo six months—when the biggest and fiercest kind of lions started up in every path, and the thickest and gloomiest kind of clouds overspread every inch of the mental horizon? But such seasons test the stamina, and bring out the grit of character, where there is any. The true man will thrash round till he shakes himself clear of his difficulties; and on emerging from the "slough" at last, will plant his foot boldly, cleanse his garments and watch the lay of the land with increased vigilance, before making any more "dives" Closely related to this, is the benefit which occasional trials and troubles have upon the generality of mankind. There are a few persons who never seem to commit a mistake in their lifetime; there are multitudes who, in the beginning, miss, oftener than they hit yet who, by practice, become first rate marksmen. Should you tell one of these latter, that the bad shots were "all for their good," they would'nt probably thank you for such consolation, any more than the naughty child thanks you for it when applied to his wallopping. Still the fact remains. Easily won success unnerves a man, and leads him into a careless, shiftless habit of thought and action; while those things which are obtained by hard scrabbles and tight squeezes, one is almost certain to value and take care of. As a blunt writer expresses it—"A good kick out of doors is better for boys than all the rich fathers in the world.

AN INTERESTING CORRESPONDENCE.—The Haynau hoax, at the London brewery of Barclay & Perkins, has given rise to an amusing correspondence between Baron Koller, the Austin charge, and Lord Palmerston, the English secretary of state for foreign affairs. Justice is demanded against the big fisted men of beer, who, "bonnected" the field marshal, and used his ample mustache as handles to drag his little carcass through the gutter with conveniences and dispatch. Lord Palmerston says that the baron did not identify the men who assailed him; that the police do not know who they are; and that, as his excellency is not on the spot to testify, he fears the ruffians will have to go scot-free—but at the same time assures the Austrian government of his "distinguished consideration." Prince Schwarzenberg, the Austrian prime minister, seems very plainly that the English government has no wish to punish the jolly draymen, waxes wroth and hints at retaliation on British subjects in Austria; and so ends the correspondence Meanwhile, the well-curried baron has the sympathies of his government.

N. Y Dispatch.

THE Camden (N. J.) Democrat gives the particulars of a young lady's being burned in that place, whose clothes took fire from a candle which stood on a table which she was engaged in ironing, at a very late hour some evenings since. In this manner the fire was communicated to her back, which she did not discover until her whole person was almost entirely enveloped in a sheet of fire. There being no one awake in the house beside herself, in her fright she rushed into the street, when, most fortunately, a young gentlemen, Mr Charles Stranney, happened to pass. Mr S. regardless of himself, immediately, seized hold of and threw her up on the ground, and by rolling her over and over, succeeded in putting out the fire, thereby saving her life. Her dress was literally consumed upon her person, and her body most horribly roasted. In his efforts the young man, too, was so severely injured that he will not be able to follow his vocation for months.

A CRAZY man was sent to the lunatic asylum in Macon, Georgia, about the 20th Jan. He called himself Hezekiah Wapple, and said he was from Boston, and had been opening oysters in Savanah, and had a wife in Philadelphia. On his left arm an anchor, and H. W. T. are marked with India ink. He appeared to have been a respectable and good looking man.

MORE OPPRESSION IN HUNGARY.—The Austrian gens d'arme companies in Hungary are being completed with all possible expedition, and whole hosts of custom house officers have been let loose upon that pro ince, in order that the new customs' acts may be carried out with vigor. How they will fare, the future alone can show. It is thought that this attempt to place the heel of tyrany on the necks of the Magyars, will lead to serious results.

A STORM INDEED.—Letters from St Petersburg of the 25th ult say that, on the 3d of October, a terrible tempest broke out at Kirgis, where the horde of Korin generally establishes its camps, and 168 persons were killed, as also were 205,600 sheep, 1292 horses, 490 camels, and 360 oxen. During eight days the soil was covered with snow to the depth of 5 1-2 yards!—Galgnuin's Messenger.

The official returns, which are now complete, make the population of Michigan 397,576.

THE GREAT FIRE IN NEW ORLEANS.—New Orleans Jan 25. The Picayune has a full account of the late conflagration. The fire was first discovered in the St Charles Hotel on the left wing of the building. The high wind prevailing soon drove the fire into the building, and under the portico roof, when it was difficult to reach it In a few minutes after the flames burst out in all directions, and all hopes of rescuing the building were abandoned. The fire raged for six hours, leaving the noble edifice a heap of ruins. Rev Mr Clapp's Church and the Methodist Church, together with several other buildings, soon shared the same fate, despite the exertions of the firemen. Mr Clapp's church was completely gutted in half an hour after it caught, and the Methodist church in less time. The latter contained a valuable organ and other property, none of which was saved.

The fire in the hotel is supposed to have originated in the detection of a flue in the chimney,—It must have smouldered for hours before it was discovered.

LIFE IN NEW YORK. The New York correspondent of the Rochester American gives one phase of life in that city:

Mock auctions are bad enough in all conscience, as many green horns can bear witness, but the Nibs case which has recently been on trial here, and ended in the conviction of the scoundrel, has brought to light some strange developments in the moral world. This Niles has accumulated a hundred thousand dollars fortune out of frail husbands and wealthy gents who don't like a public exposure of their fine characters. Niles is a lawyer, but his practice has been a strange one. He has literally lived upon those sins which most easily beset. His practice and observation has made him believe that human nature is very frail and corrupt. The last victim of his hellish art is a Mr. Haven, who is a husband and a father, and possessed of considerable wealth. Niles knew his man and prepared his instrument an abandoned woman about whose person some meretricious beauty still lingered. Her syren songs and bewitching glances overcome the unfortunate Haven, and he falls into the snare which had been so ingeniously spread for him by this lawyer's cunning. A man was also selected to play the part of husband who rushes into the chamber, surprises poor Haven, and sad to relate, witnesses the infidelity of his pretended wife! Now comes the finale of the game.

The pretended wife is shockingly alarmed, and acts her part adroitly. The pretended husband is both grieved and enraged, and demands satisfaction for such an outrage upon his once virtuous wife! The unfortunate Haven trembles, but not because he fears an exposure to the public. The affair can't be settled on the spot of course, for Niles, the prime mover, is not there. The business is put into the lawyer's hands by too aggrieved and injured husband! A prosecution is threatened or commenced. Haven has a wife, children, money, and pride of character. Niles knows him, and appears to be his friend, and yet he must be true to his client; Finally, the sum of two thousand dollars is fixed upon as hush money, Haven pays over. The lawyer gives $250 to the abandoned woman, pays a small pittance to him who played the part of husband, and pockets the lion's share himself. But the affair leaks out, for Niles has not been as generous to the woman as she thinks he should be. He is indicted, convicted and sentenced two and a half years to the State prison, and a fine of $5000. Haven's wife dies during the progress of the trial, and he is now left to mourn over his folly.

Such is life in this city. There is among us more Niles than one, and no doubt many Haven's who had better be on their guard. But let the curtain drop and hide such scenes from view. It is painful to dwell upon them.

THE BAR AND THE BENCH. Mrs. Partington will be the death of the Municipal Court. The Pathfinder contains the account of her last visit there. It is rich. Here it is:

"Did you see the bar?" we asked, as Mrs. Partington returned from a short visit to the Municipal Court. "There was two of 'em; one on each side of the room, with red curtains round 'em. And tho' they were so very sly, I saw how they contrived it. There was'nt a bottle nor a tumbler to be seen—they did'nt dare to show 'em, 'cause the law is again it—but I saw folks go up to 'em slyly as many as a dozen times, and the gentlemen behind the counter looked so innocent all the while! "What did you think of the bench?" we asked, in order to draw the old lady out. "Fetch!" said she, "I'd heerd a great deal about it, but there wasn't any bench there and the judicious crittur wasn't there neither—it worn out, perhaps, or too much soiled over to be used again—and I asked a sweet looking officer with black whiskers, if he could tell me where he set so justice were, and he had the goodness to tell me that they had'nt in the poor house to weigh stuff for the porpoises. Heaven knows they need 'em back again enough, for justice now a days is more uncertain in its weight than the sugar I buy twelve ounces for a pound!" The old lady hereupon departed, and she took the South Boston omnibus, as she said, to go over and see if what the officer said was true.

HORRID MURDER AND SUICIDE.—The most horrid case of murder, and suicide that has ever occurred in this county, took place in the town of Penfield, about eight miles from Rochester, N. Y., between six and seven o'clock Monday evening. The circumstances, as we have received them, are nearly as follows:—A Miss Sharp was attending her sister; a Mrs Campbell, who was ill at her residence, about two miles and a half from the house of Mr. Everetts' the murderer. About half-past six Monday evening, Miss S. went out of Campbell's house, and had been gone but two or three minutes, before a noise was heard, which caused Campbell and a young man who was at the house, to rush out—About ten feet from the door, Miss Sharp lay on the ground, with her throat cut from ear to ear, in the agonies of death, and near her lay Everette, who was her brother-in-law, in nearly the same situation, with a bloody knife beside him. Both the girl and her murderer expired on the spot. The parties are respectable. Everetts was a man of good reputation and industrious habits, and leaves a wife and children.

A Coroners inquest was held on the bodies, from which the following particulars were elicited—that Everett, who was brother in-law to Miss S., had for several years, illicit intercourse with her.

He had grown desperate with jealously at a preference shown to a rival. Hence the awful tragedy. A letter was found in his pocket showing that he contemplated suicide.

The census returns for the State of Maryland show an increase of only one thousand in her slave population for the last ten years! All her surplus negroes have been carried South and sold.

RUM'S DOINGS. At an inquest held upon the body of Polly Barrows, of Freetown, Mass, on Saturday, 26th inst., by coroner E. W. Pierce, the verdict of the jury was in substance. That the deceased came to her death in consequence of blows inflicted upon her person the evening previous, by the hands of Isaac Barrows, her husband, while in a state of intoxication.

It appeared from the evidence given by the children, who alone saw the affray, that the only act of provocation received by the husband was that his wife accidentally knocked off his cap while passing him He struck her in the back, in the face and in the chest. The last blow probably ruptured a blood vessel in the lungs, which caused her death in about 12 hours. She leaves seven children.

The Legislature of Iowa have named our new counties after the following distinguished Irishmen:—Mathew, O'Brion, Mitchell, and Meagher.

THE WEATHER IN NEW YORK. Thursday was the coldest of the season—14 degrees below zero. A number of small craft in beating up the bay where completely covered with ice, which was made during the night from the effects of the strong northwest wind.

From a Havana letter in the Tribune we learn that Jenny Lind was hissed by a portion of the audience at one of her concerts in that city. If Barnum had put his prices for tickets at the opera rates it is said he might have made $100,000 instead of loosing $18,000; but he thought the Havanese were good for any amount; and so, in grasping at too much, he lost all. Jenny was living outside the walls with Barnum and his daughter,—They would leave for New Orleans in the Ohio.

If a woman does not receive a compliment in good part, depend upon it you have expressed yourself in a very bungling manner. There are few women who do not know every charm that they possess and they are ever ready to appreciate any flattery of it. A compliment should always be indirect, so that the pleasing allusion must be drawn by inference. It it is gross, pointed and direct, it wounds the sensibilities or erates a suspicion of ridicule.

Col. Hall, of Bridgeport, who has taken some pains to investigate the "spiritual knockings" in Stratford, and elsewhere, is giving public lectures on the "art." He can "rap" anywhere, and in any required quantity, equal to the "spiritual agencies."

Formerly it was a maxim that a young woman should never be married till she had spun herself a full set of linen. Hence, all unmarried women were called spinsters; an appellation they still retain in certain deeds in law proceedings: though many are not called to it.

A London paper says that the Pope is about to establish an order of married preachers, so as to employ married English converts.

In the Spring of 1777 when Washington and the American army were at Morriston, N. J., The small pox broke out in the camp, and began its terrible work of death. As soon as possible Washton caused all his soldiers to be inoculated, which measure quickly disarmed the subtle enemy of nearly all its terrors.

It will be seen by our Legislative report that the Hon. Robert Rantoul has been elected by the Senate, United States Senator for the short term.

St. Louis embraces in its population of 77,716 persons, 40,471 foreigners and foreign born citizens of whom 23814 are Germans, 11,277 Irish, 2921 English, and 2459 natives of other foreign stock thus constitute the majority of the population, The city also contains 1,559 free colored persons, only 575 of whom have licenses to remain in the country; 684 are therefore remining those in violation of law.

Ex Governer Ford, of Ohio, was struck with paralysis in his left side on Monday last, which has entirely prostrated him. The Cleveland Plain Dealer says that his physicians despair of his recovery.

The census of North Carolina has been completed. The State has a population of 870,501. The federal or representative numbers of the State will be 750,860.

Those who would be successful in grafting cherry and plum trees, should do it in the spring, before the frost leaves the soil. All the stone fruits to be grafted early, while apple and pear trees should be grafted on the swelling of the buds, or in this vicinity, from the middle of April to the first of June

Agitation in Great Britian for the Repeal of the United States Fugitive Slave Law. A letter in the Boston Liberator, dated Edinburgh, Jan 29th, announces the arrival there of William and Ellen Craft.

NOTICE

☞ HO! U C THIS!! ☜

HO! LADS & LASSIES, for the last GRAND SOCIAL DANCE; to be held at LIBERTY HALL, next FRIDAY EVENING Feb, 7th.

W. S. WHITE.
G. WALKER. } Managers
A. FRENCH.

Music by E. FRENCH'S Band.
Tickets 75 cents. Dancing to commence at half past seven o'clock P. M.
South Quincy February 1st, 1851.

Quincy Lyceum.

REV. N. CLARK may be expected to deliver the Fourteenth Lecture, before the SOCIETY the present season, on THURSDAY Evening next, commencing at 7 o'clock.
H. O WHITNEY, Secretary.

REV. W. W. DEAN, of this town will deliver a lecture on the subject of Temperance at the Town Hall, on SUNDAY EVENING next, commencing at 7 o'clock. JAMES M. WADE, Secretary of the Union Baard.

A meeting of the "Union Board" of officers of the Temperance Societies will be held at the house of Benjamin Bass on TUESDAY EVENING next, at 7 o'clock. J. M. WADE, Secretary,

Sloop for Sale.

SUITABLE FOR THE STONE BUSINESS.

FOR Sale, the SLOOP ALMIRA, now lying at Weymouth, near Graves' Mills The said Sloop is in good order, and every way calculated for the above business—for which purpose she has been a number of years employed. Her Sails are nearly new, having been in use only a few months
She will be sold on reasonable terms by application to
DAVID PRATT, Middle st. Weymouth, Mass
Weymouth, Jan. 11, 1851. 4w*

FISHER A. KINGSBURY;

COUNSELLOR AT LAW,
WEYMOUTH,
MASS.
Quincy, Feb 1, 1851. 6w

Bounty Lands.

CLAIMS for BOUNTY LANDS by Soldiers in the War of 1812—or any Indian War since 1790; their Widows and Minor children, attended to, and Land Warrants obtained, by
FISHER A KINGSBURY, Weymouth, Mass.
Quincy Feb 1 1851. 6m

Notice of Settlement.

ALL PERSONS having demands against the TOWN, are requested to present them for payment to the Selectmen, on SATURDAY, the fifteenth, and on MONDAY, the seventeenth, inst., at the Selectmen's Room, in the Town House, from two to five o'clock in the afternoon of each day
Also—All persons indebted to the Alms' House, are requested to settle with
EDWARD F. EATON, Superintendant,
on or before the above named time
JOSEPH W ROBERTSON, } Selectmen
GEORGE MARSH, } of
ELIJAH BAXTER } Quincy.
Quincy, Feb. 1, 1851. 2w

REMNANT DE LAINES, from 2 to 6 yds., for sale low, at
I. W. MUNROE'S.
Quincy, Jan 11, 1851. tf

BROAD CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, TWEEDS and VESTINGS, for sale at a great discount from former prices.
Please call and examine before purchasing, at
I. W. MUNROE'S.

Messenger's Notice

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, S. S.
JANUARY, 30, 1851.

FRANCIS HILLIARD, Esq. Commissioner of insolvency in and for the said County of Norfolk, has issued a Warrant against the Estate of
BENJAMIN NEWCOMB,
of Braintree, in said County, Teamster, an Insolvent Debtor, and the payment of any Debts and the delivery of any Property, belonging to said Insolvent Debtor, to him or for his use, and the transfer of any Property by him are forbidden by law.
A meeting of his Creditors will be held at a Court of Insolvency, at the Commissioner's Office, in Roxbury, in said County, on the seventeenth day of February next, at ten o'clock, in the forenoon, for the proof of Debts, and the choice of an Assignee or Assignees.
SILAS BINNEY, Deputy Sheriff, Messenger.
Braintree, Feb, 1st, 1851. 3w*

Ladies & Children's Shop Worn

☞.....SHOES.....☜

FOR Sale—at any price you please to give, at
I. W. MUNROE'S.
Quincy, Jan 25th, 1851. tfs

JUST received, a good assortment of GENTLEMENS', LADIES and MISSES
INDIA RUBBER SHOES
of the best quality, for sale cheap, by
I. W MUNROE
Quincy, Jan. 11th, 1851. tf

Paper Hangings.

A LARGE Lot of
PAPER HANGINGS
of 1 to 6 Rolls—some of high Cost—will be closed off from 25 to 50 per ct discount from cost, to make room for a prime assortment early in the spring.
I. W. MUNROE.
Quincy, Feb 1, 1851 tf

Contractor's Notice.

PROPOSALS will be received until the 10th day of Feb inst for furnishing materials, and building a Barn, 120 by 50 feet, on the Mr. Wallaston Farm, in Quincy—to be completed by the 1st of July next. For Plan and Specifications, please call on the Subscriber, to whom proposals may be made
LEWIS BASS.
Quincy, Feb, 1, 1851. tf

Strayed.

FROM the Subscriber, Dec 5th, two RED HEIFERS, marked N on the rump Whoever will return them, or give information so that they may be found, shall be suitably rewarded.
THOMAS J. NIGHTINGALE.
Quincy, Dec. 28, 1850. tf

New England Protective Union.

DIVISION.....No. 180.

AT the STORE recently occupied by Mr. Frederick Hardwick on Franklin street, may be found a good assortment of
GROCERIES, CROCKERY and GLASS WARE.
Together with a supply of
BOOT MAKERS FINDINGS.
—ALSO—
BEEF,
PORK,
SAUSAGES,
TRIPE,
LARD,
MACKEREL,
PICKELS,
POTATOES, &c.
All of which will be kept constantly on hand, and will be sold, at a small advance from cost, for cash.
The public are invited to call, and examine our goods, and become acquainted with our mode of trade
N B—The spacious Hall over the store will be let on favorable terms.
☞ Goods delivered to any part of the town free of charge ☜
Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. tf

Israel W. Munroe.

OFFERS for sale at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO, a good assortment of
ENGLISH and WEST INDIA GOODS, CROCKERY, GLASS and HARD WARE SHOES, HATS and CAPS, PAPER HANGINGS,
And almost every article kept in a variety store, at the lowest prices for cash or approved credit.
Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. tf

BOSTON MUSE
Tremont Street, ... B
ALWAYS OPEN DAY AND EVE
THIS MUSEUM is the largest most val arranged in the United States. It comprises SEVEN DIFFERENT MUS
to which has been added the present year, besides daily accumulation of articles, One Half of the co
PEALE'S PHILADELPHIA MU
swelling the already immense collection to upw
HALF A MILLION ART
the greatest amount of objects of interest to be at any one place in America, and an entirety
NEW HALL OF WAX STAT
Over Hundred Feet in length, filled to their mo
WAX FIGURES of the size of life are to the number of upwards of TWO HUND have been in preparation for the last two years the most distinguished artists to be found in try or the new, and are so NATURAL and as to
Mock Reality.
and lead the beholder to doubt whether the figu ally live and breathe. Among the most prominent the celebrated Tableaux of CHRIST'S LAST SUP with his Twelve Disciples, representing the dismay of the chosen ones at the moment that ONE OF THEM SHOULD BETRAY HIM.
THE PRODIGAL S
returned home clothed in rags, and received father. The imposing spectacle of
THE CRUCIFIXIO
composed of more than forty figures; a corre
of that event, according to the best received Christ Disputing with the
a characteristic group of seven figures.
THE GAME OF LI
in which is shown the Christian and Sham mastery
THE SIAMESE TW
and their beautiful American wives
Representation by nine figures of the MASSACRE BY PIR
of the passengers of a merchantman in the description by one of the survivors.
HORRORS OF SLA
as exemplified by seven figures, being slave-owners, a slave driver, and two slaves MURDERS OF MRS
by the Indians during the Revolutionary war showing the cruelties of the INTEMPERANC and its certain evils, illustrated in three pictures of a
Wife Murdered by her
Also, groups of a School,—a Mill
Shop,—a Barber's Shop,—a Blacksmith's a variety of single figures of distinguished wards of
One Hundred of Cabi rendering it the largest collection of Wax
The entire of the Museum, and the BIRDS, BEASTS, FISH, INSECTS obtained from all parts of the world, compr the rarest and of Natural and Artificial Paintings, Engravings an OIL PORTRA
of the GREAT and GOOD of all nations
Heroes, Patriots, Statesmen, and Distin
Medals;—Shells, Corals, and Fossils;
EGYPTIAN MUMM
and ancient Sarcophagi, 3000 Years old;
Family of Peruvian
the DUCK-BILLED PLATYPUS, the con the BIRD and BEAST, being evidently half fish, half human FEJEE MERM
which was exhibited in most of the princi in the years 1846, '47, and '48, to the wonder of thousands of naturalists and other sci previous doubts of the existence of such were entirely removed;
Elephants and Ouran
ANIMALS and BIRDS of every and a variety of FISHES, including SAW AND SWOR
all in lifelike preservation; the whole struction, libelled with Admiralty, that is unequalled in the known world;—the small admission fee of
TWENTY-FIVE
In Addition to which,
WITHOUT EXTRA
visitors are admitted to the gorgeous has been newly decorated at an expense dollars, where they can witness the magn THEATRICAL ENTERT given EVERY EVENING, and WEDN
DAY AFTERNOONS, by a Company
Orchestra of Musicians, admitted to be before collected in this country, with the Stage and Scenic Arr
the most grand and superb ever seen in feat thus warranting the universal adm Museum, besides being the most comfo also the
Cheapest Place of A
IN THE WORLD. A single visit will assertion, as the admission is only ☞ 25 Cents to tho
Boston, Sept. 14, 1850.

FISHER A. KINGSBURY;
COUNSELLOR AT LAW,
WEYMOUTH, MASS.
Quincy, Feb 1, 1851. 6w

Bounty Lands.

CLAIMS for BOUNTY LANDS by Soldiers in the War of 1812—or any Indian War since 1790; Widows and Minor children, attended to, and all Warrants obtained, by
FISHER A KINGSBURY, Weymouth, Mass.
Quincy, Feb 1 1851. 6m

Notice of settlement.

ALL PERSONS having demands against the TOWN are requested to present them for payment to the Selectmen, on SATURDAY, the fifteenth, on MONDAY, the seventeenth, inst, at the Selectmen's Room, in the Town House, from two to five o'clock in the afternoon of each day
Also—All persons indebted to the Alms' House, are requested to settle with
EDWARD F. EATON, Superintendant,
before the above named time
JOSEPH W ROBERTSON,
GEORGE MARSH,
ELIJAH BAXTER } Selectmen of Quincy.
Quincy, Feb., 1, 1851. 2w

REMNANT DE LAINES, from 2 to 6 yds., for sale low, at
I. W. MUNROE'S.
Quincy, Jan 11, 1851. tf

ROAD CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, TWEEDS and VESTINGS, for sale at great discount from former prices.
Please call and examine before purchasing, at
I. W. MUNROE'S.

Messenger's Notice

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
NORFOLK, S. S.
JANUARY, 30, 1851.
FRANCIS HILLIARD, Esq. Commissioner of Insolvency in and for the said County of Norfolk, issued a Warrant against the Estate of
BENJAMIN NEWCOMB,
of Braintree, in said County, Trainster, an Insolvent Debtor, and the payment of any Debts and the delivery of any Property, belonging to said Insolvent debtor, to him or for his use, and the transfer of any property by him are forbidden by law.
That a meeting of his Creditors will be held at a Court of Insolvency, at the Commissioner's Office, in Roxbury, in said County, on the seventeenth day of February next, at ten o'clock, in the forenoon, for the purpose of proving their debts, and the choice of an Assignee or Assignees.
THOMAS BINNEY, Deputy Sheriff, Messenger.
Braintree, Feb. 1st., 1851. 3w*

Boots & Children's Shoes Worn Off.

☞.....SHOES.....☜
For Sale—at any price you please to give,
I. W. MUNROE'S.
Quincy, Jan 25th, 1851. tf.

Just received, a good assortment of GENTLEMENS', LADIES and MISSES
INDIA RUBBER SHOES
of best quality, for sale cheap, by
I. W MUNROE
Quincy, Jan. 11th, 1851. tf

Paper Hangings.

LARGE Lot of
PAPER HANGINGS
Rolls—some of high Cost—will be closed off at 25 to 50 pr ct discount from cost, to make room for a prime assortment early in the spring.
I. W. MUNROE.
Quincy, Feb 1, 1851 tf

Contractor's Notice.

PROPOSALS will be received until the 10th day of Feb. inst. for furnishing materials, and building a Barn 120 by 50 feet, on the Mr. Wallaston Farm, in Quincy—to be completed by the 1st of July. Plans and Specifications please call on the Subscriber, to whom proposals may be made
LEWIS BASS.
Quincy, Feb. 1. 1851. tf

Strayed.

From the Subscriber, Dec. 5th, two RED HEIFERS, marked N on the rump. Whoever will return or give information so that they may be had will be suitably rewarded.
THOMAS J NIGHTINGALE.
Quincy, Dec. 28, 1850. tf

England Protective Union.

UNION DIVISION.....No. 180.
THE STORE recently occupied by Mr. Frederick Hardwick on Franklin street, may be found a good assortment of BOOTS, SHOES, CROCKERY and GLASS WARE.
Together with a supply of
SHOE MAKERS FINDINGS.
—ALSO—
SAUSAGES,
TRIPE,
LARD,
MACKEREL,
PICKELS,
POTATOES, &c.
which will be kept constantly on hand, and sold at a small advance from cost, for cash.
Customers are invited to call, and examine our stock, and become acquainted with our mode of trade
The spacious Hall over the store will be let on reasonable terms.
Wood delivered to any part of the town free of charge.
Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. tf

Israel W. Munroe.

FOR sale at the old stand of JOSIAH ADAMS & CO., a good assortment of WEST INDIA GOODS, CROCKERY and HARD WARE SHOES, HATS CAPS, PAPER HANGINGS, and every article kept in a variety store, at prices for cash or approved credit.
Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. tf

BOSTON MUSEUM,
Tremont Street,.....Boston.
ALWAYS OPEN DAY AND EVENING.

THIS MUSEUM is the largest, most valuable, and best arranged in the United States. It comprises no less than
SEVEN DIFFERENT MUSEUMS,
to which has been added the present year, besides the constant daily accumulation of articles, One Half of the celebrated
PEALE'S PHILADELPHIA MUSEUM,
swelling the already immense collection to upwards of
HALF A MILLION ARTICLES,
the greatest amount of objects of interest to be found together at any one place in America, and an entirely
NEW HALL OF WAX STATUARY,
One Hundred Feet in length, filled to its utmost capacity with WAX FIGURES of the size of life, single and in groups, to the number of upwards of TWO HUNDRED, which for the last two years by a corps of Artists have been in preparation for the last two years by a corps of the most distinguished artists to be found in either the old country or the new, and are so NATURAL and LIFELIKE as to

Mock Reality,

and lead the beholder to doubt whether the figures do not actually live and breathe. Among the most prominent will be found the celebrated Tableaux of

CHRIST'S LAST SUPPER
with his Twelve Disciples; representing the consternation and dismay of the chosen ones at the moment when he told them that ONE OF THEM SHOULD BETRAY HIM.
THE PRODIGAL SON,
returned home clothed in rags, and received by his forgiving father. The imposing spectacle of
THE CRUCIFIXION,
composed of more than forty figures; a correct representation of that event, according to the best received authorities.
Christ Disputing with the Doctors;
a characteristic group of seven figures.

THE GAME OF LIFE,
in which is shown the Christian and Satan contending for the mastery.
THE SIAMESE TWINS,
and their beautiful American wives.
Representation by nine figures, of the
MASSACRE BY PIRATES
of the passengers of a merchantman in the India Seas. After a description by one of the survivors.

HORRORS OF SLAVERY,
as exemplified by seven figures, being actual likenesses of a slave-owner, a slave-driving, and their victims.
MURDER OF MISS McCREA,
by the Indians during the Revolutionary war; a thrilling group, showing the characters, as of the Devil Men.
INTEMPERANCE,
and its certain evils; illustrated in three groups, the last a correct picture of a

Wife Murdered by her Husband.
Also, groups of a School,—a Milliner's Shop,—a shoemaker's Shop,—a Barber's Shop,—a Blacksmith's Shop, &c., as well as a variety of single figures of distinguished men, &c., will upwards of
One Hundred of Cabinet Size,
rendering it the largest collection of Wax Figures in America. The entire of the above, and the immense collection of
BIRDS, BEASTS, FISH, INSECTS & REPTILES,
obtained from all parts of the world, together with numerous rare varieties of Natural and Artificial Curiosities;

Paintings, Engravings and Statuary,
OIL PORTRAITS
of the GREAT and GOOD of all nations.—Naval and Military Heroes, Patriots, Statesmen, and Divines;—Rare Coins and Medals;—Shells, Corals, and Fossils;
EGYPTIAN MUMMIES,
and ancient Sarcophagi, 3000 Years old; and an entire
Family of Peruvian Mummies;
the DUCK-BILLED PLATYPUS, the connecting link between the BIRD and BEAST, being evidently half each;—the curious half-fish, half-human

FEJEE MERMAID,
which was exhibited in most of the principal cities of America, in the years 1840, '41, and '42, to the wonder and astonishment of thousands of naturalists and other scientific persons, whose previous doubts of the existence of such an astonishing creation were entirely removed;
Elephants and Ourang-Outangs;
ANIMALS and BIRDS of every nation; Sharks, Seals, and a variety of FISHES, including the curious
SAW AND SWORD FISH,
all in lifelike preservation; the whole forming a School of Instruction, horrified with Amusement, that for extent and interest is unequalled in the known world;—the whole to be seen for the small admission fee of
TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.
In Addition to which, and
WITHOUT EXTRA CHARGE,
visitors are admitted to the gorgeous Exhibition Hall, which has been newly decorated at an expense of nearly five thousand dollars, where they can witness one magnificent
THEATRICAL ENTERTAINMENTS,
given EVERY EVENING, and WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, by a Company of Comedians and an Orchestra of Musicians, admitted to be SUPERIOR to any ever before collected in this country, with the aid of
Stage and Scenic Arrangements,
the most grand and superb ever seen in either European or American! thus warranting the universal admission that the Boston Museum, besides being the most comfortable and genteel, is also the
Cheapest Place of Amusement
IN THE WORLD! A single visit will prove the truth of this assertion, as the admission is only
☞ 25 Cents to the Whole!!!
Boston, Sept 14, 1850. sept

For Sale.

THE late residence of the REV WM ALLEN, near the Episcopal Church in Quincy. Apply to THOMAS B HAWKES, No 10 Exchange Street, Boston
West Woodstock, Conn. Sept. 7th, 1850. 3m

To Let.

A House at Braintree neck, convenient for a large family. Enquire of
DANIEL BAXTER.
Quincy, Sept 7th. tf

House For Sale

A one story and a half House, convenient for two families, built in a substantial manner, with a SHED and about three fourths of an acre of LAND, situated on Granite Street, and about one fourth of a mile from the South Quincy Depot. Will be sold at a bargain, and payments made easy. For particulars, inquire on the premises of
ALPHEUS HUNT.
Quincy, Nov. 16 6m

For Sale, or To Let.

A new and convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated, on Common Street, with a barn and about one acre of Land with Fruit Trees thereon, to be leased or sold. Apply to
SAMUEL COPELAND.
Quincy, Nov 9th. tf

To Let.

ONE half of a good House on Liberty Street, the other half occupied by Capt Stevenson. Also a good house and Barn, with three acres of Land, situated on the Braintree and Weymouth turnpike, about half a mile south of the Episcopal Church. Enquire of
DANIEL BAXTER.
Quincy, Sept 28 tf

To Let.

Convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated on Common Street, recently occupied by the Widow Driver, with about three acres of good Land, with several fruit trees; an excellent well of water, and a small Barn. Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND.
Quincy, Aug. 10 tf

House and Land for Sale.

FOR Sale, a story and a half House in good condition—with Barn, sheds, two wells of Water, and other out Buildings—and nine Acres of excellent Land; all under cultivation, with a thrifty orchard of Apple and Cherry Trees, thereon. Situated on Adams' street, joining the Estate of William Newcomb, and about three quarters of a mile from the Depot. The said land, is well calculated for building lots, and will be sold at a bargain. For particulars, enquire on the premises of
MICHAEL GIRETY.
Quincy Jan 11, 1851. 2m

House for Sale.

FOR Sale a new and convenient dwelling House; one and a half stories high; pleasantly situated on Coun an street; and an acre of land, with a young orchard of Apple, Cherry and Peach trees, thereon. Said property is pleasantly situated, and will be sold on reasonable terms, by application to
MICHAEL GIRETY, Adams street.
Quincy, Jan. 18, 1851. 2m

Real Estate for Sale.

WILL be sold at private sale, until the 1st of April next,
EIGHT HOUSE LOTS on Mount Pleasant; Two House Lots on the Greenleaf Place. These Lots are all pleasantly situated, with one fourth of an acre of Land attached, and will be sold at prices varying from sixty to one hundred and five dollars per lot. The lots on the Greenleaf Place command a fine view of Boston Harbor, adjoining the Old Colony Railroad, and but a few rods from the principal Depot.
Also—On the Greenleaf Place, one lot of Land with a new dwelling House, suitable for two families, and which will be sold so as to pay twelve per cent
The Subscriber hopes his friends will aid him in the sale of this property, as he desires to square accounts with all persons.
All indebted, he hopes will pay before the 31st of January, and all he owes, are desired to present their claims by that time.
HARVEY FIELD.
Quincy, Jan 18, 1851. tf

NEW STORE! NEW GOODS!
AT THE OLD STAND,
Formerly occupied by Messrs. H. Pettes & Co.
(who have removed to their new Granite Warehouse, Summer St
No. 224 WASHINGTON,
Corner of Summer Street, Boston.
GEO. W. PETTES
Has taken this well known stand, and will always be ready to show his customers the choicest, and in every respect the most desirable stock of
DRY GOODS,
WHICH CAN BE EXPOSED FOR SALE.
The prices for all articles shown will be very low. No customer shall be able to better the purchase made at this store.
☞ Please call and examine the elegant Stock of SHAWLS of all kinds,
SILKS "
DE LAINES "
PRINTS "
HOUSE-KEEPING GOODS, of all kinds,
GLOVES AND HOSIERY "
TRIMMINGS "
And all sorts and kinds and qualities of Dry Goods, suited to the wants of families and always at LOW PRICES.
Whenever you visit Boston, visit this new and very convenient Store, and make your purchases too, if you would consult your own interest.
No. 224 Washington, corner of SUMMER ST.,
BOSTON.
GEO. W. PETTES.
Boston, Oct. 19th, 1850. 3mis

Let the Public Call.

THE subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, stock of the best material only used; and the workmanship will vie with any other establishment
By attention to business and promptness to orders a liberal share of support is solicited
RALPH LOWE.
Quincy April 13th.

W B. Learned

HAVING taken the Store formerly occupied by E C Redfern, and recently by D R Adams, takes this method of informing his friends and the public that he has just received and is now opening a well selected stock of

WATCHES
JEWELRY
—AND—
Fancy Goods.
Suitable for Christmas and New Year's Presents.
Persons wishing any thing in his line are invited to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere
☞ Particular attention given to the REPAIRING of Watches and Jewelry.
Hancock Street, Quincy, Dec. 21, 1850. tf

QUINCY HALL
Clothing Depot.
On the Weymouth and Braintree Turnpike.

Special Notice.

JOHN DINEGAN.
Has just received a supply of NEW GOODS from some of the most celebrated Manufacturers in Europe Consisting in part of HEAVY WEST OF ENGLAND
PILOT & BEAVER
CLOTHS, suitable for OVERCOATS or SACKS, and comes very cheap
Do very heavy DRAB for travelling or Riding Surtouts. Also, Several splendid pieces
French and German Broadcloths!
of the most fashionable colors, worn and suitable for tasty Promenade or Business Coats.
VESTINGS.
SILK VELVET, PLAIN & FIGURED, some of the richest Patterns ever introduced in this market.
Also, SATINS of every design and pattern, Valencias, and other styles
PANTALOON GOODS.
A first rate assortment, always on hand from the lowest price to the most costly.
READY MADE CLOTHING
of a superior quality, to suit all in want.
Our present stock of Goods is the richest and best selected, that is has ever been our pleasure to present to our friends and customers, and as the price has been fixed to each article, which we feel must be satisfactory to the buyer, ONE PRICE ONLY.
Hosiery.
Just received, a good assortment of FLANNEL SHIRTS AND DRAWERS
GLOVES, SUSPENDERS, &c.
A complete assortment of MEN and BOYS CLOTH CAPS
Quincy, Nov. 9th tf

NEW ENGLAND PROTECTIVE
Union, Division No. 179.

JUST opened on Washington Street, a few doors below the Stone Temple, in the Store recently occupied by J. Williams
The Company respectfully solicit the attention of the public to their mode of Trade, and examine for themselves the quality of their Goods, and their Prices, which will be always exhibited upon a bulletin board
Their Stock of Goods consists of all kinds of Groceries Country Produce, FLOUR, CROCKERY WARE, &c
All of Superior quality, and sold at the lowest possible advance from cost
No Damaged, Mixed, or inferior goods will be offered for sale.
Quincy, Oct 8. tf

Notice.

THE Subscribers return their thanks to their friends and the public generally who have favored them with their custom, and would say to those who are purchasing goods, that we intend keeping a good, assortment of English, West India goods and Groceries of all kinds.
Also, Beef, Pork, Bacon, Lard, Mackerel, and Vegetables, which will be sold as low as can be bought elsewhere for cash or credit.
Also, Flour by the barrel or bag, as low as can be bought for cash.
N. B. Goods delivered as usual
DANIEL BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 5th. tf

Executor's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the Will of
BETSEY LEWIS,
late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, widow, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to,
LEMUEL HUMPHREY, Executor.
Weymouth, Jan. 18, 1851. 3w*

Bakery Business.

THE subscribers respectfully inform the public that they have commenced the baking business at the bakery formerly occupied by L G Horton, and hope by their constant attention to the business to merit a share of the public patronage
J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, Jan. 18th, 1851. tf.

LADIES
Of Quincy and Vicinity.
F. A. JONES & CO.
No. 1
TREMONT ROW,
BOSTON,
Would solicit your attention to the Immense Stock of
NEW GOODS
which they now have, and are daily receiving by every foreign arrival, suitable to the
AUTUMN TRADE OF
1850.
Every variety of
SHAWLS,
from the most expensive Cashmere to the cheapest Wool Plaid
SILKS
of every kind and quality, in Blacks and Colors, ALWAYS AT LOW PRICES.
FRENCH THIBETS
and
GERMA MERINOS
Of all Grades
FALL AND WINTER
DRESS GOODS,
Our usual Assortment.
VELVETS,
All Widths and Colors.
FRENCH CLOAKS AND SACKS,
New Patterns and Trimmings.
Together with the Immense Variety of all other Styles Dry Goods Adapted to the Present Season.

Our long experience in the City Retail Trade enables us to know the wants of our customers, and give us unusual facilities for supplying them. During the whole of our business career, it has always been our intention to offer CHOICE GOODS at LOWER PRICES than any other house in the city. Whether we have done so, we leave the public to judge; but we have succeeded, by always keeping this point in view, in building up the largest
EXCLUSIVE RETAIL TRADE.
in the City of Boston, as the crowds of purchasers who daily throng our Establishment, show
Our increased facilities will enable us, during the present season, to offer still greater inducements, by the simple multiplication of business to such an extent that we can afford to sell each article at a small advance from the cost of importation.
Every variety of goods, we shall, as usual, be supplied with. In short, we mean to make our place of business a resort for the shrewdest and closest purchasers, as well as the most fanciful and particular, where any lady may be sure of finding all the styles of Choice and Fashionable Goods, always at the very lowest market prices.
Thankful for past favors, we solicit a continuance of that patronage which now enables us to refer you to past experience to prove that at no other place can you receive more fully the value of your money, than at our house, and we feel warranted in asserting that at no time have we been able to offer so many bargains at the present season
TREMONT ROW.
Silk and Shawl Store.
F. A. JONES & CO.,
NO. ONE TREMONT ROW,
Nearly opposite head of Hanover Street,
BOSTON.
Boston, Sept. 7. 6mos

ALL READY!
AND NOW OPENING,
NEW STYLE FOR FALL AND WINTER TRADE,
JUST RECEIVED AT THE
Town Hall Cloth and Clothing Store, Quincy.
RUSSELL & CO.,
WOULD Respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made great additions to their present expensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would particularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect THEIR STOCK before buying elsewhere, feeling confident we can sell BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.
N. B.—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN, ENGLISH and FRENCH and AMERICAN GOODS. Some of the RICHEST VEST PATTERNS, and a HOST OF PANTALOONERY!
BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVERY DESCRIPTION ON HAND
Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.
HATS, CAPS, &C.
P. S.—RUSSELL & CO., having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for public and private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of very article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.
——NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.——
Quincy, March 23.

Old Colony Railroad.

Depot Corner of South and Kneeland Streets
FALL Arrangement, commencing September 10, 1850. Trains leave Boston daily, except Sundays—
For Plymouth, 8 12 A M; 4 12, P M
For Bridgewater, 8 12 A M; 4 12 P M.
For Quincy and Braintree, 7 34, 8 12 A M; 1 34, 3 45, 4 12, 9 14 P M.
For Hingham and Cohasset, 8 12 A M; 3, 6 P M
For Milton, U M, 9 34 A M; 1, 2 34, 5 12, P M
Plymouth for Boston, 7 14 A M; 3 14 P M.
Bridgewater for Boston and Plymouth, 7 12 A M; 3 12 P M
Cohasset for Boston, 6 34, 8, A M; 4 P M.
Milton U M for Boston, 8, 10 12 A M; 1 34 4 34, P M.
Braintree for Boston, 7 18, 8 12, 9 40, 11 04, A M. 2 48, 4 12, 5 13, P M
☞ The 5 P M. Train from Boston for Plymouth, will not stop short of South Braintree
JOS. H. MOORE, Sup't.
Boston, July 25. tf

Trains leave Quincy for Boston as follows:—
7 24, 8 38, 8 47, 11 19, A. M.; 2 54, 4 32 5 16 P M

DRY GOODS' NOTICE.

THE undersigned most respectfully inform the public that they keep constantly on hand a large Stock of
DRY GOODS,
well adapted to the wants of the community.
At all times can be found a good assortment of
Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinets and Doe-Skins, Prints, De Laines, Cashmeres, Alpaccas,
and a great variety of
DRESS GOODS AND SHAWLS,
Sheetings, Shirtings, Flannels, and Blankets.
With a good Assortment of such articles as are usually found in a well selected
Stock of Dry Goods.
Feeling confident that our prices will insure a ready sale, our GOODS will be freely shown to all wishing to examine them.
GEORGE SAVIL & CO.,
Washington Street, Quincy.
A few rods east of the Stone Meeting House.
Quincy, October 5 tf

Super Cashmere Scarfs.

A GOOD Assortment of Colors and Sizes, just received and for sale very low, at
I. W MUNROE'S.
Quincy, Jan. 18, 1851. tf

☞Shirts.....Shirts☜
I. W. MUNROE, has just received a prime assortment of
☞.....FINE SHIRTS.....☜
of the latest style, which will be sold at very low prices
Quincy, Jan 25, 1851. tf

NEW DRY GOODS
Establishment!
REMOVAL.
GEORGE HILL & CO.
Have removed to their new and splendid
Wholesale and Retail Establishment
Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,
BOSTON,
Which is the largest sales room in the United States being 150 feet long and 60 feet wide;
And would invite the attention of Purchasers to their Large Stock of Goods unsurpassed in extent and variety, by any Stock exhibited in New England, consisting of
SHAWLS
Of every description, in entire new designs, both long and square.
Plaid Shawls from the Bay State Mills,
A so'n from the best manufacturers in Scotland.
SILKS & SATINS
Of every quality, style and price, in new and beautiful colors and novel styles, for Cloaks and Dresses.
BLACK SILKS,
Of pure boiled silk, of superior lustre and durability.
Beautiful watered & plain Poplins.
DRESS AND CLOAK GOODS.
Our Stock is large and various, comprising all cost and Styles, from the lowest to the most costly.
Merinos, Thibets and Cashmeres, with Velvets, Silks and Combines to match, in all colors and shades.
HOUSE KEEPING GOODS.
Linens, Linen Sheetings, Pillow Case Linens Shirtings, Damasks, Damask Table Covers, Napkins Doylies, Sheetings, Flannels, Blankets, Quilts, Comforters and Prints
BROADCLOTHS & CASIMERES.
EMBROIDERIES,
The largest assortment in the city.
HOSIERY AND GLOVES
SHIRTS AND DRAWERS,
Ladies', Gents' and Children's;
Handkerchiefs, Scarfs, &c., &c.
In fact, all articles usually found in different stores may be found in this Establishment
The Goods will be freely shown, and customers may rely upon receiving the most respectful attention and will find the goods at uniform low prices, as we import our own Goods, and have but one price.
GEORGE HILL & CO.
NEW STORE, Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET
BOSTON.
Oct 5 3m.

BROTHER JONATHAN.
PICTORIAL; for the Christmas Holiday and New Year
For sale at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE
Quincy, Dec 14, 1850 3w

POETRY.

THE UNWILLING BRIDE.

BY H. D WHITE.

"In earlier days and fairer fortunes, she had plighted her troth to a peasant, with whom the May-day of his life had been happily passed on the vine clad shores of the sunny Rhine; but a cloud brooded portentously over her future, and her lover was torn from her presence to bear arms in his country's defence. Her parents favored the suit of a wealthy noble, who, attracted by her uncommon loveliness, pressed his addresses, and, by the authoritative assistance of her sordid relatives, won, at least, her hand. She married him! but the leaf that was green at her bridal fell upon her tomb."

I have told him that I loved him,
And it cannot be unsaid;
My speech shall never grieve them,
Though my heart he can not wed.
I have breathed the vow they bade me,
And he deems that he is blessed;
Thus he said as he embraced me,
And his lips to mine were pressed.

They have torn me from my idol,
They have turned my heart to stone,
But the grief that rends my bosom
I will utter unto none.
He had wealth and worldly honor,
And his name one of pride;
But my heart it is another's,
And can never be his bride.

But I've breathed the fatal promise—
On my hand I bear this ring—
'Tis a gem of priceless value,
Yet it hath an adder's sting.
What to me are rank and station?
Can such soothe a broken heart?
Were my home to be a palace
'Twould not cure my bosom's smart.

But my destiny I cannot,
I may not seek to change;
Though from him my soul adoreth,
They my love can ne'er estrange.

When the red leaf in the forest
Tells of Autumn's merry times—
When I list in pensive sadness,
To my native village chimes—
When the lover's star is beaming
In the deep sky clear and gray—
On my thoughts will fondly wander
With my heart—away—away.

And he will sit beside me—
He will mark my tearful eye,
He will see my bosom tremble,
And will hear love's smothered sigh;
But he ne'er must know the source
Whence my wordless sorrow flow;
I can breathe my grief to no one,
And must bear alone my wo.

But I've told him that I loved him,
And it cannot be unsaid;
My speech shall never grieve them,
Though my heart he cannot wed,
I have breathed the vow they bade me,
And he dreams that he is blessed;
Thus he said as he embraced me,
And his lips to mine were pressed.

MY MOTHER.

BY THE VILLAGE RUSTIC.

I love to sit beside thee, Mother,
And gaze upon thy face,
Thou hast a look of kindness, Mother,
That time cannot erase:
And as I take thy hand, Mother,
Methinks I hear thee say,
Be kind to all around thee, Daughter,
And for a kind heart pray!

I love to sit and talk, Mother,
When all is hushed and still,
And gaze upon the brook, Mother,
That dashes down the hill:
I love to take thy hand, Mother,
And lead thee to the lawn,
And view the brilliant sun, Mother,
Until the day is gone

I love to hear thy voice, Mother,
'Tis musical and sweet,
It makes my heart rejoice, Mother,
When loving friends you meet;
And if your friends desert you, Mother,
I'll ever prove to be,
As constant, kind and true, Mother,
As you have been to me

New England Village, Dec 10 1850.

Ploughman.

ANECDOTES.

One of the alligators of the Boston Museum has recently departed this life. A local reporter of the city press, while recording an affectionate obituary, remarks, that on one occasion, he was observed to breathe, and soon after he was observed not to breathe, and the last occurrence was the cause of his death.

—

Why is a man examining his boy, to see if he has the measles, like an astronomer? because he is looking for spots on the son.

—

"Wife," said a broker, a few days since, "do you ever think I shall be worth fifty thousand dollars?" "Am I worth that to you," said the confiding spouse. "Yes," hesitatingly replied her other half, "but I can't put you out at interest."

—

It is said that Barnum is in full chase after a chap who helped his own wife at dinner table in preference to another lady.

Bay State Long Shawls.

AN Assortment just received of the different sizes Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the lowest prices, by GEO SAVIL and Co., Washington Street, Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

PORK & BEEF.

SALT-PETRED BEEF and Bacon, of the first quality, will be kept constantly on hand during the season, and sold as cheap as can be bought at

Any Store in Town for Cash.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quincy, March 24. tf

Family Bibles.

WE continue to sell BEAUTIFUL QUARTO BIBLES, of superior quality and binding, at unprecedentedly low prices. Many have availed themselves of the opportunity offered in a former notice, to purchase a good Bible cheap. We have more left and invite all to call and examine before purchasing.

C GILL & CO

QUINCY BOOKSTORE

Quincy, Jan. 4th., 1850 3w.

Cider Vinegar.

JUST received, and for sale by the subscribers twenty barrels extra Cider vinegar.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850. tf

Apples.

BALDWINS AND RUSSETTS, of the first quality, for sale by

H A RANSOM.

Quincy, Oct 12, 1850 tf

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, S. S. PROBATE OFFICE.

December, 20th A. D. 1850.

JOHN BEATH, the Administrator of the Estate of

JAMES T. LORING,

late of Braintree, in said County, victualler, deceased having presented his account in his capacity for allowance;

Ordered that said JOHN BEATH notify all persons interested therein, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same at a Court of Probate to be holden at Quincy, in said County, on the second TUESDAY of February, A D., 1851, by publishing this order three weeks successively in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot printed at Quincy

S LELAND, Judge of Probate

Quincy, Dec 28, 1850

Dissolution of Copartnership.

THE COPARTNERSHIP heretofore existing between the subscribers, under the firm of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO., is by mutual consent this day dissolved

All persons having demands against said firm, are requested to present the same, and all persons indebted are respectfully requested to make payment to either partner,

JOSIAH BRIGHAM
ISRAEL W. MUNROE.

Quincy, January, 1st, 1851

ISRAEL W. MUNROE.

WILL continue the business at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO., and hopes by close personal application to business to receive a continuance of the patronage so long and liberally bestowed on the late firm

Quincy, Jan 4th 1851. 3w.

FALL AND WINTER

Just Received at the

QUINCY HALL CLOTHING DEPOT,

ON THE

Braintree and Weymouth Turnpike.

JOHN DINEGEN

WOULD respectfully intimate to his friends and the public, that he has just received a very choice and select Stock of

Fall and Winter Goods!!!

Consisting in part of BLACK, BLUE, BROWN, OLIVE, DAHLIA, GREEN, and other Fancy colored Cloths, of

ENGLISH, FRENCH AND GERMAN

Manufacture

Also—a good assortment of Plain and Fancy

Doe-Skins

for Pants.

VESTINGS

of the very latest designs. SILK VELVET, PLAIN and Figured SILKS and SATINS, VALENCIAS &c.

Gents wishing to obtain a Fashionable and tasty Garment of any description, are respectfully invited to call and see for themselves.

Garments made to order at very short notice, and by

THE BEST OF WORKMEN.

READY MADE CLOTHING of every description, and at prices to suit all parties.

ONLY ONE PRICE ASKED.

Quincy, August 31. tf

Jewett & Prescott's

SILK AND SHAWL STORE,

No. 2 Milk Street, Boston.

IMPROVED AND RESTOCKED

For the Autumn Trade of 1850.

TO KEEP PACE WITH THE TIMES, we have just made Suitable Improvements in our well known Establishment, and have secured an assortment of

NEW SHAWLS,

SILKS, AND CLOAK GOODS,

that will distance all competition, without exception We accordingly ask the attention of

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL PURCHASERS

to our variety of Black and colored Dress Silks, Satins, and Satins de Chene; Shawls of all kinds, including the celebrated Bay State Shawls; Paris Cloaks and Sacks, latest patterns; Thibet Cloths and Merinos; Silk and Woolen Fabrics for cloaks and dresses; Marceline Silks, and other Goods for trimming cloaks; Cashmere Scarfs; Watered Silks and wide Velvets; Crape Shawls; Bombazines; Alepines; and a large variety of similar goods.

To those who answer our call, we guarantee that the styles qualities and prices shall meet their most sanguine expectations

JEWETT & PRESCOTT,

No 2, Milk Street.

Boston, August 31. 3mos

Cider Vinegar.

FIRST rate article of good, Cider Vinegar. Just received and for sale by

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, August 17. tf

Dyer's Washing Fluid.

A first rate article for washing clothes. For sale by H. A. RANSOM & Co.

Quincy, Sept 14 tf

W. Porter.

DEALER IN

Pine, Spruce and Hemlock

LUMBER,

CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,

LATHS, PICKETS,

CEDAR POSTS, &c.,

At his new Wharf near Brackett's.

Quincy, July 31 tf

A CARD

J. A. Holden,

Has just received the Fashions for the

FALL AND WINTNR

OF

1850.

He has also received Fashionable Goods of the present and approaching season, among which, are

FRENCH, GERMAN AND AMERICAN

Broadcloths!!!

of various colors and qualities.

A great variety of

PANT GOODS,

together with good styles of

VESTINGS, &C.

He is, therefore, more prepared to make Garments for his customers, which cannot fail to please them.

Quincy, Sept 14. tf

Pure Cider Vinegar.

BY the gallon or barrel, just received, and for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

1851.

THOMAS' Old Farmers' Almanac, for 1851, for sale wholesale and retail, at the

QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Quincy Nov 2d 1850 3w

For Sale.

SEVEN PRIME COWS, and from 10 to 15 Tons fine ENGLISH HAY by

CHARLES P. TIRRELL.

Nov. 2 tf

N. B.

Geo. Savil & Co.,

Dealers in

READY-MADE CLOTHING

OF

EVERY DESCRIPTION,

AT

ROUGH & READY HALL,

WASHINGTON STREET,

Quincy.

—o—

A LARGE ASSORTMENT

Constantly on Hand!!

AND FOR

SALE

At the Very Lowest Prices!!!

Also,

A GOOD SELECTION

OF

GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.

Quincy, Sept. 28. tf

Notice.

THIS is to certify that my wife, Nancy H Austin, has left my Bed and Board, and I hereby forbid any person or persons either harboring or trusting her on my account, as I shall pay no debts of her contracting.

S. L. AUSTIN,

Quincy, Mass, Jan. 11, 1851. 3w

Administratrix's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

DANIEL NOLEN,

late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Boot Treer, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to

BRIDGET NOLENS, Administratrix.

Weymouth Jan 11, 1851 3w*

Pies, Puddings, Custards, &c.

MRS E HAYDEN has on hand, a variety of articles for flavoring, viz:—

Peach water; Rose water; etc., etc. Essence of Rose, Cinnamon, Lemon, etc

Also—Sweet Marjoram, Sage, Summer Savory, Thyme, &c.

Quincy, Nov. 16 tf

To Let.

A GOOD HOUSE, situated about half a mile East of the Episcopal Church Possession given immediately Enquire of DANIEL BAXTER.

Quincy, Jan. 11th, 1851. 3w

Notice.

THE Subscriber has by mutual consent, this day, withdrawn from the Quincy Granite Association, now doing business under the firm of Wright, Barker & Co.

DON CARLOS BLAKE.

Quincy, Jan. 1, 1851. 3w

Mrs. . Hayden

GRATEFUL for the patronage she has received for more than twenty years, offers to her friends and the public an ENLARGED STOCK of the best

FAMILY MEDICINES,

Selected and Prepared with care

—ALSO—

Various articles for the use of the sick, among which are, SPOUT DRINKING CUPS; Leech Glasses; Nursing Tubes, of Porcelain, ivory and silver, with and without bottles; India Rubber Breast Pumps, glass Pipes and Shells; Pratt's Patent Nursing Shields; India Rubber and Box Wood do; Bed Pans; Metal and Glass Syringes; Crain's, Ingall's and Chapin's Supporters; Horse Hair Mittens;

English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow; Spread Plasters, on kid, cloth and paper; Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes; Dtistering Paper and Tissue Dressing; European Leeches, &c, &c.

Physicians' Prescriptions,

Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH.

She has also on hand and is constantly receiving the New and Popular Medicines of the day.

Washington St., rear of Stone Temple.

Quincy, Oct. 20. tf

Salt Pork and Beef.

A FIRST rate article of PORK and BEEF, packed by the subscribers and for sale by the barrel or in smaller quantities to suit purchasers, cheap for CASH J & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy. March 16th. tf

CROCKERY WARE

A Splendid Assortment of CROCKERY WARE just received and for sale at the Union Store, on Washington Street, Quincy

Blue Stone China Tea Setts -	1 75
Mulbury " " " - -	1 75
Light Blue " " " - -	1.37
White " " " - -	1 37

— AND —

A Good Assortment of GLASS & BRITANIA OIL & FLUID LAMPS

Quincy, Dec 7 1850 tf

Wanted to Hire

A MAN without a family, to take the care of the BARN and STOCK, until the first of April next Enquire of

NOAH CURTIS

Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. 2w

VESTINGS.

SILK VELVET, PLAIN & FIGURED, some of the richest Paterns ever introduced in this markete

ALSO, SATINS of every design and pattern, Valencias, and other styles

PANTALOON GOODS.

A first rate assortment, always on hand from the lowest price to the most costly.

READY MADE CLOTHING

of a superior quality, to suit all in want.

Our present stock of Goods is the richest and best selected, that is has ever been our pleasure to present to our friends and customers, and as the price has been fixed to each article, which we feel must be satisfactory to the buyer, ONE PRICE ONLY.

Hosiery.

Just received, a good assortment of FLANNEL SHIRTS AND DRAWERS

GLOVES, SUSPENDERS, &c.

A complete assortment of MEN and BOYS CLOTH CAPS.

Quincy, Nov. 9th tf

QUINCY WASHING MIXUTRE

THIS article has been tested by upwards of fifty families during the past week, and all have called it equal to anything of the kind which they have used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and sell it at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart, full directions accompanying it.

By this improvement, it is expected the dry goods market will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this will wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so often will new be bought.

ELISHA PACKARD.

tf

Periodica Agency.

C. GILL & Co. are Agents for all the Quarterly, Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free from any expense for Postage or transportation. All who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time for which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices. tf Quincy, Dec. 22.

New Goods.

—o—

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.,

HAVE recently made large additions to their Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows:

Moushn DeLaine, a good assortment, very low;
Prints and Ginghams in great variety;
Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters
Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors
Wool Yarn, of all colors;

A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and 12 1-2 cts per yard;

Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other Goods, all of which will be sold at the

Wool Frocking

200 TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.

ALSO—FROCKS ready made

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Sept. 29. tf

Prepartion for the Hair.

THE celebrated "Der Schon Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Gloss; Camm's Spanish Lustral, or medicated hair preservative; Tompkins' Chlorion gustrale: Batchelor's instantaneous hair dye; Jules Haules vegetable hair dye. For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

Velvet Trimmings.

JUST Received, an assortment of Velvet Trimmings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by

GEO SAVIL & Co., Washington St.

Quincy, Sept 21. tf

Paper Hangings.

3 TO 400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 24th tf

Watches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at the Store of GEORGE B. FOSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum,) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortment of

Gold and Silver

WATCHES,

Silver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Rich

HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

His attention will be given personally, at all times, to the REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF WATCHES, which his long experience in that department with Mr. JEFFREY R BRACKETT, entitles him to the confidence of his friends and customers.

☞His friends and acquaintance when in Boston are invited to call.

THOMAS S. JOHNSON.

Boston, Feb. 23. istf

Crockery and Glass Ware.

JUST added to our previous assortment, new and choice patterns of

Tea and Dining Setts, Washbowls, and Ewers.

H A RANSOM & Co.

Quincy Sept. 1. tf

Brown's

ALMANAC, Pocket Memorandum and Account Book, for 1851. for sale at the

QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Quincy, Nov, 25, 1851

Board in Quincy.

A Gentleman and his wife, or two single gentlemen, can have pleasant rooms and board, at the house of Misses J. B & M TOWNSEND, on President's Hill, nearly opposite the depot

Quincy, Nov. 16. 3m

Hats and Caps.

2 CASES, Fall style, just received, and for sale cheap for cash, by

A. B. PACKARD.

Quincy, Dec. 6. 6w

Apples and otatoes.

50 Bbls RUSSET and GREENING APPLES 200 bushels POTATOES of various kinds. For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, Dec. 7, 1850

HAT AND CAP STORE.

A. B PACKARD has remodled his Store, making the sales room twice as large as formerly, where he intends keeping a large stock of

HATS AND CAPS,

suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle-aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.

Also,

A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring styles.

Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Ginghams, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c.

With that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers' use

Quincy, April 13. tf

French Calf Boots.

MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a FIRST RATE FIT WARRANTED, by W. S. UNDERWOOD,

Hancock St., Quincy,

Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.

Quincy, May 5. tf

SKATES.

40 Pairs of extra SKATES For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, Dec 7, 1850

Beef and Pork.

A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere.

Also—Fresh BEEF and PORK, constantly on hand, and delivered to any part of the town free expense. H. A. RANSOM & CO.

m16 tf

BACKGAMMON BOARDS.

VARIOUS Sizes! good finish; selling low at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE

Quincy, Dec. 14, 1850 3w

Flannels.

WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels Twilled and plain, an assortment just received and for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washington Street Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21 tf

Collector's Notice.

NEARLY $7.000 of the Taxes for the year 1850, remain unpaid; which by vote of the Town are due the Treasurer on the 1st inst All resident Tax payers, who owe Taxes, will be called upon once to pay. If not paid when called upon, they must call at my house, and pay them, previous to the first of February next.

LEWIS BASS, Collector of Quincy.

Quincy, Jan. 4th. 1851. 3w

Bounty Land.

FOR SOLDIERS' OF THE WAR OF 1812—and of any Indian War since 1790, their widows and minor children, obtained All claims, business, and suits, under any of the PENSION or PATENT LAWS of the United States,—also PROBATE and other business connected with the settlement of Estates, of deceased persons attended to by

EBEN. SMITH, JR.

Boston, Dec. 28, 1850. 3m

Onions.

50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Oct 12th, 1850. tf

Particular Notice

THE Subscribers respectfully inform their customers and the public, that on and after the First of OCTOBER next, all goods will be sold at reduced prices for cash only.

All those who wish to buy cheap, are invited to call, as the prices cannot fail to suit them.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy. Sept 7th. tf

Salt Pork.

A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quncy March 9th, tf

PUBLISHED EV

NUMBER 6.

JOHN A. GREEN

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance—Two DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid till the end of six months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till the expiration of the year.

No subscription not advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrearages unless at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers wish their papers discontinued, they will give notice to that effect at the time their subscription expires. If any subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of his paper, so long as it is sent to his address from the Post Office, Tavern, or any other place where he may have ordered it, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, or otherwise they will be continued until ordered out, and charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business; and all advertisements for the benefit of other persons, as well as all yearly advertisements, and advertisements of auctions, must be sent in by them, must be paid for at the usual rates.

Business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.

☞Single copies of the paper, FIVE CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive and pay and requested to procure subscriptions:

JOSIAH BABCOCK,	Quincy Railway
GEORGE H. LOCKE,	" Stone Quarry
ORIN P BACON,	Dorchester.
FISHER A KINGSBURY,	Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVERLY,	Abington
SAMUEL A TURNER,	South Scituate
N B OSBORNE,	Salem
FREEMAN HUNT,	New York City

MISCELLANY.

SKELETON OF THE WRECK

While Sir Michael Seymour was in command of the Amethyst Frigate, and cruising in the Bay of Biscay, the wreck of a merchant ship drove past. Her deck was above the water; her lowest mast alone standing. Not a soul could be seen on board; but there was a cubhouse on deck, which had the appearance of being recently patched with canvass and turubeating, as if to afford shelter to some forlorn remnant of the crew. It was at this time a strong gale; but sir Michael, listening only to the dictates of humanity, ordered the ship to be put about, and sent a boat with instructions to board the wreck, ascertain whether there was any being surviving, whom the help of fellow man might save from the grasp of death. The boat proceeded towards the drifting mass, and while struggling with the difficulty of getting through the high running sea close along sides, they kept shouting all the time as loud as they could to any object resembling a bundle of clothes which might be observed to roll out of the cubhouse, against the shrouds of the mast. With the end of a boat-hook, they managed to get hold of one, and hauled it into the boat, when it proved to be the trunk of a man, bent head and knees together, and wasted away, as scarcely to be felt within the ample clothes, which had originally fitted it in a state of life and strength. The boat's crew hastened back to the Amethyst with this remnant of mortality; and so anxious was it in a body, that a lad of fourteen years, who was able, with his own hands, to lift a man into the ship. When placed on deck, it showed, for the first time, to the astonishment of all, signs of remaining life; it tried to move; the next moment muttered in a hollow sepulchral tone, 'there is another man.' The import of these words were heard sir Michael ordered the boat to shove off again for the wreck. The sea having now become somewhat smoother, they succeed this time in boarding the wreck, and on looking into the cubhouse, they found two other human bodies, wasted like the first, but had saved to the bones, but without the least spark of life remaining. They were found in a shrunk up posture, a hand of one of them on a tin pot in which there was about a pint of water; and a hand of the other resting on the deck, as to regain a bit of raw salt beef, the size of a walnut, which had dropped from its nerveless grasp. Unfortunate men! they had starved on their scanty store, till they had not strength remaining to lift the last morsel to their mouths! The boat's crew having completed their melancholy survey, returned on board, where they found the attention of the ship's company engrossed by the efforts to preserve the generous skeleton, who seemed to have just life enough to breathe the remembrance that here was still 'another man,' a companion in suffering to be saved. Captain committed him to the special charge of the surgeon, who spared no means which humanity or skill could suggest, to achieve the noble object of creating anew, as it were, a fellow creature, whom famine had struck almost every living energy. For three days he scarcely left his patient, giving him nourishment with his own hands every five or ten minutes; and at the end of three more, the "skeleton of the wrecks" was walking on the deck of the Amethyst; and to the surprise of all who recollected that he had been lifted into the ship by a cabin boy, presented the figure of a man nearly six feet high.

THE LATE ANNA BAILEY, OF [illegible] TON, CONN.

The wide notoriety of Mrs. Bailey is founded on a single incident which happened

Watches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at the Store of GEORGE B. FOSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum,) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortment of

Gold and Silver

WATCHES,

Silver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Rich

HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

His attention will be given personally, at all times, to the REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF WATCHES, which his long experience in that department with Mr. JEFFREY R. BRACKETT, entitles him to the confidence of his friends and customers.

☞His friends and acquaintance when in Boston are invited to call.

THOMAS S. JOHNSON.

Boston, Feb. 23. 1sif

Crockery and Glass Ware.

JUST added to our previous assortment, new and choice patterns of

Tea and Dining Setts, Washbowls, and Ewers.

H A RANSOM & Co.

Quincy Sept 1. tf

Brown's

ALMANAC, Pocket Memorandum and Account Book, for 1851, for sale at the

QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Quincy, Nov, 25, 1851

Board in Quincy.

A Gentleman and his wife, or two single gentlemen, can have pleasant rooms and board, at the house of Misses J. B & M TOWNSEND, on Presidents Hill, nearly opposite the depot

Quincy, Nov. 16. 3m

Hats and Caps.

CASES, Fall styles, just received, and for sale cheap for cash, by

A. B. PACKARD.

Quincy, Dec. 6. 6w

Apples and otatoes.

Bbls RUSSET and GREENING APPLES 200 bushels POTATOES of various kinds, for sale by

J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, Dec. 7, 1850

HAT AND CAP STORE.

A. B PACKARD has remodled his Store, making the sales room twice as large as formerly, where he intends keeping a large stock of

HATS AND CAPS,

suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the times of the people.

Also,

A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring style.

Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Ginghams, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c.

Together with that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers use

Quincy. April 13. tf

French Calf Boots.

MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a FIRST RATE FIT WARRANTED by W. S. UNDERWOOD,

Hancock St., Quincy,

Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.

Quincy, May 5. tf

SKATES.

Pairs of extra SKATES

For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, Dec 7, 1850

Beef and Pork.

Prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere.

Also—Fresh BEEF and PORK, constantly on hand and delivered to any part of the town free of charge.

H. A. RANSOM & CO.

tf

BACKGAMMON BOARDS.

VARIOUS Sizes: good finish; selling low at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE

Quincy, Dec. 14, 1850 3w

Flannels.

WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels Twilled and plain, an assortment just received for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washington-st Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21

Collector's Notice.

EARLY $7.000 of the Taxes for the year 1850, remain unpaid; which by vote of the Town are in the Treasurer on the 1st inst. All resident Tax payers who owe Taxes, will be called upon once to settle, if not paid when called upon, they must call at the house, and pay these, previous to the first of February next.

LEWIS BASS, Collector of Quincy.

Quincy, Jan. 4th 1851. 3w

Bounty Land.

ALL SOLDIERS OF THE WAR OF 1812—and widow of any Indian War since 1790, their widows or their children, obtained. All claims, business, &c. under any of the PENSION or PATENT laws of the United States,—also PROBATE and other business connected with the settlement of Estates of deceased persons attended to by

EBEN SMITH, JR.

Boston, Dec. 28, 1850. 3m

Onions.

50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, for sale by

H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Oct 12th, 1850. tf

Particular Notice

The Subscribers respectfully inform their customers and the public, that on and after the First of NOVEMBER next, all goods will be sold at reduced prices for cash only.

Those who wish to buy cheap, are invited to call, the prices cannot fail to suit them.

Quincy, Sept. 7th. J. & H. H. FAXON.

tf

Salt Pork.

A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered in any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co

March 9th, tf

QUINCY PATRIOT.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.....OVER MESSRS. JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO'S STORE.....HANCOCK STREET.

NUMBER 6. QUINCY (MASS.) SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1851. VOLUME 15.

JOHN A. GREEN,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance—Two DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid till the end of six months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till the expiration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will be stopped previous to the payment of all arrearages unless at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers wish their papers discontinued, they will give notice to the effect at the time their subscription expires. Every subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of his paper so long as it is sent to his address at the Post Office, Tavern, or any other place whereso'er he may have ordered it, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, otherwise they will be continued until ordered out and charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business; and all advertisements for the benefit of other persons, as well as all legal advertisements, and advertisements of auction sales, sent in by them, must be paid for at the usual rates.

Business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.

☞Single copies of the paper, FIVE CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscriptions:

JOSIAH BABCOCK,	Quincy Railway.
GEORGE H. LOCKE,	" Stone Quarries.
ORIN P BACON,	Dorchester.
FISHER A KINGSBURY,	Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVERLY,	Abington
SAMUEL A TURNER,	South Scituate.
N B OSBORNE,	Salem
FREEMAN HUNT,	New York City

MISCELLANY.

SKELETON OF THE WRECK.

While Sir Michael Saymour was in command of the Amethyst Frigate, and was cruising in the Bay of Biscay, the wreck of a merchant ship drove past. Her deck was just above the water; her lowest mast alone standing. Not a soul could be seen on board: but there was a cubhouse on deck, which had the appearance of being recently patched with old canvass and tarrabauling, as if to afford shelter to some forlorn remnant of the crew. It blew at this time a strong gale; but sir Michael, listening only to the dictates of humanity, ordered the ship to be put about, and sent off a boat with instructions to board the wreck, and ascertain whether there was any being still surviving, whom the help of fellow man might save from the grasp of death. The boat rowed towards the drifting mass, and while struggling with the difficulty of getting through a high running sea close along sides, the crew shouting all the time as loud as they could, an object resembling a bundle of clothes was observed to roll out of the cubhouse, against the lee shrouds of the mast. With the end of a boat-hook, they managed to get hold of it, and hauled it into the boat, when it proved to be the trunk of a man, bent head and knees together, and wasted away, as scarcely to be felt within the ample clothes, which had once fitted it in a state of life and strength. The boat's crew hastened back to the Amethyst with this remnant of mortality; and so small was it in a bulk, that a lad of fourteen years was able, with his own hands, to lift it into the ship. When placed on deck, it showed, for the first time, to the astonishment of all, signs of remaining life; it tried to move, and next moment muttered in a hollow, sepulchral tone, "there is another man." The instant these words were head, sir Michael ordered the boat to shove off again for the wreck. The sea having now become somewhat smoother, they succeed this time in boarding the wreck; and on looking into the cubhouse, they found two other human bodies, wasted like the one we had saved to the bones, but without the least spark of life remaining. They were sitting in a shunk up posture, a hand of one resting on a tin pot in which there was about a gill of water; and a hand of the other reaching to the deck, as to regain a bit of raw salt beef, of the size of a walnut, which had dropped from its nerveless grasp. Unfortunate men! They had starved on their scanty store, till they had not strength remaining to lift the last morsel to their mouths! The boat's crew having completeted ther melancholy survey, returned on board, where they found the attention of the ship's company engrossed by the efforts made preserve the generous skeleton, who seemed to have just life enough to breathe the remembrance that here was still 'another man," his companion in suffering to be saved. Captain S. committed him to the special charge of the surgeon, who spared no means which humanity or skill could suggest, to achieve the noble object of creating anew, as it were, a fellow creature, whom famine had stripped of almost every living energy. For three weeks he scarcely left his patient, giving him nourishment with his own hands every five or ten minutes; and at the end of three more, the "skeleton of the wrecks" was walking on the deck of the Amethyst; and to the surprise of all who recollected that he had been lifted into the ship by a cabin boy, presented the stately figure of a man nearly six feet high.

THE LATE ANNA BAILEY, OF GROTTON, CONN.

The wide notoriety of Mrs. Bailey is founded on a single incident which happened in the summer of 1813—an incident coarse and ludicrous in itself, but which has been widely circulated, and yet so much more frequently alluded to than actually told, that a simple detail of the facts seems requisite. The squadron of Commodore Decature had been chased into New London harbor by a superior British fleet; and attack upon the town was momentarily expected. It was of great importance that the fort on Groton Heights should be immediately prepared for a vigorous defence. Major Simeon Smith, with a band of volunteers from New London, hastened to the rendercment of the garrison, and preperations were made to give the enemy a warm reception, when it was discovered that they were short of cartridges. Wadding was wanted, and a messenger was sent in haste through the village to produce flannel. The inhabitants had mostly packed their goods and were carrying them off to places less exposed. Mrs Bailey was sending away her effects, and had only a few articles left in the house. She was crossing the street to a neighbor's door when the messenger, having traversed the village, asking in vain at every house for flannel to make cartridges accosted her and made known his errand and ill success. Without a moment's delay, as quick as thought she slipped her hand into her pocket hole, loosened her skirt shook it off, and lifting it up, presented it to the messenger with a right hearty laugh, expressing a wish, the import of which was, that it might do its work promptly and effectually.

The by-standers were much amused, and uttered a shout of admiration. The messenger hastened with his prize to the fortress, and made his report. The story was rehearsed to the whole garrison, and the sacrifice skirt being unrolled and displaced, was received with loud acclamations: the men, rearing it up on their pikes, declared that they would fight under it to the last drop of their blood. Had the British actually made an attack at that time, it is quite probable that the memoriable garment would have been run up to throw out its folds upon the wind as a banner.

This anecdote went forthwith into the newspapers, and was soon spread through the Union. Mrs. Bailey was exalted to a pinnacle of notoriety as the greatest of female patriots. She was toasted, visited, caressed; letters, tokens, and presents were sent her from all quarters. At a great naval and military ball given in New London not long afterwards, Mrs Bayley appeared in antique costume, and was led out upon the floor by the officer highest in rank that was present on the occasion. Since that period, strangers stopping at New London, have made it a point to visit Mrs. Bailey.—Two Presidents of the United States—Monroe and Jackson—in their respective tours through the Northern States, after visiting Groton Fort, went in stately procession to pay their respects to her as the heroine of Groton. —New London Chronicle.

FISHERMEN OF THE HAVANNAH.

We were laying at anchor in the beautiful, harbor of the Havannah in the month of July in the year of grace 1849, in the stout ship Dolphin of Liverpool. I was the only passenger on board, the others having disimbarked at Kingston; where we had touched first. We were at anchor inside the Fort and the delightful perfume of the orange and lemon trees, and of other tropical fruits, came warfted towards us in the stillness of the evening air. Night is only nominal in trophical climes, in my opinion it is the peasantest part of the day. The busy, bustling city was sunk in repose, and the waters around were still, save where some ravenous shark glided noiselesly through the etheral blue. I can never forget the delightful serenety of that evening.

Among the merchantmen—their white canvas furled on the tapering spars, and their masts reflected against the summer sky—there was lying a Spanish covette, her crew being all below with the exception of the watch on deck; and the grim sentry in the channels, musket in hand, pacing up and down. Leaning over the railrail, I was watching the phosporescent appearance of the water when I heard a slight splash in the direction of the ship's bow. At this time, with the exception of the mate, I was the only person on deck. I walked forward and leaning over the starbord bow, I saw a man in a little cannoe holding on by our cable. 'Hallo, my friend,' cried the mate who by this time had also perceived the stranger—'hallo, what are you at there?

'Soy pobre pascador (I am a poor fisherman,' replied a voice in Spanish. 'I am fishing, senores, for something to eat,' he continued 'and my poor children are waiting at home for me. To-morrow is Sunday and if I don't catch something, they will be without food; for the last two days have been holidays, and fruit is forbidden.'

'Poor fellow!' exclaimed the worthy mate 'Here, steward, bring me a piece of salt junk—a good round, mind you—and some biscuit.'

'Ay, ay, sir,' and the steward dived down into the cabin, whence he quickly emerged, bringing the required provisions in a cloth.

The worthy mate took them himself, and hailing the fisherman in Spanish, desired him, to come close under the ship's bows. As soon as the poor fisherman did so the mate lowered the food into his canoe, and the pescador withdrew to his former post. In a few moments we heard a great splashing in his light-skiff, and immediately he cried out. 'Oh, senores, I have now enough for my little things for some days.' And away went the poor fellow, after bestowing a thousand blessings—'Sobre los generous Ingleses"

We were to set sail for Kingston again on monday morning, and during Sunday I confined myself to the ship, listening to the tinkling of the convent and chapel bells. At last Monday morning came and we hoisted our topsails and jib, and fired a gun as a signal to the pilot. Off he came, and we bore slowly out of the harbor. Suddenly I perceived a canoe shoot from the shore, and approach us rapidly, rowed by a single man: it was full of cocoanuts, oranges, yams, and banans, all ranged round the solitary occupant. I took the glass to see more closely, and discovered with some surprise the features of the fisherman. In 20 minutes he was alongside for he was impeded by his freight, and we were catching the sea breeze; and a rope being thrown to him, the grateful fellow sung out for a basket to be lowered. This was quickly done, and having crammed the fruit into it, he cried out, Iza iza, (hoist hoist!) Senores,' exclaimed he, "wont you accept a little fruit, the produce of my garden, and with it also take the benediction of d'on hombre Espanol? Adios senores. With a quick stroke of his oars he backed his canoe dexterously, and with a heartfelt shout for los marineros Ingleses,' he rowed swiftly to the shore. We hoisted the spanker and flying jib, and with our sails full bore away for Jamaica.

MANUFACTORY OF GLASS ANIMALS.

In Saumer in a modest shop upon the quay, I witnessed an exhibition showing a degree of industry, Ingenuity and perfectly novel artistic skill, which surprised and delighted me. In a glass cage, at the door stood what, at first sight, I took to be a huge grotesque doll, made up in ludicrous imitation of the lack-a-daisical looking shepherds, who sometimes flourish in the picture' of Whanteau and his pastoral loving contempories. Looking more closely, I discovered that my shepherd was a glass one—that the half furry half velvety materials in which he was dressed, were compossed of innumerable filaments of spun glass of all imaginable colors.

I was examing the figure, when the shopkeeper politely invited me to enter. He was engaged by the help of a jet of gass, a small lump of glass, and the blow-pipe in manufacturing an infinity of tiny dogs, cats Paradise, with lustrous tails—the like of which abound in our own toyshops, but which were here endowed with an artistic appearance of life, and finished off, with a perfection of detail which appeared to me unrivalled. Still, not being over and above interested in the production of the nicknackeries, I was turning to go, when I observed a glass case at the bottom of the shop, containing very stuffed specimens of lions, striped tiger and leopard. "Ah," said the artist, those are my triumphs. I make my living out of trumpetry, dogs and cats, children's setts of plates; but these are the works to which I have devoted my time, and in which I have settled all the pride of my life.

I was astonished. What had I taken for natural hides and fur of the animals was entirely glass—every tawny hair in the lion's mane bring a distinct thread of the brittle material, and every colored fibre in the tiger's striped hide a seperately spun syecule of correspondingly hued glass. Here no doubt was the evidence of vast labor, of most delicate, ane patient, and dexterious handiwork. But the art of the exhibition was shown in the skill and fidelity which nature had been imitated, in the whole aspect and bearing of the animals, in the fine swell of their muscles—the attitudes and cord-like tenseness given to the legs and above all in the fierce, life-like aspect imparted to the creatures heads, that of the lion in particular flaming upwards from the masses of tangled, shaggy hair.

The artist looked upon his work with paternal pride. "I am the only man in Europe," he said, "who can make the like." He added that he had been sent for by the late ex-king of the French, who had purchased several smaller animals, made in the style of those I saw. I expressed the hope that I should encounter the lion, next summer in the London exhibition.

"No," the man replied, "he had shown his collection to the great English Lords when he was in Paris, but they stiff and cold, and the reception they had given him, discouraged him from thinking of sending any specimens of his skill to London."

It is to be hoped, however, that M. Lambourg—such is the artist's name—will change his mind in this respect. The lion cost him five years of labor. He estimated its value at thirty thousand francs, while he rated the tiger and leopard worth fifteen thousand, each.—Correspondent of a London Paper.

CHRISTMAS LEGENDS.

In Sweden where there are frost and snow to the full hearts content of the most joval merry-makers, they have a superstition concerning the season which can only take effect in the coldest latitudes, and which, on account of its accompanying terrors, may serve to mitigate our regrets for not being more frozen up than we are. Olans Magons tells us all about it in his history of the Goths. It seems that in the most northerly parts of that country men have a mysterious power of changing themselves into wolves at Christmas, by mumbling particular words, and drinking a cup of ale to the health of that complex beast—a man-wolf, and then reuring, into a cave or secret place, from whence they issue in the form of the ravenous animal whose habit they desire to assume.

These men-wolves collect together at a certain place on Christmas night, for the purpose of committing the most appalling outrages and excesses, in which they exhibit a remarkable combination of the worst vices of the compound species whose double natures they combine.—These human wolves, as might be expected, are more ferocious, cunning and dexterous than the natural wolves; and not satisfied with assailing crops, graneries, and such small deer as the minor animals, they attack houses, break open doors, kill the inmates and remembering the propensities of their former lives, rush into the cellars, where they drink whole tuns of mead beer and whatever they can get, leaving nothing behind them but the empty barrels. The stories related by Olans Magnus in illustration of these Christmas terrors have a smack of the true hobgoblin spirit in them.

A nobleman once journeying with a large retinue was benighted in the woods, and not having any provision in his train, became very hungry. It so happened that one of his servants was gifted with this faculty of transformation and accordingly, desiring the company not to be alarmed at anything they should witness, he went into a thick part of the forest turned himself privately into a wolf, and falling upon a flock of sheep, seized one and brought it back with him for his master's supper. The only objection to this capital story is that the machinery is too elaborate and costly for the effect produced, since the man could have caught as many sheep to his own proper person without taking the trouble of connecting himself into a beast of prey for the purpose.

But the best of these stories relates to a duke of Prussia, who disbelieving in the possibility of such a transformation, challanged a servant of his to give him a proof of it, whereupon the man immediately changed himself into a wolf for which ready compliance with his request, the duke rather ungratefully, ordered him to be burnt for sorcery on the spot.

A RIDE ON A CROCKIDILE.

When the British brigade under Sir David Baird was marching up the Eastern bank of the Nile, towards Cairo, a number of strangers fell behind, unable, from fatigue, to keep up with the main body. A rear guard was consequetly detached to protect the stragglers and keep them together. One of them, a Scotch Highlander, however, became so exhausted that his comrades were obliged to leave him to his fate. He had not been long alone when he saw a large crocodile waddling towards him with a very portentous aspect. Poor Donald eyed the monster as it approached him with feelings of intense alarm, and, although almost unable to walk, he mustered up his little remaining strength, and abided the onslaught of the enemy. As the unwieldly brute was slewing himself round to seized him, Donald dexterously got astride on its back and kept his seat. He at once drew his bayonet (for he had parted with his musket,) and every time the animal turned pricked it behind its forelegs, or whatever he could make the steel penetrate. How long the contest continued Donald could not tell, the guard reached head-quarters, the general on being informed that Donald had been left behind, immediately dispatched a corporal's guard to bring him in. On coming up to Donald there he was still astride of his Bucephalus, which was by this time nearly exhausted with the wounds inflicted by the bayonet.—The musket soon accomplished what the bayonet had begun, and Donald was brought into camp little the worse for his extraordinary encounter, and was ever after known in the regiment as the Crocodile Dragoon.

CALIFORNIA HENS.

The Rev. Walter Cotton, the late Alcalde of Monterey, finding it difficult to procure eggs when required, either for love or money, took the hen fever in a natural way; and that our friends in New England may know what kinds of birds they have in california, and their habits, we give Mr. Colton's own description of them:—

"I purchased six hens of an Indian woman, for six dollars; and a rooster for fifty cents.—On asking the woman why she charged only half price for the rooster, she replied that the fellow laid no eggs, and as for his crowing, that did nobody any good. Sounder reason than these could not be furnished on a much higher place than a hen-coop. The habits of these hens are a little singular. They are perfectly tame, and are as much at home in the kitchen as the cook. They never trouble themselves much about a nest, but deposite their eggs where they find it most convenient; one take the tea-tray, and another the ironing table, a third the oven, and there is one that always gets into the cradle. She is not at all disturbed by the tossing of the little fellow on whose premises she is intruding. Neither she nor any of her feathered sisters cackle when they leave their nest. They don't seem to think that anything worth making an ado about has come to pass. The rooster, it is true, pricks up a little, and perhaps, feels a feather taller. But this is the vanity of his sex. There are a great many who crow over what others have done."

☞The weapon that no enemy can parry is a bold and cheerful spirit.

EVIL COMPANY.

The following beautiful allegory is translated from the German:—

Sophronius, a wise teacher, would not suffer even his grown up sons and daughters to associate with those, whose conduct was not pure and upright.

"Dear father," said the gentle Eulalie to him one day, when he forbade her, in company with her brother, to visit the volatile Lucinda, "dear father, you must think us very childish if you imagine, that we should be exposed to danger by it."

The father took in silence a dead coal from the hearth and reached it to his daughter.—"It will not burn you my child, take it."

"Eulalie did so, and behold, her beautiful white hand was soiled and blackened, and, as it chanced, her white dress also.

"We cannot be too careful in handling coals" said Eulalie, in vexation.

"Yes, truly," said the father, "you see, my child, that coals even if they do not burn, blacken, so it is with the company of the vicious."

MEDICAL USE OF SALT.

In many cases of disordered stomach, a teaspoonful of salt is a certain cure. In the violent internal pain, termed colic, a teaspoonful of salt, dissolved in a pint of cold water, taken as soon as possible, with a short nap immediately after, is one of the most effectual and speedy remedies known. The same will relieve a person who seems almost dead from receiving a heavey fall. In an apoplectic fit, no time should be lost in pouring down salt water if sufficient sensibility remains to allow of swallowing; if not the head must be sponged with cold water until the sense returns, when the salt will completely restore the patient from the lethargy. In case of severe bleeding at the lungs, and when other remedies failed, Dr. Rush found that two teaspoonfuls of salt completely stayed the blood.

MORSE'S TELEGRAPHIC ALPHABET.

The Morse Teleghraphic Alphabet is made up of a combination of dots and lines or dashes and spaces, and as our juvenile readers may like to learn it, we insert it for their leisure study and amusement. It can very readily be, learned in an easy, practiced way, by drumming with the finger or thumb upon the knee or upon a desk, stand or table. It will be observed that it forms the base of music, that is, it is a division of time into equal parts, as thus:

The dash or line is equal to two dots. The letter A.—dot and dash, is therefore equal in time to three dots, is equal to five dots, and so on. So too the space is equal to one dot; C . . . two dots, space and dot, is equal in time to four dots; the same with its reverse, R. . . dot space and two dots, equal four dots in time. The dash is made by pressing the finger upon the key or table the length of time necessary to make two dots. Here is the alphabet, with the figures, viz:

A. — B — . . . C . . . D — . . E. F . — .
G — — . H . . . I . J — . — . K — . —
L — — . M — — N — . O . P . . . Q . . —
R . . . S . . . T — U . — V . . . —
W . — — X . — . Y . . . Z . . . & . . .
1 . — — . 2 . . — . . 3 . . . — . 4 . . . —
5 — — — 6 . . . . . 7 — — . 8 — — . . .
9 — . — 0 — —

L is a dash of double length, or equal to four dots, and the cypher is a dash of treble length, or equal to six dots in time. It will be observed that no letter or sign exceeds in time six dots, and that Professor Morse has so admirably arranged his alphabet, that the letters most used in the English language, as for instance, E and T take the least time in their manipulation. When our young friends learn this thoroughly, we will favor them with something more about telegraphicing if they desire it.

GOOD TOAST.—General Morris's proverbial good taste and well know patriotism were never more handsomely illustrated than in the following exellent toast, given by him at the recent Printers' Banquet;

"THE AMERICAN UNION"—A noble folio work of thirty one pages, by the best authors in the Republic of Letters—set up, stereotyped, printed and bound in a form that will last for ever. Addinons not trasures may be made; but those who compose future States, like good workmen, will follow the originnal copy—even it "it goes out of the window."

KNOWLEDGE—Knowledge cannot be acquired without pains and application. It is troubles come and like deep digging for pure waters; but when once you come to the spring, they rise up and meet you.

The mind has a certain vegetative power, which can not be wholly idle. If it is not laid out and cultivated into a beautiful garden, it will of itself shoot up in weeds or flowers of a wild growth.

TAXES.—Taxes for the support of schools, are like vapors, which rise only to descend again to beautify and fertilize the earth.

SORROWFUL MEN. The doctor in time of great sickness. The man who is not able to lend you any money, and the friend that regrets that you cannot remain any longer.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 8th. 1851

John A. Green, Editor.

MYSTERIOUS DEATHS. The bodies of two young persons were discovered about four o'clock yesterday afternoon, in the Goose-pasture, opposite the house of N. Curtis Esq. They were well dressed, and laing close to each other. A pistol was held in the right hand of one of them. They both appeared to have been shot. Lewis Bass Coroner, was called and removed the bodies to his house, where he will hold an Inquest this morning.

Friday, Febuary 7th.

SENATORIAL ELECTION,—The House has had two more unsuccessful ballotings for a senator. The whole number of votes cast on the last ballot was 380 necessary for a choice, 191—Charles Sumner wanted but two votes of being elected—receiving 189, Robert C. Winthrop 159, scattering 24. Blanks not counted There was considerable excitement, sufficient to show that they were in earnest. On the third ballotting Sumner lacked three votes. Further ballotting was ajourned till Tuesday next.

ROUTE AGENCY. We learn that Luther Warner King, of Westhampton Mass. has been appointed Route Agent on the Boston & Fall River Route, in the place of John Goddard Clark resigned.

The Commonwealth is the title of a new Free Soil paper, commenced in Boston on the 1st inst. The name originally proposed for it was "The Compass." The Emancipator, Republican and Chronotype are all merged in the new paper.

There had been formed an Association in London for the assurance of character. Those assured, who wish public stations, are enabled to offer security for good conduct, by the payment of a moderate premium to the company, who guarantee his fidelity, and protect his employers from loss by defalcation, or general misconduct. This is certainly something "new under the sun."

PROMPT AND HONORABLE. Messrs Adams & Co on Monday, paid the $5000 which was stolen from their Express, between Baltimore and Philadelphia, last week. They not only paid the $5000, but also the premium of 5 1-4 per cent additional, upon the Mexican dollars. The stolen money is not yet recovered.

CHEAP POSTAGE. A Washington corespondent says, "The cheap postage bill is so amended by the Senate that you would scarcely know it. The three and five cent rates, as I have always announced in my letters to the Public, have been restored; the clause of pains and penalties on publishers, refusing to publish the list of uncalled for letters, is entirely stricken out."

Firemen's Engine supper,

AT NEPONSET—JAN 22d, 1851

The firemen, of the Independence Engine Company No. 5, of Neponset Village, Dorchester; also the Officers of the Tiger Engine, No 6. and the Fountain, had a most agreeable meeting at the Neponset House, on the evening of the 22d, of January last. The Party numbered about forty—not so many as was expected, still every thing went on right and gave the highest satisfaction to all present.

The Party proceeded from the Engine House at eight o'clock P. M., and moved to the Neponset House, accompanied with good music, where a very excellent supper was prepared by Mr. Nathan Holbrook, whose skill in such matters are too well known to need comments. After the good cheer had been partaken, several excellent toasts were given, popular songs sang accompanied with good music, and an address delivered---written by N. D. Allen of Neponset.

A communication was received from Mr. Ebenezer Sumner Foreman of the Tiger Company stating his inability to attend on account of his health. Mr. Sumner has always beena generous patron of the Firemen.

The company seperated at an early hour much pleased with their reception and kind attention from the gentlemanly host of the Neponset House, and gave three hearty cheers for Mr. Holbrook, his, Lady, the Ladies of Neponset, and the Dorchester Fire Department.

ADDRESS

TO THE FIREMEN OF INDEPENDENCE, TIGER AND FOUNTAIN; COMPANIES—DELIVERED AT NEPONSET BY
By N. D. ALLEN.

GENTLEMEN:—

We meet to-night, to strengthen frindship ties,
Each friend rejoice, let our best feelings rise
And welcome warmly all that meet us here
And pass a social hour, each heart to cheer.

The noble Tiger honours us to-night;
Their blest presence adds to our delight,
These generous Tiger's on the first alarm,
They spring upon the foe, the foe disarms.

When young, I did the Bengal Tiger fear,
I read their strength, and did not dare go near,
But six's Tigers, Gentlemen, and kind,
I wish to-night we could more such Tigers find

When fire attacks fiercely, the Tiger springs;
Your heavy torrents drown the fierce "Fire King;"
First in the advance, last in the return,
The Tigers Philanthropic breast will burn.

Tigers of No. 6. receive our thanks, we greet your here,
As brothers, meet for converse social cheer;
If duty calls to the hot fields of fight,
Old Fountain Five an Six our ranks unite.

Allow me now to speak of Sixes honored guest,
Their gallant foreman's worth, I cannot express,
Would we had more old Friends to help our cause,
For him our kindest feelings from each bosom draws.

When the fierce "Fire King" on his burning throne,
Threatens our dwellings or our Barns to burn;
The Firemen rush to the hot fields, of fight,
And Fountains Five and Six our banks will soon unite.

No Battlements however high or strong,
Will long resist Old Fountain Five or Six's storm;
The Ladder raised on high, the fire-hook firmly caught,
Down comes the flaming masses quick as thought.

The Fountain comes and gives a good supply,
We have got to work, and not stand very dry;
The Fountain sends her torrents---she's not slow,
We have our choice to work or overflow.

Fountain receive our thanks what could we do,
Without a Fountain, we depend on you,
You'r always ready, never find you dry,
Your always give us water, and a good supply.

'Tis on the Fountain, we must depend,
'Tis with the Tigers strength the water send,
Old Independence too---will man the brakes:
Save flaming buildings and the fierce fire shake.

Firewards and Engineers your presence cheer,
Us as we meet you all in friendship here;
If fire attacks with her destroying host,
We shall not wait, but find you at your post.

Then goes the Tigers torrents on the blaze,
Like torrents of Niagara, soon they raise,
Our admiration---as they pour with rushing sound,
Defeat the "Fire King," all his legions drowned.

Old Independence always travels well,
She's drawn the waters from many a well;
She's rushes to battle many a stormy night,
Quenched many a flaming building---always right.

We force the foe, when high they waved,
O'er lofty mansion,—Bacon St. help to save,
Stay, the proud conflict of the raging flame;
Preserved our reputation---raised our fame.

Old Guards that loved her when she's young and small,
Now, man her breaker, again more large and tall,
Some nerve still left, remaining in our arms
To make her travel on, the first alarm.

The Firemens life, is one of lives, the best,
They save the Mother's Infant off from death,
When the huge flames at midnight rages on high,
Then comes relief---they see the firemen nigh.

They hear the frantic shriek, the Mother raves,
Oh save my children save them men she prayed,
The daring firemen climbs the ladder, high;
Amid the smoke and flame, when raging nigh.

Unconscious Children, clasped within his arms,
Restores the Infant back, with all its charms;
Rescue the aged and the helpless sires,
Then stays the progress of raging fire.

The Fremen save the town, the Firemen are,
The true protectors of the wealth and fair;
Ingratitude they often get, put little pay,
Still Fountain Five and Six are ready still to play.

More noble duties man cannot perform,
Than stay the furious conflagration's storm;
Face the hot flames, when raging night and day,
Firemen protectors—our town and citie's stay.

The city slumbers oe'r its mighty walls,
Nights dusky mantle soft and silent fall,
Sleep oe'r the world, slow waves its wand of lead
And ready torpors wrap each sinking head.

Still in the our of labor and of life,
Hush'd is the hum and tranquilized is the strife;
Man is at rest with, all his hopes and fears,
The young forget their sports, the old their fears

Sweet is the pillow'd rest of beauty now,
And slumber smiles upon her tranquil brow;
Bright are her dreams---yes, bright as Heaven's own blue,
Pure as its joys, and gentle as its dew.

When, hark Oh! Horrors---what a crash is there,
What shriek, is that which fills the midnight air;
'Tis Fire!' tis 'Fire!' she wakes to dream no more,
The hot blast rushes thro' the blazing door.

The room is fill'd with smoke—and bark, their cry,
Help—help---will no one aid—"I die, I die;"
She seeks the casement---shudders at its height
She turns again---the fierce flames arrest he flight.

Along the crashing stairs they wildly play,
And roar exulting, as they seize their prey,
Help help will no one come, she can do no more
But pale and breathless, sinks upon the floor.

Will no one save her---yes! there yet is one,
Remains to save, when hope itself is gone;
When all have fled, when all but he would fly,
The fireman comes, to rescue or to die.

He mounts the stairs, it waves 'neath his tread,
He seeks the room---flames flashing round his head;
He bursts the door---he lifts her prostrate frame,
And turns again, to brave the raging flame.

The fire blasts smites him with its stifling breath,
And falling timbers, menance him with death.
The sinking floor his hurried steps betray,
And ruin crushes round his desperate way

Hot smoke obscures ten thousand cinders rise,
But still he staggers forward with his prize,
He leaps from burning stair, to stair---and on!
Courage---one effort more, and all is won.

The stair is past, the blazing Hall is braved,
Still on---yet on once more---thank Heaven, she's saved.

The hardy Seaman pants the storm to brave,
For beckoning fortune, woo's him from the wave,
The Soldier battles, 'neath his smoky shrowd;
For glory's love is painted on the cloud.

The Firemen also dares each shape of death,
But not for for fortune gold, nor glory's wreath,
No selfish throbs, within their breast are known;
No hopes of praise, or profit cheer them on.

They ask no fame, no need, and only seek,
To shield the suffering and protest the weak;
For this, the midnight howling storm, they woo,
For this, the raging flame rush fearless thro'.

Mount the frail ratter, thread the smoky hall,
Or toil unshrinking 'neath the tottering wall;
Nobbler than those, who, with fraternal blood,
Die the dread field, or tinge the shuddering flood.

O'er their firm rank, no crimson banner waved,
They dare---they suffer---not to slay, but save;
At such a sight, hope smiles more Heavenly bright,
Pale, pensive, pity trembled with delight.

The statemen that our country's welfare tries,
To advance, is lauded to the skies,
The warrior that's successful, sure to rise,
And men of genious always greatly prized.

But men who for the conflagration's storm,
Will peril life, and save the poor forlorn;
Their arts are briefly noted in a card,
In daily papers, that's their whole reward.

What care we for applause---and empty name,
That waring Statesman from the public claim,
Ours be the task to stop devouring flame:
Save the distrest---we ask no loftier name.

Ours be the noble task to quench the flame,
And save the Infant, aged, sick and lame;
Come to the rescue in your greastest need;
We claim no office for Philanthropic deeds.

We claim your gratitude---we claim no more;
If fire attacks you, water we will pour
In heavy torrents---we will check the blaze,
That threatens to consume---your Houses save.

Political notions---we shall not complain,
Whig, Democrat, Free Soilers---its all the same.
We are a band of Brothers---all combined;
To save from conflagration---all our kind.

If enemies we have, or crafty knaves,
If fire attacks them, we will try to save,
Their Houses, Barns, Cattle, or their Hay;
For friends, or foe, old Five and Six will play.

And old Neponset Firemen, ever be,
A band of Brothers, sociable and free;
A glorious name---baptized our Engine free,
Each member independent too, shall be.

Again we enter on the Fremen ranks,
Some strength still left---and yet some nimble shanks,
Older we are, but still we yet can play,
And form with other numbers of our day.

How times have altered, progress rolling wide,
The Fire Engines place them side by side,
One made by Thayer---say twenty years ago,
Compared with those of 1850, rather slow.

In older times, we had to run and fill,
Run back and play, and half our water spill,
No suction then, we could not form in line;
Nor pour the steady torrent could not shine.

But now the suction placed, the torrents pour,
Send the fierce torrent, on the flame that roar:
Cut off the flames as straight as cuts the knife,
Drown the "Fire King"---save much of human life.

Then sometimes meet, in Hall---allurned with light,
Eat, drink and smoke---be cheerful, never tight
Friendly we'll we be with all, with whom we play
Progress, grow better---all the time we stay.

Then let this meeting strengthen firendship here,
Let Song and Toast each member cheer;
Affections ties shall bind us always right;
I am taking too much time my Friends---therefore Good Night.

An old Almanack, among other domestic recipes has one to convert a "calm into a hurricane," which is as follows. "Help a good looking chambermaid cord a bed, and let your wife catch you at it."

H. J. Bull, of St. Louis, has invented a machine for kneeding dough "free fiom the unpleasant association of dirty hands, &c." Wish he would invent something to free it from the "unpleasant association" of cock roaches, and also to give the loaves a leetle more "volume."

MASSACHUSETTS LEGISLATURE.

Monday, February 3, 1851.

SENATE. On motion of Mr Keyes the Committee on Education was instructed to enquire into the expediency of authorizing school districts to raise money by taxation for the purpose of maintaining any school situated in said districts, in the same manner as they now raise money to erect or repair school houses, with such restrictions as the Committe may deem proper.

Tuesday, February 4.

A communication was received from the Governor, stating that a number of claims were now in the Secretary's office for bounty lands, and as the papers proving the claims are now in Washington, he requ nests that the Legislature take such steps as may lead to their return—referred.

The order of the day were now taken up, and the bill for the better preservation of town records, with various amendments added, was laid on the table and ordered to be printed. Others matters were advanced a stage, and the Senate adjourned.

The Judiciary Court was instructed to consider the expediency of reporting a bill for the protection of the State against the influx of pauper imigrants, arriving here by railroads and other land conveyances.

Wednesday, February 5.

On motion of Mr. Keyes, the Committee on Public Charatable Instructions was instructed to inquire if any legislation could be devised, towards aiding discharged convicts to obtain employment. Adjourned.

Thursday, February 9.

The Committee on Mercantile Affairs and Insurance, reported favorably on the petition of the Glouchester Mutal Fishing Insurance Co for remission of penalty, for delay in makeing their annual report.

Ordered—an motion of Mr. Hawley, that the Judiciary Committee be instructed to inquire if further legislation is necessary, conferring on County Commissioners some power in reference to the appointment of masters of houses of correction

Monday February 3, 1851.

HOUSE. The Judiciary Committee was instructed to consider the expediency of further legislation, for the suppression of willful and malicious injury to personal property or real estate—and also of requiring Railroad Corporations to give public notice of trunks and other baggage remaining uncalled for at their stations.

Tuesday February 4.

Mr. Wilson of Lenox explained the resolve appropriating $2000 for a monument to Capt Isaac Davis, who was the first officer who fell in the war of the revolution. It was intended, he said, to erect the monument on Acton Common. He gave a history of the deceased, and recounted his many acts of bravery and self-denial.

Mr Hammond of Lynn moved to reconsider the vote by which the resolve appropriating $5000 for a monument to Capt Isaac Davis was yesterday ordered to a third reading—and the rules were suspended, so as to consider the motion at once.

Wednesday February, 5.

Mr Bancroft of Lowell, from the Committee on Public Expenditures, reported the resolves for the appointment of a Commissioner to the World's Fair, in a new draft—cutting down the appropriation from $3000 to $1500. They were placed in the orders of the day.

A communication was received from the Secretary, transmitting the estimates of county taxes for the current year—amounting to $356,664, exclusive of Suffolk and Nantucket---and referred to the Committee on County Estimates.

Thursday, February 6.

Among the petitions were two for widening the draws in the bridges over Mystic River.

The Judicary Committee made a detailed report on the subject of regulating elections by ballot, coming to the conclusion that legislation thereon is not necessary.

Mr Stenson, of Braintree, moved to take up the resolves for the appointment of a Commissioner to the Wold's Fair,---but this motion was laid on the table, 179 to 133.

NEWS BY THE CANADA.

Seven Days Later from Europe.

NO TIDINGS OF THE ATLANTIC.

It is forty-one days to day since she was heard from ENGLAND.—The Great Exhibition of 1851---The Emperor of Russia has given $60,000. for the use of the Star and Garter at Richmond, and the Emperor of Austria has taken Mozart's Hotel for the season. House rents are rising enormously. Certain kinds of provisions are in great demand---one poulterer having arranged for 1,000,000 of chickens.

Abbot Lawrence, American Minister, is at present sojourning in Liverpool.

A slight sensation has been created by the recent appointment, without any notice, of a new Catholic Bishop for Ireland.

London is fast filling up with every conceivable species of adventurers. We notice the announcement of six Yankee Biologists.

The captain of a vessel lying at Liverpool, had one of his ears bitten off by a vicious horse. The horse was in a cart, at one of the dock stands.

FRANCE.---Louis Napoleon appears to have gained for the time being a complete mastery over Gen. Changarnier, and the National Assembly.

The Baltimore ship, Franconia, was wrecked off Holy Head on the 11th ult. Her cargo of tobacco, Captain, chiefmate, and eleven hands were lost.

GERMANY—The Austrian project of a Zoll Union was the chief subject of discussion at last dates. It meets with no favor from the Government.

Mr. Manteniel has announced it to be the intention of Government to abolish the monopoly which a few families have enjoyed, of filling all miner offices of state, and that merit alone will hereafte form the chief tests for filling all government offices.

THE ATLANTIC. The only remaining hopes of this missing steamer is that she is gone to the Western Islands, or will be found to sea endeavoring to make a port. The New York Express thinks the next Liverpool steamer will bring intelligence of her at the Western Islands. If she has put in there, sufficient time has not elapsed to hear of it. The Express says there is provisions enough on board to sustain double the number of passengers for a much longer time than thirty-five or forty days.

IDEMS. There are certain tribes of negroes who take for the deity of the day the first thing they see or meet. Many of our very fine ladies, adore Coleridge, and some of our very fine gentlemen are followers of the same sect; though by the aid of a looking glass they secure a constancy as to the object of their devotion.

COOL IMPUDENCE. One new year's day, during the trial of a prisoner at the North Riding Sessions, on a charge of robbery, which robbery was effected in a crowd, on the Northallerton race-course, the Rev. T. W. Morley said he was once in a crowd in London, and felt some one put his hand into his pocket. He turned round and said to a man behind him. "You had your hand in my pocket." "Yes, sir," replied the thief, "and I am sorry to say I found nothing in it."

ELOPEMENT. The Lowell Courier states that Charles Blood of Dunstable, 48 years old, has left his wife and cleared out with Mrs. Mary Ann Buck of that city. Mrs. Buck is 23 years old, and has a husband living in Maine. Blood caried off $500, and left his wife without a cent in the world. It were base flattery to call him a villain.

REBUILDING OF THE ST CHARLES AT NEW ORLEANS. An arrangement has been made with the present St Charles Hotel Company for the purchase of their charter and property, by the New Orleans Committe, conditional upon the formation of a company to rebuild the hotel.

MASSACHUSETTS AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.—A meeting of contributors to the World's Fair was held in this city, last Saturday morning, Jonas Chickering presided. A resolution was passed requesting the Government of the Commonwealth to look out for our interests in London, and another requesting contributors to attend the meeting of the Committee of the Legislature on the subject of appointing a Commissioner from Massachusetts.

C. K. WIRE, foreman of Barrow's flour mill at Aurora, N. Y., murdered Abram Smith, one of the workmen, and has been arrested. He was seen to do the deed.

A young lady wrote to her brother, who is a farmer in Ohio, to ask whether he had as good furniture now, as when at home. He replied that she must not bother him with such questions, but to give her some idea of his style of living would state that his entire farm was wholly fenced with Black Walnut.

REPRESENTATIVE FROM PLYMOUTH.—We learn that at the election on Saturday to fill the vacancy in the House caused by the resignation of Mr. Baldwin, Lemuel Bradford was chosen, having 247 votes to 145 for Thomas Russell, whig, 54 for John Russell, true democrat, 7 and scattering. Mr. Bradford is a free soil democrat and will vote for Sumner.

A Havannah correspondent of the New York Express states, that, notwithstanding the treaty with England and America, in regard to the slave trade, there have been imported into this Island alone, the last four weeks, fouteen hundred slaves, from the coast of Africa; and this is done with the knowledge and connivance of the Captin-Genaral."

On the person of a man named Ridge, who was lately examined at Hatton-garden, (England,) for picking a gentleman's pocket, was found a Bible. On being asked how he came by it, he answered, that "he was, in his leisure hours, partial to reading the Scriptures when he could meet with them; and that he stole the book on account of the morals contained in it." He was committed for trial.

In the Supreme Court, at Boston, on Saturday, Bernard S. Trainor recovered eighteen hundred dollars damages in an action against Patrick Donahue, proprietor of the Boston Pilot. The libel was an article which appeared in that paper, purporting to give an account of a meeting for the purpose of raising funds to enable Mr. McGee to establish a newspaper in Boston. The plaintiff was one of the speakers, and it was represented in the article that he had received $9 a week for speaking at the meetings of the journeymen tailors; association," he was "dishonestly living on the proceeds of the Female Operatives' Society.

A savage tribe called the Namaquas had fallen upon another tribe called Orahereza, at the missionary station of Mr. Kolbe, Damaraland, Cape of Good Hope, and numbers were butchered with all the horrors of savage barbarity. The town was destroyed, but the missionary, Kolbe, escaped with his wife.

GOLD AND SILVER COINAGE AT THE MINT. Philadelphia, Feb. 2. The amount of gold coined at the mint in this city during the past month, was $2,620,000, consisting of eaglas quarter eagles, and double eagles.

The amount of silver coined during the same period was $76,950.

Copper to the amount of $7,270 has also been coined during the past month.

The total amount of gold deposited at the mint during the month of January is $5,000,000, of which amount $4,950,000 was from California.

SECESSION.—The Senate of North Carolina has rejected, by a vote of 34 to 16, a resolution declaring that a State had a right to secede from the Union in contradistinction to the right of revolution.

At the "Libertior Soiree" recently held in Boston, Mr. Garrison being unexpectedly presented with a gold watch, was much embarrassed, and facetiously remarked that 'if it were a rotten egg, or a brickbat," he should know how to receive it.

A story is told of a hypochondriac gentlemen of rank and fortune in Ireland, who fancies one of his legs is of one religion, and the other of another. He not unfrequently puts one of his unfortunate legs outside the bed to punish it for its religious errors.

Hon. Horace Everett died at his residence in windsor, Vt, on Thursday forenoon, in the 72d year of his age. Mr Everett was one of the oldest members of the Vermount Bar, and had been one the ablest and most successful jury advocates in Vermont.

The French have become so skillful in weaving that Englishmen are in no great request. The English weavers at St. Pierre, Calais, a few years back, earned excellent wages, but at present it is dificult even to find employ.

ROCHESTER 4th.—The Collegate Institute on Lancaster street was totally destroyed by fire this morning with its contents. The building was valued at $10,000, mostly insured. The cause of the fire was accidental.

A LADY MURDERED BY NEGROES. A despatch from Cincinnati states that Mrs. Fletcher, a respectable lady residing in Stewart county Tenn. was murdered by a negro man and woman a few days since. The murderers have been arrested.

A Clairvoyant at Cleveland has had an interview with Tom Paine, who recants his errors, and is at present stopping with General Washington and Ethan Allen.

NOTICE

Quincy Lyceum.

REV. Mr. RODDAN, of this Town, will deliver the Fifteenth Lecture, before the Society the present season, on THURSDAY Evening commencing at 7 o'clock.

H. O. WHITNEY, S

Concert!

The Singing School, at Quincy Point, tree Neck, under the direction of their N. Sanborn, of Dorchester, will give a Co Methodist Meeting House, at Quincy Wednesday Evening the 12th, inst.

The School will sing several Anth Pieces and Chants. Other singers will who will add to the interest of the o singing Solos, Songs and Glees.

Competent persons will preside at th and Pianofrte.

To commence at seven o'clock. Tick mission 12 1-2 cents to be had at New Quincy Point, and at the door.

Per order. Geo. NEWCOMB, Quincy, Febuary 6th. 1851.

Dr. Chales Jewett will deliver a temperance in the Town Hall on Tues next, (Feb., 11th.) commencing at seve

MARRIED

In this town, on the evening of the Rev S S Kimball of Milton, Mr Edwar and Miss Margaret Graham both of Qui

DIED

In South Braintree, 6th inst Miss El May, aged 20 years

Funneral services at the Congregation House, on Sunday at one o'clock P M

Commonwealth of Masachu

NORFOLK, SS.

January 28th A. D.

UPON the petition of John A. Green son Keith of Quincy, in said Coun upon the bond given by Mary Newcomb a son Baxter, of said Quincy, to the Judge for said County for the faithfull performa duties of Executors of the Will of late of said Quincy, deceased, praying th be discharged from all furthers liabilit Bond.

JOHN NEWCOMB,

Ordered, that the said petitioners, no MARY and THOMPSON, and all other terested, that they may appear and be hea ing the same, at a Court of Probate, to b Roxbury, in said Co 1851, at 2 o'clock in by causing the said Mary and Thompson ed with this order, fourteen days before and by publishing this order three weeks in the Newspaper called the Quincy Patri in said Quincy.

S. LELAND, Judge o

A true copy attest

GEORGE H FRENCH, Dep

Quincy Feb 8th 3w

Assignee's Notice.

NORFOLK, S S.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Sub been duly appointed Assignee of the

F. M. LINCOLN, 3d.

Cordwainer, of Cohasset; an insolvent d that the Second Meeting of the Creditors F. M. Lincoln, 3d, will be held at Rea DAY, February 15th, at 11 o'clock in th at a Court of Insolvency, before Francis H Commissioner.

At which meeting, Creditors will com to prove their claims.

AMOS PRATT,

Cohasset, Feb 8, 1851

Notice.

EXAMINATION OF SCH

THE Annual Examinations of the Sch made in the following order:—

MONDAY, Feb 10—1 1-2 P M, East TUESDAY " 11—9 A M, Point and Intermediate
TUESDAY, Feb 11—1 1-2 P M Point
WEDNESDAY, Feb 12—9 A M, W
mary
WEDNESDAY, Feb 12—1 1-2 P M
Grammar
MONDAY, Feb 17—9 A M South D
MONDAY, Feb 17—1 1-2 P M South D
TUESDAY Feb 18—9 A M, North Di
" " 18—1 1-2 P M, Sou
termediate
WEDNESDAY, Feb 19—9 A M West mediate
WEDNESDAY, Feb 19—1 1-2 P M Ce
termediate
THURSDAY, Feb 20—9 A M, Centre
mary
THURSDAY, Feb 20—1 1-2 P M
Grammar

The School Committee earnestly invites dance of parents and friends of education

GEORGE WHITE, Sec'y School

Quincy, Feb 8, 1851 2w

VALENTINES!

VALENTINES ENVELOPES, NOTE etc., at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Also, a BOX for the delivery of Valenti part of the town.

Quincy, Feb 8th 2w

Chowder!!!

THE Subscriber takes this method to Citizens of Quincy that he has taken t "FRANKLIN STREET SALO

Where may always be found such article TERS, PIGS FEET, LAMB'S TO PICKLED CLAMS, and other Refreshmen

Also, CONFECTIONARY, CIGARS, a CHOWDER, twice a week} Wednesday turday. Open day and Evening

CHARLES C BRAC

Quincy, Feb 8th tf

Boarders Wanted.

8 or 10 BOARDERS Mechanics wanted by the subscriber dence in COTTAGE AVENUE

WILLIAM

Quincy, Feb 8th tf

NOTICE

Quincy Lyceum.

REV. Mr. RODDAN, of this Town, will deliver, the Fifteenth Lecture, before the SOCIETY the present season, on THURSDAY Evening Next, commencing at 7 o'clock.

H. O. WHITNEY, Secretary.

Concert !

The Singing School, at Quincy Point, and Braintree Neck, under the direction of their teacher Mr. N. Sanborn, of Dorchester, will give a Concert in the Methodist Meeting House, at Quincy Point, on Wednesday Evening the 12th, inst.

The School will sing several Anthems select Pieces and Chants. Other singers will be present, who will add to the interest of the occasion, by singing Solos, Songs and Glees.

Competent persons will preside at the Seraphim and Pianoirte.

To commence at seven o'clock. Tickets for admission 12 1-2 cents to be had at Newcombs Store Quincy Point, and at the door.

Per order, Geo. NEWCOMB, Chairman.

Quincy, Febuary 6th. 1851.

Dr. Chales Jewett will deliver a lecture on temperance in the Town Hall on Tuesday Evening next, (Feb., 11th.) commencing at seven o'clock.

MARRIED

In this town, on the evening of the 4th inst by Rev S S Kimball of Milton, Mr Edward C Curtiss and Miss Margaret Graham both of Quincy.

DIED

In South Braintree, 6th inst Miss Ellen Frances May, aged 20 years

Funneral sarvices at the Congregational Meeting House, on Sunday at one o'clock P M

Commonwealth of Masachusettss.

NORFOLK, SS.

January 28th A. D. 1851.

UPON the petition of John A. Green and Harrison Keith of Quincy, in said County, Sureties upon the bond given by Mary Newcomb and Thompson Baxter, of said Quincy, to the Judge of Probate, for said County for the faithfull performance of the duties of Executors of the Will of late of said Quincy, deceased, praying that they may be discharged from all furthers liabilities on said Bond.

JOHN NEWCOMB,

Ordered, that the said petitioners, notify the said MARY and THOMPSON, and all other persons interested, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same, at a Court of Probate, to be holden at Roxbury, in said Co 1851, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, by causing the said Mary and Thompson, to be served with this order, fourteen days before said Court, and by publishing this order three weeks succesively, in the Newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed in said Quincy.

S. LELAND, Judge of Probate,

A true copy attest

GEORGE H FRENCH, Deputy Sheriff

Quincy Feb 8th 3w

Assignee's Notice.

NORFOLK, S S.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Assignee of the Estate of

F. M. LINCOLN, 3d.

Cordwainer, of Colasset; an insolvent debtor; and that the Second Meeting of the Creditors of the said F M. Lincoln, 3d, will be held at Roxbury, FRIDAY, Februsay 15th, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, at a Court of Insolvency, before Francis Hilliard, Esq. Commissioner.

At which meeting, Creditors will come prepared to prove their claims.

AMOS PRATT, Assignee.

Colasset, Feb 8, 1851.

Notice.

EXAMINATION OF SCHOOLS.

THE Annual Examinations of the Schools will be made in the following order :—

MONDAY, Feb 10—11 2 P M, East Dis School.
TUESDAY " 11—9 A M, Point Dis. Primary and Intermediate Schools
TUESDAY, Feb. 11—11-2 P. M Point Dis. Grammar School.
WEDNESDAY, Feb. 12—9 A. M., West Dis Primary School.
WEDNESDAY, Feb. 12—1 1-2 P. M., West Dis. Grammar School.
MONDAY, Feb. 17—9 A. M. South Dis. Primary School
MONDAY, Feb 17—11-2 P M South Dis Grammar School
TUESDAY Feb 18—9 A M, North Dis School
" " 18—1 1-2 P M, South Dis Intermediate School
WEDNESDAY, Feb 19—9 A M West Dis Intermediate School
WEDNESDAY, Feb 19—1 1 2 P M Centre Dis Intermediate School
THURSDAY, Feb 20—9 A M, Centre Dis Primary School
THURSDAY, Feb 20—1 1 2 P M Centre Dis Grammar School

The School Committee earnestly invites the attendance of parents and friends of education

GEORGE WHITE, Sec'y School Committee

Quincy, Feb 8, 1851 2w

VALENTINES!

VALENTINES ENVELOPES, NOTE PAPER, etc., at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Also, a BOX for the delivery of Valentines to any part of the town.

Quincy, Feb 8th 2w

Chowder ! ! !

THE Subscriber takes this method to inform the Citizens of Quincy that he has taken the

"FRANKLIN STREET SALOON."

Where may always be found such articles as OYSTERS, PIGS FEET, LAMB'S TONGUES, PICKLED CLAMS, and other Refreshments.

Also, CONFECTIONARY, CIGAES, etc.,

CHOWDER, twice a week Wednesday, and Saturday. Open day and Evening

CHARLES C BRACKETT,

Quincy, Feb 8th tf

Boarders Wanted.

8 or 10 BOARDERS Mechanics prefered wanted by the subscriber at his residence in COTTAGE AVENUE

WILLIAM F DYER

Quincy, Feb 8th tf

Assignee's Sale.

WILL be sold by public auction at the HANCOCK House in Quincy on WEDNESDAY Feb 12th at 3 o'clock P M sundry accounts and notes belonging to the Estates of Nathan Pratt and Nathan Pratt & Co

Per order of the Assignee's

GEORGE H FRENCH Auctioneer

Quincy Feb 8th 1w

FISHER A. KINGSBURY :

COUNSELLOR AT LAW,

WEYMOUTH,

MASS.

Weymouth, Feb. 1, 1851. 6w

Bounty Lands.

CLAIMS for BOUNTY LANDS by Soldiers in the War of 1812—or any Indian War since 1790 : their Widows and Minor chidren, attended to, and Land Warrants obtained, by

FISHER A KINGSBURY, Weymouth, Mass.

Weymouth, Feb. 1, 1851. 6m

Notice of Settlement.

ALL PERSONS having demands against the TOWN, are requested to present them for payment to the Selectmen, on SATURDAY, the fifteenth, and on MONDAY, the seventeenth, inst., at the Selectmen's Room, in the Town House, from two to five o'clock in the afternoon of each day

ALSO—All persons indebted to the Alms' House, are requested to settle with

EDWARD F. EATON, Superintendant,

on or before the above named time.

JOSEPH W ROBERTSON, GEORGE MARSH, ELIJAH BAXTER } Selectmen of Quincy.

Quincy Feb, 1, 1851. 3w

BROAD CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, TWEEDS and VESTINGS, for sale at a great discount from former prices.

Please call and examine before purchasing, at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

Messenger's Notice

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, S. S.

JANUARY, 30, 1851.

FRANCIS HILLIARD, Esq. Commissioner of insolvency in and for the said County of Norfolk, has issued a Warrant against the Estate of

BENJAMIN NEWCOMB,

of Braintree, in said County, Team-ster, an Insolvent Debtor, and the paymont of any Debts and the delivery of any Property, belonging to said Incolvent Debtor, to him or for his use, and the transfer of any Property, by him are fobidden by law.

A meeting of his Creditors will be held at a Court of Insolvency, at the Commissioner's Office, in Roxbury, in said County, on the seventeenth day of February next, at ten o'clock, in the forenoon, for the proof of Debts, and the choice of an Assignee or Assignees.

SILAS BINNEY, Deputy Sheriff, Messenger.

Braintree, Feb, 1st. 1851. 3w

Ladies & Children's Shop Worn

☞.....SHOES.....☜

FOR Sale—at any price you please to give, at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

Quincy, Jan 25th, 1851. tf

JUST received, a good assortment of GENTLEMENS', LADIES and MISSES

INDIA RUBBER SHOES

of the bast quality, for sale cheap, by

I. W MUNROE

Quincy, Jan. 11th, 1851. tf

Paper Hangings.

A LARGE Lot of

PAPER HANGINGS.

of 1 to 6 Rolls—some of high Cost—will be closed off, from 25 to 50 pr. ct. discount from cost, to make room for a prime assortment early in the spring.

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, Feb 1, 1851. tf

Contractor's Notice.

PROPOSALS will be received until the 10th day of Feb inst. for furnishing materials, and building a Barn, 120 by 50 feet, on the Mt. Wallaston Farm, in Quincy—to be completed by the 1st of July next. For Plan and Specifications, please call on the Subscriber, to whom proposals may be made.

LEWIS BASS.

Quincy, Feb, 1. 1851. tf

Strayed.

FROM the Subscriber, Dec. 5th, two RED HEIFERS, marked N. on the rump Whoever will return them, or give information so that they may be found, shall be suitably rewarded.

THOMAS J. NIGHTINGALE.

Quincy, Dec. 28, 1850. tf

New England Protective Union.

DIVISION.....No. 180.

AT the STORE recently occupied by Mr. Frederick Hardwick on Franklin street, may be found a good assortment of

GROCERIES, CROCKERY and GLASS WARE.

Together with a supply of

BOOT MAKERS' FINDINGS.

— ALSO —

BEEF,
PORK,
SAUSAGES,
TRIPE,
LARD,
MACKEREL,
PICKELS,
POTATOES, &c.

All of which will be kept constantly on hand, and will be sold, at a small advance from cost, for cash.

The public are invited to call, and examine our goods, and become acquainted with our mode of trade

N. B.—The spacious Hall over the store will be let on favorable terms.

☞Goods delivered to any part of the town free of chearge☜

Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. tf

☞Shirts.....Shirts☜

I. W. MUNROE, has just received a prime assortment of

☞.....FINE SHIRTS.....☜

of the latest style, which will be sold at very low prices.

Quincy, Jan. 25, 1851. tf

For Sale.

THE late residence of the REV. WM ALLEN, near the Episcopal Church in Quincy Apply to THOMAS B HAWKES, No 10 Exchange Street, Boston

West Woodstock, Conn. Sept. 7th, 1850. 3m

To Let.

A House at Braintree neck, convenien for a large family Enquire of

DANIEL BAXTER.

Quincy, Sept. 7th. tf

House For Sale

A one story and a half House, convenient for two families, built in a substantial manner, with a SHED and about three fourths of an acre of LAND, situated on Granite Street, and about one fourth of a mile from the South Quincy Depot. Will be sold at a bargain, and payments made easy. For particulars, nquire on the premises of

ALPHEUS HUNT.

Quincy, Nov. 16 6m

For Sale, or To Let.

A new and convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated, on Common Street, with a barn and about one acre of Land with Fruit Trees thereon, to be leased or sold. Apply to

SAMUEL COPELAND.

Quincy, Nov 9th. tf

To Let.

ONE half of a good House on Liberty Street, the other half occupied by Capt. Stevenson. Also a good house and Barn, with three acres of Land, situated on the Braintree and Weymouth turnpike, about hal a mile south of the Episcopal Church Enquire of

DANIEL BAXTER.

Quincy, Sept 28 tf

To Let.

A Convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated on Common Street, recently occupied by the Widow Driver, with about three acres of good land, with several fruit trees; an excellent well of water, and a small Barn. Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND.

Quincy, Aug. 10 tf

House and Land for Sale.

FOR Sale, a story and a half House in good condition—with Barn, sheds, two wells of Water, and other out Buildings—and nine Acres of excellent Land, all under cultivation, with a thrifty orchard of Apple and Cherry Trees, thereon Situated on Adams' street, joining the Estate of William Newcomb, and about three quarters of a mile from the Depot. The said land, is well calculated for building lots, and will se sold at a baagain. For particulars, enquire on the premises of

MICHAEL GIRETY.

Quincy. Jan 11, 1851. 2m

House for Sale.

FOR Sale a new and convenient dwelling House; one and a half stories high; pleasantly situated on Common street; and an acre of land, with a young orchard of Apple, Cherry and Peach trees, thereon Said property is pleasantly situated, and will be sold on reasonable terms, by application to

MICHAEL GIRETY, Adams street.

Quincy, Jan. 18, 1851. 2m

Israel W. Munroe.

OFFERS for sale at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO., a good assortment of

ENGLISH and WEST INDIA GOODS, CROCKERY, GLASS and HARD WARE, SHOES, HATS and CAPS, PAPER HANGINGS,

And almost every article kept in a variety store, at the lowest prices for cash or approved credit.

Quincy, Jan 11, 1851. tf

NEW ENGLAND PROTECTIVE

Union, Division No. 179.

JUST opened on Washington Street, a few doors below the Stone Temple, in the Store resently occupied by J. Williams.

The Company respectfully solicit the attention of the public to their mode of Trade, and examine for themselves the quality of their Goods, and their Prices, which will be always exhibited upon a bulletin board.

Their Stock of Goods consists of all kinds of Groceries, Country Produce, FLOUR, CROCKERY WARE, &c.

All of Superior quality, and sold at the lowest possible advance from cost.

No Damaged, Mixed, or inferior goods will be offered for sale.

Quincy, Oct. 5. tf

BROTHER JONATHAN.

PICTORIAL; for the Christmas Holiday and New Year

For sale at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE

Quincy, Dec 14, 1850 3w

W B. Learned

HAVING taken the Store formerly occupied by E C Redfern, and recently by D R Adams, takes this method of informing his friends and the public that he has just received and is now opening a well selected stock of

WATCHES

JEWELRY

— AND —

Fancy Goods.

Suitable for Christmas and New Year's Presents.

Persons wishiug any thing in his line are invited to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere

☞ Particular attention given to the REPAIRING of Watches and Jewelry.

Hancock Street, Quincy, Dec. 21, 1850. tf

Bakery Business.

THE subscribers respectfully inform the public that they have commenced the baking business at the bakery formerly occupied by L. G Horton, and hope by their constant attention to the business to merit a share of the public patronage.

J. & H. H. PAXON.

Quincy, Jan. 18th, 1851. tf

Notice.

THE Subscribers return their thanks to their friends and the public generally who have favored them with their custom, and would say to those who are purchasing goods, that we intend keeping a good assortment of English, West India goods and Groceries of all kinds.

Also, Beef, Pork, Bacon, Lard, Mackerel, and Vegatables, which will be sold as low as can be bought elsewhere for cash or credit.

Also, Flour by the barrel or bag, as low as can be bought for ca-h.

N. B. Goods delivered as usual

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5th. tf

QUINCY HALL

Clothing Depot.

On the Weymouth and Braintree Turnpike.

Special Notice.

JOHN DINEGAN.

Has just received a supply of NEW GOODS from some of the most celebrated Manufacturers in Europe. Consisting in part of HEAVY WEST OF ENGLAND

PILOT & BEAVER

CLOTHS, suitable for OVERCOATS or SACKS, and comes very cheap

Do very heavy DRAB for travelling or Riding Suttouts Also, Several splendid pieces

French and German Broadcloths !

of the most fashionable colors, worn and suitable for tasty Promenade or Business Coats.

VESTINGS.

SILK VELVET, PLAIN & FIGURED, some of the richest Paterns ever introduced in this markete

Also, SATINS of every design and pattern, Valencias, and other styles.

PANTALOON GOODS.

A first rate assortment, always on hand from the lowest price to the most costly.

READY MADE CLOTHING

of a superior quality, to suit all in want.

Our present stock of Goods is the richest and best selected, that is has ever been our pleasure to present to our friends and customers, and as the price has been fixed to each article, which we feel must be satisfactory to the buyer, ONE PRICE ONLY.

Hosiery.

Jest received, a good assortment of FLANNEL SHIRTS AND DRAWERS

GLOVES, SUSPENDERS, &c.

A complete assortment of MEN and BOYS CLOTH CAPS

Quincy, Nov 9th tf

Sloop for Sale.

SUITABLE FOR THE STONE BUSINESS.

FOR Sale, the SLOOP ALMIRA, now lying at Weymouth, near Graves' Mills The said Sloop is in good order, and every way calculated for the above business—for which purpose she has been a number of years employed. Her Sails are nearly new, having been in use only a few months

She will be sold on reasonable terms by application to

DAVID PRATT, Middle st. Weymouth, Mass

Weymouth, Jan. 11, 1851. 4w*

ALL READY

AND NOW OPENING

NEW STYLE FOR FALL AND WINTER TRADE,

JUST RECEIVED AT THE

Town Hall Cloth and Clothing Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD Respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made great additions to their present expensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would particularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect THEIR STOCK before buying elsewhere, feeling confident we can sell BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.

N. B—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN, ENGLISH and FRENCH and AMERICAN GOODS. Some of the RICHEST VEST PATTERNS, and a HOST OF PANTALOONERY!

BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVERY DESCRIPTION ON HAND,

Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.

HATS, CAPS, &C.

P. S—RUSSELL & CO., having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for public and private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of very article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.

——NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.——

Quincy, March 23.

Old Colony Railroad.

Depot Corner of South and Kneeland Streets

FALL Arrangement, commencing September 10, 1850 Trains leave Boston daily, except Sundays—

For Plymouth, 8 1 2 A M; 4 1 2, P. M.
For Bridgewater, 8 1 2 A. M; 4 1 2 P. M.
For Quincy and Braintree, 7 3 4, 8 1 2 A. M; 1 3 4, 3 4, 4 1 2, 9 1 4 P M.
For Hingham and Cohasset, 8 1 2 A. M; 3, 6 P M
For Milton, U. M., 9 3 4 A. M.; 1, 2 3 4, 5 1 2, P M.
Plymouth for Boston, 7 1 4 A. M; 3 1 4 P. M.
Bridgewater for Boston and Plymouth, 7 1 2 A. M.; 3 1 2 P M
Cohasset for Boston, 6 3 4, 8, A. M; 4 P M.
Milton U M for Boston, 8, 10 1 2 A. M; 1 3 4 4 3 4, P. M.
Braintree for Boston, 7.18, 8 1 2, 8 40, 11 04, A. M. 2 48, 4 1 2, 5 13, P M

☞ The 5 P. M. Train from Boston for Plymouth, will not stop short of South Braintree.

JOS. H. MOORE, Sup't.

Boston, July 25. tf

Trains leave Quincy for Boston as follows :—

7 24, 8 38, 8 47, 11 10, A. M.; 2 54, 4 39 5.16 P. M.

DRY GOODS' NOTICE.

THE undersigned most respectfully inform the public that they keep constantly on hand a large Stock of

DRY GOODS,

well adopted to the wants of the community.

At all times can be found a good assortment of

Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinets and Doe-Skins, Prints, De Laines, Cashmeres, Alpaccas,

and a great variety of

DRESS GOODS AND SHAWLS,

Sheetings, Shirtings, Flannels, and Blankets.

With a good Assortment of such artices as are usually found in a well selected

Stock of Dry Goods.

Feeling confident that our prices will insure a ready sale, our GOODS will be freely shown to all wishing to examine them.

GEORGE SAVIL & CO.,

Washington Street, Quincy.

A few rods east of the Stone Meeting House.

Quincy, October 5. tf

LADIES

Of Quincy and Vicinity.

F. A. JONES & CO.

No. 1

TREMONT ROW,

BOSTON,

Would solicit your attention to the Immense Stock of

NEW GOODS

which they now have, and are daily receiving by every foreign arrival, suitable to the

AUTUMN TRADE OF

1850.

Every variety of

SHAWLS,

from the most expensive Cashmere to the cheapes Wool Plaid

SILKS

of every kind and quality, in Blacks and Colors, ALWAYS AT LOW PRICES.

FRENCH THIBETS

and

GERMA MERINOS

Of all Grades

FALL AND WINTER

DRESS GOODS,

Our usual Assortment.

VELVETS,

All Widths and Colors.

FRENCH CLOAKS AND SACKS,

New Patterns and Trimmings.

Together with the Immense Variety of all other Styles Dry Goods Adapted to the Present Season.

Our long experience in the City Retail Trade enables us to know the wants of our customers, and give us unusual facilities for supplying them During the whole of our business career, it has always been our intention to offer CHOICE GOODS at LOWER PRICES than any other house in the city. Whether we have done so, we leave the public to judge; but we have succeeded, by always keeping this point in view, in building up the largest in the City of Boston, as the crowds of purchasers who daily throng our Establishment, show.

EXCLUSIVE RETAIL TRADE.

Our increased facilities will enable us, during the present season, to offer still greater inducements, by the simple multiplication of business to such an extent thet we can afford to sell each article at a small advance from the cost of importation

Every variety of goods, we shall, as usual, be supplied with In short, we mean to make our place of business a resort for the shrewdest and closest purchasers, as well as the most fanciful and particular, where any lady may be sure of finding all the styles of Choice and Fashionable Goods, always at the very lowest market prices

Thankful for past favors, we solicit a continuance of that patronage which now enables us to refer you to past experience to prove that at no other place can you receive more fully the value of your money, than at our house, and we feel warranted in asserting that at no time have we been able to offer so many bargains at the present season

TREMONT ROW.

Silk and Shawl Store.

F A. JONES & CO.,

NO. ONE TREMONT ROW,

Nearly opposite head of Hanover Street,

BOSTON.

Boston, Sept. 7. 6mos

REMNAMT DE LAINES, from 2 to 6 yds., for sale low, at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. tf

POETRY.

THE FOOLISH QUARREL.

"Hush, Juana: 'tis quite certain
That the coffee was not strong:
Own your error—I'll forgive you—
Why so stubborn in the wrong?"

"You'll forgive me? Sir, I hate you!
You have used me like a churl;
Have my senses ceased to guide me?
Do you think I am a girl?"

"Oh, no! you're a girl no longer,
But a woman, formed to please;
And 'tis time you should abandon Childish follies such as these."

"Oh, I hate you! But why vex me?
If I am old, you're older still;
I'll no longer be your victim,
And the creature of your will."

"But, Juana, why this pother?
It might happen I was wrong;
But, if common sense inspire me,
Still, that coffee was not strong."

"Common sense! you never had it!
Oh that ever I was born
To be wedded to a monster,
Who repays my love with scorn."

"Well, Juana, we'll not quarrel—
What's the use of bitter strife?
But I am sorry I am married;
I was mad to take a wife."

"Mad indeed! I'm glad you know it;
But it little 'vails in law in Spain,
I'll see Hell ere you no longer—
I am weary of the chain."

"Hush, Juana! Since the servants
Hear you argue, ever wrong?
Can you not have done with folly?
Own the coffee was not strong."

"Oh, you goad me past endurance,
Trifling with my woman's heart;
But I loathe you and detest you—
Villain! Monster! Let us part!"

Long this foolish quarrel lasted,
'Till Juana half afraid
That her empire was in peril,
Summon'd never failing aid:

Summon'd tears in copious torrents,
Tears, and sobs, and piteous sighs;
Well she knew the potent practice,
The artillery of the eyes.

And it chanced as she imagined—
Beautiful in grief was she—
Beautiful, to best advantage;
And a tender heart had he.

Kneeling at her side, he soothed her,—
"Dear Juana, I was wrong;
Never more I'll contradict you—
But, Oh! make my coffee strong!"

A HEART TO LET,

To be let—
To be let at a very desirable rate,
A snug little house in a healthy estate
'Tis a Bachelor's heart, and the agent is Chance
Affection the rent, to be paid in advance.
The owner, as yet, has lived in it alone,
So the fixtures are not of much value; but soon
'Twill be furnished by Cupid himself, if a wife
Takes a lease for the term of her natural life.
Then ladies, dear ladies, pray do not forget
An excellent Bachelor's heart to be let.

The tenant will have a few taxes to pay.
Love, honor, (and the heavier item) obey.
As for good will: the subscribers indeed
To have that, I agreed to settle it kind;
Indeed, if he could such an affair arrange,
He'd be big boy enough to take in exchange
Provided, true title, by prudence, be shown,
Any heart, unincumbered and free as his own
So ladies, dear ladies, pray do not forget,
An excellent bachelor's heart is to let

ANECDOTES.

A PHILOSOPHICAL GENTLEMAN.—A gentleman in one of the Western States became the proprietor of an inflamable gas spring. Wishing to make an experiment, he inverted a hogshead over it, and when the gas had accumulated sufficiently, seated himself upon it, and boring a gimlet hole through the top, philosophically applied a lighted candle to the hole. The next that was seen of him, he was kicking a pair of red top boots out of an adjoining canal, into which he had descended head first. He was rescued, and carried to his home, a sadder, wiser and muddier man.

"The most solemn of birds," says an ancient proverb, "is an owl—the most solemn of fishes, an oyster—the most solemn of beasts, an ass—the most solemn of men an ass also."

CENTO VERSES.—Juveniles will find it a pleasant recreation to select lines of poetry from different authors, which will rhyme with each other, and make new verses, which will sometimes make curious sense. Such are called cento verses; here a few:—

'I hear the dread note of the drum,'
'The silver moon is waning;'
'The melancholy days are come,'
'To give our boy a caning.'

'A mason's daughter fair and young,'
'Cries, Bostman, do not harry;'
'If you love me as I love you,'
'When do you mean to marry?'

'The moon had climb'd the highest hill,'
'The hero's dance to throw;'
'Then with her starry courts she subg'
'John Anderson, my Jo.'

FALL AND WINTER
Just Received at the
QUINCY HALL CLOTHING DEPOT,
ON THE
Braintree and Weymouth Turnpike.
JOHN DINEGEN

WOULD respectfully intimate to his friends and the public that he has just received a very choice and select Stock of
Fall and Winter Goods!!!
Consisting in part of BLACK, BLUE, BROWN, OLIVE, DAHLIA, GREEN, and other Fancy colored Cloths, of
ENGLISH, FRENCH AND GERMAN
Manufacture
Also—a good assortment of Plain and Fancy
Doe-Skins
for Pants
VESTINGS
of the very latest designs. SILK VELVET, PLAIN and Figured SILKS and SATINS VALENCIAS &c
Gents wishing to obtain a Fashionable and tasty Garment of any description, are respectfully invited to call and see for themselves.
Garments made to order at very short notice, and by
THE BEST OF WORKMEN.
READY MADE CLOTHING of every description, and at prices to suit all parties.
ONLY ONE PRICE ASKED.
Quincy, August 31. tf

Jewett & Prescott's
SILK AND SHAWL STORE,
No. 2 Milk Street. Boston.
IMPROVED AND RESTOCKED
For the Autumn Trade of 1850.

TO KEEP PACE WITH THE TIMES, we have just made Suitable Improvements in our well known Establishment, and have secured an assortment of
NEW SHAWLS,
SILKS, AND CLOAK GOODS,
that will distance all competition, without exception. We accordingly ask the attention of
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL PURCHASERS
to our variety of Black and colored Dress Silks, Satins, and Satins de Chene; Shawls of all kinds, including the celebrated Bay State Shawls; Paris Cloaks and Sacks, latest patterns; Tinsel Cloths and Merinos; Silk and Woolen Fabrics for cloaks and dresses; Mantelone Silks, and other Goods for trimming cloaks; Cashmere Scarfs; Watered Silks and wide Velvets; Crape Shawls; Bombazines; Alepines; and a large variety of similar goods.
To those who answer our call, we guarantee that the styles, qualities and prices shall meet their most sanguine expectations
JEWETT & PRESCOTT,
No 2, Milk Street.
Boston, August 31. 3mos

CASH
PAID FOR
OLD IRON, COPPER, BRASS,
PEWTER, LEAD, GLASS,
Rubbers and Ink Bottles, Junk,
COBBAGE, PAPER STOCK &c.
—BY—
A. B. PACKARD.

Cholera, Dysentery, &c.
MRS E HAYDEN offers for sale various articles for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, &c
Among which are Wilcoxon's Vegetable Syrup; Java Balsam, (a celebrated East Indian remedy!) Billings's Summer Cordial; Arnold's Balsam; Holden's Dysentery Cordial; Jayne's Carminative Balsam; Anti-Cholera Drops; Whitwell's Sulphur and Charcoal Pills. And a variety of other articles, for the same diseases
Quincy, July 20. tf

Judd's Medicated Liquid Cuticle
FOR closing wounds without sewing; forming a smooth coating over them, impervious to air and water, much superior to its healing properties to any other plaster, and so elastic as not to impede the motion of a joint; an excellent remedy also, for Burns, Scalds, or any fresh wounds. Price—25 cents per bottle.
Sold by Mrs E HAYDEN.
Quincy, August 31 tf

NEW STORE! NEW GOODS!
AT THE OLD STAND,
Formerly occupied by Messrs. H. Pettes & Co. (who have removed to their new Granite Warehouse, Summer St
No. 224 WASHINGTON,
Corner of Summer Street, Boston.
GEO. W. PETTES
Has taken this well known stand, and will always be ready to show his customers the choicest, and in every respect the most desirable stock of
DRY GOODS,
WHICH CAN BE EXPOSED FOR SALE
The prices for all articles shown will be very low. No customer shall be able to better the purchase made at this store.
☞ Please call and examine the elegant Stock of SHAWLS of all kinds,
SILKS " "
DE LAINES, "
PRINTS "
HOUSE KEEPING GOODS, of all kinds,
GLOVES AND HOSIERY "
TRIMMINGS "
And all sorts and kinds and qualities of Dry Goods suited to the wants of families and always at LOW PRICES.
Whenever you visit Boston, visit this new and very convenient Store, and make your purchases too, if you would consult your own interest.
No. 224 Washington, corner of SUMMER ST.
BOSTON.
GEO. W. PETTES.
Boston, Oct. 19th, 1850. 3mis

A CARD
J. A. Holden,
Has just received the Fashions for the
FALL AND WINTNR
OF 1850.
He has also received Fashionable Goods of the present and approaching season, among which, are
FRENCH GERMAN AND AMERICAN
Broadcloths!!!
of various colors and qualities
A great variety of
PANT GOODS,
together with good styles of
VESTINGS, &C.
He is, therefore, more prepared to make Garments for his customers, which cannot fail to please them.
Quincy, Sept 14. tf

Pure Cider Vinegar.
BY the gallon or barrel, just received, and for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

1851.
THOMAS' Old Farmers' Almanac, for 1851, for sale wholesale and retail, at the
QUINCY BOOK STORE.
Quincy Nov 21. 1850 3w

For Sale.
SEVEN PRIME COWS, and from 10 to 15 Tons fine ENGLISH HAY by
CHARLES P. TIRRELL.
Nov. 2 tf

To Let.
A GOOD HOUSE, situated about half a mile East of the Episcopal Church. Possession given immediately. Enquire of DANIEL BAXTER.
Quincy, Jan. 11th, 1851. 3w

Dissolution of Copartnership.
THE COPARTNERSHIP heretofore existing between the subscribers, under the firm of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO, is by mutual consent this day dissolved.
All persons having demands against said firm, are requested to present the same, and all persons indebted are respectfully requested to make payment to either partner.
JOSIAH BRIGHAM
ISRAEL W. MUNROE.
Quincy, January, 1st, 1851

ISRAEL W. MUNROE.
WILL continue the business at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO, and hopes by close personal application to business to receive a continuance of the patronage so long and liberally bestowed on the late firm
Quincy, Jan 4th 1851. 3w.

W. Porter.
DEALER IN
Pine, Spruce and Hemlock
LUMBER,
CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,
LATHS, PICKETS,
CEDAR POSTS, &c.,
At his new Wharf near Brackett's.
Quincy, July 31 tf

N. B.
Geo. Savil & Co.,
Dealers in
READY-MADE CLOTHING
OF
EVERY DESCRIPTION,
AT ROUGH
&
READY HALL,
WASHINGTON STREET,
Quincy.
—O—
A LARGE ASSORTMENT
Constantly on Hand!!
AND FOR SALE
At the Very Lowest Prices!!!
Also,
A GOOD SELECTION
OF
GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.
Quincy, Sept. 28. tf

New Goods.
—o—
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.,
HAVE recently made large additions to their Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows:
Mouslin DeLaine, a good assortment, very low;
Prints and Ginghams in great variety;
Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters
Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors
Wool Yarn, of all colors;
A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and 12 1-2 cts per yard;
Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other Goods, all of which will be sold at the
VERY LOWEST PRICES.
Quincy, August 31 s tf

Let the Public Call.
THE subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, stock of the best material only used, and the workmanship will vie with any other establishment
By attention to business and promptness to orders a liberal share of support is solicited
RALPH LOWE.
Quincy April 13th.

Mrs. . Hayden

GRATEFUL for the patronage she has received for more than twenty years, offers to her friends and the public an ENLARGED STOCK of the best
FAMILY MEDICINES,
Selected and Prepared with care
—ALSO—
Various articles for the use of the sick, among which are, SPOUT DRINKING CUPS; Leech Glasses; Nursing Tubes, of Porcelain, ivory and silver, with and without bottles; India Rubber Breast Pumps, glass Pipes and Shells; Pratt's Patent Nursing Shields; India Rubber and Box Wood do; Bed Pans; Metal and Glass Syringes; Crain's, Ingalli's and Chapin's Supporters; Horse Hair Mittens; English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow; Spread Plasters, on kid, cloth and paper; Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes; Dtistering Paper and Tissue Dressing; European Leeches, &c, &c.
Physicians' Prescriptions,
Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH.
She has also on hand and is constantly receiving the New and Popular Medicines of the day.
Washington St., rear of Stone Temple.
Quincy, Oct. 20. tf

Salt Pork and Beef
A FIRST rate article of PORK and BEEF, packed by the subscribers and for sale by the barrel or in smaller quantities to suit purchasers, cheap for CASH
J & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy March 16th. tf

CROCKERY WARE
A Splendid Assortment of CROCKERY WARE just received and for sale at the Union Store, on Washington Street, Quincy
Blue Stone China Tea Setts - 1 75
Mulbary " " " - - 1 75
Light Blue " " " - - 1 37
White " " " - - 1 37
— AND —
A Good Assortment of GLASS & BRITANIA OIL & FLUID LAMPS
Quincy, Dec 7 1850 tf

QUINCY WASHING MIXUTRE
THIS article has been tested by upwards of fifty families during the past week, and all have called it equal to anything of the kind which they have used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and sell it at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart, full directions accompanying it.
By this improvement, it is expected the dry goods market will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this will wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so often will new be bought.
ELISHA PACKARD
tf

Periodica Agency.
C. GILL & Co are Agents for all the Quarterly, Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free from any expense for Postage or transportation. All who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time for which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices. tf Quincy, Dec. 22

Wool Frocking
200 TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.
Also—FROCKS ready made
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Sept. 20. tf

Prepartion for the Hair.
THE celebrated "Der Schon Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Gloss; Camm's Spanish Lustral, or medicated hair preservative; Tompkins' Chlorion gustrale: Batchelor's instantaneous hair dye; Jules Haules vegetable hair dye. For sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

Velvet Trimmings
JUST Received, an assortment of Velvet Trimmings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by
GEO SAVIL & Co., Washington St.
Quincy, Sept 21. tf

Paper Hangings.
3 TO 400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by
D. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 24th tf

Cider Vinegar.
FIRST rate article of good, Cider Vinegar. Just received and for sale by
DANIEL BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, August 17. tf

Dyer's Washing Fluid.
A first rate article for washing clothes. For sale by H. A. RANSOM & Co.
Quincy, Sept 14 tf

Bay State Long Shawls.
AN Assortment just received of the different sizes Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the lowest prices, by GEO. SAVIL and Co., Washington Street, Quincy.
Quincy, Sept 21. tf

Family Bibles.
WE continue to sell BEAUTIFUL QUARTO BIBLES, of superior quality and binding, at unprecedentedly low prices. Many have availed themselves of the opportunity offered in a former notice, to purchase a good Bible cheap. We have more left and invite all to call and examine before purchasing.
C. GILL & CO
QUINCY BOOKSTORE.
Quincy, Jan. 4th., 1850 3w.

Cider Vinegar.
JUST received, and for sale by the subscribers twenty barrels extra Cider vinegar.
J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850. tf

Apples.
ALDWINS AND RUSSETTS, of the first quality, for sale by
H. A. RANSOM.
Quincy, Oct 12, 1850. tf

Pies, Puddings, Custards, &c.
MRS E HAYDEN has on hand, a variety of articles for flavoring, viz:—
Peach water; Rose water; etc., etc. Essence of Rose, Cinnamon, Lemon, etc
Also—Sweet Marjoram, Sage, Summer Savory, Thyme, &c.
Quincy, Nov. 16. tf

Watches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at the Store of GEORGE B. FOSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum,) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortment of
Gold and Silver
WATCHES,
Silver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Rich
HOUSEHOLD GOODS.
His attention will be given personally, at all times, to the REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF WATCHES, which his long experience in that department with Mr JEFFREY R BRACKETT, entitles him to the confidence of his friends and customers.
☞ His friends and acquaintance when in Boston are invited to call.
THOMAS S. JOHNSON.
Boston, Feb. 23. 1sif

Crockery and Glass Ware.
JUST added to our previous assortment, a new and choice patterns of
Tea and Dining Setts, Washbowls, and Ewers.
H A RANSOM & Co.
Quincy Sept 1. tf

Brown's
ALMANAC, Pocket Memorandum and Account Book, for 1851, for sale at the
QUINCY BOOK STORE.
Quincy, Nov, 25, 1851 tf

Board in Quincy.
A Gentleman and his wife, or two single gentlemen, can have pleasant rooms and board, at the house of Misses J. B & M TOWNSEND, on President's Hill, nearly opposite the depot
Quincy, Nov. 16. 3m

Hats and Caps.
2 CASES, Fall style, just received, and for sale cheap for cash, by
A. B PACKARD.
Quincy, Dec 6. 6w

Apples and Potatoes.
50 Bbls RUSSET and GREENING APPLES
200 bushels POTATOES of various kinds.
For sale by J & H H. FAXON
Quincy, Dec. 7. 1850 tf

HAT AND CAP STORE.
A. B PACKARD has remodled his Store, making the sales room twice as large as formerly, where he intends keeping a large stock of
HATS AND CAPS,
suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.
Also,
A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring styles.
Plain high colored Debines, Prints, Flannels, Ginghams, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c.
With that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers' use
Quincy, April 13. tf

French Calf Boots.
MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a FIRST RATE FIT WARRANTED, by W. S. UNDERWOOD.
Hancock St., Quincy,
Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.
Quincy, May 5. tf

SKATES.
40 Pairs of extra SKATES
For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON
Quincy, Dec 7, 1850 ti

Beef and Pork.
A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere.
Also—Fresh BELF and PORK, constantly on hand, and delivered to any part of the town free expense.
H. A. RANSOM & CO.
m16 tf

BACKGAMMON BOARDS.
VARIOUS Sizes; good finish; selling low at the
QUINCY BOOKSTORE
Quincy, Dec. 14, 1850 3w

Flannels.
WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels Twilled and plain, an assortment just received and for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washington Street Quincy.
Quincy, Sept 21 tf

Bounty Land.
FOR SOLDIERS OF THE WAR OF 1812—and of any Indian War since 1790, their widows and minor children, obtained. All claims business, and suits, under any of the PENSION or PATENT LAWS of the United States.—also PROBATE and other business connected with the settlement of Estates, of deceased persons attended to by
EBEN. SMITH, JR.
Boston, Dec. 28, 1850. 3m

Onions.
50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, for sale by
H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Oct 12th, 1850. tf

Particular Notice
THE Subscribers respectfully inform their customers and the public, that on and after the First of OCTOBER next, all goods will be sold at reduced prices for cash only
All those who wish to buy cheap, are invited to call, as the prices cannot fail to suit them
J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, Sept. 7th. tf

Salt Pork.
A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expense.
D. BAXTER & Co
Quincy March 9th, tf

PORK & BEEF.
SALT-PETRED BEEF and Bacon, of the first quality, will be kept constantly on hand during the season, and sold as cheap as can be bought at
Any Store in Town for Cash.
D. BAXTER & Co
Quincy, March 24. tf

PUBLISHED
NUMBER 7.
JOHN A. GRE
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.
CONDITIONS.
TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance LARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid till months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed ration of the year.
No subscription nor advertisement previous to the payment of all arrear the option of the proprietor. When their papers discontinued, they will give effect at the time their subscription subscriber will be held responsible for of his paper so long as it is sent to his Post Office, Tavern, or any other pla he may have ordered it, until legally contrary.
Advertisements, correctly and conspic ed at the customary prices. The numb reqired must be marked on the advert wise they will be continued until o charged for accordingly.
The privilege of annual advertiser their own immediate business; and all for the benefit of other persons, as we advertisements, and advertisements of sent in by them, must be paid for at the Business letters and communications Editor, postage paid, will receive early ☞ Single copies of the paper, FIVE
AGENTS FOR THE PATRIO
The following gentlemen are authori pay and requested to procure subscripti
JOSIAH BABCOCK, Quincy
GEORGE H. LOCKE, " Sto
ORIN P. BACON, Dorchest
FISHER A. KINGSBURY, Weymou
JOSEPH CLEVERLY, Abington
SAMUEL A. TURNER, South St
N. B. OSBORNE, So Scitu
FREEMAN HUNT, New Yo

MISCELLANY

A VICTIM OF OLD PUT'S G
AN INCIDENT OF THE REVOLUTION

Near Peckskill, not far from the stands a clump of forest trees, a an aged hickory is somewhat cons
It bore for a long time, and still lieve the name of 'Old Put's ga the fact that many a Tory spy, sk thieveing cow boy had swung from es when Putman commanded on th
In the early part of August, 177 Tyron was at the British outposts bridge. It will be remembered th the royal Governor of New York mencement of the Revolution, an nel of the British regulars. Aft broke out, he was placed on active raised to a general's rank, with p cruit and equip a Tory corps and the Americans who yet remained crown and Government of Britain
For a long time it had been a fa ject with Putman that an attempt made to recapture the city of New from all accounts it appears that did not dislike the plan, but with tion did not wish to hazard at the of a defeat. Putman, however, feints and false movements at h to alarm Sir Henry Clinton; succeeded and thus kept the B within the city for its protection. wise, aided by the fleet, would hav aging the adjacent shores of othe became necessary to Sir Henry he should know the position and Putman's troops more accurately, or if possible to ascertain what pa city gave Putman such accurate k all his, Clinton's plans.
Tyron, was busy raising his and for him, Sir Henry sent.
'General Tryon,' he said, 'I m position of Putman's troops and t including his fresh battalions of ought to find some one—a native listed in your corps that will go in lands and obtain it for us. The be liberal, and if successful, the be advanced a grade.'
'I think I have such a man. Si sergeant in De Lincy's regiment. only a week ago and is intelligent tious. He has friends on the oth do not know he has joined us yet.'
'The very man. Go and send eral Tryon was absent about two had to send to Harlem, where the stationed, undergoing a drill with new levies under their officers.
'I've seen the man and had a sation with him,' said Tyron, when 'He is willing to undertake it tion, and that is only a condition
'What is it then?'
'That he shall receive a Lieute sion at once. He will then depart you require, and is confident of
'Do you know him to be wor ance?'
'From all that I can learn, a own judgment I should not dou least.'
The young sergeant soon made ance. He was not more than thre years of age, of good personal ap a cunning twinkle about his sma denoting no want of confidence good opinion. Sir Henry was so with him that his instructions w pleted: and receiving his commis lieutenant bade the British com well, to return in a few days with information. On reaching his changed his military apparel for a ches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at the Store of GEORGE B. FOSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum,) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortment of

Gold and Silver

WATCHES,

Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Rich

OUSEHOLD GOODS.

ntion will be given personally, at all times, EPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF S, which his long experience in that de- with Mr JEFFERY R BRACKETT, entitles confidence of his friends and customers. friends and acquaintance when in Boston to call.

THOMAS S. JOHNSON.

Feb. 23. 1sif

ckery and Glass Ware.

dded to our previous assortment, new an patterns of

nd Dining Setts, Washbowls, and Ewers.

H A RANSOM & Co.

Sept 1. tf

Brown's

NAC, Pocket Memorandum and Account for 1851, for sale at the QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Nov. 25, 1850 tf

Board in Quincy.

oman and his wife, or two single gentle- can have pleasant rooms and board, at the Misses J B & M TOWNSEND, on Presi- l, nearly opposite the depot

Nov 16 3m

Hats and Caps.

S, Fall style, just received, and for sale for cash, by

A. B PACKARD.

Dec 6 6w

pples and Potatoes.

bls RUSSET and GREENING APPLES bushels POTATOES of various kinds, by

J. & H. H. FAXON

Dec. 7, 1850 tf

T AND CAP STORE.

PACKARD has remodled his Store, making it two rooms twice as large as formerly, intends keeping a large stock of

HATS AND CAPS,

of the young, the fashionable and the mid- ed of the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the te people.

Also,

pply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS , and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring ch colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Ging- m Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c.

t never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Ma-

April 13. tf

French Calf Boots.

to order, in the neatest and most fashiona- style, and a FIRST RATE FIT WARRANT- S. UNDERWOOD,

Hancock St., Quincy,

next door to the Quincy Bookstore.

May 5. tf

SKATES.

ers of extra SKATES made by

J. & H. H. FAXON

Dec 7, 1850 tf

Beef and Pork.

lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can ught elsewhere

esh BEEF and PORK, constantly on delivered to any part of the town free

H. A. RANSOM & CO.

tf

BACKGAMMON BOARDS.

ES Sizes; good finish; selling low

QUINCY BOOKSTORE

Dec. 14, 1850 3w

Flannels.

E, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels lled and plain, an assortment just received low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washing- Quincy

Sept 21 tf

Bounty Land.

OLDIERS OF THE WAR OF 1812— any Indian War since 1790, their widows children, obtained. All claims business, under any of the PENSION or PATENT the United States,—also PROBATE and ness connected with the settlement of Es- ceased persons attended to by

EBEN SMITH, JR.

Dec. 28, 1850. 3m

Onions.

SHELLS of prime Onions, for sale by

H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Oct 12th, 1850. tf

Particular Notice

scribers respectfully inform their custom- the public, that on and after the First of t next, all goods will be sold at reduced Sold only who wish to buy cheap, are invited to prices cannot fail to suit them

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Sept 7th. tf

Salt Pork.

T RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by scribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller cheap as can be bought for Cash, and de- any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co

March 9th, tf

PORK & BEEF.

CHOICE BELF and Bacon, of the first will be kept constantly on hand during and sold as cheap as can be bought at Store in Town for Cash.

D. BAXTER & Co

March 24, tf

QUINCY PATRIOT.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.....OVER MESSRS. JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO'S STORE.....HANCOCK STREET.

NUMBER 7. QUINCY (MASS.) SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1851. VOLUME 15.

JOHN A. GREEN,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance—TWO DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid till the end of six months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till the expiration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will be stopped previous to the payment of all arrearages unless at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers wish their papers discontinued, they will give notice to that effect at the time their subscription expires. Every subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of his paper so long as it is sent to his address at the Post Office, Tavern, or any other place wheresoever he may have ordered it, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously, inserted at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, otherwise they will be continued until ordered out and charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business; and all advertisements for the benefit of other persons, as well as all legal advertisements, and advertisements of auction sales, sent in by them, must be paid for at the usual rates.

Business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.

☞ Single copies of the paper, FIVE CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receivt pay and requested to procure subscriptions:

JOSIAH BABCOCK,	Quincy Railway.
GEORGE H. LOCKE,	" Stone Quarries.
ORIN P. BACON,	Dorchester.
FISHER A. KINGSBURY,	Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVERLY,	Abington.
SAMUEL A. TURNER,	South Scituate.
N. B. OSBORNE,	Salem
FREEMAN HUNT,	New York City.

MISCELLANY.

A VICTIM OF OLD PUT'S GALLOWS

AN INCIDENT OF THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR.

Near Peckskill, not far from the main road, stands a clump of forest trees, among which an aged hickory is somewhat conspicuous.

It bore for a long time, and still bears, I believe the name of 'Old Put's gallows,' from the fact that many a Tory spy, skinner, and thieveing cow boy had swung from its branches when Putman commanded on the lines.

In the early part of August, 1777, General Tyron was at the British outposts near Kingsbridge. It will be remembered that he was the royal Governor of New York at the commencement of the Revolution, and a full colonel of the British regulars. After the war broke out, he was placed on active service, and raised to a general's rank, with power to recruit and equip a Tory corps and brigade from the Americans who yet remained loyal to the crown and Government of Britain.

For a long time it had been a favorite project with Putman that an attempt should be made to recapture the city of New York, and from all accounts it appears that Washington did not dislike the plan, but with prudent caution did not wish to hazard at the time the risk of a defeat. Putman, however, made several feints and false moments at his out-posts to alarm Sir Henry Clinton; in which he succeeded and thus kept the British troops, within the city for its protection, that otherwise, aided by the fleet, would have been ravaging the adjacent shores of other States. It became necessary to Sir Henry Clinton that he should know the position and condition of Putman's troops more accurately, also endeavor if possible to ascertain what parties in the city gave Putman such accurate knowledge of all his, Clinton's plans.

Tyron, was busy raising his 'new levies,' and for him, Sir Henry sent.

'General Tryon,' he said, 'I must know the position of Putman's troops and their number, including his fresh battalions of militia. You ought to find some one—a native—that has enlisted in your corps that will go into the Highlands and obtain it for us. The reward shall be liberal, and if successful, the person shall be advanced a grade.'

'I think I have such a man, Sir Henry—a sergeant in De Lincy's regiment. He enlisted only a week ago and is intelligent and ambitious. He has friends on the other side that do not know he has joined us yet.'

'The very man. Go and send him.' General Tyron was absent about two hours, for he had ro send to Harlem, where the sergeant was stationed, undergoing a drill with others of the new levies under their officers.

'I've seen the man and had a long conversation with him,' said Tyron, when he entered.

'He is willing to undertake it on one condition, and that is only a condition of pride.'

'What is it then?'

'That he shall receive a Lieutenant's comsion at once. He will then depart the instant you require, and is confident of success.'

'Do you know him to be worthy of reliance?'

'From all that I can learn, and from my own judgment I should not doubt it in the least.'

The young sergeant soon made his appearance. He was not more than three and twenty years of age, of good personal appearance, and a cunning twinkle about his small black eye, denoting no want of confidence in his own good opinion. Sir Henry was so well pleased with him that his instructions were soon completed: and receiving his commission, the new lieutenant bade the British commander farewell, to return in a few days with the desired information. On reaching his quarters he changed his military apparel for a plain countryman's suit ripped the lining off his cocked hat under which he placed his commission, which he carefully resowed, saying to himself:

'I think when Miss Rosa, Milford sees my commission, as an officer in his Majesty's service she will no longer refuse the hand of Nathan Palmer.'

The next morning he left the further British out-posts at Kingsbridge, on horseback, where general Tyron had accompanied him, to pursue his expedition. It was a beautiful morning, and he looked forward with all the anticipations of pleasure, and hope gleamed warmly in his breast. He passed the neutral ground without molestation, and advanced into what was considered the American districts without being troubled by any of the occasional travelers on road, although every one was armed and carried a musket. Now and then he met an American yeoman or farmer with whom he was acquainted, that new not of his defection for he was born in that section of the country, and residents within a wide circle were then considered as neighbors. Late in the afternoon he came within sight of the regular American outposts, when he turned off the main road by a narrow one that led to a mill and dwelling on the banks of a small but rapid stream.

Let us for a moment look into the dwelling and notice its immates. One was a girl of about eighteen, and a fine rustic beauty, engaged in some trifling housework, but mainly listening to the conversation of a lively looking, brown complexion young man in a half military garb. It is evident what he said pleased her, for she looked at him from time to time, as she smiled archly, with fondness. These two were Rosa Milford, the miller's daughter, and William Townley, a neighboring farmer's son, and ensign in the American army lying near.

'Who is that, William, coming towards the mill on horeback.'

'As I live,' said the young man, 'it is your old spark, that sly rascal, Nathan Palmer, the dominie's nephew, who despised him and cast him off. The rogue, I heard in a private letter this morning, that he had enlisted in the refugee corps. If I knew certain he would swing for it. Depend upon it, Rosa, he is here for no good purpose.'

'Do not be seen, William. Leave me to manage him.

The young man left by a back door, not out of hearing, as the tory lieutenant and spy entered by the front. He advanced with a bold step.

'Rosa, I have but litle time to spare, and want your answer at once. Read that.'

He took the commission from the lining of his hat, and placed it before her.

'Some difference between holding a commission in King George's service and being a ragged continental!'

'Nathan Palmer,' said Rosa, sternly 'I atways dishked you—now I hate you,' and she handed him his commission.

'Do you refuse to be my wife now?'

'Your wife! Leave the house, or I shall be tempted to loose the dog at the mill upon you.'

'Good bye, Miss Rosa, he said grinding his teeth in anger. 'Look to your father's mill—your house—yourself. I will be avenged!' And he mounted his horse, and rode swiftly away.

Rosa hastened to the back door to look for her lover. He was just leaving for the camp, and the wave of his hand indicated that he knew Palmer's errand. He hastened to the camp, had an interview with Putman, and the latter issued his private orders. Palmer came into the lines that night with the freedom of an old companion, and having as he supposed accomplished his errand, was about taking his departure, when he was arrested, and the fatal commission was full proof of his guilt as a spy. After a brief trial he was ordered to be hung on Put's gallows the next afternoon.

Before the hour of execution came, Tyron, who had heard of the arrest, sent in a flag, declared it murder to hang a mere civilian who happened to be a royalist, and threatened retaliation. He was not aware that Palmer's commission had been found upon his person. Putman wrote back this brief and memorable note.

Head Quarters, Aug. 7, 1777.

'Sir: Nathan Palmer, a lieutenant in your Kings service, was taken into my camp as a spy. He was tried as a spy; he was condemned as a spy and you may rest assured, sir, he shall be hanged as a spy.'

I have the honor to be, etc.

ISRAEL PUTMAN.

His Excellency, Gen. Tyron.

P. S. Afternoon. He is hanged.'

Such was 'Old Put' prompt to execute and decide. The hickory tree still remains standing ner Peckskill.

NEHEMIAH SHYES VALENTINE.

RELATED BY ONE WHO HEARD OF IT.

Neremiah Shye is shy by habit, which is second nature, as well as by name, which is only an accident. He might have inherited some other patronymic; but, if he had the same cuffing and scolding mother, though his name had been 'bold' or 'brave,' it could not have changed his character. Wenever I see parents driving their children about, and continually threatening them they will 'catch it,'—the pronoun it standing for some indefinite terror, I always fear that such training will not result in any remarkably good mental, moral or physical developement. That children made their appearance in the world for any other purpose than as knucklietesters to their affectionate parents, in a revelation which does not appeared to have penetrated some localities; and it is fortunate for human nature that it has elasticity and endurance to sustain and overcome the difficulties with which rude parents visit their off-spring.

Nermiah Shye early lost the larger half of his Christian name. Shortening to Ne'em, and then to, 'Nim,' the abrevintion was too much to leave the sound emphatic, and his family name was used to correct the error; as often is the case, in such abridgments. The new name thus elaborated, with all the circumstance of a Greek contraction, presented, like the classic elisions, a puzzle to those who would study its etymology. 'Nim-Shy' was the product; and its origin cannot be better exhibited than in the way in which his mother was wont to call him:—'Nehemiah! Nehemi-e-ah! Ne-e-em! Yon Nim! Nim Shy-e!' Of course, he never came at the first call, for that would have been only to anticipate the cuff. Aware that he was doomed to 'catch it,' at sight, he naturally desired to postoned the 'sight, as long as possible.

So Nim Shy, whose original name was Nehemiah, grew up, timid, arkward, and doubting. We leave Lawrence Sterne, in Tristam Shandy, and his elegant imitator, Bulwer, in The Caxtons, to discuss the effect of names upon growth and mental developement, and proceed with the facts of our narrative.

So timid was Nehemiah in some respects, that he would have been afraid of his own shadow, only that he knew he could whip that. He had indeed thrashed it, many times, for the pleasure of seeing something 'catch it,' as well as himself. Nehemiah was not, however, afraid of boys. He had acquired, by long practice, under maternal direction, too great a capacity for endurance to dread their blows; and, indeed, it was rather a relaxation than otherwise to be struck by those whom he could strike back! Manifold are the lessons which children acquire, under parents whose motto is 'now you'll catch it!'

As all bashful men, and hobble-de-hoys, are usually afraid of those who could not hurt them if they would, and would not if they could, Nehemiah was terribly afraid of the girls. He could not look a miss in the face, without blushing scarlet, or paling plate-white. And inexorable fate has so ruled it, that bashful boys like Nehemiah, are the especial sport of some cruel girl in particular, and of the whole sex in general. For girls find usually as much amusement in tormenting such lads as the boys do in impalling flies. I have not yet decided which sport is the more cruel.

Nehemiah had one sister. Of course, she had one very particular friend of her own sex, as all girls have. And, she had one very particular friend, of her own sex, as all girls have. And, of course, Nehemiah's sister's friend made it the grand amusement of her life to lease him; for there never was a sister's very particular friend, who was not addicted to such amusement. The tricks and impositions they put upon poor Nehemiah, drove him to the conclusion that all of the sex are only so many troublesome individuals which the world were well rid of.

The mischief did not always stop with what thegirls played upon Nehemiah directly—for there was often an appendage of 'catch it from his mother, by way of conclusion. The girls had only to say 'it was Nim,' and he had no chance of hearing, of appeal, or of apology; and learned at last never to attempt either.

Every thing, and every series of things, must come to a crisis at some time. And Catharine Clarke's torment of Nehemiah Shye approached its crisis a few years ago. Everybody in our place who was not too old for such folly, or did not, like Nehemiah Shye, hate it from principle, was writing and sending Valentines. The itinerant vender visited the village with a large assortment, embracing all varieties—sentimental, grotesque, burlesque, and arabesque—upon paper of all conceivable hues and varieties. There were devices of Cupid, spitting hearts together, and breaking them on anvils, and dishing them up in every mode known to the amotory cuisine; while Hymen stood by to enlighten the operation, with a torch as huge as a pine knot. Catharine Clarke could not resist the temptation to be mischievous at so easy a cost, and she and Nehemiah's sister both provided themselves with missives. Nehemiah was not admitted to this secret, and the girls thought him barely worth their attention in the distribution.

Well, the famous day came round—the day on which, of late years, more pretty malice finds its vent than during all the other three hundred and sixty-four. The eargerness of us Americans to overdo and exaggerate, made even harmless customs pernicious follies; and so, in a marked manner, has it proved in the Valentine mania. Delicacy has been outraged and many sensitive minds have been shocked in the most unfeeling manner; and malice and envy have re-opened old wounds. The perpetrators of such contemptible folly or wickedness have so degraded what might have remained a pleasant pastime, that is fast running back into neglect. People are ashamed of it.

The reader need not suppose, however, that Catharine or her friend indulged in any such very reprehensive deed. They merely singled out a few grotesque affairs for one and another among their male friends, including Nehemiah. Each knew what the other did. It was a common frolic to both. But Catharine has more than a little undeveloped poetry in her composition, and her eye rested with concealed interest upon some really pretty little affairs which the peddler carried. And taking her opportunity, in the momentary absence of her friend, she possessed herself with one of them thinking her secret safe. And so it would have been, but for her own mistake.

On the memorable 14th, when penny posts make a harvest, and door openers frown, Nehemiah having received a note, was examining it with some interest, and no little admiration, for it was beautiful. He could not conceive who could have sent him such a favor, and had commenced a train of reasoning, the commencement of which was that all womankind might not be quite so hateful after all. Catharine came in while he was busy in the examination, and saw in a moment what she had done, or rather misdone.

'Oh! Nehemiah!' she said, 'that never was meant for you!'

'How do you know?' asked Nehemiah, starting out of her reach, as she tried to seize it.

'And if it wasn't meant for me, who did you mean it for?' he continued observing her anxiety.

'O! do give it me.'

'Give it you! Give you my valentine, and the prettiest one in town, too! No you don't, Katy; I must show it too Siss.'

'Oh, don't! don,t!'

'Never fear, Katy—I must show it; but I'll tell Siss it was all a mistake, for you did'nt mean it for me at all, and told me so.'

'Do give it me, there's dear good boy.'

'Boy!' said Nehemiah, buttoning his jacket over the treasure. But his sister entered, and he was repaid a thousand fold for all past teasings by seeing how Kate's pleading eyes would wander to him, while she pretended to talk nonsense to his sister. Now he would unbutton his jacket, as if preparing to produce the terrable document, and now refold his garments over until his sister could not help perceiving the by-play. Nehemiah really dilated under the circumstances. He gained five years of manhood in half an hour, and, hearing his mother's voice calling him, acctually walked out to answer her at once, without caring that she could scold or cuff a young gentleman with a valentine in his pocket.

It is not necessary, and might be wearisome, to detail all Nehemiah's adroit management of the secret. Suffice it to say that he had manliness enough to comply with Catharine's request, and still to make the little affair a fund of never failing half-mirth, half vexation between them, for several months. She began to perceive that Nehemiah was not so contemptible as she once feigned to think; and he discovered that girls may be pleasant companions, and are not really beautiful monsters. At this date, Nehemiah, having assumed his standing as no more a boy in a jacket, but an undoubted young man, in a patelot and beaver; his mother, moreover, having ceased to think of making him 'catch it,' he bids fair, under Catharine's tuition, to be made a man. But I would caution, nevertheless, young ladies to be careful what valentines they send, and that they make no confusion in directing them.—Everybody is not so magnanimous as our hero; and though all appearance indicate that Miss Clark will reward Nehemiah by assuming his name, in acknowledgment of his keeping her secret, all mistakes do not result so auspiciously.

A FEW WORDS ON CLOTHING.

BY T. NICHOLS, M. D.

A writer, in a recent number of the Journal, dating from what used to be the far of wilds of Iowa, opposes all clothing, as detremental to health. If I would understand him rightly, he would banish it at once, and have mankind appear in the primitive garb of our first parents. He may be right—but if I undertook to try the experiment, I should prefer an Eden and a state of innocence to try it in. In the torrid zone, some clothing affords a convenient protection from the intense heat—in Russia, it it seems rather a necessity. I know the Indians did pretty well with a few coats of paint, and as they exposed the whole body, as we do our face and hands, they said they were all face. It is probable enough that a man might begin early, and get toughened to it, even in this climate. In the beautiful Islands of the South Sea, dress is worn more for ornament than use; but that is a different affair from the zero temperature of a northern winter.

It is a favorite dream of the lovers of progress, that the climates will be gradually softened, the season equalized, and the earth redeemed from its sterility. But as it will take time for the poles of the earth to become perpendicular to the coliptic, so as to make an eternal summer round the world; as the progress of ameliorating the climated by cultivation must necessarily be slow; and as people have no great fondness for toughening themselves so as to go naked under present circumstances, I couclude that some time longer.

There are, indeed, occasional signs of change in this respect; and these signs occur in the sex that has the name, justly or not, of being inclined to fickleness. Men dress with great regularity. You never see their skin, except what cover their faces or such portions of them as are not concealed by shirt-collars, hair, and whiskers; and the hands when not covered by rings, gloves, and mittens. But the women certainly have some slight tendancies toward the theory of our Iowa philosopher, which I charitably attributo to their comparative state of innocence, and some dim longings after the lost Eden.

Thus our fair and gentle ladies are sometimes dressed to the tips of their fingers; at others, we see their beautiful white arms bared to the shoulder. Sometimes their dresses come up to their chins; anon, they fall far down their chests. At present their dresses sweep the pavements, but I can remember when in obedience to the nod of fashion, they rose some distance above what may be properly called the ankle. At the theatre, especially in the ballot, the style of dress, like that of the South Sea Islanders, is more ornamental than useful, and at times, is so very little, that our Iowa friend could scarcely make it a subject of complaint.

Dress, aside from its ornamental qualities—and these are by no means to be disregarded—is a kind of necessary evil. I know that the poet speaks of "nature when unadorned, adorned the most;" but nature, in the poet's sense is, I fear, rather a scarce article. It is necessary, as a protection from the inclemencies of the weather, and to protect, not our innocence, but our want of it; for it is not the pure, who are scandalized at nudity. Leaving the decency part out of the question, if we should all leave off our clothes. I suppose three fourths would be killed the first winter, while the balance would be remarkably tough and healthy. I think, therefore that if any such change be made, it should be done gradually; not, perhaps, as the ladies do, by wearing their arms or bosoms bare now and then at a party, a ball, or the opera, but by leaving off some of our unnecessary coddings and cumorters.

So much for necessity—now for the evil. It is true that the whole body needs light and air, as it needs cleanliness. It is true that much of our clothing interferes with these requisites. I like the fashion of the Turkish ladies, who, after their baths, amuse themselves for an hour or two talking, working or playing games before dressing. This practice, in a large; fairy, well lighted room, cannot but be favorable to health. To let in air and light, clothing should be made loose, and of a spongy texture. There are two points to be considered here. The transpirations of the body must be thrown off without impediment, and access permitted to the external air.

I am satisfied that we breathe with the skin, all over the body. In that, case, tight, close garments must smother us. Nothing like oiled silk or India rubber cloth should ever be worn. All dresses of oil-cloth, or other water-proof compositions, which are also air-proof, should be avoided. It is better to get wet. Great mischief has been done to heads by wearing light and air-tight hats. The silk hats especially are quite air-tight, the plush being put on with shellac. From this cause, we have headache, baldness, and tendency to apoplexy. So of the feet, cased in water-proof boots. The boots commonly worn, make the feet tender, unhealthy, and chilly. Every sensible man wears shoes or cloth gaiters when the season will admit, and when compelled to wear boots, he has them made large, and changes them as quickly as possible for his slippers.

In texture, the knit stocking is the best article of clothing we have. It seems to answer every requisite. We might wear knit underskins and drawers, with advantage, when they are needed. Some people do not bathe, and when it is not allowed to become too filthy, I think it may be useful. It will cleanse the skin after a fashion, and take up the matter of perspiration, so as to prevent in some measure the clogging of the pores, But Water Cure people can seldom wear wooolen next the skin, and they do not need it. When a person bathes every day its skin becomes very tough, but at the same time very tender. It is both hardy and delicate. This comes from its greater vitality. It will bear a great rubbing but cannot endure the irritation of coarse woolen, never wear cotton or silk, or fine worsted next the skin; and in all cases, the more open the texture, the better,

It is hard to say whether men, on the whole drees better than women. They are more consistent, and their fashions have but little change. Of late, their garments have become more and more and more loose and flowing. The ladies have greatly the advantage in hats, and so have less occasion for wigs, and die less frequently of apoplexy. They do not coddle their feet so much in tight, impervious boots; but then they chill them severely, when there is no need of it.

The ladies admit the air with some freedom to the lower half of their bodies, but they make up for that by close fliting bodices and corsets to the upper half, including the most vital organs. I believe I shall say nothing about tight lacing; as it is presumed that every woman who presses her heart, liver, lungs and stomach, into a less space than nature designed for them, knows that she is killing herself, and takes the responsibility of suicide. But as it is our duty to prevent people from drowning themselves or taking poisons, "unless prescribed by a regular physican," I don't know but it may be the duty of every man to carry a knife or a pair of sci-sors in his pocket, and rip open every woman he sees committing the most stupid of all modes of self slaughter.

Aside from the cravat, which there has been much debate about, men dress the chest to better advantage than do the women. I have heard of male dandies, who wear bells, hoo-braces, and corsets; but I trust, for the honor of humanity, that such specimens are rare.—What few may be found running at large should be caught, caged and turned over to the menageries. If women will profane their bodies by such hideous distortions of themselves men should try to sustain their portion of the dignity of the humane race.—There is a question about the practice of leaving a portion of the bosom less protected than the rest as is done by the open collars of our coats and waist coats. It is not settled whether this partial exposure is a cause of bronchial difficulties, or of a protection against them. But the changes of female dress, from dresses high to low in the neck, and from long sleeves to bare arms, cannot be favorable to health. They should be one thing or the other, and much as I admire a white well shaped arm, the graceful fall of the neck, the alabaster gleam of the well-rounded shoulder, and the heaving bosom's voluptuous swell, I cannot but think that for the present, and in a variable climate like ours they had all better be protected by proper and graceful coverings.

There are a few laws of dress, easily understood, and easy to observe. The objects of dress are comfort, health, decency, and ornament. I think comfort, health and decency go together; as use is the highest beauty, we may take in the ornamental. The requisites of comfort are, ease of motion, lightness, and just enough and not too much warmth. The requisites of health are absolute, the free ingress of air and light as consistent with comfort, and the maintenance of the degree of warmth necessary to the highest vitality. I shall leave the points of decency and ornament to the taste and sense of propriety of my readers; but let me assure them, as one who has an eye for the beauty of the female form, that a waist squeezed into less than its natural dimensions is neither decent nor ornamental. To the artist it is a deformity; to the anatomist and physiologist, an indecency and an outrage.—Water Cure Journal.

QUINCY PATRIOT

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 15 h. '851

John A. Green, Editor.

To the Editor of the Quincy Patriot.

Sir.—As the public are desirous to learn all that is known relative to the sad and appalling tragedy, which has recently taken place in this vicinity, I furnish you with a copy of the verdict of the Jury of inquest, and of the testimony before them, which if you please you will publish; and I would request any person who may have it in their power to give me any additional information that may tend to solve the mystery, in which the subject is at present involved.

I also furnish you with copies of papers written, and in pencil marks which are in my posession, which I think will identify the hand writing of the deceased persons, a part or all of which you may publish. Yours &c, L. BASS, Coroner, of Quincy, Norfolk Co., Mass.

Quincy Feb. 7th, 1851.

I was informed this day, about 4 o'clock P. M., that two young men were lying dead in the south common: they were found by Henry and Albert Hayden. I went immediately to the spot with them, and found them lying side by side and were evidently, shot in the head—covered with ice and snow, and frozen fast to the ground; their bodies and clothing was so frozen that they could not be examined in that situation by a jury of inquest. I therefore removed them to my house, for the purpose of thawing for examination. They were removed from thence the next morning to a running brook and remained there two and a half hours for the purpose of thawing them. At half past nine o'clock they were conveyed to the Town House, where a jury of inquest were immediately empanelled: who, after a patient and thorough investigation, rendered their verdict at half past six o'clock P. M. With great labor the clothing was removed, as the frost still remained and caused them to adhere to the bodies.

Dr. Wm. B. Bugbee examined the wounds and bodies, and upon removing the clothing, one of them was discovered to be a female, dressed in male apparel. No wounds was discovered on any other part of the bodies except the head; which wounds, in the physicians opinion, caused their deaths.

Their names were John Green and George Sands.

The witnesses examined were duly sworn.

The first witness examined, was

Henry Hayden—Who testified that he was on a gunning excursion with his brother Albert, Feb. 7th, and about four o'clock started a rabbit, and pursuing it, ran into a cluster of trees and bushes where he discovered two dead bodies. Called to his brother and informed him of the discovery.—Thought that they were frozen to death. Started immediately for the Coroner.

The second witness examined, was

Albert Hayden—Who testified that he was out gunning with his brother and found the bodies as his brother had described, thought they were frozen to death. Went directly for the Coroner and returned with him and assisted in removing the bodies to his house. Found a pistol under or in the right hand of Green who was lying on the right side, and close to the body of Sands, also a powder flask, partly filled with powder, a box of percussion caps and paper of shot near the pistol. The bodies both appeared to be shot.

The third witness examined, was

Mrs. Prudence Wood—Who testified postively to the identity of the bodies, as those of two persons who came to her house to board about the 1st of Nov. last; and left on the 12th, remaining there eleven days. They said they were half brothers, and gave their names as John Green and George Sands, and said they wanted a room by themselves. Green said he was in his 23d year, and Sands 15 years old. That Sands was not in good health; had come from Cincinnati, Ohio, and wanted to remain a few weeks to educate his brother. And was looking for work, he being a boot maker.—While they remained with her, they occupied the same room and bed. She noticed they were very shy about any person going into their room. The last few days I began to think all was not right. Thought she noticed an awkward gait by Sands when walking, on the morning of the 12th Green complained about not feeling well at breakfast, said he thought he would not work that day, but take a walk and see if it would not make him feel better. Asked Sands to go with him. Before leaving, heard Sands say he did not want to go, but was going to please John. They left her house that morning and never returned. Noticed that Sands used remarkable good language in conversation, and appeared to have a good education. Heard Sands say after returning from Mr. La Roy Sunderland's—that he, Sands, thought forty or sixty years long enough to live. That if things happened as he wished he should like to live forty years, and thought he should get married, if not, he should prefer death.

A valise, two shirts, a silver watch, a few pieces of silver, amounting to thirty-three cents, a volume of the works of A. J. Davis, and two or three other books; pamphelet treating on the subject of spiritual knockings and magnatism; were found in the room they occupied. Sands spent his time while at her house much in reading in their room. Had heard Green, when leaving to go to his work, say to Sands, that he had better go with him as he was afraid he would get mistreaty, and he after the girls.

The fourth witness examined, was

Capt. Peter Bracket.—Who testified, positively to the identity of the dead bodies as being the persons who worked and visited his shop. That Green made sixteen pair of boots while there; made two pair Town meeting day; predicted that one would be found to be a female; said he had seen marks on Green's arm, marked with indelible ink, pricked into the skin, being a wreath in an oval form; in the centre of which, was a likeness apparently of a female. That Sands had visited his shop almost every day that Green worked there, and engaged himself in reading and conversation, two or three hours at a time. That Green had stated to him that they were half brothers, and that they came from Cincinnati, Ohio, to see machinery for making boots and improving Sand's health; which was not good, and to better educate him, and hoped soon to get Sands's a situation as a clerk, as he was qualified for such employment. That Sands appeared to belong to some respectable family, and of more than common education. He had seen nothing amiss in them while in his shop. His wife had heard Sand's reading while they were alone in the shop, and by her voice she was suspicious that she was a female, and asked him (witness) what woman he had in the shop? That he went into the shop when the voice of the reader was instantly changed so as to appear more strong, like the voice of a male. After this, he suspected one was a female. Heard Sand's say one day that they might as well die, as matters had not gone on as they expected. Had heard them say that they did not believe in the Bible, but believed in spiritual knockings and mesmerism. That Sand's had visited La Roy Sunderland at his residence in Charlestown, to consult the spirits, and thought he appeared disappointed by his visit there. Heard Sand's say, one day, that his Mother was adverse to his coming away.

The fifth and last witness examined, was

Edward Cushing—Who testified to the identity of the bodies, as those who frequently came to the shop, of Mr. J. D. Whicher for whom Green worked. Had heard Green say he had been an Engineer of the Mississippi, and had a law suit with the Captain who cheated him out of his wages. That he came for the purpose of improving the health of his half brother. That they appeared well informed, particularly Sand's, who used good language. Green related many anecdotes which occurred while he was Engineer on the Mississippi. Noticed that Sand's had a small delicate hand and wrist, and had suspicion he was a female.

NORFOLK SS.—An inquisition taken at the Town of Quincy within the County of Norfolk, the eighth day of February, in the Year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-one; before Lewis Bass, Esquire, one of the Coroners of said County, upon the view of the bodies of two persons discovered in the South Common, (so called,) in Quincy, by two young men who were on a gunning excursion; there lying dead, by the oaths of Ibrahim Bartlett, Nathaniel White, Whitcomb Porter, George Nightingale, Loyd G. Horton, and Benjamin Bass, good and lawful men, who being charged and sworn to inquire for the Commonwealth when, how, and by what means the said persons, calling themselves John Green and George Sand's, came to their deaths, upon their oaths do say, that the deceased came to their deaths on or about the 12th, of Nov. last, in the following manner, to wit:—that George Sand's death was occasioned by a ball discharged from a pistol by the hand of John Green, which entered the head about one and a half inch above the left ear—and a ball discharged from the same instrument, by his own hand, which ball, entered his mouth and passed out at the back of his head, causing instant death. They are deputed to be the bodies of two persons who came to Quincy on or about the fourth of Nov. last, who gave their names as above—John Green and George Sand's, and said they came from Cincinnati, Ohio." The former is of dark complexion, about five feet nine inches high, the latter light complexion, rather delicate form and about five feet and five inches high, and proved to be a female. They were respectfully clad. They boarded and took lodgings in the same room. They left their boarding place on the 12th, day of Nov. last, to take a walk—and had not been heard from since, to the time of their discovery.

In witness whereof, the said Coroner and Jurors to this inquisition have set their hands and seals, the day and year aforesaid.

Lewis Bass, L. S. Coroner.
Ibrahim Bartlett, L. S. Foreman.
Nathaniel White, L. S.
Whitcomb Porter, L. S.
George Nightingale, L. S.
Loyd G. Horton, L. S.
Benjamin Bass, L. S.

The following is what was found written upon the papers referred to above. The first with ink—in a fine delicate hand; the other with a pencil—both bearing evident marks of being the production of a female.

No. 1.—those written in ink.

To the oppressed and down trodden to those who are bound even to the grave with grief, to the suffering and afflicted, I would say, fear not, but follow truth; tread boldly where it leads, and with philothropic calm and majestic bearing, go on through the seemingly mysterious process of death. Truth still guides with light revealing to the awakening, and more interior senses, a habitation of harmony and blessedness."

"Death is only an event, only a circumstance in the eternal life and experience of the human soul."

"Death is simply a birth into a new and more perfect state of existance."

"Know that all will yet be well."

"Never be depressed, but be cheerful—be joyful—be exceeding glad—even though death be knocking at your door—for there is nothing to hate, to shun, to fear, or to deplore in any department of Nature, or in the wide sanctuary of the Living Divine mind."

No. 2—Those written with a pencil.

History of the "Spiritual Manifestations," which it was our happiness to witness. New York, Oct. 23d, 1850. We entered across East river to Williamsburgh on the purpose of calling on Mr. Wm. Fishbough, a gentleman with whom we are acquainted through his writings; but whom we never had the honor of a personal acquaintance. We were ushered into the parlor, where we had the pleasure of seeing our friend and two other gentlemen, whom we were presently made acquainted with through the politeness of our host, who gave their names as Mr. Summerfield, of —— and Mr. Hatch, of Rochester. Almost immediately after Jno. had explained the object of his visit; i. e. to enjoy the privilege of conversing with an intellectual advocate of the harmonical Philosophy, &c, and stating that he had availed himself of whatever means were within his reach, of obtaining a knowledge of the sublime truths, which are presented to the enquiring mind, by the stupendous system of spiritual Philosophy, revealed to our world within the last few years by A. J. Davis the clairvoyant, and the latter manifestations of spirits in a higher sphere, and added that he often meditated on it etc., Mr. S. seizing the opportunity of a short period of silence remarked that, as John was speaking, he had received a responsive spiritual manifestation, corrobating what he, (John) had said; this was the information that we received of the fact that spirits were in the room, and thus manifesting themselves to the senses of our brothers. We were informed by Mr. F., that they had for some short period of time previous to our coming. With a soul, expressive feeling of holy joy, we hailed their hallowed presence. Soon after, in compliance with the request of all in the room, they further manifested themselves to us, by means of sounds apparently like the dropping of water, upon an oil cloth, near the stove; upon which however, no person was setting. The said sound was audible to all present. The spirits also made manifestations on the person of each individual in the form of electrical and breathing sensations—on Mr. F., and Mrs. S., these were accompanied by touches—and a variety of other feelings incomprehensible to us; because by our inexperience. John asked if his guardian angels were present? Answer by four raps. Question, were any of them females? Answer by two raps; (which corresponded to the whole given number,) Were the male spirits relatives? rap, (affirmative.) Were they his Uncles? No answer, (which implies a negative response,) His brothers? rap, Jus. was now requested by Mr. F., to call over a number of names, in which to include the name of his deceased brother in such he had any. Will the spirits respond to the proper names of the brothers on the persons of Mr. F. and S. Answer rap. He now proceeed to call over a list of about a dozen names at random, when he paused, Mr S., declared that he experienced a reponsive manifestation at the name of Peter, Mr F. likewise at Adam they now looked at Jus, who had the satisfaction of informing them that they were correct. He now asked if "they were happy," loud rap—if "he would be happier with them than he was at present?" Answer manifestation Mr S., by rap. Several other questions of the same class were asked, and answered. I however could not obtain very satisfactory replies, to my questions, except two or three through Mr. F., and Mr. S., such as, would they soon manifes to me? rap. Would I eventually become a good medium? rap. (after some questions about mesmerism,) Question by S., Would the spirits eventually magnatise him (myself) without human aid? rap. I should here remark that when the interrogations are not precisely satisfied as to the correctness of proper applications, of the responses, they make it an invariable rule to nod at the querry, until they fully comprehend the meaning of the reply. By this means it is not easy to deceive the investigators for any length of time, even were the operation effected by observation, as was the case in the instance of Mr. Hatch, on this occasion. This individual, who was a sceptic, would'nt believe if he knew it to be true. Clap committed the ungentlemanly trick of trying to produce false responses, for the purpose of deceiving the more cincere investigators, but was almost instantly detected by John's reversoing the situation, and Mr S. who promptly admonished it to all. He was so confounded that he could not deny it, but said something about his chair. He was silent during the remainder of the interview, as Mr S., had an engagement elsewhere, which terminated in about half an hour, during which time a saw manifestations were experienced by Mr E. and S., but not as freely as before, thought to be our slight mental disturbance, in consequence of H's conduct. Mr F., took his leave and Mr S. went with him, Jno. and I remained till evening; spending the time very pleasantly and for two or three hours, engaged the pleasure of the company of a Mr. Coyler of Brooklin; a young and very intelligent gentleman of congenial opinions in regard to the harmonial Philosophy. Towards evening Mr. F, obtained few responsive manifestation in answer to some questions he asked about me. Nothing however very reliable. G. S.

The following was found written on slips of paper in a different hand writeing apparently that of a man's.

The book of Nature page 665. A magnificent illustration—the book of Nature.

Life of Jesus page 565. Also a preception of coming persecution to reformers on account of their elevated views of Religion, etc.,

The order of the heavenly spheres, see page 667.

Also written on the back of card. La Roy Sunderland No. 138 1-2 Washington St. Boston Residence No. 9 Salem St. Charlestown, Mass.

In Green's hat was found the makers name, which were Camp & Hazeltine No. 185 Main St. below fifth, Cincinnati, Ohio. From which circumstance, it may be they came from those parts.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

Mr. Green.—Education, it will be admitted by all reasonable men, is the greatest temporal blessing we can bestow upon our children—and an intellectual community is the best guarantee that can be projected for the continuance of our civil institutions, and those countless blessings which flow from them; for the security of our political rights notwithstanding our contention about minor things, and the permanency of rational liberty and happiness.

These are truisms which will not be disputed, and from such premises does it not follow, that the more exalted the character of the education is, the nobler will be its results;—your correspondent Sylon seems to admit it thus by proposing to raise the standard of education, in the schools, as now constitutes; although he does not point out clearly the mode of doing it, which is the only difficulty that deserves consideration, because of our grammer schools can be elevated to high schools, without contracting the knowlepge they now impart to the pupils, none will object to it; as it will in part create four high schools instead of one—and that is more than the most zealous advocate of a high school has contended for—let us understand the manner in which it can be accomplished, that we may all aid in carrying it into effect. The plan is, if we understand it, to raise the standard of education in the common schools by ingrafting on them the studies taught in high schools, without neglecting or discontinuing the branches now taught in them, and without increasing the expenses of the school system—we do say, in all sincerety, that the man who can invent a mode by which this can be accomplished would rank a genius with Fulton and Watts, and the biggest granite pillar our quarries can yield should be chissel'd out to preserve his memory.

The truth is the thing is impracticable it is one of those ideal things to be classed with the perpetual motion and the art of flying—these is nothing taught at our schools but what is necessary and of course there is nothing that should be omitted—there is no gradation in education as in most other things—the elementary principles must first be learned, before an advance is made to what is higher or more difficult to be understood, and their must be schools where those elements can be learned—it is the law of progress, when the learner has master'd one degree in intruction he advances to the next—when he has learned all our present schools teach, let a high school be ready to receive him and advance him still farther in intellectual improvement, guided by the light that science has shed abroad among us.

Your correspondent has not forgotton, in allusion to a high school, the catch word aristocracy, these are certain terms which have such a magical influence, they can be used instead of arguments and by which popular prejudice can be secured better than can be done by reasoning like clap traps at a theatre, they created sympathy without conviction and earn applause without the labor of investigation.

It is not easy to understand how a high school is aristocratic, the object of such a school is to enable the poor boy to get as good an education as the rich one and if this is not republican we do not know what the word means—republicanism is equality of priviledge, the very end aimed at by the establishment of a high school—the rich have the means of purchasing an education for their children, the poor have not, will not therefore the establishment of a high school benefit the poor man more than the rich one.

Will it be said the children of the poor do not desire so high a grade of education, we reply to such aristocratic assertion, that experience contradicts it—the most eminent men have arisen from humble stations, numerous instances can be adduced of the fact, genius is confined to no station in life, and it often receives its impulse in the walks of poverty than in the lap of luxury, the first inspires exertion and activity, the latter is apt to enervate, as it lacks the stimulus of relying solely upon his own energies.

But will one high school be sufficient to supply the wants of all who may desire to avail themselves of its advantages? the experience of other plans has settled the point affirmatively—all do not desire the higher grade of education, as may be observed in our common schools, where all pupils do not reach the highest point of instruction, that may be attained there, simply because they do not aspire to it, and will not make the effort necessary to gain it—there are classes of minds to be attended to, one class is stupified with obtaining the first elements of knowledge, and are too inert to aspire to anything more—another class rises higher but is satisfied with a moderate elevation—another class goes by all that is taught and still hungers for more, the energies of his mind are vigorous, and he is ambitious to drink deeper at the fountain of knowledge, and to become acquainted with the principles of practical science—this class is confined neither to the rich nor the poor, the intellect is the gift of the Creator, and they who possess it, in our free and prosperous land, should have an opportunity to cultivate it—a high school presents one of the means that will enable them to do it, and although this class of minds is smaller than others, it is equally useful as its acquirements enrich society by promoting the means of enjoyment and security.

Another difficulty in relation to a high school is its location, it will be nearer to some families than it will be to others, the same objection exists against public buildings, but shall we therefore dispense with them? the rule should be to place them where they will accomodate the greatest number—the same objection existed against all schools when first established, did our fathers say they would have no education unless the school houses were placed on wheels and carried to every man's door—the good of the community is paramount to individual convenience, and should be thus looked upon by every patriotic citizen.

Another objection to a high school, is the cost of it. It has grown into a maxim with wise men, that judicious expenditure is true economy, and thus is verified by every days experience, the money that is expended in educating our youth is a better investment then it would be in public stock and monied institutions—knowledge is power,—and what has given value and character to our State but its early attention to the means of education, combined with industry and enterprise; in a pecuniary view its gain has been great, and in a moral view, which cannot well be seperated from it, the value is inestimable.

Are these not sufficient inducements to establish a high school in this town? If enough has not already been presented let us remember the laws of the Commonwealth require it of us—shall we as a community live in open violation of the law; with what justice can we exact obedience to the law from others while we are law breakers ourselves and that too in a corporate capacity, more reprehensible because more conspicuous than other transgressors, the welfare of the town, its prosperity by elevating its character, to pecuniary ability, by inviting the location of wealthy men among us will be advanced by establishing a high school, and above all we shall escape the odium of being longer ranked among the nullifying towns of the Commonwealth.

Hancock.

CONGRESS.

Saturday Feb 8th.

Senate.—Resumed the consideration of the question of privilege as to Mr. Winthop's right to retain his seat.

Mr. Mason addressed the Senate, taking ground that Senators appointed by Governors had a right to their seats until their successors appeared.

Mr. Baldwin entertained similar views.

Mr. Hale said that nothing was before the Senate. Rantoul was not present, and Winthrop had gone. Nobody claims the seat, and the Senate was engaged in discussing an abstract axiom of law.

Monday, Feb 10th.

In Senate. Mr. Hale presented petitions signed by several thousand citizens of Massachusetts, praying for the repeal of the fugitive slave law Laid on the table,

Tuesday Feb 11th.

Mr. Seward offered a resolution directing an inquiry into the propriety of reducing the standand weight of silver com—adopted.

The bill granting 10,000,000 acres of land to various States of the Union for the benefit of indigent insane, was taken up, debated and ordered to be engrossed. Adjourned.

Wednesday Feb 12th.

Communications were read from the War Department, enclosing copies of the army register, and proceedings of the Court Martial held at Little Rock upon the military store keeper.

The bill granting ten millions acres of land for the relief of indigent insane passed—yeas 95, nays 16.

Saturday, Feb 8th.

House. Mr. Newell asked, but did not obtain, leave to introduce a resolution instructing the Committee on Agriculture to inquire into the expediency of establishing an agricultural bureau; also, into the expediency of purchasing the Mount Vernon estate for an agricultural school or model farm.

Monday Feb 10th.

Another effort will be made during the present week to modify the tariff, as an amendment to Mr. Hunter's bill. There does not appear to be much disposition to do New England justice. The general features of the amendment will not vary much from those offered by Mr. Strong.

The most valuable item of government printing was obtained by Mr. Rives, by an under-bid on the work. It was for printing the census.

Tuesday, Feb 11th.

In the House, Mr. Evans asked leave to introduce a bill to repeal so much of the act of last year as appropriates $100,000 for the extension of the Capitol. Objected to.

The Speaker announced the pending business to be on the seconding a demand for the previous question on the substitute for the bill to establish a board of accounts. The substitute.

An appeal is allowed to the Supreme Court of the United States; an amount of judgment when against the United States not exseeding $500 to be paid out of the Treasury—over that amount to be submitted to Congress. The act to be in force 4 years. Objected to.

Wednesday Feb 12th.

A joint resolution to relieve William Bent from a contract, thereby relieving Ritchie, and to allow one half price, which was allowed by the joint resolution of 1819 for Congressional printing, was read twice.

Mr. Cobb warmly opposed the resolution contending that it did not appear that Ritchie had lost anything, but had made money by departing from his contract.

MASSACHUSETTS LEGISLATURE.

Saturday, Feb 8th

Senate. There was no business of importance transacted in either house to-day.

After the message announcing the death of Mr. Spencer, of the other House—the senate adjourned.

Monday Feb 10th.

On a motion of Mr. Russell, the same committee was directed to inquire whether any further legislation is desirable in relation to the solemnization of marriages among persons belonging to the denomination of Jews.

Tuesday Feb 11th.

The bill to change the name of the Dorchester and Milton Bank was re-committed to the Committee on Banks and Banking.

Thursday Feb 13th.

Various petitions, among which one from the Boston Wharf Corporation for leave to extend their wharf were presented and referred.

Ordered—On motion of Mr. Kimball, that the Committee on Agriculture enquire into the expediency of re-enacting a law passed in 1838, and repealed in 1839, encouraging the cultivation of Wheat.

Saturday, Feb 8th.

House, Mr. Putnam of Boston announced the death of Mr. John Spence, Jr.—a member from Boston,—and thereupon the customary resolutions were adopted, and the House adjourned.

Monday, Feb 10th.

A bill was reported to continue the charters of the Atlantic Massachusetts, and Attleboro' Banks till 1870.

Tuesday, Feb 11th.

The orders of the day were then taken up, and the vote accepting the election committee's report in the Plympton case, by which Mr. Nye was unseated, was reconsidered.

Wednesday, Feb 12th.

It being one of the interesting days, the attendance both of members and spectators was unusually large at the opening hour.

The morning business was of little consequence.

At twelve o'clock the House proceeded to ballot for a United States Senator.

The balloting occupied an hour. The result was as follows: Whole number 382. Necessary to a choice 192. Charles Sumner 183. Robert C. Winthrop 169. Scattering 30. Blank (not counted) 1.

And there was no choice.

The election was then postponed till a fortnight from to-day.

these not sufficient inducements to establish school in this town? If enough has not al-been presented let us remember the laws of mmonwealth require it of us---shall we as a unity live in open violation of the law; with stice can we exact obedience to the law thers while we are law breakers ourselves t too in a corporate capacity, more reprele because more conspicuous than other ressors, the welfare of the town, its prosper-elevating its character, to pecuniary ability, ting the location of wealthy men among us advanced by establishing a high school, and ll we shall escape the odium of being longer among the nullifying towns of the Common-

HANCOCK.

CONGRESS.

Saturday Feb 8th.

TE.—Resumed the consideration of the n of privilege as to Mr. Winthop's right to his seat.
Mason addressed the Senate, taking ground ntors appointed by Governors had a right seats until their successors appeared.
Baldwin entertained similar views.
Hale said that nothing was before the Senate.
l was not present, and Winthrop had gone.
y claims the seat, and the Senate was en-n discussing an abstract axiom of law.

Monday, Feb 10th

ENATE. Mr. Hale presented petitions signed eral thousand citizens of Massachusetts, pray-the repeal of the fugitive slave law Laid on ble,

Tuesday Feb 11th.

Seward offered a resolution directing an inuto the propriety of reducing the standard of silver com---adopted.
bill granting 10 000,000 acres of land to vatates of the Union for the benefit of indi-sane, was taken up, debated and ordered to rossed. Adjourned.

Wednesday Feb 12th.

mmunications were read from the War Departnclosing copies of the army register, and lings of the Court Martial held at Little Rock e military store keeper.
bill granting ten millions acres of land for ief of indigent insane passed---yeas 95,

Saturday, Feb 8th.

r. Mr. Newell asked, but did not obtain,
o introduce a resolution instructing the Comon Agriculture inquire into the expediency ablishing an agricultural bureau; also, into pediency of purchasing the Mount Vernon for an agricultural school or model farm.

Monday Feb 10th.

ther effort will be made during the week to modify the tariff, as an amendment Hunter's bill. There does not appear to be disposition to do New England justice. The features of the amendment will not vary rom those offered by Mr. Strong.
most valuable item of government printing aimed by Mr. Rives, by an under-bid on the
It was for printing the census.

Tuesday, Feb 11th.

e House, Mr. Evans asked leave to intro-bill to repeal so much of the act of last year propriates $100,000 for the extension of the Objected to.
Speaker announced the pending business to e seconding a demand for the previous on the substitute for the bill to establish of accounts. The substitute.
peal is allowed to the Supreme Court of ed States; an amount of judgment when the United States not exceeding $500 to be t of the Treasury---over that amount to be d to Congress. The act to be in force
Objected to.

Wednesday Feb. 12th.

nt resolution to relieve William Bent from ect, thereby relieving Ritchie, and to allow f price, which was allowed by the joint on of 1813 for Congressional printing, was ce.
Cobb warmly opposed the resolution conthat it did not appear that Ritchie had lost e, but had made money by departing from ract.

ASSACHUSETTS LEGISLATURE.

Saturday, Feb 8th

TE. There was no business of importance ed in either house to-day.
the message announcing the death of Mr.
r, of the other House---the senate add.

Monday Feb 10th.

motion of Mr. Russell, the same committee ected to inquire whether any further legisla-desirable in relation to the solemnization of es among persons belonging to the denom-of Jews.

Tuesday Feb 11th.

Bill to change the name of the Dorchester ton Bank was re-committed to the Commit-Banks and Banking.

Thursday Feb 13th.

ous petitions, among which one from the Wharf Corporation for leave to extend their were presented and referred red---On motion of Mr. Kimball, that the ttee on Agriculture enquire into the expeof re-enacting a law passed in 1838, and rein 1839, encouraging the cultivation of

Saturday, Feb 8th.

e, Mr. Putnam of Boston announced the f Mr. John Spence, Jr.,---a member from ---and thereupon the customary resolutions opted, and the House adjourned.

Monday, Feb 10th.

l was reported to continue the charters of antic Massachusetts, and Attleboro' Banks
).

Tuesday, Feb 11th.

orders of the day were then taken up, and accepting the election committee's report Plympton case, by which Mr. Nye was un-was reconsidered.

Wednesday, Feb 12th.

ng one of the interesting days, the attenboth of members and spectators was unusu-ge at the opening hour.
morning business was of little consequence.
welve o'clock the House proceeded to ballot
nited States Senator.
balloting occupied an hour. The result was ows: Whole number 382. Necessary to a
192. Charles Sumner 183. Robert C. Win-
69. Scattering 30. Blank (not counted) 1.
there was no choice.
election was then postponed till a fortnight
-day.

Arrival of the EMPIRE CITY!!

With one Million in Gold!

TWO WEEKS LATER

FROM CALLIFORNIA!!

NEW YORK, Feb 7. The Empire City Capt Wilson, from Chagres via Kingston, Jam, with 210 passengers for New York, and $759,000 in specie on freight, and $250,000 to 300,000 in the hands of passengers, arrived at 3 o'clock, P. M., bringing the mails.

She left Ghagres Jan 27th, and Kingston 21st.

Feb 2d, Jacob Carpenter, of Haverhall, Mass., a steerage passenger, was found dead in his bearth supposed from the fatigue of travelling and the effects of a fall.

FROM THE ISTHMUS. There is no news from the Isthmus. Gorgona was partially destroyed by fire on the night of January 25th—loss not ascertained. It is supposed there were about eighty houses burned.

CALIFORNIA MATTERS. The question of the election of United States Senator in place of Fremont, will be a subject of no little interest and excitement. Already a large number of candidates are in the field, and the uncertainty regarding the political complexion of the legislature, gives additional interest to the contest.

The people of California are looking, with much interest, to the action of the present Congress, in hope that such acts will meet with prompt disposal as shall relieve the State from embarrassment, and put her in the road to prosperity.

The weather for the past two or three weeks has been lovely in the extreme; scarce a cloud has obscured the sun for that entire period, and its rays have poured down warm and cheering. What portion of the old States can boast such weather as we are now enjoying in midwinter.

The health of the city, and of California generally, is good. The cholera has entirely disappeared Business shows on great activity; in fact it is rather dull, and prices not very encouraging to shippers.

The mines are at present yielding less profitably than during last season, but it is a matter of doubt whether the yield of next year will not equal that of the past. The quartz gold will be mined with a great deal of energy during the coming spring with steam, profits will undoubtedly be very large. The Indians in the Mariposa country have commenced depredations, and all efforts to pacify them have proved unavailing.

There is in town and country a much greater amount of crime against property and life than heretofore, and no doubt is entertained that there exists an organized band, mostly composed, probably, of convicts from the British colonies.

Considerable aprehension is entertained for the safety of steamer Panama, which left Panama for this port on the 4th of December, and has not since been heard of. The Constitution and Northerner have since arrived, but bring no tidings of her.

The New England Society of San Francisco celebrated the landing of the Pilgrims on Plymouth Rock, by appropriate services. Eloquent and humorous speeches were made, and the entertainment altogether was one of the most social that ever took place in California.

The amount of gold dust taken by the Carolina from San Francisco was $800 000; and by the Columbus $516,000. The passengers also took a large amount.

The Pacific News says; We learn by a recent arrival from down the coast, that the greatest scarcity prevails among all the inhabitants between San Diego and Monterey. Not only are all sorts of clothing and dry goods needed, but provisions of every kind and the common necessaries of life. The same remark has been made respecting southern Oregon.

George W. Crumay, one of the partners of Winter's Hotel, at Coloma, had absconded with $25,000.

The miners in the Nevada diggings are said to be doing very well. The mines are said to bowell supplied, with provisions and supplies generally which are for sale at very reasonable rates. The rains have held off so remarkably that all who started with goods for the mines had ample opportunity to complete the transit. It was vastly different last season, when early and abundant and continued rain prevented many from reaching the mines at all after making half the journey.

It is said that about thirty miles above Marysville there are large quantities of snow. While rain has fallen in the valleys snow has fallen upon the footholds of the mountains.

The health of the Sacramento was never better.

A miner in the diggings near Ophir, Sutter County, picked up a lump of gold worth $10,000. New discoveries of gold diggings have recently been made in the North Fork of Feather River, which are represented as of a very rich character.

DEATHS. On board ship Mary Adams. Mrs. Thankful, of Barnstable.

On board steamer Northerner, Capt J. R. Baker and wife, of Chagres fever.

At Stockton, 22d. Wm W. Spaulding, of Hallowell, Me; 29th, Jas J. Smith, of Con; 26th Jas J. Mansfield, of Mass.

ARRIVAL OF THE GEORGIA

With the California Mails Gold Dust, &c., &c.,

The Georgia brings 335 passengers and $1000, 000 gold dust in freight and 700,000 in hands of passengers.

Her dates from Havana are to the 3d inst. Much complaint was made at not allowing steamers to enter or leave the harbor after sunset.

Maj Hobbie was still at Havana and would remain until the return of the Georgia before succeeding to Panama It is said that he has made arrangements for conveyance of the mails from the United States for the West India Islands by way of Havana. His health was much improved.

FROM OREGON. Later advices from Oregon have been received.

The people were planning for a Railroad to connect Willamette Valley with the Columbia River.

The Oregonian contains the message of Governor Gaines to the Territorial Legislature. He advocates a liberal policy on the part of land to actual settlers, and urges the immediate construction of roads at the public expense. The Governor advocates a liberal system of education and asks the passage of a law for the protection of the Indian tribes.

The general governmet has appointed a Board of Commissioners to treat with the Indians for the relinquishment of the right to the soil.

The territory is represented as being in a very prosperous condition.

FROM NICARAGUA.

DISCOVERY OF GOLD.

BRITISH USURPATION—CHATFIELD'S MOVEMENTS.

A rich placer of gold has been discovered at the distance of eight miles from Realeio, and one from Chinandega, in opening the National Road between the two placer is sufficiently rich to excite the highest hopes as to the result. On the discovery being announced, the Alcade made a personal examination, associating with him M Mercher, a French gentleman of science. They tested earth taken from three different points, with such satisfactory results as to leave no doubt that this is much the richest placer in Central America. One man, it was stated who had been working two days, obtained from two to three ounces each day.

The blockade of the ports of San Salvador, and other outrages, the news of which has just reached us, is of a piece with Mr. Chatfield's previous course. The blockade has been continued against all but British vessels.

Letters from the port of La Brea, in Honduras, also announce that the British commander had threatened that State with blockade, if any powder was disembarked at that port.

But the crowning piece of assumption on Mr. Chatfield's part is a letter, in which he coolly takes the responsibility of settling the boundaries between Honduras, Nicaragua, and the phantom "Kingdom of Mosquito Nation," (consisting of a silly "Sambo" and his sister,) a territory equal the three States of Nicaragua, San Salvador, and Honduras.

FROM THE SOUTH PACIFIC. Great Earthquake and Volcanic Erruption in Chili.—Firat Valparuiso—Proposed Line of Amexiean Steamers.

On the 6th December there was a shock of an enthquake which lasted from fifteen to twenty seconds. It was the severest shock that had been experienced in Chili for many years. The Neighbor says—

The earthquake was stronger at Satiago than it was at Valparaiso. None equal to it has been felt there during the last fifteen years. It lasted sixty seconds. The dwelling houses were much injured

The volcano of Portillo broke out in an eruption on the 5th of December, the day previous to the earthquaks.

CHILI—On Sunday the 22d, a fire broke out in Valparaiso, on the Calle del Cabo, which soon raged on borth sides of the street and destroyed a large number of wooden buildings principally owned by Joshua Wadding, and occupied by small shop keepers. The probable loss by the fire is $250.000—for most of which the underwriters had to pay.

A memorial to the Congress of the United States comes up by this steamer, signed by this steamer signed by the merchants and residents of Valparaiso, asking the establishment of a mail steam packet communication between that port and Panama, in connection with the mail hence to New York.

FROM MEXICO. Eleven days later news from Mexico has been recived. The federal legislature was opened on the first, when President Herera delivered his farwell address. He says amicable relations with all foreign countries have been maintained and order and tranquility reigned in the interior. He recommends Congress to devise means of giving greater stability to the general Government in its relations with states. On the subject of colonization he suggests that individuals, be encouraged to settle by liberal grants to them but not to admit foreigners in a body.

ITEMS.—Kossuth is coming to America.—The Gomer Poliski announces that the affair of the Hungarian refugees has been finally arranged. America has offered them an asylum which they have accepted, and has undertaken to provide for their wants; the Ottoman government pays their expenses to Liverpool, and the English government their expenses thence to America.

INDIVIDUAL ENTERPRISE. A trsder named Mr, Zacharia, five months ago, took a small store, 6 feet by 10 situated on the levee, and invested $50 in clothing. Since that time he has turned over $215, 000, has enlarged his house of business and is now on his way to the States to bring his family to Stockton.

Dr. Raphal, a distinguished Jew of Birmingham, thus states the opinion which the Jews have of Christ: : "While I and the Jews of the present day protest against being identified with the zealots who were concerned in the proceedings against Jesus of Nazareth, we are far from reviling his character or deriding his precepts of Moses and the prophets. You have heard me call him 'The Great Teacher of Nazareth,' for that designation I and the Jews take to be his due."

A WOMAN'S WILL. It has been stated with some truth, that the genius of Women lies in writing letters. Here is a queer specimen in evidence. It seems that the Bishop of Ely had promised Queen Elizabeth to exchange some part of the land belonging to his See for an equivalent, but hesitating about it, she wrote him this letter;—

Proud Prelate:—I understand you are backward In complying with your agreement, but I would have you to know that I, who made you what you are, can unmake; and if you do not forthwith fulfil your engagement, by God! I will immediately unfrock you. Yours, as you demean yourself,

ELIZABETH.

FAGTS IN BRIEF. Out of every thousand men twenty of them die annually. The number of old men who die in cold weather, as seven to four. The men able to bear arms form a fourth of the inhabitants of country The proportion between the deaths of women and that of men is 100 to 108. The probable duration of female life is sixty; but after that period the calculation is more favorable to them than men. One half of thouse who are born die before they attain the age of seven. Among 3125 who die, it appears by the register that there is only one person of one hundred years of age. More old men are found in elevated situations than in valleys and plains.

THE GLASS PALACE.—The fee now charged for admission to the mammoth glass edifice in Hyde Park, is ten shillings, (about $2,50) and when finished it will be raised to a guinea, but reduced as the period of the World's Fair advances. The buildding cost less, according to its size, than a common barn

New Bedford is about to send a block of stone to the National Monument, bearing an "appropriate" device. To be appropriate, should be—very like a while

In one of the provinces of China an edict against Christianity has been issued by the Prefect It pronounces Christianity to be illegal, incredible and absurd.

The remains of Paul Jones are to be brought home in the St. Lawrence frigate.

A counterfeiting establishment on a large scale has been broken up at Panama.

Mr. George Clinton Hubbard, editor of the Kanel County Democrat, Ill., was frozen to death on the Prairie about two miles from St Charles, a few days since.

Mr Charles Scott, porter for Wells Butterfield & Co's Express, at Utica, was instantly killed on Saturday evening last, by being thrown from a cutter in which he was riding.

NOTICE

Quincy Lyceum.

WENDELL PHILLIPS, Esq. will deliver the SIXTEENTH LECTURE before this Society the present season, next THURSDAY EVENING, commencing at 7 o'clock.

SUBJECT—THE LOST ARTS.

H. O. WHITNEY, Secretary.

"Union Board" Meeting.

A Meeting of the "UNION BOARD" will be held at the house of E. N FIELD, on THURSDAY Evening next, at 7 o'clock.

A full attendance is desirable, as business of importance is to be transacted.

JAMES M. WADE, Secretary.

MARRIED

In Quiny, on the 5th inst, by the Rev. Dr. Lunt, Edwin W. Marsh, to Miss Ann Jane Bailey, all of this town.

DIED

In South Buston, on the 9th inst, Mrs Penelope wife of Mr Charles Gleason, aged 27 years; formerly of this place,

In Charlestown, Feb. 8th, Mrs. Hannah Roulstone aged 55 years.

Magazines.

LADY'S BOOK, GRAHAM'S, SARTAN'S, PETERSONS HARPER'S

And other Magazines:

LIVING AGE, BLACKWOOD, NORTH AMERICAN.

And other Reviews:

CHRISTIAN EXAMINER, MONTHLY RELIGIOUS MAGAUZINE, UNIVERSALIST QUARTERLY, MERRY'S MUSEUM, GOLDEN AGE,

And many others:

For which Subscriptions will always be received and the Numbers promptly furnished—On:

Single copies sold at the lowest prices, at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Quincy, Feb 15, 1851. 4w

Farm for Sale

TO BE LET, on a Lease, for one or more Years; the FARM known, as the

"MOUNT HOPE FARM:"

Formerly belonging to the late Col Edward Glover; situated on the Squantum Road, in Quincy. Said Farm is located within about six miles of Boston, and has long been improved as a Milk Farm.

The buildings are in good repair and pleasantly located.

For further information please enquire of the Subscriber, Railway Village, Milton.

EBENEZER POPE.

Milton, Feb 15, 1851. 6w*

Notice.

THE Subscribnr returns his thanks to his friends and the public generally who have favored him with their custom—and would say to those who are purchasing goods, that he intends keeping a good

Assortment of

WEST INDIA GOODS AND GROCERIES:

OF ALL KINDS—Also,

BEEF, PORK, BACON, LARD, & POTATOES:

—AND—

FLOUR:

Of various kinds—by the Barrel or Bag—as low as can be bought for Cash or Credit.

N. B. And delivered as usual.

GEORGE M. LOCKE.

Quincy, Feb, 15, 1851.

Boot Makers's Shop to Let

ON Washington street; a few rods from the Old Colony Depot. The Shop is pleasantly situated and well lighted! It is suitable for carrying on the business, and will comfortably seat eight or ten persons. It will be let to one person, or by the single seat.

N B A limited number can be accommodated with board.

For information, enquire on the premises of

G. W. KENISON.

Quincy, Feb. 15, 1851.

Notice.

ALL Persons accounts remaining unsettled to Jan. 1st., 1851, are requested to call and settle, on, or before the 1st, of March next: or they will be left in the hands of an attorney for collection.

J. RUSSELL.

Quincy. Feb. 15, 1851.

Notice.

EXAMINATION OF SCHOOLS.

THE Annual Examinations of the Schools will be made in the following order:—

MONDAY, Feb 10—1 1-2 P. M., East Dis School.
TUESDAY " 11—9 A. M., Point Dis. Primary and Intermediate Schools.
TUESDAY, Feb. 11—1 1-2 P. M. Point Dis. Grammar School.
WEDNESDAY, Feb. 12—9 A. M., West Dis Primary School.
WEDNESDAY, Feb. 12—1 1-2 P. M. West Dis, Grammar School.
MONDAY, Feb. 17—9 A. M. South Dis. Primary School
TUESDAY Feb 18—9 A M, North Dis School
" " 18—1 1-2 P M, South Dis Intermediate School
WEDNESDAY, Feb 19—9 A M West Dis. Intermediate School
WEDNESDAY, Feb 19—1 1-2 P M Centre Dis Intermediate School
THURSDAY, Feb 20—9 A M, Centre Dis. Primary School
THURSDAY, Feb 20—1 1-2 P M Centre Dis Grammar School
FRIDAY, Feb 21—9 A. M, South Dis Grammar School

The School Committee earnestly invites the attendance of parents and friends of education

GEORGE WHITE, Sec'y School Committee

Quincy, Feb 8; 1851 2w

By reference to the Legislative proceedings in another column, it will be seen that another effort was made by the concentrated wisdom of the Lower House to elect a U S Senator. The coalition party do not appear to have done so well as they have on former occasions. The Whigs maintain their ground and appear to enjoy the sport vastly; consuling themselves with the idea, "that it is an ill wind that blows nobody any good." Try again, gentlemen, "a better time is coming."

We are indebted to Coroner Bass for what appears in another column, in relation to the late unhappy suicide. Mr B. has spared no pains in collecting all the particulars in relation to this sad affair and laying them before the public. We hope his request to those who may have any information to offer will be the means of unravelling the mystery which drove them to commit the untimely deed, and restore their remains to their famly or friends.

The Firemen's Ball which come off last night was a brilliant affair. The supper, by "mine host," of the Hancock House, was in Mr. French's best style—of which we can bear ample testimony.

W B. Learned

HAVING taken the Store formerly occupied by E C. Redfern, and recently by D. R Adams, takes this method of informing his friends and the public that he has just received and is now opening a well selected stock of

WATCHES

JEWELRY

—AND—

Fancy Goods.

Suitable for Christmas and New Year's Presents.

Persons wishing any thing in his line are invited to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

☞ Particular attention given to the REPAIRING of Watches and Jewelry.

Hancock Street, Quincy, Dec. 21, 1850. tf

For Sale.

THE late residence of the REV. WM ALLEN, near the Episcopal Church in Quincy Apply to THOMAS B HAWKES, No. 10 Exchange Street, Boston.

West Woodstock, Conn. Sept. 7th, 1850. 3m

For Sale, or To Let.

A new and convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated, on Common Street, with a barn and about one acre of Land with Fruit Trees thereon, to be leased or sold. Apply to

SAMUEL COPELAND.

Quincy, Nov 9th. tf.

To Let.

A Convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated on Common Street, recently occupied by the Widow Driver, with about three acres of good Land, with several fruit trees; an excellent well of water, and a small Barn. Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND.

Quincy, Aug. 10. tf

House for Sale

FOR Sale a new and convenient dwelling House; one and a half stories high; pleasantly situated on Common street; and an acre of land, with a young orchard of Apple, Cherry and Peach trees, thereon Said property is pleasantly situated, and will be sold on reasonable terms, by application to.

MICHAEL GIRETY, Adams street.

Quincy, Jan. 18, 1851. 2m.

Messenger's Notice

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, S. S.

JANUARY, 30, 1851.

FRANCIS HILLIARD, Esq. Commissioner of insolvency in and for the said County of Norfolk, has issued a Warrant against the Estate of

BENJAMIN NEWCOMB,

of Braintree, in said County, Teamster, an Insolvent Debtor, and the paymont of any Debts and the delivery of any Property, belonging to said Incolvent Debtor, to him or for his use, and the transfer of any Property, by him are fobidden by law.

A meeting of his Creditors will be held at a Court of Insolvency, at the Commissioner's Office, in Roxbury, in said County, on the seventeenth day of February next, at ten o'clock, in the forenoon, for the proof of Debts, and the choice of an Assignee or Assignees.

SILAS BINNEY, Deputy Sheriff, Messenger.

Braintree, Feb, 1st. 1851. 3w*

Old Colony Railroad.

Depot Corner of South and Kneeland Streets

FALL Arrangement, commencing September 10, 1850 Trains leave Boston daily, except Sundays—

For Plymouth, 8 1-2 A. M.; 4 1-2, P. M.
For Bridgewater, 8 1-2 A. M; 4 1-2 P. M.
For Quincy and Braintree, 7 3-4, 8 1-2 A. M.; 1 3-4, 3 4, 4 1-2, 9 1-4 P. M.
For Hingham and Cohasset, 8 1-2 A. M; 3, 6 P M.
For Milton, U. M., 9 3-4 A. M.; 1, 2 3-4, 5 1-2, P. M.
Plymouth for Boston, 7 1-4 A. M; 3 1-4 P. M.
Bridgewater for Boston and Plymouth, 7 1-2 A. M.: 3 1-2 P M.
Cohasset for Boston, 6 3-4, 8, A. M.; 4 P M.
Milton U M for Boston, 8, 10 1-2 A. M.; 1 3-4, 4 3-4, P M.
Braintree for Boston, 7.18, 8 1-2, 8 40, 11 04, A. M. 2 48, 4—2, 5 13, P. M.

☞ The 5 P. M. Train from Boston for Plymouth, will not stop short of South Braintree

JOS. H. MOORE, Sup't.

Boston, July 25. tf

Trains leave Quincy for Boston as follows:—

7 24, 8 38, 8 47, 11 10, A. M.; 2 54, 4 39 5 16 P. M.

Assignee's Sale.

WILL be sold by public auction at the HANCOCK House in Quincy on WEDNESDAY Feb 12th at 3 o'clock P M sundry accounts and notes belonging to the Estates of Nathan Pratt and Nathan Pratt & Co

Per order of the Assignee's

GEORGE H FRENCH Auctioneer

Quincy Feb 8th 1w

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,

COUNSELLOR AT LAW,

WEYMOUTH,

MASS.

Weymouth, Feb. 1, 1851. 6w

Bounty Lands.

CLAIMS for BOUNTY LANDS by Soldiers in the War of 1812—or any Indian War since 1790: their Widows and Minor children, attended to, and Land Warrants obtained, by

FISHER A. KINGSBURY, Weymouth, Mass.

Weymouth, Feb. 1, 1851. 6m

Notice of Settlement.

ALL PERSONS having demands against the TOWN, are requested to present them for payment to the Selectmen, on SATURDAY, the fifteenth, and on MONDAY, the seventeenth, inst, at the Selectmen's Room, in the Town House, from two to five o'clock in the afternoon of each day

ALSO—All persons indebted to the Alms' House, are requested to settle with

EDWARD F. EATON, Superintendant,

on or before the above named time.

JOSEPH W ROBERTSON, GEORGE MARSH, ELIJAH BAXTER } Selectmen of Quincy.

Quincy Feb, 1, 1851. 3w

Chowder!!!

THE Subscriber takes this method to inform the Citizen of Quincy that he has taken the

"FRANKLIN STREET SALOON."

Where may always be found such articles as OYSTERS, PIGS FEET, LAMBS TONGUES, PICKLED CLAMS, and other Refreshments.

Also, CONFECTIONARY, CIGARS, etc.,

CHOWDER, twice a week Wednesday, and Saturday. Open day and Evening.

CHARLES C BRACKETT,

Quincy, Feb 8th tf

Boarders Wanted.

8 or 10 BOARDERS Mechanics prefered wanted by the subscriber at his residence in COTTAGE AVENUE

WILLIAM F DYER

Quincy, Feb 8th tf

VALENTINES!

VALENTINES ENVELOPES, NOTE PAPER, etc., at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Also, a BOX for the delivery of Valentines to any part of the town

Quincy, Feb 8th 2w

JUST received, a good assortment of GENTLEMENS', LADIES and MISSES INDIA RUBBER SHOES

of the best quality, for sale cheap, by

L. W. MUNROE

Quincy, Jan. 11th, 1851. tf

ALL READY

AND NOW OPENING

NEW STYLE FOR FALL AND WINTER TRADE,

JUST RECEIVED AT THE

Town Hall Cloth and Clothing Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD Respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made great additions to their present expensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would particularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect THEIR STOCK before buying elsewhere, feeling confident we can sell BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.

N. B.—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN, ENGLISH and FRENCH and AMERICAN GOODS. Some of the RICHEST VEST PATTERNS, and a HOST OF PANTALOONERY!

BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVERY DESCRIPTION ON HAND,

Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.

HATS, CAPS, &C.

P S—RUSSELL & CO., having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for public and private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of every article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.

—NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.—

Quincy, March 23.

POETRY.

VILLAGE COURTSHIP

BY CHARLES SWAIN

Tapping at the window;
Peeping o'er the blind;—
'Tis really most surprising,
He never learns to mind!
'Twas only yester evening,
As in the dark we sat,
My mother ask'd me sharply
"Pray, Mary, who is that?"
Who's that indeed—you're certain
How much she made me start;
Men seem to lose their wisdom
Whene'er they lose their heart.

Yes—there he is—I see him;
The lamp his shadow throws
Across the curtain'd window;
He's stepping on his toes!
He'll never think of tapping
Or making any din;—
A knock, though e'en the slightest,
Is worte than looking in!
Tap! tap!—would any think it?
He never learns to mind;
'Tis surely most surprising—
He thinks my mother blind!

'Tis plain I must go to him;
It's no use now to cough;—
I'll ope the door just softly,
If but to send him off!
'Tis well if from the door step
He be not shortly hurled!
Oh, man, there ne'er was trouble
'Till he came in the world!
Tapping at the window,
And peeping o'er the blind;
Oh, man, but you're a trouble,
And that we maidens find!

GET UP BEFORE THE SUN.

Get up before the sun, my lads,
Get up before the sun!
This snoozing in a feather bed
Is what should not be done
Between sunrise and breakfast lads,
Rise, breathe the morning air,
'Twill make you look so bright my lads,
'Twill make you look so fair

Get up before the sun my lads;
Shake off your sloth—arouse!
You lose the greatest luxury
That life has, if you drowse;
Between sunrise and breakfast, lads;
Arise, then, do not lose
The key to health and happiness,
By lying in a snooze.

Get up before the sun, my lads,
And in the garden hoe,
Or feed the pigs, or milk the cows,
Or take the scythe and mow;
'Twill give you buoyant spirits, lads,
Give vigor to your frame—
Then rise before the sun my lads,
And these rich blessings claim.

OWE NO MAN.

How happy the man who owes not a pound,
But lays up his fifty every year that comes round,
He fears neither bailiff, sheriff, nor dun,
To bank or to justice has never to run;
His cellar well filled and his pantry well stored,
He lives far more bless'd than a prince or a lord,
Then take my advice, if a fortune you get,
Pay off what you owe and keep out of debt.

ANECDOTES.

A PHILOSOPHER.—A party of belated gentlemen, about a certain hour began to think of home, and their wives displeasure, and urge a departure "Never mind," said one of the guests, "fifteen minutes now will make no difference; my wife is as mad now as she can be."

A LAWYAR'S TOAST.—Belonging, as he said to the profession which had the reputation of being fond of fees, he offered—

Fee simple, and a simple fee,
And all the fees in tail,
Are nothing when compared to thee,
Thou best of fees—FEMALE.

DEGENERACY OF "THE MEN."—Mrs. Partington says, that when she was a gal she used to go to parties, and always had a beau to extort her home. But now, she says, the gals undergo all such declivities; the task of extorting them home revolves on their own selves. The old lady drew down her specs, and thanked her stars that she had lived in other days, when men were more palpable in depreciating the worth of the female sex.

An editor at a dinner table, being asked if he would take some pudding, replied in a fit of abstraction, "Owing to a crowd of other matter, I am unable to find room for it."

A MATRIEONIAL BIRD.—Miss Cooper, in her new work, entitled "Rural Hours, thus commends the matrimonial habits of a species of bird called a "white-breasted nut-hatch":—

This bird has other peculiar habits. He sleeps with his head down, and he is said to have one quality rare among his race; he is a curious little rogue, and seems desirous of observing your own odd ways while you are watching his. Then he is a remarkably good husband, taking a vast deal of pains to feed and amuse his wife, and listening to all her remarks and observations in the most meritorious manner.

The young lady who caught cold by drinking water from a damp tumbler, is convalescent.

How can a man who has no wings, be said to be "winged" in an affair of honor? Because in going to fight a duel he makes a goose of himself.

What are the most unsociable things in the wold?—Milestones—you never see two of them together.

A CARD

J. A. Holden,

Has just received the Fashions for the

FALL AND WINTNR

OF

1850.

He has also received Fashionable Goods of the present and approaching season, among which, are

FRENCH, GERMAN AND AMERICAN

Broadcloths!!!

of various colors and qualities.

A great variety of

PANT GOODS,

together with good styles of

VESTINGS, &C.

He is, therefore, more prepared to make Garments for his customers, which cannot fail to please them.

Quincy. Sept. 14. tf

Pure Cider Vinegar.

BY the gallon or barrel, just received, and for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

1851.

THOMAS' Old Farmers' Almanac, for 1851, for sale wholesale and retail, at the QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Quincy Nov. 2d. 1850. 3w

N. B.

Geo. Savil & Co.,

Dealers in

READY-MADE CLOTHING

OF

EVERY DESCRIPTION,

AT

ROUGH & READY HALL,

WASHINGTON STREET,

Quincy.

—O—

A LARGE ASSORTMENT

Constantly on Hand!!

AND FOR

SALE

At the Very Lowest Prices!!!

Also,

A GOOD SELECTION

OF

GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.

Quincy, Sept. 28. tf

New Goods.

—o—

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.,

HAVE recently made large additions to their Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows:
Moushn Delaine, a good assortment, very low;
Prints and Ginghams in great variety;
Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters
Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors
Wool Yarn, of all colors;
A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and 12 1-2 cts. per yard;
Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other Goods, all of which will be sold at the

VERY LOWEST PRICES.

Quincy, Augut 31 s tf

Let the Public Call.

THE subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, stock of the best material only used, and the workmanship will vie with any other establishment

By attention to business and promptness to orde sr liberal share of support is solicited

RALPH LOWE.

Quincy April 13th.

CASH

PAID FOR

OLD IRON, COPPER, BRASS,

PEWTER, LEAD, GLASS,

Rubbers and Ink Bottles, Junk,

COBDAGE, PAPER STOCK &c.

—BY—

A. B. PACKARD.

Cholera, Dysentery, &c.

MRS. E. HAYDEN offers for sale various articles for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, &c.

Among which are Wiseman's Vegetable Syrup; Java Balsam, (a celebrated East Indian remedy!) Billings's Summer Cordial; Arnold's Balsam: Holden's Dysentery Cordial; Jayne's Carminative Balsam; Anti Cholera Drops: Whitwell's Sulphur and Charcoal Pills. And a variety of other articles, for the same diseases

Quincy, July 20. tf

Judd's Medicated Liquid Cuticle

FOR closing wounds without sewing; forming a smooth coating over them, impervious to air and water, much superior in its healing properties to any other plaster, and so elastic as not to impede the motion of a joint; an excellent remedy also, for Burns, Scalds, or any fresh wounds. Price—25 cents per bottle.

Sold by Mrs E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, August 31 tf

Ladies & Children's Shop Worn

☞.....SHOES.....☜

FOR Sale—at any price you please to give, at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

Quincy, Jan. 25th, 1851. tf

Mrs. . Hayden

GRATEFUL for the patrona she has received for more than twenty Years, offers to her friends and the public an ENLARGED STOCK of the best

FAMILY MEDICINES,

Selected and Prepared with care

—ALSO—

Various articles for the use of the sick, among which are, SPOUT DRINKING CUPS; Leech Glasses; Nursing Tubes, of Porcelain, ivory and silver, with and without bottles; India Rubber Breast Pumps, Glass Pipes and Shells; Pratt's Patent Nursing Shields; India Rubber and Box-Wood do; Bed Pans; Metal and Glass Syringes;
Crain's, Ingalls and Chapin's Supporters;
Horse Hair Mittens;
English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow;
Spread Plasters, on kid, cloth and paper;
Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes;
Dilstering Paper and Tissue Dressing; European Leeches, &c., &c.

Physicians' Prescriptions,

Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH.

She has also on hand and is constantly receiving he New and Popular Medicines of the day.

Washington St., rear of Stone Temple.

Quincy, Oct. 20. tf

Salt Pork and Beef.

A FIRST rate article of PORK and BEEF, packed by the subscribers and for sale by the barrel or in smaller quantites to suit purchasers, cheap for CASH J & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy. March 16th. tf

CROCKERY WARE

A Splendid Assortment of CROCKERY WARE just received and for sale at the Union Store, on Washington Street, Quincy

Blue Stone China Tea Setts	-	1.75
Mulbury " " "	-	1.75
Light Blue " " "	-	1.37
White " " "	-	1.37

— AND —

A Good Assortment of GLASS & BRITANIA OIL & FLUID LAMPS

Quincy, Dec 7 1850 tf

QUINCY WASHING MIXUTRE

THIS article has been tested by upwards of fifty families during the past week, and all have called it equal to anything of the kind which they have used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and sell it at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart, full directions accompanying it.

By this improvement, it is expected the dry goods market will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this will wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so often will new be bought.

ELISHA PACKARD.

tf

Periodical Agency.

C. GILL & Co are Agents for all the Quarterly, Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free from any expense for Postage or transportation. A l who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time for which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices. tf Quincy, Dec. 22.

Wool Frocking

200 TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.

ALSO—FROCKS ready made

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Sept. 29. tf

Prepartion for the Hair.

THE celebrated "Der Schon Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Gloss; Camm's Spanish Lustral, or medicated hair preservative; Tompkins' Chlorion gustrale: Batchelor's instantaneous hair dye; Jules Haules vegetable hair dye. For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

Velvet Trimmings.

JUST Received, an assortment of Velvet Trimmings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by

GEO SAVIL & Co., Washington St.

Quincy, Sept 21. tf

Paper Hangings.

3 TO 400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 24th tf

Dyer's Washing Fluid.

A first rate article for washing clothes. For sale by H. A. RANSOM & Co.

Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

Bay State Long Shawls.

AN Assortment just received of the different sizes Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the lowest prices, by GEO. SAVIL and Co., Washington Street, Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

Cider Vinegar.

JUST received, and for sale by the sbuscribers twenty barrels extra Cider vinegar.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850. tf

Apples.

BALDWINS AND RUSSETTS, of the first quality, for sale by H. A. RANSOM.

Quincy, Oct 12, 1850. tf

Pies, Puddings, Custards, &c.

MRS E HAYDEN has on hand, a variety of articles for flavoring, viz:—

Peach water; Rose water; etc., etc. Essence of Rose, Cinnamon, Lemon, etc

Also—Sweet Marjorams, Sage, Summer Savory, Thyme, &c.

Quincy, Nov. 16. tf

W. Porter.

DEALER IN

Pine, Spruce and Hemlock

LUMBER,

CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,

LATHS, PICKETS,

CEDAR POSTS, &c.,

At his new Wharf near Brackett's.

Watches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at the Store of GEORGE B. FOSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum,) informs the public that at the above established ishment can be found a large assortment of

Gold and Silver

WATCHES

Silver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Rich

HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

His attention will be given personally, at all times, to the REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF WATCHES, which his long experience in that department with Mr. JEFFREY R BRACKETT, entitles him to the confidence of his friends and customers.

☞His friends and acquaintance when in Boston are invited to call.

THOMAS S. JOHNSON.

Boston, Feb. 23. 1stf

Crockery and Glass Ware.

JUST added to our previous assortment, new an choice patterns of

Tea and Dining Setts, Washbowls, and Ewers.

H A RANSOM & Co.

Quincy Sept. 1. tf

Brown's

ALMANAC. Pocket Memorandum and Account Book, for 1851. for sale at the QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Quincy, Nov, 25, 1851. tf

Board in Quincy.

A Gentleman and his wife, or two single gentlemen, can have pleasant rooms and board, at the house of Misses J. B & M. TOWSSEND, on President's Hill, nearly opposite the depot.

Quincy, Nov. 16. 3m

Hats and Caps.

2 CASES, Fall stylo, just received, and for sale cheap for cash, by

A. B. PACKARD.

Quincy, Dec. 6. 6w

Apples and Potatoes.

50 Bbls RUSSET and GREENING APPLES 200 bushels POTATOES of various kinds.

For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, Dec. 7, 1850 tf

HAT AND CAP STORE.

A. B. PACKARD has remodled his Store, making the sales room twice as large as formerly, where he intends keeping a large stock of

HATS AND CAPS,

suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle-aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.

Also,

A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring styles.

Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Ginghams, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c.

With that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers' use

Quincy, April 13. tf

French Calf Boots.

MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a FIRST RATE FIT WARRANTED, by W. S. UNDERWOOD,

Hancock St., Quincy,

Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.

Quincy, May 5. tf

SKATES.

40 Pairs of extra SKATES

For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, Dec 7, 1850 ti

Beef and Pork.

A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere.

Also—Fresh BELF and PORK, constantly on hand, and delivered to any part of the town free expense.

H. A. RANSOM & CO.

m16 tf

Flannels.

WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels Twilled and plain, an assortment just received and for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washington Street Quincy.

Quincy, Sept 21 tf

Bounty Land.

FOR SOLDIERS' OF THE WAR OF 1812—and of any Indian War since 1790, their widows and minor children, obtained All claims, business, and suits, under any of the PENSION or PATENT LAWS of the United States,—also PROBATE and other business connected with the settlement of Estates, of deccased persons attended to by

EBEN. SMITH, JR.

Boston, Dec. 28, 1850. 3m

Onions.

50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, for sale by

H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Oct 12th, 1850. tf

Particular Notice

THE Subscribers respectfully inform their customers and the public, that on and after the First of OCTOBER next, all goods will be sold at reduced prices for cash only.

All those who wish to buy cheap, are invited to call, as the prices cannot fail to suit them.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Sept 7th. tf

Salt Pork.

A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and deliverep at any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quncy March 9th, tf

PORK & BEEF.

SALT-PETRED BEEF and Bacon, of the first quality, will be kept constantly on hand during the season, and sold as cheap as can be bought at

Any Store in Town for Cash.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quincy, March 24. tf

Cider Vinegar.

FIRST rate article of good, Cider Vinegar. Just received and for sale by

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, August 17. tf

BOSTON MUSEUM,

Tremont Street,.....Boston.

ALWAYS OPEN DAY AND EVENING.

THIS MUSEUM is the largest, most valuable, and best arranged in the United States. It comprises no less than

SEVEN DIFFERENT MUSEUMS,

to which has been added the present year, besides the constant daily accumulation of articles, One Half of the celebrated

PEALE'S PHILADELPHIA MUSEUM,

swelling the already immense collection to upwards of

HALF A MILLION ARTICLES,

the greatest amount of objects of interest to be found together at any one place in America; and an entirely

NEW HALL OF WAX STATUARY,

ONE HUNDRED FEET in length, filled to its utmost capacity with WAX FIGURES of the size of life, singly and in groups, to the number of upwards of TWO HUNDRED, which have been in preparation for the last two years by a corps of the most distinguished artists to be found in either the old country or the new, and are so NATURAL and LIFELIKE as to

Mock Reality,

and lead the beholder to doubt whether the figures do not actually live and breathe. Among the most prominent will be found the celebrated Tableaux of

CHRIST'S LAST SUPPER

with his Twelve Disciples; representing the consternation and dismay of the chosen ones at the moment when he told them that ONE OF THEM SHOULD BETRAY HIM.

THE PRODIGAL SON,

returned home clothed in rags, and received by his forgiving father. The imposing spectacle of

THE CRUCIFIXION,

composed of more than forty figures; a correct representation of that event, according to the best received authorities.

Christ Disputing with the Doctors;

a characteristic group of seven figures.

THE GAME OF LIFE,

in which is shown the Christian and Satan contending for the mastery.

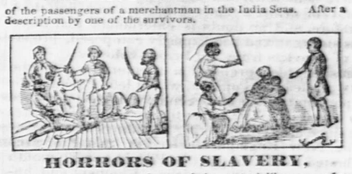
THE SIAMESE TWINS,

and their beautiful American wives.

Representation by nine figures, of the

MASSACRE BY PIRATES

of the passengers of a merchantman in the India Seas. After a description by one of the survivors.



HORRORS OF SLAVERY,

as exemplified by seven figures, being actual likenesses of a slave-owner, a slave-driver, and their victims.

MURDER OF MISS McCREA,

by the Indians during the Revolutionary war; a thrilling group, showing the characteristics of the Red Men.

INTEMPERANCE,

and its certain evils; illustrated in three groups, the last a correct picture of a

Wife Murdered by her Husband.

Also, groups of a School,—a Milliner's Shop,—a Shoemaker's Shop,—a Barber's Shop,—a Blacksmith's Shop, &c., as well as a variety of single figures of distinguished men, &c., with upwards of

One Hundred of Cabinet Size,

rendering it the largest collection of Wax Figures in America. The entire of the above, and the immense collection of

BIRDS, BEASTS, FISH, INSECTS & REPTILES,

obtained from all parts of the world, together with innumerable varieties of Natiral and Artificial Curiosities;

Paintings, Engravings and Statuary,

OIL PORTRAITS

of the GREAT and GOOD of all nations,—Naval and Military Heroes, Patriots, Statesmen, and Divines;—Rare Coins and Medals;—Shells, Corals, and Fossils;

EGYPTIAN MUMMIES,

and ancient Sarcophagi, 3000 Years old; and an entire

Family of Peruvian Mummies;

the DUCK-BILLED PLATYPUS, the connecting link between the BIRD and BEAST, being evidently half each;—the curious half-fish, half-human

FEJEE MERMAID,

which was exhibited in most of the principal cities of America, in the years 1840, '41, and '42, to the wonder and astonishment of thousands of naturalists and other scientific persons, whose previous doubts of the existence of such an astonishing creation were entirely removed;

Elephants and Ourang-Outangs;

ANIMALS and BIRDS of every nation; Sharks, Seals, and a variety of FISHES, including the curious

SAW AND SWORD FISH,

all in lifelike preservation; the whole forming a School of Instruction, blended with Amusement, that for extent and interest is unequalled in the known world;—the whole to be seen for the small admission fee of

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

In Addition to which, and

WITHOUT EXTRA CHARGE,

visitors are admitted to the gorgeous Exhibition Hall, which has been newly decorated at an expense of nearly five thousand dollars, where they can witness the magnificent

THEATRICAL ENTERTAINMENTS,

given EVERY EVENING, and WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, by a Company of Comedians and an Orchestra of Musicians, admitted to be SUPERIOR to any ever before collected in this country, with the aid of

Stage and Scenic Arrangements,

the most grand and superb ever seen in either Europe or America; thus warranting the universal admission that the Boston Museum, besides being the most comfortable and genteel, is also the

Cheapest Place of Amusement

IN THE WORLD! A single visit will prove the truth of this assertion, as the admission is only

☞ 25 Cents to the Whole!!!

Boston, Sept. 14, 1850. sept1

PUBLISHED EV

NUMBERS,

JOHN A. GREEN

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance—Two DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid till the end months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till the ration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will be previous to the payment of all arrearages u the option of the proprietor. When subscribe their papers discontinued, they will give notice effect at the time their subscription expires. subscriber will be held responsible for the p of his paper so long as it is sent to his address Post Office, Tavern, or any other place whe he may have ordered it, until legally notified contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously at the customary prices. The number of ins equired must be marked on the advertisement, se they will be continued until ordered o harged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is lim r own immediate business; and all advertise e the benefit of other persons, as well as all dvertisements, and advertisements of auction ent in by them, must be paid for at the usual ra Business letters and communications addressed Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention

☞Single copies of the paper, FIVE CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to re ve and requested to procure subscriptions:

JOSIAH BABCOCK,	Quincy Railway.
GEORGE H. LOCKE,	" Stone Quarr
ORIN P BACON,	Dorchester.
FISHER A KINGSBURY,	Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVERLY,	Abington.
SAMUEL A TURNER,	South Scituate.
N B OSBORNE,	Salem.
FREEMAN HUNT,	New York City

MISCELLANY.

A LIST OF PERSONS

In the town of QUINCY, qualified Vote in Elections and Town Affairs, made out by the Selectmen of Quincy

QUINCY, FEB. 15, 1851.

A
Adams Hon Charles F.
Adams, Josiah
Adams, Ebenezer
Adams, Seth
Adams, Owen
Ames, Nathan
Appleton, Wm. G
Andrews, Samuel Jr.
Andrews, John
Allen, Obed
Allen, Otis
Abercrombie, Wyman
Abbott, Luther C.
Arnold, Charles
Arnold, John
Arnold, Daniel F.
Ackerman Benjamin M
Ackerman, Shem.
Grey, Joseph Jr.
Allin, Anderson
Allen, Warren
Allen, Ira
Abercrombie, Horace
Atkinson, Andrew
Adams, Henry A. C.
B
Bass, Jonathan
Bass, Lewis
Bass, Benjamin
Bass, John B.
Bass, Josiah
Bass, George W.
Brackett, Lemuel
Brackett, Peter
Brackett, Edward
Brackett, Joseph G.
Brackett, Isaac
Brigham, Josiah
Brigham, Alonzo H.
Brigham, George
Bressler, John
Birdett, Iabrahim
Birdett. Frederick H.
Baxter, James
Baxter, Daniel
Baxter, Lewis
Baxter, Wm. W.
Baxter, George L.
Baxter, Josiah
Baxter, Elijah
Baxter, Lemuel
Baxter, Jonathan
Baxter, George
Beale, George W.
Beal, Joseph S.
Beales, Ezra
Beales, Nathaniel H.
Bent, Nedlebiah
Bent, William
Bent, George
Burrell, Seth
Burrell, Joseph
Burrell, Joseph F.
Burrell, Mayhew
Burrell, Charles
Burrell, Rev. John T.
Bailey, Hanson
Brown, Foster C.
Brown, Foster
Brown, Joseph N.
Brown, Wm. R.
Brown, John F.
Brown, David M.
Brown, Francis
Brown, Geo. G. M.
Baker, Henry
Baker, Charles
Billings, John A.
Billings, Richard
Billings, Thomas O.
Bigelow, Jabez
Bush, Nathaniel M.
Baker, Wm. R.
Barrett George W.
Burr, Henry
Blake, Don Carlos
Brummett, John
Beckford, James M.
Bradford, James
Badger, Ezra
Blansdell, Gilbert
Brooks, Thomas
Breading, Daniel J.
Burleigh, Jasper H.
Buckman, Amos
Bugbee, Dr. Wm. B.
Baker, Cushing
Baker, Wm. P.
Blanchard, George
Bates, Thomas
Bates, Stephen
Bradbury, Luther M.
Bowe, Michael
Blanch, James
Barnes, William
Burke, James
Bicknell, Charles
Brackett, Charles C.
Billings, Caleb
Brown, John G.
Bass, Isaac
Bullard, Wm. W.
Baxter, Joseph
Berry, Joseph F.
Brown, Charles H.
C
Curtis, Noah
Curtis, Adam
Curtis, Samuel
Curtis, Benjamin
Curtis, Charles
Curtis, Lewis
Curtis, John
Curtis, Thomas
Curtis, George
Curtis, William
Curtis, Henry
Crane, Elisha T.
Crane, Ebenezer
Crane, Joseph
Crane, Benjamin L.
Crane, John
Crane, Seth
Crane, George
Carr, John J.
Chubuck, David
Chubuck, Perez
Chubuck, Wm. C.
Cook, Jonathan
Cleverly, James
Cleverly, Ebenezer
Cleverly, James T.
Clark, John V.
Clark, Jonathan R.
Caverly, Alfred
Cummings, Noah
Clements, Gershom
Clements, Joel
Copeland, Samuel
Chapin, Eliphas S.
Cudworth, Urbane
Cudworth, Urbane Jr.
Chisley, William
Carver, Phillip
Carver, Charles W.
Chase, Joseph W.
Chase, Noah D.
Churchill, Thaddeus
Churchill, George W.
Carney, Michael
Connor, Michael O.
Curran, John
Carney, Edward
Colburn, William E.
Clapp, Francis E.
Cunningham, James
Conland, John
Cole, Israel H.

OSTON MUSEUM,

ront Street,——Boston.

ALWAYS OPEN DAY AND EVENING.

IS MUSEUM is the largest, most valuable, and best arranged in the United States. It comprises no less than

VEN DIFFERENT MUSEUMS,

hich has been added the present year, besides the constant accumulation of articles, One Half of the celebrated

EALE'S PHILADELPHIA MUSEUM,

ing the already immense collection to upwards of

ALF A MILLION ARTICLES,

reatest amount of objects of interest to be found together one place in America; and an entirely

EW HALL OF WAX STATUARY,

Ninety Feet in length, filled to its utmost capacity with X FIGURES of the size of life, singly and in groups, number of upwards of TWO HUNDRED, which been in preparation for the last two years by a corps of ost distinguished artists to be found in either the old coun- the new, and are so NATURAL and LIFELIKE

Mock Reality.

ad the beholder to doubt whether the figures do not actu- ve and breathe. Among the most prominent will be found elebrated Tableaux of his Twelve Disciples; representing the consternation and ief of the chosen group at the moment when he told them ONE OF THEM SHOULD BETRAY HIM.

CHRIST'S LAST SUPPER

THE PRODIGAL SON,

med home clothed in rags, and received by his forgiving r. The imposing spectacle of

THE CRUCIFIXION,

posed of more than forty figures; a correct representation ld event, according to the best received authorities.

ist Disputing with the Doctors;

racteristic group of seven figures.

THE GAME OF LIFE,

ch is shown the Christian and Satan contending for the

THE SIAMESE TWINS,

ll-beautiful American wives, ormation by nine figures, of the passengers of a merchantman in the India Seas. After a ption by one of the survivors.

MASSACRE BY PIRATES

HORRORS OF SLAVERY,

mplified by seven figures, being actual likenesses of a owner, a slave-driver, and their victims.

URDER OF MISS McCREA,

Indian during the Revolutionary war; a thrilling group, ing the cruel scalping of the Red Men.

INTEMPERANCE,

certain evils; illustrated in three groups, the last a cor- ture of a te Murdered by her Husband.

roups of a School,—a Milliner's Shop,—a Shoemaker's a Barber's Shop,—a Blacksmith's Shop, &c., as well as ty of single figures of distinguished men, &c., with up-

he Hundred of Cabinet Size, ing it the largest collection of Wax Figures in America. ature of the above, and the immense collection of

S, BEASTS, FISH, INSECTS & REPTILES, ed from all parts of the world, together with immensa- ieties of Natural and Artificial Curiosities;

tings, Engravings and Statuary,

OIL PORTRAITS

REAT and GOOD of all nations,—Naval and Military Patriots, Statesmen, and Divines;—Rare Coins and —Shells, Corals, and Fossils;

EGYPTIAN MUMMIES,

ient Sarcophagi, 3000 Years old; and an entire mily of Peruvian Mummies;

K-BILLED PLATYPUS, the connecting link between D and BEAST, being evidently half each;—the curious ife-woman

FEJEE MERMAID,

was exhibited in most of the principal cities of America, 1845, '46, '47, and '48, to the wonder and astonishment ands of naturalists and other scientific persons, whose s acquits of the existence of such an astonishing creation tirely removed;

phants and Ourang-Outangs;

LS and BIRDS of every nation; Sharks, Seals, ety of FISHES, including the curious

SAW AND SWORD FISH,

Feejee preservation; the whole forming a School of Is- n, blended with Amusement, that for extent and interest alled in the known world;—the whole to be seen for the mission fee of

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

In Addition to which, and

ITHOUT EXTRA CHARGE,

are admitted to the gorgeous Exhibition Hall, which newly decorated at an expense of nearly five thousand where they can witness the magnificent

EATRICAL ENTERTAINMENTS,

VERY EVENING, and WEDNESDAY and SATUR- FTERNOONS, by a Company of Comedians and an ra of Musicians, admitted to be SUPERIOR to any ever collected in this country, with the aid of

ge and Scenic Arrangements,

grand and superb ever seen in either Europe or Amer- a warranting the universal admission that the Boston n, besides being the most comfortable and genteel, is

eapest Place of Amusement

WORLD! A single visit will prove the truth of this n, as the admission is only

25 Cents to the Whole!!!

Sept. 14, 1850. eopti

QUINCY PATRIOT.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.....OVER MESSRS. JOSIAH BRIGHAM & Co's STORE.....HANCOCK STREET.

NUMBER 8, QUINCY (MASS.) SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1851. VOLUME 15.

JOHN A. GREEN,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance—Two DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid till the end of six months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till the expiration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will be stopped previous to the payment of all arrearages unless at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers wish their papers discontinued, they will give notice to that effect at the time their subscription expires. Every subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of this paper so long as it is sent to his address at the Post Office, Tavern, or any other place wheresoever he may have ordered it, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously, inserted at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, otherwise they will be continued until ordered out and charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business; and all advertisements for the benefit of other persons, as well as all legal advertisements, and advertisements of auction sales, sent in by them, must be paid for at the usual rates.

All business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.

Single copies of the paper, FIVE CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive and receipted to procure subscriptions:

JOSIAH BABCOCK,	Quincy Railway.
GEORGE H. LOCKE,	" Stone Quarries.
ORIN P. BACON,	Dorchester.
FISHER A. KINGSBURY,	Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVERLY,	Abington.
SAMUEL A. TURNER,	South Scituate.
N. B. OSBORNE,	Salem.
FREEMAN HUNT.	New York City

MISCELLANY.

A LIST OF PERSONS

in the town of QUINCY, qualified to vote in Elections and Town Affairs, as made out by the Selectmen of Quincy.

QUINCY, FEB. 15, 1851.

A

Adams Hon Charles F.
Adams, Josiah
Adams, Ebenezer
Adams, Seth
Adams, Owen
Ames, Nathan
Appleton, Wm. G
Andrews, Samuel Jr.
Andrews, John
Allen, Obed
Allen, Otis
Abercrombie, Wyman
Abbott, Luther C.
Arnold, Charles
Arnold, John
Arnold, Daniel F.
Ackerman Benjamin M
Ackerman, Shem.
Avery, Joseph Jr.
Allen, Anderson
Allen, Warren
Allen, Ira
Abercrombie, Horace
Atkinson, Andrew
Adams, Henry A. C.

B

Bass, Jonathan
Bass, Lewis
Bass, Benjamin
Bass, John B.
Bass, Josiah
Bass, George W.
Beckett, Lemuel
Beckett, Peter
Beckett, Edward
Beckett, Joseph G.
Beckett, Isaac
Beetham, Josiah
Beetham, Alonzo H.
Beetham, George
Bemister, John
Bickett, Iabrahim
Bickett, Frederick H.
Bicker, James
Bicker, Daniel
Bicker, Lewis
Bicker, Wm. W.
Bicker, George L.
Bicker, Josiah
Bicker, Elijah
Bicker, Lemuel
Bicker, Jonathan
Bicker, George
Bigelow, George W.
Bigelow, Joseph S.
Bigelow, Ezra
Bigelow, Nathaniel H.
Bent, Nedebiah
Bent, William
Bent, George
Birrell, Seth
Birrell, Joseph
Birrell, Joseph F.
Birrell, Mayhew
Birrell, Charles
Birrell, Rev, John T.
Bisbey, Hanson
Brown, Foster C.
Brown, Foster
Brown, Joseph N.
Brown, Wm. R.
Brown, John F.
Brown, David M.
Brown, Francis
Brown, Geo. G. M.
Bruser, Henry
Bruser, Charles
Billings, John A.
Billings, Richard
Billings, Thomas O.
Bigelow, Jabez
Bass, Nathaniel M.
Belser Wm. R.
Barrett George W.
Burr, Henry
Blake, Don Carlos
Brummett, John
Beckford, James M.
Bradford, James
Badger, Ezra
Blaisdell, Gilbert
Brooks, Thomas
Breading, Daniel J.
Burleigh, Jasper H.
Buckman, Amos
Bugbee, Dr. Wm. B.
Baker, Cushing
Baker, Wm. P.
Blanchard, George
Bates, Thomas
Bates, Stephen
Bradbury, Luther M.
Bowe, Michael
Blanch. James
Barnes, William
Burke, James
Bicknell, Charles
Brackett, Charles C.
Billings, Caleb
Brown, John G.
Bass, Isaac
Bullard, Wm. W.
Baxter, Joseph
Berry, Joseph F.
Brown, Charles H.

C

Curtis, Noah
Curtis, Adam
Curtis, Samuel
Curtis, Benjamin
Curtis, Charles
Curtis, Lewis
Curtis, John
Curtis, Thomas
Curtis, George
Curtis, William
Curtis, Henry
Crane, Elisha T.
Crane, Ebenezer
Crane, Joseph
Crane, Benjamin L.
Crane, John
Crane, Seth
Crane, George
Carr, John J.
Chubuck, David
Chubuck. Perez
Chubuck, Wm. C.
Cook, Jonathan
Cleverly, James
Cleverly, Ebenezer
Cleverly, James T.
Clark, John V.
Clark, Jonathan R.
Caverly, Alfred
Cummings, Noah
Clements, Gershom
Clements, Joel
Copeland, Samuel
Chapin, Eliphas S.
Cudworth, Urbane
Cudworth, Urbane Jr.
Chisley, William
Carver, Phillip
Carver, Charles W.
Chase, Joseph W.
Chase, Noah D.
Churchill, Thaddeus
Churchill, George W.
Carney, Michael
Connor, Michael O.
Curran, John
Carney, Edward
Colburn, William E.
Clapp, Francis E.
Cunningham, James
Cotland, John
Cole, Israel H.
Cushing, Martin L.
Cleveland, Francis
Cross, Peter
Cushing, William
Crosley, William H.
Chubuck, George M.
Carrol, William
Cain, James R.
Chase, William
Cushing, Edward
Garrity, Michael
Gulliver, John P.
Glover, Joseph
Gray, Stephen
Gannett, Joy
Glover, John
Gould, Joseph Jr.
Godrich, Lorenzo D.
Gilman, Lyman
Glover, Wm. H.
Gleason, Richard

D

Drake, Thomas
Drake, Thomas Jr.
Ditson, William
Duggan, Dr. Wm. B.
Dwelle, Lemuel
Denton, Gideon F.
Damon, Ezra
Damon, Edward
Davis, John C.
Dearborn, Horatia G.
Dearborn, Albion
Dustin, John K.
Dexter, Edward T.
Donahoe, Peter
Dawes, George M.
Dawes, James E.
Dunn, John
Dufree, Patrick
Donor, William
Donor, Patrick
Drew, John B.
Dinegan, John
Derson, James
Dunbar, James H.
Dingley, William R.
Davis Alonzo G.
Dyer, William
Dorsey, Cornelius
Dowe, Freeman
Dexter, John N.
Dyer, William F.
Dean, Rev. Wm. W.
Davis, Stephen W.

E

Eln, Samuel
Eaton, Jacob F.
Eaton, Edward F.
Edwards, David
Edwards, Samuel R.
Edwards, Charles W.
Edwards, James
Edwards, Henry
Ellison, William
Ewell, Joseph
Everson, Edwin
Ellis, Hosea b.
Elcock, Michael
Ellis, Francis C.
Eaton, Nathaniel H.

F

Faxon, Job
Faxon, John
Faxon, Henry H.
Faxon, Dexter
Faxon, Horace
Faxon, Crougham
Faxon, Francis G.
Faxon, Horatio N.
French, Daniel
French, George H.
French, Joseph
French, Harvey
French, Washington M.
French, Alden
French, Charles E.
Fisher, Richard
Fisher, Joshua
Flint, Jacob
Flint, Daniel K.
Field, Joseph
Fuchi, William
Fenno, Isaac J.
Fenno, Thomas G.
Ford, Job
Ford, Ebenezer
Frederick, Eleazer
Fellows, Ensign S.
Follett, George
Fowle, Theodore W.
Fitzgerald, Edmund
Furnald, Alfred
Furnald, Napoleon B.
Fitzpatrick, John
Folsom, Dudley
Fish, Daniel
Fletcher, Salathiel A.
Foster, Horace J.
Foster, John P.
French, Henry
Field, Ebenezer N.
Field, Justin
Faxon, Asaph
French, Wm. H.
French, Henry A.
French, Loring
Foster, Chase S.
Furnald, Bryant N.
Ford, Thomas

G

Greenleaf, Daniel
Greenleaf, Thomas
Greenleaf, Ezekiel P.
Glover, Nathanial
Glover, Josiah
Glover, William S.
Glover, John Jr.
Glover, Horatio N.
Glover, Horatio N. Jr.
Glover, James M.
Glover, Lewis J.
Glover, John J.
Gay, enjamin
Gay, Henry H.
Gay, Timothy
Gray, John
Green, James
Green, John
Green, John A.
Green, Ebenezer G.
Gill, Charles
Gill, George L.
Gourgas, John M.
Glennen, James
Graham, Thomas
Gallagher, James
Goodnow Dr. Loyd
Goddard, Dr. William
Gibson, James
Hardwick, Fredrick
Hardwick, Jacob
Hardwick, Peter
Hardwick, William P.
Harkwick, James M.
Hardwick, Adam
Hardwick, Samuel V
Hardwick, Thomas P G.
Hardwick, Samuel P.
Hardwick, Henry
Hardwick, Charles Jr.
Hardwick, John
Hardwick, Thomas
Hardwick, George W.
Hardwick, Charles Jr.
Hardwick, Israel T
Hardwick, Charles H
Hall, Charles
Hall, Charles 2d.
Hall, John
Hayden, Thomas
Hayden, Josiah
Hayden, Josiah Jr.
Hayden, Arthur P.
Hayden, James M.
Hayden, George W.
Hayden, Solomon
Hayden, Eli
Hayden, Elbridge
Hayden, Jonathan
Hayden, Nathaniel
Hayden, Charles
Hayden, Hilbert
Hayden, Harvey
Harvey, Henry
Hayden, Robert H.
Hersey, Jacob
Hersey, Ebenezer B.
Hersey, Jerome
Hersey, Albert
Higgins, Samuel
Higgins, James F.
Higgins, Elisha
Higgins, Daniel
Hallstram, Jones
Hallstram, William
Holmes, Nasman B.
Holmes, Charles
Hobart, Daniel
Hobart, Daniel 2d.
Hobart, William
Hobart, Charles
Hobart, William S.
Horton, Loyd G.
Holden, John
Hemsworth, John C.
Harmon, Ebenezer Jr.
Hodgkinson, Michael
Horn, Trueworthy C.
Hayward, John
Hunt, Asa
Hunt, John
Hunt, Alpheus
Hunt, Hiram
Hunt, Charles N.
Hamilton, John K.
Huntress, Truman H.
Hollbrook, Lysander P.
Hobbs, Edmund
Hammond Andrew E.
Hammond, Charles
Harris, James A.
Harris, James M.
Harris, Edward
Hurley, David
Holt, Albert
Harriman, Lewis
Hilands, Samuel

J.

Johnson, Horace
Johnson, Lorenzo
Johnson, Joseph G.
Johnson, Wm. F.
Johnson, Wm. Jr.
Johnson, Jonathan S.
Jameson, Jonathan
Joyce, Perez
Joseph, Levi B.
Jones, Peleg F.
Jacobs, John
Jones, Joshua
Jones, George J.
Jones, Lewis
Jones, William H.

K

Kirk, John
Kennison, George W.
Knox, Daniel M. C.
Kane, John
Kimball, William G.
Kimball, John S.
Kimball, Charles H.
Kennon, Thomas
Kennon, Thomas Jr.
Kellogg, Theodore
Kingman, William
Kittredge. Preston P.
Keith, Harrison,
Kilroy, Patrik
King, William M.
Kidder, B. A.

L

Lunt, Wm. P.
Lunt, Theadore H.
Lincoln, William V.
Litchfield, Ward
Litchfield, Liba
Leavitt, Chase F.
Leavitt, Josiah
Locke, George H.
Lougee, Hazen
Larry, John O.
Larry, Columbus
Long, John
Lucas, Joel
Lucas, Hugh
Lucas John S.
Lyons, John S.
Littlefield, Henry
Lucas, Thomas P.
Leonard, George
Lapham, Frederick H.
Lee, Rinaldo
Lane, Daniel
Locke, Francis
Lake, Joseph B.
Lingham, Milo
Litchfield, Davis C.
Lamb, Thomas
Leoise, Ambrose C.
Lord, Peter R.
Lincoln, John F.
Leighton, Andrew J.
Lawton, Frederick
Lawton, Winslow
Land, Nicholas
Leightou, Richard H.

M

Marsh, Jonathan
Marsh, George
Marsh, Charles
Marsh, Edwin W.
Marsh, J. Mayhew
Marsh, Thomas M.
Marsh, Moses R.
Marsh, Edmund
Marsh, Edmund S.
Marsh, Warren
Munroe, Israel W.
Munn, Luther
Mead, Benjamin V.
Mead, Peter B.
Morton, William S.
Mitchell, Charles R.
Merritt, Melzer
Merritt, Martin B.
Merritt, Ambrose
Mears, Amos A.
Moore, Alexis W.
Moses, Charles
Murphy, Daniel
Murphy, Mitchael
McKendrick, Michael
Marden, Francis
McDonald, Patrick
Mace, Nelson
Madigan, William
Martin, Thomas
Marden, William L.
Mullen, John
Morrison, David

N

Newcomb, James
Newcomb, James Jr.
Newcomb, Bryant B.
Newcomb, George
Newcomb, Oliver T.
Newcomb, Thaddens H.
Newcomb, Peter W.
Newcomb, Thomas
Newcomb, William 2d.
Newcomb, William
Newcomb, John S.
Newcomb, Joseph
Newcomb, John A.
Newcomb, Henry A.
Newcomb, Francis J.
Newcomb, George W.
Newcomb, Charles
Newcomb, Lewis
Newcomb, Richard
Nightingale, Josiah
Nightingale, Jeraminh
Nightingale, Solomon
Nightingale, George B.
Nightingale, George
Nightingale, Lewis
Nightingale, Moses
Nightingale, Alpheus
Nightingale, Edwin Nightingale, Lemuel
Nightingale, Thomas J.
Nightingale, Thomas B.
Nightingale, Daniel Jr.
Nightingale, Calven E.
Nightingale, Nathaniel
Nightingale, Isaac
Nash, William
Nash, Allbert C.
Nutter, George
Neil, Peter O

O

Owens, Rowland
Osgood, Abner.
Ogle, William

P.

Pope, Asa
Pope, Samuel B.
Pope, Otzias M.
Pope, George W.
Pope, Norton Q.
Pope, Lemuel
Pope, Micajah C.
Pope, Edmund R.
Pope, Micajah
Packard, William
Packard, William H.2d
Packard, Elisha
Packard, Abner B.
Packard, William H.
Packard, George W.
Packard, Caleb
Packard, Lemuel
Pierce, Charles L.
Pierce, George M.
Pierce, Albert
Pierce, John F.
Penniman, Stephen
Page, Benjamin
Page, John
Page, William
Pratt, Albert
Pratt, Thomas
Pratt, Jonathan
Pratt, William
Pratt, John Q. A.
Paine, Johnson
Porter, Whitcomb
Porter, John W.
Porter, George E.
Pierce, George
Parker, John
Parker, William
Parker, William Jr.
Parker, Alvin
Parker, George W.
Parker, Moses C.
Prescott Abram
Perry, Calvin W.
Perry, Leonard L.
Plummer, Thomas H
Piper, Evans
Pickering, Samuel S.
Poole, John G.
Pierson, Thomas O.
Pattee, Dr. William S
Prior, Hirram
Pittee, Thomas S.
Penniman, Harvey
Pray, Charles H.
Palmer, James H. B.
Philbrick, Chase
Perry Samuel
Packard John S.
Pickernel, William
Peckham, James L.
Pratt, Henry G. Jr.

R.

Rawson, Samuel
Richards, Lysander
Robertson, Joseph W
Rodgers, Clift
Ridout, David
Ridout, David Jr.
Ridout, Jessee
Ridout, Luke
Ridout, James
Ridout, Enock
Rowe, Sylvanus
Rose, Richard
Riddle, James
Rianson, Henry A.
Rich, Benjamin
Rich, Abram Jr.
Rowell, Caleb
Rowell, Benjamin
Rowell, Peter
Rowell, Enoch M H
Richardson, Joseph
Richardson, Lewis B.
Randlett, George W.
Randlett, James S.
Raynolds, Patrick
Roddan, Rev. John T.
Ricker, Winslow W.
Rogers, Horace G.
Riley, Daniel
Ryan, Micheal
Ricker, Reuben
Ricker, Enos
Randall, John C.
Rodman, Thomas
Root, Nathan
Root, William H. B.

S.

Spear, John
Spear, Seth
Spear, Charles
Spear, Charles A.
Spear, William W.
Spear, William A.
Spear, Thompson
Spear, Lewis
Spear, George 2d.
Spear Jonathan
Spear, Edward A.
Spear, George W.
Spear, Horace B.
Spear, Nathaniel S.
Spear, George 3d.
Savil, John
Savil, Josiah
Savil, John 2d.
Savil, Geroge
Savil, Edwin H.
Savil, Benjamin
Souther, John
Souther, John L.
Shaw, Ebenezer A.
Shaw, Emerson
Sampson, William H.
Simpson, John A.
Small, Warren E.
Stiles, William
Stedson, Dr. James A
Sleeper, Moses
Scott, William A.
Stone, Isaac
Stone, Samuel O.
Stevenson John
Smith, Charles
Southard, James
Starbuck, Edward H
Silver, Charles
Shumway, Hiram
Swain, Moses D.
Swift, Henry
Swift, Charles
Shute, Isaac
Sargent, Joel
Spear, Henry T.
Seward, George W.
Starkey, Benjamin P.
See, Carlton
Severance, John H.
Savil, Charles F.
Souther, Fredrick
Southworth A. H.
Swift, Mark
Smith, Henry F.
Smith, Thomas
Shean, Denis

T.

Taylor, Edmund B.
Taylor, Charles
Thayer, Elihue
Thayer, Albert
Thayer, John D.
Thayer, Gideon F.
Thayer, G Francis
Torrey, William
Torrey, Joshua
Turner, Elinkin
Turner, Edward
Turner, Elisha
Thomas, Samuel
Trask, Frederick A.
Trask, Wiliam
Trask, Theodore
Trask, William H.
Tirrell, Charles P.
Tirrell, Quincy
Totman, William
Totman, Gridley,
Tucker, Rev. Thos. W.
Tabour, Hiram
Tirrell, Jacob
Tolman, Thomas
Turner, Isaac W.

U.

Underwood, Beverly
Underwood, William S
Underwood, John C.

V.

Veazie, Enjah
Veazie, George
Veazie, Joshua
Vinal, Warren J.

W.

Wood, Henry
Wood, Edwin
Wood, John A.
Wood, Lewis
Woods, Benjamin P.
Woods, Jason W.
Woods, Henrey
Whitney, William F.
Whitney, Loring
Whitney, Harrison O
Wild, Nathaniel
Wild, Nathaniel H.
Wild, Paul
Wild, John Q
White, Nathan B.
White, George
White, Thomas
White, Isaiah P
White, Benjamin C C.
Walker, William
Walker, Ezra
Walker, Ezra Jr.
Woodward, Dr Eben'r
Willard, Solomon
Williams, Francis
Williams, James
Williams, Zebediah
Williams, Samuel G
Wilson, William
Wilson, George F.
Wilson, Francis
Whicher, John
Whicher, John D.
Worcester, Eldad
Wright, Abel
Wilmarth, Calvin L
Wade, James M.
Wade, Shadrach
Willett, Abner
Willett, Francis B.
Willett, George
Whiting, George S.T.
Whiring, Hiram G
Whiting, Joseph W.
Whiting, Zenas
Whitton, Isaiah G
Whitton, Charles E
Wentworth, Josiah P.
Welsh, Thomas C
Willey, Isaac H
Wrisley, Charles E.
White, Owen
Williams, Elias
Whicher, Warren W
Willett, Charles A
Williams, Jonathan

TO VOTERS:

Quincy, Feb. 15. 1851.

The Subscribers hereby give notice, that they will be in session at the Selectmen's Room, on SATURDAY,

the First day of March next, from four till six o'clock in the afternoon: for the purpose of correcting the above List:—also, on the third day of March next, from eight till nine o'clock in the forenoon, at the same place, and for the same purpose.

MONDAY,

JOSEPH W. ROBERTSON. }
GEORGE MARSH, } SELECTMEN OF QUINCY
ELIJAH BAXTER. }

A ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE.

We copied from the Lewiston Falls (Me.) Journal, not long since, a statement that a Mrs. Lovell, of Pownal, Me, has discovered that a former husband, named Thurston, whom she supposed had died before her second marriage, had but recently deceased, leaving property to the amount of $30,000, which falls to her by right, the second marriage having been illegal. A correspondent of the New York Evening Post, writing from East Schuyler of New York, gives the following account of Mr Thurston:

'I send you some account of a person name William Thurston, who lately resided in the adjoining town of Frankfort, in Herkimer county. There has been a short paragraph going the rounds of the papers that was incorrect in some particulars, a copy of which I send you. As near as I can learn, he came from the State of Maine, about thirty years ago, stopped in Frankfort, and, after working out a year, he married, and soon after bought a farm in town.

He then commenced a course of life remarkable for hardship, exposure and severe labor. His chief business was clearing land, burning charcoal, and hauling wood and coal to the city of Utica, from which he was distant about six miles. Often he has been seen on the road with three teams under his care, loaded Forward he would have a span of horses, followed by two ox-teams, while our hero, a tall stout framed man, would stalk along side the cavalcade, dexterously flourishing a long ox goad; all the while, with his strong voice, directing or urging them along. Little did he regard the pelting storm, or cold and piercing wind, and often while others were kept at home by bad roads or inclement weather, his tall form would be seen amongst the snow drifts, or his voice be mingled with the roaring wind, driving his double or treble team on their way to market, when he was sure of getting the highest price. By such persevering and untiring labor, rigid economy and above all by being perfectly honest, he soon acquired competence, added farm to farm, and became a wealthy man.

Some few years ago, he began to be rather intemperate, and as this failing increased upon him, he would frequently be seen intoxicated on his way home, and at such times he was out of racing his team with others along the road. In April 1849, as he started for home one day, from Utica he called at a dram shop, took a drink, and started off on a run towards home; he placed his feet on the fore end of the wagon box, which suddenly gave way, precipitating him forward; his feet became entangled in the gearing of the wagon, at the same time his horses being frightened began to kick, and hit his head several times. By some means he retained a death gripe on one of the reins, which drew the horses around in a circle and they were stopped near where they started. Thurston was dead!

He died without a will, leaving a wife and nine children, some of them married. Administrators were appointed to administer the estate. They commenced a suit to recover a note they found against one of Thurston's nephews. The nephew threatened to make them trouble unless they acceded to his terms the executor disregarded his threats, and won their suit.

Soon rumors came that Thurston had a wife still living in Maine, and rumor was true. He had married a woman there, and living with her a few years, and then, from some cause unknown, left her and two children; the children are both dead without issue. She, supposing Thurston to be dead, married again; but her second husband is now dead. Thurston's second marriage in Frankfort is said to be illegal and it is expected that his large estate will fall into the hands of his first wife, and another who survives him, thereby leaving the last family entirely destitute. It is a hard lot for this family, whose labor and toil helped to amass this property, to be now deprived of the enjoyment of it, and that too without any fault of their own. There is much sympathy felt for them, and the eldest son has said, (it is reported) that he will never leave the farm alive. I believe a suit at law has already been commenced by the first widow, or the surviving brother, to recover possession of the estate.'

THE KNICKERBOCKER MAGAZINE.

The January contains some rare gems of wit and humor. We scissor the following:—

'I challenge that man's vote!' said a fellow with a bundling materials in his hat,' at an uptown poll last month. The person challenged lived in a princely mansion in the middle of an entire square which contained the original soil and the original trees of Manhattan Island. 'Look out there,' said the challenger, 'what street do you live in?—what's the number of your house?—on which side of the street is it?' 'I thought so. Don't know which side of street you live, and hain't got no number on your door! You can go home to your house if you can find it; you can't vote the Big Ticket, nor no other ticket at this poll!' The challenger was walked out by the officers to attendance, and the last we saw of him, he was looking up under the hat of a friend, his body at a reeling angle forward, and trying to persuade him to go to a drinking shop, and get a 'scuttle of Boteh ale!'

The next is from the poster of a Panorama of Mount Vesuvius.

MOUNT VESUVIUS!!

PART ONE.

Scenes opens. Distant Moon. View of Bay of Naples. A thin smoke rises. It is the beginning of the Eruption! The Naples folks begin to travel. Yaller fire, followed by silent thunder. Awful consternation. Sothin rumbling! It is the Mounting preparin' to Vomic! They call upon the Fire Department. Its no use! Flight of Stool-pigeons. A cloud of impenetrable smoke hangs over the fated city, through which the Naples are seen making tracks. Awful explosion of bulbs, torn quets, pin-wheels, serdentiles, and tourbillon spirals! The Moulting Lavee begins to squish out!'

PART TWO.

Bay of Naples luminating by Bengolalites—The lava gushes down. Through the smoke is seen the city in a state of conflagration—The last family! 'What is our parents!' A red hot cinder of eleven tuns weight falls into 'em, and crashes em. The bear-headed falls scent less before the statoo of the Vergin! Dehumung!

THE WHOLE TO CONCLUDE WITH A

GRAND SHAKSPEARING PYROLIGENNUS DISPLAY OL FIREWUX.

Maroon Bulbs, changing to a spiral wheel, with changes to the Star of our Union; after to hurtful plints of red fires; to finish with busting into a Brilliant Perspiration.

Any boy making noise will be injected to oncest.

As the Bumkum Meuseum is Temperance, no drinkin aloud, but any one can find the best of lickers in the Saloon below. Admission 25 cents; children on the usual terms.

CRUELTY.

Those persons who have read Charles Dickens's 'Old Curiosity Shop' will remember the celebrated 'limbs of the law' therein described, under the names of Mr. and Mrs. Sally Brass, and the poor little girl, whom they almost starved to death—Dick Swiveller,s 'Marchioness.' Many without doubt, thought the characters overdrawn; but a case recently came before the Police Court at Guildhall London, which in its terrible truth puts to shame all fiction.

A lawyer and his wife, of good standing and wealth, and practising in one of the Courts were charged with starving almost to death a servant girl in their employ. The facts elicited from the witnesses were some of them too horrible to relate; and the Judge remarked that he scarcely felt strength to go on much farther that day with the sickening details. It was proved that the poor girl—while the lawyer and wife were eating their roast beef and steaks—was denied anything but a trifle of bread and some mustard; and this diet was continued, day after day, 'till she got so poor that her bones almost wore through her skin, and she could scarcely walk. She was most cruelly beaten, and was forced by her inhuman master and mistress to tell every one who asked, that she had plenty to eat, and was happy. The physician thought no sickness, nothing but the want of food had reduced her to such a feeble and dangerous state. At a one stage in the proceedings, the girl was borne into court upon pillows, and was sworn. She was white as a corpse, and gave her testimony in whispers; and when it was repeated by the judge, who bent his ear down close to her lips, a thrill of horror ran through the crowd in attendance. It seemed impossible that such things could take place in the heart of London and in the family of one whose position was far above 'the common herd.'

In a little while the girl ceased to whisper. She had fainted, and the physician said that her life was in great danger, and the further examination was put off until she could regain her strength. But is doubtful whether she will live; and, if not the charge against the lawyer and his hideous wife will be still more serious than the one now entertained against them.

QUINCY PATRIOT

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 22d. 851

John A. Greep, Editor.

Declination.—We are requested to state that Joseph W Roberston, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, declines a re-election.

THE FUGITIVE SLAVE CASE—A Tempest in a Tea Pot—The Farce which came off in the city last week, in relation to the "Fugitive Slave," has aroused the whole patriotism and chivalry of the nation. The Press has come down upon us without mercy. The excitement in Washington on the reception of the news, it is said, was intense. Senators became alarmed, and conferred with each other, to see what could be done to avert the threatened calamity; they inferred that an absolute dissolution of the Union had taken place, and that their parliamentary services was fast drawing to an end. Mr Clay declared from his seat, that he "was astonished and astounded, when he read the accounts in the newspapers of the occurrence." The President, appeared to partake of their fears, and issued his Proclamation, which contains good advice, and an admonition to do better in future. Really, we think, too much importance has been attached to an affair which is liable to occur in the best regulated communities

THE LYCEUM.

Mr. Green.—Rev. Mr. Rodar, delivered an interesting lecture, before the Lyceum on Thursday evening last. His style was clear, and the expression distinct. He displayed talent, ripend by devotion and experience, and as far as he entered into his subject we are not aware that much difference of opinion exists in the application of facts presented.

His subject was education in its broadest sense; not merely elementary instruction, but that acquired by inspiration and the action of secular and ecclesiastical arrangements—whose principles are best understood by the terms Church and State, not necessity, rational organizations, but the policy of each as it exists among men, under any form of society that embraces its essential principles.

His aim was to show that so far as the age in which we live claims to be an age of progress, it is in error; and that the ancients were more learned and better educated, than the present race of men; he instanced Aristotle and Plato in Philosophy; Raphael and others in Painting; Phidias, in Sculpture; Archimedes, in Mechanics; Cicero, and Demosthenes in eloquence; and some other masters in the sciences—he also referred to the application of mechanical powers which are unknown to us, by which immense weight were raised to a height that seems to be beyond the ability of human power, by any machinery we have—the loss of the Tyrean purple, and the art of staining glass—the stupendous aequeducts of Rome, compared with the Canton, via dust—the existence of a manuscript in the Vatican which describes the Steam engine, some centuries ago.

None will deny the facts enumerated—that there were great masters in Philosophy and eloquence among the ancients, to whom we still look with delight; for truth immortal, and does not grow dim with age,"—that many of the acts have not been equalled in modern times; shall we therefore conclude there has been no progress in the condition of the human race? Can we forget that Galileo was persecuted for asserting the earth revolved around its axis, and was obliged to renounce this well known fact as an error at variance with the doctrines of revelation? That the circulation of the blood was not known until the time of Harvey? That the part of a Steam Engine being described in a book of the Vatican, and disregarded shows the public mind was not sufficiently enlightened to put it in operation; was electricity understood until the days of Franklin; that element which carries our thoughts around the world with as great rapidity as they are conceived and enables man to converse with his brother man with unmeasured distance between them? Th application of steam power, which if the Ancients knew anything about was a barren knowledge—the art of printing, the laws of gravitation, and much of chemestry which belong to a later age, an evidence of human progress which cannot be effaced, and in point of usefulness may dispute the palm with all the sciences of the ancients, so far as the happiness of the human family is effected by them.

There was a part of the subject, upon which the lecture did not enter, and upon which we should be happy to hear him discourse; we mean the moral and political condition of the human race as it now exists, compared with what it was in the periods of time to which he has drawn our attention. He surely will not contend that in the best days of Greece and Rome, the most enlightened States of antiquity, that liberty was understood as it now is—that the citizens of those nations enjoyed the freedom that we now enjoy, and the priviledges and security afforded by governments of the present day. On the contrary, the splendid monuments of antiquity—its pyramids, massive buildings and aequoducts, from the existence of oppression; such monuments could not be raised by ordinary toil; the hands of millions must have been employed in erecting them and such a mass of human labor, could have been commanded only by the power of despotic tyrany.

This is, it appears to us, the true point from which we can determine the question whether this is really the age of progress,—this question does not depend upon the existence of lofty buildings, splendid monuments, and handsome pictures; but whether the masses now enjoy greater freedom and happiness; have more means of acquiring knowledge, and consequently of procuring happiness than they in the early history of our race, if it can be shown that the ancients surpassed us in these things, we shall be ready to admit their superiority, and that mankind ought to return again to the semi barbaria n yes of ignorance opression.

HANCOCK.

In the town of Leicester, the house is still shown where Richard III, passed the night before the battle of Bosworth; and there is a story of him, still preserved in the corporation records, which illustrates the corporation records, which illustrates the caution and darkness of that prince's character. It was his custom to carry, among the baggage of his camp, a cumbersome wooden bed, which he pretended was the only bed he could sleep in. Here he contrived a secret receptable for his treasure, which lay concealed under a weight of timber. After the fatal day on which Richard fell, the Earl of Richmond entered Leicestor with his victorious troops; the friends of Richard were pillaged, but the bed was neglected by every plunderer, as useless lumber. The owner of the house afterwards discovering the hoard, became suddenly rich, without any visible cause.—He bought lands, and at length arrived at the dignity of being mayor of Leicester. Many years afterwards, his widow, who had been left in great affluence, was murdered for wealth by her servant maid, who had been privy to the affair, and at the trial of this woman and her accomplices, the whole transaction came to light.

Items.—The Hungarian exiles being about to depart for their new home in Texas, have published a card expressing their warmest thanks for their friendly reception in this country, and state that they will cherish its remembrance with pleasure.

The great excitement at San Francisco for a few days past, has been the reports of immense richness of the beach sand found on the coast, in the region of the Sacramento River. Assaying instruments have been put on paper, and a company formed formed for the purpose of collecting the sand and determining its value. Such has been the excitement and the general impression is, that there was a fortune for all at the Gold Bluff, the locality referred to that numberless vessels have been fitted out, some of which have sailed and others are daily departing. If one fifty the estimates are well founded, the black sands of Klamath are sufficient to give each California adventurer a fortune.

Elopement.—The Petersburg (Va.) South Side Democrat says that Mr. George P. Ramspeck, a citizen of that town, in consideration that variety is the spice of life, determined to abandon a spouse who had given him a half dozen pledges of devoted affection for the charms of a newer bride, and left a letter telling her that she should never see her beloved Ramspeck never more.

The Cat.—Schooner John Rowell, of and for New Orleans, from San Juan, (Nicaragua,) with passengers from California, who had each paid $45 for their passage, put in Charges previous to the 27th ult. and was condemned. The passengers demanded their money back, and were refused by the agent; they lashed him to the fore scuttle of the vessel, and gave him a round dozen; he relented, and returned the money.

Richest Man In Virginia. The editor of the Lynchburg Virginian says there is a gentlemen residing in Pittsylvania county, who owns 1500 or 2000 slaves, and plantations almost without number. The increase of his slaves enables him annually to settle a large plantation.

New Bedford is about to send a block of stone to the National Monument, bearing an "appropriate" device. The device to be appropriate, should be—very like a whale.

Candles. In Russia, the candles used in the mines are made of tallow mixed with charcoal dust (or powdered charcoal) which is found to increase the intensity of the light. Let some of our chandlers try this mixture.

We see it stated that a great quantity of counterfeit ten cent pieces have been issued from a secret mint in Connecticut. They are dated 1847 and 1848, are very well executed, and readily pass. They may however, be easily detected by the absence of the circlet of stars around the figures of Liberty, which is to be found on the genuine coin.

A Mr. George Thompson, belonging to Massachusetts, in travelling through one of the Southern States, lately, had a very narrow escape from lynching. He had hard work to persuade the Southerners that he was not the abolition lecturer, Thompson.

A "Brevard of the Vidders." It is said that a dashing widow recently entangled with her ringlets a rich old gentleman of Boston, whom she induced to part with real estate to the amount of $80,000 which sums she converted into bills of credit and dashed off to Europe on a little holiday excursion. "O, these inveigling vidders!"

ARRIVAL OF THE AFRICA
AT NEW YORK.

Fourteen Days Later From Europe.

Steamer Atlantic Safe in Cork Harbor;

The Cunard steamer Africa, reached her wharf in Jersey City at half past eight o'clock on Saturday evening.

No sooner were her guns heard in the city than thousands of our citizens rushed to the Battery and to all the docks on the North River to obtain the earliest intelligence, if any, of the missing steamer.

At length, when within hailing distance, one of her officers ascended the paddle-box, and with his speaking trumpet, announced in a stentorian voice. "The Atlantic is safe she has put into cork with a broken Shaft!"

At this announcement, a shout went up which made the welkin ring. The Atlantic left Liverpool on the 25th Dec. at 4 o'clock, P. M., Fresh wind from West Northwest, and continued heavy gales from the westward till the 6th of January, at 6 30 P. M. when the centre shaft broke, fracturing the pillar block, and rendering the engines useles.

After disposing of her Machinery, and putting her in sailing trim, her course wos shaped for Halifax—distance eight hundred and ninety miles New York fourteen hundred but on the 10th another gale springing up from the south west, when the Captain, finding it impossible to reach that place in her present disabled condition, had counsul taken with his officers and the passengers when it was deemed most prudent to alter her course for the coast of Europe finally, at noon of the 22d she reached Cork without further accident.

France. The ministeral crisis is over, and another new cabinet has been formed.

The chief editor of Siecle, recently died at Paris.

A conspiracy, has just been discovered, meetings of which were held at the Barriere Pigole. At an unexpected moment the Police surrounded the house, and thirty-six individuals were immediately arrested, and subsequently twenty-five more. They were all delegates of the Socialists or Drilling Societies. A proclamation in lithograph of a Democratic character, was seized.

The Times stigmatizes the members of the new Cabinet as men so little known to fame that nothing can be anticipated from them.

Paris Bourse—Closing Prices. Five per cents 96,35, Three per cents, 37,90. Bank of France 2,242,50.

Schleswig-Holstein. Nothing new has occured among Schleswelgers. The king of Denmark has commanded that no measures whatever shall shall be taken against those who have taken up arms against him.

Rome. A report to the effect that the Pope of Rome is about to abdicate and retire to a monastery or life, has been received.

England. The Liverpool Journal of Feb 1st gives an abstact of the Queen's Speech, was to be delivered before Parliment on the 4th inst. The summary makes the Queen announce that she receives most friendly assurances from foreign powers; that she is rejoiced at the peaceful condition of the Kingdom and colonies, and that she regrets the depression of agriculture in some counties in England. She alludes to the late Catholic excitement, and, of couse, reprehends the Roman Catholic distribution of the country into dioceser.

The new houses of Parliament have been in danger of sharing the fate of St. Stephens. Fire broke out in the clock tower, on the afternoon of the 29th of Janury, and for a time it was feared the conflagration would be most disastsous it was checked before any serious damage was done.

CONGRESS.

Monday, Februrary 17th, 1851.

Mr Fetch presented the credentials of Mr Cass, re-elected for six-years from the fourth of March next.

Mr. Hamlin presented a petition that naval vessels be sent to California to bring back numbers of Americans now there.

Mr Miller presented a petition for a line of steamers to Africa.

Mr Hamlin presented a petition from Maine for the repeal or modification of the fugitive law. He said the Judiciary Committee had been for some days considering the Fugitive Slave law. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. Butler said he did not care whether the petition was referred or not, he would have nothing to do with the subject. The law ought be repealed or not.

Mr Atchison moved that the vote referring the petition be reconsidered; there was no reason why the petition presented by the Senator from Maine should be referred, and the same kind of petition if presented by the Senator from New York he laid on the table. After some debate the Senate reconsidered and the petition was tabled.

Mr Clay offered a resolution calling on the President for information relative to the riot in Boston. Laid over.

The resolution asked whether it was necessary to enact a law to enforce the carrying into execution of the Fugitive Slave law.

Mr Hale coincided with Mr Clay in a great par of his indignation. He was sorry, however, that a little of it was not heard when the newspapers said a judge in a Southern State refused to issue his warrant to execute the law for the recovery of fugitives from justice. No resolution asking the President if he had heard of it was offered. No indignation when bands of armed men paraded Southern States to invade Cuba. Nor was any resolution offered when the mob held this city two days, under President's nose. Mobs might take place any where. He had heard of one in Kentucky, when a printing office was broken up, and sent out of the State.

President's Proclamation concerning the Boston riot:

Whereas information has been received, that sundry lawless persons, principally persons of color, combined and confederated together for the purpose of opposing by force the execution of the laws of the United States, did, at Boston, Massachusetts, on the 15th, of this month, make a violent assault on the Marshals of the United States, for the District of Massachusetts, in the Court House and did outrage the said officers, and did by force, reecue from their custody a person arrested as a fugitive slave, and then and there a prisoner, lawfully holden by the said Marshal or Deputy Marshals of the United States, and other scandalous outrages did commit in violation of law—Now,

Therefore, to the end that the authority of the laws may be maintained, and those concerned in violating them brought to immediate and condign punishment, I have issued this my proclamation calling on all well disposed citizens to rally to the support of the laws of their country, and requiring and commanding all officers, civil and military, who shall be found within the vicinity of this outrage to be aiding and assisting, by all means in their power, in quelling this and other such combinations, and assisting the Marshal and his deputies in recapturing the above mentioned prisoner.

And I do especially direct that prosecutions be commenced against all persons who shall have made themselves aiders or abettors in or to this flagiitious offence. And I do further command that the District Attorney of the United States, cause the foregoing offenders, and such as have aided, abetted, or assisted them, or shall be found to have concealed such fugitive, contrary to law, to be immediately arrested, and proceded with according to law.

Given under my hand and the seal of the United States, this 18th. day of February 1851.

MILLARD FILLMORE

[LS] D. Webster.,
Secretary of State.

ARRIVAL OF THE MEXCO AT NEW ORLEANS
AND THE CRESENT CITY NEW YORK.

The Cresent City bringing three hundred thousand dollars in gold and one hundred and fifty passengers, there dates are up to Jan 22d from San Francisco. They brought no mails

The California Legislature assembled on the 6th of january.

Governor Burnett had resigned, and Mr. Mc Dougall had been inaugurated in his stead David Broderick was elected President of the Senate.

Thomas Butler King had arrived at San Francisco.

There was great excitemant on recount of new discoveries of gold in the beach sands on the Coast, of wonderful richness,—other rich discoveries have also recently been made, and the miners, generally are doing well.

The City of Conception, at Chili, has been destroyed by an earthquake.

Important from Metico. New York, 18th Four New Orleans mails are at hand. The San Antonio Ledger gives the following: We have received no information from other sources to corroberate the statement, but doubt not they are true in their general features. From these accounts it appears that the people of Monterey and eastward of that city to the Rio Grande, have long been wearied of the exactions and aspersions of the military and have been desirous to throw off the Mexican yoke. They have lately risen in arms in Monterey and overpowered the military authorites. The celebrated Canales has espoused the side of the leader of the popular movement. The people were said to be triumphant in Monterey.

An attempt was also made to get up a revolution at O, Rile in the vicinity of Camargo but it failed, and many of those engaged in it had sought safety in Texas. They believe however, that the attept will soon be renewed withbetter success.

A project is now on foot to light San Francisco by gas.

TOWN MEETING.

NORFOLK, SS. To either of the Constables of the Town of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, GREETING:

L. S. In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, you are directed to notify the Inhabitants of the Town of Quincy qualified to vote in Elections, and in town affairs, to meet at the Town Hall in said Quincy, on MONDAY, the third day of March next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to act on the following articles, viz:—

Article 1st.—To choose a Moderator.

Article 2d.—To determine whether the town will choose their town officers such as they are accustomed to elect by ballot on one ticket.

Article 3d.—To choose all such town Officers as the law requires.

Article 4th.—To hear and act on the report of the Auditors of accounts.

Article 5th.—To raise such sums of Money to defray the necessary expenses of the town the ensuing year, as they may think proper when assembled.

Article 6th.—To determine what sum the town will raise for the support of schools the ensuing year and how it shall be appropriated.

Article 7th.—To know what method the town will adopt for repairing the highways the ensuing year.

Article 8th.—To know what method the town will adopt for improving the town's land the ensuing year.

Article 9th.—To determine what compensation the town will allow their Treasurer and Clerk for services the past year.

Article 10th.—To know whether the town will authorize the several school Districts to choose their Prudential Committee and that they select and contract with the teachers.

Article 11th.—To know what compensatio the town will allow the Stewards and members of the several Engine Companies for their services the past year.

Article 12th.—To know if the town will grant the use of the Town Hall and Lyceum Room for Temperance meetings free from all expense when not otherwise engaged.

Article 13th.—To bring in their votes for Register of Deeds.

Article 14th.—To revise the Jury Box.

Article 15th.—To see if the town will erect a building for the purpose of a public High School.

Article 16th.—To bring in their votes for County Treasurer.

Article 17th.—To choose any Committee or hear and act on the report of any Committee they may think proper when assembled.

Hereof fail not and make return of this Warrant, with your doings thereon unto the Town Clerk at or before the time appointed for said Meeting.

Given under our hands and seals at Quincy this fifteenth day of Febuary, in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and fifty-one.

JOSEPH W. ROBERTSON, } Selectmen
GEORGE MARSH, } of
ELIJAH BAXTER, } Quincy.

A true copy—Attest;—

SETH ADAMS, Constable.

NORFOLK SS. Quincy Feb 18th, 1851.

Pursuant to the above Warrant, I hereby notify and warn the inhabitants of the Town of Quincy, qualified as therein expressed, to meet at the time, place, and for the purposes therein named.

SETH ADAMS, Constable of Quincy.

NOTICE

Rev. J P Terry of South Weymouth, will lecture on the subject of Temperance at the Town Hall next Monday evening Febury 24th, commencing at seven o'clock.

J M WADE Secretary of the "Union Board"

Cotillon Party.

Those interested in the above party are requested to meet at the Hancock House Monday Evening, the 24th to make arrangements.

Per Order.

THE DEMOCRATIC AND FREE SOIL MEETING.

The Democratic and Free Soil citizens of Quincy, are hereby notified that a Union Caucus will be holden at the Lyceum Room on Friday evening, (Feb. 28th,) at half past seven o'clock, for the purpose of selecting candidates for Town Officers, for the year ensuing.

Per Order of the Committees.

Quincy Lyceum.

HIS EXCELLENCY Gov. BOUTWELL, will will deliver the SEVENTEENTH LECTURE before this Society the present season, next THURSDAY EVENING, commencing at 7 1-2 o'clock.

H. O. WHITNEY, Secretary.

DIED

Died in South Boston, February 11th, Mrs Martha H. Johnson, wife of Mr Robert Johnson, aged 23 years.

Executor's Sale of Real Estate.
IN QUINCY

THE Estate of the late Deacon John Sullivan, at Quincy, will be sold at Public Auction, on the premises, on TUESDAY, March 11th—at half past 2 o'clock, P. M—if stormy, the first fair day, at the same hour. The said property consists of a spacious and Out Buildings, together with about 30 Acres of Upland, easy to work, and under good Cultivation; on which are over 200 Fruit Trees, mostly in bearing; with Shrubbery and Grape Vines.
DWELLING HOUSE

The property is situated in that part of Quincy, known as Germantown; 11 mils from the City by land, 9 by water; and in point of Location, and natural Beauty, and addaptedness to the purposes of a Summer Watering Place, is unsurpassed by the most favored resorts in this vicinity.

Lying on Quincy Bay, a beautiful arm of the sea, it is accessible by water at all times of Tide, and possesses ample facilities for Sea Bathing and fishing. The most inviting drives are found in the immediate neighborhood; together, with a blended scenery of Sea and Land, as varied and Picturesque as can be desired.

JOHN SPENCE Executor.
L. G. HORTON, Auctioneer.
Quincy, Feb. 22d 3w

MUFFS.

I. W. MUNROE has a few Muffs remaining, which will be sold very cheap.
Quincy, Feb, 14th 1851.

Crockery and Glass Ware.

GOOD assortment for sale at the very lowest prices, please examine prices and quality before purchasing.

I W MUNROE

Quincy, Feb, 14th, 1851.

Linen Cambrick Backs.

LADIES in want of Handks are invited to examine.

I W. MUNROE.
Quinco, Feb. 14th, 1851. tf

NEW DE LAINES AND PRINTS, just received and for sale at

I. W. MUNROE,
Quincy, Feb. 14th, 1851, tf

To Let.

ONE half of a House in Franklin St. now occupied by Lewis Curtis, and possession given the first of April.
A Shoe Makers Shop, can be had with it if required, enquire on the premises of

JABEZ BIGELOW.
Quincy Feb 22d 1851. tf

Granite Quarries For Sale.
IN QUINCY.

ABOUT Sixty Acres of Land belonging to the late Capt. JOSIAH BASS, with several valuable STONE LEDGES on the same. It will be devided into Lots to suit purchasers. For further information inquire of

LEWIS BASS
Quincy Feb 22d tf

Assignee's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Assignee of the estate of
BENJAMIN NEWCOMB
of Braintree, teamster, an Insolvent debtor; and further notice is given, that a meeting of his creditors will be held at the office of Francis Hulland Esq. a Commissioner of Insolvency for the County of Norfolk, in Roxbury on the thirty first day of March, ensuing at ten o'clock of the forenoon, where all persons interested may be present and prove their claims.

SILAS BINNEY, Assignee
Weymouth, Feb 22d 2w

Exchanged or Stolen.

A long shawl was taken in exchange for a cashmere at the Ball on Friday night Feb 14th.
Whoever has taken the shawl will be liberally rewarded, and receive their own, if they will return it to W B Leanards Jewelry Store, Hancock St Quincy. 1 w

BOSTON MUSEUM
Tremont Street,..... Boston

ALWAYS OPEN DAY AND EVENING.

THIS MUSEUM is the largest, most valuable, and best arranged in the United States. It comprises no less than
SEVEN DIFFERENT MUSEUMS
to which has been added the present year, besides the constant daily accumulation of articles, One Half of the celebrated
PEALE'S PHILADELPHIA MUSEUM, embodying the already immense collection to upwards of
HALF A MILLION ARTICLES
the greatest amount of objects of interest to be found together at any one place in America; and an entirely
NEW HALL OF WAX STATUARY,
One Hundred Feet in length, filled to its utmost capacity with WAX FIGURES of the size of life, simply and in groups, to the number of upwards of TWO HUNDRED, which have been in preparation for the last two years by a corps of the most distinguished artists to be found in either the old country or the new, and are so NATURAL and LIFELIKE as to

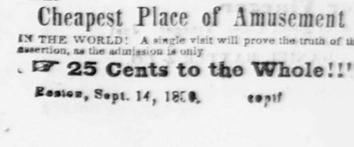
Mock Reality,

and lead the beholder to doubt whether the figures do not actually live and breathe. Among the most prominent will be found the celebrated Tableaux of

CHRIST'S LAST SUPPER
with his Twelve Disciples; representing the consternation and dismay of the chosen ones at the moment when he told them that ONE OF THEM SHOULD BETRAY HIM.
THE PRODIGAL SON,
returned home clothed in rags, and received by his forgiving father. The imposing spectacle of
THE CRUCIFIXION,
composed of more than forty figures; a correct representation of that event, according to the best received authorities.
Christ Disputing with the Doctors
a characteristic group of seven figures.

THE GAME OF LIFE,
in which is shown the Christian and Satan contending for mastery.
THE SIAMESE TWINS,
and their beautiful American wives;
Representation by nine figures, of the
MASSACRE BY PIRATES
of the passengers of a merchantman in the Indian Sea. A description by one of the survivors.

HORRORS OF SLAVERY,
as exemplified by seven figures, being actual likenesses of slave-owner, a slave-driver, and their victims.
MURDER OF MISS McCREA,
by the Indians during the Revolutionary war; a thrilling group showing the characteristics of the Red Men.
INTEMPERANCE,
and its certain evils; illustrated in three groups, the last a correct picture of a



Wife Murdered by her Husband
Also, groups of a School,—a Milliner's Shop,—a Shoemaker's Shop,—a Barber's Shop,—a Blacksmith's Shop, &c., as well as a variety of single figures of distinguished men, &c., within wards of
One Hundred of Cabinet Size,
rendering it the largest collection of Wax Figures in America. The entire of the above, and the immense collection of
BIRDS, BEASTS, FISH, INSECTS & REPTILES
obtained from all parts of the world, together with innumerable varieties of Natural and Artificial Curiosities;

Paintings, Engravings and Statuary
OIL PORTRAITS
of the GREAT and GOOD of all nations,—Naval and Military Heroes, Patriots, Statesmen, and Divines,—Rare Coins and Medals;—Shells, Corals, and Fossils;
EGYPTIAN MUMMIES,
and ancient Sarcophagi, 3000 Years old; and an entire
Family of Peruvian Mummies
the DUCK-BILLED PLATYPUS, the connecting link between the BIRD and BEAST, being evidently half each;—the curious half-fish, half-human

FEJEE MERMAID,
which was exhibited in most of the principal cities of America in the years 1846, '47, and '48, to the wonder and astonishment of thousands of naturalists and other scientific persons, whose previous doubts of the existence of such an astonishing creature were entirely removed;
Elephants and Ourang-Outangs;
ANIMALS and BIRDS of every nation; Sharks, Seals and a variety of FISHES, including the curious
SAW AND SWORD FISH,
all in lifelike preservation; the whole forming a School of Instruction, blended with Amusement, that for extent and interest is unequalled in the known world;—the whole to be seen for the small admission fee of
TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.
In Addition to which, and
WITHOUT EXTRA CHARGE,
visitors are admitted to the gorgeous Exhibition Hall, which has been newly decorated at an expense of nearly five thousand dollars, where they can witness the magnificent
THEATRICAL ENTERTAINMENTS,
given EVERY EVENING, and WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, by a Company of Comedians and Orchestra of Musicians, admitted to be SUPERIOR to any ever before collected in this country, with the aid of
Stage and Scenic Arrangements,
the most grand and superb ever seen in either Europe or America! thus warranting the universal admission that the Boston Museum, besides being the most comfortable and genteel, also the
Cheapest Place of Amusement
IN THE WORLD! A single visit will prove the truth of this assertion, as the admission is only
☞ 25 Cents to the Whole!!!
Boston, Sept. 14, 1850. eopif or before the time appointed for said

under our hands and seals at Quincy nth day of Febuary, in the year of eighteen hundred and fifty-one.

W. ROBERTSON, } Selectmen
E MARSH, } of BAXTER, } Quincy.

opy—Attest;—
SETH ADAMS, Constable.

LK SS. Quincy Feb 18th, 1851.

nt to the above Warrant, I hereby no-warn the inhabitants of the Town of qualified as therein expressed, to meet ne, place, and for the purposes therein

H ADAMS, Constable of Quincy.

NOTICE

P Terry of South Weymouth, will lecture bject of Temperance at the Town Hall day evening Febuary 24th, commencing o'clock.

J M WADE Secretary of the Board."

Cotillon Party.

nterested in the above party are requested
the Hancock House Monday Evening, o make arrangements.

PER ORDER.

MOCRATIC AND FREE SOIL MEET-ING.

mocratic and Free Soil citizens of Quineby notified that a Union Caucus will be the Lyceum Room on Friday evening, ) at half past seven o'clock, for the pur-electing candidates for Town Officers, r ensuing.

er of the Committees.

Quincy Lyceum.

CELLENCY Gov. BOUTWELL, will r the SEVENTEENTH LECTURE be-
Society the present season, next THURS-
ENING, commencing at 7 1-2 o'clock.

H. O. WHITNEY, Secretary.

DIED

South Boston, February 11th, Mrs Mar-nson, wife of Mr Robert Johnson, aged or's Sale of Real Estate.

IN QUINCY

tate of the late Deacon John Sullivan, at , will be sold at Public Auction, on the n TUESDAY, March 11th—at half past
. M—if stormy, the first fair day, at the
The said property consists of a spacious DWELLING HOUSE
uildings, together with about 30 Acres of y in work, and under good Cultivation;
e over 200 Fruit Trees, mostly in bearing;
bery and Grape Vines.
perty is situated in that part of Quincy, ermantown; 11 mils from the City by ater; and in point of Location, and ma-
, and adaptedness to the purposes of a ering Place, is unsurpassed by the most rts in this vicinity.
Quincy Bay, a beautiful arm of the sea, ble by water at all times of Tide, and ple facilities for Sea Bathing and fishing.
rting drives are found in the immediate d; together, with a blended scenery of d, as varied and Picturesque as can be

IN SPENCE Executor.
L. G. HORTON, Auctioneer.
b 22d 3w

MUFFS.

UNROE has a few Muffs remaining,
will be sold very cheap.
eb, 14th 1851.

kery and Glass Ware.

ssortment for sale at the very lowest
, please examine prices and quality beg.

I W MUNROE
b, 14th, 1851.

Cambrick Hanks.

in want of Handks are invited to ex-

I W. MUNROE.
b. 14th, 1851. tf

E LAINES AND PRINTS, just receiv-for sale at

I. W. MUNROE,
b 14th, 1851, tf

To Let.

ONE half of a House in Franklin St.
now occupied by Lewis Curtis, and session given the first of April.
Shoe Makers Shop, can be had with it
nquire on the premises of

JABEZ BIGELOW.
b 22d 1851. tf

e Quarries For Sale.
IN QUINCY.

ty Acres of Land belonging to the late
SIAH BASS, with several valuable
GES on the same It will be devided t purchasers For further information

LEWIS BASS
22d tf

signee's Notice.

hereby given that the subscriber has appointed Assignee of the estate of NJAMIN NEWCOMB
omster, an Insolvent debtor; and furth-en, that a meeting of his creditors will ffice of Francis Hulbard Esq. a Comsolvency for the County of Norfolk, the thirty first day of March, ensuing of the forenoon, where all persons in-present and prove their claims.

SILAS BINNEY, Assignee
Feb 22d 2w

hanged or Stolen.

was taken in exchange for a cash-
e Ball on Friday night Feb 14th.
taken the shawl will be liberally receive their own, if they will return it ards Jewelry Store, Hancock St
1 w

BOSTON MUSEUM,
Tremont Street,..... Boston.

ALWAYS OPEN DAY AND EVENING.

THIS MUSEUM is the largest, most valuable, and best arranged in the United States. It comprises no less than

SEVEN DIFFERENT MUSEUMS,

to which has been added the present year, besides the constant daily accumulation of articles, One Half of the celebrated

PEALE'S PHILADELPHIA MUSEUM,

owning the already immense collection to upwards of

HALF A MILLION ARTICLES,

the greatest amount of objects of interest to be found together at any one place in America; and an entirely

NEW HALL OF WAX STATUARY,

One Hundred Feet in length, filled to its utmost capacity with WAX FIGURES of the size of life, singly and in groups, to the number of upwards of TWO HUNDRED, which have been in preparation for the last two years by a corps of the most distinguished artists to be found in either the old country or the new, and are so NATURAL and LIFELIKE as to

Mock Reality,

and lead the beholder to doubt whether the figures do not actually live and breathe. Among the most prominent will be found the celebrated Tableaux of

CHRIST'S LAST SUPPER

with his Twelve Disciples; representing the consternation and dismay of the chosen ones at the moment when he told them that ONE OF THEM SHOULD BETRAY HIM.

THE PRODIGAL SON,

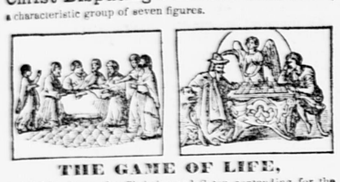
returned home clothed in rags, and received by his forgiving father. The imposing spectacle of

THE CRUCIFIXION,

composed of more than forty figures; a correct representation of that event, according to the best received authorities.

Christ Disputing with the Doctors;

a characteristic group of seven figures.



THE GAME OF LIFE,

in which is shown the Christian and Satan contending for the mastery.

THE SIAMESE TWINS,

and their beautiful American wives.
Representation by nine figures, of the

MASSACRE BY PIRATES

of the passengers of a merchantman in the India Seas. After a description by one of the survivors.

HORRORS OF SLAVERY,

as exemplified by seven figures, being actual likenesses of a slave-owner, a slave-driver, and their victims.

MURDER OF MISS McCREA,

by the Indians during the Revolutionary war; a thrilling group, showing the characteristics of the Red Men.

INTEMPERANCE,

and its certain evils; illustrated in three groups, the last a correct picture of a

Wife Murdered by her Husband.

Also, groups of a School,—a Milliner's Shop,—a Shoemaker's Shop,—a Barber's Shop,—a Blacksmith's Shop, &c., as well as a variety of single figures of distinguished men, &c., with upwards of

One Hundred of Cabinet Size,

rendering it the largest collection of Wax Figures in America. The entire of the above, and the immense collection of

BIRDS, BEASTS, FISH, INSECTS & REPTILES,

obtained from all parts of the world, together with innumerable varieties of Natural and Artificial Curiosities;

Paintings, Engravings and Statuary,

OIL PORTRAITS

of the GREAT and GOOD of all nations,—Naval and Military Heroes, Patriots, Statesmen, and Divines;—Rare Coins and Medals;—Shells, Corals, and Fossils;

EGYPTIAN MUMMIES,

and ancient Sarcophagi, 3000 Years old; and an entire

Family of Peruvian Mummies:

the DUCK-BILLED PLATTPUS, the connecting link between the BIRD and BEAST, being evidently half each;—the curious half-fish, half-human

FEJEE MERMAID,

which was exhibited in most of the principal cities of America, in the years 1840, '41, and '42, to the wonder and astonishment of thousands of naturalists and other scientific persons, whose previous doubts of the existence of such an astonishing creation were entirely removed;

Elephants and Ourang-Outangs;

ANIMALS and BIRDS of every nation; Sharks, Seals, and a variety of FISHES, including the curious

SAW AND SWORD FISH,

all in lifelike preservation; the whole forming a School of Instruction, blended with Amusement, that for extent and interest is unequalled in the known world;—the whole to be seen for the small admission fee of

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

In Addition to which, and

WITHOUT EXTRA CHARGE,

visitors are admitted to the gorgeous Exhibition Hall, which has been newly decorated at an expense of nearly five thousand dollars, where they can witness the magnificent

THEATRICAL ENTERTAINMENTS,

Free EVERY EVENING, and WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, by a Company of Comedians and an Orchestra of Musicians, admitted to be SUPERIOR to any ever before collected in this country, with the aid of

Stage and Scenic Arrangements,

the most grand and superb ever seen in either Europe or America; thus warranting the universal admission that the Boston Museum, besides being the most comfortable and genteel, is also the

Cheapest Place of Amusement

IN THE WORLD! A single visit will prove the truth of this assertion, as the admission is only

☞ 25 Cents to the Whole!!!

Boston, Sept. 14, 1850. coptf

NEW ENGLND PROTECTIVE

Union, Division No. 179.

JUST opened on Washington Street, a few doors below the Stone Temple, in the Store resently occupied by J. Williams.

The Company respectfully solicit the attention of the public to their mode of Trade, and examine for themselves the quality of their Goods, and their Prices, which will be always exhibited upon a bulletin board.

Their Stock of Goods consists of all kinds of Groceries, Country Produce, FLOUR, CROCKERY WARE, &c.

All of Superior quality, and sold at the lowest possible advance from cost.

No Damaged, Mixed, or inferior goods will be offered for sale.

Quincy, Oct. 5. tf

Contractor's Notice.

PROPOSALS will be received until the 10th day of Feb. inst for furnishing materials, and building a Barn, 120 by 50 feet, on the Mt. Walleston Farm, in Quincy—to be completed by the 1st of July next. For Plan and Specifications, please call on the Subscriber, to whom proposals may be made.

LEWIS BASS.
Quincy, Feb, 1. 1851. tf

New England Protective Union.

DIVISION.....No. 180.

AT the STORE recently occupied by Mr. Frederick Hardwick on Franklin street, may be at a good assortment of

GROCERIES, CROCKERY and GLASS WARE.

Together with a supply of

BOOT MAKERS' FINDINGS.

— ALSO —

BEEF,
PORK,
SAUSAGES,
TRIPE,
LARD,
MACKEREL,
PICKELS,
POTATOES, &c.

All of which will be kept constantly on hand, and will be sold, at a small advance from cost, for cash.

The public are invited to call, and examine our goods, and become acquainted with our mode of trade

N B—The spacious Hall over the store will be let on favorable terms.

☞ Goods delivered to any part of the town free of chearge ☜

Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. tf

☞Shirts.....Shirts☜

I. W. MUNROE, has just received a prime assortment of

☞...FINE SHIRTS....☜

of the latest style, which will be sold at very low prices.

Quincy, Jan 25, 1851. tf

NEW DY GOODS

Establishment!
REMOVAL.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

Have removed to their new and splendid

Wholesale and Retail Establishment

Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,

BOSTON,

Which is the largest sales-room in the United States being 150 feet long and 60 feet wide;

And would invite the attention of Purchasers to their large Stock of Goods, unsurpassed in extent and variety, by any Stock exhibited in New England, consisting of

SHWLS

Of every description, in entire new designs, both long and square.

Plaid Shawls from the Bay State Mills,

Also from the best manufacturers in Scotland.

SILKS & SATINS

Of every quality, style and price, in new and beautiful colors and novel styles, for Cloaks and Dresses.

BLACK SILKS,

Of pure boiled silk, of superior lustre and durability.

Beautiful watered & plain Poplins.

DRESS AND CLOAK GOODS.

Our Stock is large and various, comprising all cos and Styles, from the lowest to the most costly.

Merinos, Thibets and Cashmeres, with Velvits' Silks and Cambrics to match, in all colors and shades.

HOUSE KEEPING GOODS.

Linens, Linen Sheetings, Pillow Case Linens Shirtings, Damasks, Damask Table Covers, Napkins Doylies, Sheetings, Flannels, Blankets, Quilts, Comforters and Prints.

BROADCLOTHS & CASIMERES.

EMBROIDERIES,

The largest assortment in the city.

HOSIERY AND GLOVES:

SHIRTS AND DRAWERS,

Ladies', Gents.' and Children's;

Handkerchiefs, Scarfs, &c., &c.

In fact, all articles usually found in different store may be found in this Establishment.

The Goods will be freely shown, and customers may rely upon receiving the most respectful attention and will find the goods at uniform low prices, as we import our own Goods, and have but one price.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

NEW STORE, Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET
BOSTON.

Oct 5. 3m

Dissolution o Copartner ship.

THE COPARTNERSHIP heretofore existing between the subscribers, under the firm of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO, is by mutual consent this day dissolved.

All persons having demands against said firm, are requested to present the same, and all persons indebted are respectfully requested to make payment to either partner,

JOSIAH BRIGHAM
ISRAEL W. MUNROE.
Quincy, January, 1st 1851.

ISRAEL W. MUNROE.

WILL continue the business at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO., and hopes by close personal application to business to receive a continuance of the patronage so long and liberally bestowed on the late firm.

Quincy, Jan. 4th. 1851. 3w.

Magazines.

LADY'S BOOK, GRAHAM'S, SARTAN'S, PETERSON'S HARPER'S

And other Magazines:

LIVING AGE, BLACKWOOD, NORTH AMERICAN.

And other Reviews:

CHRISTIAN EXAMINER, MONTHLY RELIGIOUS MAGAGZINE, UNIVERSALIST QUARTERLY, MERRY'S MUSEUM, GOLDEN AGE,

And many others:

For which Subscriptions will always be received and the Numbers promptly furnished—Or:

Single copies sold at the lowest prices, at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.
Quincy, Feb 15, 1851. 4w

Farm to Let

TO BE LET, on a Lease, for one or more Years; the FARM known as the

"MOUNT HOPE FARM."

Formerly belonging to the late Col Edward Glover; situated on the Squantum Road, in Quincy. Said Farm is located within about six miles of Boston, and has long been improved as a Milk Farm.

The buildings are in good repair and pleasantly located.

For further information please enquire of the Subscriber, Railway Village, Milton.

EBENEZER POPE.
Milton, Feb. 15, 1851. 6w*

Notice.

THE Subscribar returns his thanks to his friends and the public generally who have favored him with their custom—and would say to those who are purchasing goods, that he intends keeping a good

Assortment of

WEST INDIA GOODS AND GROCERIES:

OF ALL KINDS—Also,

BEEF, PORK, BACON, LARD, & POTATOES:

— AND —

FLOUR:

Of various kinds—by the Barrel or Bag—as low as can be bought for Cash or Credit.

N. B. And delivered as usual.

GEORGE B. LOCKE.
Quincy, Feb, 15, 1851.

Root Makers's Shop to Let

ON Washington street; a few rods from the Old Colony Depot. The Shop is pleasantly situated and well lighted! It is suitable for carrying on the business, and will comfortably seat eight or ten persons. It will be let to one person, or by the single seat.

N B A limited number can be accommodated with board.

For information enquire on the premises of

G. W. KENISON.
Quincy, Feb. 15, 1851.

Notice.

ALL Persons accounts remaining unsettled to Jan 1st., 1851, are requested to call and settle, on, or before the 1st, of March next: or they will be left in the hands of an attorney for collection.

J. RUSSELL.
Quincy. Feb 15, 1851.

BACKGAMMON BOARDS.

VARIOUS Sizes: good finish; selling low at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE
Quincy, Dec. 14, 1850 3w

Family Bibles.

WE continue to sell BEAUTIFUL QUARTO BIBLES, of superior quality and binding, at unprecedentedly low prices. Many have availed themselves of the opportunity offered in a former notice, to purchase a good Bible cheap. We have more left, and invite all to call and examine before purchasing. C GILL & CO.

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.
Quincy, Jan. 4th., 1850. 3w.

House and Land for Sale.

FOR Sale, a story and a half House in good condition—with Barn, sheds, two wells of Water, and other out Buildings—and nine Acres of excellent Land; all under cultivation, with a thrifty orchard of Apple and Cherry Trees, thereon. Situated on Adams' street, joining the Estate of William Newcomb, and about three quarters of a mile from the Depot. The said land, is well calculated for buildtng lots, and will se sold at a baagain. For particulars, enquire on the premises of

MICHAEL GIRETY.
Quincy. Jan. 11, 1851. 2m

House For Sale

A one story and a half House, convenient for two families, built in a substantial manner, with a SHED and about three fourths of an acre of LAND, situated on Granite Street, and about one fourth of a mile from the South Quincy Depot. Will be sold at a bargain, and payments made easy. For particulars, nquire on the premises of

ALPHEUS HUNT.
Quincy, Nov. 16 6m

Notice.

THE Subscribers return their thanks to their friends and the public generally who have favored them with their custom, and would say to those who are purchasing goods, that we intend keeping a good assortment of English, West India goods and Groceries of all kinds.

Also, Beef, Pork, Bacon, Lard, Mackerel, and Vegetables, which will be sold as low as can be bought elsewhere for cash or credit.

Also, Flour by the barrel or bag, as low as can be bought for cash.

N. B. Goods delivered as usual

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 5th. tf

Paper Hangings.

A LARGE Lot of
PAPER HANGINGS.

of 1 to 6 Rolls—some of high Cost—will be closed off, from 25 to 50 per cent discount from cost, to make room for a prime assortment early in the spring.

I. W. MUNROE.
Quincy, Feb 1, 1851. tf

Sloop for Sale.

SUITABLE FOR THE STONE BUSINESS.

FOR Sale, the SLOOP ALMIRA, now lying at Weymouth, near Graves' Mills The said Sloop is in good order, and every way calculated for the above business—for which purpose she has been a number of years employed. Her Sails are nearly new, having been in use only a few months.

She will be sold on reasonable terms by application to

DAVID PRATT, Middle st. Weymouth, Mass
Weymouth, Jan. 11, 1851. 4w*

BROAD CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, TWEEDS and VESTINGS, for sale at a great discount from former prices.

Please call and examine before purchasing, at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

Bakery Business.

THE subscribers respectfully inform the public that they have commenced the baking business at the bakery formerly occupied by L. G. Horton, and hope by their constant attention to the business to merit a share of the public patronage.

J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, Jan. 18th, 1851. tf

W B. Learned

HAVING taken the Store formerly occupied by E C. Redfern, and recently by D R Adams, takes this method of informing his friends and the public that he has just received and is now opening a well selected stock of

WATCHES

JEWELRY

— AND —

Fancy Goods.

Suitable for Christmas and New Year's Presents.

Persons wishing any thing in his line are invite to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

☞ Particular attention given to the REPAIRING of Watches and Jewelry.

Hancock Street, Quincy, Dec. 21, 1850. tf

For Sale.

THE late residence of the REV. WM ALLEN, near the Episcopal Church in Quincy. Apply to THOMAS B HAWKES, No. 10 Exchange Street, Boston.

West Woodstock, Conn. Sept. 7th, 1850. 3m

For Sale, or To Let.

A new and convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated, on Common Street, with a barn and about one acre of Land with Fruit Trees thereon, to be leased or sold. Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND.

Quincy, Nov 9th. tf

To Let.

A Convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated on Common Street, recently occupied by the Widow Driver, with about three acres of good Land, with several fruit trees; an excellent well of water, and a small Barn. Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND.

Quincy, Aug. 10. tf

House for Sale.

FOR Sale a new and convenient dwelling House; one and a half stories high; pleasantly situated on Common street; and an acre of land, with a young orchard of Apple, Cherry and Peach trees, thereon. Said property is pleasantly situated, and will be sold on reasonable terms, by application to

MICHAEL GIRETY, Adams street.
Quincy, Jan. 18, 1851. 2m

Messenger's Notice

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, S. S.

JANUARY, 30, 1851.

FRANCIS HILLIARD, Esq. Commissioner of insolvency in and for the said County of Norfolk, has issued a Warrant against the Estate of

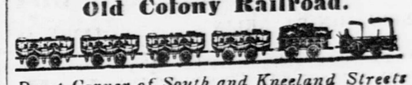
BENJAMIN NEWCOMB,

of Braintree, in said County, Teamster, an Insolvent Debtor, and the paymont of any Debts and the delivery of any Property, belonging to said Incolvent Debtor, to him or for his use, and the transfer of any Property, by him are fobidden by law.

A meeting of his Creditors will be held at a Court of Insolvency, at the Commissioner's Office, in Roxbury, in said County, on the seventeenth day of February next, at ten o'clock, in the forenoon, for the proof of Debts, and the choice of an Assignee or Assignees.

SILAS BINNEY, Deputy Sheriff, Messenger.
Braintree, Feb. 1st. 1851. 3w*

Old Colony Railroad.



Depot Corner of South and Kneeland Streets

FALL Arrangement, commencing September 10, 1850. Trains leave Boston daily, except Sundays—

For Plymouth, 8 1-2 A. M.; 4 1-2, P. M.
For Bridgewater, 8 1-2 A. M; 4 1-2 P. M.
For Quincy and Braintree, 7 3-4, 8 1-2 A. M.; 1 3-4, 3 4, 4 1-2, 9 1-4 P. M.
For Hingham and Cohasset, 8 1-2 A. M.; 3, 6 P M.
For Milton, U. M., 9 3-4 A. M.; 1, 2 3-4, 5 1-2, P. M.
Plymouth for Boston, 7 1-4 A. M; 3 1-4 P. M.
Bridgewater for Boston and Plymouth, 7.1-2 A. M.; 3 1-2 P. M.
Cohasset for Boston, 6 3-4, 8, A. M.; 4 P. M.
Milton U. M. for Boston, 8, 10 1-2 A. M.; 1 3-4 4 3-4, P. M.
Braintree for Boston, 7.18, 8 1-2, 9-40, 11 04, A. M. 2 43, 4 — 2, 5 13, P. M.
☞ The 5 P. M. Train from Boston for Plymouth, will not stop short of South Braintree.

JOS. H. MOORE, Sup't.
Boston, July 25. tf

Trains leave Quincy for Boston as follows:—

7.24, 8.38, 9 47, 11 10, A. M.; 2 54, 4 39 5 10 P. M.

Assignee's Sale.

WILL be sold by public auction at the HANCOCK House in Quincy on WEDNESDAY Feb 12th at 3 o'clock P M sundry accounts and notes belonging to the Estates of Nathan Pratt and Nathan Pratt & Co

Per oder of the Assignee's
GEORGE H. FRENCH Auctioneer
Quincy Feb 8th 1w

FISHER A. KINGSBURY:

COUNSELLOR AT LAW,
WEYMOUTH,
MASS.

Weymouth, Feb. 1, 1851. 6w

Bounty Lands.

CLAIMS for BOUNTY LANDS by Soldiers in the War of 1812—or any Indian War since 1790; their Widows and Minor children, attended to, and Land Warrants obtained, by

FISHER A. KINGSBURY, Weymouth, Mass.
Weymouth, Feb. 1, 1851. 6m

Notice of Settlement.

ALL PERSONS having demands against the TOWN, are requested to present them for payment to the Selectmen, on SATURDAY, the fifteenth, and on MONDAY, the seventeenth, inst., at the Selectmen's Room, in the Town House, from two to five o'clock in the afternoon of each day.

ALSO—All persons indebted to the Alms' House, are requested to settle with

EDWARD F. EATON, Superintendant,

on or before the above named time.

JOSEPH W. ROBERTSON, } Selectmen
GEORGE MARSH, } of
ELIJAH BAXTER } Quincy.

Quincy Feb, 1, 1851. 3w

Chowder!!!

THE Subscriber takes this method to inform the Citizens of Quincy that he has taken the

"FRANKLIN STREET SALOON."

Where may always be found such articles as OYSTERS, PIGS FEET, LAMBS TONGUES, PICKLED CLAMS, and other Refreshments.

Also, CONFECTIONARY, CIGARS, etc.,

CHOWDER, twice a week Wednesday, and Saturday. Open day and Evening

CHARLES C BRACKETT,
Quincy, Feb 8th tf

Boarders Wanted.

8 or 10 BOARDERS Mechanics prefered wanted by the subscriber at his residence in COTTAGE AVENUE

WILLIAM F DYER
Quincy, Feb 8th tf

VALENTINES!

VALENTINES ENVELOPES, NOTE PAPER, etc., at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Also, a BOX for the delivery of Valentines to any part of the town.

Quincy, Feb 8th 2w

JUST received, a good assortment of GENTLEMENS', LADIES and MISSES INDIA RUBBER SHOES

of the best quality, for sale cheap, by

I. W. MUNROE
Quincy, Jan. 11th, 1851. tf

ALL READY

AND NOW OPENING

NEW STYLE FOR FALL AND WINTER TRADE,

JUST RECEIVED T THE

Town Hall Cloth and Clothing Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD Respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made great additions to their present expensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would particularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect THEIR STOCK before buying elsewhere, feeling confident we can sell BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.

N. B—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN, ENGLISH and FRENCH and AMERICAN GOODS. Some of the RICHEST VEST PATTERNS, and a HOST OF PANTALOONERY!

BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVEY DESCIPTION ON HAND,

Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.

HATS, CAPS, &.

P. S.—RUSSELL & CO., having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for public and private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of every article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.

——NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.——

Quincy, March 23.

POETRY

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN

The following beautiful Ode, composed by Benjamin P. Shillaber, was sung at the Printers Banquet, which come off on the 7th inst. at Niblo's New York, in honor of the birth day of Benjamin Franklin.

Mother of Arts! thy children come,
Anew fraternal faith to plight,
As brethren round the hearth of home,
On some time honored festal night;
To cast the harsh emotions by,
The turmoil that the world imparts,
And crowd the quick hours, as they fly,
With melody from genial hearts

All sorrow borne, or ills endured,
Forgotten be in present joy;
Relax the nerve to toil inured,
In Friendship's beam, in Mirth's employ;
Most blest the season that can bring
Respite from Care's corroding chain,
Where flowers of soul luxuriant spring,
To make the saddened smile again.

Here as we mingle souls to night,
One thought pre eminent must press,
One topic to impart delight,
The wasting years make us never less;
We spoke the name that gods our art,
Impressed on Time's illumined page
And cherished warm in every heart,
The Printer's glorious heritage

It prompts a blessing on the past
That reared our institutions are;
It bids us hopeful glances cast,
Where duty's path is for it wait;
The fame of Franklin and the blood
That quicker at its magic sound,
And rushing memory brings a flood
Of mighty deeds to ray it round.

It brightly beams, as doth that star
The sailor seeks to point his course,
Unchanging ever mid the war
Of waves that threat him with their force;
And that great name, our countrymen,
Will ever cheer us with its light—
Like that north star will still endure,
When our small suns have sunk in night

Mother of Arts! we tribute bring
Of honor to thy mighty son
Whose praise every mouth doth sing,
That strikes a echo in her light upon,
Our brother's—'tis no idle boast—
A proud affinity we claim;
And this to night shall be our toast;
Our brother craftsman Frank is fame.

JOHN'S LAMENT.

Why did they call me "John"? I say,—
Why did they call me "John"?
It's surely just the meanest name
They could have hit upon!
Because my father had it too,
And suffered for the same,
Is that a proper reason he Should propagate the name?

A dozen boys are playing ball,
Each happy as a bird,
When all at once, to spoil the fun,
A sound of "John" is heard:
Five wretched fellows run to see
Why they all called upon,
And four return to play again
And curse the name of "John":

The chap that don't come back again,
Of course, is lucky I;
But whom there's favor in the cure,
I can't imagine why.
I'm always sure to run for naught;
For, just to kill my joy,
The "John" that gets the sugar plums
Is quite another boy!

If I e ould ever have a boy,
(And such a thing may come)
And she old try to call him "John,"
I hope 'twill strike me dumb!
It's sure y just the meanest name
That one could fix upon:
Why did they call me "John"? I say,—
Why did they call me "John"?

I wish I had a little wife,
A little stove and fire,
I'd hug her like a lump of gold,
And let no one come nigh her;
I'd spend my days in happiness,
I'd vegetate in clover,
And when I died I shut my eyes,
Lay down and roll right over

ANECDOTES.

One man who had but a single pair of Shanghae fowl, sold one hundred dollars worth of the eggs during the last season. The old hen finding herself unable to supply the demand, called to her assistance several large hens of mixed breeds, besides six turkeys and several ducks. Profitable hen that Shanghae

The man that minds his own business has got a good steady employment.

Tharoah, convicted of the murder of Miss Sharpless, the Chester Record says objected to the verdict on his way back to his cell, and said it was "a d—d mean jury. "No rogue ever felt the halter draw with good opinion of the law."

An old "revolutioner," says that of all the solemn hours he ever saw, that occupied in going one dark night from the widow Bean's after being told by her daughter Sally, that he needn't come again." was the most so.

A young man at Niagara having been crossed in love, walked out to the precipice, took off his clothes, gave one lingering look at the gulf beneith him—and then went home. His body was found next morning in bed.

DRY GOODS' NOTICE.

THE undersigned most respectfully inform the public that they keep constantly on hand a large Stock of

DRY GOODS,

well adapted to the wants of the community. At all times can be found a good assortment of

Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinets and Doe-Skins, Prints, De Laines, Cashmeres, Alpaccas,

and a great variety of

DRESS GOODS AND SHAWLS,
Sheetings, Shirtings, Flannels, and Blankets.

With a good Assortment of such articles as are usually found in a well selected

Stock of Dry Goods.

Feeling confident that our prices will insure a ready sale, our GOODS will be freely shown to all wishing to examine them

GEORGE SAVIL & CO.
Washington Street, Quincy.
A few rods east of the Stone Meeting House
Quincy, October 5 tf

LADIES
of Quincy and Vicinity.

F. A. JONES & CO.
No. 1
TREMONT ROW,
BOSTON,

Would solicit your attention to the Immense Stock of

NEW GOODS

which they now have, and are daily receiving by every foreign arrival, suitable to the

AUTUMN TRADE OF 1850.

Every variety of

SHAWLS,

from the most expensive Cashmere to the cheapest Wool Plaid

SILKS

of every kind and quality, in Blacks and Colors, ALWAYS AT LOW PRICES
FRENCH THIBETS
and
GERMAN MERINOS
Of all Grades
FALL AND WINTER
DRESS GOODS,

Our usual Assortment.

VELVETS,
All Widths and Colors.
FRENCH CLOAKS AND SACKS,
New Patterns and Trimmings.

Together with the Immense Variety of all other Styles Dry Goods Adapted to the Present Season.

Our long experience in the City Retail Trade enables us to know the wants of our customers, and gives us unusual facilities for supplying them. During the whole of our business career, it has always been our intention to offer CHOICE GOODS at LOWER PRICES than any other House in the city. Whether we have done so, we leave the public to judge; but we have succeeded, by always keeping this point in view, in building up the largest in the City of Boston, as the crowds of purchasers who daily throng our Establishment show.

EXCLUSIVE RETAIL TRADE

Our increased facilities will enable us during the present season, to offer still greater inducements, by the simple multiplication of business to such an extent that we can afford to sell each article at a small advance from the cost of importation.

Every variety of goods, we shall, as usual, be supplied with. In short, we mean to make our place of business a resort for the shrewdest and closest purchasers, as well as the most careful and particular, where any lady may be sure of finding all the styles of Choice and Fashionable Goods, always at the very lowest market prices.

Thanking for past favors, we solicit a continuance of that patronage which now enables us to refer you to past experience to prove that at no other place can you receive more fully the value of your money, than at our house; and we feel warranted in asserting that at no time have we been able to offer so many bargains at the present season

TREMONT ROW.
Silk and Shawl Store.
F. A. JONES & CO.,
NO. ONE TREMONT ROW,
Nearly opposite head of Hanover Street,
BOSTON.
Boston, Sept. 7 6mos

REMNANT DE LAINES, from 2 to 6 yds., for sale low, at
I. W. MUNROE'S.
Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851 tf

BROAD CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, TWEEDS and VESTINGS, for sale at a great discount from former prices.
Please call and examine before purchasing at
I. W. MUNROE'S

Sloop for Sale.
SUITABLE FOR THE STONE BUSINESS.

FOR Sale, the SLOOP ALMIRA, now lying at Weymouth, near Graves' Mills. The said Sloop is in good order and every way calculated for the above business—for which purpose she has been a number of years employed. Her Sails are nearly new, having been in use only a few months.
She will be sold on reasonable terms by application to
DAVID PRATT, Middle st. Weymouth, Mass
Weymouth, Jan. 11, 1851 4w*

Israel W. Munroe.

OFFERS for sale at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO., a good assortment of
ENGLISH and WEST INDIA GOODS, CROCKERY, GLASS and HARD WARE, SHOES, HATS and CAPS, PAPER HANGINGS.
And almost every article kept in a variety store, at the lowest prices for cash or approved credit.
Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. tf

A CARD.
J. A. Holden,

Has just received the Fashions for the

FALL AND WINTER
OF 1850.

He has also received Fashionable Goods of the present and approaching season, among which, are

FRENCH, GERMAN AND AMERICAN
Broadcloths!!!

of various colors and qualities.
A great variety of
PANT GOODS,
together with good styles of
VESTINGS, &C.

He is, therefore, more prepared to make Garments for his customers, which cannot fail to please them.
Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

Pure Cider Vinegar.
BY the gallon or barrel, just received, and for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

1851.
THOMAS' Old Farmers' Almanac, for 1851, for sale wholesale and retail, at the
QUINCY BOOK STORE
Quincy Nov 26 1850 3w

N. B.
Geo. Savil & Co.,
Dealers in
READY-MADE CLOTHING
OF
EVERY DESCRIPTION,
AT ROUGH
&
READY HALL,
WASHINGTON STREET,
Quincy.
—O—
A LARGE ASSORTMENT
Constantly on Hand!!
AND FOR SALE
At the Very Lowest Prices!!!
Also,
A GOOD SELECTION
OF
GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.
Quincy, Sept 28 tf

New Goods.
—o—
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.,
HAVE recently made large additions to their Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows:
Moushn DeLaine, a good assortment, very low;
Prints and Ginghams in great variety;
Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters
Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors
Wool Yarn, of all colors;
A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and 12 1-2 cts per yard;
Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other Goods, all of which will be sold at the
VERY LOWEST PRICES.
Quincy, August 31 s tf

Let the Public Call.
THE subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, stock of the best material only used, and the workmanship will vie with any other establishment
By attention to business and promptness to order a liberal share of support is solicited
RALPH LOWE.
Quincy April 13th.

CASH
PAID FOR
OLD IRON, COPPER, BRASS,
PEWTER, LEAD, GLASS,
Rubbers and ink Bottles, Junk,
COBBAGE, PAPER STOCK &c.
—BY—
A. B. PACKARD.

Cholera Dysentery, &c.
MRS. E. HAYDEN offers for sale various articles for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, &c.
Among which are Wildman's Vegetable Syrup; Java Balsam, (a celebrated East Indian remedy;) Billings's Summer Cordial; Arnold's Balsam; Holden's Dysentery Cordial; Jayne's Carminative Balsam; Anti Cholera Drops; Whitwell's Sulphur and Charcoal Pills. And a variety of other articles, for the same diseases
Quincy, July 20 tf

Judd's Medicated Liquid Cuticle
FOR closing wounds without sewing; forming a smooth coating over them, impervious to air and water, much superior to its healing properties to any other plaster, and so elastic as not to impede the motion of a joint; an excellent remedy also, for Burns, Scalds, or any fresh wounds. Price—25 cents per bottle.
Sold by Mrs E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, August 31 tf

THE subscribers would inform the public that they have taken the bakery lately occupied by Mr. Bacon, and hope by their strict attention to business to merit a share of public patronage.
Quincy, Jan

Mrs. Hayden.

GRATEFUL for the patronage she has received for more than twenty years, offers to her friends and the public an ENLARGED STOCK of the best
FAMILY MEDICINES,
Selected and Prepared with care
—ALSO—
Various articles for the use of the sick, among which are, SPOUT DRINKING CUPS; Leech Glasses; Nursing Tubes, of Porcelain, ivory and silver, with and without bottles; India Rubber Breast Pumps, glass Pipes and Shells; Pratt's Patent Nursing Shields; India Rubber and Box Wood do; Bed Pans;
Metal and Glass Syringes;
Crain's, Ingall's and Chapin's Supporters;
Horse Hair Mittens;
English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow;
Spread Plasters, on kid, cloth and paper;
Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes;
Dilsteing Paper and Tissue Dressing; European Leeches, &c., &c.

Physicians' Prescriptions,
Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH.
She has also on hand and is constantly receiving the New and Popular Medicines of the day.
Washington St., rear of Stone Temple.
Quincy, Oct. 20. tf

Salt Pork and Beef.
A FIRST rate article of PORK and BEEF, packed by the subscribers and for sale by the barrel or in smaller quantities to suit purchasers, cheap for CASH
J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, March 16th. tf

CROCKERY WARE
A Splendid Assortment of CROCKERY WARE just received and for sale at the Union Store, on Washington Street, Quincy

Blue Stone China Tea Setts	-	1 75
Mulberry " " "	-	1 75
Light Blue " " "	-	1 37
White " " "	-	1 37

—AND—
A Good Assortment of GLASS & BRITANIA OIL & FLUID LAMPS
Quincy, Dec 7 1850 tf

QUINCY WASHING MIXUTRE
THIS article has been tested by upwards of 60 families during the past week, and all have called it equal to anything of the kind which they have used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and sell it at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart, full directions accompanying it.
By this improvement, it is expected the dry goods market will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this will wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so often will new be bought.
ELISHA PACKARD
tf

Periodical Agency.
C. GILL & Co are Agents for all the Quarterly, Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free from any expense for Postage or transportation. All who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time for which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices. tf Quincy, Dec. 22

Wool Frocking
200 TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.
Also—FROCKS ready made
DANIEL BAXTER & Co
Quincy, Sept 29. tf

Preparation for the Hair.
THE celebrated "Der Schon Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Gloss; Canna's Spanish Fustal, or medicated hair preservative; Tompkins' Chlorion gustrale; Batchelor's instantaneous hair dye; Jules Haules vegetable hair dye. For sale by
Mrs E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept 21. tf

Velvet Trimmings
JUST Received, an assortment of Velvet Trimmings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by
GEO. SAVIL & Co., Washington St.
Quincy, Sept 21. tf

Paper Hangings.
3 TO 400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by
D. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 24th tf

Dyer's Washing Fluid.
A first rate article for washing clothes. For sale by H. A. RANSOM & Co.
Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

Bay State Long Shawls.
AN Assortment just received of the different sizes Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the lowest prices, by GEO. SAVIL and Co, Washington Street, Quincy.
Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

Cider Vinegar.
JUST received, and for sale by the subscribers twenty barrels extra Cider vinegar.
J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850. tf

Apples.
BALDWINS AND RUSSETTS, of the first quality, for sale by
H. A. RANSOM.
Quincy, Oct 12, 1850. tf

Pies, Puddings, Custards, &c.
MRS. E HAYDEN has on hand, a variety of articles for flavoring, viz:—
Peach water; Rose water; etc., etc. Essence of Rose, Cinnamon, Lemon, etc
Also—Sweet Marjoram, Sage, Summer Savory, Thyme, &c.
Quincy, Nov. 16 tf

W. Porter.
DEALER IN
Pine, Spruce and Hemlock
LUMBER,
CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,
LATHS, PICKETS,
CEDAR POSTS, &c.,
new Wharf near Brackett's.
31 tf

Cashmere Scarfs.
sortment of Colors and Sizes, just erd for sale very low, at
I. W. MUNROE'S.
18, 1851. tf

Watches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at the Store of GEORGE B. FOSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum,) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortment of
Gold and Silver
WATCHES
Silver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Rich
HOUSEHOLD GOODS.
His attention will be given personally, at all times, to the REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF WATCHES, which his long experience in that department with Mr. JEFFREY R. BRACKETT, entitles him to the confidence of his friends and customers.
☞His friends and acquaintance when in Boston are invited to call.
THOMAS S. JOHNSON.
Boston, Feb. 23. 1sf

Crockery and Glass Ware.
JUST added to our previous assortment, a new and choice patterns of
Tea and Dining Setts, Washbowls, and Ewers.
H. A RANSOM & Co.
Quincy Sept 1. tf

Brown's
ALMANAC, Pocket Memorandum and Account Book, for 1851, for sale at the
QUINCY BOOK STORE.
Quincy, Nov, 25, 1851. tf

Board in Quincy.
A Gentleman and his wife, or two single gentlemen, can have pleasant rooms and board, at the house of Misses J. B. & M. TOWNSEND, on President's Hill, nearly opposite the depot
Quincy, Nov. 16 3m

Hats and Caps.
2 CASES, Fall styles, just received, and for sale cheap for cash, by
A. B. PACKARD.
Quincy, Dec. 6. 6w

Apples and Potatoes.
50 Bbls RUSSET and GREENING APPLES
200 bushels POTATOES of various kinds,
For sale by
J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, Dec. 7, 1850 tf

HAT AND CAP STORE.
A. B. PACKARD has remodled his Store, making the sales room twice as large as formerly, where he intends keeping a large stock of
HATS AND CAPS,
suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.
Also,
A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring styles.
Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Ginghams, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c.
With that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers' use
Quincy, April 13. tf

French Calf Boots.
MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a FIRST RATE FIT WARRANTED, by W. S. UNDERWOOD,
Hancock St., Quincy,
Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.
Quincy, May 5. tf

SKATES.
40 Pairs of extra SKATES
For sale by
J. & H. H. FAXON
Quincy, Dec 7, 1850 tf

Beef and Pork.
A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere.
Also—Fresh BELF and PORK, constantly on hand, and delivered to any part of the town free expense.
H. A. RANSOM & CO.
m16 tf

Flannels.
WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels Twilled and plain, an assortment just received and for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washington Street Quincy.
Quincy, Sept 21 tf

Bounty Land.
FOR SOLDIERS' OF THE WAR OF 1812—and of any Indian War since 1790, their widows and minor children, obtained. All claims business, and suits, under any of the PENSION or PATENT LAWS of the United States.—also PROBATE and other business connected with the settlement of Estates, of deceased persons attended to by
EBEN. SMITH, JR.
Boston, Dec. 28, 1850. 3m

Onions.
50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, for sale by
H. A. RANSOM & CO.
Quincy, Oct 12th, 1850. tf

Particular Notice
THE Subscribers respectfully inform their customers and the public, that on and after the First of OCTOBER next, all goods will be sold at reduced prices for cash only.
All those who wish to buy cheap, are invited to call, as the prices cannot fail to suit them.
J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, Sept 7th. tf

Salt Pork.
A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and deliverep at any part of the town free of expense.
D. BAXTER & Co
Quncy March 9th, tf

PORK & BEEF.
SALT-PETRED BEEF and Bacon, of the first quality, will be kept constantly on hand during the season, and sold as cheap as can be bought at
Any Store in Town for Cash.
Quincy, March 24. D. BAXTER & Co
tf

Cider Vinegar.
FIRST rate article of good, Cider Vinegar. Just received and for sale by
DANIEL BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, August 17. tf

PUBLISHED
NUMBER 9.
JOHN A. CRE
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance—FIVE AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid till the months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till ration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will previous to the payment of all arrearages the option of the proprietor. When subscribers their papers discontinued, they will give effect at the time their subscription expires subscriber will be held responsible for of his paper so long as it is sent to his address Post Office, Tavern, or any other place he may have ordered it, until legally contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously ed at the customary prices. The number required must be marked on the advertisewise they will be continued until ordered charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers their own immediate business; and all advertisements for the benefit of other persons, as well advertisements, and advertisements of sent in by them, must be paid for at the Business letters and communications addressed Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.

☞Single copies of the paper, FIVE CENTS

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to pay and requested to procure subscriptions.

JOSIAH BABCOCK, Quincy Road
GEORGE H. LOCKE, " Stone
ORIN P. BACON, Dorchester
FISHER A. KINGSBURY, Weymouth
JOSEPH CLEVERLY, Abington.
SAMUEL A. TURNER, South Scituate
N. B. OSBORNE, Salem
FREEMAN HUNT, New York

MISCELLANY.

THE PIN AND THE NEEDLE.

A pin and a needle, being neighbors in a basket, and both being idle began to talk idle folks are apt to do.

'I should like to know,' said the pin, 'what you good for, and how you expect to get the world without a head.'

'What is the use of your head,' cried the needle rather sharply,' 'if you have no eye?'

'What's the use of an eye,' said the pin, 'there is always something in it?'

'I am more active, and can go through work than you can,' said the needle.

'Yes but you will not live long.'

'Why not?'

'Because you always have a stitch in your side,' said the pin.

'You're a poor crocked creature,' said the needle.

'And you are so proud you can't bend without breaking your back.'

'I'll pull your eye out if you touch me,' said the needle.

'Remember your life hangs on a single thread,' said the pin.

While they were thus conversing a little girl entered the room, and undertaking to sew, soon broke off the needle at the eye. Then she pulled the thread around the neck of the pin, and began to sew with it, she soon pulled its head off, and threw it into the dirt by the side of the needle.

'Well, here we are,' said the needle.

'We have nothing to fight about now,' said the pin.

'It seems misfortune has brought us to our senses.'

'A pity we had not come to them sooner,' said the needle.

'How much we resemble human beings! We quarrel about their blessings till they lose them, and never find they are brothers till they are laid in the dust together as we do.—Madison Visitor.

Mrs. Swisshelmn, in the last Pittsburg Visitor, has a splendid article upon the 'Life of Eminence.' 'The allusion to the rise and progress of the carpenter of Galilee, would grate harshly upon the ears of too sensitive piety; but the following, giving a true idea of real greatness, and reflecting upon the world's opinion that has led the scramble for place and money rather than striving for moral excellence, we copy with pleasure:—

A great many men have worked all their lives at mechanical trades, and so working have done better served God and man than ever did Daniel Dickinson, or H. L. Turney, or Andrew Jackson, or General Houston and fifty more like them. The man who preserves the symmetry of his nature, and lives in even a tolerable degree of harmony with the great spirit of beneficence which governs the universe—who trusts God and serves him, is a greater man, blacking boots for a living, than one who has bartered his soul's best heritage, truth for any place or station under the sun, to lord over it.

We are sick of the universal worship of places and stations. It appears to be a general rule with one of us to use his or her gifts, not to render himself or the world any real service, but to get a place where he may stand a head and shoulders taller than his fellows. Any bleak position will define one's form against the sky, is sufficient to be reached by hook or crock. No matter how much one wades through to get there, just so he can reach the point where folks can see him rise out from among the masses, and be distinguished for anything to reach a "station of honor," whether the truth of the matter is, that every one has a right to, honor just where he stands, if he is occupying his proper station. If you are a hatter, make good hats well, not simply for the money you get for them, but because that is you part in the great work of economy. Let your heart and soul grow large and round and rich, while your hands are busy. Polish your rims and crowns. Scatter pleasant words and generous smiles and kindly acts up and down, and all round about wherever you go, that your Father has given you to-day, and trust him for more to-morrow—"Do jusily, love mercy, walk humbly," and there is not a more "elevated position," in all creation than is yours. Never mind for you giving up the hatting, shoe-making, or house painting business, or boot blacking, if you will. Just mind your own business, and you will find that Honor will mind hers, and instead of running while you hunt her in the place where you think she dwells, she will stepin to see you and ask for lodgings.

tches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at the Store of GEORGE B. FOSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum,) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortment of

Gold and Silver

WATCHES

Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Rich

HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

ention will be given personally, at all times, REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF S, which his long experience in that de- with Mr. JEFFREY R. BRACKETT, entitles confidence of his friends and customers.

friends and acquaintance when in Boston d to call.

THOMAS S. JOHNSON.

Feb. 22. 1tif

ckery and Glass Ware.

dded to our previous assortment, new an patterns of

nd Dining Setts, Washbowls, and Ewers.

H A RANSOM & Co.

Sept 1. tf

Brown's

NAC, Pocket Memorandum and Account for 1851, for sale at the

QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Nov. 25, 1851 tf

Board in Quincy.

man and his wife, or two single gentle- can have pleasant rooms and board, at the ses J B & M TOWNSEND, on Presi- reath opposite the depot

Nov 16 3m

Hats and Caps.

S, Fall styles, just received, and for sale r cash, by

A. B PACKARD.

Dec 6. 6w

pples and Potatoes.

RUSSET and GREENING APPLES bushels POTATOES of various kinds,

J. & H H. FAXON

Dec. 7, 1850 tf

AND CAP STORE.

CKARD has remodled his Store, making ales room twice as large as formerly, ands keeping a large stock of

HATS AND CAPS,

e young, the fashionable and the mid- the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the people.

Also,

ty of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring

ured Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Ging- Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c. ever to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Ma-ord 13. tf

rench Calf Boots.

der, in the neatest and most fashiona- , and a FIRST RATE FIT WARRANT- UNDERWOOD,

Hancock St., Quincy,

door to the Quincy Bookstore.

y 5 tf

SKATES.

f extra SKATES

ow J. & H H. FAXON

7, 1850 tf

Beef and Pork.

put up by the subscribers, cheap as can elsewhere.

BEEF and PORK, constantly on ered to any part of the town free

H. A. RANSOM & CO.

tf

Flannels.

ed, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels and plain, an assortment just received at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washing-ere.

29 tf

County Land.

ERS OF THE WAR OF 1812— Indian War since 1790, their widows ren, obtained. All claims business, any of the PENSION or PATENT nited States,—also PROBATE and nnected with the settlement of Es- d persons attended to by

EBEN SMITH, JR.

28, 1850. 3m

Onions.

LS of prime Onions, for sale by

H. A. RANSOM & CO.

2th, 1850. tf

rticular Notice

ers respectfully inform their custom- public, that on and after the First of , all goods will be sold at reduced ly.

wish to buy cheap, are invited to cannot fail to suit them.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

7th. tf

Salt Pork.

TE article of Salt Pork, packed by rs, for sale by the barrel or smaller as can be bought for Cash, and de- ed to the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co

9th, tf

EF & BEEF.

D BEEF and Bacon, of the first be kept constantly on hand during id as cheap as can be bought at ore in Town for Cash.

D. BAXTER & Co

24. tf

ider Vinegar.

rticle of good, Cider Vinegar. Just d for sale by

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

r 17. tf

QUINCY PATRIOT.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.....OVER MESSRS. JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO'S STORE.....HANCOCK STREET.

NUMBER 9. QUINCY (MASS.) SATURDAY, MARCH 1, 1851. VOLUME 15.

JOHN A. GREEN,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance—TWO DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid till the end of six months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till the expiration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will be stopped previous to the payment of all arrearages unless at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers wish their papers discontinued, they will give notice to that effect at the time their subscription expires. Every subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of his paper so long as it is sent to his address at the Post Office, Tavern, or any other place wheresoever he may have ordered it, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously, inserted at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, otherwise they will be continued until ordered out and charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business; and all advertisements for the benefit of other persons, as well as all legal advertisements, and advertisements of auction sales, sent in by them, must be paid for at the usual rates.

Business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.

☞ Single copies of the paper, FIVE CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscriptions:

JOSIAH BABCOCK,	Quincy Railway.
GEORGE H. LOCKE,	" Stone Quarries.
ORIN P. BACON,	Dorchester.
FISHER A. KINGSBURY,	Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVERLY,	Abington.
SAMUEL A. TURNER,	South Scituate.
N. B. OSBORNE,	Salem
FREEMAN HUNT,	New York City.

MISCELLANY.

THE PIN AND THE NEEDLE.

A pin and a needle, being neighbors in a work basket, and both being idle began to quarrel, as idle folks are apt to do.

'I should like to know,' said the pin, what are you good for, and how you expect to get through the world without a head.'

'What is the use of your head,' cried the needle rather sharply,' 'if you have no eye?'

'What's the use of an eye,' said the pin, 'if there is always something in it?'

'I am more active, and can go through, more work than you can,' said the needle

'Yes but you will not live long.'

'Why not?'

'Because you always have a stitch in your side.' said the pin.

'You're a poor crocked creature,' said the needle.

'And you are so proud you can't bend without breaking your back.'

'I'll pull your eye out if you touch me; remember your life hangs on a stagle thread,' said the pin

While they were thus conversing a little girl entered the room, and undertaking to sew, she soon broke off the needle at the eye. Then she tied the thread around the neck of the pin, and attempting to sew with it, she soon pulled its head off, and threw it into the dirt by the side of the broken needle.

'Well, here we are,' said the needle.

'We have nothing to fight about now,' said the pin.

'It seems misfortune has brought us to our senses.'

'A pity we had not come to them sooner,' said the needle.

'How much we resemble human beings who quarrel about their blessings till they lose them, and never find they are brothers till they lay down in the dust together as we do.'—Madison Reckord.

Mrs. Swisshelmn, in the last Pittsburg Saturday Visitor, has a splendid article upon the 'Rise of Eminence.' The allusion to the rise and progress of the carpenter of Galilee, would grate harshly upon the ears of too sensitive piety; but the following, giving a true idea of real greatness, rather reflecting upon the world's opinion that approves the scramble for place and money rather than striving for moral excellence, we copy with pleasure:—

A great many men have worked all their lives at mechanical trades, and so working have much better served God and man than ever did Senator Dickinson, or H. L. Turney, or Andrew Jackson, or General Houston and fifty more like them. A man who preserves the symmetry of his own soul, and lives in even a tolerable degree of harmony with the great spirit of benificence which animates the universe—who trusts God and serves man, is a greater man, blacking boots for a living, than any one who has bartered his soul's best heritage, its truth for any place or station under the sun or over it.

We are sick of the universal worship of places and stations. It appears to be a general aim for one of us to use his or her gifts, not to render himself or the world any real service, but to get some place where he may stand a head and shoulders taller than his fellows. Any bleak point which will define one's form against the sky, is the point to be reached by hook or crock. No matter how much one wades through to get there, just so he can reach the point where folks can see him—get out from among the masses, and be distinguished; anything to reach a "station of honor," while the truth of the matter is, that every one has a station, honor just where he stands, if he is occupying his proper station. If you are a hatter, makes your hats well, not simply for the money you get for them, but because that is you part in the great social economy. Let your heart and soul grow big and round and rich, while your hands are fashioning your rims and crowns. Scatter pleasant words and generous smiles and kindly acts up and down, and all round about wherever you go, the Great Father has given you to-day, and trust him for more to-morrow—"Do jusily, love mercy, walk humbly," and there is not a more "elevated station," in all creation than is yours. No occasion for you giving up the hatting, shoe-making or house painting business, or boot blacking, if you like it. Just mind your own business, and you will find that Honor will mind hers, and instead of hiding while you hunt her in the place where you think she dwells, she will stepin to see you some day and ask for lodgings.

AUDITOR'S REPORT.

The Committee chosen by the Town at their last Annual Meeting in March, to examine and audit the Accounts of the Town, from the 20th of FEBRUARY, 1850—to the 20th of FEBRUARY, 1851, have attended to that duty, and respectfully present the following

REPORT:

ALMSHOUSE ESTABLISHMENT.

Expenditures.

	Dr.
Stock on hand as Appraised, Feb. 20, 1850.	$ 1868 01
Paid A. & A. S. Reed & Co., Grain, Meal and Flour	404 08
" John Cronin for labor	127 50
" William Tansey "	13 52
" Robert Gordon "	54 90
" Morris Curran "	71 90
" John Hannin "	30 00
" C. P. Tirrell, Wheelwright and Blacksmith Work	58 55
" Shaw & Cox for Plow	8 87
" J. W. Robertson, Garden Seed 75c 4 bushels Barley 3,40	4 15
" " 30 bushels Potatoes	7 50
" Samuel Andrews, Fish	13 19
" F. & W. L. Marden, Provisions	103 84
" George Nightingale, 5 cord, 2 ft. Wood	32 03
" E. B. Taylor, 500 lbs. Straw	2 50
" Bryant Newcomb, Oakum Junk	31 60
" Edwin Wood, Coal	51 09
" John Arnold, Meat	21 95
" Daniel Baxter & Co. Merchandise	41 17
" " Pigs and Beef	35 98
" Paul Wild, Beef	30 54
" Thomas J. Nightingale, Meat	50 54
" E. S. Fellows, Stove and Funnel	17 06
" John Briesler & Co. Merchandise	29 23
" J. & H. H. Faxon do	92 75
" Wyman Abercrombie do.	107 65
" D. & G. Goodnow do.	28 95
" Josiah Savil Blacksmith Work	37 57
" Francis Williams, Leather	10 11
" Dr. Wm. Goddard Medicine and Attendance	40 00
" George Savil & Co. Dry Goods and Clothing	42 77
" A. B. Packard	2 75
" George B. Nightingale Boots and Brogans	3 80
" L. G. Horton, Bread	15 02
" T. Kellogg, repairs on Harness	1 89
" B. P. Wood, Beef and Mutton	3 75
" J Cook, killing Hogs	3 50
" Jacob F. Eaton, Seaweed	12 50
" E. F. Eaton, Straw for Eight Beds	2 00
" do. Turkey 1,68; Sundries 1,46	3 14
" do. Hat C. Nightingale 75; Caps J. Ellison 63	138
" do. Clothing C Healy 2,50; Shawl Eliza Ellison 3,00	5 50
" do. One Bedstead and Cord	3 25
" do. Clothing for James Field	2 62
" C. P. Tirrell Filing Saws	50
" Mr. Clap repairs on Saw Frame	17
" Wm. B. Bugbee Chloride of Lime	87
" Dr. Goodnow Do. do.	37
" Capt. Hodskins—Turnips	75
" Cash I. Trask	3 50
" do. Mrs. Flynn	3 00
" do. Red Precipitate	20
" do. Mr. Wentworth, Hame Strap	50
" Mr. Totman 5 lbs. Pork	50
" E. F. Eaton one year's services as Superintendant	300 00
" Rent of Town Land	75 00
	$ 3916 96
Balance in favor of Almshouse	56 08
	$ 3973 04

Receipts, etc. at Almshouse.

	Cr.
STOCK AND MERCHANDISE, &c. ON HAND:
1 Yoke of Oxen, $ 150; 4 Cows, $ 120;	$ 270,00
" Horse, 90,00; 4 Pigs, 50,00	140,00
Manure in Barn and Hog Yards,	280,00
14 Tons English Hay, 196; Lot of Salt Hay, 20,00;	216,00
Three Ox Yokes, 8; Hay Cutter, 4,50; Harrow, 5,50	18,00
One Hay Wagon, 55,00; Ox Wagon, 70,00; 5 Plows, 25,00	150,00
Horse Cart and Harness, 60,00; Two Ox Carts, 100,00;	160,00
Jack, 1,50; Wheelbarrow, 2,50; Ox and Horse Sleds, 16,00;	20,00
Grind Stone, 4,00; Scythes & Snathes, 4,50; Lot of Iron, 3,00;	11,50
Stone Tools, 10,00; Shovels, 3,00; Three Iron Bars, 2,00;	15,00
Three Picks 3; Four Wrenches, 2; Nine Hay Forks, 4;	9,00
Lot of Hoes, 2; Do. Chains, 8; One Wheel Shor, 2;	12,00
" Carpenter's Tools and Baskets, 2; Manure Forks, 3,50;	5,50
" Paints and Oils, 1,50; Rakes, &c. 2; Posts and Rails, 9;	12,50
" Split Stone, 3; Lot of Lumber, 4	7,00
" Of Small Wood, 32; Do. Brush, 8;	40,00
Fourteen Cords of Hard Wood, 112,00 Five Cord Cedar, 27,50	139 50
Hard Coal, 14; Saws, Axes, Beetles and Wedges, 6;	20 00
Lot Small Potatoes, 7; Empty Casks and Washing Machine, 5;	12 00
135 lbs Oakum, 10,95; Oakum Junk, 27;	37 25
Lot of Leather, 2; Seventeen Fowls, 8;	10 00
481 lbs. Salt Pork, 48,10; 143 lbs Shoulders, 10,01;	58 11
1325 lbs. Beef 79,50; 149 lbs. Bacon, 16,39	95 89
60 Gals. Soft Soap 6; Lot Beef barrels, 8;	14 00
Vinegar barrel. 1; 12 lbs Butter 2,	3 00
Tea, 75c Tobacco, 1,25; Coffee 2,25;	4 25
45 Gals Molasses, 11,25; Snuff, 1,50;	12 75
Barrel Beans, 3.50; Salt 20c.	3 70
100 lbs Sugar 6.50. half Barrel Flour 3,00	9 50
Oil and Vinegar 70c.; Saleratus 2.25	2 95
144 lbs Lard 14,40; Barrel Rice 10	24 40
Dry Goods 2.62; Fivs bushels Meal 3,70;	6 32
7 Stoves and Funnel	35 00
Rec'd of J. F. Eaton, rent of Rock Island	12 50
	1867 62
Beef, Milk, Oakum, &c. sold from Almshouse	294 24
Labor on the Highway from the do	1610 97
Due from State for support of Paupers	200 21
	$ 3,973 04

Inmates at Almshouse.

Admitted the Past Year, 49—Discharged, 36—Died, 1—Now in the House, 25—Males, 13—Females, 12—Average Number through the Year, 21—Natives of Quincy; Males, 5—Females, 1—Foreigners, 19.

Expenses of Poor out of Almshouse.

George Marsh, Cash paid, D. Nightingale	26 00
State Lunatic Hospital, Support of E. T. Pierce	121 64
" " " " of Luther Penniman	22 24
Lewis Bass, " of Asa Nightingale	49 88
Town of Milton, " of Francis Gouch	5 00
A & A. S. Reed, & Co., barrel of flour, to M. B. Whitcher	6 50
George Nightingale, 2 1-2 cords Wood for do	16 62
Preston & Curtis, Coal to Michael Flynn	3 50
Joseph W. Robertson, Cash paid do	10 00
" " " " " Sundry Poor Persons	6 50
	$ 267 88
Credit
Due from Town of Braintree, for support of Luther Penniman,	22 24
	$ 245 64

REPAIRS ON THE HIGHWAYS

Centre District.

57 days work by Superintendent at	1 12 1-2	per day,			64 12
122 1-2 " "	Hired Men	" 1 12 1-2	"	"	137 81
112 " "	Paupers	" 60 cts	"	"	67 20
58 " "	Oxen	" 1 00	"	"	58 00
58 " "	Horse	" 85 cts	"	"	49 30
64 " "	Ox Cart	" 25 cts	"	"	16 00
53 " "	Horse Cart	" 15 cts	"	"	7 95
					$400 38

West District.

31 1-2 days work by Superintendent at	1 12 1-2			35 44
84 " " "	Hired Men	" 1 12 1-2		94 50
48 " " "	Paupers	" 60 cts		28 80
32 1-2 " " "	Oxen	" 100		32 50
32 1-2 " " "	Horse	" 85 cts		27 63
39 1-2 " " "	Ox Cart	" 25 cts		9 87
29 " " "	Horse Cart	" 15 cts		4 35
				$233 09

Point District.

23 days work by Superintendent at	1 12 1-2			25 87
51 " " "	Hired Men	" 1 12 1-2		57 38
36 " " "	Paupers	" 60cts		21 60
23 " " "	Oxen	" 100		23 00
23 " " "	Horse	" 85cts		19 55
33 " " "	Ox Cart	" 25cts		8 25
13 " " "	Horse Cart	" 15cts		1 95
				$157 60

South District.

7 days work by Superintendant at	1 12 1-2			7 87
28 " " "	Hired Men	" 1 12 1-2		31 50
7 " " "	Paupers	" 60cts		4 20
7 " " "	Oxen	" 100		7 00
7 " " "	Horse	" 85cts		5 95
7 " " "	Ox Cart	" 25cts		1 75
7 " " "	Horse Cart	" 15cts		1 05
				$5932

East District.

9 days work by Superintendt at	1 12 1 2			10 12
36 " " "	Hired Men	" 1 12 1-2		40 50
23 " " "	Paupers	" 60cts		13 80
9 " " "	Oxen	" 100		9 00
9 " " "	Horse	" 85cts		7 65
9 " " "	Ox Cart	" 25cts		2 25
9 " " "	Horse Cart	" 15cts		1 35
				$84 67

Widening and Straightening South St.

19 1-2 days work by Sperintendent at	125			24 37
62 " " "	Hired Men	" 125		77 50
42 " " "	Paupers	" 75cts		31 50
21 " " "	Oxen	" 125		26 25
21 " " "	Horse	" 100		21 00
32 " " "	Ox Cart	" 25cts		8 00
11 " " "	Horse Cart	" 15cts		1 65
				$190 27

Widening and Straightening School St.

36 days work by Superintendent at	125			45 00
135 1-2 " " "	Hired Men	" 125		169 37
39 days " " "	Paupers	" 75cts		29 25
38 " " "	Oxen	" 125		47 50
38 " " "	Horse	" 100		38 00
38 " " "	Ox Cart	" 25cts		9 50
38 " " "	Horse Cart	" 15cts		5 70
				$344 32

Franklin Avenue.

6 1-2 days work by Superintendent at	125			8 12
29 " " "	Hired Men	" 125		36 25
9 " " "	Paupers	" 75cts		6 75
8 " " "	Oxen	" 125		10 00
8 " " "	Horse	" 100		8 00
8 " " "	Ox Cart	" 25cts		2 00
8 " " "	Horse Cart	" 15cts		1 20
				$72 32

Shovelling Snow in the East District.

10 1-2 days work by Superintendent at	100			10 50
15 " " "	Hired Men	" 100		15 00
35 1-2 " " "	Paupers	" 60cts		21 30
12 " " "	Oxen	" 100		12 00
12 " " "	Horse	" 85cts		10 20
				$69 00

Total amount of labour on Highways from Almshouse $1610 97

LABOR ON HIGHWAYS IN ADDITION TO WORK FROM THE ALMSHOUSE.

Paid E. Rideout, Blasting Rocks South St.	100 00
" Charles Taylor, work on Squantum Road	10 75
" Houghton & Brigham, work on Squantum Road	10 00
" J. P. Wentworth, Stone work School Street	734 35
" Moses Parker, Iron work on Railing School Street	30 26
" Pratt & Bailey, Fencing " "	40 06
" Nathaniel White, Lumber	19 18
" Whitcomb Porter, Lumber	8 36
" Job Faxon, work on Road	5 00
" S. R. Edwards, 341 loads Gravel, South St.	26 12
" Lawrence Richards 33 loads Stone Chips	3 30
" Charles R. Mitchell, 51 loads Stone Chips	5 10
" Nancy Bent, 88 loads Gravel	7 04
" Samuel B. Pope, 95 loads Gravel	5 70
" Newcomb & Chapin, 50 loads Stone Chips	5 00
" George Baxter, 33 loads Gravel	1 98
" Charles P. Tirrell, Sharpening Picks & Drills	1 24
" Jacob F. Eaton, Shovelling Snow	3 75
	$1017 19

ENGINE EXPENSES:

NIAGARA ENGINE.

Paid N. B Furnald, Steward	30 00	Paid W. Abercrombie, Oil Wicking etc	8 50
" 28 Members,	35 00	" Clift Rodges, Oil	2 50
" Seth Burrell, Rent Land June 24	5 84	" M. Bosworth, Charcoal	1 20
" J. Briesler & Co, Oil Fluid etc.,	5 96		$89 57
" Josiah Savil, Repairs	57

Engine Expenses. &c,—(Continued.)

TIGER ENGINE.

Pd G Blaisdell, Steward	30 00	" Daniel Baxter & Co. Oil Fluid etc.	2 85
" 26 Members	32 50	" Cum Rodgers, Oil	1 78
" J Hazeltine, Paint Engine & House	39 84		$120 17
" Balch Wood, Rent of Land	10 00
" E B. Hersey, Varnishing Engine	3 20

VULTURE ENGINE.

Pd J. T. Cleverly, Steward	30 00	" Francis Williams 2 gallons Oil	3 00
" 29 Members	36 25	" B. B. Newcomb, 1 gallon Fluid	70
" T. Churchill, Paint Engine House	31 00		$104 46
" J. Briesler & Co. large Wrench	1 38
" C. P. Terrill, work and do	2 13

GRANITE ENGINE.

Pd L. Johnson, Steward	30 00	" George H. Locke, Oil Fluid and Coal	13 31
" 19 Members	23 75		$67 06

RECAPITULATION.

Niagara,	$9 57	Granite,	67 06
Tiger,	120 17
Vulture,	104 46		$381 26

REPAIRS AND INCIDENTAL EXPENSES IN SCHOOL DISTRICTS:

Centre District.

E. B Hersey, Paint and Setting Glass	$8 31
W. M Trench, Benches Chairs etc,	31 51
Josiah Savil, Hooks and Hinges	2 66
W. S Morton Cleaning School House	6 25
C Gill & Co, Books & Stationary	10 65
Charles Holmes, Repairs on Stove,	1 67
J. Bosler, & Co., Brooms, Matches etc	5 53
	$66 67

South District.

E S. Fellows, Stoves, pipe, Sheet Iron	25 32
Pratt & Bailey, Repairs School House	46 58
D Baxter & Co. Brooms Chalk Pails etc	7 64
Josiah Adams, Repairing Pump	4 25
C. Gill & Co Books and Stationary	15 53
J. Bressler & Co. Brush and Bell	63
W. W. Dean, Cleaning School Rooms	1 75
	$101 70

West District

Noah Cummings, Plastering and Whitewashing	18 00
E. S. Fellows, Stove & Funnel	11 25
Josiah Adams, Repairs on Pump	7 33
Geo. H. Locke, Curtains Brooms Furniture etc.,	28 11
Caleb Gill & Co., Books	1 18
	$65 87

North District.

T. C. Hubbard, Chairs for School House	12 50
Robert Vose Jr. Books	2 00
C. Holmes, Stove Funnel & etc.,	32 50
Caleb Gill & Co., Books	66
	$47 66

East District.

E. B. Hersey, Painting	15 75
H. M Woods, Cleaning School Room	7 16
Chalk Blackboard etc	50
Henry Swift, Labor on School House	3 00
E. S. Fellows, Coal Hod Sieve Funnel	6 22
James A. Harris, Glass & Setting	2 85
Josiah Adams, Repairing Pump	14 39
C Gill & Co Books	80
J. Bradford, 4 days work on School House	6 00
	$55 57

Quincy Point District.

Sarah Gallivan Cleaning School Rooms	4 00
W. M. French, 6 Chairs	3 60
E. S. Fellows, Funnel Wire & Hod	4 62
C. W. Perry, work and Material School House	19 38
Marshall Lincoln Mason work	3 00
C. Gill & Co., Books & Stationary	5 02
J. Briesler & Co 2 Doz Glass Inkstand	1 50
J & P Newcomb, Brooms Books etc	6 39
	$47 51

RECAPITULATION.

Centre District,	66 67
South District,	101 70
West District,	65 87
North District,	47 66
East District,	56 57
Point District,	47 51
	$385 98

Expended for Schooling to April 1st., 1850.

Paid Wm. C. Davel, Teacher East District	45 45	" Martin Bosworth, Charcoal	18 00
" Robert Vose Jr., " North "	112 00		1076 70
" A. E. Bigelow, and 2 others Centre District	333 25	Credit
" Stephen Morse, & 2 others West "	215 00	By Balance of appropriation unexpended Jan. 1st 1850	1030 73
" C. A Cummings, & 2 " South "	333 00	Amount expended more than appropriation of 1849	$45 97
" Geo. Newcomb & 1 other, Point "	176 00

Expended for Schooling from April 1st. 1850, to Jan. 1st., 1851.

Town Appropriation	4000 00
Coddington School Fund	75 00
Massachusetts " "	202 04	$4277 04

To be divided by vote of the Town in the following manner—$150 to each, the North and East Districts—$100 to each, the Centre, South, West and Quincy Point Districts. The balance among all the Districts in proportion to the number of scholars between the ages of 5 and 15 years.

Number of School Children in Quincy between the ages of 5 and 15 years as ascertained by the School Committee, on the 1st. of May, 1850 - 1079,

CENTRE DISTRICT.

Number of Scholars, - - - 276
Share of Money, - - $1014 94

Paid B. F. Brown, Teacher	375 00
" E. J. Gerry, "	167 50
" S. G. Parshley, "	165 00
" Preston & Curtis Coal	13 00
" W. S. Morton, Charcoal	9 85
" Glover & Souther, Coal	13 00
	$743 35
Balance unexpended	$271 59

SOUTH DISTRICT.

Number of Scholars, - - - 231
Share of Money, - - $1031 51

Paid Caleb Murdock, Teacher	375 00
" E. A. Adams, "	172 50
" Susannah Burrell "	167 50
" Edwin Wood, Coal	31 23
" John Oldham, Charcoal	9 00
" W. W. Dean, Charcoal	2 00
	757 23
Balance Unexpended	$274 28

WEST DISTRICT.

Number of Scholars, - - - 247
Share of Money, - - - $918 80

Paid Stephen Morse, Teacher	375 00
" Mary E. Vose, "	127 00
" Wealthy Holmes "	72 00
" Ada G. B. Beale "	56 00
" E. Wood, Coal	18 00
" Safford Gay, Charcoal	6 00
" Wm. Tibbetts, Charcoal	6 00
	660 60
Balance Unexpended	$258 20

QUINCY POINT DISTRICT.

Number of Scholars, - - - - 165
Share of Money, - - - $646 98

Paid Geo. Newcomb, Teacher	375 00	" H. N. Glover, wood & Coal	5 50
" Mary R. Gannet, "	80 00		340 90
" Mary A. Wood, "	45 00	Balance Unexpended	$54 43
" Edwin Wood, Coal	25 83
" B. B. Newcomb, "	7 00
	532 83
Balance Unexpended	$114 15

NORTH DISTRICT-

Number of Scholars, - - - - 74
Share of Money, - - - $395 38

Paid Robert Vose Jr. Teacher	320 00
" Preston & Curtis, Coal	15 40

EAST DISTRICT.

Number of Scholars, - - - - - 36
Share of Money, - - - $269 48

Paid Henry M. Woods, Teacher	224 57
	44 91

RECAPITULATION.

Total amount of Money Appropriated for 1850 $4277 01

Centre District, Teachers and Fuel	743 35
South " " " "	757 23
West " " " "	660 60
Quincy Point " " "	532 83
North District, " " "	340 90
East " " " "	224 57
	3259 48
Balance Unexpended	1017 56

PAY OF TOWN OFFICERS

Wyman Abercrombie, Town Treasurer	40 00	James Bradford 20 days General School Committee	20 00
J. W Robertson, 46 days Selectman	69 00	John T. Burrell 7 days General School Committee	7 00
" " " 24 " Assessor	36 00		$202 65
" " " 20 " Overser Poor	30 00	George L. Gill recording 180 Births 67 Deaths and 74 Marriages	46 75
" " " 12 " Surveyor of Highways	18 00	Seth Adams, Services as Constable	23 00
" " " 16 " State Statistics	20 00		$670 15
" " " 6 " Copying Tax of 1849 for State	7 50
	$180 50
George Marsh, 34 days Selectman	51 00
" " 4 days Overseer of Poor	6 00
" " 3 " Surveyor Highways	4 50
" " 19 " State Statistics	23 75
	$85 25
Elijah Baxter, 26 days Selectman	39 00
" " 12 " Assessor	18 00
" " 6 1-2 " Overseer of Poor	9 75
" " 7 " Surveyor Highways	10 50
" " 7 " State Statistics	8 75
	$86 00
B B Newcomb, 4 days Selectman	6 00
W. W. Dean, 50 days General School Committee	50 00
W. S Morton, 37 days General School Committee and expense to Bridgewater	38 15
George Baxter, 35 days General School Committee	35 00
Wm. B. Duggan 33 1-2 days General School Committee	33 50
George White 19 days General School Committee	19 00

Land Damage to Widen Streets.

Luke Rideout for land to widen Franklin Avenue	25 00
Sundry Persons for land widen South Street	150 00
Jonathan Marsh, land to widen School Street	500 00
Joseph Hardwick, $96 for land to widen School St, and $91 35 costs	187 35
G. W. Hardwick, for land to widen School Street	15 00
ibrahim Bartlett, for land to widen School Street	16 00
George Veazie, for land to widen School Street	3 00
	$896 35

Building School House North District.

Luther Spear, for work and material in full for Building new School House in the North District	1422 00
H. N. Glover, grading round New School House	63 35
	$1485 35

MISCELLANEOUS EXPENSES:

Paid John Savil for storing old Niagara Engine	16,50	Ward Litchfield setting Glass at Town House	2 00
Wm. Tansey for Labour 1849,	18,00	Moses Sleeper Mason work at Almshouse	10 87
John A Green for Printing	72 75	S Adams proving Town Hay Scales	1 50
Stephen Harrington Bill 1849,	8 41	Geo. H French Auctioneer	7 25
B F Hallett Case of O C Rail Road,	81 00	John M Gourgas writing and Recording Deeds	9 50
A. A. Mears Bill of 1849	1,84	E G Alden, Lard Oil for Town House	33 20
Abram Prescott Care of Town Hall to April 1st.	38,87	I W Munroe, Oil do	9 17
do do for Charcoal 1 00;	13 00	Charles Breck, Surveying	9 00
Edwin Wood for Coal to T H 12 00		W W Dean, freight on Dictionaries	78
S Dwight Eaton for Surveying School St,	10 00	Jacob Flint, Steward of Town House to Feb 18th,	61 93
Sem Crane to cleaning Privy to Town House	2 00	Joseph W Robertson for Horse and Wagon sundry times	11 84
B F Woods for mowing Burying Ground,	8 00	Postage	3 50
E Johnson Carcoal for Town House	3 00	Elijah Baxter Horse and Wagon	10 25
Ralph Lowe Bill for 1848 to Repairs on Tiger Engine	70	do Copying and Recording Deed	1 12
C Arnold Beef for Almshouse 1849	7 40	Geo. Marsh Travelling expenses on Town Business	9 50
Timothy Shaggrew for Working in Burying Ground	14 38	Postage	60
James Jenkens & Co for Lumber	35 80	Geo H French for Summoning Witnesses in action Dorchester vs Quincy	10 37
James Hazeltine Painting and Graining a Room in the Town House	15 00	Witnesses attendance	6 00
C Gill & Co Stationary for Town	21 85	Seth Adams for Summoning Witnesses to appear before Sheriff in Petition of H Wood vs Inhabitants of Town	7 75
G L Gill Book Case 5 00; Distributing School Committee Reports 3 00; do General Laws 2 50, Postage 1 21	11 71	Wm Newcomb for Beef 1849	6 42
Charles Holmes Stove and Funnel for Town House	23 75	E B Hersey, setting Glass at Almshouse	2 80
W M French Repairing Settees and two Coffins	15 75	James M Wade, work on Town House and Almshouse	21 78
John Bressler & Co to Fluid Basket and Soap for Town House	49 85		$769 82
John Hall for attending two Funerals 6 00; Returning 59 deaths to Town Clerk 5 90; Care of Clock and Ringing Bell one Year 50 00	61 90	Abatements Discount and Collection of Tax 1850.
C W Perry work and materials at Almshouse	7 23	Discount of 4 per cent made on Taxes Paid Sept 1st,	403 01
		Abatements 305 44. Collecting 209 32	514 76
			$92277

TOWN TREASURER'S DEPARTMENT,

Cr.		Dr.
By Cash in Treasury Feb 25th 1850	1769 23	Land South District	2000 00
Rec'd of Wm. Hobart Rent of Land	1 50	School Committee 1849	400
Lewis Bass Part Balance Tax 1849	1360 00	John Hall use Receiving Tomb	18 00
do Tax 1850	13772 26	Income of Hay Scales	66 87
Income of Town Hall and Lyceum Rooms	326 55	Sundry Persons for use of Lyceum Room 1849	17 12
Rent of Rooms in Town House	221 25	Borrowed and Rec'd on Sundry notes by Treasurer	8059 28
State for Support of Paupers 1849	142 41		$26 274 21
State School Funds	202 04
Sale of School House North District	114 00

Dr.
To amount Paid one outstanding Town order 1849	54 10	Sundry Town orders the past Year	11769 19
Balance of School Money to April 1st, 1850	1030 73	Notes and Interest	10881 89
			$23735 91
		Leaving Cash in Treasury Feb 25th, 1851	$2538 30

TOWN ACCOUNTS.

Dr.
To sundry Notes Outstanding against town,	$13759 28
Interest due on J. Richardson's note	177 33
Balance of unexpended School Money Due the Centre School District unexpended Balance, 1848	1017 64
	94 84
do West do do	6 60
Israel W Munroe's services, Town clr'k	35 00
Probable pay of Town Clerk and Treasurer	75 00
	15 165 59
Cr.
By cash in Treasury, Feb 25th, 1851	2538 30
Due from Lewis Bass, balance tax 1849	31 03
do do Interest on Tax do	5 63
do do Balance of Tax 1850	1381 70
do State for support of Paupers	200 21
do Braintree do L Penniman	22 24
do Sundry persons use Lyceum Room	6 00
	4187 20
Amount of Town debt Feb 20, 1851	$10 978 39
REDUCTION OF TOWN DEBT
Amount of Town Debt, Feb 20 1850	13 633 32
do do Feb 20 1851	10 978 39
Reduction of Town debt the past year	$2 654 93

EXPENDITURES OF TOWN OF QUINCY FROM FEB 20th 1850 TO FEB 20th, 1851.

To amount paid Sundry Bills, Almshouse Less Rent Town Land	1973 75
Cr.
Rec'd for Sundries Sold from Almhouse	294 24
Rent of Rock Island—	12 50
	306 74
	1 667 01
To amount Support of Poor out of Almhouse	267 88
Labour on Highways addition to Almshouse	1017 19
Engine expences	381 26
Repairs and expenses School Districts	385 98
Schooling to April 1st. 1850 more than appropriation 1849	45 97
Town Officers	670 55
Miscellaneous expences	769 82
Building School House North District	1485 35
Land Damage School and South Street	896 35
Abatements Discounts and Collection Tax 1850	992 75
Schooling to Jan 1st, 1851	3250 48
Making amount paid as per vouches,	11769 19
amount due for Schooling to April 1st, 1851.	1017 56
	12786 75
Cr.
Due from State for Support of Paupers	200 21
do Braintree do L Penniman	22 24
	222 45
Total amount of Expenditures as per vouchers, Examined	12564 30

Your Committee have found the Accounts of the Town correctly kept and properly vouched, in every particular. Much credit is due the Selectmen for the manner, in which the Accounts have been kept the past year—viz: Numbered, Filed and arranged under their appropriate heads; thus, making the labor of your Committee in examining and arranging the different Bills, comparatively easy. We would also bear testimony to the order and cleanliness in the different departments of the Almshouse Establishment. A thorough examination of the same having been made by your Committee on the occasion of their visit to that place.

Edwin H. Savil.
George Curtis.
James H. Beckford.
Nathaniel H. Bean.
Nathan H. White.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

SATURDAY, MARCH 1st. 1851.

John A. Green, Editor.

ELEVATION OF OUR COMMON SCHOOLS PREFERABLE TO A HIGH SCHOOL.

Mr. Green.—As your correspondent, 'Hancock,' is desirous of knowing how the standard of education in our principal schools can be raised, so as to supercede the necessity of a High school, I will briefly explain. He will doubtless admit that the cost of supporting such a school as he advocates will range from $800 to $1000 per annum. To erect a building of suitable quality and style, would cost the town some five, ten or fifteen thousand more. Now my ideas, to distribute the amount we shall be obliged to raise annually for the support of a High School, among the several districts in employing assistance and raises the salaries of teachers as the cases may require.

I do not contend that my plan will not increase the 'expenses of the school system' but I do contend that it will be less expensive than his, and will produce far greater good to the people at large. Instead of obliging our four male teachers to instruct, single handed and alone, some eighty to one hundred children in the common branches, the burden would be much lightened by the aid of competent assistants affording the masters an opportunity to give instruction in the more exalted studies. The teachers themselves would be benefited by being able to keep alive the higher branches in their own minds. Also the younger pupils of our schools would be inspired with higher aspirations by the presence of more elevating subjects to be taught.

The town of Dorchester has adopted the plan of general elevation, each principal school being furnished with a teacher competent to teach the higher school studies in addition to the branches usually taught in common schools. They have no High School and the system works well and precludes the necessity of one. We can doubtless employ male teachers for our four Grammar schools for the round sum of $2000, and four female assistants for $600, and the teachers for the North and East districts for $800 per annum. Provided that the other teachers can be hired for the same as in former years, our appropriation, for the forthcoming school year, needs to be increased over the present year, only $675. Can a High School be supported one year for that sum? Most certainly not. And who will not prefer six High Schools to one.

It to be expected that every measure of public

TOWN ACCOUNTS.

dry Notes Outstanding against town,	$13759 28
est due on J Richardson's note	177 33
nce of unexpended School Money	1017 64
the Centre School District unexpended Balance, 1848	94 84
West do do	6 60
A W Munroe's services, Town clr'k	35 00
able pay of Town Clerk and Treasurer	75 00
	15 165 59
ash in Treasury Feb 25th, 1851	2538 30
from Lewis Bass, balance tax 1849	31 03
do do Interest on Tax do	5 63
do do Balance of Tax 1850	1383 79
do State for support of Paupers	200 21
do Braintree do L Penniman	22 24
do Sundry persons use Lyceum Room	6 00
	4187 20
Amount of Town debt Feb 20, 1851	$10 978 39

REDUCTION OF TOWN DEBT

nt of Town Debt, Feb 20 1850	13 633 32
do Feb 20 1851	10 978 39
Reduction of Town debt the past year	$2 654 93

ENDITURES OF TOWN OF QUINCY FROM FEB 20th 1850 TO FEB 20th, 1851.

mount paid Sundry Bills, Almshouse Less Rent Town Land	1073 75
r.
d for Sundries Sold from Almhouse	294 24
Rent of Rock Island	12 50
	306 74
	1 067 01
mount Support of Poor out of Almhouse	267 88
abour on Highways addition to Almshouse	1017 19
Engine expences	381 26
Repairs and expences School Districts	355 98
Schooling to April 1st, 1850 more than appropriation 1849	45 97
Town Officers	670 55
Miscellaneous expences	749 82
Building School House North District	1485 35
Road Damage School and South Street	896 35
Abatements Discounts and Collection Tax 1850	922 75
Schooling to Jan 1st, 1851	3259 48
ing amount paid as per vouches,	11769 49
unt due for Schooling to April 1st, 1851	1017 56
	12786 75
Cr.
e from State for Support of Paupers	200 21
o Braintree do L Penniman	22 24
	222 45
tal amount of Expenditures as per vouchers Examined	12564 30

Your Committee have found the Accounts of the Town correctly kept and properly vouched, in every particular. Much credit is due the Selectmen for the manner, in which the Accounts have been kept the past year—viz: Numbered, Filed and arranged under their appropriate heads; thus, making the labor of your Committee in examining and arranging the different Bills, comparatively easy. We would also bear testimony to the order and cleanliness in the different deparments of the Almshouse Establishment. A thorough examination of the same having been made by your Committee on the occasion of their visit to that place.

Edwin H. Savil,
George Curtis,
James H Beckford,
Nathaniel H. Bean,
Nathan H. White.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

SATURDAY, MARCH 1st. 1851.

John A. Green, Editor.

ELEVATION OF OUR COMMON SCHOOLS PREFERABLE TO A HIGH SCHOOL.

MR. GREEN.—As your correspondent, 'Hancock,' desirous of knowing how the standard of education in our principal schools can be raised, so as to supercede the necessity of a High school, I will kindly explain. He will doubtless admit that the cost of supporting such a school as he advocates will range from $800 to $1000 per annum. To erect a building of suitable quality and style, would cost the town some five, ten or fifteen thousand more. Now my ideas, to distribute the amount we shall be obliged to raise annually for the support of a High School, among the several districts in employing assistance and raises the salaries of teachers as the cases may require.

I do not contend that my plan will not increase the 'expenses of the school system' but I do contend that it will be less expensive than his, and will produce far greater good to the people at large. Instead of obliging our four male teachers to instruct, single handed and alone, some eighty to one hundred children in the common branches, their burden would be much lightened by the aid of competent assistants affording the masters an opportunity to give instruction in the more exalted studies. The teachers themselves would be benefited by being able to keep alive the higher branches in their own minds. Also the younger pupils of the schools would be inspired with higher aspirations by the presence of more elevating subjects being taught.

The town of Dorchester has adopted the plan of a general elevation, each principal school being furnished with a teacher competent to teach the higher school studies in addition to the branches usually taught in common schools. They have no High School and the system works well and precludes the necessity of one. We can doubtless obtain male teachers for our four Grammar schools for the round sum of $2000, and four female assistants for $600, and the teachers for the North and Hall districts for $800 per annum. Provided that the other teachers can be hired for the same as in former years, our appropriation, for the forthcoming school year, needs to be increased over the present year, only $675. Can a High School be supported one year for that sum? Most certainly not. Those who will not prefer six High Schools to ONE.

It to be expected that every measure of [illegible] will meet with opposers from some particular sources. This, 'Hancock,' seems perfectly astonished when trying to understand my project, for behold the beauties of his own with the clearness of the morning light. How beautifully he discourses the advantage to the poor. Is he not aware that too, is a 'catch word' argument, a politician's trick 'to gull the flats.' He would seem to have us believe that the poor man's son has nothing to do but to go to school. This is a sad mistake. Admitting the intimation to be true, the nearer the school to him the better. The instances of poor children tending school much after they are fourteen years of age are quite rare in this town. The best scholars in the Grammar schools have generally left at that age. I will be bound to say that none have left the schools for, many years past for that reason that they knew as much as their teachers. I doubt much whether there are many children now attending the schools who are adepts in Arithmetic, Geography, Orthography and in that much abused study called Grammar. Are there many, who can fill a sheet of foolcap of original matter, grammatically? Let a series of printed questions be put to the first classes and see what would be the result of their reports in a literary point of view. These remarks are not intended to reflect unfavorably upon the schools. Our teachers are faithful and accomplish much with so many pupils under their care and of so tender an age. Our schools will compare well with any of the kind in the Commonwealth.

It is highly important that poor children should have an opportunity for obtaining a good education. But food and raiment and a good trade are matters of equal moment. Had we the ability to carry out the Girard college system, the poor child, stirring for knowledge, would have had an alma mater to inspire him with the brightest hopes and prospects. If there is any poor scholar of genius in town who aspires to enroll his name among the great and renowned, that way is clear for him. —Let his motto be, 'what man has done, man may do.' Any one of our contemplated standard scools will afford him a good opportunity for the incipient steps as well as the higher walks of erudition.

The idea that a High School, in a town already in debt, will 'invite the location of wealthy men among us' is with 'perpetual motion and the art of flying.' The rich man understands too well the burden of taxes to be fond of locating himself in a town greatly in debt, and determined to keep so by a course of extravagant and unnecessary expenditure. The only way to induce wealthy men to come among us, is to pay our debts; and for a few of our richest citizens to sell some of their beautiful building sites at a reasonable price. Some minds are so constituted as to comprehend nothing beyond unity. No doubt a central school of a superior character would raise rents and the value of real estate in the centre of the town, but how incomparably better will my plan work, by raising the value of residences in all parts of the town and making it an object for gentlemen to erect country seats in the outskirts, and on the seaboard.—Diffusion of blessing should be our watch-word. Anti-concentration of benefits and a general dissemination of knowledge are what the masses require. By comparison of performances we are led to improvement. A rivalry has already commenced in our schools. A greater one will be the result of elevating the standard in all our schools.

SOLON.

THE FIRST PRINTED BOOK

It is a remarkable and most interesting fact that the very first use to which the discovery of Printing was applied was the production of the Holy Bible. This was accomplished at Mentz between the years of fourteen hundred and fifty and fourteen hundred and fifty-five. Guttenberg was the inventer of the art, and Faust a goldsmith, furnished the necessary funds. Had it been a single page, or even an entire sheet, which was then produced, there might have been less occasion to have noticed it; but there was something in the whole character of the affair, which if not unprecedented, rendered it singular in the usual current of human events. This Bible was in two folio volumes, which have been justly praised for the strength and beauty of the paper, the exactness of the register, and the luster of the ink. The work contained twelve hundred and eighty-two papers, and being the first ever printed, of course involved a long period of time, and an immense amount of mental, and mechanical labor; and yet, for a long time after it had been finished, and offered for sale, not a human being, save the artists themselves, knew how it has been accomplished.

Of the first printed Bible, eighteen copies are not now known to be in existence, four of which are printed on vellum. Two of these are in England, one being in the Grenville collection. One is in the Royal Library of Berlin, and one in the Royal Library of Paris. Of the fourteen remaining copies, ten are in England—there being a copy in the libraries of Oxford, Edinburg and London, and seven in the collections of different noblemen. The vellum copy has been sold as high as $1300.

Thus, as if to mark the noblest purpose to which the art would ever be applied, the first book printed with moveable metal types was the Bible.

ENGLISHes. AMERICAN GIRLS.

The English girls spend more than one-half her waking hours in physical amusements, which tend to develope and invigorate and ripen the bodily powers. She rides, walks, drives, rows upon the water, runs, dances, plays, sings, jumps the rope, throws the ball, hurls the quoit draws the bow, keeps up the shuttlecock, and all this without having it forever pressed on her mind that she is thereby wasting her time. She does this every day, until it become a habit which she will follow up through life. Her frame, as a natural consequence, is larger, her muscular system better developed, her nervous system in better subordination, her mind healthier. She may not know as much at the age of nineteen as the American; as a general thing she does not, but the growth of her intellect has not been stimulated by hot-house culture, and, through maturity comes later, it will proportionably last longer. Eight hours of mental application each day for girls between ten and and nineteen years, or ten hours each day, as is sometimes required at school, with two hours for meals, one for religious duties, the remainder for physical exercises, are enough to break down the strongest constitution.

CONVICTED—Henry M. Johnson, who killed Judson Brownson in Waterbury Conn., has been convicted of murder in the second degree, the punishment being imprisonment for life. Johnson went to Brownson's house, by advice of neighbors, who heard B's wife crying murder. Brownson drove him off, and pursuing him, when Johnson turned and gave the fatal blow with a rail.

The following is a documents accompanying the late message of the President—an order from the Navy Department, dated Feb 17, 1851, addressed to Commodore Downes,

"It therefore becomes necessary to take immediate measures for the execution of the law, in this and all similar cases; and whilst it is hoped that the civil officers will stand in no need of military assistence from the forces of the United States, you are instructed that if the Marshal, or any of his deputies charged with the sevice of process by competent authority shall produce to you the certificate of Justice or District Judge of the United States, that in his opinion combinations against the execution of the law of the United States, exist in that District, too powerful to be overcome by the civil authority, you will promptly order the marines, or any other force under your command, to accompany and aid the Marshal in making arrests, in preventing violence, or in re-capturing any persen who has escaped or been rescued, by virtue of any process in his hands."

Jachimo Guiccioli, who represents himself to be a natural son of Lord Byron, recently appeared before the Marylebone Police, naked and drunk. He said he had been robbed, when assistance was given him.

Gen. Tom Thumb, was arrested in Savannah last week, for driving his state carriage upon the side walk.

MR. RANTOUL AND THE NATIONAL DEMOCRACY. Washington, Feb twenty-fifth. It is rumored that the Democrats here are so ill-content that Mr. Rantoul should sanction the bargain by accepting his seat, that they are about to make him make a speech repudiating the bargain, and resigning his seat.

FILLMORE AND AGITATORS.—The President's Proclamation, ordering out the army and navy of the United States to arrest a runaway darkey, is exciting a broad laugh throughout the country. It is the most absurb official papers that has appeared in the history of the Republic.

EXPRESSIVE.—A gentlemen just returned from San Francisco, says that he would rather be hanged in New York, than die a natural death in California.

Three women, named Nancy Kearnan, Bridget Corney, and betsy M'Donald, were killed on Tuesday last, near the village of Hyde Park, by a piece of rock thrown from a blast, falling through the roof of their house. The weighed 1000 lbs. They were all married.

A Californin gold medal, also a silver salver and pitchers have been presented to Hon. Henry Clay.

UTAH.—The latest intelligence from the valley of the Salt Lake, represents the exists of a general feeling of satisfaction at the appointments for Utah. The mercantile business in the valley is very flourishing, and the health of the inhabitants good. The Indians about the valley and on the route are said to be peaceably disposed and friendly.

THE HUNGARIAN EXILES.—From a letter dated Kutayah, Jan 20, and written by one of the Hungarian exiles, it would appear that the Turkish Government is decidedly, however slowly, changing in its temper and treatment towards the unfortunate Hungarians who are confined at Kutayah. We should be very loth to believe that a power which has so recently, by its generous and chivalric protection of the few devoted martyrs of liberty who, in escaping from their foes, were arrested within the Ottoman Empire, has elicited the warmest applause of all humane and liberal States, should now or ever become the oppressors of the brave, heroic patriots who fled into their hands.

When the envoy of the Nicaraguan republic was officially presented on Saturday, President Fillmore in replying to his address, said: "Interests are springing up at the present moment in Central America of a new high character, which concern this country as well as other commercial States, and which will necessarily render the connection and intercourse between Nicaragua and the United States more important than it has heretofore been

Two young men at Brandon Vt. discovered a bear frozen into his den, the water having run down and formed bars in front of him. They fired eight balls into him before killing him.

NAVIGATION OF THE HUDSON.—Albany, Feb. 25. The steamer Oregon arrived this morning at seven o'clock. She encountered some floating ice near Ponghkeepsie, but otherwise had a good passage.

The news from Central American by the steamer is of no more importance than last advices.—The Port of San Juan is still in the posession of the English, who continue the exercise of their outrages upon American citizens, arresting them as fast as they arrive with negro police, and compelling them to deliver up their arms, even to their knives.

The Maryland Convention have adopted a clause allowing only those who believe in God, or rewards and punishments either in this world or the next, to act as jurors, witnesses or judges.

DIORAMA OF MOSCOW.—This Painting, which we had the pleasure of visiting at its late exhibition in this town, is certainly a work of much merit. The opening scene presents the spectator with a beautiful moonlight view of the ancient city of the Czars. Anon—the scene changes—the heavy peals of the cannon of the invading army is heard in the distance the excited populace is seen passing hurriedly to and fro—and when the haughty Emperor is about to enter its gates, the signal is given—the torch is applied, and the devoted city is offered up a sacrifice for the country's salvation.

In connection with this rare spectacle, Mr. Baldwin goes through with a variety of amusing feats of dexterity, which we are sure cannot be excelled by any other performer in the country.

Mr. Harrington's Ventriloquism is well worth the money required for the admission fee.

Another trial was made on Wednesday last to elect a United States Senator. A larger vote was cast than upon any former occasion—but without effecting a choice. Mr. Sumner came within two votes of being elected. Wednesday, March 12th, is is set apart for another balloting.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMSHIP CRESCENT CITY.

Two weeks later from California and Nicaragua. Gold still Abundant—Discovery of a New Gold Region of great Richness—No Digging Required

The following letter was received by Coroner Bass, from the father of the unfortunate young man referred to, who has kindly placed it in our hands for publication.

ZANESVILLE, (OHIO.) FEB. 22d: 1851.

LEWIS BASS, Coroner, Quincy, Mass.

DEAR SIR.—I have this day received an answer from A. Perkins, Esq., Postmaster of Braintree, relative to the melancholy deaths of Mr. John R. Grieve, and his dear wife, with a copy of the inquest and other documents obtained from you, which places it beyond a doubt that they are our children, who, by their unfortunate choice of reading the pretended writings of A. J. Davis, and similar humbug works by Fowler & Wells, New York; and also, the Spirit Messenger, of Springfield, have been captivated, deluded, and may I not say murdered, by those venders of trash in the community.

You will please cause their remains to be decently buried in the burial ground in Quincy, and cause a tomb stone to be placed at their grave, and let me know the expense, and I will remit payment to you by the first opportunity.

You will please return to me his watch No 598 English manufacture and also his small Box of drawing instruments. Please give my warmest thanks to M. Perkins for his kind attention, and to all others who have taken an interest in this melancholy event. On the grave Stone I wish to have the following Inscription. To the memory of John R. Grieve aged 22 years, and Hannah Banks his wife aged 15 years, both of Zanesville (Ohio) deluded to the writings of A. J. Davis.

I am dear Sir your very obliged and humble Servant. PETER GRIEVE

NOTICE

Quincy Lyceum.

The EIGHTEENTH Lecture will be delivered before this Society the present season, next THURSDAY EVENING, commencing at 7 1-2 o'clock.

H. O. WHITNEY, Secretary.

The Whig Citizens of Quincy

Are respectfully requested to meet at the Lyceum Room, this, SATURDAY Evening, at 7 o'clock, to nominate Candidates for Town Officers for the ensuing year.

Per Order of the Committee.

Quincy, March 1st., 185.

Temperance Lecture.

Rev. Mr. Bradford of this town, will deliver a Temperance Discourse, at the Lyceum Room, next SUNDAY Evening, March 2d., commencing at half past 7 o'clock.

JAMES M. WADE, Sec'y. of the Union Board

MARRIED

In Lowell on the 14th inst. by the Rev. W. Child, Mr. David Thayer of Quincy, to Miss Sarah Stiles of Lowell.

DIED

In this town, Feb. 22d Sarah, Wife of Joseph Frye, aged 36 years

In this town 23 ult. Mr Charles Hill aged 73 years

Bees and Honey.

MES, E HAYDEN, offers for sale a few Hives of Bees in prime order at a fair price.

Also Honey in the comb

Quincy March, 1st tf

Parish Meeting.

Norfolk S S To Lewis Bass Constable of the Town of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk GREETING:—

L. S. In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, you are directed to notify the Inhabitants of the first Congregational Society in Quincy, qualified to vote in Parish Affairs, to meet at the Lyceum Room, in said Quincy on MONDAY, the tenth day of March next at two o'clock in the afternoon to act on the following articles viz:—

Article 1st. To choose a Moderator.

Article 2d. To choose all such Parish officers as the law requires.

Article 3d. To hear and act on the annual report of the Parish Committee,

Article 4th. To raise such sums of Money to defray the necessary expenses of the Parish the ensuing year as they may think proper when assembled.

Article 5th. To know what compensation the Parish will allow their clerk and Treasurer the past year.

Article 6th. To determine what method the Parish will adopt for collecting the balance of the Parish tax for the year 1848

Article 7th. To choose any Committee or hear and act on the report of any Committee when assembled.

And you are directed to serve this Warrant by posting up an attested copy thereof at the Meeting House of said Society and also by publishing it in the Quincy Patriot seven days at least before the time of holding said Meeting. Hereof fail not, and make due return of this Warrent with your doings thereon to the Parish Clerk at or before the time appointed for said Meeting.

Given under our hands and seals this twenty-fifth day of February in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty one.

H. N. GLOVER,
JAMES M. WADE,
LYSANDER RICHARDS, } Parish Committee.

A true copy attest:— Lewis Bass Constable,

Norfolk Quincy Feb 28th 1851. By virtue of the above Warrant I hereby notify and warn the Members of the above named Society, qualified to vote in Parish Affairs, to at the time, place, and for the purposes therein specified.

LEWIS BASS, Constable.

Administrators Sale,

OF REAL ESTATE.

PERSUANT to a license from the probate Court will be sold at Public Auction on the Premises, on MONDAY, the third day of March next at four o'clock in the afternoon about one sixth of an acre of land with a Dwelling House and Barn thereon, being the Property of the late Widow Susanna Torrey, and situated on Sea Street in Quincy

GEORGE MARSH, Administrator
EBENEZER ADAMS, Auctioneer
Feb 1st 1851 tf

Notice.

THE public, are hereby informed that from, and after this date, that I have given my son, Lemuel his time, and that he hereafter will be free to act for himself.

ALDEN FRENCH.

March 1st 1851 3w

Babbitts Cytherean Cream of

SOAP. expressly for the use of hair

BABBET'S PANARISTON SHAVING CREAM for Gentlemen, HONEY SOAP, MUSH SOAP. Low's genuine old brown Windsor and a great variety of other soap for sale by

MRS E HAYDEN

Quincy March 1st tf

W B. Learned

HAVING taken the Store formerly occupied by E C Redfern, and recently by D R Adams, takes this method of informing his friends and the public that he has just received and is now opening a well selected stock of

WATCHES

JEWELRY

—AND—

Fancy Goods.

Suitable for Christmas and New Year's Presents

Persons wishing any thing in his line are invited to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere

☞ Particular attention given to the REPAIRING of Watches and Jewelry.

Hancock Street, Quincy, Dec. 21, 1850 tf

Executor's Sale of Real Estate.

IN QUINCY

THE Estate of the late Deacon John Sullivan, of Quincy, will be sold at Public Auction, on the premises, on TUESDAY, March 11th—at half past 2 o'clock, P. M—if stormy, the first fair day, at the same hour. The said property consists of a spacious and Out Buildings, together with about 30 Acres of Upland, easy to work, and under good Cultivation; on which are over 200 Fruit Trees, mostly in bearing with Strubbery and Grape Vines.

DWELLING HOUSE

The property is situated in that part of Quincy known as Germantown; 11 mils from the City by land 9 by water; and in point of Location, and natural Beauty, and adaptedness to the purposes of a Summer Watering Place, is unsurpassed by the most favored resorts in this vicinity.

Lying on Quincy Bay, a beautiful arm of the sea, it is accessible by water at all times of Tide, and possesses ample facilities for Sea Bathing and fishing. The most inviting drives are found in the immediate neighborhood; together, with a blended scenery of Sea and Land, as varied and Picturesque as can be desired

JOHN SPENCE Executor.

L. G. BORTON, Auctioneer

Quincy, Feb. 23d 3w

Family Bibles

WE continue to sell BEAUTIFUL QUARTO BIBLES, of superior quality and binding, at unprecedentedly low prices. Many have availed themselves of the opportunity offered in a former notice, to purchase a good Bible cheap. We have more left, and invite all to call and examine before purchasing.

C GILL & CO
QUINCY BOOKSTORE

Quincy, Jan 4th., 1850 3w

Assignee's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Assignee of the estate of

BENJAMIN NEWCOMB

of Braintree, teamster, an Insolvent debtor; and further notice is given, that a meeting of his creditors will be held at the office of Francis Hubard Esq. a Commissioner of Insolvency for the County of Norfolk, in Roxbury on the thirty first day of March, ensuing at ten o'clock of the forenoon, where all persons interested may be present and prove their claims.

SILAS BINNEY, Assignee

Weymouth, Feb 22d 2w

BROAD CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, TWEEDS and VESTINGS, for sale at a great discount from former prices

Please call and examine before purchasing at

I. W MUNROE'S.

MUFFS.

I. W MUNROE has a few Muffs remaining, which will be sold very cheap.

Quincy, Feb, 14th 1851.

Crockery and Glass Ware.

GOOD assortment for sale at the very lowest prices, please examine prices and quality before purchasing.

I. W MUNROE

Quincy, Feb, 14th, 1851.

Old Colony Railroad.

Depot Corner of South and Kneeland Streets

FALL Arrangement, commencing September 10, 1850. Trains leave Boston daily, except Sundays—

For Plymouth, 8 1-2 A. M.; 4 1-2, P. M.

For Bridgewater, 8 1-2 A. M.; 4 1-2 P. M.

For Quincy and Braintree, 7 3-4, 8 1-2 A. M.; 1 3-4, 3 4 4 1-2, 9 1 P M.

For Hingham and Cohasset, 8 1-2 A. M.; 3, 6 P M

For Milton, U. M., 9 3-4 A. M.; 1, 2 3-4, 5 1-2, P M

Plymouth for Boston, 7 1-4 A. M.; 2 1-4 P. M.

Bridgewater for Boston and Plymouth, 7 1-4 A. M.; 3 1-2 P M

Cohasset for Boston, 6 3-4, 8, A. M.; 4 P. M.

Milton U M for Boston, 8, 10 1-2 A. M.; 1 3-4 4 3-4 P. M.

Braintree for Boston, 7.18, 8 1-2, 8.40, 11 04, A. M. 2 48 4 — 2 5.13, P M.

☞ The 5 P. M. Train from Boston for Plymouth, will not stop short of South Braintree.

JOS. H. MOORE, Sup't.

Boston, July 25, tf

Trains leave Quincy for Boston as follows:—

7 21, 8 35, 8 17, 11 10, A. M.; 2 54, 4 39 5 16 M.

Assignee's Sale.

WILL be sold by public auction at the HANCOCK House in Quincy on WEDNESDAY Feb 12th at one o'clock P M sundry accounts and notes belonging to the Estates of Nathan Pratt and Nathan Pratt & Co

Per order of the Assignee's

GEORGE H FRENCH Auctioneer

Quincy Feb 8th 1w

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,
COUNSELLOR AT LAW,
WEYMOUTH,
MASS.

Weymouth, Feb. 1, 1851. 6w

Bounty Lands.

CLAIMS for BOUNTY LANDS by Soldiers in the War of 1812—or any Indian War since 1790; their Widows and Minor children, attended to, and Land Warrants obtained, by

FISHER A KINGSBURY, Weymouth, Mass.

Weymouth, Feb. 1, 1851. 6m

Notice of settlement.

ALL PERSONS having demands against the TOWN are requested to present them for payment to the Selectmen, on SATURDAY, the fifteenth, and on MONDAY, the seventeenth, next, at the Selectmen's Room in the Town House, from two to five o'clock in the afternoon of each day.

Also—All persons indebted to the Alms' House, are requested to settle with

EDWARD P. EATON, Superintendant,

on or before the above named time.

JOSEPH W ROBERTSON,
GEORGE MARSH,
ELIJAH BAXTER, } Selectmen of Quincy.

Quincy, Feb, 1, 1851. 3w

Chowder!!!

THE Subscriber takes this method to inform the Citizens of Quincy that he has taken the

"FRANKLIN STREET SALOON."

Where may always be found such articles as OYSTERS, PIG'S FEET, LAMB'S TONGUES, PICKLED CLAMS, and other Refreshments.

Also, CONFECTIONARY, CIGARS, etc.,

CHOWDER, twice a week Wednesday, and Saturday. Open day and Evening

CHARLES C BRACKETT,

Quincy, Feb 8th tf

Boarders Wanted.

8 or 10 BOARDERS Mechanics prefered wanted by the subscriber at his residence in COTTAGE AVENUE.

WILLIAM F DYER

Quincy, Feb 8th tf

VALENTINES!

VALENTINES ENVELOPES, NOTE PAPER, etc., at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Also, a BOX for the delivery of Valentines to any part of the town

Quincy, Feb 8th 2w

JUST received, a good assortment of GENTLEMENS', LADIES and MISSES

INDIA RUBBER SHOES

of the best quality, for sale cheap, by

I. W. MUNROE tf

Quincy, Jan. 11th, 1851.

ALL READY

AND NOW OPENING

NEW STYLE FOR FALL AND WINTER TRADE,

JUST RECEIVED T THE

Town Hall Cloth and Clothing Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD Respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made great additions to their present extensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would particularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect THEIR STOCK before buying elsewhere, feeling confident we can sell BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.

N. B—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN, ENGLISH and FRENCH and AMERICAN GOODS. Some of the RICHEST VEST PATTERNS, and a HOST OF PANTALOONERY!

BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVEY DESCIPTION ON HAND,

Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.

HATS, CAPS, &.

P S—RUSSELL & CO., having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for both private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of every article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.

—NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.—

Quincy, March 23.

POETRY.

We found the following line s in an exchange pa. per without credit accompanied with a statement that they were composed on having read an extract of a letter from Capt Chase giving an account of the sickness and death of Mr Brown Owen. Who died on the voyage to California They will reach the hearts of those who have friends in, or going to the Land of Gold

Lay up nearer brother nearer
For my limbs are growing cold
And thy presence seemeth dearer,
When thy arms around me fold;
I am dying brother dying;
Soon ye ll miss me in your berth,
For my form will soon be lying
:Neath the ocean's briny surf.

Hearken to me brother hearken
I have something I would say
Ere the veil my vision darken
And I go from hence away;
I am going surely going
But my hope in God is strong
I am willing brother knowing
That he doeth nothing wrong.

Tell my father when you greet him
That in death I prayed for him
Prayed that I may one day meet him
In a world that's free from sin;
Tell my mother, (God assist her
Now that she is growing old)
That her son would glad have kissed her
When his lips grew pale and cold.

Listen brother catch each whisper
'Tis my wife I'd speak of now
Tell O tell her how I missed her
When the fever burned my brow;
Tell her brother closely listen
Don't forget a single word
That in death my eyes did glisten
With the tears her memory stirred.

Tell her she must kiss my children
Like the kiss I last impressed
Hold them as last I held them
Folded closely to my breast;
Give them early to their Maker
Putting all their trust in God
And he never will forsake her
For He's said so, in his word.

O my children! Heaven bless them!
They were all my life to me
Would I could once more caress them
Ere I sink beneath the sea;
'Twas for them I crossed the ocean
What my hopes were I'll not tell
But they've gained an orphan's portion
Ynt He doeth all things well,

Tell my sister I remember
Every kindly parting word,
And my heart has been kept tender
By the thougts her memory stirred!
Tell them I ne'er reached the haven
Where I songht the "precious dust"
But have gained a port called Heaven
Where the gold will never rust.

Urge them to secure an entrance
For they'll find there brother there;
Faith in Jesus, and repentance
Will secure for each a share—
Hark! I hear my Saviour speaking
'Tis, I know his voice so well
When I am gone O don't be weeping
Brother, here's my last farwell.

REASONS FOR RISIBILITY.

Sweet coz! I'm happy when I can
I'm merry while I may,
Fer life's at most a narrow span
At best a winter's day
If care could make the sunbeam wear
A brighter, warmer hue
The evening stars shine out more fair
The blue sky look more blue,
Then I should be a graver man—
But since 'tis not the way
Sweet coz! I m happy when I can
And merry when I may.

If sighs could make us sin the less
Perchance I were not glad—
If mourning were the sage's dress
My garb should then be sad;
But since the angels' wings are white,
And e'en the young saints smile—
Since virtue wears a tobe of light
And vice a brow of guile—
Since laughter is not under ban
Nor gladness clad in gray—
Sweet coz! I'm happy when I can
And merry when I may.

I've seen a bishop dance a reel
And a sinner fast and pray
A knave at the top of Fortune's wheel
And a good man cast away!
Wine I have seen your graves ones quaff
Might set our fleet afloat;
But I never heard a hearty laugh
From out a villian's throat
And I never new a mirthful man
Make sad a young maid's day—
So, coz? I'm happy when I can
And merry when I may.

ANECDOTES.

A lady affirms that her boys are the most tender hearted children she ever knew. She says that if she asks one of them to draw a pail of water, he instantly bursts into tears.

—

At a party in the white house at Washington somebody asked Mr. Fillmore, the President's father why the agricultural products of New York had for some years fallen off in amount. The old gentleman replied that one reason might be that he had not been able to work himself for ten or twelve years. He is now eighty-one years old.

Farm to Let

TO BE LET, on a Lease, for one or more Years; the FARM known as the

"MOUNT HOPE FARM:"

Formerly belonging to the late Col Edward Glover; situated on the Squantum Road, in Quincy. Said Farm is located within about six miles of Boston, and has long been improved as a Milk Farm.

The buildings are in good repair and pleasantly located.

For further information please enquire of the Subscriber, Railway Village, Milton.

EBENEZER POPE.

Milton, Feb 15, 1851. 6w*

House and Land for Sale.

FOR Sale, a story and a half House in good condition—with Barn, sheds, two wells of Water, and other out Buildings—and nine Acres of excellent Land; all under cultivation, with a thrifty orchard of Apple and Cherry Trees, thereon. Situated on Adams' street, joining the Estate of William Newcomb, and about three quarters of a mile from the Depot. The said land, is well calculated for building lots, and will be sold at a bargain. For particulars, enquire on the premises of

MICHAEL GIRETY.

Quincy. Jan. 11, 1851. 2m

House For Sale

A one story and a half House, convenient for two families, built in a substantial manner, with a SHED and about three fourths of an acre of LAND, situated on Granite Street, and about one fourth of a mile from the South Quincy Depot. Will be sold at a bargain, and payments made easy. For particulars, nquire on the premises of

ALPHEUS HUNT.

Quincy, Nov. 16 6m

For Sale,

THE late residence of the REV. WM. ALLEN, near the Episcopal Church in Quincy Apply to THOMAS B HAWKES, No. 10 Exchange Street, Boston.

West Woodstock, Conn. Sept. 7th, 1850. 3m

For Sale, or To Let.

A new and convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated, on Common Street, with a barn and about one acre of Land with Fruit Trees thereon, to be leased or sold. Apply to

SAMUEL COPELAND.

Quincy, Nov 9th. tf

To Let.

A Convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated on Common Street, recently occupied by the Widow Driver, with about three acres of good Land, with several fruit trees; an excellent well of water, and a small Barn. Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND.

Quincy, Aug. 10. tf

House or Sale.

FOR Sale a new and convenient dwelling House; one and a half stories high; pleasantly situated on Common street; and an acre of land, with a young orchard of Apple, Cherry and Peach trees, thereon. Said property is pleasantly situated, and will be sold on reasonable terms, by application to

MICHAEL GIRETY, Adams street.

Quincy, Jan. 18, 1851. 2m

NEW ENGLND PROTECTIVE

Union, Ivision No. 179.

JUST opened on Washington Street, a few doors below the Stone Temple, in the Store resently occupied by J. Williams.

The Company respectfully solicit the attention of the public to their mode of Trade, and examine for themselves the quality of their Goods, and their Prices, which will be always exhibited upon a bulletin board

Their Stock of Coods consists of all kinds of Groceries, Country Produce, FLOUR, CROCKERY WARE, &c.

All of Superior quality, and sold at the lowest possible advance from cost.

No Damaged, Mixed, or inferior goods will be offered for sale.

Quincy, Oct 5. tf

Contractor's Notice.

PROPOSALS will be received until the 10th day of Feb inst for furnishing materials, and building a Barn, 120 by 50 feet, on the Mt. Wallaston Farm, in Quincy—to be completed by the 1st of July next. For Plan and Specifications, please call on the Subscriber, to whom proposals may be made.

LEWIS BASS.

Quincy, Feb, 1. 1851. tf

New England Protective Union.

DIVISION.....No. 180.

AT the STORE recently occupied by Mr. Frederick Hardwick on Franklin street, may be found a good assortment of

GROCERIES, CROCKERY and GLASS WARE.

Together with a supply of

BOOT MAKERS' FINDINGS.

— ALSO. —

BEEF,
PORK,
SAUSAGES,
TRIPE,
LARD,
MACKEREL,
PICKELS,
POTATOES, &c.

All of which will be kept constantly on hand, and will be sold, at a small advance from cost, for cash.

The public are invited to call, and examine our goods, and become acquainted with our mode of trade

N B —The spacious Hall over the store will be let on favorable terms.

☞Goods delivered to any part of the town free of chearge ☜

Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. tf

☞Shirts.....Shirts☜

I. W. MUNROE, has just received a prime assortment of

☞...FINE SHIRTS....☜

of the latest style, which will be sold at very low prices.

Quincy, Jan 25, 1851. tf

Bakery Business.

THE subscribers respectfully inform the public that they have commenced the baking business at the bakery formerly occupied by L G Horton, and hope by their constant attention to the business to merit a share of the public patronage

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Jan. 18th, 1851. tf

Mrs. Hayden.

GRATEFUL for the patron she has received for more th twenty years, offers to her friends and the public an ENLARGED STOCK of the best

FAMILY MEDICINES,

Selected and Prepared with care

—ALSO—

Various articles for the use of the sick, among which are, SPOUT DRINKING CUPS; Leech Glasses; Nursing Tubes, of Porcelain, ivory and silver, with and without bottles; India Rubber Breast Pumps, glass Pipes and Shells; Pratt's Patent Nursing Shields; India Rubber and Box-Wood do; Bed Pans;
Metal and Glass Syringes;
Crain's, Ingall's and Chapin's Supporters;
Horse Hair Mittens;
English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow;
Spread Plasters, on kid, cloth and paper;
Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes:
Dtistering Paper and Tissue Dressing; European Leeches, &c, &c.

Physicians' Prescriptions,

Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH.

She has also on hand and is constantly receiving he New and Popular Medicines of the day.

Washington St., rear of Stone Temple.

Quincy, Oct. 20. tf

Cider Vinegar.

JUST received, and for sale by the sbuscribers twenly barrels extra Cider vinegar.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850. tf

Apples.

BALDWINS AND RUSSETTS, of the first quality, for sale by H. A. RANSOM.

Quincy, Oct 12, 1850. tf

Dyer's Washing Fluid.

A first rate article for washing clothes. For sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

Bay State Long Shawls.

AN Assortment just received of the different sizes Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the lowest prices, by GEO. SAVIL and Co., Washington Street, Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

Super Cashmere Scarfs.

A GOOD Assortment of Colors and Sizes, just received and for sale very low, at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

Quincy, Jan. 18, 1851. tf

W. Porter.

DEALER IN

Pine, Spruce and Hemlock

LUMBER,

CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,

LATHS, PICKETS,

CEDAR POSTS, &c.,

At his new Wharf near Brackett's.

Quincy, July 31 tf

REMNAMT DE LAINES, from 2 to 6 yds., for sale low, at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. tf

Magazines.

LADY'S BOOK, GRAHAM'S, SARTAN'S, PETERSON'S HARPER'S

And other Magazines:

LIVING AGE, BLACKWOOD, NORTH AMERICAN.

And other Reviews:

CHRISTIAN EXAMINER, MONTHLY RELIGIOUS MAGAGZINE, UNIVERSALIST QUARTERLY, MERRY'S MUSEUM, GOLDEN AGE,

And many others:

For which Subscriptions will always be received and the Numbers promptly furnished—Or:

Single copies sold at the lowest prices, at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Quincy, Feb 15, 1851. 4w

Notice.

THE Subscribnr returns his thanks to his friends and the public generally who have favored him with their custom—and would say to those who are purchasing goods, thet he intends keeping a good

Assortment of

WEST INDIA GOODS AND GROCERIES;

OF ALL KINDS—Also,

BEEF, PORK, BACON, LARD, & POTATOES:

— AND —

FLOUR:

Of various kinds—by the Barrel or Bag—as low as can be bought for Cash or Credit.

N. B. And delivered as usual.

GEORGE H. LOCKE.

Quincy, Feb, 15, 1851.

Boot Makers's Shop to Let

ON Washington street; a few rods frem the Old Colony Depot. The Shop is pleasantly situated and well lighted! It is suitable for carrying on the business, and will comfortably seat eight or ten persons. It will be let to one person, or by the single seat.

N B A limited number can be accommodated with board.

For information enquire on the premises of

G. W. KENISON.

Quincy, Feb. 15, 1851.

Notice.

ALL Persons accounts remaining unsettled to Jan. 1st., 1851, are requested to call and settle, on, or before the 1st, of March next: or they will be left in the hands of an attorney for collection.

J. RUSSELL.

Quincy. Feb. 15, 1851.

Israel W. Munroe.

OFFERS for sale at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO, a good assortment of

ENGLISH and WEST INDIA GOODS, CROCKERY, GLASS and HARD WARE. SHOES, HATS and CAPS, PAPER HANGINGS,

And almost every article kept in a variety store, at the lowest prices for cash or approved credit.

Quincy, Jan 11. 1851. tf

BACKGAMMON BOARDS.

VARIOUS Sizes: good finish; selling low at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE

Quincy, Dec. 14, 1850 3w

SKATES.

40 Pairs of extra SKATES For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, Dec 7, 1850 tf

New Goods.

—o—

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.,

HAVE recently made large additions to their Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows:
Mouslin DeLaine, a good assortment, very low;
Prints and Ginghams in great variety;
Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters
Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors
Wool Yarn, of all colors;
A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities; for 5, 8 and 12 1-2 cts. per yard;
Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other Goods, all of which will be sold at the

VERY LOWEST PRICES.

Quincy, Augut 31.s tf

Brown's

ALMANAC, Pocket Memorandum and Account Book, for 1851. for sale at the QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Quincy, Nov, 25, 1851. tf

Board in Quincy.

A Gentleman and his wife, or two single gentlemen, can have pleasant rooms and board, at the house of Misses J. B. & M. TOWNSEND, on President's Hill, nearly opposite the depot.

Quincy, Nov. 16. 3m

Hats and Caps.

2 CASES, Fall stylo, just received, and for sale cheap for cash, by A. B. PACKARD.

Quincy, Dec. 6. 6w

Apples and Potatoes.

50 Bbls RUSSET and GREENING APPLES
200 bushels POTATOES of various kinds,
For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, Dec. 7, 1850 tf

HAT AND CAP STORE.

A. B. PACKARD has remodled his Store, making the sales room twice as large as formerly, where he intends keeping a large stock of

HATS AND CAPS,

suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle-aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.

Also,

A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring styles.

Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Ginghams, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c.

With that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers' use

Quincy, April 13. tf

Beef and Pork.

A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere.

Also—Fresh BEEF and PORK, constantly on hand, and delivered to any part of the town free expense. H. A. RANSOM & CO.

m16 tf

Salt Pork and Beef.

A FIRST rate article of PORK and BEEF, packed by the subscribers and for sale by the barrel or in smaller quantites to suit purchasers, cheap for CASH. J & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy. March 16th. tf

CROCKERY WARE

A Splendid Assortment of CROCKERY WARE just received and for sale at the Union Store, on Washington Street, Quincy

Blue Stone Chine Tea Setts	-	1.75
Mulbury " " "	- -	1,75
Light Blue " " "	- -	1.37
White " " "	- -	1,37

— AND —

A Good Assortment of GLASS & BRITANIA OIL & FLUID LAMPS

Quincy, Dec 7 1850 tf

QUINCY WASHING MIXUTRE.

THIS article has been tested by upwards of fifty families during the past week, and all have called it equal to anything of the kind which they have used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and sell it at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart, full directions accompanying it.

By this improvement, it is expected the dry goods market will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this will wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so often will new be bought.

ELISHA PACKARD.

tf

Wool Frocking.

200 TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.

ALSO—FROCKS ready made

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Sept. 29. tf

Prepartion for the Hair.

THE celebrated "Der Schon Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Gloss; Camm's Spanish Lustral, or medicated hair pre-ervative; Tompkins' Chlorion gustrale: Batchelor's instantaneous hair dye; Jules Haules vegetable hair dye. For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

French Calf Boots.

MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a FIRST RATE FIT WARRANTED, by W. S. UNDERWOOD,

Hancock St., Quincy,

Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.

Quincy, May 5. tf

Velvet Trimmings.

JUST Received, an assortment of Velvet Trimmings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by

GEO SAVIL & Co., Washington St.

Quincy, Sept 21. tf

Paper Hangings.

3 TO 400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 24th tf

Pies, Puddings, Custards, &c.

MRS E HAYDEN has on hand, a variety of articles for flavoring, viz:—

Peach water; Rose water; etc., etc. Essence of Rose, Cinnamon, Lemon, etc

Also—Sweet Marjoramn, Sage, Summer Savory, Thyme, &c.

Quincy, Nov. 16. tf

Watches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at he Store of GEORGE B. FOSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum.) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortmen of

Gold and Silver

WATCHES

Silver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Rich

HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

His attention will be given personally, at all times, to the REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF WATCHES, which his long experience in that department with Mr. JEFFREY R. BRACKETT, entitles him to the confidence of his friends and customers.

☞His friends and acquaintance when in Boston are invited to call.

THOMAS S. JOHNSON.

Boston, Feb. 23. 1stf

Crockery and Glass Ware.

JUST added to our previous assortment, new an choice patterns of

Tea and Dining Setts, Washbowls, and Ewers.

H. A. RANSOM & Co.

Quincy Sept. 1. tf

Flannels.

WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels Twilled and plain, an assortment just received and for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washington Street Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21 tf

Bounty Land.

FOR SOLDIERS' OF THE WAR OF 1812—and of any Indian War since 1790, their widows and minor children, obtained All claims, business, and suits, under any of the PENSION or PATENT LAWS of the United Staies.—also PROBATE and other business connected with the settlement of Estates, of deccased persons attended to by

EBEN. SMITH, JR.

Boston, Dec. 28, 1850. 3m

Onions.

50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Oct 12th, 1850. tf

Particular Notice

THE Subscribers respectfully inform their customers and the public, that on and after the First of OCTOBER next, all goods will be sold at reduced prices for cash only.

All those who wish to buy cheap, are invited to call, as the prices cannot fail to suit them.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Sept 7th. tf

Salt Pork.

A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and deiverep at any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quncy March 9th, tf

PORK & BEEF.

SALT PETRED BEEF and Bacon, of the first quality, will be kept constantly on hand during the season, and sold as cheap as can be bought at

Any Store in Town for Cash.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quincy, March 24. tf

Cider Vinegar.

FIRST rate article of good, Cider Vinegar. Just received and for sale by

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, August 17. tf

Judd's Medicated Liquid Cuticle

FOR closing wounds without sewing; forming a smooth coating over them, impervious to air and water, much superior in its healing properties to any other plaster, and so elastic as not to impede the motion of a joint; an excellent remedy also, for Burns, Scalds, or any fresh wounds. Price—25 cents per bottle.

Sold by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, August 31. tf

Cholera, Dysentery, &c.

MRS. E. HAYDEN offers for sale various articles for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, &c.

Among which are Whiteman's Vegetable Syrup; Java Balsam, (a celebrated East Indian remedy!) Billings's Summer Cordial; Arnold's Balsam: Holden's Dysentery Cordial; Jayne's Carminative Balsam; Anti-Cholera Drops: Whitwell's Sulphur and Charcoal Pills. And a variety of other articles, for the same diseases

Quincy, July 20. tf

Let the Public Call.

THE subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, stock of the best material only used, and the workmanship will vie with any other establishment

By attention to business and promptness to orde sr liberal share of support is solicited.

RALPH LOWE.

Quincy April 13th.

CASH

PAID FOR

OLD IRON, COPPER, BRASS,

PEWTER, LEAD, GLASS,

Rubbers and Ink Bottles, Junk,

COBDAGE, PAPER STOCK &c.

—BY—

A. B. PACKARD.

Pure Cider Vinegar.

BY the gallon or barrel, just received, and for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

1851.

THOMAS' Old Farmers' Almanac, for 1851, for sale wholesale and retail, at the QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Quincy Nov. 2d. 1850. 3w

Periodical Agency.

C. GILL & Co. are Agents for all the Quarrlye, Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free from any expense for Postage or transportation. All who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time for which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest ptices. tf Quincy, Dec. 28

PUBLISHED

NUMBER 10,

JOHN A. GRE

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance LARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid till months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed tation of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement wi previous to the payment of all arrear the option of the proprietor. When sub their papers discontinued, they will give effect at the time their subscription ex subscriber will be held responsible for of his paper so long as it is sent to his Co. Office, Tavern, or any other place he may have ordered it, until legally contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicu ed at the customary prices. The number required must be marked on the advertise wise they will be continued until ord charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers their own immediate business; and all ad for the benefit of other persons, as well advertisements, and advertisements of a sent in by them, must be paid for at the o

Business letters and communications add Editor, postage paid, will receive early att

☞Single copies of the paper, FIVE CE

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized pay and requested to procure subscription

JOSIAH BABCOCK,	Quincy Ru
GEORGE H. LOCKE,	" Stone
ORIN P. BACON,	Dorchester.
FISHER A. KINGSBURY,	Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVERLY,	Abington.
SAMUEL A TURNER,	South Scitu
N. B. OSBORNE,	Salem
FREEMAN HUNT,	New York.

MISCELLANY.

THE CHRISTMAS TREE.

Louise, my love, said Mrs Crawford, at all like this method of yours, or rat of method. It shows a bad fickle di never to finish what you have begun, b ably to leave it for something new. are the slippers you were working f and which you so anxious to finish by mas-Eve?'

'In the ch ffonniere, mama. There ty of time. I have only thn grounding piete.'

'Then those warm winter mitts yo had them in hand, I think, for more month.'

Louisa looked annoyed. 'I mean them, mama; but I am quite tired of of them. I think you need not be so v ticular. I only just want to do this ne tern of a couvrette before Emily Lawson us.'

'I should not mind about it, Louisa, were a solitary instance. But I see the sition perpetually manifested. If you s to grow upon you, my dear, you will ne anything well. Then look at the wa material! There are three or four unf pieces of rugwork of yours at this m thrust into different corners out of the wa ed and dirty from having lain about on and sofas, and which I do not believe yo ever finish.'

Louisa, whose temper was by no mean fect, made a somewhat abrupt reply; a mother, seeing that no further good coul be done with her, ceased to speak, and so ter left the room.

The couvrette took up much more time the little girl had calculated upon—so that Emily Lawson was obliged to return before she had seen her pupil safe throug intricacies of the pattern. But she left b what she considered plain directions for it tinuence and completion; which, how proved so little intelligible without the pe al superintendence of the instructor. Louisa, after many fruitless trials, gave u attempt in despair; and the unfortunate c et worth was consigned like many of its p cessors, to the oblivion of some work-ta chiffonniere.

It was now the Thursday before Christ Eve, which fell on a Monday. Lou brothers and sisters had all nearly comp their presents for each other, and for papa mamma, which were to be hung, labelled the names of the persons for whom they intended, to the grand Christmas Tree was then to be exhibited. Louisa, less fo nate than they, was working in desperatio the only present she was at all likely to c plete—the pair of slippers for papa.

'Louisa,' her mamma called from her b bedroom. 'come here before you do any m work, and arrange your drawers. I can allow you to leave them in such disorder.'

Louisa muttered an impatient exclamat and obeyed; but in so hasty and passiona manner, that her mamma remarked it, and sired her to be more gentle in her mo ments.

'There is no occasion to hurry, Louisa. know that I do not like you to fuss about, a you had all the business of the house up your shoulders.'

'But I shall never have finished my slipp mamma.'

'That is your own fault my love. I told wha would be the consequence of your pers ing in your working at that couvrette.'

Louisa went discontentedly back again to slippers, muttering to herself as she did so. wish mamma would not be so neat. She m let me alone just till I had finished my pres How I do hate neatness and order!'

Watches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at he Store of GEORGE B. FOSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum,) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortmen of

Gold and Silver

WATCHES

lver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Rich

HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

His attention will be given personally, at all times, the REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF ATCHES, which his long experience in that detment with Mr. JEFFREY R. BRACKETT, entitles n to the confidence of his friends and customers.

His friends and acquaintance when in Boston invited to call.

THOMAS S. JOHNSON.

Boston, Feb. 23. 1stf

Crockery and Glass Ware.

UST added to our previous assortment, new an choice patterns of

Tea and Dining Setts, Washbowls, and Ewers.

H. A. RANSOM & Co.

Quincy Sept. 1. tf

Flannels.

WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels Twilled and plain, an assortment just received for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washing- Street Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21 tf

Bounty Land.

OR SOLDIERS OF THE WAR OF 1812— and of any Indian War since 1790, their widows minor children, obtained All claims, business, suits, under any of the PENSION or PATENT WS of the United States,—also PROBATE and r business connected with the settlement of Es- s, of deceased persons attended to by

EBEN SMITH, JR.

oston, Dec. 28, 1850. 3m

Onions.

BUSHELS of prime Onions, for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

uincy, Oct 12th, 1850. tf

Particular Notice

HE Subscribers respectfully inform their customers and the public, that on and after the First of TOBER next, all goods will be sold at reduced s for cash only.

ll those who wish to buy cheap, are invited to as the prices cannot fail to suit them.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

uincy, Sept 7th. tf

Salt Pork.

FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller ity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and de- p at any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co

ncy March 9th, tf

PORK & BEEF.

T PETRED BEEF and Bacon, of the first ality, will be kept constantly on hand during ason, and sold as cheap as can be bought at

Any Store in Town for Cash.

D. BAXTER & Co

ney, March 24. tf

Cider Vinegar.

RST rate article of good, Cider Vinegar. Just eceived and for sale by

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

ncy, August 17. tf

d's Medicated Liquid Cuticle

R closing wounds without sewing; forming a mooth coating over them, impervious to air and much superior in its healing properties to any plaster, and so elastic as not to impede the mo- a joint; an excellent remedy also, for Burns, or any fresh wounds. Price—25 cents per

Sold by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

cy, August 31. tf

Cholera, Dysentery, &c.

E. HAYDEN offers for sale various arti es for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, &c.

g which are Whiteman's Vegetable Syrup; lsam, (a celebrated East Indian remedy!) 's Summer Cordial; Arnold's Balsam: Hol ysentery Cordial; Jayne's Carminative Bal- m-Cholera Drops: Whitwell's Sulphur and Pills. And a variety of other articles, for diseases

y, July 20. tf

Let the Public Call.

subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Har- king and Carriage Trimming, in all its branch- of the best material only used, and the work- will vie with any other establishment ention to business and promptness to orde sr share of support is solicited.

RALPH LOWE.

April 13th.

CASH

PAID FOR

IRON, COPPER, BRASS,

PEWTER, LEAD, GLASS,

ers and Ink Bottles, Junk,

COBBAGE, PAPER STOCK &c.

—BY—

A. B. PACKARD.

Pure Cider Vinegar.

e gallon or barrel, just received, and for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

y, Sept. 14. tf

1851.

HAS' Old Farmers' Almanac, for 1851, for wholesale and retail, at the

QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Nov. 2d. 1850. 3w

Periodical Agency.

L. & Co. are Agents for all the Quarterlye, nthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving sub- therefor and furnishing the Numbers free expense for Postage or transportation. A l to subscribe for any Magazine can be supplied with all the numbers for the time they pay. For Terms please apply at the BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be ex- single numbers purchased at the lewest.

tf Quincy, Dec. 22.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.....OVER MESSRS. JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO'S STORE.....HANCOCK STREET.

NUMBER 10, QUINCY (MASS.) SATURDAY, MARCH 8, 1851. VOLUME 15.

JOHN A. GREEN,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance—Two DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid till the end of six months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till the expiration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will be stopped previous to the payment of all arrearages unless at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers wish their papers discontinued, they will give notice to that effect at the time their subscription expires. Every subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of his paper so long as it is sent to his address at the Post Office, Tavern, or any other place wheresoever he may have ordered it, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously, inserted at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, otherwise they will be continued until ordered out and charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business; and all advertisements for the benefit of other persons, as well as all legal advertisements, and advertisements of auction sales, sent in by them, must be paid for at the usual rates.

Business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.

☞ Single copies of the paper, FIVE CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive, pay and requested to procure subscriptions:

JOSIAH BABCOCK,	Quincy Railway.
GEORGE H. LOCKE,	" Stone Quarries.
ORIN P. BACON,	Dorchester.
FISHER A KINGSBURY,	Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVERLY,	Abington.
SAMUEL A TURNER,	South Scituate.
N. B. OSBORNE,	Salem
FREEMAN HUNT,	New York City.

MISCELLANY.

THE CHRISTMAS TREE.

Louise, my love, said Mrs Crawford, 'I don't at all like this method of yours, or rather want of method. It shows a bad fickle disposition never to finish what you have began, but invariably to leave it for something new. Where are the slippers you were working for papa, and which you so anxious to finish by Christmas-Eve?'

'In the chiffonniere, mama. There is plenty of time. I have only thh grounding to compete.'

'Then those warm winter mitts you have had them in hand, I think, for more than a month.'

Louisa looked annoyed. 'I mean to finish them, mama; but I am quite tired of hearing of them. I think you need not be so very particular. I only just want to do this new pattern of a couvrette before Emily Lawson leaves us.'

'I should not mind about it, Louisa, if this were a solitary instance. But I see the disposition perpetually manifested. If you suffer it to grow upon you, my dear, you will never do anything well. Then look at the waste of material! There are three or four unfinished pieces of rugwork of yours at this moment, thrust into different corners out of the way, faded and dirty from having lain about on chairs and sofas, and which I do not believe you will ever finish.'

Louisa, whose temper was by no means perfect, made a somewhat abrupt reply; and her mother, seeing that no further good could then be done with her, ceased to speak, and soon after left the room.

The couvrette took up much more time than the little girl had calculated upon—so much, that Emily Lawson was obliged to return home before she had seen her pupil safe through the intricacies of the pattern. But she left behind what she considered plain directions for its continuence and completion; which, however, proved so little intelligible without the personal superintendence of the instructor, that Louisa, after many fruitless trials, gave up the attempt in despair; and the unfortunate crochet worth was consigned like many of its predecessors, to the oblivion of some work-table or chiffonniere.

It was now the Thnrsday before Christmas-Eve, which fell on a Monday. Louisa's brothers and sisters had all nearly completed their presents ler each other, and for papa and mamma, which were to be hung, labelled with the names of the persons for whom they were intended, to the grand Christmas Tree that was then to be exhibited. Louisa, less fortunate than they, was working in desperation at the only present she was at all likely to complete—the pair of slippers for papa.

'Louisa,' her mamma called from her little bedroom. 'come here before you do any more work, and arrange your drawers. I cannot allow you to leave them in such disorder.'

Louisa muttered an impatient exclamation, and obeyed; but in so hasty and passionate a manner, that her mamma remarked it, and desired her to be more gentle in her movements.

'There is no occasion to hurry, Louisa. You know that I do not like you to fuss about, as if you had all the business of the house upon your shoulders.'

'But I shall never have finished my slippers, mamma.'

'That is your own fault my love. I told you what would be the consequence of your persisting in your working at that couvrette.'

Louisa went discontentedly back again to her slippers, muttering to herself as she did so. 'I wish mamma would not be so neat. She might let me alone just till I had finished my present. How I do hate neatness and order!'

The Monday morning arrived, a joyful time to the little Crawfords, for every other occupation was laid aside that they might deck the Christmas Tree. A young fir tree had been cut down for the purpose, and placed in a gaily painted tub half filled with earth. Among the branches were numerous tiny tapers fastened there ready for lighting at the time of exhibition. The children now, under the direction of their mamma, proceeded to hand oranges and apples by strings to some of the boughs, and to fasten among them bau-bons, gilded crackers, figs, bunches of raisins and other such trifles. Then came the disposition of presents, chiefly their own handiwork, in conspicuous parts of the tree; and at this period of the proceedings mamma was requested to retire.

'Where is Louisa?' said little Emmeline. We want her present to hang up.'

'I will go and look for her,' said James. 'I am afraid she is in trouble. She was crying this morning and when I asked her what was the matter. she would not speak to me.'

Poor Louisa was sitting in a corner of the library, laboring at the grounding of the unfortunate slippers, the canvas on which she was working being so fine, that she could not, by the utmost exertion, advance more than one square to an hour. The tears were running down her face, dropping on the gay colors of the Berlin wood, and obstructing her gaze, so that she could scarcely see the stitches she wishes to form.

'Dear Lou!' exclaimed her brother, running up to her and throwing his arms round her neck, 'what is the matter? Are you ill? Is any one angry with you?'

Louisa wept more bitterly than before, and turned away from her would be consoler. But James took her face gently between both his hands, and made her turn it towards him again, and drop the covering pocket handkerchief.

'Come, dear Louisa, tell me, and I shall perhaps be able to help you.'

'No, my dear James,' sobbed the distressed child, 'you cannot help me. It is quite hopeless, I wish, I wish I attended to what mamma said.'

'What is it, dear? Is it this work? You have only a little bit of this toe to finish.'

'That little bit, dear James, will take—oh, so long! I shall nor be in time with it, if I work every minute of the day. There will be no present of mine on the Christmas Tree.'

'Is that all, Louisa? We will soon manage that,' said James cheerfully. 'Say nothing about it. Wait until I come back, and I will soon supply you with a present or two for the Christmas Tree.'

He was hastening away, but Louisa stopped him. 'No, brother,' she said firmly; 'I will not be so mean as to take the credit of any present that is not really my own. It is my own fault delaying so long, and I will patiently bear the mortification I deserve.'

James remonstrated, but it was of no use. Louisa dried her tears. 'Come,' said she, 'the rest will be waiting for us.'

They were all very sorry when they heard the state of the case, and would have given up anything to console their sister. The Christmas Tree was at length complete, and the Schoolroom in which it was placed was locked up until the morning.

'Now, dear papa,' said Harriet,' who was a year older than Louisa, after a great many nods and signs had been exchanged between the children after tea, and James and Emmeline had been quietly in and out of the room several times—now, papa come, if you please.'

Mr. Crawford good humordly allowed himself to be half dragged, half pushed by the exulting children into the school room. There, with its dozens of tapers blazing merrily, giving the spiked branches that peculiar tint which they only assume by artificial light stood the Christmas Tree. The kind father of course made believe that he was much surprised, ho' the same thing had occurred to him for the last three years and the younger children danced about and clapped their hands with delight as he advanced towards the tree, and examined its decorations.

'For dear Papa,' she read on the lable of a neat little box thsi was suspended from one of the principal boughs.

James blushed. He had a mechanical genius and his father having on the last Christmas Eve placed a small turning lathe and a neat assortment of teols beneath the shadow of the Christmas Tree, the boy had since made good use of them! His present to his father was a very handy little box to place on Mr. Crawford's writing desk, for the purpose of holding steel pens, odd bits of sealing-wax, and so forth.

The children now began to look a little closer: for while their father pretended to be merely examining the tree, he was in reality feeling in his pockets for various trifles therein depesited; which he quietly placed on the earth inside the tub, as a kind of ornamental barrier ronnd the tree.

'Stand off you young rogues, he playfully shouted, making a great demonstration of fists and squared elbows. 'stand off, until I have taken possession of my share of the good things.'

'Oh, papa! papa is eating all the figs! cried one. 'There goes my great bunch of raisins,' shouted another. 'Me some!' begged little Willie, the youngest. 'Me some papa!'

'Look here, Emmeline,' said Mr. Crawford to his wife, who stood by enjoying the scene. 'Some fairy has procured you the very thing you wanted—a new sheath for your spectacles and here is a pincusion; and there a bag—all for you.'

'Come away, papa—naughty papa,' cried the children, who were tired of remaining inactive spectators. 'Papa is doing everything.'

Papa was ousted from his prominent position and then commenced a general distribution of the presents. Even little Willie had been able to contribute. With his store of saved-up pennies he had walked with Harriet to the town on the previous Saturday, and there bought some pretty trifles for dear papa and mamma.

'Now let us look under the tree,' said mamma, when nothing remained on the branches but the tapes, and a few apples and oranges 'Louisa my love, the first present I meet with is labelled with your name.'

'Oh what a pretty box!' said the children. 'What is inside? Let me look.' 'And me.' 'And me.'

'Stop, my dears,' said their mamma; 'Louisa must open it herself.'

But Louisa did not seem in any hurry to move.

'Why don't you come forward to receive your present, my love?' inquired her father. 'It is a crochet and knitting box, or whatever you call that work you are so fond of. I thought you would like something of the kind.'

Louisa blushed, and the tears stood in her eyes. Tell them, James, she whispered, 'that I can't take it—I have given no present to anybody.'

When Mr. Crawford knew how it was, he was very sorry; but he did not reprove Louisa just then, for her own sense of wrong was punishment enough, and he could not bear to see her young and sorrowful face on that festive evening. All the children was made happy—each in their own way; and then they left the Christmas Tree in its native simplicity, with the remains of one or two dying tapers flickering among its branches.

The next morning was Christmas Day, and no work was thought of; but the morning after—the children having no lessons that week—Louisa set herself with steady purposes to an undertaking she had planned in her own mind. Her mother coming into the school room, found her in the midst of pieces of discarded rug and orotchet work, and skeins of knitting and crochet cotton, which she was sorting and folding up with the various pieces of work they were intended to complete.

'Mamma,' she said, rising and throwing her arm round her mother's neck, 'if I finish these one by one, will you have hope of my amendment?'

'I shall, indeed, my darling. By the time the last is completed, I trust you will have formed a habit of persaverance which will stand you in good stead all your life long.'

A MONUMENT TO A MOTHER'S GRAVE.

I followed into a burying ground, in the suburbs or Philadelphia, a small train of persons, not more than a dozen, who had come to bury one of their acquaintances. The clergyman in attendance was leading a little boy by the hand, who seemed to be the only relative of the deceased.

I gathered with them around the grave, and when the plain coffin was lowered down the child bust forth in uncontrollable grief.—The little boy had no one left to whom he could look for affection, or who could address him in tones of parental kindness. The last of his kindsfolk was in the grave, and he was alone.

When the clamorous grief of the child had a little subsided, the clergyman addressed us with a customary exhortation to except the monition, and be prepared; and in turning to the child he added—

"She is not to remain in the grave forever. As sure as the grass, which is now chilled with the frost of the season, shall spring to greenness and life in a few months, so true shall your mother rise from that grave to another life—a life of happiness, I hope.

The attendants then shovelled in the earth upon the coffin, and some one took little William the child by the hand, and led him forth from the lonely tenant of his mother.

Late in the, ensuing spring, I was in the neighborhood of the same burying ground, and seeing the gate open, I walked among the graves, for some time, reading the names of the dead; when, recollecting that I was near the grave of the poor widow, buried the previous autumn, I turned to see what had been done to preserve the memory of one so utterly destitute of earthly friends.

To my surprise, I found the most desirable of all mementoes for a mother's sepulchre:—little William was sitting near the head of the now sunken grave, looking intently at some green shoots that had come forth with the warmth of spring, from the soil that covered his mother's coffin.

William started at my approach, and would have left the place it was long before I could induce him to tarry, and, indeed I could not win his confidence until I told him I was present when they buried his mother, and had marked his tears at the time.

"Then you heard the minister say my mother would come out of this grave,' said William.

'I did.'

'It is true—is it not?' asked he in a tone of confidence.

'I most firmly believe it,' said I.

'Believe it!' said the child, 'believe it; I thought you knew it. I know it.'

'How do you know it, my dear?'

'The minister said as true as the grass grew up, and the flowers bloomed in Spring, so true would mother rise. I came a few days afterward, and planted flower seeds on the grave. The grass came green in the burying ground long ago; and I watched every day for the flowers, and to day they came up too. See them breaking through the ground!—By and by mother will come again.'

A smile of exulting hope played upon the features of the boy, and I felt pained at disturbing the faith and confidence with which he was animated. 'But, my little child,' said I, 'it is not here your mother will rise.'

'Yes, here,' said he with emphasis;—'here they placed her, and here I have come ever since the first blade of grass was seen this year.'

I looked around, and saw the tiny foot of the child had trod out the herbage at the grave side, so constant had been his attendance—What a faithful watch-keeper?—What mother would desire a richer monument than the fond bending in tearful but hoping trust over her grave?

'But William,' said I, 'it is in another world that she will rise;—and I attempted to explain to him the nature of that promise which he had mistaken. The child was confused, and he neither pleased not satisfied.

'If mother is not coming back to me, if he is not to come up here, what shall I do. I cannot stay without her.'

'You shall go to her,' said I, adopting the language of the Scripture, 'you shall go to her, but she shall not come again to you.'

'Let me go, then,' said William; 'let me go, that I may rise with mother.'

'William,' said I pointing down to the plants just breaking through the ground the seed which were sown there would not have come up, if it had not been ripe; so you must await till your appointed time, until your end cometh.'

'Then I shall see her?'

'I surely hope so.'

'I will, then,' said the child; 'but I thought I should see her soon; I thought I should meet her here.'

In a month William ceased to wait. He died, and they opened his mother's grave, and placed his little coffin on hers. It was the only wish the child expressed when dying.—Better teachers than I had instructed him in the way to meet his mother; and, young as the little sufferer was, he had learned that all the labors and hopes of happiness, short of heaven are profitless and vain.

TIT FOR TAT.

A girl, young and pretty, but all gifted with an air of adorable candor, lately presented herself before a certain Parisan lawyer, (we translate the incident from the French journals for the benefit of our home made attorneys,) and thus addressed him:—

"Monsieur, I come to consult you upon a grave affair. I want to oblige a man I love, to marry me in spite of himself. How shall I proceed,"

The gentlemen of the bar had of course a sufficiently elastic conscience. He reflected a moment; then, being sure that no third person overheard him, replied unhesitatingly.

"Mademoiselle, according te our law you already posess the means of forcing a man to marry you. You must remain on three occasions alone with him; then you can swear before a judge that he is you lover."

"And that will suffice Monseur?"

"Yes, Mademoiselle, with one further condition."

"Well?"—

"That you will produce witnesses who will make oath to their having seen you remain a good quarter of an hour with the individual said to have trifled with your affections.'

"Very well, Monseur. I will retain you as counsel in the mangement of this affair. Good day."

A few days afterwards the young girl returned. She is mysteriously received by the lawyer, who scarcely giving her time to seat herself, questions her with the most lively curiosity.

"Well, Mademoiselle, how do matters prosper?"

"Oh! all goes on swimming. I have passed a half-hour with my intended. I have been seen to go up stairs and come down again. I have four witnesses who will affirm this under oath."

"Capital! capital! Preserve in your design, Mademoiselle; but mind, the next time you consultme you must tell me the name of the young man we are going to render happy in spite of himself."

"You shall have it without fail"

A fortnight afterwards, the young person, more naive and candid than ever, knocked discretely at the door of her councel's room. No sooner was she within, than she flung herself hastily into a chair, saying that she had mounted the stairs too rapily, and that emotion made her breathless. Her counsel endeavored to reassure her; and made her inhale salts, and even proposed to unlace her garments.

"It is useless, Monsieur," said she, "I am much better."

"Well now, do tell the name of the fortunate mortal you are being to espouse?'

'Are you very impatient to know it?'

'Exceedingly so.'

'Well then, the fortunate mortal, be it known to you, is——yourself!' said the young beauty, bursting into a laugh. 'I love you; I have been three times tete a tete with you and my four witnesses are below, ready' and willing to accompany us to the magistrate, gravely continues the narrator.

The lawyer, thus fairly caught, had the good sense not to get angry. The most singular of it is that they are living happily together. By the way she was an excellent housekeeper.

DISTANT RELATION.

We saw yesterday a recommend from an Irish friend of ours in favor of a gentleman who was an applicant for a commission in the army.—Among other things he says:—"My friend, Mr——, is closely connected with the Presidents, his father having fought a duel with one of the Polks."

The above brings to our mind an incident that occurred some time ago at Cincinnatti, on board the steamer "Buckeye," just as she was about to depart for New Orleans.

A tall countryman, carrying a pair of saddle bags on his arms, and covered with perspiration, and who looked as though he couldn't tell his head from a bunch of shingles, rushed into the cabin, calling at the top of his voice—

"What is Col. M'Intosh? Is Col. M'Intosh on this boat?

No one answered.

"Well, then, what is the cap'un? I must see Col M'Intosh."

On being informed that the captain was on the hurricane deck, our enquiring friend pressed through the crowd in that direction.

"Haul in the planks and shove her off!" sounded in his ears, just as he had reached the deck.

"Stop her, cap'un—stop her! I am not going to Orleans."

"Run out the planks!—ashore with you, then—quick!" shouted Capt Hartshorn.

"I say, cap'un, I want to see Col M'Intosh—I must see him."

"I don't know him, sir," quickly answered the old sea-dog. "We can't wait—go ashore—boat in the planks, I say."

"O cap'un I must see the Kurnel, he is a distant relation of mine, and, I never seed him in my life."

Now Captain H. was a warm hearted man, as every body knows. The last appeal touched his feelings, and he kindly enquired—

"How near of kin are you to the gentleman whom you are speaking?"

"Why, cap'un, he is the father of my first child!"

"Cast off that hawser and let her go!" were the last word we heard. And the boat and the man that was in search of his relative, wended their way to Orleans. We have not yet heard that the man found Col M'Intosh, or the place where he landed.

GETTING USED TO IT.

Somewhere about here,' writes a Southern correspondent, 'lives a small farmer, of such social habits that his coming home intoxicated was once no unusual thing. His wife urged him in vain to sign the pledge. 'Why, you see,' he would say,' 'I'll sign it after a while, but I don't like to break off right at once; it aint wholesome. The best way always is to git used to a thing by a degrees you know.' 'Very well, old man,' his helpmate would rejoin, 'see, now, if you don't fall into a hole one of these days, while you can't take care of yourself, and nobody near to take you out.' Sure enough, as if to verify the prophecy, a couple of days after, he did fell in; and after a deal of useless scrambling, shouted for the light of his eyes,' to come and help him out. 'Didn't I tell you so?' said the good soul, showing her cap-frill over the edge of the parapet; 'you've got into a hole at last; and it's only lucky I'm in hearing, or you might have drowned, you old dog you!' 'Well,' she continued after a pause, letting down the bucket, 'take hold'—And up he came, higher at each turn of the windlass, unt l the old lady's grasp slipping from the handle, down he went to the bottom again. This, occurring more than once, made the temporary occupant of the well suspicious. 'Look here,' he screamed, in a fury, at the last splash, you're doing that on purpose—I know you are!' 'Well now I am,' responded the old woman tranquilly, while winding him up once more, 'Don't you remember telling me it's best to get used to things by degrees? I'm 'fraid if I was to bring you right up on a sudden, you wouldn.' find it wholesome'. The old fellow could not help chuckling at the application of his principle, and protested he would sign the pledge on the instant, if she would lift him fairly out. This she did, and packed him off to 'swear in,' wet as he was. For you see,' she added, very emphatically, 'if you ever fall into the well again, I'll leave you thar—I will!'

A GREAT SPLASH.

Three or four little boys, with aprons on stood on the curb stone of a street. The water of the gutter was dammed up to enable the workmen to make some repairs, and there was quite a dirty puddle extending across the street

One of the little boys cried out at the top of voice "Now, see what a great splash I will make!"

In he went with a bold flourish; but half way across there was a hole, made by taking out large paving stone, and suddenly plunging into this down he went into the muddy water, and came out in a hurry, well soaked, and not a little chagrined at the issue of his great splash.

When boys or men call upon bystanders to see what a splash they will make it is not a rare thing to find them, shortly after, creeping out of a mud hole

QUINCY PATRIOT.

SATURDAY, MARCH. 8th. 1851.

John A. Green, Editor.

ANNUAL MARCH MEETING

The following which we have received from an official source, show the result of the late election in this Town. On account of the great number of candidates in the field for preferment, a second day's trial was necessary in order to complete.

Chose---Wm. S. Morton, Moderator.

Bryant B. Newcomb, Noah Cummings and Lewis Bass, Selectmen, Assessors, Overseers of the Poor and Surveyors of Highways.

Israel W. Munroe, Town Treasurer.

George L. Gill, Town Clerk.

Lysander Richards, Wm. W. Dean, Noah Cummings, John T. Burrell, Wm. S. Morton, George White and James Bradford, School Committee.

Wm W Baxter, Ebenezer Adams and Whitcomb Porter, Fence Viewers.

Shadrach Wade, Richard Newcomb, Joseph G. Brackett, Josiah Adams, Wm. Parker Jr. James M. Wade and Elihu Thayer, Surveyors of Lumber.

Seth Adams, George H. French, Abel Wright and George Curtis, Constables.

Wm. M. Spear, Wm. R. Brown, Calvin W. Perry, John Arnold, Thomas P. G Hardwick, Thomas Tolman, W. M. French, Geo. Curtis, Geo. W Goodwin, Wm. Packernell, Samuel Tomas, Henry Litchfield, Horace B. Ellis, John Tucker, Ebenezer Adams, Field Drivers

Francis Williams, at Large, Josiah S. Fellows South District; Geo. Newcomb, Point District; Ebenezer Adams, West District; Josiah Bass, North District; Jacob F. Eaton; Centre District; Samuel Higgins, East District, Auditors.

Alden French, Geo. H. French, Geo. H. Locke, Thaddeus H. Newcomb, Ebenezer Adams, Samuel Curtis, Peter Chubbuck, Wm. M. Spear, John A. Billings, Lloyd G. Horton, Charles Marsh, Wm. Nash, Frederick A. Trask, Fire-wards.

Geo. Marsh, W. M. French, Geo. Newcomb, Lewis N Clover, Geo. H. Locke, Committee on Appropriation.

Surveyors of Wood and Bark, to be appointed by the Selectmen.

Voted---To accept the Auditors Report.

Voted---To refer the 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th Articles in the Warrant to Committee on Appropriations, to report at the adjournment of the Meeting.

Voted---To refer the seventh Article relative to Repairs of Highways to the Selectmen.

Voted---That the Town Land be improved in the same manner as last year.

Voted---To allow the Town Clerk $35, and Town Treasurer $40. for services the past year.

Voted---That the School Districts choose Prudential Committees, and they select and contract with teachers.

Voted---To allow the Stewards of the Engine Companies $30, each, and the members the amount of their County, and Town Poll Tax.

Voted---To grant the Town Hall and Lyceum Room for Temperance Meetings free from all expense, when not previously engaged.

Voted---To refer the revision of the Jury Box to the Selectmen.

Voted---To refer the Fifteenth Article, and the whole subject of a High School to a Committee of seven, one from each District and one at Large.

Chose---Lysander Richards, Wm B. Duggan, Noah Cummings, James Bradford, Israel W. Munroe, Nathaniel White, Geo. Newcomb.

Voted---To postpone the balloting for Register of Deeds and County Treasurer, to the adjournment of this meeting.

Voted---To accept the Report of the Selectmen on Guide Posts.

Voted---To choose a Committee of three to prosecute "all violations of the License Law."

Chose---Bryant B. Newcomb, Noah Cummings Lewis Bass.

Voted---To adjourn to the first Monday in April at one o'clock P. M.

BRAINTREE TOWN OFFICERS

The following Officers were chosen at the Town Meeting on Monday last.

Judson Stoddard, Town Clerk and Treasurer.

Elias Hayward, Caleb Hollis and Joseph Dyer, Selectmen, Assessors and Overseers of the Poor.

Joseph R. Frasier, Constable.

Rev. R. S. Storrs, Rev. Jonas Perkins and Rev. William B Hammond, School Committee.

WORLD'S FAIER ART UNION.—We would call the attention of our readers to the Advertisement of this Society in another column. Those disposed to try their fortunes and secure a trip to the World's Fair have now a rare opportunity offered them. The investment required is certainly small, considering the prospect of drawing so rich a prize.

Congress has at last brought their labors to a close—or the provisions of the Constitution has brought it to a close for them:—and ere this, no doubt many of the members have already arrived at their homes. We wish them all happiness during the recess, and hope they will improve their time profitably by mixing with their constituents and endeavor to refresh their memories with a little common sense before they again visit Washington. The country will not countenance another such farce, as was perpetuated last winter. What sane man now believes that the predictions which were daily sent forth from the Capitol of the Nation, of the imminent danger of the Union, had any other origin than in the heated imagination of some of its inmates, for the purpose of arousing unnecessary alarms and creating political capital. From whom was the Union in danger?—The people?—They would feign have us think so: and that if it had not been for their timely and disinterested labors to calm the troubled elements, the Nation before this, would have been at loggerheads---the South arrayed against the North, and the North against the South---cutting each others throats for a mere amusement and pastime. The bare reflection, from whatever source it emanated, is a base calumny on the intelligence and patriotism of the people. The fact is, it was the monied power of the country which raised the whirlwind. The North, or manufacturing interest, wanted more protection; and the South a larger field to propagate negroes and extend her peculiar institutions. By a system of log-rolling, each expected, when the country was sufficiently excited, to obtain their wishes. But both interests have signally failed---and with them the hopes of all agitators and panic makers.

The Cheap Postage Bill has become a law:—Except in regard to the three cent coinage, it does not go into operation until the first of July next. It reduces the average rate of postage both upon letters and newspapers nearly one half. The following table shows the rate on newspapers under the new law, compared with the old:—

NEWSPAPERS PER QUARTER.

Miles	Weekly	Semi Weekly	Tri Weekly	More than Tri Weekly
Under 50 (new Bill)	5 cts	10	15	25
Present rate	12	24	36	48
Over 50---under 300	10	20	30	50
Present rate	13	26	54	108
Over 300---un. 1000	15	30	45	75
Present rate	18	36	54	108
Over 1000---un. 2000	20	40	60	100
Present rate	18	36	54	108
Over 2000---un. 4000	25	50	75	125
Present rate	18	36	54	108
Over 4000	30	60	90	150
Present rate	18	36	54	108

All weekly papers free within the county where they are published. Papers of less than 1 1-2 ounce, half these rates; and papers not over 300 square inches, one fourth these rates.

The rates on monthly and semi-monthly newspapers the same, in proportion to the number of sheets used, as on weekly papers.

The new rate on letters not exceeding half an ounce, is 3 cents pre-paid; or 5 cents if not prepaid, for all distance under 3000 miles. Over 3000 miles, double these rates.

The section added by the Senate, providing for the procuring of envelopes, and authorizing the Postmaster General to send them through the mails to postmasters or other persons desiring them, free of charge, was stricken out. Also the section authorizing the appointment of additional clerks to carry out the provisions of the bill.

THE LYCEUM

MR. GREEN.—The lecture of Wendell Phillips on Thursday evening was one of the best of the season, eloquent and instructive it rivetted the attention of the audience, who were gratified by the manner and the ability with which he unfolded his subject.

His subject was the "Lost Arts," and it naturally led him over part of the ground explored by a previous lecturer—a comparison of the great masters of antiquity in the fine arts, with the artistis of our own times—and like the former lecturer attended to be enumerated may things in which they excelled the moderns, in the mechanical execution of intellectual conceptions, as in Sculpture and Paintings, in mechanical powers they surpassed us, and it is possible that Steamboats and Rail Roads were not unknown to them,—he also told us one of the most striking incidents in Bulwer's novels, as well as some times sayings, were traced to sages who existed centuries ago.

He did not however depreciate the acquirements of the present age, for he said that knowledge is now imparted to the million, and used for their advantage and enjoyment; while in olden time it was confined to the priests and magic, who used it to increase the credulity of the people with quackeries and other deceptions; and when Canyases trod down the nations he overrun much of this knowledge was lost, it was confined to so few persons—he enumerated and expatiated upon some of the arts lost to us, especially in metals and colours, which the ingenuity of later ages have not yet recovered—and he justly imputed the great change in the application of knowledge, from the minds of the few to the preceptions of all who wish to acquire it, to the democratic principles of the Christian religion—a cause as powerful to effect as it is beneficent in its influences upon our race.

That the ancients excelled the moderns in some things no one will deny—but as long as we can claim the art of printing and the mariners' compass we outstrip them in the useful arts. The walls of the Coliseum may astonish by their grandeur—the pencil of Titian may raise admiration, and the lofty monuments of marble, pointing upward from the spot that time has dissolved, may excite our wonder. But the moderns have enlarged the world of antiquity, the mariner has plunged boldly into the pathless ocean and by the aid of his compass discovered a continent that antiquity never knew—printing has scattered knowledge all over the earth—it is a moral lever which has moved a world—antiquity put her light under a bushel,—but modern science enlightens the world. If the ancients surpass in elegance the moderns excel in usefulness, and in those civil institutions which promote the happiness of mankind.

HANCOCK.

FOURTH OF MARCH. The evening of this day was noticed in this town by a splendid ball at the Hancock House. The music was the Kendall's Band of Boston and it was indeed rich and melodious. Much hilarity and enjoyment, prevailed. The supper was characteristic of the veteran "mine host" and his excellent landlady.

The arrangements were good and carried into full effect by the tact of Charles E. French, a scion of the old Stock who principally managed the affair.

ONE EYED THOMPSON.—The fate of this unhappy man, has given rise to a varieties of opinion in regard to his innocence or guilt, he appears to have been a person of good education and natural abilities---but a perfect sceptic on all subjects of religion. It will be recollected that he was arrested one day, last week, in New York, on the charge of passing counterfeit money---which charge he denied---an stating that it originated from the malice of his enemies. He was held in close confinement up to the time of his death.

In a letter to the Coroner, the following passages appear as his reasons for the rash act:

"The chief of which is that his life had ceased to be any service to those whom he was bound to protect, and invokes the interposition of the more sober thinking and virtuous in favor of his wife and children. He solemnly declares in the most postive manner that the Drurys are guilty, and that Warner had no knowledge of the torpedo case previous to its explosion.

He adds:—There is nothing extraordinary in my end. From my boyish days so far back as my memory serves, I have had a disposition to commit suicide. Surrounded by a mystery above my comprehension, and one that no theory promulgated by others appeared to me a solution of. I have desired death as the means of better comprehension or of a state of eternal quiet. For a long time I have lived only for others, those that I could not but love, and was bound to protect.

Of my perfect ability to confound this new charge to my prejudice, I am aware but why should I do so? The history of the past is an index to the future, and the hope of being any further service to my family has departed. So long as a man may be useful to those he was bound to protect, the act of suicide is selfish criminal and cowardly—but I cannot conceive it either when his continual existence is like to be continued with no good effect---for reasons and from causes not necessary for me to explain, but apart from any danger that may now threaten my liberty, for none such exists.

In regard to the deposition of his body, he says: To me it is of no consequence, yet so far as I can I desire to spare the feelings of those who love me while living, on their account to prevent mutilation that would increase their sufferings, I state that my death was caused by thirty-two grains of acetate of morphia. I procured it without the connivance of any.

(Signed) W. H. THOMPSON.

ADJOURNMENT OF CONGRESS—

The second session of the 31st Congress terminated its existence at 12 o'clock, P. M., on the 3 inst.

We believe, on the return of members to their Constituents, they will find their apprehensions in regard to the reports of Union, was premature and groundless.—And that there is more honesty and patriotism among the people, than is usually found in the meridian of Washington, of one thing, we are certain the ghosts and phantoms of imaginary evils which haunted the imaginations of some of our National guardians during the last session of their labors, will now be put to rest and the County will enjoy peace and tranquility, for a six months at least.

Among the bills pased were the Civil and Diplomatic Appropriation bill, the Army Appropriation bill, the Navy Appropriation bill, Post Office Appropriation bill, the bill establishing new Post Office and Post Routes, and the bill making Appropriations for Light Houses.

Among those defeated were the French Spoliations bill, the River and Harbor Appropriation bill, the Joint Resolution making the new Land Warrant assignable, the Joint Resolution annulling Mr. Roche's Printing Contract, and the Resolution creating the grade of Lieutenant General in the Army.

ITEMS.—Large flocks of wild geese passed over New York, on Thursday, to their northwest flight This migration of the wild goose to the north in the spring, is generally considered as an indication that the cold weather is gone, no more to return for the season.

INDUSTRY OF GVARIBALDI.—We see by the last foreign papers, that the Pope and the Propaganda were in a great alarm on account of a report that the Italian patriot General Garibaldi was cruising off the coast with a large force, watching his opportunity to land upon the shores of Western Italy. The "Ecomi Italia" informs the Roman government that they need give themselves no trouble on the subject, as General Garibaldi is industriously engaged in the more peaceful and profitable speculations of making candles on Staten Island.

CLINGMAN AND STANLEY.—The correspondent of the New York Tribune gives the following graphic description of the collision between these two gentlemen. It seems that the passion for "crushing" people is not confined to State street:

"Mr. Stanley was in his seat when Mr. Clingman came along and spoke to him. Mr. Stanley replied, when Mr Clingman sprang over the desk on Stanley and crushed him to the floor. Members instantly interferred and seperated them. No notice was taken of the assault by the House."

DELICIOUS.—The attention of those who contemplate visiting the "Great Exhibition," is called to the following description of the eatables and drinkables that the good people of London are daily served with. The statement is from the London Morning Post:—

Our milk contains everything but milk, our bread is we know not what, our water full of fighting devils of most ferocious aspect, our white pepper consists chiefly of ground rice, and our black of iron flings and the sweepings of the Custom House floors; and the component parts of our coffee are chicory, burnt beans, and roasted wheat colored with burnt molasses.

It is generally said and believed, that the President will not call an extra session of Congress—no matter what may happen.

It is mentioned in the French papers, that the Pope is about to cause himself to be represented as a Sovereign at Washington by a high diplomatic agent.

The Pawtucket Chronicle says a gentleman who had been absent from Rhode Island a couple of years, visted the General Assembly of that State recently in company with a friend, while the Old State debt was under discussion. He inquired of his companion if nothing else was ever discussed in the Assembly. "Not much," was the reply. "I supposed so," said he, "for I was here five years ago, and the same subject was under consideration, and I heard just such speeches as I have heard today."

'The constitutions of our females must be most excellent,' says a celebrated physicians, "for, take an ox or a horse, and enclose its sides with corsets, and he would labor indeed, but it would be for breath."

By the arrival of the splendid steamship Crescent City, Capt. Tanner from Charges, we have received full details of the news from California unto the 15th of January.

MELANCHOLLY.---The wife of the Chief Engineer of the Atlantic was removed to a lunatic asylum last week, having lost her reason in consequence of her belief that her husband was lost.

At a sale of old coin in Phladelphia, on Thursday night, a half dollar with the head of Washington, dated 1792 sold for the enormous sum of $18. A Washington cent of 1792, sold for 2 12 1-2. An American silver dollar of 1838, with the flying eagle brought the large price of five dollars, and a half dollar of the same coinage, seven dollars and twenty-five cents. Four old Massachusetts shillings brought three dollars sixty cents, and a three penny Massachusetts piece sold for two dollars.

The thriving and enterprising little City of Chelsea begin to think seriously of uniting her destinies by annexation with those of Boston. A meeting has been held, and a Committee of conference chosen to arrange the preliminaries.

PITCAIRN'S ISLAND. This Island, situated in the South Pacific, and originally settled by a company of mutineres the remnants of the crew of the British ship Bounty, is said by Captain Arthur, of the ship Zenis Coffin, of Nantucket to have now a population of one hundred and sixty souls. In 1831 the number was but sixty-five. The inhabitants have always been represented as being fine-looking, well dressed, orderly, virtuous and hospitable, speaking the English well. The Island itself is regarded as "almost a Paradise," although a very small one. Vermin and weeds were unknown there for many years, and were at last introduced by ships touching at the place. Captain Arthur reports that the that the Islanders have agreed to supply an American ship, which is to pass there in the spring, with one thousand bushels sweet potatoes for California.

A STABBING CASE IN CHARLSTON. A young girl about 16 years of age, named Stanly, was going from her father's house to a shed in the yard, corner of Richmond and Union streets, at half-past seven o'clock Monday evening, when a villain rushed in and caught her by the arm. She screamed but he silenced her by putting his hand over her mouth, and then stabbed her in the side, the knife or dagger penetrating her clothing and cutting her body very slightly. The villain then ran away with all speed. We lean that a letter was thrown into the same yard, the next day, stating that the perpetrator of the deed had mistaken the girl for another person whom he intended to kill, and that he was sorry he had failed to accomplish his purpose, and had injured another person instead of his intended victim.

TRUE. At the celebration the of 22d at Martinsburg, Va., the following was on e of the regular toasts;

"The right of Secession.—If it takes two to make make a bargain—it takes two to break it."

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE IN JAIL. Michael S. Gibson, in Leverett street jail awataing sentence under a conviction for a folonious assult upon Kesiah Ann Weeler, attempted to commit suicide, yesterday, by cutting a vein of his arm.

ELECTION AT SALEM. The whigs of Salem on Tuesday elected their candidates for mayor, David Pingree, over all opposition. He received a majority of 146. The whigs also elected their candidates for aldermen with the exception of Joseph Andrews.

FATAL ACCIDENT ON THE CONNECTICUT RIVER RAILROAD. Amos saddler, deaf and dumb, of Ashfield, was run over and killed a few miles above Northampton. He was walking on the track and every effort was made to alarm him without effect.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR BAGGAGE. A bill has been introduced into the Senate of New York providing that when the baggage of persons traveling on steamboats has been checked, and is not delivered on being called for by the party holding the check he may be competent witness in any suit brought by him for the loss of his baggage, to prove its contents and value.

AN OLD RELIC.—We were yesterday shown a Snare Drum in the possession of the Massachusetts Volunteers, which bore the following expressive inscription upon its body, this drum was beat at the battle of Bunker Hill by Thomas Scott, 1775. On making inquiry we ascertained that it was taken from a British Drummer by a soldier of the Continental at he memorable battle above named. It afterwards became the property of the State of Massachusetts, and was loaned by Govenor Boutwell to the Volunteers on the occasion of their late visit Boston. It is a much valued treasure of past events.

The Chicago Commercial Advertiser of the 18th ult says: "We learn from a gentleman of Milwaukie that the several persons concerned in the knockings in that city have been indicted for deception, obtaining money under false pretences &c."

The venerable Judge Cranch, of Washington, is now in so declining a state of health that no hopes are entertained of his recovery.

The returns from Middlesex show that Stedman Buttrick, Democrat, is elected Treasurer, and Caleb Hayden, Whig, Register of Deeds, Democrats voted for Mr. Hayden, and Whigs for Mr. Buttrick.

FOURTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS DIVERSED FROM BOSTON. It is stated that on Wednesday evening last, about 7 o'clock, a man called at the house of Flanders Newbegin, in Biddeford, Me, and told Mrs N. that her husband had sent for his valise, which he wanted at his store in order to close some business. She took it from under the bed and delivered it to the man at the front door—in the act of doing which the wind blew the light out, so that she did not obtain a distinct view of his featuree. It then occured to her that she might have done wrong, and hastening to the store she ascertained from her husband that he had not sent for his valise. It contained 12 to $14,000 which Mr. Newbegin had packed up premiture to his coming to Boston the next day for the purchase of dry goods.

Mr. Daniel Davis, of Connecticut offers a reward of $1,000 to any one who will explain the "Knockings" upon any other than the spiritual hypothesis. Here is a chance for Dr. Bee and his "vibia" to operate. Mr. Davis, we understond, has the manifestations in his own house, and of course the knee pan theory wont apply there.

NOTICE

Quincy Lyceum.

A lecture may be expected before this society next THURSDAY EVENING, commencing at 7 1-2 o'clock.

H. O. WHITNEY, Secretary.

Temperance Lecture.

Rev. J. P Terry of South Weymouth, will deliver a lecture on the subject of Temperance at the Town Hall, Tuesday Evening (March 11th,) commencing at half past seven o'clock.

J M WADE, Secretary of the "Union Board."

A Meeting of the "Union Board," will be held at the House of Mr. Seth Adams; next Monday Evening, (March 10th,) at seven o'clock at which a full attendance is desirable.

J. M. WADE, Secretary.

MARRIED

In this town on the 20th ult., by the Rev W W. Dean, Mr Erlez Curran to Miss Eveline R Thayer.

GUARDIAN'S SALE OF Real Estate in Quincy.

PURSUANT to a License from the Court of Probate, for the County of Norfolk, dated March 1st. 1851, will be sold at Public Auction, on

MONDAY,

the twenty fourth day of March, instant, commencing at three o'clock, in the Afternoon, so much of the Real Estate of

HARVEY FIELD,

of said Quincy, adjudged a spendthrift, hereafter mentioned, as may be necessary to produce the sum of Two Thousand and twenty-seven dollars, for the payment of his just debts and charges of guardianship

Said Real Estate consists of about half an ACRE of LAND, with a DWELLING HOUSE thereon.

Also, Ten HOUSE LOTS, containing about one quarter of an Acre of Land each, situated on the Westerly side of the Neponset Turnpike, about one half a mile, northerly, from the Hancock House, in said Quincy, being part of the Estate purchased by said Field of Daniel Greenleaf, Esq

Also, Two House Lots containing about one half an Acre of Land each, situated on Liberty Street, in said Quincy

Also, Ten HOUSE LOTS, containing about one fourth of an Acre of Land, each, situated on Mount Pleasant, (so called,) near the house of Job Faxon, Esq., in said Quincy.

The Auction will commence with the Lot of Land with the DWELLING HOUSE, thereon; first above mentioned on the premises; and the several Lots of Land next, above mentioned, will be sold afterwards, on the same day, on said Lots respectively, as soon as the same can be done properly and conveniently.

Also. At five o'clock, P M, on the same day, will be sold at the Hancock House, in said Quincy, about seven ACRES of WOODLAND, situated in said Quincy, adjoining land of Mr. Josiah Hayden, being the same Woodland formerly owned by Joseph Field, deceased, father of said Harvey.

THOMAS ADAMS, Guardian.

Roxbury, March 5, 1851. 3w

Grass Seed.

JUST received, a new supply of Northern HERDS GRASS, RED TOP and CLOVER SEED, which will be sold as cheap, for CASH, as can be bought in Boston or elsewhere.

D. BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, March 8th. tf

Furniture and Feathers.

for sale by

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, March 8th.

WORLD'S FAIR ART

UNDER the management of the N ART UNION COMPANY, incorp Legislature of New York;

OFFICE:—50 WALL STREET, NE [Over the American Exch

COMMITTEE:—

W. DEAN, Esq. | RICHARD
W. C HORNFRYER, Esq | E. TOWNS
T. WATTS, Esq. | W. S McK

I. TOWNSEND, Secretary

Shares---$5 E

FIFTY PRIZES

Each Subscriber for every $5 subscr receive a magnificent engraving of the W chance in the distribution of Fift

Each prize is a free first cabin passag and back, and $ 100 in money.

A person drawing a prize who does go to London, or to go by the vessel pro Company, may receive an equivalent fo passage in money.

The drawing is fixed for the 25th of M City of New York, and express notice of t hour of drawing will be sent to each Sub

A remittance of $ 5 will secure 10 sha

Clubs of less than 10 may deduct 5 p Clubs of 10 or more may deduct 10 per ce

Remittances by mail will be at the Com

Funds current at place whence sent tak

Drafts must be made payable to the Sec

The shares are selling rapidly, and ar to be sold is limited by the charter of in applications for shares must be sent forth

If a remittance arrive after the shares a the money will be returned.

Shares and further particulars may be the Office of the New York Art Union Co Wall Street, New York

By Order,

I. TOWNSEND, S

New York, March 8, 1851. 3

Parish Meeting.

Norfolk S S To Lewis Bass Con the Town of Quincy, in the County GREET

L. S. In the name of the Common Massachusetts, you are directed to notify itants of the first Congregational Society qualified to vote in Parish Affairs, to m Lyceum Room, in said Quincy on MON tenth day of March next at two o'clock in noon to act on the following articles viz:

Article 1st. To choose a Moderator.

Article 2d. To choose all such Parish the law requires.

Article 3d. To hear and act on the an of the Parish Committee,

Article 4th. To raise such sums of M fray the necessary expenses of the Parish ing year as they may think proper when Article 5th. To know what compen Parish will allow their clerk and Trea past year.

Article 6th. To determine what m Parish will adopt for collecting the bala Parish tax for the year 1848

Article 7th. To choose any Committe and act on the report of any Committee sembled.

And you are directed to serve this W posting up an attested copy thereof at ing House of said Society and also by pu in the Quincy Patriot seven days at least time of holding said Meeting. Hereof fail make due return of this Warrent with yo thereon to the Parish Clerk at or before appointed for said Meeting.

Given under our hands and seals thi fifth day of February in the year one thou hunpred and fifty one.

H. N. GLOVER,
JAMES M. WADE,
LYSANDER RICHARDS, } Co

A true copy attest:—Lewis Bass Const Norfolk Quincy Feb 28th 1851. By virt above Warrant I hereby notify and warn t bers of the above named Society, qualifie in Parish Affairs, to at the time, place, an purposes therein specified.

LEWIS BASS, Con

QUINCY WASHING MIXUTE

THIS article has been tested by upward families during the past week, and all i ed it equal to anything of the kind which t used; therefore, the subscriber will manufac sell it at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents p full directions accompanying it.

By this improvement, it is expected the d market will not be so firm, as clothes washed will wear longer and be whiter; consequent often will new be bought.

ELISHA PACK tf

Assignee's Notice.

THE adjourned Fourth Meeting of the of Thomas Jordan of Weymouth, in the of Norfolk, Insolvent Debtor, will be held at fice of the Commissioner of Insolvency in B on the thirteenth day of March inst., at ten A M. At which meeting creditors may be and prove their claims.

ELIJAH F. HALL, Ass Weymouth, March 8th tf

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

NORFOLK SS. Probate Office Feb 22

Upon the position of John A. Green, and E Keith, of Quincy, in said County, sureties u bond given by Mary Newcomb and Thompson of said Quincy, to the Judge of Probate for said ty, for the faithful performance of the duties cutors of the will of late of said Quincy, deceased praying that th be discharged from all further liability on said

JOHN NEWCOMB,

Ordered—that the said petitioners notify t Mary and Thompson and all other persons int that they may appear and be heard concern same, at a Court of Probate, to be held at B in said County, on the twenty second day of A. D. 1851, at two o'clock in the afternoon. B ing the said Mary and Thompson, to be serve this Order fourteen days before said Court, publishing this order three weeks successivel newspaper called the Quincy Patriot printed Quincy.

S LELAND, Judge of Pr Quincy, March 8th 3w

Straw Carpeting.

4-4 5-4 and 6-4 Straw Carpeting, for sale

I W MUN

Quincy, March 8th. tf

...RE LIC...—We were yesterday shown a ...ru...n in the possession of the Massachu...neers, which bore the following express... ...iption upon its body, this drum was beat ...ttle of Bunker Hill by Thomas Scott, 1775. ...ng inquiry we ascertained that it was ta... ...n a British Drummer by a soldier of the ...ntal at the memorable battle above named. ...rds became the property of the State of ...usetts, and was loaned by Govenor Bout... ...the Volunteers on the occas ion of their late ...tion. It is a much valued treasure of pas...

...Chicago Commercial Advertiser of the 18th ...: "We learn from a gentleman of Mill... ...that the several persons concerned in the ...gs in that city have been indicted for de... ..., obtaining money under false preten...

...enerable Judge Cranch, of Washington, is ...o declining a state of health that no hopes ...rtained of his recovery.

...eturns from Middlesex shew that Stedman ..., Democrat, is elected Treasurer, and Caleb ..., Whig, Register of Deeds, Democrats vet... ...r. Snyder, and Whigs for Mr. Buttrick.

...TEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS DIVERTED FROM ... It is stated that on Wednesday evening ...ut 7 o'clock, a man called at the house of ...s Newbegin, in Biddeford, Me, and told Mrs ...her husband had sent for his valise, which ...ed at his store in order to close some busi... She took it from under the bed and deliver... ...the man at the front door—in the act of de... ...h the wind blew the light out, so that she ...obtain a distinct view of his features. It ...ccurad to her that she might have done ...nd hastening to the store she ascertained ...r husband that he had not sent for his valise. ...ained 12 to $14,000 which Mr. Newbegin ...ked up premiture to his coming to Boston ...t day for the purchase of dry goods.

...Daniel Davis, of Connecticut offers a reward ...0 to any one who will explain the "Knock-...pon any other than the spiritual hypothesis. ...a chance for Dr. Bee and his "ubia" to ... Mr. Davis, we understand, has the man... ...ons in his own house, and of course the knee ...gory wont apply there.

NOTICE

Quincy Lyceum.

...ture may be expected before this society next ...SDAY EVENING, commencing at 7 1-2 ...

H. O. WHITNEY, Secretary.

Temperance Lecture.

J. P Terry of South Weymouth, will deliver ...re on the subject of Temperance at the ... Hall, Tuesday Evening (March 11th,) comm... ...g at half past seven o'clock.

J M WADE, Secretary

...the "Union Board."

...eting of the "Union Board," will be held ...House of Mr. Seth Adams; next Monday ...g. (March 15th,) at seven o'clock at which a ...ndance is desirable.

J. M. WADE, Secretary.

MARRIED

...s town on the 20th ult., by the Rev W W. ...r Felex Curran to Miss Eveline R Thayer.

GUARDIAN'S SALE OF Real Estate in Quincy.

...SUANT to a License from the Court of Pro..., for the County of Norfolk, dated March 1st. ...ill be sold at Public Auction, on

MONDAY,

...ty fourth day of March, instant, commencing ... o'clock, in the Afternoon, so much of the ...ate of

HARVEY FIELD,

...Quincy, adjudged a spendthrift, hereafter ...ed, as may be necessary to produce the sum ... Thousand and twenty-seven dollars, for the ... of his just debts and charges of guardian...

...eal Estate consists of about half an ACRE ...D, with a DWELLING HOUSE thereon.

...Ten HOUSE LOTS, containing about one ...of an Acre of Land each, situated on the West... ...of the Neponset Turnpike, about one half a ...utherly, from the Hancock House, in said ... being part of the Estate purchased by said ... Daniel Greenleaf, Esq

...Two House Lots containing about one half ... of Land each, situated on Liberty Street, in ...incy.

...Ten HOUSE LOTS, containing about one ...of an Acre of Land, each, situated on Mount ..., (so called,) near the house of Job Faxon, ...said Quincy.

...auction will commence with the Lot of Land ... DWELLING HOUSE, thereon; first above ...ed on the premises; and the several Lots of ...ct, above mentioned, will be sold afterwards, ...one day, on said Lots respectively, as soon ...ue can be done properly and conveniently. ...At five o'clock, P M, on the same day, will ... the Hancock House, in said Quincy, about ...CRES of WOODLAND, situated in said ... adjoining land of Mr. Josiah Hayden, being ... Woodland formerly owned by Joseph Field, ... father of said Harvey.

THOMAS ADAMS, Guardian.

...y, March 5, 1851. 3w

Grass Seed.

...eceived, a new supply of Northern HERDS ...SS, RED TOP and CLOVER SEED, which ...ld as cheap, for CASH, as can be bought in ...r elsewhere.

D. BAXTER & CO.

..., March 8th. tf

...rniture and Feathers.

...for sale by

I. W. MUNROE.

..., March 8th.

WORLD'S FAIR ART UNION

UNDER the management of the NEW YORK ART UNION COMPANY, incorporated by the Legislature of New York;

OFFICE:—50 WALL STREET, NEW YORK, [Over the American Exchange Bank.]

COMMITTEE:—

W DEAN, Esq — RICHARD MOTT Esq
W C HORNFRYER, Esq — I. TOWNSEND, Esq
T WATTS, Esq — W. S McKENZIE Esq

I. TOWNSEND, Secretary.

Shares---$5 Each

FIFTY PRIZES!

Each Subscriber for every $5 subscribed will receive a magnificient engraving of the "World's Fair," a chance in the distribution of Fifty Prizes.

Each prize is a free first cabin passage to London and back, and $ 100 in money.

A person drawing a prize who does not desire to go to London, or to go by the vessel provided by the Company, may receive an equivalent for the right of passage in money.

The drawing is fixed for the 25th of March, in the City of New York, and express notice of the place and hour of drawing will be sent to each Subscriber.

A remittance of $ 45 will secure 10 shares.

Clubs of less than 10 may deduct 5 per cent, and Clubs of 10 or more may deduct 10 per cent.

Remittances by mail will be at the Company's risk. Funds current at place whence sent taken at par.

Drafts must be made payable to the Secretary.

The shares are selling rapidly, and as the number to be sold is limited by the charter of incorporation, applications for shares must be sent forthwith.

If remittance arrive after the shares are all taken the money will be returned.

Shares and further particulars may be obtained at the Office of the New York Art Union Company, 50 Wall Street, New York

By Order,

I. TOWNSEND, Secretary.

New York, March 8, 1851. 3w

Parish Meeting.

Norfolk S S To Lewis Bass Constable of the Town of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk GREETING:—

In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, you are directed to notify the Inhabitants of the first Congregational Society in Quincy, qualified to vote in Parish Affairs, to meet at the Lyceum Room, in said Quincy on MONDAY, the tenth day of March next at two o'clock in the afternoon to act on the following articles viz:—

Article 1st. To choose a Moderator.

Article 2d. To choose all such Parish officers as the law requires.

Article 3d. To hear and act on the annual report of the Parish Committee,

Article 4th. To raise such sums of Money to defray the necessary expenses of the Parish the ensuing year as they may think proper when assembled.

Article 5th. To know what compensation the Parish will allow their clerk and Treasurer the ensuing year.

Article 6th. To determine what method the Parish will adopt for collecting the balance of the Parish tax for the year 1848

Article 7th. To choose any Committee or hear and act on the report of any Committee when assembled.

And you are directed to serve this Warrant by posting up an attested copy thereof at the Meeting House of said Society and also by publishing it in the Quincy Patriot seven days at least before the time of holding said Meeting. Hereof fail not, and make due return of this Warrent with your doings thereon to the Parish Clerk at or before the time appointed for said Meeting.

Given under our hands and seals this twenty-fifth day of February in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty one.

H. N. GLOVER.
JAMES M. WADE,
LYSANDER RICHARDS, } Parish Committee,

A true copy attest:—Lewis Bass Constable,

Norfolk Quincy Feb 28th 1851. By virtue of the above Warrant I hereby notify and warn the Members of the above named Society, qualified to vote in Parish Affairs, to at the time, place, and for the purposes therein specified.

LEWIS BASS, Constable.

QUINCY WASHING MIXUTRE.

THIS article has been tested by upwards of fifty families during the past week, and all have called it equal to anything of the kind which they have used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and sell it at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart, full directions accompanying it.

By this improvement, it is expected the dry goods market will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this will wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so often will new be bought.

ELISHA PACKARD.

tf

Assignee's Notice.

THE adjourned Fourth Meeting of the creditors of Thomas Jordan of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Insolvent Debtor, will be held at the office of the Commissioner of Insolvency in Roxbury, on the thirteenth day of March inst, at ten o'clock A M. At which meeting creditors may be present and prove their claims.

ELIJAH F. HALL, Assignee,

Weymouth, March 8th tf

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK SS. Probate Office Feb 22d 1851

Upon the petition of John A. Green, and Harrison Keith, of Quincy, in said County, sureties upon the bond given by Mary Newcomb and Thompson Baxter, of said Quincy, to the Judge of Probate for said County, for the faithful performance of the duties of Executors of the will of late of said Quincy, deceased praying that they may be discharged from all further lisbility on said bond.

JOHN NEWCOMB,

Ordered—that the said petitioners notify the said Mary and Thompson, and all other persons interested, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same, at a Court of Probate, to be held at Roxbury, in said County, on the twenty second day of March, A D. 1851, at two o'clock in the afternoon, by causing the said Mary and Thompson, to be served with this Order fourteen days before said Court, and by publishing this order three weeks successively in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot printed in said Quincy.

S LELAND, Judge of Probate.

Quincy, March 8th 3w

Straw Carpeting.

4-4 5-4 and 6-4 Straw Carpeting, for sale by

I W MUNROE.

Quincy, March 8th, tf

TREES! TREES!!

At the "UNION PRICES."

ELI HAYDEN has for sale at his Nursery on Franklin Street, in Quincy, from five to one thousand

PEAR TREES!!

of the most improved varieties—large size, on Pear and Quince Stocks, which I have just imported from France.

CHERRY TREES

of choice selections, varying in price, from 20 cents to $ 1.

GRAPE VINES

in prime order; of the Isabella and Catawba kinds.

GOOSEBERRY & CURRANT BUSHES

together with a large lot of

ASPARAGUS ROOTS

Also, a lot of SEEDLING PEAR TREES, from one to three years old

Quincy, March8, 1851. 4w*

At Private Sale.

ONE ELLIPTIC SPRING COVERED WAGON, was well built, and has not been used but little.

Also. A four year old Cow, to calve about the 1st. of April, ensuing

Also, Four Cords of Cow manure.

Apply to

DANIEL DINEGAN.

Quincy, March 8, 1851 3w*

Quincy and Boston Express.

ALDRICH and BARRY, would respectfully announce to their friends and the publick in the town of Quincy that they will run two trips per day over the Old Colony Road.

All business and packages left in their charge promptly attended to and delivered

Leaves Boston, 10 Court square at 8 o'clock A. M. and 2 1-2 P. M

Leaves Frenches Hotel Quincy, at 10 1-2 A. M. 4 1-2 P. M.

ELI ALDRICH, ENOCH BARRY.

Quincy, March 8th 3w

To Let.

A house pleasantly situated on high St., with a good Shoe Maker's Shop attached, possession given the first of April Apply to JOHN GLOVER, Jr.

Quincy, March, 8th 3w

Mattresses.

PALM LEAF and HUSH MATTRESSES just received and for sale as low as can be bought in the City, and delivered at any part of this Town, free of expense.

I W MUNROE.

Quincy, March 8th tf

Paper Hangings.

3 TO 400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new, styles, for sale very cheap by

D. BAXEER & CO.

Quincy, March 8th'

Found!!

IN Quincy on Tuesday last, a Bundel containing various valuable articles, which the owner can have by proving property, and paying charges on application to James Rundlett, about one forth of a Mile above the Episcopal Church, on the Turnpike, leading to Weymouth,

Quincy, March 8th tf

Hats and Caps.

For sale at very low prices by

I W. MUNROE.

Quincy March 8th.

New Paper Hangings.

A GOOD assortment of new Patterns just received and for sale by

I W MUNROE.

Quincy March 8th.

List Carpeting.

for sale by

I W MUNROE,

Quincy, March 8th. tf

CHILDRENS Willow Wagons and Cradles for sale at

I W MUNROE.

Quincy March, 8th. tf

Potash.

WARRENTED of the very best quality, and for sale by

I W MUNROE.

Quincy, March, tf

LADIES

Of Quincy and Vicinity.

E. A. JONES & CO.

No. 1

TREMONT ROW,

BOSTON,

Would solicit your attention to the Immense Stock of

NEW GOODS

which they now have, and are daily receiving by every foreign arrival, suitable to the

AUTUMN TRADE OF

1850.

Every variety of

SHAWLS,

from the most expensive Cashmere to the cheapest Wool Plaid.

SILKS

of every kind and quality, in Blacks and Colors, ALWAYS AT LOW PRICES.

FRENCH THIBETS

and

GERMA MERINOS

Of all Grades

FALL AND WINTER

DRESS GOODS,

Our usual Assortment.

VELVETS,

All Widths and Colors.

FRENCH CLOAKS AND SACKS,

New Patterns and Trimmings.

Together with the Immense Variety of all other Styles Dry Goods Adapted to the Present Season.

Farm to Let

TO BE LET on a Lease, for one or more Years; the FARM known as the

"MOUNT HOPE FARM."

Formerly belonging to the late Col. Edward Glover; situated on the Squantum Road, in Quincy. Said Farm is located within about six miles of Boston, and has long been improved as a Milk Farm.

The buildings are in good repair and pleasantly located

For further information please enquire of the Subscriber, Railway Village, Milton

EBENEZER POPE.

Milton, Feb 15, 1851. 6w*

House and Land for Sale.

FOR Sale, a story and a half House in good condition—with Barn, sheds, two wells of Water, and other out Buildings—and nine Acres of excellent Land; all under cultivation, with a thrifty orchard of Apple and Cherry Trees, thereon. Situated on Adams' street, joining the Estate of William Newcomb, and about three quarters of a mile from the Depot. The said land, is well calculated for building lots, and will be sold at a bargain. For particulars, enquire on the premises of

MICHAEL GIRETY.

Quincy, Jan 11, 1851. 2m

House For Sale.

A one story and a half House, convenient for two families, built in a substantial manner, with a SHED and about three fourths of an acre of LAND, situated on Granite Street, and about one fourth of a mile from the South Quincy Depot. Will be sold at a bargain, and payments made easy For particulars, inquire on the premises of

ALPHEUS HUNT.

Quincy, Nov. 16. 6m

To Let.

A Convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated on Common Street, recently occupied by the Widow Driver, with about three acres of good Land, with several fruit trees; an excellent well of water, and a small Barn. Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND.

Quincy, Aug. 19. tf

NEW ENGLND PROTCTIVE

Union, Division No. 179.

JUST opened on Washington Street, a few doors below the Stone Temple, in the Store recently occupied by J. Williams

The Company respectfully solicit the attention of the public to their mode of Trade, and examine for themselves the quality of their Goods, and their Prices, which will be always exhibited upon a bulletin board.

Their Stock of Goods consists of all kinds of Groceries Country Produce, FLOUR, CROCKERY WARE, &c

All of Superior quality, and sold at the lowest possible advance from cost.

No Damaged, Mixed, or inferior goods will be offered for sale.

Quincy, Oct 5. tf

Contractor's Notice.

PROPOSALS will be received until the 10th day of Feb inst for furnishing materials, and building a Barn, 120 by 50 feet, on the Mt Wollaston Farm, in Quincy—to be completed by the 1st of July next For Plan and Specifications, please call on the Subscriber, to whom proposals may be made

LEWIS BASS.

Quincy, Feb, 1. 1851. tf

New England Protective Union

DIVISION.....No. 180.

AT the STORE recently occupied by Mr Frederick Hardwick on Franklin street, may be found a good assortment of

GROCERIES, CROCKERY, and GLASS WARE;

Together with a supply of

BOOT & SHOE MAKERS FINDINGS.

—ALSO—

BEEF,
PORK,
SAUSAGES,
TRIPE,
LARD,
MACKEREL,
PICKELS,
POTATOES, &c

All of which will be kept constantly on hand, and will be sold, at a small advance from cost, for cash.

The public are invited to call, and examine our goods, and become acquainted with our mode of trade

N B—The spacious Hall over the store will be let on favorable terms.

☞ Goods delivered to any part of the town free of charge ☜

Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. tf

☞ Shirts.....Shirts ☜

I. W. MUNROE, has just received a prime assortment of

☞ ...FINE SHIRTS.... ☜

of the latest style, which will be sold at very low prices.

Quincy, Jan 25, 1851. tf

Bakery Business.

THE subscribers respectfully inform the public that they have commenced the baking business at the bakery formerly occupied by L G Horton, and hope by their constant attention to the business to merit a share of the public patronage.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Jan. 18th, 1851. tf

Notice.

THE Subscribers return their thanks to their friends and the public generally who have favored them with their custom, and would say to those who are purchasing goods, that we intend keeping a good, assortment of English, West India goods and Groceries of all kinds.

Also, Beef, Pork, Bacon, Lard, Mackerel, and Vegetables, which will be sold as low as can be bought elsewhere for cash or credit.

Also, Flour by the barrel or bag, as low as can be bought for cash.

N. B. Goods delivered as usual.

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5th. tf

Paper Hangings.

LARGE Lot of

PAPER HANGINGS

of 1 to 6 Rolls—some of high Cost—will be closed off, from 25 to 50 per ct discount from cost, to make room for a prime assortment early in the spring

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, Feb 1, 1851. tf

Notice.

THE public, are hereby informed that from, and after this date, that I have given my son, Lemuel his time, and that he hereafter will be free to act for himself

ALDEN FRENCH.

March 1st 1851 3w

Bab itts Cytherean Cream of SOAP. expressly for the use of hair

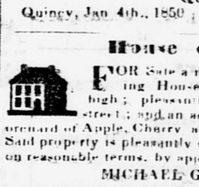
BABBET'S PANARISTON SHAVING CREAM for Gentlemen, HONEY SOAP. MUSH SOAP Low's genuine old brown Windsor and a great variety of other soap for sale by

MRS E HAYDEN

Quincy March 1st tf

W B. Learned

HAVING taken the Store formerly occupied by E C Redfern, and recently by D R Adams, takes this method of informing his friends and the public that he has just received and is now opening a well selected stock of



WATCHES

JEWELRY

—AND—

Fancy Goods.

Suitable for Christmas and New Year's Presents

Persons wishing any thing in his line are invite to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere

☞ Particular attention given to the REPAIRING of Watches and Jewelry.

Hancock Street, Quincy, Dec. 21, 1850 tf

Executor's Sale of Real Estate. IN QUINCY

THE Estate of the late Deacon John Sullivan, at Quincy, will be sold at Public Auction, on the premises, on TUESDAY, March 11th—at half past 2 o'clock, P. M—if stormy, the first fair day at the same hour. The said property consists of a spacious DWELLING HOUSE and Out Buildings, together with about 30 Acres of Upland, easy to work, and under good Cultivation; on which are over 200 Fruit Trees, mostly in bearing with Shrubbery and Grape Vines.

The property is situated in that part of Quincy known as Germantown: 11 miles from the City by land 9 by water; and in point of Location, and natural Beauty, and adaptedness to the purposes of a Summer Watering Place, is unsurpassed by the most favored resorts in this vicinity

Lying on Quincy Bay, a beautiful arm of the sea, it is accessible by water at all times of Tide, and possesses ample facilities for Sea Bathing and fishing. The most inviting drives are found in the immediate neighborhood; together with a blended scenery of Sea and Land, as varied and Picturesque as can be desired.

JOHN SPENCE Executor

L. G. HORTON, Auction eer.

Quincy, Feb 23d. 3w

Family Bibles.

WE continue to sell BEAUTIFUL QUARTO BIBLES, of superior quality and binding, at unprecedentedly low prices Many have availed themselves of the opportunity offered in a former notice, to purchase a good Bible cheap We have more left and invite all to call and examine before purchasing G GILL & CO

QUINCY BOOKSTORE

Quincy, Jan 4th., 1850 3w.

House or Sale

FOR Sale a new and convenient dwelling House; one and a half stories high; pleasantly situated on Common street; and an acre of land, with a young orchard of Apple, Cherry and Peach trees, thereon. Said property is pleasantly situated, and will be sold on reasonable terms, by application to

MICHAEL GIRETY, Adams street

Quincy, Jan. 18, 1851. 2m

BROAD CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, TWEEDS and VESTINGS, for sale at a great discount from former prices

Please call and examine before purchasing at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

MUFFS.

I. W. MUNROE has a few Muffs remaining, which will be sold very cheap

Quincy, Feb, 14th 1851.

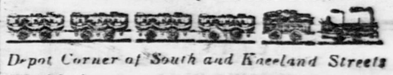
Crockery and Glass Ware.

GOOD assortment for sale at the very lowest prices, please examine prices and quality before purchasing.

I W MUNROE

Quincy, Feb, 14th, 1851.

Old Colony Railroad.



Depot Corner of South and Kneeland Streets

FALL Arrangement, commencing 8 preamber 10, 1850 Trains leave Boston daily, except Sundays—

For Plymouth, 8 1-2 A M; 4 1-2, P M

For Bridgewater, 8 1-2 A M; 4 1-2 P M

For Quincy and Braintree, 7 3-4, 8 1-2 A. M; 1 3-4, 3 4 4 1-2 9 1-4 P M

For Hingham and Cohasset, 8 1-2 A. M; 3, 6 P M

For Milton, U. M, 9 3-4 A. M; 1, 2 3-4, 5 1-2, P M

Plymouth for Boston, 7 1-4 A. M; 3 1-4 P. M.

Bridgewater for Boston and Plymouth, 7 1-2 A. M.; 3 1-2 P M

Cohasset for Boston, 6 3-4 8 A M; 4 P M

Milton U M for Boston 7, 10 1-2 A M; 1 3-4 4 3-4 P M.

Braintree for Boston, 7 1-8 8 1-2, 8 40, 11 04, A. M. 2 45, 4—2 5 1-2, P M

☞ The 5 1-4 M. Train from Boston for Plymouth will not stop short of South Braintree

JOS. H. MOORE, Sup't.

Boston, July 25 tf

Trains leave Quincy for Boston as follows:—

7 24 8 35, 8 47, 11 10, A. M; 2 54, 4 39 5 16

For Sale.

THE late residence of the REV. WM. ALLEN near the Episcopal Church in Quincy Apply to THOMAS B HAWKES, No 10 Exchange Street Boston

West Woodstock, Conn Sept 7th, 1850. 3m

For Sale, or To Let.

new and convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated, on Common Street, with a barn and about one acre of Land with Fruit Trees thereon, to be leased or sold Apply to

SAMUEL COPELAND.

Quincy, Nov 9th. tf

Bounty Lands.

CLAIMS for BOUNTY LANDS by Soldiers in the War of 1812—or any Indian War since 1790; their Widows and Minor children, attended to, and Land Warrants obtained, by

FISHER A KINGSBURY, Weymouth, Mass.

Weymouth, Feb. 1, 1851. 6m

Notice of Settlement.

ALL PERSONS having demands against the TOWN, are requested to present them for payment to the Selectmen, on SATURDAY, the fifteenth, and on MONDAY the seventeenth, inst, at the Selectmen's Room, in the Town House, from two to five o'clock in the afternoon of each day.

ALSO—All persons indebted to the Alms House are requested to settle with

EDWARD F. EATON, Superintendant,

on or before the above named time.

JOSEPH W LORD TON, GEORGE MARSH, ELIJAH BAXTER } Selectmen of Quincy.

Quincy Feb, 1, 1851 3w

Chowder!!!

THE Subscriber takes this method to inform the Citizens of Quincy that he has taken the

"FRANKLIN STREET SALOON."

Where may always be found such articles as OYSTERS, PIGS FEET, LAMBS TONGUES, PICKLED CLAMS, and other Refreshments.

Also CONFECTIONARY, CIGARS, etc.,

CHOWDER twice a week Wednesday, and Saturday. Open day and Evening

CHARLES C BRACKETT,

Quincy, Feb 8 h tf

Boarders Wanted.

8 or 10 BOARDERS Mechanics preferred wanted by the subscriber at his residence in COTTAGE AVENUE.

WILLIAM F DYER

Quincy, Feb 8th tf

VALENTINES!

VALENTINES ENVELOPES, NOTE PAPER, etc., at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Also, a BOX for the delivery of Valentines to any part of the town

Quincy Feb 8th 2w

JUST received a good assortment of GENTLEMENS', LADIES and MISSES INDIA RUBBER SHOES of the best quality, for sale cheap, by

I. W MUNROE

Quincy, Jan. 11th, 1851. tf

ALL READY

AND NOW OPENING

NEW STYLE FOR FALL AND WINTER TRADE,

JUST RECEIVED AT THE

Town Hall Cloth and Clothing Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD Respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made great additions to their present expensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would particularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect THEIR STOCK before buying elsewhere, feeling confident we can sell BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.

N B—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN ENGLISH and FRENCH and AMERICAN GOODS Some of the RICHEST VEST PATTERNS, and a HOST OF PANTALOONERY!

BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVEY DESCIPTION ON HAND,

Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.

HATS, CAPS, &C.

P S—RUSSELL & CO., having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for public and private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of every article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.

—NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.—

Quincy, March 22.

POETRY.

THE SEWING GIRL

There was a cheerless fire in an empty room,
On a cold December day,
And the biting wind through a broken pane,
Had cruelly forced its way;
The chill of coming death was without,
The sky looked gloomy and drear,
And the feathery snow flakes fell thick to the earth
Meet shroud for the dying year.

And ladies wrapt in warm furs went past,
And men muffled up to the chin,
And the heart of the city beat quick and fast,
And noisier grew the din;
And children went up and down the street,
And tiny snow-balls tossed,
And delicate women and grey-haired men
Rejoiced in the coming frost.

Still by the cheerless fire in that empty room,
On that cold December day,
There sat and sewed from morn till night,
One prematurely gray;
She rises some hours before the dawn,
From a short and troubled doze,
And through winter's cold and summer's heat,
She sits in that room and sews.

She hears the sound of no friendly voice,
She meets no loving smile,
More lone in that peopled solitude,
Than Crusoe in his isle,
She sees the gay and the happy pass,
And she hears the ceaseless stir,
And she knows not one in these laughing groups,
Bestows a thought on her.

And there, from morn to eve, she plies,
That bit of shinning steel,
And grudges the few short moments she gives
To snetch a scanty meal,
To make up lost time more rapidly move
Those fingers, shrivelled and thin,
For she measures her life by the yards she sews,
Her eyes are words turned in.

And winter passed, with its frost and snow,
And spring, with its budding leaves;
And Time in his vervid glory came,
With his wealth of summer eves;
And out to the open country parts
The human tide o'erflows;
But still through the long, bright summer days,
She sits in that room and sews.

Some are up on the breezy mountain top,
Some down on the grassy lea'
Some saunter along the pebbly beach,
Some are out on the open sea —
And rivers roll on, through meadows green,
And the gentle South wind blows,
And wild flowers blossoms in shady nooks,
While she sits in that room and sews.

And her thoughts; oh, who can tell her thoughts,
As the needles goes out and in;
Though calm and motionless, there she sits,
Her mind is busy within;
For many a bitter question then,
Her overcharged heart will ask,
As with aching head, and dazzling eyes,
She plods at her weary task.

"If Joy and Pain, in this nether world,
Must fairly balanced be,
Oh why not some of the pain to them,
And some of the joy to me."
But she chid that bitter feeling down,
And knelt, and I heard her say,
"The night cometh on when no man can work,
Let me work while it is day."

M. M.

RUB OR RUST.

BY EBENEZER ELLIOT.

Idler, why lie down to die?
Better rub than rust,
Hark! the lark sings in the sky—
"Die when die thou must!
Day is waking, leaves are shaking,
Better rub than rust.

In the grave there's sleep enough—
"Better rub than rust
Death perhaps is hunger proof,
Die when die thou must;
Men are moving, breezes blowing,
Better rub than rust"

He who will not work, shall want;
Nought for nought is just—
Work do, must do, when he can't
"Better rub than rust.
Bees are flying, sloth is dying.
Better rub than rust."

ANECDOTES

"Job Printing!" exclaimed an old woman the other day, as she peeped over her spectacles at the ad advertising page of a country paper. "Poor Job!" they've kept him printing, week after week, ever since I first larnt to read; and if he wasn't the most patientest man that ever was, he never could have stood it so long, no how!"

A new mode of dispersing mobs has been discovered, said to supersede the necessity of a military force—it is, to pass around a contribution box.

Jewelry is becoming quite fashionable again. One of our contemporaries says he met a lady on New Year's day who had a form on each wrist, a four story house around her neck, and at least six life memberships to the Bible society attached to each ear.

FAME.—To be abused by the newspapers, and have mud scowe named after you.

Mrs. Hayden.

GRATEFUL for the patron she has received for more th twenty years, offers to her friends and the public an ENLARGED STOCK of the best

FAMILY MEDICINES,

Selected and Prepared with care

—ALSO—

Various articles for the use of the sick, among which are, SPOUT DRINKING CUPS; Leech Glasses; Nursing Tubes, of Porcelain, ivory and silver, with and without bottles; India Rubber Breast Pumps, glass Pipes and Shells; Pratt's Patent Nursing Shields; India Rubber and Box Wood do; Bed Pans;
Metal and Glass Syringes;
Crain's, Ingalls's and Chapin's Supporters;
Horse Hair Mittens;
English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow;
Spread Plasters, on kid, cloth and paper;
Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes;
Dtistering Paper and Tissue Dressing; European Leeches, &c., &c.

Physicians' Prescriptions,

Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH.

She has also on hand and is constantly receiving he New and Popular Medicines of the day.

Washington St., rear of Stone Temple.

Quincy, Oct. 20. tf

Cider Vinegar.

JUST received, and for sale by the sbuscribers twenty barrels extra Cider vinegar.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850. tf

Apples.

BALDWINS AND RUSSETTS, of the first quality, for sale by H. A. RANSOM.

Quincy, Oct 12, 1850. tf

Dyer's Washing Fluid.

A first rate article for washing clothes. For sale by H. A. RANSOM & Co.

Quincy, Sept 14 tf

Bay State Long Shawls.

AN Assortment just received of the different sizes Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the lowest prices, by GEO. SAVIL and Co., Washington Street, Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

Super Cashmere Scarfs.

A GOOD Assortment of Colors and Sizes, just received and for sale very low, at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

Quincy, Jan. 18, 1851. tf

W. Porter.

DEALER IN

Pine, Spruce and Hemlock
LUMBER,
CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,
LATHS, PICKETS,
CEDAR POSTS, &c.,

At his new Wharf near Brackett's.

Quincy, July 31 tf

REMNANT DE LAINES, from 2 to 6 yds., for sale low, at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. tf

Magazines.

LADY'S BOOK, GRAHAM'S, SARTAN'S, PETERSON'S HARPER'S

And other Magazines:

LIVING AGE, BLACKWOOD, NORTH AMERICAN.

And other Reviews:

CHRISTIAN EXAMINER, MONTHLY RELIGIOUS MAGAZINE, UNIVERSALIST QUARTERLY, MERRY'S MUSEUM, GOLDEN AGE,

And many others:

For which Subscriptions will always be received and the Numbers promptly furnished — Or:

Single copies sold at the lowest prices, at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Quincy, Feb 15, 1851. 4w

Notice.

THE Subscribnr returns his thanks to his friends and the public generally who have favored him with their custom—and would say to those who are purchasing goods, that he intends keeping a good

Assortment of

WEST INDIA GOODS AND GROCERIES:

OF ALL KINDS—Also,

BEEF, PORK, BACON, LARD, & POTATOES:

— AND —

FLOUR:

Of various kinds—by the Barrel or Bag—as low as can be bought for Cash or Credit.

N. B. And delivered as usual

GEORGE H. LOCKE

Quincy, Feb 15, 1851.

Boot Makers's Shop to Let

ON Washington street; a few rods from the Old Colony Depot. The Shop is pleasantly situated and well lighted! It is suitable for carrying on the business, and will comfortably seat eight or ten persons. It will be let to one person, or by the single seat

N B A limited number can be accommodated with board

For information enquire on the premises of

G. W. KENISON.

Quincy, Feb 15, 1851.

Notice.

ALL Persons accounts remaining unsettled to Jan. 1st., 1851, are requested to call and settle, on, or before the 1st, of March next or they will be left in the hands of an attorney for collection

J. RUSSELL.

Quincy. Feb 15, 1851.

Israel W. Munroe.

OFFERS for sale at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO., a good assortment of

ENGLISH and WEST INDIA GOODS, CROCKERY, GLASS and HARD WARE SHOES, HATS and CAPS, PAPER HANGINGS,

And almost every article kept in a variety store, at the lowest prices for cash or approved credit.

Quincy, Jan 11. 1851. tf

BACKGAMMON BOARDS.

VARIOUS sizes: good finish; selling low at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE

Quincy, Dec. 14, 1850 3w

SKATES.

40 Pairs of extra SKATES
For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, Dec 7, 1850 tf

New Goods.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.,

HAVE recently made large additions to their Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows:
Mouslin DeLaine, a good assortment, very low;
Prints and Ginghams in great variety;
Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters
Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors
Wool Yarn, of all colors;
A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and 12 1-2 cts per yard;
Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other Goods, all of which will be sold at the

VERY LOWEST PRICES.

Quincy, August 31 tf

Brown's

ALMANAC. Pocket Memorandum and Account Book, for 1851. for sale at the

QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Quincy, Nov, 25, 1851. tf

Board in Quincy.

A Gentleman and his wife, or two single gentlemen, can have pleasant rooms and board, at the house of Misses J B & M Townsend, on President's Hill, nearly opposite the depot

Quincy, Nov. 16 3m

Hats and Caps.

2 CASES, Fall styles, just received, and for sale cheap for cash, by

A. B. PACKARD.

Quincy, Dec. 6. 6w

Apples and Potatoes.

50 Bbls RUSSET and GREENING APPLES
200 bushels POTATOES of various kinds,
For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, Dec. 7, 1850 tf

HAT AND CAP STORE.

A. B. PACKARD has remodled his Store, making the sales room twice as large as formerly, where he intends keeping a large stock of

HATS AND CAPS,

suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle-aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.

Also,

A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring styles.

Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Ginghams, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c.

With that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers' use

Quincy, April 13. tf

Beef and Pork.

A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere.

Also—Fresh BEEF and PORK, constantly on hand, and delivered to any part of the town free of expense. H. A. RANSOM & CO.

m15 tf

Salt Pork and Beef.

A FIRST rate article of PORK and BEEF, packed by the subscribers and for sale by the barrel or in smaller quantites to suit purchasers, cheap for CASH J & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy. March 16th. tf

CROCKERY WARE

A Splendid Assortment of CROCKERY WARE just received and for sale at the Union Store, on Washington Street, Quincy

Blue Stone Chine Tea Setts	-	1.75
Mulbury " " "	-	1.75
Light Blue " " "	-	1.37
White " " "	-	1.37

— AND —

A Good Assortment of GLASS & BRITANIA OIL & FLUID LAMPS

Quincy, Dec 7 1850 tf

QUINCY WASHING MIXUTRE.

THIS article has been tested by upwards of fifty families during the past week, and all have called it equal to anything of the kind which they have used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and sell it at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart, full directions accompanying it.

By this improvement, it is expected the dry goods market will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this will wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so often will new be bought.

ELISHA PACKARD,

tf

Wool Frocking.

200 TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.

Also—FROCKS ready made

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Sept 29. tf

Prepartion for the Hair.

THE celebrated "Der Schon Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Gloss; Camm's Spanish Lustral, or medicated hair preservative; Tompkins' Chlorion gustrale; Batchelor's instantaneous hair dye; Jules Haules vegetable hair dye. For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept 21. tf

French Calf Boots.

MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a FIRST RATE FIT WARRANTED, by W. S. UNDERWOOD,

Hancock St., Quincy,
Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.

Quincy, May 5. tf

Velvet Trimmings.

JUST Received, an assortment of Velvet Trimmings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by

GEO SAVIL & Co., Washington St.

Quincy, Sept 21. tf

Paper Hangings.

3 TO 400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 24th tf

Pies, Puddings, Custards, &c.

MRS E HAYDEN has on hand, a variety of articles for flavoring, viz:—

Peach water; Rose water; etc., etc. Essence of Rose, Cinnamon, Lemon, etc

Also—Sweet Marjorams, Sage, Summer Savory, Thyme, &c.

Quincy, Nov. 16. tf

Watches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at the Store of GEORGE B FOSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum,) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortment of

Gold and Silver

WATCH

Silver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Ric

HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

His attention will be given personally, at all times, to the REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF WATCHES, which his long experience in that department with Mr JEFFREY R BRACKETT, entitles him to the confidence of his friends and customers.

☞ His friends and acquaintance when in Boston are invited to call.

THOMAS S. JOHNSON.

Boston, Feb. 23. 1sf

Crockery and Glass Ware.

JUST added to our previous assortment, new an choice patterns of

Tea and Dining Setts, Washbowls, and Ewers.

H A RANSOM & Co.

Quincy Sept. 1. tf

Flannels.

WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels Twilled and plain, an assortment just received and for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washington Street Quincy.

Quincy, Sept 21 tf

Bounty Land.

FOR SOLDIERS OF THE WAR OF 1812—and of any Indian War since 1790, their widows and minor children, obtained All claims, business, and suits, under any of the PENSION or PATENT LAWS of the United States,—also PROBATE and other business connected with the settlement of Estates, of deceased persons attended to by

EBEN SMITH, JR.

Boston, Dec. 28, 1850. 3m

Onions.

50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, for sale by

H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Oct 12th, 1850. tf

Particular Notice

THE Subscribers respectfully inform their customers and the public, that on and after the First of OCTOBER next, all goods will be sold at reduced prices for cash only.

All those who wish to buy cheap, are invited to call, as the prices cannot fail to suit them.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy. Sept 7th. tf

Salt Pork.

A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quncy March 9th, tf

PORK & BEEF.

SALT-PETRED BEEF and Bacon, of the first quality, will be kept constantly on hand during the season, and sold as cheap as can be bought at

Any Store in Town for Cash.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quincy, March 24. tf

Cider Vinegar.

FIRST rate article of good, Cider Vinegar. Just received and for sale by

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, August 17. tf

Judd's Medicated Liquid Cuticle

FOR closing wounds without sewing; forming a smooth coating over them, impervious to air and water, much superior in its healing properties to any other plaster, and so elastic as not to impede the motion of a joint; an excellent remedy also, for Burns, Scalds, or any fresh wounds. Price—25 cents per bottle.

Sold by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, August 31. tf

Cholera. Dysentery, &c.

MRS. E. HAYDEN offers for sale various articles for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, &c.

Among which are Whiteman's Vegetable Syrup; Java Balsam, (a celebrated East Indian remedy!) Billings's Summer Cordial; Arnold's Balsam; Holden's Dysentery Cordial; Jayne's Carminative Balsam; Anti-Cholera Drops; Whitwell's Sulphur and Charcoal Pills. And a variety of other articles, for the same diseases

Quincy, July 20. tf

Let the Public Call.

THE subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, stock of the best material only used, and the workmanship will vie with any other establishment

By attention to business and promptness to order a liberal share of support is solicited.

RALPH LOWE.

Quincy April 13th.

CASH

PAID FOR

OLD IRON, COPPER, BRASS,
PEWTER, LEAD, GLASS,
Rubbers and Ink Bottles, Junk,
COBDAGE, PAPER STOCK &c.

—BY—

A. B. PACKARD.

Pure Cider Vinegar.

BY the gallon or barrel, just received, and for sal by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

1851.

THOMAS' Old Farmers' Almanac, for 1851, for sale wholesale and retail, at the

QUINCY BOOK STORE

Quincy Nov 2d. 1850. 3w

Periodical Agency.

C. GILL & Co. are Agents for all the Quarterly, Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free from any expense for Postage or transportation. All who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time for which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices. tf Quincy, Dec. 23.

BOSTON MUSEUM,

Tremont Street, ... Boston.

ALWAYS OPEN DAY AND EVENING.

THIS MUSEUM is the largest, most valuable, and best arranged in the United States. It comprises no less than

SEVEN DIFFERENT MUSEUMS,

to which has been added the present year, besides the constant daily accumulation of articles, One Half of the celebrated

PEALE'S PHILADELPHIA MUSEUM,

swelling the already immense collection to upwards of

HALF A MILLION ARTICLES,

the greatest amount of objects of interest to be found together at any one place in America; and an entirely

NEW HALL OF WAX STATUARY,

ONE HUNDRED FEET in length, filled to its utmost capacity with WAX FIGURES of the size of life, singly and in groups, to the number of upwards of TWO HUNDRED, which have been in preparation for the last two years by a corps of the most distinguished artists to be found in either the old country or the new, and are so NATURAL and LIFELIKE as to

Mock Reality,

and lead the beholder to doubt whether the figures do not actually live and breathe. Among the most prominent will be found the celebrated Tableaux of

CHRIST'S LAST SUPPER

with his Twelve Disciples; representing the consternation and clamor of the chosen ones at the moment when he told them that ONE OF THEM SHOULD BETRAY HIM.

THE PRODIGAL SON,

returned home clothed in rags, and received by his forgiving father. The imposing spectacle of

THE CRUCIFIXION,

composed of more than forty figures; a correct representation of that event, according to the best received authorities.

Christ Disputing with the Doctors;

a characteristic group of seven figures.

THE GAME OF LIFE,

in which is shown the Christian and Satan contending for the mastery.

THE SIAMESE TWINS,

and their beautiful American wives.

Representation by nine figures, of the

MASSACRE BY PIRATES

of the passengers of a merchantman in the India Seas. After a description by one of the survivors.

HORRORS OF SLAVERY,

as exemplified by seven figures, being actual likenesses of a slave-owner, a slave-driver, and their victims.

MURDER OF MISS McCREA,

by the Indians during the Revolutionary war; a thrilling group, showing the characteristics of the Red Men.

INTEMPERANCE,

and its certain evils; illustrated in three groups, the last a correct picture of a

Wife Murdered by her Husband.

Also, groups of a School,—a Milliner's Shop,—a Shoemaker's Shop,—a Barber's Shop,—a Blacksmith's Shop, &c., as well as a variety of single figures of distinguished men, &c., with upwards of

One Hundred of Cabinet Size,

rendering it the largest collection of Wax Figures in America. The entire of the above, and the immense collection of

BIRDS, BEASTS, FISH, INSECTS & REPTILES,

obtained from all parts of the world, together with innumerable varieties of Natural and Artificial Curiosities;

Paintings, Engravings and Statuary,

OIL PORTRAITS

of the GREAT and GOOD of all nations,—Naval and Military Heroes, Patriots, Statesmen, and Divines;—Rare Coins and Medals;—Shells, Corals, and Fossils;

EGYPTIAN MUMMIES,

and ancient Sarcophagi, 3000 Years old; and an entire

Family of Peruvian Mummies;

the DUCK-BILLED PLATYPUS, the connecting link between the BIRD and BEAST, being evidently half each;—the curious half-fish, half-human

FEJEE MERMAID,

which was exhibited in most of the principal cities of America, in the years 1846, '41, and '42, to the wonder and astonishment of thousands of naturalists and other scientific persons, whose previous doubts of the existence of such an astonishing creation were entirely removed;

Elephants and Ourang-Outangs;

ANIMALS and BIRDS of every nation; Sharks, Seals, and a variety of FISHES, including the curious

SAW AND SWORD FISH,

all in lifelike preservation; the whole forming a School of Instruction, blended with Amusement, that for extent and interest is unequalled in the known world;—the whole to be seen for the small admission fee of

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

In Addition to which, and

WITHOUT EXTRA CHARGE,

visitors are admitted to the gorgeous Exhibition Hall, which has been newly decorated at an expense of nearly five thousand dollars, where they can witness the magnificent

THEATRICAL ENTERTAINMENTS,

given EVERY EVENING, and WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, by a Company of Comedians and an Orchestra of Musicians, admitted to be SUPERIOR to any ever before collected in this country, with the aid of

Stage and Scenic Arrangements,

the most grand and superb ever seen in either Europe or America! thus warranting the universal admission that the Boston Museum, besides being the most comfortable and genteel, is also the

Cheapest Place of Amusement

IN THE WORLD! A single visit will prove the truth of this assertion, as the admission is only

☞ 25 Cents to the Whole!!!

Boston, Sept. 14, 1850. tf

OSTON MUSEUM,
Enon's Street, ... Boston.
ALWAYS OPEN DAY AND EVENING.
S MUSEUM is the largest, most valuable, and best anged in the United States. It comprises no less than

EN DIFFERENT MUSEUMS, ch has been added the present year, besides the constant cumulation of articles, One Half of the celebrated ALE'S PHILADELPHIA MUSEUM,
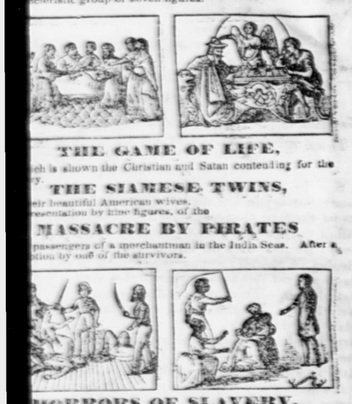
g the already immense collection to upwards of
ALF A MILLION ARTICLES,
atest amount of objects of interest to be found together one place in America; and, as entirely
EW HALL OF WAX STATUARY,
unwon Ferry in length, filled to its utmost capacity with FIGURES of the size of life, singly and in groups, number of upwards of TWO HUNDRED, which en in preparation for the last two years by a corps of st distinguished artists to be found in either the old coun- he new, and are so NATURAL and LIFELIKE,
Mock Reality,
d the beholder to doubt whether the figures do not actu- and breathe. Among the most prominent will be found,

CHRIST'S LAST SUPPER
Twelve Disciples; representing the consternation and of the chosen ones at the moment when he told them, SE OF THEM SHOULD BETRAY HIM.
THE PRODIGAL SON,
d home clothed in rags, and received by his forgiving The imposing spectacle of
THE CRUCIFIXION,
sed of more than forty figures; a correct representation event, according to the best received authorities.
ist Disputing with the Doctors;
acteristic group of seven figures.


THE GAME OF LIFE,
ch is shown the Christian and Satan contending for the
THE SIAMESE TWINS,
ir beautiful American wives, esentation by nine figures, of the passengers of a merchantman in the India Seas. After a tion by one of the survivors.
MASSACRE BY PIRATES

BORRORS OF SLAVERY,
mplified by seven figures, being actual likenesses of a , mother, a slave-driver, and their victims.
URDER OF MISS McCREA,
idians during the Revolutionary war; a thrilling group, g the characteristics of the Red Men.
INTEMPERANCE,
certain evils; illustrated in three groups, the last a cor- ture of a

fe Murdered by her Husband.
rooms of a School,—a Milliner's Shop,—a Shoemaker's a Barber's Shop,—a Blacksmith's Shop, &c., as well as y of single figures of distinguished men, &c., with up-
ne Hundred of Cabinet Size.
ing it the largest collection of Wax Figures in America, ntire of the above, and the immense collection of
S, BEASTS, FISH, INSECTS & REPTILES,
d from all parts of the world, together with innumera- ries of Natural and Artificial Curiosities;

tings, Engravings and Statuary,
OIL PORTRAITS
REAT and GOOD of all nations,—Naval and Military Patriots, Statesmen, and Divines;—Rare Coins and —Sicilia, Cornia, and Fossils;
EGYPTIAN MUMMIES,
ent Sarcophagi, 3000 Years old; and an entire mily of Peruvian Mummies;
K-BILLED PLATYPUS, the connecting link between D and BEAST, being evidently half each;—the curious nsformation

FEJEE MERMAID,
as exhibited in most of the principal cities of America, ears 1840, '41, and '42, to the wonder and astonishment ands of naturalists and other scientific persons, whose doubts of the existence of such an astonishing creation ively removed;
phants and Ourang-Outangs;
LS and BIRDS of every nation; Sharks, Seals, ety of FISHES, including the curious
AW AND SWORD FISH,
like preservation; the whole forming a School of In- blended with Amusement, that for extent and interest illed in the known world;—the whole to be seen for the mission fee of
TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.
In Addition to which, and
THOUT EXTRA CHARGE,
re admitted to the gorgeous Exhibition Hall, which newly decorated at an expense of nearly five thousand here they can witness the magnificent ATRICAL ENTERTAINMENTS,
ERY EVENING, and WEDNESDAY and SATUR- ERNOONS, by a Company of Comedians and an of Musicians, admitted to be SUPERIOR to any ever ected in this country, with the aid of e and Scenic Arrangements, rand and superb ever seen in either Europe or Amer- warranting the universal admission that the Boston besides being the most comfortable and genteel, as apest Place of Amusement
WORLD! A single visit will prove the truth of this e the admission is only
25 Cents to the Whole!!! n, Dec. 14, 1850.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.....OVER MESSRS. JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO'S STORE.....HANCOCK STREET.

NUMBER 11. QUINCY (MASS.) SATURDAY, MARCH 15, 1851. VOLUME 15.

JOHN A. GREEN,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance—TWO DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid till the end of six months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till the expiration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will be stopped previous to the payment of all arrearages unless at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers wish their papers discontinued, they will give notice to that effect at the time their subscription expires. Every subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of his paper so long as it is sent to his address at the Post Office, Tavern, or any other place whereunto he may have ordered it, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, otherwise they will be continued until ordered out and charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business; and all advertisements for the benefit of other persons, as well as all legal advertisements, and advertisements of auction sales, sent in by them, must be paid for at the usual rates.

Business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.

☞Single copies of the paper, FIVE CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscriptions:

JOSIAH BABCOCK,	Quincy Railway.
GEORGE H. LOCKE,	" Stone Quarries.
ORIN P. BACON,	Dorchester.
FISHER A. KINGSBURY,	Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVERLY,	Abington.
SAMUEL A. TURNER,	South Scituate.
N. B. OSBORNE,	Salem
FREEMAN HUNT,	New York City

MISCELLANY.

THE WRONG MAN.

Queer things occur 'amid the blaze of noon,' but queerer things take place amid the still hours of night. The following, for instance, is one of the queerest in the category, and as Watts says,

"The deeds of darkness we have done,
Must all appear before the sun."

It may not appear quite improper to make it public, positive that the parties therein concerned will not object thereto, as their identity must remain a mystery to the inquisitive.

It was upon a public occasion when all the hotels in—call the place what you will—were filled from top to bottom. Landlords economized room and space with amazing cunning, packing as many as three fat men in one bed, on a dog day night too; or stretching their guests, head and points upon the floor, in so copious confusion as to make the property of a certain set of limbs to a particular body a matter of serious doubt. Boniface could not put out a single individual, but he could put him away somehow or other.

One of the good-natured hosts, however was sadly perplexed where to lodge a particular friend. He could not, consistency with correct notions of amity, run a pole out the window and request his friend to roost for the night, as a Kentucky landlord is reported to have done when, pressed for room; and it was only after a good deal calculation that a bright and generous idea came to his and his friend's relief.

'My old woman has gone to see her folks,' said he, 'and won't come home till to-morrow; now you take my bed; for I shan't have occasion for it, seeing I must attend the folks and keep them 'ar chaps scuttered on the dinner-hall floor from fighting.'

Accordingly the guests took possession of Boniface's bed—sunk up to his nose amid the feathers, and soon went to the land of nod; thanking his stars for having escaped from the confusion below. Had he known what some poet had written, with a chuckle, smothered in two pair of pillows, he might have exclaimed,

"In this tumultuous scene for the unfit;
How seldom are they found, Tranquility."

He slept and snored, but it was for a little while only. And intruder appeared, and he awoke with the inquiry.

'Who that?'

'It's me, old man—go to sleep again,' was the reply given in female accents, 'but don't take up all the bed.'

'It aint your old man,' said the stranger, whose nose by the way, singularly resembled that Boniface, whose wife the reader has already guessed to be the new comer. Being very bashful, the poor fellow drew the clothes over his head, and in smothered tones besought the landlady to clear right square out.

'Just as I expected!' exclaimed the old woman, 'drunk again, when the house is full of folks what can steal, rob and murder the whole of us,' and she proceeded to the bed side, and grouping in the dark, contrived to uncover the unfortunate's man's head, and then he had to 'take it,' in every sense of the word. Being a bachelor, he had merely heard of matrimonial combing down of the locks, but his experience of the operations so far outstriped his conceptions that he bellowed murder most lustily.

'Cry murder, and rouse the hull house, will you?' cried the landlady shaking her victim's scalp from the roots almost.

'Let me go—!' shouted the man, 'I ain't yer man—Murder! Murder!'

The last yell rang by the intense pain from the greatest power of the suffer's lungs brought Boniface and a posse to the door. A general rush was made in the apartment, and the matter was soon explained amid the shouts of the assemblage.

'Now whispered the jolly landlord, in his friend's ear, when leading him to 'licker,' just think how I've got to be put through.'

HARD OF HEARING.

A young Jonathan once courted the daughter of an old man that lived 'down east,' who professed to be deficient in hearing, but forsooth was more captious than limited in hearing, as the sequel will show.

It was a stormy night in the ides of March, if I mistake not, when lightning, and loud peals of thunder answered thunder, that Jonathan, sat by the old man's fireside, discussing, with the old lady, (his intended mother-in-law) on the expediency of asking the old man's permission to marry 'Sal.' Jonathan resolved to 'pop it,' to the old man next day. Night passed, and by the dawn of another day, the old man was found in his barn-lot feeding his pigs. Jonathan rose from his bed early in the morning, spied the old man feeding his pigs, and resolved to ask him for Sal.

Scarce had a minute elapsed after Jonathan made his resolution, ere he bid the old man 'good morning.' Now Jonathan's heart beat; now he scratched his head, and ever anon gave birth to a pensive yarn. Jonathan declared that he'd as lif take thirty-nine 'stripes' as to ask the old man; 'but' said he aloud to himself, 'however here's go it a faint heart never one a fair girl,' and addressed the old man thus:—

'I say, old man, I want to marry your daughter.'

Old man—'You want to borrow my halter, I would loan it to you, Jonathan, but my son has taken it and gone off to the mill.'

Jonathan—Putting his mouth close to the old man's ear, and speaking in a deafening tone—'I've got five hundred pounds of money!'

Old Man—Stepping back as if greatly alarmed, and exclaimed in a voice of surprise—'You have got five hundred pounds of honey, Jonathan? Why, it is more than all the neighborhood has use for.'

Jonathan—(Not yet the victim of despair, and putting his mouth to the old man's ear, bawled out)—'I've got gold.'

Old Man—So have I; Jonathan, and it's the worst cold I ever had in my life.' So saying, he sneeze a 'wash-up.'

By this time the old lady came up, and having observed Jonathan's unfortunate luck, she put her mouth to the old man's ear and screamed like a wounded Yahoo.

'Daddy, I say Daddy—you dont understand, he wants to marry our daughter.'

Old Man—'I told him our calf halter was gone.'

Old Lady—'Why Daddy, you don't understand—he's got gold—he's rich!'

Old Man—'He's got a cold and the itch, eh!

What is he doing here with the itch, eh!' So saying the old man aimed a blow at Jonathan's head with his walking cane—but happily for Jonathan, he dogged it. Nor did the rage of the old man stop at this, but with angry countenance, he made after Jonathan, who took to his heels; nor did Jonathan's luck stop here, he had not got out of the barn yard, nor far from the old man, who ran in a close race, ere Jonathan stumped his toe and fell to the ground, and before the old man could 'take up,' he stumbled over Jonathan, and fell sprawling in a mud hole. Jonathan sprung to his heels, and with the speed of a John Gilpin, cleared himself. And poor Sal! she died a nun. Never had no husband.

GLIDDONS MUMMY vs. BLITZ.

The Philadelphia correspondent of the Trenton American says on the evening that Gliddon's Egyptian mummy, was opened, previous to the ceremony there gathered around a collection of gentlemen, whose thoughts seemed to have little to do with things modern, and from their air of mystery they appeared to be lost in the gloom of ages. These gentlemen were inspecting the characters on the case of the dried specimin of antiquity, when suddenly they were startled by a voice amid the folds of the linen which wrapped the mummy.

'Open the box; open the box!' said the voice.

'Who are you? inquired one of the learned Thebans, whose curiosity had got the better of his astonishment.

'I am a descendant of the Pharaohs,' answered the voice within.

'Are you a genuine mummy?'

'Yes, genuine and no mistake; regularly manufactured in Egypt, by some of the best artists.'

'Do you come from Ham?'

'Ham—no I ham a better specimine of dried beef.'

'What do you want there?'

'Ask yourself you confounded prying Yankee inquisitiveness has awakened me from a number of ages.'

A thought struck the scientific ques taner, and he determined to settle a long mooted question.

'Were the Egyptions black or red men?'

'Red as the knave of hearts.'

'What caused the decline of the Egyptian nation?'

'It didn't decline; like the modern Colt the Egyptians emigrated to America.'

'To Mexico?' inquired the doctor.

'Yes; open the box, open the box.'

'Then the pyramid at Cholula is—'

'Exactly; it is nothing else.'

'And you are—'

'Bobby.'

'Bobby, who?' said the astonished inquirer.

'Bobby Blitz;' and a little man with a peculiar head of hair glided out of the hall and disappeared in the lecture room of the Museum. The doctors looked at each other, and the word 'sold' was audibly heard coming from the box, as if the died descendant Mezuriam was laughing in his sleeves at the credulity of science, which could not tell a living ventriloquist from the dried remains of burnt rags and a monkey's skeleton!

HINTS ABOUT BEDROOMS.

Their small size and their lowness render them very insalubrious, and the case is rendered worse by close windows and thick curtains and hangings, with which the beds are often so carefully surrounded as to prevent the possibility of the air being renewed. The consequence is, that we are breathing vitiated air during the greater part of the night; that is, during more than a third part of our lives; and thus the period of repose which is necessary for the renovation of our mental and bodily vigour, becomes a source of disease. Sleep under such circumstance, is very often disturbed, and always much less refreshing than when enjoyed in a well ventilated apartment. It often happens, indeed, that such repose, instead of being followed by renovated strength and activity, is succeeded by a degree of heaviness and languor which is not overcome until the person has been some time in a purer atmosphere. Nor is this the only evil arising from sleeping in an ill-ventilated apartment. When it is known that the blood undergoes most important changes in its circulation through the lungs, by means of the air which we breathe, and that these vital changes can only be affected by the respiration of pure air, it will be easily understood how the healthy functions of the lungs must be retarded by inhaling, for many successive hours, the vitiated air of our bed-rooms, and how the health must be as effectually by respiring impure air as by living on unwholesome or innutritious food—In the case of children and young persons, predisposed to consumption, it is of still more urgent consequence that they should breathe air by night as well as by day, by securing a continual renewal of the air in their nurseries, schools, &c. Let a mother who has been made anxious by the sickly looks of her children, go from pure air into their bedroom in the morning, before a door or a window has been opened, and remark the state of the atmosphere, the close, oppressive, and often fetid odour of the room, and she may cease to wonder at the sickly aspect of her children.—Let her pay a similar visit, some time after means have been taken, by the chimney ventilator or otherwise, to secure a full supply and continual renewel of the air in their bedrooms during the night, and she will be able to account for the more healthy appearance of her children, which is sure to be the consequence supplying them with pure air to breathe.—

JENNY LIND AND THE BLIND BOY

A poor blind boy, who is highly gifted with musical talent, and who resides in the northan part of the State of Mississippi, had expressed such great anxiety to hear Jenny Lind sing, that his friends raised a subscription to send him to this city to gratify his wish.

On arriving here, he accidentaly took lodgings in the same hotel with Mr. Kyle, the celebrated flutist. One evening Mr. Kyle, hearing some very wild notes, listened for some time in surprise, and as the sounds died away, he said to himself, "Well, that fellow thanks he can play, but now I'll just show him what I can do." Taking up his flute, he played the air of the "Last Rose of Summer," with variations. The blind boy listened with breathless delight, and following the sound, he came to the door of Mr. Kyle, and stood there until the last notes ceased. With a feeling of impulse he could not restrain he knocked at the door. "Come in," said Kyle, and not recognizing the lad, he said, "what do you want, sir?" "I am blind," said the boy "and have been drawn hither by your sweet music; do tell me who you are." "I'm but a poor musician," said Kyle, and am travelling with Jenny Lind, as flutist."—"You are!" exclaimed the lad; "Oh! sir do take me to hear her sing, but the price of tickets is so high that I am too poor to buy one. Can't you take me to hear her, sir?" he continued, with great feeling. "I have heard she is so good, so generous, so pretty, and sings so sweetly, that I shall never be happy until I hear her."

Mr. Kyle felt deeply for the boy, and promised that he would take him to hear the lovely Swede. Accordingly, he took the blind boy that night and seated him in a chair behind the scenes. The sweet songs of the Nightingale affected the poor lad deeply and produced him varied sensations. But when Jenny sang "Home Sweet Home," he melted into tears. On her retiring, she was attracted by the sound of the boy's sobbings, and inquired who he was. Mr. Kyle then told her the history of the lad in a few words, which much interested her; and sending for him the next day, the poor boy left the generous songstress one hundred dollars richer than when he reached the city.—N. O. Picayune.

A VENERABLE PARTY.

A gathering of the "oldest inhabitants" of Southwick, at the residence of Mrs Hartman, in Second street, above Queen at the celebration of the 101-st anniversary of the beirthday of her grandfather, the venerable George Swartz. Mr. S. came to this country, in the year 1872; being then 22 years of age. He is a tailor, and for many years carried on business in Water street, from which he retired but two years ago. When in his hundredth year he sat upon the board and made a pair of pantaloons, which were intended to have been kept by his family as a relic, but which unfortunately were lost in the late great fire, by which he was an unfortunate sufferer—losing every thing in his house. He has been the father of nine children, two of whom are now living, a son aged 93 and a daughter 56. The party assembled numbered seven-ten, whose ages were as follows: 101, 90, 87, 81, 79, 76, 75, 72, 72, 70 67, 66, 58, 52, 52, 50, 50, making a total of 1216 years, and giving an average of 71-12 years to each. After spending an agreeable afternoon, chattering over the days of 'auld lang syne,' the party sat down to a bountiful supperer, and early in the evening were taken to their several homes.—Philadelphia Leger.

ROST PIG IN CHINA.

We have always admired, and always shall admire, as the very best of all human stories, Charles Lamb's account of roast pig in China. Ching Ping, it seems, had suffered his father's house to be burned down. The outhouses were burned down. The outhouses were burned along with the house,—and in one of these the pigs, by accident, were roast to a turn. Memorable were the results for all future civilization. Ping, who (like all China beside) had hitherto eaten his pig raw, now, for the first time tasted it in a state of torrefaction. Of coarse he made his peace with his father by a part (tradition says a leg) of the new dish. The father was so astounded with the discovery, that he burned his house down once a year, for the sake of coming at an annual banquet of roast pig. A curious, prying, sort of fellow, one Chang Fang, got to know of this.

He also burned down a house with a pig in it, and had his eyes opened. The secret was all kept—the discovery spread—many great conversations were made—houses were blazing in every part of the Celestial Empire. The insurance offices took the matter up.—One Chong Pong, detected in the very act of shutting up a pig in his drawing-room, and then firing a train was indicted on a charge of arson. The chief justice of Pekin, on that occasion, required an officer of the court to hand him a piece of the roast pig, the corpus delicti, for pure curiosity led him to taste, but within two days after it was observed that his lordship's town house was burned down. In short, all China apostatised to the new faith; and it was not until some centuries had passed, that a great genius arose, who established the second era in the history of roast pig, by showing that it could be had without burning down houses.

CHURCH INCIDENT.

A few years since there dwelt in the goodly city of New Brunswich, N. J., a certain Betsy Baker, a very devout, but at the same time very nervous, hysterical, fidgetty old maid. Now Betsy was a constant attendant of the Rev Dr. Horne's Church, and during the morning prayer, and in fact, at all periods of the sermon she was in the habit of breaking out into ejaculations, such as "Glory to God!" "Come, Lord Jesus!" "Amen," &c., &c., and this, too, in the shrillest voice imaginable, very much to the annoyance of the audience, and the discomfiture of the good Domine, whose voice, by the bye, was very similar in its tone.

It happened one Sabbath morning that Betsy was more than usually devout and hysterical; so noisy, in fact, that the minister could stand it no longer, and he ordered some one to "take that woman out of church."

Two young bucks immediately attempted to carry out the Domine's wishes; one taking Betsey by the heels and the other by the shoulders. She made a great lament, and struggled violently, and as they bore her down the broad aisle, she screamed out at the top of her voice. "Oh Lord God! I am served worse than our Saviour. He rode through the streets of Jerusalem upon one Ass, but I ride upon two!"

The Church was not in a very proper mood of devotion, and we believe service was dispensed with for the forenoon. As for the young bucks they, did not show themselves again into that Church.

A WALL EYE.—Two Irish labrers were at work building a chimney one a hod carrier of bricks and the other a mixer of mortar. The former, one forenoon, got a small piece of brick in his right eye which troubled him considerably. His comrade asked, "What is the matter with your eye, Looney?"

Looney replied, "O, it troubles me—it's a piece of brick that I have, and it fales like the divil and Tom Walker!

"Come here, then' my boy," said the other "and I'll be after putting a little mortar in it; and then you'll have a regular wall eye!"

IDOLATRY.

Logicians may reason about abstractions; but the great mass of mankind can never feel an interest in them. They must have images. The strong tendency of the multitude in all ages and nations to idolatry can be explained on no other principle. The first inhabitants of Greece, there is every reason to believe, worshipped one invisible Deity. But the necessity of having something more definite to adore produced, in a few centuries the innumerable crowd of Gods and Goddesses. In like manner the ancient Persians thought it impious to exhibit the Creator under a human form. Yet even these transferred to the sun the worship which, speculatively, they considered due only to the Supreme mind. The History of the Jews, is the record of a continual struggle between pure Theism, supported by the most terrible sanctions, and the strangely fascinating desire of having some visible and tangible object of adoration. Perhaps none of the secondary causes which Christianity spread over the world, while Judaism scarcely ever acquired a proselyte, operated more powerfully than this feeling. God the uncreated, the incomprehensible, the invisible, attached few worshippers. A philosopher might admire so noble a conception; but the crowd turned away in disgust from words which presented no image to their minds. It was before Deity, embodied in a human form, walking among men, partaking of their infirmities, leaning on their bosoms, weeping over their graves, slumbering in the manger, bleeding on the cross, that the prejudices of the Synagogue, and the doubts of the Academy, and the pride of Portico, and faces of the Hector, and the swords of thirty legions were humbled in dust!

A FIGHT FOR A KISS.—"Ah Sally, give, me a kiss and be done with it."

"I won't so there now."

"I'll take it, whether or no."

"Do it if you dare."

So at it the went rough and tumble. An awful destruction of starch now commenced. The bow of my cravat was squat up in half a shake. At the next bout, smash went shirt collar, and at the same time some of the head fastenings gave way and down came Sally's hair like a flood in a mill dam broke loose, carrying away half a dozen combs. One dig of Sally's elbows, and my blooming ruffles wilted down to a dishcloth. But she had no time to boast. Soon her neck tackle began to shiver, parted at the throat; and whoosh came a string of white beeds scampering and running races every way you could think of about the floor.

She fought fair, however. I must admit, and neither tried to bite or scratch, and when she could fight no longer for want of breath; she yielded handsomely. Her arms fell down by her side—her hair back over the chair, her eyes closed, and there lay a little plump mouth, all in the air. Gracious! did you ever see a hawk pounce on a robin? or a bee upon a clover top?

A BEAR RIDE. A day or two since, as Mr. Solomon Reed of Dorset Vt, was cutting wood at some distance from his house, a very large bear stole up behind and ordered him to stop. He let fly his axe at Bruin, Bruin in turn, let fly at him. So omon then seized a club and laid the blows upon his shaggy adversary so heartily that it broke, and he began to think he should have to knock under. Not having the wherewithal to knock with, he made use of his fists, expecting every moment that he should be compelled to cave in. A dreadful hug followed, and the two rolled over on the ground like a couple of wrestlers in a ring. Not liking to be set in this fashion, Solomon, by a desperate effort got Bruin under him holding his head down, and sitting plump astride of the beast.

The latter, however, soon began to "bear" up—and all at once took to his heels like an infuriated bull. So omon all the while still astride and compelling the bear to follow his own nose with as slight a deviation of his jaws from a straight line as possible. On they drove, at a furious rate—the rider and the ridden—the former endeavoring to make a bridle out of the bear's ears, and the bear striving as hard to make a bit out of the man's arm. Solomon began to fear, at the rate he was going, that his steed was fast taking him into a whole nest of bears, and probably soliloquised—

"Better to bear the ills we have Than fly to others we know not of."

While in this predicament, Mr. Reed's son happened to overtake them on their journey, and settled all uncertainties, by immediately knocking the bear in the head with his axe. Mr. Solomon Reed got some scratches in the scuffle, and Bruin's fat carcass to boot—which, by the way, he immediately salted for family use.

GOOD. A pleasant young fellow, about half-seas-over passing through the Strand at a late hour, was accosted by a watchman, who began with all the insolence of office, to fire a string of interrogatories in the hope of being handsomely paid for his trouble. "What is your name, sir?" "Five shillings." "Where do you live?" "Out of the King's dominions." "Where have you been?" "Where you would have been with all your heart." "Where are you going?"—"Where you dare not go for your ears." The officious guardian of the night thought these answers sufficient to warrant him to take the young man to the watch-house. The next morning, on being brought before the magistrate, he told his worship, "that as to the first question, his name was Thomas Crown; with regard to the second, he lived in Little Britain; to the third, he had been taking a glass of wine with a friend; and that as to the last," said he, "I was going home to my wife." The magistrate reprimanded the watchman in severe terms, and wished Mr. Crown, good morning. London Paper.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

SATURDAY, MARCH. 15th, 1851.

John A. Green, Editor.

New Hamp-shire Election.—No election of Governor by the people. Gov Dinsmoor, the present incumbent, received about 4,000 more than Sawyer, whig, and nearly 8,000 over Atwood, Free Soil. He lacks, however, nearly 4,000 of a majority over all—but as it is thought the House will be democratic, that he will be re-elected.

Another Trial for a U. S. Senator.—On Wednesday last, the seventeenth balloting for a U. S. Senator was had, which resulted as follows:

Whole number of votes,	330
Necessary to a choice,	166
Charles Sumner had	188
Robert C. Winthrop	108
Scattering	44

Mr Sumner lacking 8 votes of an election.

Another trial is to be made on Wednesday next, and if the result should prove the same as on former occasions we shall be satisfied. For we think the legislative wisdom of the State is as profitably employed in such innocent amusements, as they would be in creating new Banks, or supplying the means from the pockets of the people to bolster up antiquated and rotten institutions.

We feel ourselves under greant obligations to the Hon. H. Mann, for the numerous public documents, which he has from time to time favored us.

City Election in Lynn.—At the election of city officers in the city of Lynn, on Monday last, Hon. George Hood, the Free Soil candidate, was elected by about 400 majority—a gain on last year, of 350 votes. Mr. Hood is known throughout the state as a consistent democrat.

Westward, Ho!—We would respectfully recommend the following article to the attention of our enterprising and hardy sons of labor. It is no fictitious tale, but a reality. The truth of which, every one acquainted with the richness and fertility of our Western possessions, readily admit.

"Labor, says an Oregon paper, is very high—wages varying from five to twelve dollars a day. It records an incident which shows that blacksmithing is about as profitable in Oregon as gold digging in California."

We understand that a splendid new Organ, built by the celebrated organ-builder, Thomas Appleton, Esq. of Boston, at a cost of two thousand dollars, has been placed in the Unitarian Church of Rev. Dr. Lunt's Society in this town during the last week, and that it will be played for the first time, tomorrow, (Sunday,) by Mr. Hater, the famous organist. A very large part of the funds for the payment of this organ was raised through the efforts and industry of the ladies belonging to said Society, who, as characteristic of the ladies in general when they undertake any great enterprise, always carry it through, as in this instance, with a zeal and perseverance highly commendable.

Fast Day.—The season of prayer having arrived, Gov. Boutwell has issued an Executive invitation to the citizens of this State to unite with him on THURSDAY, the Tenth day of April next, in FASTING, HUMILIATION AND PRAYER, for the private and public sins of this community. We hope to see the day generally observed. Boys will please take notice that "Football" is specially prohibited.

Marshal Tukey and the Gamblers.—This popular and vigilant public officer, created quite a sensation among a certain class of the community, in the city of Boston, on Saturday Evening last. It appears that the ministers of justice had long been aware of the existence of certain nests of gamblers in Sudbury street and vicinity—and preperations were accordingly made to break them up. Saturday Evening was the time appointed to carry their plan into execution, and most successfully was it accomplished. The offenders were too much engaged to keep an eye to their safety and were not aware of any danger until Mr. Tukey with his assistants presented themselves before them. Their situation was ludicrous; they found when too late, their was no chance of escape as all the avenues of retreat had been cut off, and that they were like so many rats caught in a trap set for them by the wily Marshal. Mr Tukey informed them their game was up for that evening as their company was wanted in another part of the city. He took forty of their number under his escort and placed them under lock and key for safe keeping until Monday morning, when they were set at liberty by paying a fine of about five dollars each.

ANOTHER LETTER FROM OHIO.

The following is the most interesting portion of a letter received by Ibradam Bartlett from the father of the unfortunate couple refered to in the letter who has placed it in our hands for publication.

Zanesvill Ohio, Feb 28th 1851.

Mr. Bartlett

Dear Sir. You very kind letter of the 17th inst was duly received, but having received one of the same date a few days before from Mr Perkins P. M. in which I could fully identify, by the writing enclosed and the description of them, to be my children, I immediately wrote to Mr. Bass Coroner of Quincy requesting him to have them buried and to have a Tomb stone with their names &c viz "John B. Grieves aged 22 and Hannah Banks: his wife aged 15 years."

That the deed was premeditated mutually between them for some time before they left here, I have every reason to belive, and for your satisfaction, I will give you a brief history of John.

Whatever John became taken up with it engrossed all his mind and powers; about six years ago he made a small Steam Engine about two feet long with everything complete about it, which he had to run and whistle for some days and was noticed in our papers and called "Inventive Genius."

Between two and three years ago went to Cincinnati to learn the Machine Business and was progressing well, when some Hand Bills were circulated through the city that a Mr. Bly a practical Phenologist would examine heads and give charts of character for one dollar, John went with some of his shopmates and had his head examined; he was so convinced of his true character that he got to reading and studying Phrenology so became so win over to it, that he left off the business he had wished to learn for years, and returned home to me about two years ago, to work again at Boot-making that he might have more time to study than he could have at the Machine Business.

After his return home, he read and painted a great deal on that science, got one Towles & Wells Journal of Man and the works of Andrew Jackson Davis; which he lent to Miss. Banks and they both became true believers in his doctrines, and they soon become so much attached to each other, and to his doctrines that they were married about ten months since, and from that time, until they left here, (about the 10th, of Oct. last) they were completely carried away by Davis' writings. John last painting that belief, and he has left, a great many is taken from Davis' Great Harmonia, and extracted in the spirit Messenger of Springfield of August 17th 1850. Vol. 2. no. 2 called, the Philosophy of Death viz "Death is but a door that opens into a new and more perfect existence; it is a triumphal arch through which man's immortal spirit passes at the moment of leaving the outer world to depart for a higher and sublimer, and a more magnificent country." In this piece Davis declares having seen, in his superior state, the Spiritual body of a woman produced as a birth from the dying person, that they had painted, and wrote all his, Davis' ideas before they left here, and in about the same language, that Bannell wrote in the piece left in their Boarding House, viz. "To the down treaded &c." But I am encroaching too much upon your time and must desist.

I am dear Sir Your Very O'bt Servant. PETER GRIEVE.

THE HIGH SCHOOL

Mr. Green.—Your correspondent 'Solon,' states his idea to be, to distribute the amount we shall be obliged to raise annually for the support of a High School among the several districts.' And than goes on to say his plan will be 'less expensive' than a single High School—how it will be less expensive,' if the whole amount required to support a High School is 'to be distributed' does not appear; he seems to be a little out in his arithmetic, and in figuring up the imaginary gains of his 'plan,' he overlooks the premises from which he started.

If the character of the common schools be such as he represents, it is time their standard of education was raised, but it is not evident their teachers will have enough to go to perfect their Scholars in the studies now taught there, without combining with them the more elevated branches of high school instruction.

To the argument that poor boys have something else to do besides going to school, it is a sufficient answer that the schools must be regulated for those who attend them, if there be any persons among us, and we hope there are not, who cannot allow their children sufficient time to acquire a good education it can be of no advantage to them to raise the standard of education in the common schools as more is already taught there than they have leisure to learn.

When 'Solon can demonstrate that a unit multiplied by six will produce only a unit, we will believe six high schools will cost no more than one, it being understood the standard of education is to be the same in both' plans; the assumed basis of his figures admits of controversy, and consequently the result not conclusive being only conjectured, and the duties of a high school teacher is not properly estimated, as it assumed he can be an assistant in other branches of instruction, a point we dissie upon; the law of 1850 provides that every town having four thousand inhabitants may be exempted from having a high school provided in the district schools, in addition to the common branches, are taught, history of the United States, Bookkeeping, Surveying, Geometry, Algebra, Latin and Greek languages General History, Rhetoric and Logic. Is it not apparent that no instrucor who teaches all these will have no time to act as an assistant with others, and would not six men qualified to teach them cost more than one? let it be remembered if all these branches are not taught in the common schools, constructed on the plurality plan of 'Solon' the law is not complied with and the town is made liable for a penelty of about nine thousand dollars.

We are further told we shall have to build a new school-house for a central school which would be an expense not applicable to the plurality 'plan:' this we admit but on economical opponent says truly 'no doubt a central school of a superior character would raise the value of real estate in the centre of the town,' such being a natrual consequence of such an inquisition, there would be an increased amount of taxable property in that section, and it is not a resonable position that this increase in the value of property will give the town an additional income sufficient to pay the interest of the cost of the school house, and gradually reduce the debt increased by it? we can hardly believe 'Solon' serious when he imagins the plurality plan will draw wealthy men to the outskirts of the town, nor do we believe they are generally so mercenary as to be unwilling to pay taxes when their children are to be benefited by the institutions for which they are raised.

We have no objection to six high schools should the town decide to have them; let it not be forgotton that the standard of education in them is fixed by law, and must be fully complied with,—to furnish the district schools with additional instructors that will bring them up to this standard will cost more than a central school must be evident to those who will be guided by reason rather than prejudice, who are ready to sacrifice local feeling to the general good, the experiment at Dorchester has not been fully tried, so far it has been, the information we have obtained does not confirm the declarations of 'Solon.'

We have dwelt upon the argument which touches the "pocket nerve' because that point is always the most sensitive; 'Solon' has missed his march in supposing as opposed to improvements, we had always thought our failings lean'd to the opposite side, in this school question we have no interest, that is not equally shared by every other inhabitant of the town, no children to educate, no personal advantage to gain, if rich men hold on to their lands, and adopt the 'dog in a manger' policy, neither improve them themselves nor give others an opportunity to do so, we say turn them over to the tender mercies of the tax gatherer, let the weight of his little finger be heavier than a weaver's beam—let not the town suffer by their unyielding avarice—we all owe a duty to society, and that duty to advance the general prosperity and happiness of the community around us.—Hancock.

The New York Herald acknowledges the receip of $90 for the relief of the window of the late One-eyed Thompson.

Not. Bad.—'Where was I, Ma,' said a little urchin one day to his mother, as he stood gazing upon his drunken and prostrate father, 'where was I when you married Pa? Why didn't you take me along, I could have picked out a better man than he is?'

Fatal Accident.—Yesterday forenoon, as a young man named Cyrus Thyng was engaged on the Old Colony railway wharf, at the junction of Leigh and South streets loading lumber in his wagon, his horse became frightened at a gravel train which was backing out of the station house at the time. The young man attempting to get his horse across the track, but before he succeeded in so doing, the train struck, Thyng in the side, killing him almost instantly. A jury of inquest was summoned by Coroner Smith, and during the afternoon, they returned a verdict in accordance with the above facts. Mr. Thyng was a single man—25 years of age and a native of Waterboro', Maine.

In Montenegro, though it is one of the wildest regions of all Europe, in order to travel safely nothing is requsite but the presence of a woman. Even robbers never lay hands on a woman, and the party which has one in its company goes safer than with a passport from the Prince.

In Favor.—A drunken man fell asleep by by the road side, where a pig found him, and began too root his face. 'Who's kissing me now?' exclaimed the drunkard. 'What a capital thing it is to be in favor with the women.'

NOTICE

Quincy Lyceum.

A lecture may be expected before this society ex2 THURSDAY EVENING, commencing at 7 1-2 o'clock.

H. O WHITNEY, Secretary.

Cotillon Party.

At Liberty Hall over the Store of H. A Ransom &c., on Wednesday Evening next March 19th. Music Blanchard's Band.

Tickets $1,00. Dancing to coumence at 7 1-2 o'clock.

SALOON OF FASHION
NEW ARRANGEMENT FOR
1851

GEORGE SAVIL & CO., Washington St. Quincy.

WOULD most respectfully inform their Friends and the Public that they have Secured the services of

MR. JOHN GILLESPIE

a gentleman every way qualified, to take the charge of their

CLOTHING DEPARTMENT

and are now prepared to give all who may favor us with their patronage any kind of Garment required, which for EASE STYLE and Fashion guaranted to suit the Most FASTIDIOUS.

We have received a large Selection of Cloths Cassimeres and Vestings of the Richest Style and best qualities which will be made into Garments on the most reasonable terms, and satisfaction given in all cases.

Also. Constantantly on hand a large assortment of Genteel
READY MADE CLOTHING.

For Sale at the Lowest prices
GEORGE SAVIL & Co., Washington St Quincy a w rods East of the Stone Meeting House.
Quincy March 15th tf

Commissioners Notice

To Francis Hilliard, Esq., Commissioner of Insolvency for the County of Norfolk

The subscriber a creditor of Lincoln Newton of Braintree in said County Boot Manufacturer, an insolvent debtor, against whom proceedings are pending and who has proved his claim against the estate of said insolvent debtor, respectfully represents, that the claims of the several creditors against the estate of said Insolvent have been paid and they are fully satisfied.

He therefore prays that the proceedings now pending before you against said Insolvent debtor may be vacated. As in duty ound will now pray.

signed GILMAN THOMPSON,

Commonwealth of Massachusetts,

NORFOLK SS, On the foregoing petition, it is ordered, that the petioner give notice of the pendency thereof to all persons interested in the estate of said insolvent debtor by publishing a true copy of said petition and of this order thereon, in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed at Quincy, they may appear before said Commissioner, in Roxbury on the twenty second day of March A D 1851, at ten o'clock in the forenoon to show cause if any they have, why the prayer of said petiton should not be granted

Given under my hand the 10th day of March A D 1851. signed FRANCIS HILLIARD,
Commissioner of Insolvency

A true copy of the petion and of the order thereon
Attest WM. GASTON, Clerk,
Quincy, March 12th 2w

Musical Notice.

The Braintree Brass Band, take this opportunity to return their sincere thanks to their friends and patrons for the kind and liberal patronage hitherto bestowed upon them, and would respectfully announce to the public generally, that they are expected to furnish Music on all occasions to the satisfaction of their patrons.

Application made to David H. Bois, near the Rev. Dr. Stores Meeting House, will meet with promt attention

Braintree March 15th 3m*

Notice.

Proposals will be received until the 25th inst at noon for a Superintendant of the Alms House and to take charge of the Town Farm For further information inquire of either of the Subscribers

Overseers of the Poor, { BRYANT B NEWCOMB. NOAH CUMMINGS, LEWIS BASS.

Quincy March 15th 1851. t,

Notice.

A Meeting (fourth adjourned) of the Creditors of Nathan Pratt and Nathan Pratt & Co. will be holden at the Office of the Commissioner of Insolvency in Roxbury, on the ninth day of April next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at which meeting Creditors may be present and prove their claims.

By order of Francis Hilliard Esq. Commissioner.

Assignees, { WM S MORTON, GEO H FRENCH.

Quincy March 15th. 1 w

ANNUAL MARCH MEETING.

The following which we have received from an official source, show the result of the late election in this Town. On account of the great number of candidates in the field for preferment, a second days trial was necessary to complete the list:

Chose—Wm. S. Morton, Moderator.

Bryant B. Newcomb, Noah Cummings and Lewis Bass, Selectmen, Assessors, Overseers of the Poor and Surveyors of Highways.

Israel W. Munroe, Town Treasurer.

George L. Gill, Town Clerk.

Lysander Richards, Wm. W. Dean, Noah Cummings, John T. Burrell, Wm. S. Morton, George White and James Bradford, School Committee.

Wm W Baxter, Ebenezer Adams and Whitcomb Porter, Fence Viewers.

Shadrach Wade, Richard Newcomb, Joseph J. Brackett, Josiah Adams, Wm. Parker Jr. James M. Wade and Elihu Thayer, Surveyors of Lumber.

Seth Adams, George H. French, Abel Wright and George Curtis, Constables.

Wm. M. Spear, Wm. R. Brown, Calvin W. Perry, John Arnold, Thomas P. G. Hardwick, Thomas Tolman, W. M. French, Geo. Crane, Geo. W. Goodwin, Wm. Pickerasll, Samuel Thomas, Henry Littlefield, Hosea B. Ellis, John Lucas, Ebenezer Adams, Field Drivers.

Francis Williams, at Large. Ensign S. Bellows South District; Geo. Newcomb, Point District: Ebenezer Adams, West District; Josiah Bass, North District; Jacob F. Eaton; Centre District; Samuel Higgins, East District, Auditors.

Alden French, Geo. B. French, Geo. H. Locke, Thaddeus H. Newcomb, Ebenezer Adams, Samuel Curtis, Peter Clubbuck, Asa M. Pope, John A. Billings, Lloyd G. Horton, Charles Marsh, Wm. Nash, Frederick A. Trask, Fire-wards.

Geo. Marsh, W. M. French, Geo. Newcomb, Horatio N Glover, Geo. H. Locke, Committee on Appropriations.

Surveyors of Wood and Bark, to be appointed by the Selectmen.

Voted—To accept the Auditors Report.

Voted—To refer the 5th, and 6th. Articles in the Warrant to Committee on Appropriations, to report at the adjournment of the Meeting.

Voted—To refer the seventh Article relative to Repairs of Highways to the Selectmen.

Voted—That the Town Land be improved in the same manner as last year.

Voted—To allow the Town Clerk $35, and Town Treasurer $40, for services the past year.

Voted—That the School Districts choose Presidential Committees, and they select and contract with teachers.

Voted—To allow the Stewards of the Engine Companies $30, each, and the members the amount of their County, and Town Poll Tax.

Voted—To grant Hall the Town and Lyceum Room for Temperance Meetings free from all expense, when not previously engaged.

Voted—To refer the revision of the Jury Box to the Selectmen.

Voted—To refer the Fifteenth article, and the whole subject of a High School to a Committee of seven, one from each District and one at Large.

Chose—Lysander Richards, Wm. B. Duggan, Noah Cummings, James Bradford, Israel W. Munroe, Nathaniel White, Geo. Newcomb.

Voted—To postpone the balloting for Register of Deeds and County Treasurer, to the adjournment of this meeting.

Voted—To accept the Report of the Selectmen on Guide Posts.

Voted—To choose a Committee of three to prosecute "all violations of the License Law."

Chose—Byrant B. Newcomb, Noah Cummings Lewis Bass.

Voted—To adjourn to the first Monday in April at one o'clock P. M.

Bakery Business.

The subscribers respectfully inform the public that they have commenced the bakery business at the bakery formerly occupied by L. G Horton, and hope by their constant attention to the business to merit a share of the public patronage.

J. & H. H FAXON.
Quincy, Jan. 18th, 1851. tf

Mattresses.

Palm Leaf and Husk Mattresses just received and for sale as low as can be bought in the City, and delivered at any part of this Town, free of expense.

I W MUNROE.
Quincy, March 8th tf

Paper Hangings.

LARGE Lot of
PAPER HANGINGS.
of 1 to 6 Rolls—some of high Cost—will be closed off, from 25 to 50 pr. ct. discount from cost, to make room for a prime assortment early in the spring.

I. W. MUNROE.
Quincy, Feb 1, 1851. tf

Found!!

In Quincy on Tuesday last, a Bundel containing various valuable articles, which the owner can have by proving property, and paying charges, on application to James Rundlett, about one forth of a Mile above the Episcopal Church, on the Turnpike, leading to Weymouth.

Quincy, March 8th tf

List Carpeting.

for sale by
I W MUNROE.
Quincy, March 8th. ts.

Hats and Caps.

For sale at very low prices by
I. W. MUNROE.
Quincy March 8th.

☞Shirts.....Shirts.☜

I. W. MUNROE, has just received a prime assortment of

☞.....FINE SHIRTS.....☜

of the latest style, which will be sold at very low prices.

Quincy, Jan 25, 1851. tf

New England Protective Union.

DIVISION.....No. 180.

At the STORE recently occupied by Mr. Frederick Hardwick on Franklin street, may be found a good assortment of

GROCERIES, CROCKERY and GLASS WARE.

Together with a supply of

BOOT MAKERS FINDINGS.

— ALSO —

BEEF,
PORK,
SAUSAGES,
TRIPE,
LARD,
MACKEREL,
PICKELS,
POTATOES, &c

All of which will be Kept constantly on hand, and will be sold, at a small advance from cost, for cash.

The public are invited to call, and examine our goods, and become acquainted with our mode of trade

N. B.—The spacious Hall over the store will be let on favorable terms.

☞Goods delivered to any part of the town free of cheargе☜

Quincy, Jan 11, 1851. tf

Notice.

The Subscribers return their thanks to their friends and the public generally who have favored them with their custom, and would say to those who are purchasing goods, that we intend keeping a good assortment of English, West India goods and Groceries of all kinds.

Also, Beef, Pork, Bacon, Lard, Mackerel, and Vegetables, which will be sold as low as can be bought elsewhere for cash or credit.

Also, Flour by the barrel or bag, as low as can be bought for cash.

N. B. Goods delivered as usual

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, Oct. 5th. tf

DRY GOOD'S
☞NOTICE☜

The undersigned most respectfully inform the public that they keep constantly on hand a large Stock of

DRY GOODS,

well adapted to the wants of the community.

At all times can be found a good assortment of

Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinets and Doe-Skins, Prints, De Laines, Cashmeres, Alpaccas,

and a great variety of

DRY GOODS AND SHAWLS.
Sheetings, Shirtings Flannels, and Blankets.

With a good Assortment of such artices as are usually found in a well selected

Stock of Dry Goods.

Feeling confident that our prices will insure a ready sale, our GOODS will be freely shown to all wishing to examine them.

GEORGE SAVIL & CO.,
Washington Street, Quincy
A few rods east of the Stone Meeting House.
Quincy, October 5. tf

Executrix Notice.

Notice is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Executrix of the will of JOSIAH FRENCH, late of Braintree in the County of Norfolk, yeoman deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same and all persons indebted thereto to make payment

RACHEL FRENCH Executrix
Braintree March 15th 3w*

To Let.

Part of a House, on Centre Street, apply to
EBENEZER ADAMS
Quincy March 15th 3w

Particular Notice

Mrs. Brooks contemplating a change of business will sell her stock of Millinery and Fancy Goods, at cost for two weeks, and great bargains may be anticipated.

All indebted are requested to settle, and all have demands to present them for payment before the 1st of April ensuing

ELIZA BROOKS
Quincy, March 15th. 2w

Select School.

A School for advanced Scholars will be opened in the Lyceum Hall in Braintree, on Monday, the 7th to continue eighteen weeks, under the care of Mr S. D Hayden

For particulars see circulars to be had of C Gill & Co Quincy Book Store.

Braintree, March, 12th tf

To Let.

The Rooms formerly occupied as a paint shop over the harness Manufactory of Theo Kingman

J. & H. H. FAXON.
Quincy, March 15th, tf

Bees and Honey.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN, offers for sale a few Hives Bees in prime order at a fair price

Also Honey in the comb

March, 1-t tf

House to Let.

A GOOD Dwelling House consisting four rooms on the lower floor and chambers, with a good garden, very pleasantly situated on Sea Street in Quincy and well calculated to accommodate a gentleman doing business in Boston, and wishing to reside with his family in the country, being within three minutes walk of the Old Colony Railroad Depot.

Apply to JOSIAH BRIGHAM
Quincy March 15th: tf

To Let.

A Convenient Dwelling House, pleasantly situated on Common Street recently occupied by the Widow Pratt with about three acres of good Land, several fruit trees; an excellent well of water and small barn. Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND
Quincy, Aug. 10. tf

WORLD'S FAIR

UNDER the management of the ART UNION COMPANY, Legislature of New York:
OFFICE:—50 WALL STREET, [Over the American

COMMITTEE:—
W. DEAN, Esq. | RIGHA
W. C HORNBEYER, Esq. | E. TOW
T. WATTS, Esq. | W. S M
I. TOWNSEND, Secretary

Shares---$5
☞FIFTY PRIZ

Each Subscriber for every $5 su receive a magnificent engraving of the and one chance in the distribution of Each prize is a free first cabin pa and back, and $100 in money.

A person drawing a prize who c go to London, or to go by the vessel Company, may receive an equivalen passage in money.

The drawing is fixed for the 25th City of New York, and express notice hour of drawing will be sent to each

A remittance of $45 will secure

Clubs of less than 10 may decide

Clubs of 10 or more may deduct 10 p

Remittances by mail will be at the Funds current at place whence sen

Drafts must be made payable to

The shares are selling rapidly, an to be sold is limited by the charter applications for shares must be sent

If a remittance arrive after the sha the money will be returned.

Shares and further particulars m the Office of the New York Art Uni Wall Street, New York

By Order,
I. TOWNSE

New York, March 8, 1851.

QUINCY WASHING M

THIS article has been tested by families during the past week, ed it equal to anything of the kind used; therefore, the subscriber will sell it at 25 cents per gallon, or by full directions accompanying it.

By this improvement, it is expect market will not be so firm, as cloths will wear longer and be whiter; co often will new be bought.

ELISH

Commonwealth of Massa
NORFOLK SS. Probate Offi

Upon the petition of John A. Gr Keith, of Quincy, in said County, bond given by Mary Newcomb and of said Quincy, to the Judge of Pro te, for the faithful performance of t cutors of the will of late of said Quincy, deceased prov be discharged from all further liabil Ordered—that the said petitione Mary and Thompson and all other that they may appear and be heard same, at a Court of Probate, to be in said County, on the twenty-seco A D. 1851, at two o'clock in the ing the said Mary and Thompson this Order to issue three weeks su publishing into order three weeks newspaper called the Quincy Pat Quincy.

JOHN NEWCOM

S. LELAND, J

Quincy, March 8th

Straw Carpet

4-4 5-4 and 6-4 Straw Carpetin

Quincy, March 8th.

Grass Seed

JUST received a new supply of GRASS, RED TOP and CLO will be sold as cheap, for CASH, Boston or elsewhere.

D. B

Quincy, March 8th.

Furniture and F
for sale by

Quincy, March 8th.

Granite Quarries
IN QUINCY

ABOUT Sixty Acres of Land be Capt JOSIAH BASS, will STONE LEDGES on the same into Lots to suit purchasers. For t inquire of

Quincy Feb 22d

Linen Cambrick

LADIES in want of Handke amine.

Quincy, Feb. 14th, 1851.

NEW DE LAINES AND P ed and for sale at

Quincy, Feb. 14th, 1851.

To Let

ONE half of a House now occupied by possession given the first A Shoe Makers Shop, if required, enquire on the premis

JAB

Quincy Feb 22d 1851.

Dissolution of Copa

THE COPARTNERSHIP he tween the subscribers, under t BRIGHAM & CO., is by mutu dissolved.

All persons having demands a requested to present the same, and ed are respectfully requested to m ther partner,

JOSIA
ISRAE

Quincy, January, 1st 1851.

ISRAEL W. MU

WILL continue the busines JOSIAH BRIGHAM & close personal attention to bu continuance of the patronage bestowed on the late firm.

Quincy, Jan 4th. 1851.

Shirts ..... Shirts

[illegible] SHOE has just received a prime assortment of

....FINE SHIRTS....

latest style, which will be sold at very low

Quincy, Jan 25, 1851. tf

New England Protective Union.

DIVISION.....No. 180.

The STORE recently occupied by Mr. Frederick Hardwick on Franklin street, may be had a good assortment of

GROCERIES, CROCKERY and GLASS WARE,

Together with a supply of

BOOT MAKERS FINDINGS.

— ALSO —

BEEF,
PORK,
SAUSAGES,
TRIPE,
LARD,
MACKEREL,
PICKELS,
POTATOES, &c

all of which will be kept constantly on hand, and will be sold, at a small advance from cost, for cash.

The public are invited to call, and examine our goods, and become acquainted with our mode of trade

N. B.—The spacious Hall over the store will be let on favorable terms.

Goods delivered to any part of the town free of charge.

Quincy, Jan 11, 1851. tf

Notice.

THE Subscribers return their thanks to their friends and the public generally who have favored them with their custom, and would say to those who are purchasing goods, that we intend keeping a good assortment of English, West India goods and Groceries as of all kinds.

Also, Beef, Pork, Bacon, Lard, Mackerel, and Vegetables, which will be sold as low as can be bought elsewhere for cash or credit.

Also, Flour by the barrel or bag, as low as can be bought for cash.

N. B. Goods delivered as usual

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5th. tf

DRY GOODS

NOTICE

THE undersigned most respectfully inform the public that they keep constantly on hand a large Stock of

DRY GOODS,

well adapted to the wants of the community.

At all times can be found a good assortment of

Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinets and Doe-Skins, Prints, De Laines, Cashmeres, Alpaccas,

and a great variety of

DRY GOODS AND SHAWLS,

Sheetings, Shirtings Flannels, and Blankets,

With a good Assortment of such articles as are usually found in a well selected

Stock of Dry Goods.

Feeling confident that our prices will insure a ready sale, our GOODS will be freely shown to all wishing to examine them.

GEORGE SAVIL & CO.,
Washington Street, Quincy.

A few rods east of the Stone Meeting House.

Quincy, October 5. tf

Executrix Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Executrix of the will of JOSIAH FRENCH, late of Braintree in the County of Norfolk, Yeoman deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

RACHEL FRENCH Executrix

Braintree March 15th 3w*

To Let.

PART of a House, on Centre Street, apply to

EBENEZER ADAMS,

Quincy March 15th 3w

Particular Notice

MRS. BROOKS contemplating a change of business will sell her stock of Millinery and Fancy Goods, at cost for two weeks, and great bargains may be anticipated.

All indebted are requested to settle, and all having demands to present them for payment before the 1st of April ensuing

ELIZA BROOKS

Quincy, March 15th. 2w

Select School.

A School for advanced Scholars will be opened in the Lyceum Hall in Braintree, on Monday, April the 7th to continue eighteen weeks, under the charge of Mr S. D Hayden

For particulars see circulars to be had of C Gill & Co Quincy Book Store.

Braintree, March, 12th tf

To Let.

THE Rooms formerly occupied as a paint Shop near the harness Manufactory of Theo Kelly

J. & H. H. FAHON

Quincy, March 15th. tf

Bees and Honey.

MRS. E HAYDEN, offers for sale a few Hives of Bees in prime order at a fair price

Also Honey in the comb

March, 1st tf

House to Let.

A GOOD Dwelling House consisting of four rooms on the lower floor and five chambers, with a good garden, very pleasantly situated on Sea Street in Quincy and well calculated to accommodate a gentleman doing business in Boston, and wishing to reside with his family in the country, being within three minutes walk of the Old Colony Railroad Depot.

Apply to JOSIAH BRIGHAM,

Quincy March 15th tf

To Let.

A Convenient Dwelling House, pleasantly situated on Common Street recently occupied by the Widow Dyer with about three acres of good Land, several fruit trees, an excellent well of water, and small barn. Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND

Quincy, Aug. 10. tf

WORLD'S FAIR ART UNION

UNDER the management of the NEW YORK ART UNION COMPANY, incorporated by the Legislature of New York;

OFFICE:—50 WALL STREET, NEW YORK,
[Over the American Exchange Bank.]

COMMITTEE:—

W. DEAN, Esq. | RICHARD MOTT, Esq.
W. C. HORNFRYER, Esq. | I. TOWNSEND, Esq.
T. WATTS, Esq. | W. S. McKENZIE, Esq.

I. TOWNSEND, Secretary.

Shares---$5 Each

FIFTY PRIZES!

Each Subscriber for every $5 subscribed will receive a magnificient engraving of the "World's Fair," and one chance in the distribution of Fifty Prizes.

Each prize is a free first cabin passage to London and back, and $100 in money.

A person drawing a prize who does not desire to go to London, or to go by the vessel provided by the Company, may receive an equivalent for the right of passage in money.

The drawing is fixed for the 25th of March, in the City of New York, and express notice of the place and hour of drawing will be sent to each Subscriber.

A remittance of $45 will secure 10 shares.

Clubs of less than 10 may deduct 5 per cent, and Clubs of 10 or more may deduct 10 per cent.

Remittances by mail will be at the Company's risk.

Funds current at place whence sent taken at par.

Drafts must be made payable to the Secretary.

The shares are selling rapidly, and as the number to be sold is limited by the charter of incorporation, applications for shares must be sent forthwith.

If a remittance arrive after the shares are all taken the money will be returned.

Shares and further particulars may be obtained at the Office of the New York Art Union Company, 50 Wall Street, New York.

By Order,

I. TOWNSEND, Secretary.

New York, March 8, 1851. 3w

QUINCY WASHING MIXUTRE.

THIS article has been tested by upwards of fifty families during the past week, and all have called it equal to anything of the kind which they have used; therefore, the subscriber will manufacture and sell it at 25 cents per gallon, or 9 cents per quart, full directions accompanying it.

By this improvement, it is expected the dry goods market will not be so firm, as clothes washed by this will wear longer and be whiter; consequently, not so often will new be bought.

ELISHA PACKARD.

tf

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK SS. Probate Office Feb 22d 1851

Upon the petition of John A. Green, and Harrison Keith, of Quincy, in said County, sureties upon the bond given by Mary Newcomb and Thompson Baxter, of said Quincy, to the Judge of Probate for said County, for the faithful performance of the duties of Executors of the will of late of said Quincy, deceased praying that they may be discharged from all further liability on said bond.

JOHN NEWCOMB,

Ordered—that the said petitioners notify the said Mary and Thompson, and all other persons interested, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same, at a Court of Probate, to be held at Roxbury, in said County, on the twenty second day of March, A. D. 1851, at two o'clock in the afternoon, by causing the said Mary and Thompson, to be served with this Order fourteen days before said Court, and by publishing this order three weeks successively in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot printed in said Quincy.

S. LELAND, Judge of Probate.

Quincy, March 8th 3w

Straw Carpeting.

4-4 5-4 and 6-4 Straw Carpeting, for sale by

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, March 8th. tf

Grass Seed.

JUST received, a new supply of Northern HERDS GRASS, RED-TOP and CLOVER SEED, which will be sold as cheap, for CASH, as can be bought in Boston or elsewhere.

D. BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, March 8th. tf

Furniture and Feathers.

for sale by

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, March 8th.

Granite Quarries For Sale.

IN QUINCY.

ABOUT Sixty Acres of Land belonging to the late Capt. JOSIAH BASS, with several valuable STONE LEDGES on the same. It will be devided into Lots to suit purchasers. For further information inquire of LEWIS BASS

Quincy Feb 22d tf

Linen Cambrick Handk's.

LADIES in want of Handks are invited to examine.

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, Feb. 14th, 1851. tf

NEW DE LAINES AND PRINTS, just received and for sale at

I. W. MUNROE,

Quincy, Feb. 14th, 1851, tf

To Let

ONE half of a House in Franklin St. now occupied by Lewis Curtis, and possession given the first of April. A Shoe Makers Shop can be had with it if required, enquire on the premises of

JABEZ BIGELOW.

Quincy Feb 22d 1851. tf

Dissolution of Copartnership.

THE COPARTNERSHIP heretofore existing between the subscribers, under the firm of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO., is by mutual consent this day dissolved.

All persons having demands against said firm, are requested to present the same, and all persons indebted are respectfully requested to make payment to either partner.

JOSIAH BRIGHAM.
ISRAEL W. MUNROE.

Quincy, January, 1st 1851.

ISRAEL W. MUNROE,

WILL continue the business at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO., and hopes by close personal attention to business to receive a continuance of the patronage so long and liberally bestowed on the late firm.

Quincy, Jan. 4th. 1851. 3w.

District Meeting.

To the Inhabitants of the Centre School District qualified to vote in Town affairs

You are hereby notified to meet at the Lyceum Room in said District on Wednesday the nineteenth day of March current at seven o'clock in the afternoon to act on the following articles to wit:—

Article 1st. To choose a Moderator,

Article 2d. To choose such District officers as the Law requires.

Article 3d. To choose any committee and hear and act on their report of any Committee.

Dated at Quincy this 12th of March 1851

WILLIAM S MORTON,
Prudential Committee

GUARDIAN'S SALE OF Real Estate in Quincy.

PURSUANT to a License from the Court of Probate, for the County of Norfolk, dated March 1st 1851, will be sold at Public Auction, on

MONDAY,

the twenty fourth day of March, instant, commencing at three o'clock, in the Afternoon, so much of the Real Estate of

HARVEY FIELD,

of said Quincy, adjudged a spendthrift, hereafter mentioned, as may be necessary to produce the sum of Five Thousand and twenty-seven dollars, for the payment of his just debts and charges of guardianship

Said Real Estate consists of about half an ACRE of LAND, with a DWELLING HOUSE thereon.

Also, Ten HOUSE LOTS, containing about one quarter of an Acre of Land each, situated on the Westerly side of the Neponset Turnpike, about one half a mile, northerly, from the Hancock House, in said Quincy, being part of the Estate purchased by said Field of Daniel Greenleaf, Esq.

Also, Two House Lots containing about one half an Acre of Land each, situated on Liberty Street, in said Quincy.

Also, Ten HOUSE LOTS, containing about one fourth of an Acre of Land, each, situated on Mount Pleasant, (so called,) near the house of Job Faxon, Esq., in said Quincy.

The Auction will commence with the Lot of Land with the DWELLING HOUSE thereon; first above mentioned on the premises; and the several Lots of Land next, above mentioned, will be sold afterwards, on the same day, on said Lots respectively, as soon as the same can be done properly and conveniently.

Also. At five o'clock, P. M., on the same day, will be sold at the Hancock House, in said Quincy, about seven ACRES of WOODLAND, situated in said Quincy, adjoining land of Mr. Josiah Hayden, being the same Woodland formerly owned by Joseph Field, deceased, father of said Harvey.

THOMAS ADAMS, Guardian.

Roxbury, March 5, 1851. 3w

NEW DY GOODS

Establishment!

REMOVAL.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

Have removed to their new and splendid

Wholesale and Retail Establishment

Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,

BOSTON,

Which is the largest sales-room in the United States, being 150 feet long and 60 feet wide;

And would invite the attention of Purchasers to their large Stock of Goods, unsurpassed in extent and variety by any Stock exhibited in New England, consisting of

SHAWLS

Of every description, in entire new designs, both long and square.

Plaid Shawls from the Bay State Mills,

Also from the best manufacturers in Scotland.

SILKS & SATINS

Of every quality, style and price, in new and beautiful colors and novel styles, for Cloaks and Dresses.

BLACK SILKS,

Of pure boiled Silk, of superior lustre and durability

Beautiful watered & plain Poplins.

DRESS AND CLOAK GOODS.

Our Stock is large and various, comprising all colors and Styles, from the lowest to the most costly.

Merinos, Thibets and Cashmeres, with Velvits' Silks and Cambrics to match, in all colors and shades.

HOUSE KEEPING GOODS.

Linens, Linen Sheetings, Pillow Case Linens Shirtings, Damasks, Damask Table Covers, Napkins Doylies, Sheetings, Flannels, Blankets, Quilts, Comforters and Prints.

BROADCLOTHS & CASIMERES.

EMBROIDERIES,

The largest assortment in the city

HOSIERY AND GLOVES

SHIRTS AND DRAWERS,

Ladies', Gents,' and Children's;

Handkerchiefs, Scarfs, &c., &c.

In fact, all articles usually found on different store may be found in this Establishment.

The Goods will be freely shown, and customers may rely upon receiving the most respectful attention and will find the goods at uniform low prices, as we import our own Goods, and have but one price.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

NEW STORE, Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET
BOSTON.

Oct 5. 3m

House and Land for Sale.

FOR Sale, a story and a half House in good condition—with Barn, sheds two wells of Water, and other out Buildings—and nine Acres of excellent Land; all under cultivation, with a thrifty orchard of Apple and Cherry Trees, thereon. Situated on Adams street, joining the Estate of William Newcomb, and about three quarters of a mile from the Depot. The said land, is well calculated for building lots, and will be sold at a bargain. For particulars, enquire on the premises of

MICHAEL GIRETY.

Quincy Jan. 11, 1851. 2m

Contractor's Notice.

PROPOSALS will be received until the 10th day of Feb. inst. for furnishing materials, and building a Barn, 120 by 50 feet, on the Mt. Wollaston Farm, in Quincy—to be completed by the 1st of July next. For Plan and Specifications, please call on the Subscriber, to whom proposals may be made.

LEWIS BASS.

Quincy, Feb, 1. 1851. tf

TREES! TREES!!

At the "UNION PRICES."

ELI HAYDEN has for sale at his Nursery on Franklin Street, in Quincy, from five to one thousand.

PEAR TREES!!

of the most improved varieties—large size, on Pear and Quince Stocks, which I have just imported from France.

CHERRY TREES

of choice selections, varying in price, from 20 cents to $1.

GRAPE VINES

in prime order, of the Isabella and Catawba kinds.

GOOSEBERRY & CURRANT BUSHES

together with a large lot of

ASPARAGUS ROOTS

Also, a lot of SEEDLING PEAR TREES, from one to three years old

Quincy, March 8, 1851. 4w*

At Private Sale.

ONE ELLIPTIC SPRING COVERED WAGON, was well built, and has not been used but little

Also, A four year old Cow, to calve about the 1st of April, ensuing.

Also, Four Cords of Cow manure.

Apply to

DANIEL DINEGAN.

Quincy, March 8, 1851 3w*

Quincy and Boston Express.

ALDRICH and BARRY, would respectfully announce to their friends and the publick in the town of Quincy that they will run two trips per day over the Old Colony Road.

All business and packages left in their charge promptly attended to and delivered.

Leaves Boston, 10 Court square at 8 o'clock A. M and 2 1-2 P. M.

Leaves Frenches Hotel Quincy, at 10 1-2 A. M 4 1-2 P. M.

ELI ALDRICH. ENOCH BARRY.

Quincy, March 8th 3 w

To Let.

A house pleasantly situated on high St., with a good Shoe Makers Shop attached, possession given the first of April

Apply to JOHN GLOVER, Jr.

Quincy, March, 8th 3w

Potash.

WARRENTED of the very best quality, and for sale by

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, March, tf

LADIES

Of Quincy and Vicinity.

F. A. JONES & CO.

No. 1

TREMONT ROW,

BOSTON,

Would solicit your attention to the Immense Stock of

NEW GOODS

which they now have, and are daily receiving by every foreign arrival, suitable to the

AUTUMN TRADE OF

1850.

Every variety of

SHAWLS,

from the most expensive Cashmere to the cheaper Wool Plaid.

SILKS

of every kind and quality, in Blacks and Colors, ALWAYS AT LOW PRICES.

FRENCH THIBETS

and

GERMAN MERINOS

Of all Grades

FALL AND WINTER

DRESS GOODS,

Our usual Assortment.

VELVETS,

All Widths and Colors.

FRENCH CLOAKS AND SACKS,

New Patterns and Trimmings.

Together with the Immense Variety of all other Styles Dry Goods Adapted to the Present Season.

Our long experience in the City Retail Trade enables us to know the wants of our customers, and give us unusual facilities for supplying them. During the whole of our business career, it has always been our intention to offer CHOICE GOODS at LOWER PRICES than any other house in the city. Whether we have done so, we leave the public to judge; but we have succeeded, by always keeping this point in view, in building up the largest in the City of Boston, as the crowds of purchasers who daily throng our Establishment, show.

EXCLUSIVE RETAIL TRADE

Our increased facilities will enable us during the present season, to offer still greater inducements, by the simple multiplication of business to such an extent that we can afford to sell each article at a small advance from the cost of importation.

Every variety of goods, we shall, as usual, be supplied with. In short, we mean to make our place of business a resort for the shrewdest and closest purchasers, as well as the most fanciful and particular, where any lady may be sure of finding all the styles Choice and Fashionable Goods, always at the very best market prices.

Thankful for past favors, we solicit a continuance that patronage which now enables us to refer you past experience to prove that at no other place can receive more fully the value of your money, than our house, and we feel warranted in asserting that o time have we been able to offer so many bars as the present season

TREMONT ROW.

Silk and Shawl Store.

F. A. JONES & CO.,

NO. ONE TREMONT ROW,

Nearly opposite head of Hanover Street,

BOSTON.

Boston, Sept. 7. 6mos

CHILDRENS Willow Wagons and Cradles for sale at

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy March 8th. tf

Notice.

THE public, are hereby informed that from, and after this date, that I have given my son, Lemuel his time, and that he hereafter will be free to act for himself.

ALDEN FRENCH,

March 1st 1851 3w

Babbitts Cytherean Cream of SOAP. expressly for the use of Ladies.

BABBITT'S PANARISTON SHAVING CREAM for Gentlemen, HONEY SOAP, MUSK SOAP, Low's genuine old brown Windsor and a great variety of other soap for sale by

MRS E HAYDEN.

Quincy March 1st tf

W. E. Learned,

HAVING taken the Store formerly occupied by E. C. Redfern, and recently by D. R. Adams, takes this method of informing his friends and the public that he has just received and is now opening a well selected stock of

WATCHES

JEWELRY

—AND—

Fancy Goods.

Suitable for Christmas and New Year's Presents

Persons wishing any thing in his line, are invited to call and examine before purchasing, elsewhere

☞ Particular attention given to the REPAIRING of Watches and Jewelry.

Hancock Street, Quincy, Dec. 21, 1850 tf

Family Bibles.

WE continue to sell BEAUTIFUL QUARTO BIBLES, of superior quality and binding, at unprecedentedly low prices. Many have availed themselves of the opportunity offered in a former notice, to purchase a good Bible cheap. We have more left, and invite all to call and examine before purchasing.

C. GILL & CO.

QUINCY BOOKSTORE

Quincy, Jan 4th., 1850 3w.

House for Sale

FOR Sale a new and convenient dwelling House; one and a half stories high; pleasantly situated on Common street; and an acre of land, with a young orchard of Apple, Cherry and Peach trees, thereon. Said property is pleasantly situated, and will be sold on reasonable terms, by application to

MICHAEL GIRETY, Adams street.

Quincy, Jan. 18, 1851. 2m

BROAD CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, TWEEDS and VESTINGS, for sale at a great discount from former prices.

Please call and examine before purchasing at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

MUFFS.

I. W. MUNROE has a few Muffs remaining, which will be sold very cheap.

Quincy, Feb, 14th 1851.

Crockery and Glass Ware.

GOOD assortment for sale at the very lowest prices, please examine prices and quality before purchasing.

I. W. MUNROE

Quincy, Feb, 14th, 1851.

Farm to Let

TO BE LET, on a Lease, for one or more Years; the FARM known as the

"MOUNT HOPE FARM:"

Formerly belonging to the late Col. Edward Glover; situated on the Squantum Road, in Quincy. Said Farm is located within about six miles of Boston, and has long been improved as a Milk Farm.

The buildings are in good repair and pleasantly located.

For further information please enquire of the Subscriber, Railway Village, Milton

EBENEZER POPE.

Milton, Feb 15, 1851. 6w*

House For Sale

A one story and a half House, convenient for two families, built in a substantial manner, with a SHED and about three fourths of an acre of LAND, situated on Granite Street, and about one fourth of a mile from the South Quincy Depot. Will be sold at a bargain, and payments made easy. For particulars, inquire on the premises of

ALPHEUS HUNT.

Quincy, Nov. 16 6m

Old Colony Railroad.

Depot Corner of South and Kneeland Streets

FALL Arrangement, commencing September 10, 1850. Trains leave Boston daily, except Sundays—

For Plymouth, 8 1-2 A. M.; 4 1-2, P. M.

For Bridgewater, 8 1-2 A. M.; 4 1-2 P. M.

For Quincy and Braintree, 7 3-4, 8 1-2 A. M.; 1 3-4, 3 4, 4 1-2, 9 1-4 P. M.

For Hingham and Cohasset, 8 1-2 A. M.; 3, 6 P. M.

For Milton, U. M., 9 3-4 A. M., 1, 2 3-4, 5 1-2, P. M.

Plymouth for Boston, 7 1-4 A. M.; 3 1-4 P. M.

Bridgewater for Boston and Plymouth, 7 1-2 A. M.; 3 1-2 P. M.

Cohasset for Boston, 6 3-4, 8, A. M.; 4 P. M.

Milton U. M. for Boston, 7, 10 1-2 A. M.; 1 3-4 4 3-4 P. M.

Braintree for Boston, 7 18, 8 1-2, 8 40, 11 04, A. M. 2 48, 4—2, 5 13, P. M.

☞ The 5 P. M. Train from Boston for Plymouth will not stop short of South Braintree.

JOS. H. MOORE, Sup't.

Boston, July 25. tf

Trains leave Quincy for Boston as follows:—

7 24, 8 38, 8 47, 11 10, A. M.; 2 54, 4 39 5 16 IV

For Sale.

THE late residence of the REV. WM. ALLEN, near the Episcopal Church in Quincy. Apply to THOMAS B. HAWKES, No. 10 Exchange Street, Boston

West Woodstock, Conn. Sept. 7th, 1850. 3m

For Sale, or To Let.

A new and convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated, on Common Street, with a barn and about one acre of Land with Fruit Trees thereon, to be leased or sold. Apply to

SAMUEL COPELAND.

Quincy, Nov 9th. tf

Bounty Lands.

CLAIMS for BOUNTY LANDS by Soldiers in the War of 1812—or any Indian War since 1790; their Widows and Minor children, attended to, and Land Warrants obtained, by

FISHER A. KINGSBURY, Weymouth, Mass.

Weymouth, Feb. 1, 1851. 6m

Chowder!!!

THE Subscriber takes this method to inform the Citizens of Quincy that he has taken the

"FRANKLIN STREET SALOON."

Where may always be found such articles as OYSTERS, PIGS FEET, LAMBS TONGUES, PICKLED CLAMS, and other Refreshments.

Also, CONFECTIONARY, CIGARS, etc.,

CHOWDER, twice a week Wednesday, and Saturday. Open day and Evening

CHARLES C. BRACKETT,

Quincy, Feb 8th tf

Boarders Wanted.

8 or 10 BOARDERS Mechanics prefered wanted by the subscriber at his residence in COTTAGE AVENUE

WILLIAM F DYER

Quincy, Feb 8th tf

VALENTINES!

VALENTINES ENVELOPES, NOTE PAPER, etc., at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Also, a BOX for the delivery of Valentines to any part of the town

Quincy, Feb 8th 2w

JUST received, a good assortment of GENTLEMENS', LADIES and MISSES

INDIA RUBBER SHOES

of the best quality, for sale cheap, by

I. W. MUNROE

Quincy, Jan. 11th, 1851. tf

NEW ENGLAND PROTECTIVE

Union, District No. 179.

JUST opened on Washington Street, a few doors below the Stone Temple, in the Store recently occupied by J. Williams.

The Company respectfully solicit the attention of the public to their mode of Trade, and examine for themselves the quality of their Goods, and their Prices, which will be always exhibited upon a bulletin board.

Their Stock of Goods consists of all kinds of Groceries, Country Produce, FLOUR, CROCKERY WARE, &c.

All of Superior quality, and sold at the lowest possible advance from cost.

No Damaged, Mixed, or inferior goods will be offered for sale.

Quincy, Oct 5. tf

ALL READY

AND NOW OPENING

NEW STYLE OF FALL AND WINTER TRADE,

JUST RECEIVED AT THE

Town Hall Cloth and Clothing Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO.,

WOULD Respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made great additions to their present expensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would particularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect THEIR STOCK before buying elsewhere, feeling confident we can sell BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.

N. B.—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN, ENGLISH and FRENCH and AMERICAN GOODS. Some of the RICHEST VEST PATTERNS, and a HOST OF PANTALOONERY!

BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVEY DESCIPTION ON HAND,

Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.

HATS CAPS &C.

P. S.—RUSSELL & CO., having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for public and private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of every article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.

——NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.——

Quincy, March 23.

POETRY.

THE END.

A candle in its socket dying,
Flickering, fading, brightening, dying;
The Autumn leaf fast rustling by,
A strain of music's latest sigh,
The summer wind's last falling breath—
A mournful tone which tells of death;
A fire whose embers scarce are burning,—
A spirit to it's God returning;
A sun — and ghastly coloring its place,
A system vanishing in space,—
Thus all things end—and save God

Thus all things end! shall we so?
Can aught have end that lives below?
Is nothingness the end of life?
And void the crowning point of life?
Annihilation! is there aught
Save madness, in the monstrous thought?
We bodily say a thing is ending,—
We mean some change is o'er it pending.
For matter changed, and changed must be Forever, like some changing sea:
Thus all things change save God

The year is ending quickly flying,
Yet lingering still among us, dying;—
With fleeting footsteps, falling fast,
A few more days and then the last.
His books are closed, each broken vow,
Recorded there against us now.
In fearful sameness there must stay,
Each thought, each scene now past away.
Aye, past, and ended though they be,
The end of all things we shall see,
But that end is not yet.

Where goes the candle when it dies?
The leaf, the music, Summer's sighs?
A finished thought, a word, a death,
Where is the home of parted breath?
Where goes a year, an age, nay, time?
What is the end, the great sublime?
All, all but centre round their being,
The Great, Omnipotent, All seeing!
Unbending and unchanging forever;
In vain the end from Him we sever;
All ends, are Infinite God.

From the Traveller.

THE AGE OF PROGRESS.

Surely this present age doth seem,
The Age of progress and of Steam,
Of Telegraphs and Railroad trains,
Of ponderings minds and puzzling brains,
Of active hands and steady arms,
Of fearless hearts 'mid all alarms,
Of enterprise, who'e'r the world,
Hath wide her bonnet fair unfurled,
Of Science too, whose hundred eyes,
Seek the best path to mount the skies,
Finds 11 nucts new and Gemets bright,
Questions each little ray of light,
Whence it hath come? where hath it been?
What fields explored? what sights 'that seen,
Invention too with ceaseless plod,
O'er the wide world her way hath trod;
World's and new Fresh water Gos,
In omne genus—all the class;
Utility is now the word,
Nor hard nor poor now is heard;
Well, be it so, since so it must,
Roll onward in your clouds of dust,
But as ye roll—beware—beware—
Push not your progress on to far,—
Lest future ades g zing here,
With pity view your vain career.

ANECDOTES

A man residing in a New England town, at some distance from a near relative, received a message one cold evening in November, to hasten to his residence, as he was in a dying state. When he arrived he was told that his reason had entirely left him. The sick man presently turned his head saying in a faint voice,

'Who's that?'

He was informed that it was his relative who had been sent for.

'Oh! oh!' said he, yes, oh, yes! He must be cold. Make him a good warm toddy—yes, a toddy, hot toddy!'

I guess he ain't crazy,' said his visitors he talks very rational.

'Who made you?' inquired a lady teacher, of a great bobbily boy, who had lately joined her class.

'I'd o' know!' said he.

'Not know? You ought to, be ashamed of yourself. A boy fourteen years old! Why there's little Dicky Felton—he's only three—he can tell, I dare say. Come here, Dicky—who made you?'

'Dod,' lisped the infant progedy.

'There!' said the teacher triumphantly 'I knew he'd remember.'

'Well, he oughter!' said the stupid; 'tain't but a little while ago since he was made.'

A Yankee and a southerner were playing poker on a steamboat. 'I haven't seen as see for some time,' remarked the Southerner. Well I guess you hain't,' said the Yankee,' but I can tell you where they are. One of them is in your shirt sleeve there, and the other three are in the top of my butes.'

A reverend gentlemen while visiting a parishioner, had occasion, in the conversation, to refer to the Bible, and on asking for the article the master ran to bring it, and came back with two leaves of the book in his hands. 'I declare,' says he 'this is all we've got in the house: I'd no idea we were so near out?'

'Prisoner, stand up. Are you guilty, or not guilty?'

'Faith do you think I shall do the work of the Jury for 'em, when they are paid for that same. Let 'em find it out.'

A York comedian was asked how he came to turn his coat twice. He replied, that one good turn deserved another.

Mrs. Hayden.

GRATEFUL for the patronage she has received for more the twenty years, offers to her friends and the public an ENLARGED STOCK of the best

FAMILY MEDICINES,

Selected and Prepared with care

—ALSO—

Various articles for the use of the sick, among which are, SPOUT DRINKING CUPS; Leech Glasses; Nursing Tubes, of Porcelain, ivory and silver, with and without bottles; India Rubber Breast Pumps, glass Pipes and Shields, Pratt's Patent Nursing Shields; India Rubber and Box Wood do; Bed Pans; Metal and Glass Syringes; Crain's, Ingall's and Chapin's Supporters; Hose Hair Mittens; English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow; Spread Plasters, on kid, cloth and paper; Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes; Dtistering Paper and Tissue Dressing; European Leeches, &c., &c.

Physicians' Prescriptions,

Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH.

She has also on hand and is constantly receiving the New and Regular Medicines of the day.

Washington St., rear of Stone Temple,

Quincy, Oct. 20. tf

Cider Vinegar.

JUST received, and for sale by the subscribers twenty barrels extra Cider vinegar.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy Aug 23, 1850 tf

Apples.

BALDWINS AND RUSSETTS, of the first quality, for sale by H. A. RANSOM,

Quincy, Oct 12, 1850. tf

Dyer's Washing Fluid.

A first rate article for washing clothes. For sale by H. A. RANSOM & Co.

Quincy, Sept 14 tf

Bay State Long Shawls.

AN Assortment just received of the different sizes Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the lowest prices, by GEO. SAVIL and Co., Washington Street, Quincy

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf.

Super Cashmere Scarfs.

A GOOD Assortment of Colors, and Sizes, just received and for sale very low, at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

Quincy, Jan 18, 1851. tf.

W. Porter.

DEALER IN

Pine, Spruce and Hemlock

LUMBER,

CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,

LATHS, PICKETS,

CEDAR POSTS, &c.,

At his new Wharf near Brackett's.

Quincy, July 31 tf

REMNANT DE LAINES, from 2 to 6 yds., for sale low, at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851, tf

Magazines.

LADY'S BOOK, GRAHAM'S, SARTAN'S, PETERSON'S HARPER'S

And other Magazines:

LIVING AGE, BLACKWOOD, NORTH AMERICAN,

And other Reviews:

CHRISTIAN EXAMINER, MONTHLY RELIGIOUS MAGAZINE, UNIVERSALIST QUARTERLY, MERRY'S MUSEUM: GOLDEN AGE,

And many others:

For which Subscriptions will always be received and the Numbers promptly furnished—Or:

Single copies sold at the lowest prices, at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Quincy, Feb 15, 1851. 4w

Notice.

THE Subscriber returns his thanks to his friends and the public generally who have favored him with their custom,—and would say, to those who at purchasing goods, that he intends keeping a good Assortment of

WEST IND! GOODS NO GROCERIES:

OF ALL KINDS—Also,

FLE, PORK, BACON, LARD, & POTATOES

—AND—

FLOUR:

Of various kinds—by the Barrel or Bag—as low as can be bought for Cash or Credit.

N. B. And delivered as usual

GEORGE H. LOCKE.

Quincy, Feb. 15, 1851.

Boot Makers's Shop to Let

ON Washington street; a few rods from the Old Colony Depot. The Shop is pleasantly situated and well lighted! It is suitable for carrying on the business, and will comfortably seat eight or ten persons. It will be let to one person, or by the single seat.

N. B. A limited number can be accommodated with board.

For information enquire on the premises of

G. W. KENISON.

Quincy, Feb 15, 1851.

Notice.

ALL Persons accounts remaining unsettled to Jan 1st., 1851, are requested to call and settle, on, or before the 1st. of March next; or they will be left in the hands of an attorney for collection.

J. RUSSELL.

Quincy, Feb 15, 1851.

Israel W. Munroe.

OFFERS for sale at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO., a good assortment of

ENGLISH and WEST INDIA GOODS, CROCKERY, GLASS and HARD WARE, SHOES, HATS and CAPS, PAPER HANGINGS.

And almost every article kept in a variety store, at the lowest prices for cash or approved credit.

Quincy, Jan 14, 1851. tf

BACKGAMMON BOARDS.

VARIOUS Sizes: good finish; selling low at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE

Quincy, Dec. 14, 1850 3w

SKATES.

40 Pairs of extra SKATES For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Dec 7, 1850. tf

New Goods.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.,

HAVE recently made large additions to their Stock of Goods consisting in part as follows: Mouslin DeLaine, a good assortment, very low; Prints and Ginghams in great variety; Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors Wool Yarn, of all colors;

A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and 12 1/2 cts per yard;

Together, with a GREAT VARIETY of other Goods, all of which will be sold at the

VERY LOWEST PRICES.

Quincy, August 31 tf

Brown's

ALMANAC, Pocket Memorandum and Account Book, for 1851, for sale at the

QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Quincy, Nov, 25, 1851. tf

Board in Quincy.

A Gentleman and his wife, or two single gentlemen, can have pleasant rooms and board, at the house of Misses J. B. & M. TOWNSEND, on President's Hill, nearly opposite the depot.

Quincy, Nov. 16. 3m.

Hats and Caps.

2 CASES, Fall styles, just received, and for sale cheap for cash, by

A. B. PACKARD.

Quincy, Dec. 6. 6w

Apples and Potatoes.

50 Bbls RUSSET and GREENING APPLES 200 bushels POTATOES of various kinds. For sale by J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, Dec. 7, 1850 tf

HAT AND CAP STORE

A. B. PACKARD has remodled his Store, making the sales room twice as large as formerly, where he intends keeping a large stock of

HATS AND CAPS,

suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle-aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.

Also,

A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring styles.

Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Ginghams, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c.

With that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers' use

Quincy, April 13. tf

Beef and Pork.

A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere

Also—Fresh BEEF and PORK, constantly on hand, and delivered to any part of the town free, expense.

H. A. RANSOM & CO.

m16 tf.

Salt Pork and Beef.

A FIRST rate article of PORK and BEEF, packed by the subscribers and for sale by the barrel or in smaller quantities to suit purchasers, cheap for CASH

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy March 16th. tf

GROCKERY WARE

A Splendid Assortment of GROCKERY WARE just received and for sale at the Union Store, on Washington Street, Quincy.

Blue Stone Chine Tea Setts	-	1 75
Mulberry " " "	-	1.75
Light Blue " " "	-	1.37
White " " "	-	1.37

—AND—

A Good Assortment of GLASS & BRITANIA OIL & FLUID LAMPS

Quincy, Dec 7 1850 tf.

Wool Frocking.

200 TO 300 yds of silk wool FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.

Also—FROCKS ready made.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co

Quincy, Sept. 29. tf

Prepartion for the Hair.

THE celebrated "Der Schon Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Gloss; Camm's Spanish Lustral, or medicated hair preservative; Tompkins' Chlorion Lustrale; Batchelor's instantaneous hair dye; Jules Haules vegetable hair dye. For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept 21. tf

French Calf Boots.

MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a FIRST RATE FIT, WARRANTED, by W. S. UNDERWOOD,

Hancock St., Quincy,

Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.

Quincy, May 5. tf.

Velvet Trimmings.

JUST Received, an assortment of Velvet Trimmings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by,

GEO. SAVIL & Co., Washington St.

Quincy, Sept 21. tf

Paper Hangings.

3 TO 400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 24th. tf

Pies, Puddings, Custards, &c.

MRS E HAYDEN has on hand, a variety of articles for flavoring, viz:—

Peach water; Rose water; etc., etc. Essence of Rose, Cinnamon, Lemon, etc

Also—Sweet Marjorams, Sage, Summer Savory, Thyme, &c.

Quincy, Nov. 16. tf.

Assignee's Notice.

THE adjourned Fourth Meeting of the creditors of Thomas Jordan of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Insolvent Debtor, will be held at the office of the Commissioner of Insolvency in Roxbury, on the thirteenth day of March inst., at ten o'clock A. M. At which meeting creditors may be present and prove their claims.

ELIJAH F. HALL, Assignee,

Weymouth, March 8th tf

Watches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at the Store of GEORGE B FOSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum,) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortment of

Gold and Silver

WATCH

Silver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Rich

HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

His attention will be given personally, at all times to the REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF WATCHES, which his long experience in that department with Mr. JEFFREY R. BRACKETT, entitles him to the confidence of his friends and customers.

☞ His friends and acquaintance when in Boston are invited to call.

THOMAS S. JOHNSON.

Boston, Feb. 23. 1sif

Crockery and Glass Ware.

JUST added to our previous assortment, new and choice patterns of

Tea and Dining Setts, Washbowls, and Ewers.

H. A RANSOM & Co.

Quincy Sept. 1. tf

Flannels.

WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels Twilled and plain, an assortment just received and for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washington Street Quincy.

Quincy, Sept 21 tf

Bounty Land.

FOR SOLDIERS OF THE WAR OF 1812—and of any Indian War since 1790, their widows and minor children, obtained. All claims, business, and suits, under any of the PENSION or PATENT LAWS of the United States,—also PROBATE and other business connected with the settlement of Estates, of deceased persons attended to by

LEEN. SMITH, JR.

Boston, Dec. 28, 1850 3m

Onions.

50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, for sale by

H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Oct 12th, 1850. tf

Particular Notice

THE Subscribers respectfully inform their customers and the public, that on and after the First of OCTOBER, next, all goods will be sold at reduced prices for cash only.

All those who wish to buy cheap, are invited to call, as the prices cannot fail to suit them.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Sept 7th. tf

Salt Pork.

A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy March 9th, tf.

PORK & BEEF.

SALT-PETRED BEEF, and Bacon, of the first quality, will be kept constantly on hand during the season, and sold as cheap as can be bought at

Any Store in Town for Cash.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quincy, March 24. tf.

Cider Vinegar.

FIRST rate article of good Cider Vinegar. Just received and for sale by

DANIEL BAXTER & CO

Quincy, August 17. tf

Judd's Medicated Liquid Cuticle

FOR closing wounds without sewing; forming a smooth coating over them, impervious to air and water, much superior in its healing properties to any other plaster, and so elastic as not to impede the motion of a joint; an excellent remedy also, for Burns, Scalds, or any fresh wounds. Price—25 cents per bottle.

Sold by Mrs E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, August 31. tf

Cholera, Dysentery, &c.

MRS. E. HAYDEN offers for sale various articles for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, &c.

Among which are Whiteman's Vegetable Syrup; Java Balsam, (a celebrated East Indian remedy!) Billings's Summer Cordial; Arnold's Balsam: Holden's Dysentery Cordial; Jayne's Carminative Balsam; Anti Cholera Drops: Whitwell's Sulphur and Charcoal Pills. And a variety of other articles, for the same diseases.

Quincy, July 20. tf

Let the Public Call.

THE subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, stock of the best material only used, and the workmanship will vie with any other establishment

By attention to business and promptness to orders a liberal share of support is solicited.

RALPH LOWE.

Quincy April 18th.

CASH

PAID FOR

OLD IRON, COPPER, BRASS,

PEWTR, L. AD, GLASS,

Rubbers and Ink Bottles, Junk,

GOBBAGE, PAPER STOCK &c.

—BY—

A. B. PACKARD.

Pure Cider Vinegar.

BY the gallon or barrel, just received, and for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

1851.

THOMAS' Old Farmers' Almanac, for 1851, for sale wholesale and retail, at the

QUINCY BOOK STORE.

Quincy Nov. 2d. 1850. 3w

Periodical Agency.

C. GILL & Co are Agents for all the Quarterlys, Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free from any expense for Postage or transportation. All who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time for which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices. tf. Quincy, Dec. 22.

BOSTON MUSEUM,

Tremont Street, ... Boston.

ALWAYS OPEN DAY AND EVENING.

THIS MUSEUM is the largest, most valuable, and best arranged in the United States. It comprises no less than

SEVEN DIFFERENT MUSEUMS,

to which has been added the present year, besides the constant daily accumulation of articles, One Half of the celebrated

PEALE'S PHILADELPHIA MUSEUM,

swelling the already immense collection to upwards of

HALF A MILLION ARTICLES,

the greatest amount of objects of interest to be found together, at any one place in America; and an entirely

NEW HALL OF WAX STATUARY,

One Hundred Feet in length, filled to its utmost capacity with WAX FIGURES of the size of life, singly and in groups, to the number of upwards of TWO HUNDRED, which have been in preparation for the last two years by a corps of the most distinguished artists to be found in either the old country or the new, and are so NATURAL and LIFELIKE as to

Mock Reality,

and lead the beholder to doubt whether the figures do not actually live and breathe. Among the most prominent will be found the celebrated Tableaux of

CHRIST'S LAST SUPPER

with his Twelve Disciples; representing the consternation and dismay of the chosen ones at the moment when he told them that ONE OF THEM SHOULD BETRAY HIM.

THE PRODIGAL SON,

returned home clothed in rags, and received by his forgiving father. The imposing spectacle of

THE CRUCIFIXION,

composed of more than forty figures; a correct representation of that event, according to the best received authorities.

Christ Disputing with the Doctors;

a characteristic group of seven figures.

THE GAME OF LIFE,

in which is shown the Christian and Satan contending for the mastery.

THE SIAMESE TWINS,

and their beautiful American wives.

Representation by nine figures, of the

MASSACRE BY PIRATES

of the passengers of a merchantman in the India Seas. After a description by one of the survivors.

HORRORS OF SLAVERY,

as exemplified by seven figures, being actual likenesses of a slave-owner, a slave-driver, and their victims.

MURDER OF MISS McCREA,

by the Indians during the Revolutionary war, a thrilling group, showing the characteristics of the Red Men.

INTEMPERANCE,

and its certain evils; illustrated in three groups, the last a correct picture of a

Wife Murdered by her Husband.

Also, groups of a School,—a Milliner's Shop,—a Shoemaker's Shop,—a Barber's Shop,—a Blacksmith's Shop, &c., as well as a variety of single figures of distinguished men, &c., with upwards of

One Hundred of Cabinet Size,

rendering it the largest collection of Wax Figures in America. The entire of the above, and the immense collection of

BIRDS, BEASTS, FISH, INSECTS & REPTILES,

obtained from all parts of the world, together with innumerable varieties of Natural and Artificial Curiosities;

Paintings, Engravings and Statuary,

OIL PORTRAITS

of the GREAT and GOOD of all nations.—Naval and Military Heroes, Patriots, Statesmen, and Divines;—Rare Coins and Medals;—Shells, Corals, and Fossils;

EGYPTIAN MUMMIES,

and ancient Sarcophagi, 3000 Years old; and an entire

Family of Peruvian Mummies:

the DUCK-BILLED PLATYPUS, the connecting link between the BIRD and BEAST, being evidently half each;—the curious half-fish, half-human

FEJEE MERMAID,

which was exhibited in most of the principal cities of America in the years 1845, '46, and '47, to the wonder and astonishment of thousands of naturalists and other scientific persons who previous doubts of the existence of such an astounding thing were entirely removed;

Elephants and Ourang-Outangs

ANIMALS and BIRDS of every nation; Snakes, Seals and a variety of FISHES, including the curious

SAW AND SWORD FISH,

all in lifelike preservation; the whole forming a School of attraction, blended with Amusement, that for extent and variety is unequalled in the known world;—the whole to be seen for a small admission fee of

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

In Addition to which, and

WITHOUT EXTRA CHARGE,

visitors are admitted to the gorgeous Exhibition Hall, which has been newly decorated at an expense of nearly five thousand dollars, where they can witness the magnificent

THEATRICAL ENTERTAINMENTS,

given EVERY EVENING, and WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, by a Company of Comedians and Orchestra of Musicians, admitted to be SUPERIOR to any ever before collected in this country, with the aid of

Stage and Scenic Arrangements,

the most grand and superb ever seen in either Europe or America, thus warranting the universal admission that the Boston Museum, besides being the most comfortable and greatest, is also the

Cheapest Place of Amusement

IN THE WORLD! A single visit will prove the truth of the assertion, as the admission is only

☞ 25 Cents to the Whole!!!

Boston, Sept. 14th 1850. tf.

PUBLISHED

NUMBER 12.

JOHN A. GR

EDITOR AND PROPRIET

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance; TWO DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid within six months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed to the expiration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement received for a less period than six months, previous to the payment of all arrearages, at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers order their papers discontinued, they will be charged to that effect at the time their subscription expires, or the subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of his paper so long as it is sent to his name. Post Office, Tavern, or any other place to which it has may have ordered it, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, or they will be continued until forbid, and charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers, who advertise their own immediate business; and all advertisements for the benefit of other persons, as agents, or for advertisements, and advertisements and communications sent in by them, must be paid for at the time of insertion.

Business letters and communications to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.

☞ Single copies of this paper, FIVE CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive and receipt for subscriptions, and are requested to procure subscribers for the Patriot:

JOSIAH BABCOCK, Quincy
GEORGE H. LOCKE, " "
ORIN P. BACON, Dorchester
FISHER A. KINGSBURY, Weymouth
JOSEPH CLEVERLY, Abington
SAMUEL A. TURNER, South Scituate
N. B. OSBORNE, Salem
FREEMAN HUNT, New York

MISCELLANY.

THE TIN PEDLA

BY GEORGE CHANNING HI

I got unconsciously to dozing, o afternoon, in my capacious old arm already had begun to dream. I was threshold of that state where I co hear the low hum of the Hybleau smack my lips for a taste of their h

All at once their broke a coarse c ears, breaking the silence, and ever in fact all to pieces; it was:

'Hallo. Don't ye want tew buy day?'

I quickly let down my feet from tion to which they had been perch menced rubbing my eyes; for, as unable to comprehend the chara cause of the disturbance.

'What do you want?' at leng tartly inquired of the intruder.

'Don't you want tew trade a litt

'Trade—no!' said I, 'what do I want to buy?'

'Din't know but what yeou h wonst in a while,' said the stranger of keen sarcasm, that at once co humor.

The stranger had a good, open and I reproached myself at once fo hastily shown a willingness to set h merely asked, in a tone much cha

'What have you got to sell?'

'O, as far as that, all sorts an' siz Tin ware mostly; but when I ped little of all the other sorts o'thi buttons, tape, needles,—warranted the eye, and assorted,—pins, by the per or enny way, jest as enny body thimbles and thread, crockery, skill traps and gingerbread, in cookies papers for billets and fosls' cap; t trunks cookee-cutters and mob-hand watches—pure silver and no mista stockings, and fish-hooks; caps fo children, and boys—'

'Oh, no—no!' I exclaimed, utterl ded at his interminable rigmarole. think I'll trade to day—you've got to an assortment.'

'But I don't cal'late yeou'll take on't; not unless yeou're going to hotel some'ere.'

'Then that's it,' said I.

'Jest so ex-actly,' said he, looking as he ever did in his life. 'Cum, wo something?.

'You've travelled some?' I inquir ing not to heed his invitation to trad

'I shouldn't git along very fast i he profoundly replied.

'How far over the country have y

'Wall, I guess about tew the end points e' the compasses.'

'Been South?' I asked.

'Some little distance,' said he.

'Well,' said I, 'if you warrant m of your experience in the course of tensive travels, I'll agree to try, as can, to trade with you.'

'No objection to telling you a le he, 'and never ask no man to trade again his will.'

'Very well, then, tell us a story.'

'Wonst I found myself clear up i and it like to had been wonst too o I'll tell ye: had a clever lot o' the kitchens on hand, and they was a lo —did'nt sell—drug in the market; how ef I could on'y get 'em put off, few go it.

'Wall, the folks out thare in Geor know no more what they was for— kitchens—then a child jest born, not I know'd that very important fact, arter I'd laid all one night, a trying

BOSTON MUSEUM,
Tremont Street,..... Boston.

ALWAYS OPEN DAY AND EVENING.

THIS MUSEUM is the largest, most valuable, and best arranged in the United States. It comprises no less than

SEVEN DIFFERENT MUSEUMS,

which has been added the present year, besides the constant daily accumulation of articles, One Half of the celebrated

PEALE'S PHILADELPHIA MUSEUM,

swelling the already immense collection to upwards of

HALF A MILLION ARTICLES;

the greatest amount of objects of interest to be found together, in any one place in America; and an entirely

NEW HALL OF WAX STATUARY,

now Hundred Feet in length, filled to its utmost capacity with WAX FIGURES of the size of life, single and in groups, to the number of upwards of TWO HUNDRED, which have been in preparation for the last two years by a corps of the most distinguished artists to be found in either the old country or the new, and are as NATURAL and LIFELIKE as could lead the beholder to doubt whether the figures do not actually live and breathe. Among the most prominent will be found the celebrated Tableaux of

Mock Reality.

CHRIST'S LAST SUPPER

with his Twelve Disciples; representing the consternation and agony of the chosen ones at the moment when he told them that ONE OF THEM SHOULD BETRAY HIM.

THE PRODIGAL SON,

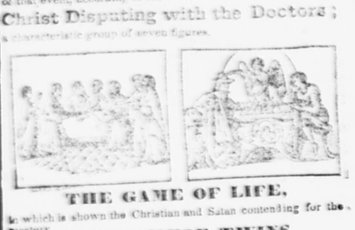
returned home clothed in rags, and received by his forgiving father. The imposing spectacle of

THE CRUCIFIXION,

composed of more than forty figures; a correct representation of that event, according to the best received authorities.

Christ Disputing with the Doctors;

a characteristic group of seven figures.



THE GAME OF LIFE,

in which is shown the Christian and Satan contending for the mastery.

THE SIAMESE TWINS,

and their beautiful American wives.
Representation by moving figures of the

MASSACRE BY PIRATES

of the passengers of a merchantman in the India Seas. After a description by one of the survivors.

HORRORS OF SLAVERY,

as exemplified by seven figures, being actual likenesses of a slave-owner, a slave-driver, and their victims.

MURDER OF MISS McCREA,

by the Indians during the Revolutionary war, a thrilling group, showing the characteristics of the Red Men.

INTEMPERANCE,

and its certain evils; illustrated in three groups, the last a correct picture of a

Wife Murdered by her Husband.

Also, groups of a School, a Mariner's Shop,—a Shoemaker's Shop,—a Barber's Shop,—a Blacksmith's Shop, &c., as well as a variety of single figures of distinguished men, &c., with upwards of

One Hundred of Cabinet Size,

rendering it the largest collection of Wax Figures in America. The entire of the above, and the immense addition of

BIRDS, BEASTS, FISH, INSECTS & REPTILES,

obtained from all parts of the world, together with innumerable curosities of Natural and Artificial Curiosities;

Paintings, Engravings and Statuary,

OIL PORTRAITS

of the GREAT and GOOD of all nations,—Naval and Military Heroes, Patriots, Statesmen, and Divines,—Rare Coins and Medals,—Shells, Corals, and Fossils;

EGYPTIAN MUMMIES,

and ancient Sarcophagi, 3000 Years old; and an entire

Family of Peruvian Mummies;

the DUCK-BILLED PLATYPUS, the connecting link between the BIRD and BEAST, being evidently half each;—the curious half-fish, half-human

FEJEE MERMAID,

which was exhibited in most of the principal cities of America, in the years 1842, '43, and '44, to the wonder and astonishment of thousands of naturalists and others, who pronounced it the most curious production of nature or of such an astonishing combination were entirely removed;

Elephants and Ourang-Outangs;

ANIMALS and BIRDS of every nation; Sharks, Seals, and a variety of FISHES, including the

SAW AND SWORD FISH,

all in life-like preservation; the whole forming a School of Instruction, replete with Amusement, that for extent and interest, is unequalled in the known world; the whole to be seen for the small admission fee of

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

In Addition to which, and

WITHOUT EXTRA CHARGE,

visitors are admitted to the gorgeous Exhibition Hall, which has been newly decorated at an expense of nearly five thousand dollars, where they can witness the magnificent

THEATRICAL ENTERTAINMENTS,

given EVERY EVENING, and WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, by a Company of Comedians and an Orchestra of Musicians, admitted to be SUPERIOR to any ever before collected in this country, with the aid of

Stage and Scenic Arrangements,

the most grand and superb ever seen in either Europe or America; thus warranting the universal admission that the Boston Museum, besides being the most comfortable and genteel, is also the

Cheapest Place of Amusement

IN THE WORLD! A single visit will prove the truth of this assertion, as the admission is only

☞ 25 Cents to the Whole!!!

Boston, Sept. 14th 1850. tf.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.....OVER MESSRS. JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO'S STORE.....HANCOCK STREET.

NUMBER 12. QUINCY (MASS.) SATURDAY, MARCH 22, 1851. VOLUME 15.

JOHN A. GREEN,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance—Two DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid till the end of six months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till the expiration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will be stopped previous to the payment of all arrearages unless at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers wish their papers discontinued, they will give notice to that effect at the time their subscription expires. Every subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of his paper so long as it is sent to his address at the Post Office, Tavern, or any other place wheresoever he may have ordered it, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously, inserted at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, otherwise they will be continued until ordered out and charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business; and all advertisements for the benefit of other persons, as well as all legal advertisements, and advertisements of auction sales, sent in by them, must be paid for at the usual rates.

Business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.

☞ Single copies of the paper, FIVE CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscriptions:

JOSIAH BABCOCK,	Quincy Railway.
GEORGE H. LOCKE,	" Stone Quarries.
ORIN P. BACON,	Dorchester.
FISHER A. KINGSBURY,	Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVERLY,	Abington.
SAMUEL A. TURNER,	South Scituate.
N. B. OSBORNE,	Salem
FREEMAN HUNT,	New York City.

MISCELLANY

THE TIN PEDLAR.

BY GEORGE CHANNING HILL.

I got unconsciously to dozing, one summer's afternoon, in my capacious old arm-chair, and already had begun to dream. I was just on the threshold of that state where I could begin to hear the low hum of the Hybleau bees, and to smack my lips for a taste of their honey.

All at once their broke a coarse call upon my ears, breaking the silence, and everything else, in fact all to pieces; it was:

'Hallo. Don't ye want tew buy nothin' to day?'

I quickly let down my feet from the elevation to which they had been perched, and commenced rubbing my eyes; for, as yet I was unable to comprehend the character or the cause of the disturbance.

'What do you want?' at length I rather tartly inquired of the intruder.

'Don't you want tew trade a little tew day?'

'Trade—no!' said I, 'what do you suppose I want to buy?'

'Din't know but what yeou bort things, wonst in a while,' said the stranger, with a look of keen sarcasm, that at once corrected my humor.

The stranger had a good, open countenance, and I reproached myself at once for having so hastily shown a willingness to set him off, so I merely asked, in a tone much changed:

'What have you got to sell?'

'O, as far as that, all sorts an' sizes o'things. Tin ware mostly; but when I peddle round a little of all the other sorts o'things, such as buttons, tape, needles,—warranted not to cut the eye, and assorted,—pins, by the row or paper or enny way, jest as enny body'll hev em,' thimbles and thread, crockery, skillets, mouse-traps and gingerbread, in cookies or keerds; papers for billets and fools' cap; tin kitchens, trunks cookee-cutters and mob-handles; silver watches—pure silver and no mistake; shoes, stockings, and fish-hooks; caps for women, children, and boys—'

'Oh, no—no!' I exclaimed, utterly confounded at his interminable rigmarole. 'I don't think I'll trade to day—you've got to extensive an assortment.'

'But I don't cal'late yeou'll take the hull on't; not unless yeou're going to open some hotel some'ere.'

'Then that's it,' said I.

'Jest so ex-actly,' said he, looking as honest as he ever did in his life. 'Cum, wont ye buy something?.

'You've travelled some?' I inquired, effecting not to heed his invitation to trade.

'I shouldn't git along very fast if I didn't, he profoundly replied.

'How far over the country have you been?'

'Wall, I guess about tew the end of all the points e' the compasses.'

'Been South?' I asked.

'Some little distance,' said he.

'Well,' said I, 'if you warrant me a piece of your experience in the course of your extensive travels, I'll agree to try, as hard as I can, to trade with you.'

'No objection to telling you a leetle,' said he, 'and never ask no man to trade with me agin his will.'

'Very well, then, tell us a story.'

'Wonst I found myself clear up in Georgy, and it like to had been wonst too often. But I'll tell ye: had a clever lot o' them air tin kitchens on hand, and they was a load on me—did'nt sell—drug in the market; I thort as how ef I could on'y get 'em put off, I'd be able tew go it.

'Wall, the folks out thare in Georgia did'nt know no more what they was for—them air kitchens—then a child jest born, not a bit; an' I know'd that very important fact, too. So, arter I'd laid all one night, a trying tew dream heow I could git rid of 'em at fust cost, a curous sort of a crotchet got into my head.—Says I tew myself, 'I'll sell 'em for silver-saddles!' Did yeou ever nabur? I never heed the like!

'Away I went, jest as soon's I could see, the next mornin,' and begun tew peddle off my saddles. 'Twas astonishing heow they took with the wimmen. You see, I towld one woman how Miss So-an-co, her nabur, had bort one, cos they were all in the rage in Georgia, 'mongst the rich and really respectable folks, and the bait took right straight off, neow I tell you.

'It was jest in the midst of the tite times up here to the North, and then they was livin' in high clover out South. Niggers was a fetchin' twelve and fifteen hundred dollars apiece—the curly headed critters—and money washed round a fellers feet like so much water, and nothin' else. The planters wives' they thort then must hev everything that was rare and nice, and on the subject of side saddles I hit 'em exact, there aint no denyin' that.'

'I sold em' for fifty, and thirty, and twenty dollars apice, jest as they happened to have money by 'em when I call'd. Finally I'd sold all but jest one single one, and that one seemed some how or other to stick—I could'nt make her go. At last, arter all sort o' coaxin' an' beggin' I offered tew a woman on a plantashun, a good way eout o' town, for thirty dollars—twenty down and the balance in boot. She agreed tew to trade. I put the twenty, and a fust rate silver into my pocket, and passed her over the silver side saddls. She seemed mighty tickled with it, and I guess she was.

'I'd always been a leetin keerful not tew git kort round whare I'd peddled my saddles, a second time, an' so fur had got along well enough; but this time I want quick enough. I went to the next village, and put up over night and was jest agoin' to start off in the mornin,' when the woman's husband stepped up putty lively, I thort, and hailed me. Now, I never had no objecktion to stoppin' and s' long's I didn't know what he wanded, of course I stopped:—I only travel to accomdate the public, and this great republic in pertikler.

'Says he, 'Stranger do you sell side saddles?'

'Say I, 'Not exactly I don't.'

'But ain't your name Slocum?' says he.

'You've hit it,' says I.

'Wall,' sez he, 'yeou sold my wife one o' your saddles, and it's a perfect impersishun, and nothin' shorter. She can't git on tew a mule's back, no more'n if't want a saddle.'

'But I cun't help that,' sez I, 'she's bort it, and paid for it, and I've got no more tew do with it, no way.'

'Is that it?' says he.

'Yes' say I.

'Wall, look here, stranger,' says he,—and there'd a pooty considerable of a crowd got round by that time,—sez he, 'I'll give me back the valley of what my woman gin you for the saddle, you may come and take your saddle agin, and we wont say no more. Otherwise, we shall go to work our own way.'

'I smelt gunpowder then, but I thort I'd keep cool; so I jest asked him of he wouldn't take back what she gin me far the saddle in trade. He stopped and thort a minit, and then sez he 'Yaas, I'll take the vally in goods.'

'What'll he hev?' says I.

'What ye got?' says he.

'Wall, I've got one nice watch left,' sez I, 'the last one of the lot.'

'Good time-keeper?' says he.

'None better,' sez I: and with that I handed her rout, and showed her tew him.

'What do you ask?' says he.

'Fifty dollars,' sez I.

'Warranted?' sez he.

'To be sure,' sez I, jest as honest as I enny ways could.

'How much did my wife give you for the saddle?' sez he.

'Thirty dollars,' sez I.

'Wall, here's twenty back,' sez he, handing me a couple o saw horses; you may come and git your saddle jest as quick 's your'e a mind tew.'

'I will sez,' sez I of course meanin' jest as quick as I'd a mind tew. It was too warm abeout thare. But I couldn't help sloppin my hands on my breeches pocket, as I cleared eout, and sayin' all tew myself—'Old feller, of yeour wife don't tell you whose watch that was, then I'm off the road, that's all.'

'Twas the very same watch his wife had let me have fur ten dollars!'

'Howsomever I threw the side saddle, for I never went back after that, you'd better believe. I guessed, tho', as how't he didn't make much eout of me. What do you think, ha?'

I laughed as well I might, at the fellow's coolness, and assured him that he got out of that scrape pretty handsomely.

'Neow,' sez he after he was through, 'neow you're agoin' to buy somethin,' aint you?'

'Well, let me see,' said I, thinking. All at once it occurred to me that I might make little Alice Green a philopena present, which I owed to her. So I asked him if he had thimbles.

'Plenty on 'em.'

'Gold?'

'Pure as the gold tha t's in New Jerusalem!' said he.

'He showed me some, and after warranting them, I selected one from a respectable looking assortment.

'What's the price?' I asked.

'Five dollars,' he said.

I paid the money, and wishing me a good afternoon, he started off.

Towards the middle of the next afternoon I happened to think of my thimble again, and took it over to the jeweller's to have Alice's initials marked upon it.

What was my utter consternationon being told by the jeweller that it was nothing but washed brass.

In trying to make a purchase, I myself was sold.—Flag of our Union.

A GENTLE REPROOF.

One day as Zachariah Hodgson was going to his daily avocation after breakfast, he purchased a fine large codfish and sent it home, with direction to have it coocked for dinner.—As no particular mode of coocking, was prescribed, the good woman well knew that, whether she boiled it or made it into a chowder her husband would scold when he come home. But she resolved to please him once, if possible, and therefore coocked portions of it in several different ways. She also, with some little difficulty, procured amphibious animal from a brook back of the house, and plumped it into a pot. In due time her husband came home; some covered dishes were placed on the table, and with a frowning, fault-finding look, the moody man commenced the conversation:—

Well, wife, did you get the fish I bought!

Yes my dear.

I should like to know how you have coocked it. I will bet anything that you have spoiled it for my eating. (Taking off the cover) I thought so. What in creation possessed you to fry it? I would as lief eat a boiled frog.

Why, my dear, I thought you loved it best fried.

You didn't thing any such thing. You knew better—I never loved fried fish—why didn't you boil it?

My, dear the last time we had fresh fish, you know I boilnd it, and you said you liked it best fried But I have boiled some also.

So saying she lifted the cover, and lo! the shoulders of the cod, nicely boiled, were nicely deposited in a dish, a sight of which would have made an epicure rejoice, but which only added to the ill will of her husband.

A pretty dish this! exclaimed he. Boiled fish! Chips and porridge! If you had not been one of the most stupid of womankind, you would have made it into a chowder!

His patient wife, with a smile, immediately placed a tureen before him, containing an excellent chowder,

My dear, said she, I was resolved to please you. There is your favorite dish.

Favorite dish indeed, grumbled the discomfitted husband. I dare say it is an unpalatable wishy-washy mess. I would rather have a boiled frog than the whole of it.

This was a common expression of his, and had been anticipated by his wife, who as soon as the preference was expressed, uncovered a large dish near her husband, and there was a large bull-frog of portentious dimension and pugnacious aspect, stretched out at full length! Zachariah sprang from his chair, not a little frightened at the unexpected apparation.

My dear, said his wife in a kind, entreating tone, I hope you at length will be able to make a dinner.

Zachariah could not stand this. His surly mood was finally overcome, and he burst into a hearty langh. He acknowledged that his wife was right and he was wrong; and declared she never should have occasion to read him such another lesson, and he was as good as his word.

SKETCHES OF YOUNG MEN.

William Pitt the first Earl of Chatham, was but 27 years of age, when a member of Parliament, he waged the war of a giant against the corruptions of Sir Robert Walpole.

The young Pitt was scarcely 20 years of age, when, with masterly power, he grappled with the vetrans of Parliament in favor of America. At the age of 22 he was called to the high and responsible trust of Chancellor of the Exchequer. It was at that age that he came forth in his might on the affairs of the Indies. At 59 during the first insanity of George 111. he rallied around the Prince of Wales.

Edmund Burke, at the age of 19, planned a refutation of the metaphysical theories of Berkley and Hume. At 23, he was in the Temple the admiration of its inmates, for the brilliancy of his genius, and the variety of his acquirments. At 26, he published his celebrated satair, entitlled, 'A Vindication of Natural Society.' The same year he published his 'Essay on Sublime and Beautiful', so much admired for its spirit of philosophical investigation, and the elegance of its language. At 35, he was Secretary to the First Lord of the Treasury.

George Washington was only 27 years of age when he covered the retreat of the British troops at Braddock's defeat, and the same year was appointed Commander-in-Chief of all the Virginia forces.

Gen. Joseph Warren was only 29 years of age when in defiance of the British soldiers stationed at the door of the church, he pronounced the celebrated oration which aroused the spirit of liberty and patriotism that terminated in the achievement of Independance.—At 34 he fell, gallantly fighting in the cause of freedom, on Bunker Hill.

Alexander Hamilton was lieutenant-Colonel in the Army of the American Revolution, and Aid-de-camp to Washington at the age of 20. At the age of 25, he was a member of Congress from New York; at 30 he was one of the ablest members of the Convention that formed the Constitution of the United States. At 31, he was a member of that New York Convention, and joint author of the work entitled 'The Federalist.' At 32 he was Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, and arranged the financial branch of the government upon so perfect a plan, that no great improvement has ever been made upon it by his succcssors.

BEGIN RIGHT.

The following if not new, is, at least, true—and is worthy of attention.

'This little fable (said my Uncle) may perhaps be of service to some poor devil, 'more willing and wise."

A certain man once married a lady, whose reputation for amiability of disposition was seriously questionable. At the wedding everything went off merrily, of course; the party gay the supper magnificent; the whole affair had been eminently successful, and all parties extremely delighted.

On retiring to his apartments, the gentleman found himsely annoyed by the mewing and purring of a cat.

'What in the devil's name is that?' he exclaimed.

'Oh nothing my dear,' replied the bride, 'but my favorite cat, Pussita.'

'Oh! d—n Pussita—I hate cats!' and with this he unceremoniously thew Pusita out of the second story window.

'Well! if you haven't got a temper!'

'Yes my dear, you,d better believe it.'

'Everything,' continued my Uncle 'went on well—in that establishment—even to a warm dinner on Sunday.'

Now it so happened that a friend of the above mentioned gentleman, who had some months before 'committed the error' of marrying 'an angel,' took occasion to enquire of him—

'How is it, that with you every thing 'goes merry as a marriage bell,' while I, on the contrary have almost given up the idea of wearing the pantatoons at all."

'He related to him the story of Pussita and the second story window,' said my Uncle, 'without fully impressng upon his mind the important moral that it was necssary to begin right. Nevertheless, there was that in his eye—when he started for home—'that told of treason.'

'Well!' said his wife, 'you've come home at last, have you—after keeping me sitting up for you—and what's the matter—yon haven't been drinking have you—you look very strange.

'Not in the least my dear, but I hate cats, my love.'

'You do, do you; well I like 'em—that's all the difference.'

Hereupon the unfortunate husband made a dash upon poor Tabby, who was quietly snoozing on the sofa, and rushed impetuously to the window.

'You have been drinking. What are you going to do monster?'

'Throw her out of the window.'

'You better try it—I'd like to see you do it—i'd break every bone in you body—why don't you throw her out?—I pare you to do it, sir!'

He put the cat softly down on the sofa—hung his hat on a peg in the hall—his manliness and his pantaloons on an easy chair—and said.

'Go in ducky darling, and win—I didn't be-in right.'

'I rather think yon didn't—yon better take a fresh start—but don' try that game again, or you'll catch it. Come to bed.' And he went.

'Wrong from the beginning,' said my Uncle. Oh dear me!

THE MAN OF BUSINESS.

'Husband,' said Mrs. Hunter, as she was seated at the breakfast table with the father of her children, 'I wish you could find time to give a little attention to william. He has nothing to do, and, in consequence, passes his time with boys from whom he will not be likely to learn anything good.'

'My dear,' replied Mr. Hunter, 'my time is at present so constantly occupied that I cannot see to him. As soon as I can find time to make some inquiries about a school I will do so. He shall have the best advantages for education which the country affords.'

'I am afraid he will be ruined before you will get time to find a school. He has got to be so large now, that he needs the restraint of a father's hand.'

'If you can satisfy yourself as to what school it is best to send him to, I will rely upon your judgment, and he shall go as soon as you can get him ready.'

'I know nothing about schools, you must select a school for him. But, in the meantime, could you not do something with him at the atore? He must have something to do, or he cannot be kept out of mischief.'

'You may send him down to the store after he has got his breakfast, and I will see what I can do with him.' Mr. Hunter then went to his store, where several men were waiting for him. The store received but a very small share of his attention. He had a large factory to manage, besides being a director in a railroad, and chairman of the committee for securing the election of the candidate of his party

William had been up very late the night before, and did not make his appearance at the breakfast table, until nearly an hour after his father had gone to his place of business.

'Your father wishes you to come to the store as soon as you have taken your breakfast,' said Mrs. Hunter.

'Do you know what he wants of me?' said William with a blush, occasioned by the fear that some of his irregularities had come to his fathers knowledge.

'He wishes you to assist in the store.'

'Very well, I will go down.'

Now, it happened that William had made an engagement to meet some of his companions, at ten o'clock. It would not suit his purposes to be engaged at the store. He did not fail to go there however; for he had not yet learned to practice direct disobedience to his parents commands. He had little fear that his father would notice him, or assign to him any employment, unless the matter was brought to his recollection by some question on the part of his son. That question he was careful not to ask. He remained at the store, in the presence of his father, till nearly ten o'clock, when he left, to join his companions at the appointed place.

Mr. Hunter did not come home to dinner. When he came in, at a late hour to his supper, William was not with him 'Where is William? said Mrs. H.

Has he not been with you at the store?

I remember seeing him there some time in the course of the day.

I sent him down as you requested, in hopes you would give him something to do, to keep him busy.

Ah, yes, I remember now; but he did not say anything to me about it.

I told him you wanted his assistance in the store. I presume he waited till he got tired and then went away I wish he would come, home. He is forming a habit of staying out later and later.

He must be sent to school. I have no time to attend to him. There is no use in my undertaking it. Just get him ready as soon as you can, and I will send him at once to some good school, where he will be taken care of. Where is the paper?

The newspaper from the city was handed him, and after having looked over certains portions which have no interest for generals, readers, he was ready for his supper. After supper he was to meet the committee, who had the welfare of their party in charge.

'Mr. Hunter was too busy to give any attention to his son! How came he so busy?—Was there a necessity laid upon him to extend his business so widely as to leave him no time to attend the education of his son—no time to take care of his own soul? Was it more important that he should be rich, than that his son should escape ruin?

How many fathers are there in this land of enterprise and energy, who must be classed with Mr. Hunter!

Mr Hunter determined to give his son the best advantages for education which the country afforded. He was, doubtless, willing to be at any expense that should be necessary to secure that object. By that means he thought to atone for his own neglect.

There are duties that cannot be transferred to others. It is to the parent that God, by his Providence and word, says, take this child and train it for me.'

No other person can do the work required of the parents. The best educators can only assist the parent.

Among the ruined of our land, how many are victims of parental neglect—of neglect occasioned by the pressure of business and wordly care?

DEFINITION OF A YANKEE.

As the Yankees are creating no little excitement in the commercial, political and military world, we have the definition of a genuine male Yankee may not be considered a miss.

A real genuine Yankee is of animation, checked by moderation, guided by determination, and supported by education.

He has venerated corrected by toleration, with a love of self-approbation, and emulation and when reduced to a state of aggravation, can assume the most profound dissimulation for the purpose of retaliation, always combined if possible, with speculation.

A real live Yankee, just caught, will be found not deficient in the following qualities:

He is self-denying, self-relying, always trying and into everything prying.

He is a lover of piety, proptiety, notoriety and the temperance society.

He is a dragging, gagging, bragging, striving, thriving, swooping, jostling, bustling, wrestling, musical, quizzical, astronomical, philosophical, poetical, and comical sort of a character, whose manifest destiny is to spread civilization to the remotest corner of the earth with an eye always on the look out for the main chance.—Rogersville (Tenn) Times.

LEATHER SPECTACLES.

There has been a great deal of bad joking about Leather Spectacles, but there is now a great probability that they will come into actual use. One Mr Cranmors, an English gentleman, informs a scientific journal that his sight is defective, and that among other experiments to strengthen it he took a card and made two fine pin holes exactly in the position of the centres of the pupils of his eyes, and found that he saw the true images as correctly as he ever did in his life.

By making the pin holes larger or smaller, the focal distance is increased or diminished proportionally. In sunshine he can read at the natural focal distance, but with faint light there is the common confusion of letters. A flattening cornea will explain this; he thinks the cause to be 'some want of contractility engendered in old age, in the iris.' There is one curious fact which he has observed, viz: that fine wire gauze, on fiftieth of an inch in diameter, in meshes, enables him, when worn close to the eye, to read small print with great facility, at the distance of six inches, and when the meshes are still closer, he can see the most minute objects with remarkable distinctness. Instead of the card, something more durable will be substituted, and leather will be found as good as anything else.—Pittsburg Chronicle.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

SATURDAY, MARCH. 22d, 1851.

John A. Green, Editor.

EXCELLENT APPOINTMENT.—Hon. S. G. Goodrich of Ralbury, (Peter Parley,) recently appointed United States Consul at Paris, will sail from New York with his family, on the 2d, of April next. May health and happiness and every other blessing attend him during his mission.

CHANGING OF THE CARS.—It will be observed that a change has been made on the Old Colony Railroad. See the advertisement in another column.

HANCOCK HOUSE.—This splendid and pleasently situated public house is to be sold without reserve on Monday afternoon next. The entire lot of Furniture of said hotel will also be sold on the 31st, of this month.

DEDHAM JAIL.—The workmen have commenced taking down this structure. The prisoners have been removed to the jail in Taunton.

UNITED STATES SENATOR.—The nineteenth ballot for a Senator from this State, has again proved a failure. The Free Soil Candidate, Charles Sumner received nine votes of Election. The further consideration of the subject was postponed, to a fort night from last Wednesday.

NEW CATHOLIC CHURCH.—As will be observed by the notice, the residence of Jabez Sumner a few years since, has been purchased and a Catholic Church is to be erected on the premises. This edifice will be about seventy-five feet in length, and not far from forty feet in width; the spire will probably be near one hundred and fifty feet in height. It is intended to surpass any building in the Town.

CENTRE DISTRICT.—At the annual meeting of this School District, Edwin H. Savil was chosen Clerk, and William S. Morton, Esq. Prudential Committee. The meeting was adjourned.

LEGISLATIVE.—The Senate has passed the plurality bill as regards the election of Members of Congress and Presidential Electors.

Both branches have several subjects of importance before them, and after a war of words the question will be settled as to their value.

NOW IS THE TIME.—Attention is called to the advertisement of Geo. W. Warren & Co. of Boston. This firm have a very extensive stock, and are determined to sell as reasonable as any other establishment.

MINOT'S LEDGE LIGHT.—This light-house withstood the last storm as it will most probably many more to come. The worthy and courageous keeper, John W. Bennett, has had his salary increased to one thousand dollars per year, and that of his two assistant keepers to five hundred and fifty-five dollars each.

THE LATE STORM.—This was one of the most violent storms which has occurred for more then twenty-five years. Many of the cellars in Boston, were filled with water, and a large amount of property destroyed. Several of the railroad tracks were injured so much as to impede travelling. The Old Colony Railroad was partly washed away for several rods near the crossing over the Neponset Turnpike, by which the trains were obstructed for a few hours. The storm was very severe all along the coast. No serious misfortune befel any one, and we have not seen the death of any one from from accident recorded.

ATTEMPT TO BRAKE JAIL.—Marshal the fellow arrested at Roxbury two weeks ago, for robbing a clothing store at Norwhich attempted to break out of jail in the latter city. He had succeeded in cutting a hole through one wall. Upon examening him a small saw was underneath the lining of his vest. He once cut his way out of Sing Sing.

IN THE FIELD.—The Connecticut State Temperance Convention adopted a strong series of resolutions against liquor dealing, and for rigid license laws. A committee of Nine was chosen from the three different parties to nominate a State ticket for the support of Temperence men, who are to assemble at Hartford in March.

Ex. Gov. Hamilton Fish (whig) has been chosen United States Senator for six years, to succeed Hon. Daniel S. Dickinson, (dem.) from the State of New York.

It is estimated that within the last fifty years 32,000,000 of Bibles have been distributed over the earth, translated into two hundred dialect.

The California fever has got to Norway. Two hundred and eighty-five young man, many of them used to mining, have just sailed from Christian for San Francisco.

Joanna Baillie, the celebrated authoress, died at Hampstead, near London, on the 23d ult., being close in her ninetieth year.

There are in Michigan 218 flour mills, which produced last year 660 169 barrels of flour. There are also 582 saw mills, which sawed 164,000,000 feet of lumber during the year.

The Ohio House of Representatives has passed a resolve instructing and requesting the Senators and Representatives of that State in Congress to use all honorable means to obtain an immediate repeal, modification or amendment of the fugitive slave law.

The stock jobbers of Lyons in France employ Swallows instead of Carrier Pigeons to bring the prices of stocks from Paris. The Swallows are taken from their young, and maternal instinct urges them back, wearing a ribbon marked with the price in question.

President Bonaparte's friends are said to be making marriage for him with the Infanta Amelia, of Spain. The young lady is seventeen, pretty, accompliished, and rich.

In Austria, the government some time gave, or rather renewed a former permission for the sale of horse-flesh as food.

The Montpelier (Vt,) Patriot says that about one-hundred thousand bushels of potatoes have been purchased in that market up to the present time, and transported by railroad to Boston. The price paid a few weeks since was thirty cents a bushel, and is now fifty cents or more.

A steam Engine, weighing only three quarters of an Ounce, is being exhibited in Yorkshire, (Eng.) in full motion. It is intended for the great exhibition.

All the Hungarian refugees, excepting twenty-five or thirty Hungarian servants, most of whom intend returning to Austria, have left Shumla for Constantinople. It was arranged that all of them should sail for Liverpool, (Eng.) and each person receive five-hundred piastres as a present from the Turkish government.

A boy eighteen years of age was lately imprisoned in the Leverett street jail Boston, at the suit of a woman on the shady side of forty. The matter was finally compromised by a marriage, the gallant young man preferring the chains of Hymen to the locks and bars of the jail.

At Ganamore, in Southern India. The European inhabitants use bullocks in their carriages, and these animals by dexterous pinching of their tails, can be made to trot six or seven miles an hour.

The New York Sun has a daily circulation of about sixty thousand copies and, at five readers to each paper, three hundred thousand readers.

The length of the croton pipes in New York, to convey water to and through the city is said to exceed two hundred miles.

The hens of Egypt now lay eggs for the Londoners. Thirteen cases were lately landed at Southampton from Elexander.

During the March term of the Municipal Court in Boston, the Suffolk County received upwards of fifteen hundred dollars for fines and costs from violators of the license laws; and during the February term about fourteen hundred were received from the same source.

Hon. Thomas H. Benton has told Mr. J. C. Rives that he will not be a candidate for the Presidency.

Congress appropriated one million one hundred and sixteen thousand dollars to defray the expenses of taking the cencus!

Noah Robinson, Messenger to the Gevenor and Council, has been removed, and Timothy R. Page of Boston, and once a resident of this town, has been appointed in his place.

Gen, W C Chaplin of New York, the abolitionist, who attempted to run off with some slaves in Washington last summer, was to have been tried at Baltimore last Monday. He, however, did not appear, and of course his bail $19,000, is forfeited.

A son of Asa Thayer, Jr. of West Randolph, aged about six years has had three of his fingers cut off while playing with a hay-cutting machine.

A large white owl was recently shot in Groton. It belong to the kind known as the snowy owl, and is rarely taken in this vicinity.

Washington County Pa., with a population of nearly fifty thousand inhabitants, has not a single prisoner in its jail.

The allowance of a penny per day to married soldiers lodging out of the barracks, is to be increased to twopence, in England.

Three cent pieces are now being made at the United States Mint. They are three quarters copper, and about the size of a Spanish sixteenth, though considerably thicker.

The Secretary of the Interior has given a lengthy decision as to the assignability of Land Warrants under the bounty Land Law. He reitorates his former opinion, that the law as it stands, prohibits such asignment.

The Mayor and Aldermen of Boston, refused to grant the use of Faneiul Hall, on the 26th of March, to R. E. Apthorb and others, for the purpose of holding a Mass Meeting of those opposed to the Fugitive Slave Law.

On Saturday last, upon the Fall River Railroad, a brakeman named Simeon Dressor, was knocked from a frieght train and instantly killed, by coming in contact with a bridge which crosses the the road near Middleborough.

It is stated in the Boston papers, that, Joseph P. Lake has been missing from his house in South Braintree since March 8th. He was last seen in that city.

His Excellency Gov. Boutwell, the Commander in-Chief, has accepted an invitation to review the First Regiment of Light Infantry under command of Col. Holbrook, on the afternoon of the 28th of May next, on Boston Common. The Governer and suit will appear in uniform and mounted.

The enlargement of the Capitol will be commenced during the recess of Congress, and at an early day.

A Convention of All citizens of Massachusetts, without distinction of party, opposed to the Fugitive Slave Law, and in favor of adopting such measures, within the limits prescribed by the Constitution, as may produce its essential modification or final repeal, are invited to assemble at Boston, on Wednesday, March 26th. at 10 o'clock, A. M., for the purpose of consulting together, and devising the best means of advancing that object.

Twenty-one hundred dollars, mostly specia, was found in a secret drawer by the apprisers of the estate of Nolly Sholly, and elderly maiden recently deceased near Lepanon, Pennsylvana. That is where the silver goes.

Green peas, the fist of the season, have already appeared at Savannah, (Ga,)

Ten thousand tons of lard oil wore imported into Great Britian, last year from the United States.

A London Bookseller has just issued a catalogue of more than seventeen hundred English works on Pepery, which he has collected, and offers for sale.

There is woman in London who recollects the year and chapter of every act in Parliament upon every subject. She is a bookfolder's fore-woman, and is in great repute with the lawyers.

Father Ritchie has sold out the Washington Union for thirty thousand dollars to Andrew Jackson Donelson of Tennessee, late minister to Germany, the adopted son of Old Hickory, and an able politician.

It is said that the fortune of the Rotchilds is no less than $735,000,000.

The Massachusets House of Representatives has offered a reward of ten thousand dollars for the discovery of a romedy for the potato rot; the discovery to be tested by a practice of five yaers.

The enrolled militia of the United States amount to two millious—a tolerable army!

Intramural interments have been forbidden in New York after May next.

Hon. Henry Wilson, President of the Senate, has written a letter to Governer Morton, in reply to that in which the member from Taunton Green sought to annihilate the coalition.

The quantity of gold produced by the Russian Mine's in 18d7, was 1741 pounds or about 95 millions of franc; in 1848, 1750 pounds, and in 1849, 1587 pounds. The amount for 1850 is not yet known.

Judge Benjamin F. Wade, a Whig Free Soiler, has been elected United States Senator for Ohio. He was one of the earliest supporters of General Taylor in the Western Reserve.

Cyrus Thing was the name of the person killed on the Old Colony Railroad, in Boston about a week since. He was twenty-three years old, a native of Waterborough, Me., and was unmarried.

Since the first of January four hundred and fifty persons have been brought up to the ringbolt for the terrible crime of smoking in the streets of Boston.

Thirty one guns were fired at New Orlens when it became known that the actions against the Cuban expeditionists had been not pros'd, and one additional gun for Cuba. The band of the United States artillery played a number of national airs at the same time.

In a letter, addressed to the Lord Mayor of Dublin, (Ireland) Lord Cloucurry has charged the English government with having caused the death by starvation, within the last four years, of 2,000,000 of the Irish people.

An act passed by the Delaware Legislature, at its late session, provides for the binding out of all free negro children between certain ages, to some useful trade or avocation.

The religious tests and property qualification clause, in the proposed new constitution of New Hampshire, have shared the fate of that instrument; having been voted down by an overwhelming majority.

A fine coat often covers an intolerable fool, but never conceals one.

Gen. George McDuffie, of South Carolina, long known as one of the most distinguished citizens of that State is dead.

Small change, says the Boston Post, is becoming more plentiful, and the premium on silver has begun to decrease.

Mount Vernon is about to be examined by the board of Commissioners upon the subject of a Military Asylum with a view of purchase by the General Government.

Cassius M. Clay is trying to get an emancipation convention in Kentucky. There are sixty thousand free negroes in Virginia.

The St. Louis papers announce the death of Capt. Henry M. Shreve, who commanded the first steamer that ever ascended the Mississippi river.

NOTICE

Quincy Lyceum.

A lecture may be expected before this society on THURSDAY EVENING, commencing at 7 1-2 o'clock.

H. O. WHITNEY, Secretary.

DIED,

In this Town, on the 16th, inst., Mrs. Lucinda, wife of Den. Elijah Baxter aged 46 years.

In this Town Mr. Nathaniel Bent aged 42 years.

In this Town, on the 11 inst Mr. Peter Kating aged 49 years.

Wanted Immediately.

8 OR 10 FIRST rate PANTALOON and VEST makers to make Custom Work—to whom the highest price will be paid, apply to

GEORGE SAVIL & CO, Washington St.

Quincy, Marcn 22d. tf

Administratrix's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Administratrix of the Goods and Estate of

CLINTON M. GRANT

late of ————— in the County of Norfolk, Stone Cutter deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

RUTH C. GRANT, Administrator.

March 22d, 3w

To Let.

TWO lower rooms in a house situated in Summer St. For further particulars inquire of

Mrs JOHN NEWCOMB,

Quincy March, 22d tf

Fruit Trees.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

THE Proprietor is desirous of disposing of a large proportion of the FRUIT TREES in the Nurseries at Hawthorne Grove, Dorchester, Mass, with a view to improvements on the grounds the coming season.

The collection of PEARS, CHERRIES, PLUMS, and other FRUITS, embraces about every approved sort of American or Foreign extant, and is scarcely surpassed in excellence or variety.

SPECIAL CULTIVATION has been bestowed on the PEAR and many thousands of thrifty vigorous trees are ready for transplanting. EXTRA SIZE PEAR TREES, with fruit buds, either on quince or pear roots, such as will soon commence bearing, can be supplied at moderate prices.

Also, all the new varieties of PEARS, CHERRIES, PLUMS, etc., and at lower rates than is generally charged for novelties.

Scions for exportation and the home trade can be had from fruit-bearing trees thereby securing correctness of nomenclature.

The Collection of Camelias, Roses, Dahlias, and Green House Plants, is quite extensive—that of the Camelia consists of several thousands Plants, and embraces all the novelties extant.

SELECTIONS, where desired, founded on the experience of many years, will be made by the proprietor, and which will seldom fail to please the correspondent.

Address,—"The Superintendant of the Nurseries, at Hawthorn Grove, Dorchester, Mass." to the care of the subscriber No. 2 Pearl street, Boston.

Grove Hall Coaches leave No. 11 Franklin street four times each day.

MARSHALL P. WILDER.

Dorchester, March 22d tf

Hotel Furniture.

The entire Stock of Furniture of the

HANCOCK HOUSE IN QUINCY.

WILL be sold by public auction, without reserve, on MONDAY, March 31st,

Commencing at ten o'clock in the forenoon.

All the FURNITURE of the Hancock House, comprising a large number of Bedsteads, Beds, Mattresses, etc. and Bedding for the same; Carpets for more than forty rooms; Oil Carpets and Entry Carpets; Mahogany Extension, Dining and Card Tables; Sofas, Chairs, Bureaus; Ivory Knives and Forks; Looking Glasses, Chandeliers, Centre and Hanging Solar Lamps Clocks and Glass Ware, Castors, and a great variety of excellent Furniture as is required for a Hotel of this class.

Also—A large collection of Kitchen Furniture and Cooking Utensils.

Also—1 Horse, 1 Cow, 2 Hogs, Wagon and Harness, Saddle, Bridles, Robes, and Stable Furniture.

Conditions made known at the sale.

GEORGE H. FRENCH, Auctioneer.

Quincy, March 19th. 2w

Buildings and Trees,

AT AUCTION.

TO be sold at public auction, to highest bidder without reserve, on TUESDAY, March 25th, 1851, at 3 o'clock P. M., on the premises, a commodious cottage built Dwelling and Out Buildings, with a Stable annexed; also, several valuable Fruit and Ornamental Trees connected with said estate, being the residence now occupied by Mr. Albion Dearborn, on the conner of Gay and School Streets, in Quincy. The buildings and Trees to be removed from said premises on or before the 4th of April next.

Conditions of payment made known at the time and place of sale.

L. G. HORTON, Auctioneer.

Quincy, March 22d 1w

Executor's Sale,

of Real Estate.

ON TUESDAY, the 8th day of April next, at two o'clock in the afternoon, will be sold at public auction, by license of the Court of Probate, so much of the Real Estate of ZACHARIAH KINGMAN, late of Weymouth, diceased, hereinafter described, as will produce the sum of thirteen hundred five dollars and sixteen cents, for the payment of his just debts and Charges of administration; to wit.

The Dwelling house of the said deceased, standing on the Northerly side of West Street in Weymouth, attached to which is three acres of first rate Mowing and Tillage Land.

Also—Two acres of Mowing and Tillage, on the opposite side of said Street, with a good Barn thereon situated;

Also—Twenty-five acres of Pasture and Wood land, on the said Street, in Weymouth.

Also—About thirteen acres of Mowing and Pasture Land, in Weymouth, on said street, having on it a goodly number of Apple Trees, in thriving order.

Also—About seven acres of Fresh Meadow, in Weymouth, near the house of Benjamin Ells.

Also—Three acres of Salt Marsh, in Weymouth, on Back River, and is fully equal to any on said River.

Also—A Few on the lower floor of the Old South Meeting-house, (so called,) in Weymouth, numberd 66.

Sale at the Dwelling house of said deceased where the conditions will be made known.

KINGMAN TIRRELL, Executor.

South Weymouth, March 22d 3w*

Corporation Notice.

A Meeting of the Petitioners for the QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY will be holden at the room over Mr. J. Briesler's store Hancock Street, near the Town Hall, on WEDNESDAY, April 2d., 1851, at 3 o'clock P. M., to act upon the acceptance of the Act of Incorporation, and such other business as may come before them.

T. C. WEBB,

One of the persons named in the act of Incorporation.

Quincy, March 22d 2w

Kingsbury & Emerson,

COUNSELLORS AT LAW,

WEYMOUTH, MASS.

F. A. Kingsbury, C. H. Emerson.

One at office Hollis Institute Buildings every Tuesday.

SOUTH BRAINTREE, Mass.

March 22d. tf

Seed Barley.

100 TO 150 bushels of first quality Seed Barley, which will be sold as cheap as can be bought in Boston or elsewhere.

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, March 22d. tf

Weymouth and Braintree

Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

NOTICE is hereby given that the annual meeting of this Company for the choice of Officers for the year ensuing, will be held, at the Secretarys house in Weymouth, on MONDAY, the 14th day of April next, at 2 o'clock P. M.

T. R. HANSON, Secretary

Weymouth March, 22d 4w

Carpeting.

4-4, 5-4, and 6-4, STRAW and PAINTED CARPETING, for sale by

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, March 22d tf

CHOATE & PRESTY.

Geo. W. Warren & Co.

No. 192 Washington Street, Boston,

ARE now opening their SPRING IMPORTATION of NONVEAUTES, in

LONG and SQUARE SHAWLS;
DRESS and BLACK SILKS;
THIN DRESS FABRICS; M. DE LAINES;
EMBROIDERIES; LACE and WHITE GOODS;
All kinds of MOURNING GOODS;
All kinds of HOUSEKEEPING ARTICLES;
STUFFS for BOYS' WEAR;
GINGHAMS, PRINTS, HOSIERY, GLOVES &c

All in great variety, and at very low prices.

Boston, March 22d. 6w.

Starch Polish.

IN BOTTLES, a superior article for sale by,

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, March 22d. tf

Musical Notice.

THE Braintree Brass Band, take this opportunity to return their sincere thanks to their friends and patrons for the kind and liberal patronage hitherto bestowed upon them, and would respectfully announce to the public generally, that they are prepared to furnish Music on all occasions to the satisfaction of their patrons.

Application made to David H. Bates, near the Rev. Dr. Storrs Meeting House, will meet with prompt attention.

Braintree March 15th 3m*

Notice.

A Meeting (fourth adjourned) of the Creditors of Nathan Pratt and Nathan Pratt & Co, will be holden at the Office of the Commissioner of Insolvency in Roxbury, on the ninth day of April next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at which meeting Creditors may be present and prove their claims.

By order of Francis Hilliard Esq., Commissioner.

Assignees, { WM S NORTON, GEO H FRENCH.

Quincy March 15th 1 w

Notice.

PROPOSALS will be received until the 25th inst. at noon for a Superintendant of the Alms House, and to take charge of the Town Farm. For further information inquire of either of the Subscribers

Overseers of the Poor, { BRYANT B NEWCOMB, NOAH CUMMINGS, LEWIS BASS.

Quincy March 15th 1851. t,

Bounty Lands.

CLAIMS for BOUNTY LANDS by Soldiers in the War of 1812—or any Indian War since 1790; their Widows and Minor children, attended to, and Land Warrants obtained, by

FISHER A KINGSBURY, Weymouth, Mass.

Weymouth, Feb. 1, 1851. 6m

Cholera, Dysentery, &c.

MRS. E. HAYDEN offers for sale various articles for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, &c.

Among which are Whiteman's Vegetable Syrup; Java Balsam, (a celebrated East Indian remedy!) Billings's Summer Cordial; Arnold's Balsam; Holden's Dysentery Cordial; Jayne's Carminative Balsam; Anti-Cholera Drops; Whitwell's Sulphur and Charcoal Pills. And a variety of other articles, for the same disenses.

Quincy, July 20. tf

Let the Public Call.

THE subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, stock of the best material only used, and the workmanship will vie with any other establishment.

By attention to business and promptness to orders, a liberal share of support is solicited.

RALPH LOWE.

Quincy April 13th.

Israel W. Munroe.

OFFERS for sale at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO., a good assortment of

ENGLISH and WEST INDIA GOODS, CROCKERY, GLASS and HARD WARE, SHOES, HATS and CAPS, PAPER HANGINGS,

And almost every article kept in a variety store, at the lowest prices for cash or approved credit.

Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. tf

Onions.

50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, for sale by

H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Oct 12th, 1850. tf

New Goods.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.,

HAVE recently made large additions to their Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows:

Mouslin DeLaine, a good assortment, very low;
Prints and Ginghams in great variety;
Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters
Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors
Wool Yarn, of all colors;

A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and 12 1-2 cts. per yard;

Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other Goods, all of which will be sold at the

VERY LOWEST PRICES.

Quincy, August 31. tf

Crockery and Glass Ware.

JUST added to our previous assortment, new an choice patterns of

Tea and Dining Setts, Washbowls, and Ewers.

H. A. RANSOM & Co.

Quincy Sept. 1. tf

Cider Vinegar.

JUST received, and for sale by the subscribers, twenty barrels extra Cider vinegar.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850. tf

SALOON OF FAS

NEW ARRANGEMEN

1851

GEORGE SAVIL & CO., Wa

Quincy.

WOULD most respectfully inform and the Public that they have S vices of a gentleman every way qualified to t of their

MR. JOHN GILL

CLOTHING DEPAR

and are now prepared to give all who with their patronage any kind of Gar which for EASE STYLE and Fashio suit the Most FASTIDIOUS.

We have received a large Selection simeres and Vestings of the Richest qualities which will be made into Go most reasonable terms, and satisfaction cases.

Also. Constantantly on h assortment of Genteel

READY MADE CLOT

For Sale at the Lowest prices.

GEORGE SAVIL & Co., Washington few rods East of the Stone Meeting H Quincy March 15th tf

Commissioners Not

TO Francis Hilliard, Esq., Commissi veney for the County of Norfolk.

The subscriber a creditor of Lincol Braintree in said County Boot Manufact vent debtor, against whom proceedin ing and who has proved his claim agai of said insolvent debtor, respectfully r the claims of the several creditors again of said Insolvent have been paid and t satisfied.

Hetherefore prays that the proceedi ing before you against said Insolvent vacated. As in duty bound will now pra signed GILMAN TH

Commonwealth of Massachus

NORFOLK SS. On the foregoing p ordered, that the petioner give notice of thereof to all persons interested in the insolvent debtor by publishing a true copy tion and of this order thereon, in the new the Quincy Patriot, printed at Quincy, pear before said Commissioner, in Ro twenty second day of March A. D o'clock in the forenoon to show cause have why the prayer of said petiton s granted.

Given under my hand the 10th day of M 1851. signed FRANCIS HIL Commissioner of I

A true copy of the petion and of the o Attest WM. GAST Quincy, March 12th 2w

Paper Hangings.

LARGE Lot of

PAPER HANGINGS

of 1 to 6 Rolls—some of high Cost—wi off, from 25 to 50 pr. ct. discount from co room for a prime assortment early in the I. W. M Quincy, Feb 1, 1851. tf

To Let.

PART of a House, on Centre Street, EBENEZER Quincy March 15th 3w

Particular Notice

MRS. BROOKS contemplating a chang ness will sell her stock of Millinery Goods, at cost for two weeks, and great ba be anticipated.

All ind-bted are requested to settle, and demands to present them for payment bef of April ensuing

ELIZA B Quincy, March 15th. 2w

Select School.

A School for advanced Scholars will be the Lyceum Hall in Braintree, on Mon the 7th to continue eighteen weeks, under of Mr. S. D. Hayden

For particulars see circulars to be had of & Co Quincy Book Store.

Braintree, March, 12th tf

To Let.

THE Rooms formerly occupied as a p over the harness Manufactery of The J. & H. H. F Quincy, March 15th, tf

Bees and Honey.

MRS. E HAYDEN, offers for sale a few Bees in prime order at a fair price

Also Honey in the comb

March, 1st tf

Found!!

IN Quincy on Tuesday last, a Bundel co various valuable articles, which the ow have by proving property, and paying charge plication to James Rundlett, about one forth above the Episcopal Church, on the Tanpike, to Weymouth,

Quincy, March 8th tf

List Carpeting.

for sale by

I W MUN

Quincy, March 8th. 1s

Potash.

WARRENTED of the very best quali for sale by

I W MUN

Quincy, March, tf

Dissolution of Copartnersh

THE COPARTNERSHIP heretofore exis tween the subscribers, under the firm of J BRIGHAM & CO, is by mutual consent t dissolved.

All persons having demands against said f requested to present the same, and all persons ed are respectfully requested to make paymen ther partner,

JOSIAH BRIGHA ISRAEL W. MUNR

Quincy, January, 1st, 1851.

ISRAEL W. MUNROE,

WILL continue the business at the old st JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO., and hop close personal application to business to rece continuance of the patronage so long and lib bestowed on the late firm.

Quincy, Jan. 4th. 1851. 3w.

Weymouth and Braintree Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

NOTICE is hereby given that the annual meeting of this Company for the choice of Officers for the year ensuing, will be held, at the Secretarys house in Weymouth, on MONDAY, the 14th day of April next, at 2 o'clock P. M.

T. R. HANSON, Secretary

Weymouth March, 22d 4w

Carpeting.

4, 5-4, and 6-4, STRAW and PAINTED CARPETING, for sale by

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, March 22d tf

CROCKERY & GLASS WARE.

Geo. W. Warren & Co.

192 Washington Street, Boston,

ARE now receiving their SPRING IMPORTATION of NOVELTIES, in

LONG and SQUARE SHAWLS;

DRESS and BLACK SILKS;

FANCY DRESS FABRICS, M. DE LAINES;

EMBROIDERIES; LACE and WHITE GOODS;

All kinds of MOURNING GOODS;

All kinds of HOUSEKEEPING ARTICLES;

SUITS for BOYS' WEAR;

GINGHAMS, PRINTS, HOSIERY, GLOVES &c

in great variety, and at very low prices.

Boston, March 22d. 6w.

Starch Polish.

BOTTLES, a superior article for sale by,

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, March 22d. tf

Musical Notice.

THE Braintree Brass Band, take this opportunity to return their sincere thanks to their friends and patrons for the kind and liberal patronage hitherto bestowed upon them, and would respectfully announce to the public generally, that they are prepared to furnish Music on all occasions to the satisfaction of their patrons.

Application made to David H. Bates, near the Rev. Mr. Sewers Meeting House, will meet with prompt attention.

Braintree March 15th 3m*

Notice.

THE Meeting (fourth adjourned) of the Creditors of Josiah Pratt and Nathan Pratt & Co, will be holden at the Office of the Commissioner of Insolvency in Quincy, on the ninth day of April next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at which meeting Creditors are to present and prove their claims.

By order of Francis Hilliard Esq., Commissioner.

Witness, { WM. S. AORTON, GEO. H. FRENCH.

Quincy March 15th 1w

Notice.

PROPOSALS will be received until the 25th inst. at noon for a Superintendent of the Alms House, to take charge of the Town Farm. For further information inquire of either of the Subscribers

Directors of the Poor, { BRYANT B. NEWCOMB. NOAH CUMMINGS, LEWIS BASS.

Quincy March 15th 1851. 1t,

Bounty Lands.

CLAIMS for BOUNTY LANDS by Soldiers in the War of 1812—or any Indian War since 1790; Widows and Minor Children, attended to, and warrants obtained, by

WALTER A. KINGSBURY, Weymouth, Mass.

Weymouth, Feb. 1, 1851. 6m

Cholera, Dysentery, &c.

DR. E. HAYDEN offers for sale various articles for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, &c.

among which are Wilbraham's Vegetable Syrup; Anodyne, (a celebrated East Indian remedy;) Peruvian Summer Cordial; Arnold's Balsam; Holloway's Comfortery Cordial; Jayne's Carminative Balsam; Cholera Drops; Whittwell's Sulphur and Liver Pills. And a variety of other articles, for sale as above.

Quincy July 20. tf

Let the Public Call.

THE subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, of the best material only used, and the workmanship will vie with any other establishment

In addition to business and promptness to orders, a share of support is solicited.

RALPH LOWE.

April 12th.

Israel W. Munroe.

HAS for sale at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO., a good assortment of

West India and West India Goods, Crockery and Hard Ware, Shoes, Hats and Caps, Paper Hangings, at every article kept in a variety store, at prices for cash or approved credit.

Jan. 11, 1851. tf

Onions.

SETTS of prime Onions, for sale by

H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Oct 12th, 1850. tf

New Goods.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.,

have recently made large additions to their stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows:

Delaine, a good assortment, very low;

Ginghams in great variety;

Patches, some very low, for Comforters

Cotton Flannels, of all colors

in all colors;

Assortment of Bleached and Unbleached Sheetings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and per yard;

With a GREAT VARIETY of other Goods which will be sold at the

VERY LOWEST PRICES.

August 23. tf

Crockery and Glass Ware.

Added to our previous assortment, new and beautiful patterns of Tea and Dining Setts, Washbowls, Pitchers and Ewers.

H. A. RANSOM & Co.

Sept 1. tf

Cider Vinegar.

Pure, and for sale by the subscribers, who barrels extra Cider vinegar.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Aug. 27, 1850. tf

SALOON OF FASHION

NEW ARRANGEMENT FOR 1851

GEORGE SAVIL & CO., Washington St. Quincy.

WOULD most respectfully inform their Friends and the Public that they have Secured the services of

MR. JOHN GILLESPIE

a gentleman every way qualified to take the charge of their

CLOTHING DEPARTMENT,

and are now prepared to give all who may favor us with their patronage any kind of Garment required, which for EASE STYLE and Fashion guranted to suit the Most FASTIDIOUS.

We have received a large Selection of Cloths Cassimeres and Vestings of the Richest Style and best qualities which will be made into Garments on the most reasonable terms, and satisfaction given in all cases.

Also. Constantantly on hand a large assortment of Genteel

READY MADE CLOTHING.

For Sale at the Lowest prices.

GEORGE SAVIL & Co., Washington St Quincy a few rods East of the Stone Meeting House.

Quincy March 15th tf

Commissioners Notice.

TO Francis Hilliard, Esq., Commissioner of Insolvency for the County of Norfolk.

The subscriber a creditor of Lincoln Newton of Braintree in said County Boot Manufacturer, an insolvent debtor, against whom proceedings are pending and who has proved his claim against the estate of said insolvent debtor, respectfully represents, that the claims of the several creditors against the estate of said Insolvent have been paid and they are fully satisfied.

Hetherefore prays that the proceedings now pending before you against said Insolvent debtor may be vacated. As in duty bound will now pray.

signed GILMAN THOMPSON,

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK SS, On the foregoing petition, it is ordered, that the petioner give notice of the pendency thereof to all persons interested in the estate of said insolvent debtor by publishing a true copy of said petition and of this order thereon, in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed at Quincy, they may appear before said Commissioner, in Roxbury on the twenty second day of March A. D. 1851, at ten o'clock in the forenoon to show cause if any they have, why the prayer of said petiton should not be granted.

Given under my hand the 10th day of March A. D. 1851. signed FRANCIS HILLIARD, Commissioner of Insolvency

A true copy of the petion and of the order thereon

Attest WM. GASTON, Clark,

Quincy, March 12th 2w

Paper Hangings.

LARGE Lot of

PAPER HANGINGS.

of 1 to 6 Rolls—some of high Cost—will be closed off from 25 to 50 pr. ct. discount from cost, to make room for a prime assortment early in the spring

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, Feb 1, 1851. tf

To Let.

PART of a House, on Centre Street, apply to

EBENEZER ADAMS,

Quincy March 15th 3w

Particular Notice

MRS. BROOKS contemplating a change of business will sell her stock of Millinery and Fancy Goods, at cost for two weeks, and great bargains may be anticipated.

All indebted are requested to settle, and all having demands to present them for payment before the 1st of April ensuing

ELIZA BROOKS.

Quincy, March 15th. 2w

Select School.

A School for advanced Scholars will be opened in the Lyceum Hall in Braintree, on Monday, April the 7th to continue eighteen weeks, under the charge of Mr. S. D. Hayden.

For particulars see circulars to be had of C. GILL & Co Quincy Book Store.

Braintree, March, 12th tf

To Let.

THE Rooms formerly occupied as a paint Shop over the harness Manufactery of Theo. Kellogg

J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, March 15th, tf

Bees and Honey.

MRS. E HAYDEN, offers for sale a few Hives of Bees in prime order at a fair price

Also Honey in the comb

March, 1st tf

Found!!

IN Quincy on Tuesday last, a Bundel containing various valuable articles, which the owner can have by proving property, and paying charges, on application to James Rundlett, about one forth of a Mile above the Episcopal Church, on the Tanpike, leading to Weymouth,

Quincy, March 8th tf

List Carpeting.

for sale by

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, March 8th. 1s

Potash.

WARRENTED of the very best quality, and for sale by

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, March, tf

Dissolution of Copartnership.

THE COPARTNERSHIP heretofore existing between the subscribers, under the firm of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO., is by mutual consent this day dissolved.

All persons having demands against said firm, are requested to present the same, and all persons indebted are respectfully requested to make payment to either partner,

JOSIAH BRIGHAM.
ISRAEL W. MUNROE.

Quincy, January, 1st, 1851.

ISRAEL W. MUNROE,

WILL continue the business at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO., and hopes by close personal application to business to receive a continuance of the patronage so long and liberally bestowed on the late firm.

Quincy, Jan. 4th. 1851. 3w.

TREES! TREES!!

At the "UNION PRICES."

ELI HAYDEN has for sale at his Nursery on Franklin Street, in Quincy, from five to one thousand.

PEAR TREES!!

of the most improved varieties—large size, on Pear and Quince Stocks, which I have just imported from France.

CHERRY TREES

of choice selections, varying in price, from 20 cents to $1.

GRAPE VINES

in prime order; of the Isabella and Catawba kinds.

GOOSEBERRY & CURRANT BUSHES

together with a large lot of

ASPARAGUS ROOTS

Also, a lot of SEEDLING PEAR TREES, from one to three years old

Quincy, March8, 1851. 4w*

House to Let.

A GOOD Dwelling House consisting of four rooms an the lower floor and five chambers, with a good garden, very pleasantly situated on Sea Street in Quincy, and well calculated to accommodate a gentlemen doing business in Boston, and wishing to reside with his family in the country, being within three minutes walk of the Old Colony Railroad Depot

Apply to JOSIAH BRIGHAM,

Quincy March 15th. tf

To Let.

A Convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated on Common Street, recently occupied by the Widow Driver, with about three acres of good Land, with several fruit trees; an excellent well of water, and a small Barn. Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND.

Quincy, Aug. 19. tf

To Let.

A house pleasantly situated on high St., with a good Shoe Makers Shop attached, possession given the first of April

Apply to JOHN GLOVER, Jr.

Quincy, March, 8th 3w

GUARDIAN'S SALE OF Real Estate in Quincy

PURSUANT to a License from the Court of Probate, for the County of Norfolk, dated March 1st, 1851, will be sold at Public Auction, on

MONDAY,

the twenty fourth day of March, instant, commencing at three o'clock, in the Afternoon, so much of the Real Estate of

HARVEY FIELD,

of said Quincy, adjudged a spendthrift, hereafter mentioned, as may be necessary to produce the sum of Five Thousand and twenty-seven dollars, for the payment of his just debts and charges of guardianship

Said Real Estate consists of about half an ACRE of LAND; with a DWELLING HOUSE thereon.

Also, Ten HOUSE LOTS, containing about one quarter of an Acre of Land each, situated on the Westerly side of the Neponset Turnpike, about one half a mile, northerly, from the Hancock House, in said Quincy, being part of the Estate purchased by said Field of Daniel Greenleaf, Esq

Also, Two House Lots containing about one half an Acre of Land each, situated on Liberty Street, in said Quincy

Also, Two HOUSE LOTS, containing about one fourth of an Acre of Land, each, situated on Mount Pleasant, (so called,) near the house of Job Faxon, Esq., in said Quincy.

The Auction will commence with the Lot of Land with the DWELLING HOUSE, thereon; first above mentioned on the premises; and the several Lots of Land next, above mentioned, will be sold afterwards, on the same day, on said Lots respectively, as soon as the same can be done properly and conventently.

Also, At five o'clock, P. M., on the same day, will be sold at the Hancock House, in said Quincy, about seven ACRES of WOODLAND, situated in said Quincy, adjoining land of Mr. Josiah Hayden, being the same Woodland formerly owned by Joseph Field, deceased, father of said Harvey.

THOMAS ADAMS, Guardian.

Roxbury, March 5, 1851. 3w

For Sale.

THE late residence of the REV. WM. ALLEN, near the Episcopal Church in Quincy. Apply to THOMAS B. HAWKES, No. 10 Exchange Street, Boston.

West Woodstock, Conn. Sept. 7th, 1850. 3m

For Sale, or To Let.

A new and convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated, on Common Street, with a barn and about one acre of Land with Fruit Trees thereon, to be leased or sold. Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND.

Quincy, Nov 9th. tf

Farm to Let

TO BE LET, on a Lease, for one or more Years; the FARM known as the

"MOUNT HOPE FARM."

Formerly belonging to the late Col. Edward Glover; situated on the Squantum Road, in Quincy. Said Farm is located within about six miles of Boston, and has long been improved as a Milk Farm.

The buildings are in good repair and pleasantly located.

For further information please enquire of the Subscriber, Railway Village, Milton.

EBENEZER POPE.

Milton, Feb. 15, 1851. 6w*

House For Sale

A one story and a half House, convenient for two families, built in a substantial manner, with a SHED and about three fourths of an acre of LAND, situated on Granite Street, and about one fourth of a mile from the South Quincy Depot. Will be sold at a bargain, and payments made easy. For particulars, inquire on the premises of

ALPHEUS HUNT.

Quincy, Nov. 16 6m

At Private Sale.

ONE ELLIPTIC SPRING COVERED WAGON, was well built, had has not been used but little

Also, A four year old Cow, to calve about the 1st of April, ensuing.

Also, Four Cords of Cow manure.

Apply to DANIEL DINEGAN.

Quincy, March 8, 1851 3w*

Quincy and Boston, Express.

ALDRICH and BARRY, would respectfully announce to their friends and the publick in the town of Quincy that they will run two trips per day over the Old Colony Road.

All business and packages left in their charge promptly attended to and delivered.

Leaves Boston, 10 Court square at 8 o'clock A. M and 2 1-2 P. M.

Leaves Frenches Hotel Quincy, at 10 1-2 A. M 4 1-2 P. M.

ELI ALDRICH. ENOCH BARRY.

Quincy, March 8th 3 w

NEW DRY GOODS Establishment! REMOVAL.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

Have removed to their new and splendid

Wholesale and Retail Establishment

Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,

BOSTON,

Which is the largest sales-room in the United States being 150 feet long and 60 feet wide;

And would invite the attention of Purchasers to their large Stock of Goods, surpassed in extent and variety, by any Stock exhibited in New England, consisting of

SHAWLS

Of every description, in entire new designs, both long and square.

Plaid Shawls from the Bay State Mills,

Also from the best manufacturers in Scotland.

SILKS & SATINS

Of every quality, style and price, in new and beautiful colors and novel styles, for Cloaks and Dresses.

BLACK SILKS,

Of pure boiled silk, of superior lustre and durability.

Beautiful watered & plain Poplins.

DRESS AND CLOAK GOODS.

Our Stock is large and various, comprising all cost and Styles, from the lowest to the most costly.

Merinos, Thibets and Cashmeres, with Velvits Silks and Cambrics to match, in all colors and shades.

HOUSE KEEPING GOODS.

Linens, Linen Sheetings, Pillow Case Linens Shirtings, Damasks, Damask Table Covers, Napkins Doylies, Sheetings, Flannels, Blankets, Quilts, Comforters and Prints.

BROADCLOTHS & CASIMERES.

EMBROIDERIES,

The largest assortment in the city.

HOSIERY ND GLOVES

SHIRTS AND DRAWERS,

Ladies', Gents' and Children's;

Handkerchiefs, Scarfs, &c., &o.

In fact, all articles usually found in different store may be found in this Establishment.

The Goods will be freely shown, and customers may rely upon receiving the most respectful attention and will find the goods at uniform low prices, as we import our own Goods, and have but one price.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

NEW STORE, Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET BOSTON.

Oct 5. 3m

Commonwealthof Massachusetts.

NORFOLK SS. Probate Office Feb 22d 1851.

Upon the petition of John A. Green, and Harrison Keith, of Quincy, in said County, sureties upon the bond given by Mary Newcomb and Thompson Baxter, of said Quincy, to the Judge of Probate for said County, for the faithful performance of the duties of Executors of the will of

JOHN NEWCOMB,

late of said Quincy, deceased praying that they may be discharged from all further liability on said bond

Ordered—that the said petitioners notify the said Mary and Thompson, and all other persons interested, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same, at a Court of Probate, to be holden at Roxbury, in said County, on the twenty second day of March, A. D., 1851, at two o'clock in the afternoon, by causing the said Mary and Thompson, to be served with this Order fourteen days before said Court, and by publishing this order three weeks successively in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot printed in said Quincy.

S. LELAND, Judge of Probate.

Quincy, March 8th 3w

Straw Carpeting.

4-4 5-4 and 6-4 Straw Carpeting, for sale by

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, March 8th. tf

Grass Seed.

JUST received, a new supply of Northern HERDS GRASS, RED TOP and CLOVER SEED, which will be sold as cheap, for CASH, as can be bought in Boston or elsewhere.

D. BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, March 8th. tf

Furniture and Feathers.

for sale by

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, March 8th.

Granite Quarries For Sale.

IN QUINCY.

ABOUT Sixty Acres of Land belonging to the late Capt. JOSIAH BASS, with several valuable STONE LEDGES on the same It will be devided into Lots to suit purchasers For further information inquire of LEWIS BASS

Quincy Feb 22d tf

Linen Cambrick Hnd'k's.

LADIES in want of Handks are invited to examine.

I. W. MUNROE.

Quinco, Feb. 14th, 1851. tf

MUFFS.

I. W. MUNROE has a few Muffs remaining, which will be sold very cheap.

Quincy, Feb, 14th 1851.

Crockery and Glass Ware.

GOOD assortment for sale at the very lowest prices, please examine prices and quality before purchasing.

I. W MUNROE

Quincy, Feb, 14th, 1851.

NEW DE LAINES AND PRINTS, just received and for sale at

I. W. MUNROE,

Quincy, Feb 14th, 1851, tf

WORLD'S FAIR ART UNION

UNDER the management of the NEW YORK ART UNION COMPANY, incorporated by the Legislature of New York;

OFFICE:—50 WALL STREET, NEW YORK. [Over the American Exchange Bank.]

COMMITTEE:—

W. DEAN, Esq. | RICHARD MOTT, Esq
W. C. HORNFRYER, Esq. | I. TOWNSEND, Esq.
T. WATTS, Esq. | W. S. McKENZIE Esq

I. TOWNSEND, Secretary.

Shares---$5 Each

FIFTY PRIZES!

Each Subscriber for every $5 subscribed will receive a magnificent engraving of the 'World's Fair,' and one chance in the distribution of Fifty Prizes.

Each prize is a free first cabin passage to London and back, and $100 in money.

A person drawing a prize who does not desire to go to London, or to go by the vessel provided by the Company, may receive an equivalent for the right of passage in money.

The drawing is fixed for the 25th of March, in the City of New York, and express notice of the place and hour of drawing will be sent to each Subscriber.

A remittance of $45 will secure 10 shares.

Clubs of less than 10 may deduct 5 per cent, and Clubs of 10 or more may deduct 10 per cent.

Remittances by mail will be at the Company's risk

Funds current at place whence sent taken at par.

Drafts must be made payable to the Secretary.

The shares are selling rapidly, and as the number to be sold is limited by the charter of incorporation, applications for shares must be sent forthwith.

If a remittance arrive after the shares are all taken the money will be returned.

Shares and further particulars may be obtained at the Office of the New York Art Union Company, 50 Wall Street, New York.

By Order,

I. TOWNSEND, Secretary.

New York, March 8, 1851. 3w

DRY GOOD'S

NOTICE.

THE undersigned most respectfully inform the public that they keep constantly on hand a large Stock of

DRY GOODS,

well adapted to the wants of the community.

At all times can be found a good assortment of

Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinets and Doe-Skins, Prints, De Laines, Cashmeres, Alpaccas,

and a great variety of

DRY GOODS AND SHAWLS,

Sheetings, Shirtings, Flannels, and Blankets,

With a good Assortment of such artices as are usually found in a well selected

Stock of Dry Goods.

Feeling confident that our prices will insure a ready sale, our GOODS will be freely shown to all wishing to examine them.

GEORGE SAVIL & CO.,

Washington Street: Quincy.

A few rods east of the Stone Meeting House.

Quincy, October 5. tf

Notice.

THE public, are hereby informed that from, and after this date, that I have givin my son, Lemuel his time, and that he hereafter will be free to act for himself.

ALDEN FRENGH,

March 1st 1851 3w

Babbitts Cytherean Cream of SOAP.

expressly for the use of Ladies.

BABBITT'S PANARISTON SHAVING CREAM for Gentlemen, HONEY SOAP, MUSK SOAP, Low's genuine old brown Windsor and a great variety of other soap for sale by

MRS E HAYDEN

Quincy March 1st tf

JUST received, a good assortment of GENTLEMENS', LADIES and MISSES

INDIA RUBBER SHOES

of the best quality, for sale cheap, by

I. W. MUNROE

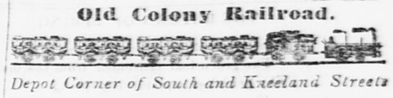
Quincy, Jan. 11th, 1851. tf

BROAD CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, TWEEDS and VESTINGS, for sale at a great discount from former prices.

Please call and examine before purchasing, at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

Old Colony Railroad.



Depot Corner of South and Kneeland Streets

PASSENGER TRAINS DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS—

For Plymouth, 8 1-2 A. M.; 4 1-2, P. M.

For Bridgewater, 8 1-2 A. M.; 4 1-2 P. M.

For Quincy and Braintree, 7 3-4, 8 1-2 A. M.; 1 3-4, 4, 4 1-2, 6, 9 1-4 P. M.

For Bingham and Cohasset, 8 1-2 A. M.; 6, P. M.

For Milton, U. M., 9 3-4 A. M.; 1, 2 3-4, 5 1-2, P. M.

Plymouth for Boston, 7 1-4 A. M.; 3 1-4 P. M.

Bridgewater for Boston and Plymouth, 7 1-2 A. M.; 3 1-2 P. M.

Cohasset for Boston, 6 3-4, A. M.; 4 P. M.

Milton U. M. for Boston, 7, 10 1-2 A. M.; 1 2-4 4 3-4, P. M.

Braintree for Boston, 7.18, 8 1-2, 8 40, 11 04, A. M. 2 48, 4 1-2, 5 13, P. M.

☞ The 5 P. M. Train from Boston for Plymouth will not stop short of South Braintree.

JOS. H. MOORE, Sup't.

Boston, July 25. tf

Trains leave Quincy for Boston as follows:—

7 24, 8 38, 8 47, 11 10, A. M.; 2 54, 4 39 5 16 P. M

W B. Learned

HAVING taken the Store formerly occupied by E. C. Redfern, and recently by D. R. Adams, takes this method of informing his friends and the public that he has just received and is now opening a well selected stock of

WATCHES

JEWELRY

—AND—

Fancy Goods.

Suitable for Christmas and New Year's Presents.

Persons wishing any thing in his line are invite to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

☞ Particular attention given to the REPAIRING of Watches and Jewelry.

Hancock Street, Quincy, Dec. 21, 1850. tf

Chowder!!!

THE Subscriber takes this method to inform the Citizens of Quincy that he has taken the

"FRANKLIN STREET SALOON."

Where may always be found such articles as OYSTERS, PIGS FEET, LAMB'S TONGUES, PICKLED CLAMS, and other Refreshments.

Also, CONFECTIONARY, CIGARS, etc.,

CHOWDER, twice a week Wednesday, and Saturday. Open day and Evening

CHARLES C BRACKETT,

Quincy, Feb 8th tf

NEW ENGLAND PROTECTIVE

Union, Division No. 179.

JUST opened on Washington Street, a few doors below the Stone Temple, in the Store resently occupied by J. Williams.

The Company respectfully solicit the attention of the public to their mode of Trade, and examine for themselves the quality of their Goods, and their Prices, which will be always exhibited upon a bulletin board.

Their Stock of Goods consists of all kinds of Groceries, Country Produce, FLOUR, CROCKERY WARE, &c.

All of Superior quality, and sold at the lowest possible advance from cost.

No Damaged, Mixed, or inferior goods will be offered for sale.

Quincy, Oct 5. tf.

Executrix Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Executrix of the will of JOSIAH FRENCH, late of Braintree in the County of Norfolk, yeoman deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

RACHEL FRENCH Executrix

Braintree March 15th 3w*

Family Bbiles.

WE continue to sell BEAUTIFUL QUARTO BIBLES, of superior quality and binding, at unprecedentedly low prices. Many have availed themselves of the opportunity offered in a former notice, to purchase a good Bible cheap. We have more left, and invite all to call and examine before purchasing.

C GILL & CO

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Quincy, Jan 4th., 1850. 3w.

ALL READY

AND NOW OPENING

NEW STYLE OF FALL AND WINTER TRADE,

JUST RECEIVED AT THE

Town Hall Cloth and Clothing Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO,

WOULD Respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made great additions to their present expensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would particularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect THEIR STOCK before buying elsewhere, feeling confident we can sell BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.

N. B.—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN, ENGLISH and FRENCH and AMERICAN GOODS. Some of the RICHEST VEST PATTERNS, and a HOST OF PANTALOONERY!

BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVEY DESCIPTION ON HAND,

Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.

HATS CAPS &C.

P. S.—RUSSELL & CO., having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for public and private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of every article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.

——NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.——

Quincy, March 23.

POETRY.

THE RETURN OF SPRING.

Dear as the dove, whose wafting wing
The green leaf ransomed from the main,
Thy genial glow, returning spring,
Comes to our sheres again;
For thou hast been a wanderer long,
On many a fair and foreign strand,
In balm and beauty, sun and song,
Passing from land to land.

Thou bring'st the blossoms to the bee,
The earth a robe of emerald dye,
The leaflet to the naked tree,
And rainbow in the sky;
I feel thy blest benign control,
The pulses of my youth restore;
Opening the spring of sense and soul,
To love and joy once more.

I will not people the green bowers,
With sorrow's pale and spectre band;
Or blend with thine the faded flowers
Of memory's distant land.
For thou wert surely never given
To wake regret from pleasures gone;
But like an angel sent from Heaven,
To soothe Creation's groan.

Then when the groves thy garlands twine,
Thy spirit breathe in flower and tree,
My heart shall kindle at thy shrine,
And worship God in thee;
And in some calm, sequestered spot,
While listening to thy choral strain,
Past griefs shall be awhile forgot,
And pleasures bloom again.

WE ALL MIGHT DO GOOD.

We all might do good
Where we often do ill,—
There is always the way
If we have but the will;
Though it be but a word
Kindly breathed or suppress,
It may guard off some pain,
Or give peace to some breast.

We all might do good
In a thousand small ways—
In forbearing to flatter,
Yet yielding due praise—
In spurning ill humor
Reproving wrong done,
And treating but kindly
Each heart we have won.

We all might do good,
Whether lowly or great
For the deed is not gauged
By the purse or estate;
If it be but a cup
Of cold water that's given
Like the 'widow's too mites,'
It is something for heaven.

THE BETTER WORLD.

Friend after friend departs;
Who hath not lost a friend!
There is no union here of hearts,
That find not here an end;
Were this frail world our final rest,
Living or dying, none were blest.

Beyond the flight of time—
Beyond the reign of death—
There surely is some blessed clime
Where life is not a breath;
Nor life's affections transient fire,
Whose sparks fly upwards and expire.

There is a world above
Where parting is unknown;
A long eternity of love
Formed for the good above:
And faith beholds the dying here,
Translated to that glorious sphere!

Thus star by star declines,
Till all are past away;
As morning high and higher shines
To pure and perfect day:
Nor sink those stars in empty night,
But hide themselves in heaven's own light.

ON MARRIAGE.

Marriage like a flaming candlelight,
Placed in the window on a summer night,
Inviting all the insects of the air
To come and sing their pretty winglets there,
Those that are out, but heads against the pane;
Those that are in, but to get out again.

A GEM.

The flower beheld the star above,
And longed to reach its airy love,
But longed in vain. A dew drop fell,
Into the rich and fragrant bell,
And then the star was imaged there,
As though it dropped from upper air,
And glancing down from heaven had come,
To seek on earth a kindred home.

ANECDOTES.

"Is there much water in the sistern, Biddy?" Inquired a gentleman of his Irish girl, as she came up from the cellar. "It is full on the bottom sir, but there's none at all on the top," was the reply.

"Sam where have you been?" "We've been swimming, father." "We! Who swam with you?" "Nobody, sir." "Well, but you said, we've been swimming, didn't you?" "We have been swimming father." "Who did you swim with, then, you young rascal?" "We! I swam with the tide, dad." The youngster hardly dodged a potato that was sent at his head.

When are little boys in the hands of aggrevated school ma ma, like wise men in council. When she puts their heads together.

Notice.

THE Subscribnr returns his thanks to his friends and the public generally who have favored him with their custom—and would say to those who are purchasing goods, thet he intends keeping a good Assortment of

WEST INDIA GOODS AND GROCERIES:

OF ALL KINDS—Also,

BEEF, PORK, BACON, LARD, & POTATOES,

— AND —

FLOUR:

Of various kinds—by the Barrel or Bag—as low as can be bought for Cash or Credit.

N. B. And delivered as usual.

GEORGE H. LOCKE.

Quincy, Feb, 15, 1851.

Super Cashmere Scarfs.

A GOOD Assortment of Colors and Sizes, just received, and for sale very low, at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

Quincy, Jan. 18, 1851. tf

Hats and Caps.

2 CASES, Fall stylo, just received, and for sale cheap for cash, by

A. B. PACKARD.

Quincy, Dec. 6. 6w

HAT AND CAP STORE

A. B. PACKARD has remodled his Store, making the sales room twice as large as formerly, where he intends keeping a large stock of

HATS AND CAPS,

suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle-aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.

Also,

A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring styles.

Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Ginghams, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c.

With that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers' use

Quincy, April 13. tf

Crockery Ware.

A Splendid Assortment of CROCKERY WARE just received and for sale at the Union Store, on Washington Street, Quincy

Blue Stone Chine Tea Setts	-	1,75
Mulbury " " " -	-	1,75
Light Blue " " " -	-	1,37
White " " " -	-	1,37

— AND —

A Good Assortment of GLASS & BRITANIA OIL & FLUID LAMPS

Quincy, Dec 7 1850: tf

Beef and Pork.

A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere.

Also—Fresh BEEF and PORK, constantly o hand, and delivered to any part of the town free expense. H. A. RANSOM & CO.

m16 tf

Hats and Caps.

For sale at very low prices by

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy March 8th.

Salt Pork and Beef.

A FIRST rate article of PORK and BEEF, packed by the subscribers and for sale by the barrel or in smaller quantites to suit purchasers, cheap for CASH. J & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy. March 16th. tf

New England Protective Union.

DIVISION.....No. 180.

AT the STORE recently occupied by Mr. Frederick Hardwick on Franklin street, may be ound a good assortment of

GROCERIES, CROCKERY and GLASS WARE.

Together with a supply of

OOA T MAKERS' FINDINGS.

— ALSO —

BEEF,
PORK,
SAUSAGES,
TRIPE,
LARD,
MACKEREL,
PICKELS,
POTATOES, &c.

All of which will be kept constantly on hand, and will be sold, at a small advance from cost, for cash.

The public are invited to call, and examine our goods, and become acquainted with our mode of trade

N. B—The spacious Hall over the store will be let on favorable terms.

☞Goods delivered to any part of the town free of chearge ☜

Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. tf

Notice.

THE Subscribers return their thanks to their friends and the public generally who have favored them with their custom, and would say to those who are purchasing goods, that we intend keeping as good assortment of English, West India goods and Groceries of all kinds.

Also, Beef, Pork, Bacon, Lard, Mackerel, and Vegatables, which will be sold as low as can be bought elsewhere for cash or credit.

Also, Flour by the barrel or bag, as low as can be bought for cash.

N. B. Goods delivered as usual

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5th. tf

☞Shirts.....Shirts☜

I. W. MUNROE, has just received a prime assortment of

☞.....FINE SHIRTS.....☜

of the latest style, which will be sold at very low prices.

Quincy, Jan. 25, 1851. tf

Bakery Business.

THE subscribers respectfully inform the public that they have commenced the baking bnsiness at the bakery formerly occupied by L. G. Horton, and hope by their constant attention to the business to merit a share of the public patronege.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Jan. 18th, 1851. tf

Mattresses.

PALM LEAF and HUSK MATTRESSES just received and for sale as low as can be bought in the City, and delivered at any part of this Town, free of expense.

I W MUNROE.

Quincy, March 8th. tf

Pies, Puddings, Custards, &c.

MRS. E HAYDEN has on hand, a variety of articles for flavoring, viz:—

Peach water; Rose water; etc., etc. Essence of Rose, Cinnamon, Lemon, etc.

Also—Sweet Marjoram, Sage, Summer Savory, Thyme, &c.

Quincy, Nov. 16. tf

New Paper Hangings.

A GOOD assortment of new Pattens just received and for sale by

I W MUNROE.

Quincy March 8th.

Paper Hangings.

3 TO 400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by

D BAXEER & CO.

Quincy, March 8th.

Flannels.

WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels Twilled and plain, an assortment just received and for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washington Street Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21 tf

CASH

PAID FOR

OLD IRON, COPPER, BRASS,
PEWTER, LEAD, GLASS,
Rubbers and Ink Bottles, Junk,
COBDAGE, PAPER STOCK &c.

—BY—

A. B. PACKARD.

Pure Cider Vinegar.

BY the gallon or barrel, just received, and for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

Salt Pork.

A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quncy March 9th, tf

Dyer's Washing Fluid.

A first rate article for washing clothes. For sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Sept 14 tf

Cider Vinegar.

FIRST rate article of good, Cider Vinegar. Just received and for sale by

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, August 17. tf

Bay State Long Shawls.

AN Assortment just received of the different sizes Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the lowest prices, by GEO. SAVIL and Co., Washington Street, Quincy.

Quincy, Sept 21. tf

W. Porter.

DEALER IN

Pine, Spruce and Hemlock
LUMBER,
CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,
LATHS, PICKETS,
CEDAR POSTS, &c.,

At his new Wharf near Brackett's.

Quincy, July 31 tf

Magazines.

LADY'S BOOK, GRAHAM'S, SARTAN'S, PETERSON'S HARPER'S

And other Magazines:

LIVING AGE, BLACKWOOD, NORTH AMERICAN.

And other Reviews:

CHRISTIAN EXAMINER, MONTHLY RELIGIOUS MAGACZINE, UNIVERSALIST QUARTERLY, MERRY'S MUSEUM, GOLDEN AGE,

And many others:

For which Subscriptions will always be received and the Numbers promptly furnished—Or:

Single copies sold at the lowest prices, at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Quincy, Feb 15, 1851. 4w

French Calf Boots.

MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a FIRST RATE FIT WARRANTED, by W. S. UNDERWOOD,

Hancock St., Quincy,

Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.

Quincy, May 5. tf

Velvet Trimmings.

JUST Received, an assortment of Velvet Trimmings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by

GEO SAVIL & Co., Washington St.

Quincy, Sept 21. tf

Wool Frocking.

200 TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.

Also—FROCKS ready made.

DANIEL BAXTER £Co.

Quincy, Sept. 20. tf

Prepartion for the Hair.

THE celebrated "Der Schon Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Gloss; Camm's Spanish Lustral, or medicated hair preservative; 'Tompkins' Chlorion gustrale: Batchelor's instantaneous hair dye; Jules Haules vegetable hair dye. For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

Boot Makers's Shop to Let

ON Washington street; a few rods frem the Old Colony Depot. The Shop is pleasantly situated and well lighted! It is suitable for carrying on the businnss, and will comfortably seat eight or ten persons. It will be let to one person, or by the single seat.

N B. A limited number can be accommodated with board.

For informatton enquire on the premises of

G. W. KENISON.

Quincy, Feb. 15, 1851.

Particular Notice

THE Subscribers respectfully inform their customers and the public, that on and after the First of OCTOBER next, all goods will be sold at reduced prices for cash only.

All those who wish to buy cheap, are invited to call, as the prices cannot fail to suit them.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Sept 7th. tf

Watches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at the Store of GEORGE B. FOSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum,) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortment of

Gold and Silver
WATCHES,
Silver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Ric
HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

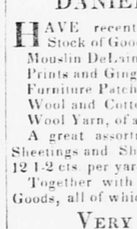
His attention will be given personally, at all times, to the REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF WATCHES, which his long experience in that department with Mr. JEFFREY R. BRACKETT, entitles him to the confidence of his friends and customers.

☞His friends and acquaintance when in Boston are invited to call.

THOMAS S. JOHNSON.

Boston, Feb. 23. 1stf

Mrs. E. Hayden.



GRATEFUL for the patronage she has received for more the twenty years, offers to her friends and the public an ENLARGED STOCK of the best

FAMILY MEDICINES,

Selected and Prepared with care

—ALSO—

Various articles for the use of the sick, among which are, SPOUT DRINKING CUPS; Leech Glasses; Nursing Tubes, of Porcelain, ivory and silver, with and without bottles; India Rubber Breast Pumps, glass Pipes and Shells: Pratt's Patent Nursing Shields; India Rubber and Box-Wood do; Bed Pans;
Metal and Glass Syringes;
Crain's, Ingall's and Chapin's Supporters;
Horse Hair Mittens;
English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow;
Spread Plasters, on kid, cloth and paper;
Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes;
Dtistering Paper and Tissue Pressing; European Leeches, &c, &c.

Physicians' Prescriptions,

Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH.

She has also on hand and is constantly receiving the New and Popular Medicines of the day.

Washington St., rear of Stone Temple.

Quincy, Oct. 20. tf

Crockery and Glass Ware.

JUST added to our previous assortment, new an choice patterns of

Tea and Dining Setts, Washbowls, and Ewers.

H A RANSOM & Co.

Quincy Sept 1. tf

Bounty Land.

FOR SOLDIERS' OF THE WAR OF 1812—and of any Indian War since 1790, their widows and minor children, obtained All claims, bustuess, and suits, under any of the PENSION or PATENT LAWS of the United States,—also PROBATE and other business connected with the settlement of Estates, of deccased persons attended to by

EBEN. SMITH, JR.

Boston, Dec. 28, 1850. 3m

Onions.

50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, for sale by

H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Oct 12th, 1850. tf

New Goods.

—o—

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.,

HAVE recently made large additions to their Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows:

Mouslin DeLaine, a good assortment, very low;
Prints and Ginghams in great variety;
Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters
Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors
Wool Yarn, of all colors;
A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and 12 1-2 cts per yard;

Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other Goods, all of which will be sold at the

VERY LOWEST PRICES.

Quincy, August 31. tf

Cider Vineger.

JUST received, and for sale by the sbuscribers, twenty barrels extra Cider vinegar.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850. tf

Periodical Agency.

C. GILL & Co. are Agents for all the Quarrlye, Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free from any expense for Postage or transportation. All who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time for which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices. tf Quincy, Dec. 22.

Cholera, Dysentery, &c.

MRS. E. HAYDEN offers for sale various articles for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, &c.

Among which are Whiteman's Vegetable Syrup; Java Balsam, (a celebrated East Indian remedy!) Billings's Summer Cordial; Arnold's Balsam; Holden's Dysentery Cordial; Jayne's Carminative Balsam; Anti-Cholera Drops: Whitwell's Sulphur and Charcoal Pills. And a variety of other articles, for the same diseases

Quincy, July 20. tf

Let the Public Call.

THE subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, stock of the best material only used, and the workmanship will vie with any other establishment

By attention to business and promptness to orders, a liberal share of support is solicited.

RALPH LOWE.

Quincy April 13th.

Israel W. Munroe.

OFFERS for sale at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO., a good assortment of

ENGLISH and WEST INDIA GOODS, CROCKERY, GLASS and HARD WARE, SHOES, HATS and CAPS, PAPER HANGINGS,

And almost every article kept in a variety store, at the lowest prices for cash or approved credit.

Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. tf

BOSTON MUSEUM,

Tremont Street,..... Boston.

ALWAYS OPEN DAY AND EVENING.

THIS MUSEUM is the largest, most valuable, and best arranged in the United States. It comprises no less than

SEVEN DIFFERENT MUSEUMS,

to which has been added the present year, besides the constant daily accumulation of articles, One Half of the celebrated

PEALE'S PHILADELPHIA MUSEUM,

swelling the already immense collection to upwards of

HALF A MILLION ARTICLES,

the greatest amount of objects of interest to be found together at any one place in America; and an entirely

NEW HALL OF WAX STATUARY,

One Hundred Feet in length, filled to its utmost capacity with WAX FIGURES of the size of life, simply and in groups, to the number of upwards of TWO HUNDRED, which have been in preparation for the last two years by a corps of the most distinguished artists to be found in either the old country or the new, and are so NATURAL and LIFELIKE as to

Mock Reality,

and lead the beholder to doubt whether the figures do not actually live and breathe. Among the most prominent will be found the celebrated Tableaux of

CHRIST'S LAST SUPPER

with his Twelve Disciples; representing the consternation and dismay of the chosen ones at the moment when he told them that ONE OF THEM SHOULD BETRAY HIM.

THE PRODIGAL SON,

returned home clothed in rags, and received by his forgiving father. The imposing spectacle of

THE CRUCIFIXION,

composed of more than forty figures; a correct representation of that event, according to the best received authorities.

Christ Disputing with the Doctors;

a characteristic group of seven figures.

THE GAME OF LIFE,

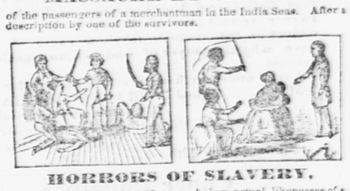
in which is shown the Christian and Satan contending for the mastery.

THE SIAMESE TWINS,

and their beautiful American wives.
Representation by nine figures, of the

MASSACRE BY PIRATES

of the passengers of a merchantman in the India Seas. After a description by one of the survivors.



HORRORS OF SLAVERY,

as exemplified by seven figures, being actual likenesses of a slave-owner, a slave-driver, and their victims.

MURDER OF MISS McCREA,

by the Indians during the Revolutionary war; a thrilling group, showing the characteristics of the Red Men.

INTEMPERANCE,

and its certain evils; illustrated in three groups, the last a correct picture of a

Wife Murdered by her Husband.

Also, groups of a School,—a Milliner's Shop,—a Shoemaker's Shop,—a Barber's Shop,—a Blacksmith's Shop, &c., as well as a variety of single figures of distinguished men, &c., with upwards of

One Hundred of Cabinet Size,

rendering it the largest collection of Wax Figures in America. The entire of the above, and the immense collection of

BIRDS, BEASTS, FISH, INSECTS & REPTILES,

obtained from all parts of the world, together with innumerable varieties of Natural and Artificial Curiosities;

Paintings, Engravings and Statuary,

OIL PORTRAITS

of the GREAT and GOOD of all nations,—Naval and Military Heroes, Patriots, Statesmen, and Divines;—Rare Coins and Medals;—Shells, Corals, and Fossils;

EGYPTIAN MUMMIES,

and ancient Sarcophagi, 3000 Years old; and an entire

Family of Peruvian Mummies;

the DUCK-BILLED PLATYPUS, the connecting link between the BIRD and BEAST, being evidently half each;—the curious half-fish, half-human

FEJEE MERMAID,

which was exhibited in most of the principal cities of America, in the years 1840, '41, and '42, to the wonder and astonishment of thousands of naturalists and other scientific persons, whose previous doubts of the existence of such an astonishing creation were entirely removed;

Elephants and Ourang-Outangs;

ANIMALS and BIRDS of every nation: Sharks, Seals, and a variety of FISHES, including the curious

SAW AND SWORD FISH,

all in lifelike preservation; the whole forming a School of Instruction, blended with Amusement, that for extent and interest is unequalled in the known world;—the whole to be seen for the small admission fee of

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

In Addition to which, and

WITHOUT EXTRA CHARGE,

visitors are admitted to the gorgeous Exhibition Hall, which has been newly decorated at an expense of nearly five thousand dollars, where they can witness the magnificent

THEATRICAL ENTERTAINMENTS,

given EVERY EVENING, and WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, by a Company of Comedians and an Orchestra of Musicians, admitted to be SUPERIOR to any ever before collected in this country, with the aid of

Stage and Scenic Arrangements,

the most grand and superb ever seen in either Europe or America! thus warranting the universal admission that the Boston Museum, besides being the most comfortable and genteel, is also the

Cheapest Place of Amusement

IN THE WORLD! A single visit will prove the truth of the assertion, as the admission is only

☞ 25 Cents to the Whole!!! ☜

Boston, Sept. 14th 1850. tf.

BOSTON MUSEUM,

Tremont Street, ... Boston.

ALWAYS OPEN DAY AND EVENING.

THIS MUSEUM is the largest, most valuable, and best arranged in the United States. It comprises no less than

SEVEN DIFFERENT MUSEUMS,

to which has been added the present year, besides the constant daily accumulation of articles, One Half of the celebrated

PEALE'S PHILADELPHIA MUSEUM,

swelling the already immense collection to upwards of

HALF A MILLION ARTICLES,

the greatest amount of objects of interest to be found together at any one place in America; and an entirely

NEW HALL OF WAX STATUARY,

One Hundred Feet in length, filled to its utmost capacity with WAX FIGURES of the size of life, singly and in groups, to the number of upwards of TWO HUNDRED, which have been in preparation for the last two years by a corps of the most distinguished artists to be found in either the old country or the new, and are so NATURAL and LIFELIKE as to

Mock Reality,

and lead the beholder to doubt whether the figures do not actually live and breathe. Among the most prominent will be found the celebrated Tableaux of

CHRIST'S LAST SUPPER

with his Twelve Disciples; representing the consternation and dismay of the chosen ones at the moment when he told them that ONE OF THEM SHOULD BETRAY HIM.

THE PRODIGAL SON.

returned home clothed in rags, and received by his forgiving father. The imposing spectacle of

THE CRUCIFIXION.

composed of more than forty figures; a correct representation of that event, according to the best received authorities.

Christ Disputing with the Doctors;

a characteristic group of seven figures.

THE GAME OF LIFE,

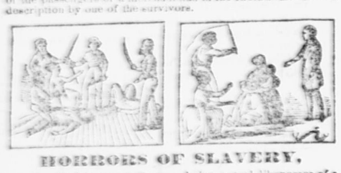
in which is shown the Christian and Satan contending for the mastery.

THE SIAMESE TWINS,

and their beautiful American wives. Representation by nine figures, of the

MASSACRE BY PIRATES

of the passengers of a merchantman in the India Seas. After a description by one of the survivors.



HORRORS OF SLAVERY,

as exemplified by seven figures, being actual likenesses of a slave-owner, a slave-driver, and their victims.

MURDER OF MISS McCREA,

by the Indians during the Revolutionary war; a thrilling group, showing the characteristics of the Red Men.

INTEMPERANCE,

and its certain evils; illustrated in three groups, the last a correct picture of a

Wife Murdered by her Husband.

Also, groups of a School,—a Miller's Shop,—a Shoemaker's Shop,—a Barber's Shop,—a Blacksmith's Shop, &c., as well as numbers of single figures of distinguished men, &c., with upwards of

One Hundred of Cabinet Size,

rendering it the largest collection of Wax Figures in America. The entire of the above, and the immense collection of

BIRDS, BEASTS, FISH, INSECTS & REPTILES,

obtained from all parts of the world, together with innumerable varieties of Natural and Artificial Curiosities;

Paintings, Engravings and Statuary,

OIL PORTRAITS

of the GREAT and GOOD of all nations,—Naval and Military Heroes, Patriots, Statesmen, and Divines,—Rare Coins and Medals,—Shells, Corals, and Fossils;

EGYPTIAN MUMMIES,

and ancient Sarcophagi, 3000 Years old; and an entire

Family of Peruvian Mummies;

the DUCK-BILLED PLATYPUS, the connecting link between the BIRD and BEAST, being evidently half each;—the curious Turkish Janissaire

FEJEE MERMAID,

which was exhibited in most of the principal cities of America, in the years 1840, '41, and '42, to the wonder and astonishment of thousands of naturalists and other scientific persons, whose previous doubts of the existence of such as astonishing creation were entirely removed;

Elephants and Ourang-Outangs;

ANIMALS and BIRDS of every nation; Sharks, Seals, and a variety of FISHES, including the curious

SAW AND SWORD FISH,

all in lifelike preservation; the whole forming a School of Instruction, blended with Amusement, that for extent and interest unequalled in the known world;—the whole to be seen for the small admission fee of

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

In Addition to which, and

WITHOUT EXTRA CHARGE,

visitors are admitted to the gorgeous Exhibition Hall, which has been newly decorated at an expense of nearly five thousand dollars, where they can witness the magnificent

THEATRICAL ENTAINMENTS,

given EVERY EVENING, and WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, by a Company of Comedians and an Orchestra of Musicians, admitted to be SUPERIOR to any ever before collected in this country, with the aid of

Stage and Scenic Arrangements,

the most grand and superb ever seen in either Europe or America, thus warranting the universal admission that the Boston Museum, besides being the most comfortable and genteel, is the Cheapest Place of Amusement

in THE WORLD! A single visit will prove the truth of this assertion, as the admission is only

☞ 25 Cents to the Whole!!!

Boston, Sept. 14th 1850. tf.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.....OVER MESSRS. JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO'S STORE.....HANCOCK STREET.

NUMBER 13. QUINCY (MASS.) SATURDAY, MARCH 29, 1851. VOLUME 15.

JOHN A. GREEN,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance—Two DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid till the end of six months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till the expiration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will be stopped previous to the payment of all arrearages unless at the option of the proprietor. When subscribers wish their papers discontinued, they will give notice to that effect at the time their subscription expires. Every subscriber will be held responsible for the payment of his paper so long as it is sent to his address at the Post Office, Tavern, or any other place wheresoever he may have ordered it, until legally notified to the contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspicuously, inserted at the customary prices. The number of insertions required must be marked on the advertisement, otherwise they will be continued until ordered out and charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business; and all advertisements for the benefit of other persons, as well as all legal advertisements, and advertisements of auction sales, sent in by them, must be paid for at the usual rates.

Business letters and communications addressed to the Editor, postage paid, will receive early attention.

☞ Single copies of the paper, FIVE CENTS.

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscriptions:

JOSIAH BABCOCK,	Quincy Railway.
GEORGE H. LOCKE,	" Stone Quarries.
ORIN P. BACON,	Dorchester.
FISHER A. KINGSBURY,	Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVERLY,	Abington.
SAMUEL A. TURNER	South Scituate.
N. B. OSBORNE,	Salem
FREEMAN HUNT,	New York City.

MISCELLANY.

THE TWO EXPRESSES AND THE ARTIST.

It was the middle of the year 1812, that year the latter months of which witnessed the annihilation of the French army on the plains of Russia. Such a catastrophe was far from the thoughts of a single inhabitant of Paris, when, one morning in the month of June, the celebrated artist Redoute was on his way to Malmaison to present to the Empress Josephine some paintings of lilies. He was a great favorite with her, from his having devoted his pencil to flowers, of which she was passionately fond. In full enjoyment of the lovely morning, he was gayly crossing the garden of the Tuileries to get to the Place de la Concorde, where he intended taking a coach, when he saw a crowd eagerly hurrying in the direction of the walk by the water-side. The general cry, "The King of Rome!—the empress!" soon told him the object of attraction and the artist quickened his steps, glad of the opportunity, thus by chance afforded him, of seeing the son of the emperor, the yet cradled child of fifteen months, whom so proud a destiny seemed to await.

It was indeed the King of Rome, in a little carriage drawn by four snow white goats, and the Empress Maria-Louisa walking by its side. She was wrapped in a blue shawl, of a peculiar shade, known to be her favorite color. The crowd had gathered outside the grating, around which they pressed closely; and as Redoute stopped to gaze with the rest, he saw standing near him a young woman with a child in her arms. The garb of both bespoke extreme poverty; but the child's face was glowing with health, whilst the cheeks of the mother were pale and emaciated, and from her sunken eyes fell tears, which she cared not either to wipe away or conceal.

"My poor little one!—my darling!" she whispered, as she pressed the child still closer to her bosom, 'you have no carriage, my angel; no playthings—no toys of any kind. For him abundance, pleasure, every joy of his age; for thee, desolation, suffering, poverty, hunger! What is he that he should be happier than you darling? Both of you born the same day, the same hour! I, as young as his mother, and loving you as fondly as she loves him. But you have now no father, my poor babe, you have no father!'

The artist overheard these words of woe, and stood with his eyes fixed upon the poor young mother, in utter forgetfulness of the King of Rome.

'Madame, said he, after a moment's hesitation and in a low voice, 'why do you not make known you situation to the empress?'

'To what purpose sir?' cried the young woman somewhat bitterly. 'Small compassion have the great ones of this world.'

"But why not make the attempt?'

'I have done so, sir, already. I wrote to the empress, and told her my son was born the same day, the same hour, with the King of Rome. I told her, alas! that he has no father, that my strength is failing, that we are utterly destitute. But the empress has not deigned to answer.'

'You will have an answer, rest assured Perhaps the memorial has not yet been placed before her majesty. Give me your address, I beg of you.' And, after taking a memorandum of it, and slipping into her hand all the money he had about him, Redoute was soon rapidly making his way to the Place de la Concorde, where just as he was stepping into a carriage, he discovered that his purse was empty.

'It is of no consequence,' he said; "I have only to walk a little fast.'

Josephine, meanwhile had been eagerly expecting the promised visit of the usually punctual artist, and was beginning to feel uneasy lest some accident had occurred to occasion the prolonged delay, when he was announced.

'I ought to scold you,' she said, as she received with her wonted gentle grace the artists offering, 'for delaying the pleasure I feel in seeing this admirable drawing.'

'I must throw myself upon your majesty's goodness to excuse me,' answered Redoute, inconsiderately. 'I had never seen the King of Rome, and to-day I have been fortunate enough to catch a glimpse of him.' Josephine started, and Redoute, instantly aware of the awkwardness of mentioning the meeting, stopped suddenly in confusion.

'I am Very glad,' said Josephine, making a strong effort to repress her emotion, 'that you have seen the son of the emperor. Pray tell me where you saw him, and who was with him?' Redoute hesitated.

'Pray, pray go on,' said she gently, but earnestly. He obeyed; and told her every particular he had observed, as well as what had delayed his arrival by obliging him to walk to Malmaison.

'I see the great artist, as always happens, has a feeling heart,' said Josephine, her sympathy aroused for the poor woman. 'If Napoleon did but know the destitution of this child, born the same day, the same hour with his son! Be with me to-morrow morning at nine o'clock; we will together visit this poor creature." And the next morning at nine o'clock Redoute was at Malmaison; and an hour after, Josephine, undeterred by the dark, narrow, muddy passage and the equally dark, damp stairs increasing in steepness every step, had entered the wretched apartment, utterly bare of furniture, in the fifth story, inhabited by the widow of Charles Blanger.

'Madame,' said Redoute, to whom Josephino had made signs to introduce her and the object of their visit, 'you may rest assured that if the emperor knew your situation, he would give you relief; but there is now no necessity to trouble him. This lady, whom I have the honor to accompany, is good enough to say she will take you under her protection is all sufficient.'

'What a lovely boy!' cried Josephine as the little orphan sat up in his cradle, and smilingly stretched out his little arms to his mother. 'Redoute,' she said, as she took the child and kissed it, 'did you not tell me that he was born the same day with the King of Rome?'

'The same day and hour, madame,' answered the young mother.

'Was it mentioned to the emperor at the time?'

'No madame; we were happy then, and my poor Charles had too independent a spirit to ask anything from any one while he could work. He was an engineer, and though employment fluctuated, yet still we were never reduced to want. At his leisure time he used to construct modle-machines, from one of which, novel and ingenious in the invention, he expected both fame and pecuniary advantage; but he has been suddenly taken from me, and I am left alone to struggle with misery and wretchedness; I am sinking lower and lower, and gradually every resource has been exhausted. Alas I need not tell you!' and she glanced sorrowfully around the miserable little apartment.

'To morrow you shall quit this wretched, unwholesome abode,' said the empress, as she gave the child to its mother, after fondly caressing him, and putting her purse into his little hand. 'I will send you my own physician; his skill, and the comforts with which I hope to surround you, will restore your health. I rely on you, my good friend, added she, turning to the artist, 'to arrange all this for me.'

She was rising to quit the room, amid the tears and blessings of the widow, whose heart she had 'made to sing for joy,' when the door opened, and a young lady entered at sight of whom Redoute stood motionless with astonishment. It was Maria-Louisa, aecompanied by a newly-appointed chamberlain. As Maria-Louisa was never known to visit the poor in his abode of poverty, Redoute had some excuse for the uncharitable judgment he formed on the instant—that this unusual proceeding on her part was intended either as an attempt to rival Josephnie in the popularity gained by her active and unwearied benevolence, or to please the emperor, as proving the lively interest she took in a child born the same day and hour with the King of Rome. But whatever might have been her motive, certain it is that she was now standing in the widow's humble abode without deigning a salutation to any one in it.

Josephine was sweetness and gentleness itself bnt there was something in this want of common courtesy that grated upon the pride of caste which, as a Creole of an illustrious race, the wife of the greatest captain of the age, and as one still feeling herself the empress, she retained amid desertion and the disgrace of her repudiation; It may be, too that she recognized Maria-Louia, though she had only seen the portraits of her who now filled her place; and she herefore resumed her seat, as if fearful that her standing might have been construed into homage. Maria-Louisa, on her part, was far from suspecting that the female so simply dress-ed, so quietly seated in the miserable garret, was her still envied rival.

As the artist glanced from Maria-Louisa to the beautiful face of Josephine—for it was still beautiful, though bearing the impress of grief even more than of years—he observed that an unwonted expression of haughty disdain now clouded that brow, usually so radiant with benevolent kindness, and he half dreaded the result of this unexpected encounter. And now Maria-Louisa, without one caress to the child, or noticing in any way, explained in a few words the object of her visit.

'Your intention is most laudable, doubtless, madame,' said Josephine, still keeping her seat 'but you are rather late; the young mother and the child are under my protection.' Maria-Louisa, with a haughty glance at her who thus presumed to address the empress, said coldly, 'I have some reason to believe that my patronage will be a little more advantageous.' Here the chamberlain quickly interposed, 'It is quite certain that you, madame, have the power of elevating the boy to any position you may choose for him, however high.' With a momentary bitterness of feeling, excited by the involuntary retrospect of what she once had been, Josephine's disdainful eye seemed to measure the speaker from head to foot, as she said, 'And pray, what leads you to conclude that I am not able to raise whom I will still higher?'

'The lady doubtless intends,' said Maria-Louisa in a tone of irony, 'to place her protege on the steps of the throne.'

'Higher still, madame, if such were my pleasure, warmly retorted Josephine, now rising to withdraw; 'for aught you can tell, I may have given kings to the world.'

'Beware, madame,' hastily whispered Redoute, 'your majesty will betray yourself, and the emperor will be displeased.' Josephine was silent; and the artist, who was upon thorns, hastily added, 'I do not see why either of these ladies need give up her share in the happiness of doing good. I shall feel honored in accepting for my happy proteges whatever kindness it may please either to bestow on them.' Josephine made no answer, but with head erect left the room, and Redoute, respectfully bowing to Maria Louisa, was following, glad to have prevented an outbreak which might have had serious consequences, when a hand laid upon his arm made him turn round: it was the chamberlain.

'Sir,' said he in a low whisper, 'do you know that the lady whom I have had the honor of attending here is her majesty, the Empress Maria Louisa.'

'Sir,' said Redoute, in an equally low voice, 'the lady that I have had the honor of attending here is the Empress Josephine.'

In less than two years after this meeting Josephine had sunk under the never-healed wound that Napoleon's desertion had inflicted, and died at Malmaison; and Maria Louisa had, it may be joyfully, quitted a country which she had never loved, and in which she never succeeded in making herself beloved. During these two years the widow had lived upon the daily bounty of her royal patronesses, and was consequently now as destitute as when they first entered her abode of poverty. In vain had Redoute often placed before Josephine his view of what patronage, to be really useful, ought to be—the helping others to help themselves. In vain had he urged her to establish the widow in some way of earning her independence.—'Time enough for this when the boy is grown up.' But death came, and reverse of fortuue, and no friend now remained to the widow and the orphan but the artist, and nought remained to him from the vast wreck but his talent and his reputation. Circumstances might indeed render the productions of his pencil less a source of emolument, but these circumstances were but temporary; the artist would again rise to fame and fortune, while Napoleon and Maria Louisa had fallen irretrievably.

Redoute acted on the principle he would have had the widow's royal patronesses to act; he procured employment for the widow; and, thanks to his influence, she was enabled to earn sufficient to place her above want, while he took upon himself the education of her child.—But the mother's health was failing; and when Redoute, previous to a short absence from Paris, went to take leave of her, she expressed her belief that he would not find her alive at his return, and with tears she solemnly commended her boy to his care. Though he had not attached much weight to her presentiments, yet it was with a somewhat uneasy feeling that, immediately on his return, he went to the house. The door was open; and as he ran up stairs, a sound reached him which struck upon his heart: they were fastening down the coffin of the widow, and in a corner of the room was the little Charles weeping bitterly. Some distant relations stood by the coffin in cold and audible debate as to what was to be done with the child.

'I see nothing for him but the Orphan Asylum,' said one.

'Oh, no, no! pray do not send me there,' cried the child. 'My own dear mamma worked for her bread, and so can I. You do not know how much I can do if you will but try me.'—At this instant he caught a glimpse of Redoute, and throwing himself into his arms, he exclaimed, 'You are come back, dear, good friend, and you will not send me to the asylum!' The artist pressed the poor boy to his bosom.

'Have you no hearts?' he said, indignantly turning to the relations. 'This boy shall be my care.' And what the most powerful among the powerful had not done, he did—he, the comparatively obscure and humble artist. He secured to his protege present comfort and future respectability, by teaching him, as soon as possible, to help himself. Charles Blanger became not only his best pupil, but a celebrated painter, making the same use as his noble-minded master of that knowledge which is power, and of that talent which is one of those possessions described by Aristides in his celebrated maxim, 'Heap up no treasures save those which, should shipwreck come, will float with the owner.'

HEALTH AND DISEASE.

The idea that climate and soil affect the physical developement of mankind is as old as Hippocrates; and is confirmed by constant experience. Statistical tables especially place this great fact in a striking light. The chances of longevity, for instance, are proved by the tables of mortality, to be greatly in favor of temperate and even frigid countries, as distinguished from those lying within the torrid zone. Batavia, the West Indies, and even Sicily, are far less healthy than Norway, Sweden, or the United States generally, though the former lie under a sky that is almost ever bright, while the latter are almost continually vexed with storms or darkened by a clouded heaven. It is where endemic fevers prevail, in short, that life is more uncertain. Our Southern States, the West Indies, the lower part of Italy, the Ionian Islands, the west coast of Africa, and generally all low and marshy districts in warm climates, are particularly ravaged by these acute diseases; and at such places the ratin of human life is at the lowest. The inclement skies of Canada or New England, and the incessant rains of Great Britain are less hurtful to longevity, strange as it may seem. Even consumption, the dire foe of man in northern climates, fails to swell the mortality in such places to that of the torrid zone.

It is curious, as connected with this subject, to trace the prevalence of certain disorders in particular regions of the globe. Thus, diseases of the digestive organs prevail most in India, Africa, England and Guiana. Diseases of the liver hold almost undisputed sway in the East Indies. Dropsy prevails in Great Britain, Guiana and West Africa. Consumption is most fatal in Great Britain, Canada, the United States, and strange to say, Jamaica; in this latter place, especially, it makes terrible havoc among the European troops. In all cases cities are less healthy than the country. In the mortality of towns, a great change, however, has taken place during the last century, owing to the improvements in ventilation, in the general mode of living and in cleanliness. Fevers are less prevalent now, but nervous disorders have increased. Of the cities of Europe, it is remarkable that London, the largest and most crowded of all, is the healthiest; while Vienna, which is one of the most rural in many respects, is also the least favorable to longevity; but this difference is to be atttibuted, in a measure, to the inland climate of the latter, and, in part, likewise, to the gross habits of the Viennese. A cool climate near the sea appears to be the most favorable of all localities for health. Thus, the coasts of New England, exposed as they are in many respects, are not so apt to breed disease, as the shores of Mississippi, or even the balmy valleys of the interior.

The effect of climate can never be properly understood until the relative mortality among natives and strangers is compared; for the natives are accustomed to the climate, while aliens are not. We find that, in India, the mortality among European troops is nearly three times as great as among natives. This holds good even of epidemics, two Europeans having died by cholera to one native, out of every hundred of each. In Barbadoes the mortality among the troops is eighteen out of every thousand, among the natives only ten out of every thousand. Another curious fact is, that the method of living exercises great influence on health. Thus, in the United States, from the rapid manner in which the people eat, and from other causes, diseases of the digestive organs are more prevalent than any where on the globe; for in every thousand persons, at least one half have disorders of these organs, while in England, the number is but ninety-five to a thousand.

Science is slowly increasing the average of human life. A century ago, one out of every thirty of the population died each year; now the average is about one in forty-five. In England the chances have nearly doubled within a hundred years, and the same is true of all the older settled portions of the United States. If we go on at this rate, for a few centuries, improving with each generation, bettering not only the modes of living, but the constitution with which each individual is born, we shall reach the golden age again; and though Methuselahs may be rare as ever, old chaps of a hundred and fifty, like Parr, may become as common as crows in a cornfield.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

ALL ABOUT KISSING

The Naturalist.—A kiss is the bringing into juxtaposition two contrarily charged poles, by which it, like an electric spark, is elicited.

The Moralist.—A kiss is the token of the most intimate communion of love, and is therefore only to be permitted in the married state.

The Physician.—A kiss is the art of so moving the labiel muscles that the lips are first brought suddenly together, and then exposively separated; so that after all a kiss is only an artificial spasm.

The Philologist.—Kiss is an onomato-poetic word, in which the curtness of the thing is represented by the brief sound of the word.

The Antiquarian.—Kissing is a custom handed down to us from the Greeks and Romans, as to the true signification of which we are not perfectly clear. Probably it is a symbollic of the sun's rays greeting the earth; and, if so, doubtless was received with all the others lore of sun-worship from the orientals.

Theologians, (a host of them.)—A kiss is an emblematic action of which the bending of the heavens to the earth is designed to be symbolized.

The Philosopher.—A kiss is that protruding the circle of the lips, whereby the quantative difference of the sine of one is placed in such relation to the quantative difference of the sine of another, and thereby the identity of the subject object with the ideal-real is proved.

The Punster.—A kiss is the gush of one soul to another. The pressing of the lips is the pressing of the lemon into the insipid beverage of life. This pressure is the expression of the impression which oppresses the heart. It is the only press with which no censorship can interfere. Here we still have 'freedom of the press.'

The Lawyer.—The kiss is a nutility in law being neither a right in posse nor a right in esse. Some, however, have considered it as a family right, and would treat it after the analogy of the dos. But L 74 D, de dote constute, does not treat of the kiss at any length. Still, in the married state, we may venture to consider a kiss in the light of a codatio inter vivos.

The Lover.—A kiss is——heaven!

AN INVITATION TO DINNER.

It was observed that a certain rich man never invited any one to dine with him. "I'll bet a dozen," said a wag, "I get an invitation from him." The wager being accepted, he goes the next day to the rich man's house about the time he was to dine, and tells the servant he must speak with his master immediately, for he could save him a thousand pounds.

"Sir," said the servant to his master, "here is a man in a great hurry, who says he can save you a thousand pounds." Out came the master.

"What is that, sir? You say you can save me a thousand pounds?"

"Yes, sir, I can, but I see you are at dinner; I will go myself and dine, and call again."

"O pray, sir, come and take dinner with me."

"I shall be troublesome."

"No, not at all."

The invitation was accepted. As soon as dinner was over, and the family retired, the conversation was resumed.

"Well, sir," said the man of the house, "now to your business. Pray let me know how I am to save a thousand pounds?"

"Well, sir," said the other, "I hear you have a daughter to dispose of in marriage."

"I have, sir."

"And that you intend to portion her with ten thousand pounds."

"I do, sir."

"Why, then, sir, let me have her, and I will take her at nine thousand!"

WHO ARE ARISTOCRATS?

Twenty years ago this one butchered; that one made candles; another sold cheese and butter; a fourth carried on a distillery; another was a conductor on canals; others were merchants and mechanics. They are acquainted with both ends of society—is their children will be after them, though it will not do to say so out loud. For often you shall find that these toiling worms hatch out butterflies, and they live about a year.

Death brings a division of property; and it brings new financiers; the old agent is discharged; the young gentleman takes his revenues, which he reaches before death,—or his children do, if he does not. So that, in fact, though there is a sort of monied rank, it is not hereditary; it is accessible to all; three good seasons of cotton will send a generation of men up; a score of years will bring them all down, and send their children again to labor. The father grubs, and grows rich; the children strut, and inherit the money; their children inherit the pride, and go to shiftless poverty; their children, re-invigorated by fresh plebian blood, and by the smell of the clod, come up again. Thus society, like a tree, draws its sap from the earth, changes it into leaves and blossoms, spread them abroad in great glory, sheds them off to fall back again to the earth, again to mingle with the soil; and at length to re-appear in new trees and fresh garniture.—Hunt's Merchant's Magazine.

RAILWAY STATISTICS.

Hunt's Merchant's Magazine says that, according to calculations, there were in operation at the commencement of 1849, in different parts of the globe, a total length of 18 656 miles of railway, on which a capital of $1 850,825,000 had been actually expended. Besides this it is estimated that there were at the same epoch, in process of construction, a further extent of 7,829 miles, the cost of which, when completed, would be $733 750,000. Thus, when these latter lines shall have been brought into operation, the population of Europe and the United States, (for it is there only that railways have made any progress,) will have completed, within the period of less than a quarter of a century, 26,486 miles of railway; that is to say, a greater length than would completely surround the globe—at a cost of above $2,500,000,000. To accomplish this stupendous work, human industry must have appropriated, out of its annual savings, $100,000,000 for 25 successive years! Of this prodigious investment Great Britain has had a share, which will form not the least striking fact of her history. Of the total length of railway in actual operation in all parts of the globe, twenty seven miles in every one hundred are in the United Kingdom! Of the proportion of the entire amount of capital expended on the railways of the world, $270 in every $500, and of the capital to be expended on those in progress, $340 in every $500, are appropriated to British railways!

VALUATION OF NEWSPAPERS.

A thousand times, says the Macclesfield Courier, have we heard this question and answer: Two gentlemen meet—"What's the news?" says one. "Nothing but what you see in the papers." They pass on about their business. Has it ever been noticed that among the thousand benefits of a newspaper, not the least is, that it does away at once with tittle tattle, gossip, street yarn, foolish exagerations, scandal, newsmonging, which once took up so much of the time of those who were always hearing or telling some new thing. One real evil of social life is thus ended. The man rises in the morning, looks over the paper, and is satisfied that he knows all worth knowing of the passing history of the world. He has nothing to tell and nothing to hear farther. He does not spend his time in giving information which his neighbors know as well as himself. He is not annoyed in the midst of his business or pleasures by the recital of affairs in which he takes no interest. The same with woman. Curiosity is gratified without the loss of time. The scandal of the day has not employed a hundred busy, meddling tongues in its circulation and exagerations. Conversation takes a higher tone. Principles of morals and tastes are discussed; the new poem, the last book, the magazine, or the review, becomes the subject of conversation. Even in the minor matters of life, society owes a large debt to the newspaper.

SCENE IN A DENTIST'S OFFICE.

A male representative from the Emerald Isle enters, hat in hand, with—

'The top o' the morning to ye, sir, an' I got a bad tooth, an' the devil a bit o' comfort can I get short iv a bottle o' brandy; an' I've got one o' Father Mat hey's medals, sure. Now, sir, what'll you be axin to pull me a tooth, sir?'

'Half a dollar,' says the doctor.

'Well,' says Pat, 'what'll ye pull two for?'

'Oh,' replied the doctor, 'I won't charge you anything for pulling the second one.'

Pat seated himself, turned up his mug, and the doctor took a peep at his grinders, and with a little assistance from Pat, soon found which were the ones Pat wanted out.

'This is the first one,' says Pat, 'an' that the second one. Plaze pull the second one out first.'

'Very well,' replied the doctor, 'any way to get them out.' And he pulled.

Before he had time to fix the instrument for the other tooth,—the first one,—Pat had got out of the chair, and was edging towards the door.

'I guess, doctor, I won't have the first tooth pulled till it aches, an' he told me ye would pull the second one for nothing.'

Pat mizzled, and the doctor pocketed the joke instead of the fee.

QUINCY PATRIOT.

SATURDAY, MARCH. 29th, 1851.

John A. Green, Editor.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.—All advertisements and other notices must be brought to this office before three o'clock on Friday afternoon, to insure their insertion. To delay beyond this time, and thus cause us to work all night, will not pay, and cannot hereafter be endured.

GRADUATES IN MEDICINE.—At the semi-annual examination on the 6th of March inst., at the Medical College of Harvard University, among the candidates examined and approved for the Degree of Doctor of Medicine, appear the names of William Samuel Pattee of this town, and William C. B. Tirrell of Weymouth.

MUSICAL.—We understand that Messrs D. F. Felt and N. W. Torrey are to have a Concert, at South Weymouth, on Fast Night, where they will be assisted by Miss. Anna Stone, the Mendelssohn Quintette Club, and others. It is expected that a special train of Cars will run into Boston after the Concert, of which due notice will be given.

ECCLESIASTICAL.—An Ecclesiastical Council has been convened at the meeting house of the 'Union Calvinistic Society,' at South Abington, on Monday and Tuesday of the present week to consider certain charges which had been preferred against Rev Dennis Powers, a member, and late Pastor of the Church. The council consisted of Rev., R. S. Stores, D. D. and Rev. Perkins of Braintree, Rev. A. G. Duncan of Hanover, Rev. J. T. Terry of South Weymouth, Rev. D. Bridgman, of Bridgewater and Rev. P. Couch of North Bridgewater.

APPOINTMENTS.—We are gratified to learn, that Seth Adams, of this town, has been commissioned a Justice of the Peace by the Governor and Executive Council of this Commonwealth. Paul Pratt, of Cohasset, and Ebenezer Eaton, of Dorchester, have received similar appointments.

HANCOCK HOUSE.—This hotel was sold on Monday last, to Messrs. Matthews & Trowbridge, of Roxbury, for nine thousand dollars, about twenty-five hundred dollars less than the incumbrances.

The Furniture of said hotel is to be sold on Monday next, and as it is a positive sale of such a large collection, bargains must be expected. The sale will commence at ten o'clock in the forenoon with the Stable Furniture, Horse, Cows, Hogs, etc.

NEW POSTMASTER. Charles Hunt has succeeded David Spear, as Postmaster at Neponset Village and the office is to be restored to its former location.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?—The following queer notice has been sent for publication:—

"Strayed from home, a child, supposed to be from its size, about one year of age. The anxious author of this compound responsibility who is known, can obtain her pet of the Clerk of the Hancock House, in this town. Hints are not without meaning, and doubtless 'a good time is coming.'"

NOTICE.—Friends who have sent us books and magazines, and other particular favors, must wait until our next issue for an appreciation of their intentions. No favors asked, but criticism shall have its weight.

GENERAL COURT.—An anti-bank report, the principal feature of which is against issuing of small bills, has been submitted to the Senate. The report on the Slavery subject is very strong, goes for the writ of Habeas Corpus, and further protection of personal liberty. Another trial to elect a United States Senator will be made next Wednesday.

The Missouri Legislature passed only six hundred and sixty-five! general and special acts. If the welfare of a State depends upon the amonnt of legislation that is performed for it, Missouri is in a very safe condition.

The Free Population of South Carolina, by the late census, is 283,737. This includes the free blacks, but it is less than half the whole population of the city of New York.

It is proposed in New York to send out a first class ship, to remain six weeks at London, with visitors, at the Fair, if encouragement be offered. The party will live on board the vessel from their departure till their return.

A couple in Green county, Ohio, the husband eighteen and the wife sixteen years of age, who have been married about four years, have two children, one of which is over three years, and the other over one year old.

The Free Negro Law passed by the Delaware Legislature makes any[freb negro or mulatto coming into that State from another, subject to a fine of sixty dollars, and in case of the non-payment and failure of security to leave in five days, he or she is to be sold out of the State for such amount as will cover the fine and costs.

A Dr. William Turner, of New York city, has petitioned the Legislature of the State to pass a law making the use of the lancet in diseases a penal offence.

The Boston Atlas breaks ground in favor of General Winfield Scott as the whig candidate for the next presidency.

The Fort Smith, Ark., Herald states that there is a boy at that place only nine years old who speaks and writes the Hebrew, Latin, French, Spanish and Italian languages with as much facility as he does the English.

There are two cotton mills now in operation in Mobile. The first cloth ever made there was sold by auction at a loss to the Manufacturer.

An ingenious mechanic of New Haven, Conn., has actually made a time piece, which he will warrant to keep good reckoning and which he sells for sixty cents at wholesale and one dollar at retail.—The works are all made of brass. He makes upwards of eight hundred a day of these articles.

A young man in New York, employed on a lighter, received intelligence that he was the rightful owner of the sum of five thousand dollars and that his friends in Scotland stood ready to fork over on his appearance. On the strength of this information he went on a spree, fell overboard, and his heirs are now entitled to the money.

A number of very respectable colored men with their families, residing mostly in the southern section of Baltimore, have been making arrangements to leave that city, and cast their future lot in the Republic of Liberia.

The latest Texas papers are filled with accounts of Indian depredations and murders.

The Pittsburg Post says that 'a lady, wife to one of the most respectable inhabitants of Alleghany county, Pa., was killed by her own daughter, who was about eighteen years of age.

The introduction of Alum Bread, is a practice of long standing in London. It enables the baker to give to bread made of flour of an inferior quality, the whiteness of the best of bread, and to add potato flour, ground beans and peas, to a certain extent, to wheat flour, without materially altering the appearance of the bread.

George Thompson, the abolitionist, now in the country, is severely censured by the English papers for absenting himself from his Parliamentary duties.

A few days since the suspension bridge over the Niagara, from Lewiston to Queenstown, was tested in the presence of a large number of persons.—Thirteen wagons, laden with sand and stone, passed from each side, meeting in the centre; and at the same time one hundred persons on horseback and on foot passed over. The result was satisfactory to the persons concerned.

The orthodox length of a sermon at the Royal Chapel of Queen Victoria is twenty minutes.—George II fixed this, as he could not stand a longer discourse without going to sleep.

A newspaper, in puffing a quantity of fire safes, says that a rooster was put into one during an unprecedented hot fire, and when he was taken out he was frozen to death.

The Legislature of Missouri have resolved to return the disunion resolutions passed by the Nashville Convention without note or comment.

A bill has passed the Nova Scotia House of Assembly, which qualifies every male inhabitant over 21 years of age, to vote for members of the Legislature. This will enfranchise one fourth of the population, who never could vote before.

Lately in Belgium, a man shot his father during a dispute, but abandoned an intention to commiting suicide on "religious scruples." A conscientious rascal.

The French government has decided to execute a railway round Paris, for the purpose of connecting the termini of the different railways.

It is estimated that forty thousand persons are confined to their beds, in Paris, by a prevailing influenza.

The Rev Sebastian Streeter, of the First Universalist Church, in Boston, has united the three thousanth couple, since his installation over his present parish.

One reason why the Londoners omitted the use of wood in constructing the building for the World's Fair, is that they were afraid they would whittle it down.

The New York Express states that movements are now making towards creating a new State, to comprise that city, King's county, Queen's county, Suffold, Richmond and some other counties on the river. The causes prompting this movement are said to be—hostility of the interior, unjust bearing of the proposed School Law, and inequality of taxation.

Tom Hyer, who fought Yankee Sulivan is out in the New York Spirit of the Times with a challenge to fight any man in the world for ten thousand dollars; and offers to give any man from England three thousand to meet him here.

A Law has passed the Legislature of Ohio and which is to take effect on the first of May making it unlawful to issue licences for liquor selling, and to sell spirituous liquors to be drank at the place where sold.

During the trial of a criminal at Othenburg, in Sweeden, lately, the prisoner suddenly drew a pistol from his breast and shot at the public prosecuter. Fortunately, the rascal's aim was bad and he was sentenced to death.

Man is said to be a bundle of habits. What then is woman.

John O'Donnell, an English paper says, has at length determined to abandon his repeal agitation by the shutting up of Conciliation Hall.

One of the witnesses before the Common Pleas at Greenfield, (Mass.) last week, is supposed to be one hundred and fifteen years of age. She is a colored woman and her hearing is good.

The British Admiralty have addressed a circular letter to mail contractors, stating that they will not hereafter approve of any iron steamships for the mail packet service, as offering an ineffectual resistance to the striking of shot, in the case of their being required for the maritime defence of the country.

The Mormons in Great Salt Lake Valley estimate the population of Utah at 30,500. It is expected that this year's emigration would swell the number to 40,000.

Adronico Valiejo, son of M. G Vallejo has received an appointment as cadet at West Point.—Mr Vallejo has the honor of being the first Representative of California in the Military Academy.

John S. Skinner Esq., editor of the Plough, the Loom, and the Anvil, died in Washington last Saturday, in consequence of injuries received by a fall. Hon. Isaac Hill, the veteran of the New Hampshire Patriot, died in the same city on Sunday last. Major Noah breathed his last on Sunday morning in New York city.

Wear you learning, like your watch, in a private pocket; and do not pull it out, and strike it, merely to show that you have it.

John R. Reminton, of Montgomery, Alabama, the inventor of the Remington Ærial Bridge, has patented a new and useful invention. It is a cement, for making solid fences, as durable as granite at a very reasonable cost of construction.

The healthy appearance of English ladies is noticed by all American travellers. And for this they are in a great measure indebted to their passion for gardening. All English ladies work in their flower gardens, from the proudest princess to the poorest cottager.

By a law of France, no priest doctor or attorney is allowed to accept a death bed legacy.

Queen victory has appointed Sir H. L. Bulwer, K. C. B., Envoy extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the United States of America, to be an Ordinary Member of the First Class of Knights Grand Cross of the Order of the Bath.

Rev. Henry Wilberforce, son of the celebrated philanthopist, has, with his wife and children gone over to the Church of Rome. A Romish journal claims that there are two thousand clergymen of the Church of England waiting for the completion of the Romanish Church organization in England to join her ranks.

Go to California---stay there twenty years---work hard---get money---save it---come home---bring with you a load of gold, and a diseased liver—visit your friends—make a will---provide for them all then die---what a prudent generous kind hearted old soul you will be.

The Russians have a method of covering cast iron with silver by means of the galvanic battery, on the same principle as other metal are covered with gold when they are said to be galvanized.

There is a stevedore in New Orleans who wears on Sundays a Parison suit that cost eighteen hundred and jewelry worth eight thousand.

Take a coal made of white pido of the size of a hen's egg, well burnt, pulverize it finely, mix it with enough clean melted tallow to make it of the consistence of thick paste. Two or three applications will make the leather soft, and will keep the water cut. This is an excellent preperation for coarse boots.

The chemical apparatus of the late Professor Webster has been sold at auction in Boston. The sale realized about five hundred dollars.

The Americans in Rome celebrated Washington's birth-day by a grand supper, in which some hundred ladies and gentlemen participated.

President Sparks, of Harvard College, was knocked down and run over by a horse and buggy, on Cambridge bridge on Saturday last and was very seriously injured.

The new Militia Law, which passed the New York Assembly, has also received the sanction of the Senate. The Governor will doubtless give it his assent. Its chief reform is the abolition of militia trainings and fines.

A Railway Train, according to Appleton's Scientific Magazine, going at the rate of seventy-five miles an hour, has a velocity that of one fourth of a cannon ball; and the momentum of such a moving mass, at such a speed, is equivolent to the aggregate force of a number of cannon balls equal to one fourth of its own weight.

She great object of advertising is to attract attention; and he who adepts that mode which accures the most attention is the wisest man, and makes the most money.

NOTICE

Sunday School Celebration.

There will be a genera gathering of the Sunday School connected with the Rev. Dr. Lunt's Society, on the afternoon of Fast Day April 10th, at 2 1-2 o'clock.

Devotional exercises by the Pastor, reports and address to Parents, by the Superintendant; Address to the Teachers by Mr. Lewis G. Pray; Address to the Pupils by the Rev. Charles F. Barnard; Music by the School.

Parents, and all others interested in the School, or the Parish, are respectfully invited to be present.

By order of the Committee of Arrangements.

J. M. WADE, Secretary.

Qnincy March 2d.

MARRIED

In Braintree, 25th inst., by N. L. White Esq, Mr. David T Chubuck to Miss Abby Frances Small, both of this town.

List of Letters

REMAINING in the Post Office at Quincy, and advertised at the close of quarter, March 31st.

A
Adams Otis
Austin S L
B
Brown George
Babcock Robert
Bradley James
Butler John
Brown Hugh
Brieve Johanna 2
Barney Stearns
Billings Thomas O
Bradley John
Berry Garret
Byrne Ellen
Bateman James
Boyle Mary Ann
Buker Gardner M
Brennan James 2
C
Callahan Dennis
Clark Charles
Carney Thomas
Carroll Fanny
Carey Jeremiah 2
Cain A D
Call Peter
Castle Edward
Crowley Johanna
Cushing William
D
Danahy John
Drew John
Darby John
Driskoll John
Davis Samuel A
Dexter Richard W
Dalby Thomas
Dolan Edward
Day Cyrus
Drury Ann Adams
Daily Elizabeth
E
Emery H G
F
Finan John 2
French Daniel F
Fletcher Nancy J
Fry William
Fairbanks Josiah
Fox Frank
Feltus Alex.
G
Gormley James 2
Goodwin George W
Glover James M
Gosger Michael
Gourley William
Galagley Patrick
Griffin Patrick
Goulden John
H
Hurley Jeremiah
Harris John 3
Hennessey Michael
Houghton Wm A
Horace Martin
Hayden Augusta M
Hurley Mister
Hodge Silleges Mrs
Hackett Michael
Hubbard Hannah
K
Keating Jerusha
King John C 2
Kidder Byron A
L
Leloise Ambrose C
M
Madden John
Moran Jane
Murphy Daniel
McCartury Wm
McDonald Donald
McGraw John 2
McCarthy Daniel 2
McChartney Wm
McCullen George 2
Meher Thomas
Moulton Anna W 2
Montjoy Thomas
Murphy Robert
Marsh Francis
McVey James
McCarty Charles
N
Neil Catherine
Newcomb Wm
Nugent Edward
Newcomb George Dr
Nash George
O
O'Connor Lucy
P
Power John
Philbrick Charles P
Piper Alpheus
Parker Edwin S
Pickering Mr
R Rydock Abigail
Reed J
Read Thomas
Reaume Hypolite
Richards John J
Rearidin Barth
S
Sproul Francis
Shanley James
Stanton Michael
Sleeper Orange
Seawards George W
Sargent Shepard
Shaw Susan W
Shuffron Daniel
Sweney Richard
Sumner Jabez
Sullivan Thomas
Simpson H C
T
Toal John
Turner Emeline F
Thompson Justin
Turner Andrew
V Vanstan John
W
White William 2
Wallcott J B
Weston J Mrs
Welch Simon
Wales Shubel
Watson Wm
Williams James

WILLIAM B. BUGBEE, Postmaster.

Quincy March 29th. 3w

Administratrix's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Administratrix of the Goods and Estate of

CLINTON M. GRANT

late of Milton in the County of Norfolk, Stone Cutter deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

RUTH C. GRANT, Administrator.

March 22d, 3w

Executor's Sale of Real Estate.

ON TUESDAY, the 8th day of April next, at two o'clock in the afternoon, will be sold at public auction, by license of the Court of Probate, so much of the Real Estate of ZACHARIAH KINGMAN, late of Weymouth, diceased, hereinafter described, as will produce the sum of thirteen hundred five dollars and sixteen cents, for the payment of his just debts and Charges of administration; to wit.

The Dwelling-house of the said deceased, standing on the Northerly side of West Street in Weymouth, attached to which is three acres of first rate Mowing and Tillage Land.

Also—Ten acres of Mowing and Tillage, on the opposite side of said Street, with a good Barn thereon situated;

Also—Twenty-five acres of Pasture and Wood land, on the said Street, in Weymouth.

Also—About thirteen acres of Mowing and Pasture Land, in Weymouth, on said street, having on it a goodly number of Apple Trees, in thriving order.

Also—About seven acres of Fresh Meadow, in Weymouth, near the house of Benjamin Ells.

Also—Three acres of Salt Marsh, in Weymouth, on Back River, and is fully equal to any on said River.

Also—A Pew on the lower floor of the Old South Meeting-house, (so called,) in Weymouth, numberd 66.

Sale at the Dwelling house of said deceased where the conditions will be made known.

KINGMAN TIRRELL, Executor.

South Weymouth, March 22d 3w*

Trustees Meeting.

THE next Semi-Annual Meeting of the Trustees of the Quincy Saving Bank, will be holden at the Selectmen's Room, on TUESDAY, the 1st, day of April next at 3 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of declaring a Dividend, and the transaction of any other business that may come before the meeting.

I. W MUNROE, Treasurer.

Quincy March 20th. 1w

FRUIT & ORNAMENTAL TREES, &C.

NORFOLK NURSERIES.

IN ROXBURY AND DORCHESTER.

Entrance from EAST STREET ROXBURY,

150,000 FRUIT AND ORNAMENTAL TREES are now offered by the Proprietors, on the most liberal terms.

The collection contains some 200 varieties of Pears including all the latest and best, many of which are of extra size. APPLES, PEACHES, &c., of all the approved sorts.

A very fine collection of ORNAMENTAL TREES mostly of Extra sizes, particularly the MOUNTAIN ASH, MAPLE, ELM, WEEPING WILLOW, LABURNUMS, EVERGREENS etc. Also, 10,000 Currant and Gooseberry Bushes &c.

To Nurserymen and others seeking choice varieties of trees, at low prices, the present offers a rare opportunity to make a selection.

Orders addressed to "The OVERSEER of the NORFOLK NURSERIES, ROXBURY, MASS." or left with W. & S. PHIPPS & Co., old South Block, Milk Street, Boston, will be attended to.

Boston, March 29th 3w

A CARD.

TO THE PUBLIC.

J. A. HOLDEN

WOULD inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that he has just replenished his Stock with a choice selection of FRENCH, ENGLISH, GERMAN & AMERICAN GOODS, comprising BROADCLOTHS, CASSIMERES, DOE SKINS, ERMINETTS and CASHMERETTS. A great variety of superior PANT GOODS, together with Rich Styles of VESTINGS, &c., suitable for the present and approaching season. He is therefore now prepared to furnish his customers with GARMENTS unsurpassed for ELEGANCE and NEATNESS.

Relying upon his ability to serve his customers in a satisfactory manner, he respectfully solicits a continuance of that patronage heretofore so generously bestowed upon him by the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity.

Quincy, March 29th, 1851. tf

Starch Polish.

IN BOTTLES, a superior article for sale by,

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, March 22d. tf

School Notice.

MISS R T PACKARD, would inform the public that her Spring Term will commence April 14th.—She proposes taking a class of boys into her School.

Quincy March 29th. 6w

Doctor Mann

HAS removed to the Cottage built by Rev. Mr. Allen, a few rods south of the Episcopal Church Quincy, March 29th 2w

Executor's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly apointed Executor of the Will of

CHLOE LOVELL,

late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Widow, deceased, and has accepted said trust; and all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are rerquired to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

JAMES LOVELL, Executor

Weymouth, March 29th 3w*

Fencing Stuff.

300 Posts and Rails in Lots to suit purchasers, for sale at the Residence of the late Benjamin Tirrell deceased.

NATHAN TIRRELL.

South Weymouth, March 22d 3w*

Notice.

THE Members of Division No. 180, of the New England Protective Union, are hereby notified to meet at their usual place of Meeting on TUESDAY EVENING next, April 1st, to choose Delegates to attend the (semi-annual) session holden in Boston, on the 2d day of April next at 10 o'clock, A. M., for the transaction of such Business, as may be brought before them for action.

It is desirable that every member be present

Per order of the Chairman

WM. S. GLOVER, Secretary.

Quincy March 29th 1w

Peremptory Sale of Real Estate, in Milton, at Auction.

ON FRIDAY, April 4th, at 4 o'clock P. M., on the premises, weather fair or foul, comprising the House, Barn, &c, with a good well of water, together with from fourteen to fifteen acres of land, now owned and occupied by Mr. Hugh Beaton, who is obliged to leave this section, give up stone cutting from a partial loss of sight, and who is about moving to New York State,) situated at or near 'New State,' so called, about 1 1-2 miles from the Dor and Milton Branch Railroad Depot, in the neighborhood of good Schools, Meeting Houses, &c. The land is of the first quality; is now in good cultivation, and capable of producing great crops of Grass, or is well adapted to the raising of vegetables, or a market garden, or milk Farm; a never failing stream of water running through it. The House, Barn, &c. are well calculated for the Mechanic or Farmer, and are in good order. The premises may be examined previous to the sale, on application to Mr. Beaton, or to

GEORGE THOMPSON, Auctioneer.

Milton. March 29th, 1851. 1w

Livery Stock at Auction.

ON TUESDAY, April first., at one o'clock, P. M. weather fair or foul, at the Railway House Stable in Milton, being the entire stock of Mr. Walter P Haskell, who is about retiring into the country on account of ill health, viz:

7 Horses, some superior and adapted to any kind of work: 2 Milch Cows, 5 Covered Wagons, 2 open do; 3 Covered Buggys, 1 New York built, 2 Strait Spring Chaise. 1 open Buggy, 1 Extension Top Carryall for one or two Horses; 1 Hay Rigging, 1 Horse Cart, 6 Single Sleighs, 2 Pungs, 12 Buffalo Robes, 6 String of Bells, 8 Single Harnesses, 1 Patent Hay Cutter, 2 Double, Do. Lot of Straw, Stable Furniture, Grain Chests, Pitchforks, Rakes, Shovels, 2 Stoves. Also 1 Fowling Piece. &c.

The above may be examined the day previous to the sale. Sale positive to the highest bidder, to close the concern. GEO. THOMPSON, Auct'r.

Milton, March 29th, 1851. 1w

Notice.

THE Annual meeting of the Members of the Quincy Savings Bank will be held at the Selectmen's Room, in the Town House, on TUESDAY the eight day of April next, at 3 o'clock P M for choice of Officers for the ensuing year, and to Transact any other business that may be deemed necessary.

I W MUNROE, Secretary.

Quincy March 29th. 2w

SALOON OF FASH

NEW ARRANGEMENT

1851

GEORGE SAVIL & CO., Washi Quincy.

WOULD most respectfully inform th and the Public that they have Secur vices of a gentleman every way qualified to take of their

MR. JOHN GILLE

CLOTHING DEPART

and are now prepared to give all who ma with their patronage any kind of Garme which for EASY STYLE and Fashion g suit the Most FASTIDIOUS.

We have received a large Selection of simeres and Vestings of the Richest Styl qualities which will be made into Garm most reasonable terms, and satisfaction g cases.

Also. Constantly on hand assortment of Genteel

READY MADE CLOTH

For Sale at the Lowest prices.

GEORGE SAVIL & Co., Washington S few rods East of the Stone Meeting House. Quincy March 15th tf

Paper Hangings.

LARGE Lot of

PAPER HA NGINGS

of 1 to 6 Rolls—some of high Cost—will off, from 25 to 50 pr. ct. discount from co room for a prime assortment early in the s

I. W. MU

Quincy, Feb 1, 1851. tf

To Let.

PART of a House, on Centre Street, EBENEZER A

Quincy March 15th 3w

Particular Notice

MRS. BROOKS contemplating a chang ness will sell her stock of Millinery Goods, at cost for two weeks, and great bar be anticipated.

All indebted are requested to settle, and demands to present them for payment bef of April ensuing

ELIZA BI

Quincy, March 15th. 2w

Select School.

A School for advanced Scholars will be the Lyceum Hall in Braintree, on Mon the 7th to continue eighteen weeks, under of Mr. S. D. Hayden

For particulars see circulars to be had of & Co Quincy Book Store.

Braintree, March, 12th tf

To Let.

THE Rooms formerly occupied as a p over the harness Manufactory of The J. & H. H.

Quincy, March 15th, tf

Bees and Honey.

MRS. E HAYDEN, offers for sale a few Bees in prime order at a fair price

Also Honey in the comb

March, 1st tf

Potash.

WARRANTED of the very best qua for sale by

I W MU

Quincy, March, tf

Dissolution of Copartner

THE COPARTNERSHIP heretofore ex tween the subscribers, under the firm of BRIGHAM & CO., is by mutual consent dissolved.

All persons having demands against said requested to present the same, and all person ed are respectfully requested to make paym ther partner,

JOSIAH BRIGH ISRAEL W. MU

Quincy, January, 1st, 1851.

ISRAEL W. MUNROE,

WILL continue the business at the old JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO., and close personal application to business to m continuance of the patronage so long and bestowed on the late firm.

Quincy, Jan. 4th. 1851. 3w.

Musical Notice.

THE Braintree Brass Band, take this op to return their sincere thanks to their fri patrons for the kind and liberal patronage hit stowed upon them, and would respectfully a to the public generally, that they are prepare nish Music on all occasions to the satisf their patrons.

Application made to David H. Bates, near Dr. Storrs Meeting House, will meet with p tention.

Braintree March 15th 3m*

Flannels.

WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Twilled and plain, an assortment just and for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. W ton Street Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21 tf

CASH

PAID FOR

OLD IRON, COPPER, BR

PEWTER, LEAD, GLASS,

Rubbers and Ink Bottles,

COBDAGE, PAPER STOCK &c.

—BY—

A. B. PACKARD.

Bounty Lands.

CLAIMS for BOUNTY LANDS by Sol the War of 1812—or any Indian War sin their Widows and Minor children, attended Land Warrants obtained, by

FISHER A. KINGSBURY, Weymouth,

Weymouth, Feb. 1, 1851. 6m

Seed Barley.

100 TO 150 bushels of first quality S ley, which will be sold as cheap as bought in Boston or elsewhere.

DANIEL BAXTER &

Quincy, March 22d. tf

...T & ORNAMENTAL TREES, &C.

...ORFOLK NURSERIES.

...XBURY AND DORCHESTER.

...ce from EAST STREET ROXBURY,

...,000 FRUIT AND ORNAMENTAL TREES are now offered by the ..., on the most liberal terms.

...llection contains some 200 varieties of Pears ...all the latest and best, many of which are ...ze. APPLES, PEACHES, &c., of all the ...sorts.

...fine collection of ORNAMENTAL TREES ...Extra sizes, particularly the MOUNTAIN ...APLE, ELM, WEEPING WILLOW, LA...RS, EVERGREENS etc. Also, 10,000 Cur... Gooseberry Bushes &c.

...ergymen and others seeking choice varieties ...t low prices, the present offers a rare op... to make a selection.

...addressed to "The OVERSEER of the ...K NURSERIES, ROXBURY, MASS." or ...W & S. PHIPPS & Co., old South Block, ...et, Boston, will be attended to.

March 29th 3w

A CARD.

TO THE PUBLIC.

A. HOLDEN

...LD inform the inhabitants of Quincy and ...nity, that he has just replenished his Stock ...nice selection of

...H, ENGLISH, GERMAN & AMERICAN ...comprising BROADCLOTHS, CASSI... DOE SKINS, ERMINETTS and CASH... ...TS. A great variety of superior PANT ...together with Rich Styles of VESTINGS. ...able for the present and approaching season. ...erefore now prepared to furnish his custom... GARMENTS unsurpassed for ELEGANCE ...TNESS.

...g upon his ability to serve his customers in ...ory manner, he respectfully solicits a con... ...of that patronage heretofore so generously ...upon him by the inhabitants of Quincy and

March 29th, 1851. tf

Starch Polish.

...TLES, a superior article for sale by,

I W MUNROE.

March 22d. tf

School Notice.

...R T PACKARD, would inform the public ...her Spring Term will commence April ...he proposes taking a class of boys into her

March 29th. 6w

Doctor Mann

...moved to the Cottage built by Rev. Mr. ...n, a few rods south of the Episcopal Church ...

March 29th 2w

Executor's Notice.

...E is hereby given that the subscriber has ...duly appointed Executor of the Will of

CHLOE LOVELL,

...eymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Widow, ...and has accepted said trust; and all persons ...mands upon the Estate of the said deceas... ...uired to exhibit the same, and all persons ...hereto to make payment to

JAMES LOVELL, Executor

...uth, March 29th 3w*

Fencing Stuff.

...Posts and Rails in Lots to suit purchasers, ...for sale at the Residence of the late Benja... ...ll deceased.

NATHAN TIRRELL.

Weymouth, March 22d 3w*

Notice.

...embers of Division No 180, of the New ...and Protective Union, are hereby notified ...their usual place of Meeting on TUES... ...ENING next, April 1st, to choose Delegates ...he (semi annual) session holden in Boston, ...day of April next at 10 o'clock, A. M., for ...ction of such Business, as may be brought ...in for action.

...rable that every member be present

...der of the Chairman

Wm. S. GLOVER, Secretary.

March 29th 1w

...ptory Sale of Real Estate, ...n Milton, at Auction.

...RIDAY, April 4th, at 4 o'clock P. M., on ...premises, weather fair or foul, comprising ..., Barn, &c., with a good well of water, to... ...th from fourteen to fifteen acres of land, ...d and occupied by Mr. Hugh Benton, who ...to leave this section, give up stone cutting ...ial loss of sight, and who is about moving ...ork State,) situated at or near 'New State,' ...about 1 1-2 miles from the Dor and Mil... ...h Railroad Depot, in the neighborhood of ...ols, Meeting Houses, &c. The land is of ...uality; is now in good cultivation, and ...producing great crops of Grass, or is well ...the raising of vegetables, or a market gar... ...ilk Farm; a never failing stream of water ...hrough it. The House, Barn, &c. are well ...for the Mechanic or Farmer, and are in ...r. The premises may be examined previ... ...sale, on application to Mr. Beaton, or to

GEORGE THOMPSON, Auctioneer.

March 29th, 1851. 1w

...ery Stock at Auction.

...ESDAY, April first, at one o'clock, P. M. ...er fair or foul, at the Railway House Stable ...being the entire stock of Mr. Walter P ...ho is about retiring into the country on ac... ...health, viz:

...some superior and adapted to any kind ...2 Milch Cows, 5 Covered Wagons, 2 open ...ered Buggys, 1 New York built, 2 Strait ...ise. 1 open Buggy, 1 Extension Top Car... ...ne or two Horses; 1 Hay Rigging, 1 ...6 Single Sleighs, 2 Pungs, 12 Buffalo ...tring of Bells, 8 Single Harnesses, 1 Pa... ...Cutter, 2 Double, Do. Lot of Straw, Sta... ...re, Grain Chests, Pitchforks, Rakes, Shov... ...es. Also 1 Fowling Piece. &c.

...ove may be examined the day previous to ...Sale positive to the highest bidder, to ...oncern. GEO THOMPSON, Auct'r.

March 29th, 1851. 1w

Notice.

...nnual meeting of the Members of the ...y Savings Bank will be held at the Select... ...n, in the Town House, on TUESDAY ...y of April next, at 3 o'clock P M for ...fficers for the ensuing year, and to Trans... ...er business that may be deemed necessary.

I W MUNROE, Secretary.

March 29th. 2w

SALOON OF FASHION

NEW ARRANGEMENT FOR 1851

GEORGE SAVIL & CO., Washington St. Quincy.

WOULD most respectfully inform their Friends and the Public that they have Secured the services of

MR. JOHN GILLESPIE

a gentleman every way qualified to take the charge of their

CLOTHING DEPARTMENT,

and are now prepared to give all who may favor us with their patronage any kind of Garment required, which for EASY STYLE and Fashion guaranted to suit the Most FASTIDIOUS.

We have received a large Selection of Cloths Cassimeres and Vestings of the Richest Style and best qualities which will be made into Garments on the most reasonable terms, and satisfaction given in all cases.

Also. Constantly on hand a large assortment of Genteel

READY MADE CLOTHING.

For Sale at the Lowest prices.

GEORGE SAVIL & Co., Washington St Quincy a few rods East of the Stone Meeting House.

Quincy March 15th tf

Paper Hangings.

LARGE Lot of

PAPER HANGINGS,

of 1 to 6 Rolls—some of high Cost—will be closed off, from 25 to 50 pr. ct. discount from cost, to make room for a prime assortment early in the spring.

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, Feb 1, 1851. tf

To Let.

PART of a House, on Centre Street, apply to

EBENEZER ADAMS,

Quincy March 15th 3w

Particular Notice

MRS. BROOKS contemplating a change of business will sell her stock of Millinery and Fancy Goods, at cost for two weeks, and great bargains may be anticipated.

All indebted are requested to settle, and all having demands to present them for payment before the 1st of April ensuing

ELIZA BROOKS.

Quincy, March 15th. 2w

Select School.

A School for advanced Scholars will be opened in the Lyceum Hall in Braintree, on Monday, April the 7th to continue eighteen weeks, under the charge of Mr. S. D. Hayden

For particulars see circulars to be had of C GILL & Co Quincy Book Store.

Braintree, March, 12th tf

To Let.

THE Rooms formerly occupied as a paint Shop over the harness Manufactory of Theo. Kellogg

J. & H. H. FAXON

Quincy, March 15th, tf

Bees and Honey.

MRS, E HAYDEN, offers for sale a few Hives of Bees in prime order at a fair price

Also Honey in the comb

March, 1st tf

Potash.

WARRANTED of the very best quality, and for sale by

I W MUNROE.

Quincy, March, tf

Dissolution of Copartnership.

THE COPARTNERSHIP heretofore existing between the subscribers, under the firm of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO, is by mutual consent this day dissolved.

All persons having demands against said firm, are requested to present the same, and all persons indebted are respectfully requested to make payment to either partner,

JOSIAH BRIGHAM.
ISRAEL W. MUNROE.

Quincy, January, 1st, 1851.

ISRAEL W. MUNROE,

WILL continue the business at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO, and hopes by close personal application to business to receive a continuance of the patronage so long and liberally bestowed on the late firm.

Quincy, Jan. 4th. 1851. 3w.

Musical Notice.

THE Braintree Brass Band, take this opportunity to return their sincere thanks to their friends and patrons for the kind and liberal patronage hitherto bestowed upon them, and would respectfully announce to the public generally, that they are prepared to furnish Music on all occasions to the satisfaction of their patrons.

Application made to David H. Bates, near the Rev Dr. Storrs Meeting House, will meet with promt attention.

Braintree March 15th 3m*

Flannels.

WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels Twilled and plain, an assortment just received and for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washington Street Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21 tf

CASH

PAID FOR

OLD IRON, COPPER, BRASS,

PEWTER, LEAD, GLASS,

Rubbers and Ink Bottles, Junk,

COBDAGE, PAPER STOCK &c.

—BY—

A. B. PACKARD.

Bounty Lands.

CLAIMS for BOUNTY LANDS by Soldiers in the War of 1812—or any Indian War since 1790: their Widows and Minor children, attended to, and Land Warrants obtained, by

FISHER A. KINGSBURY, Weymouth, Mass.

Weymouth, Feb. 1, 1851. 6m

Seed Barley.

100 TO 150 bushels of first quality Seed Barley, which will be sold as cheap as can be bought in Boston or elsewhere

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, March 22d. tf

TREES! TREES!!

At the "UNION PRICES."

ELI HAYDEN has for sale at his Nursery on Frenklin Street, in Quincy, from five to one thouand.

PEAR TREES!!

of the most improved varieties—large size, on Pear and Quince Stocks, which I have just imported from France.

CHERRY TREES

of choice selections, varying in price, from 20 cents to $ 1.

GRAPE VINES

in prime order; of the Isabella and Catawba kinds.

GOOSEBERRY & CURRANT BUSHES

together with a large lot of

ASPARAGUS ROOTS

Also, a lot of SEEDLING PEAR TREES, from one to three years old.

Quincy, March8, 1851. 4w*

House to Let.

A GOOD Dwelling House consisting of four rooms an the lower floor and five chambers, with a good garden, very pleasantly situated on Sea Street in Quincy, and well calculated to accommodate a gentlemen doing business in Boston, and wishing to reside with his family in the country, being within three minutes walk of the Old Colony Railroad Depot.

Apply to JOSIAH BRIGHAM,

Quincy March 15th. tf

To Let.

A Convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated on Common Street, recently occupied by the Widow Driver, with about three acres of good Land, with several fruit trees; an excellent well of water, and a small Barn. Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND.

Quincy, Aug. 10. tf

For Sale.

THE late residence of the REV. WM. ALLEN, near the Episcopal Church in Quincy. Apply to THOMAS B HAWKES, No. 10 Exchange Street, Boston.

West Woodstock, Conn. Sept. 7th, 1850. 3m

For Sale, or To Let.

A new and convenient Dwelling House, very pleasantly situated, on Common Street, with a barn and about one acre of Land with Fruit Trees thereon, to be leased or sold. Apply to SAMUEL COPELAND.

Quincy, Nov 9th. tf

Farm to Let

TO BE LET, on a Lease, for one or more Years; the FARM known as the

"MOUNT HOPE FARM:"

Formerly belonging to the late Col Edward Glover; situated on the Squantum Road, in Quincy. Said Farm is located within about six miles of Boston, and has long been improved as a Milk Farm.

The buildings are in good repair and pleasantly located.

For further information please enquire of the Subscriber, Railway Village, Milton

EBENEZER POPE.

Milton, Feb. 15, 1851. 6w*

House For Sale

A one story and a half House, convenient for two families, built in a substantial manner, with a SHED and about three fourths of an acre of LAND, situated on Granite Street, and about one fourth of a mile from the South Quincy Depot. Will be sold at a bargain, and payments made easy. For particulars, inquire on the premises of

ALPHEUS HUNT.

Quincy, Nov. 16 6m

To Let.

TWO lower rooms in a house situated in Summer St. For further particulars inquire of

Mrs JOHN NEWCOMB,

Quincy March, 22d tf

Fruit Trees.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

THE Proprietor is desirous of disposing of a large proportion of the FRUIT TREES in the Nurseries at Hawthorne Grove, Dorchester, Mass, with a view to improvements on the grounds the coming season.

The collection of PEARS, CHERRIES, PLUMS, and other FRUITS, embraces about every approved sort of American or Foreign extant, and is scarcely surpassed in excellence or variety.

SPECIAL CULTIVATION has been bestowed on the PEAR and many thousands of thrifty vigorous trees are ready for transplanting. EXTRA SIZE PEAR TREES, with fruit buds, either on quince or pear roots, such as will soon commence bearing, can be supplied at moderate prices.

Also, all the new varieties of PEARS, CHERRIES, PLUMS, etc., and at lower rates than is generally charged for novelties,

SCIONS for exportation and the home trade can be had from fruit-bearing trees thereby securing correctness of nomenclature

The Collection of Camelias, Roses, Dahlas, and Green-House Plants, is quite extensive—that of the Camelia consists of several thousands Plants, and embraces all the novelties extant.

SELECTIONS, where desired, founded on the experience of many years, will be made by the proprietor, and which will seldom fail to please the correspondent

Address,—"The Superintendant of the Nurseries, at Hawthorn Grove, Dorchester, Mass," to the care of the subscriber, No. 2 Pemi street, Boston.

Grove Hall Coaches leave No. 11 Franklin street four times each day.

MARSHALL P. WILDER.

Dorchester, March 22d tf

Kingsbury & Emerson,

COUNSELLORS AT LAW,

WEYMOUTH, MASS.

F. A. Kingsbury, C. H. Emerson.

One at office Hollis Institute Buildings every Tuesday.

SOUTH BRAINTREE, Mass.

March 22d. tf

Grass Seed.

JUST received, a new supply of Northern HERDS GRASS, RED TOP and CLOVER SEED, which he sold as cheap, for CASH, as can be bought in Boston or elsewhere.

D. BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, March 8th. tf

NEW DRY GOODS

Establishment!

REMOVAL.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

Have removed to their new and splendid

Wholesale and Retail Establishment

Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET,

BOSTON,

Which is the largest sales-room in the United States being 150 feet long and 60 feet wide;

And would invite the attention of Purchasers to their large Stock of Goods, unsurpassed in extent and variety, by any Stock exhibited in New England, consisting of

SHAWLS

Of every description, in entire new designs, both long and square.

Plaid Shawls from the Bay State Mills,

Also 'of from the best manufacturers in Scotland.

SILKS & SATINS

Of every quality, style and price, in new and beautiful colors and novel styles, for Cloaks and Dresses.

BLACK SILKS,

Of pure boiled silk, of superior lustre and durability.

Beautiful watered & plain Poplins.

DRESS AND CLOAK GOODS.

Our Stock is large and various, comprising all cos and Styles, from the lowest to the most costly.

Merinos, Thibets and Cashmeres, with Velvits' Silks and Cambrics to match, in all colors and shades.

HOUSE KEEPING GOODS.

Linens, Linen Sheetings, Pillow Case Linens Shirtings, Damasks, Damask Table Covers, Napkins Doylies, Sheetings, Flannels, Blankets, Quilts, Comforters and Prints.

BROADCLOTHS & CASIMERES.

EMBROIDERIES,

The largest assortment in the city.

HOSIERY AND GLOVES

SHIRTS AND DRAWERS,

Ladies', Gents.' and Children's;

Handkerchiefs, Scarfs, &c., &o.

In fact, all articles usually found in different store may be found in this Establishment.

The Goods will be freely shown, and customers may rely upon receiving the most respectful attention and will find the goods at uniform low prices, as we import our own Goods, and have but one price.

GEORGE HILL & CO.

NEW STORE, Nos. 6 & 8 SUMMER STREET BOSTON.

Oct 5. 3m

Quincy and Boston, Express.

ALDRICH and BARRY, would respectfully announce to their friends and the publick in the town of Quincy that they will run two trips per day over the Old Colony Road.

All business and packages left in their charge promptly attended to and delivered.

Leaves Boston, 10 Court square at 8 o'clock A. M and 2 1-2 P. M.

Leaves Frenches Hotel Quincy, at 10 1-2 A. M. 4 1-2 P. M.

ELI ALDRICH, ENOCH BARRY.

Quincy, March 8th 3 w

At Private Sale.

ONE ELLIPTIC SPRING COVERED WAGON, was well built, and has not been used but little

Also, A four year old Cow, to calve about the 1st. of April, ensuing.

Also, Four Cords of Cow manure.

Apply to

DANIEL DINEGAN.

Quincy, March 8, 1851 3w*

Weymouth and Braintree Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

NOTICE is hereby given that the annual meeting of this Company for the choice of Officers for the year ensuing, will be held, at the Secretarys house in Weymouth, on MONDAY, the 14th day of April next, at 2 o'clock P. M.

T. R. HANSON, Secretary

Weymouth March, 22d 4w

MUFFS.

I. W. MUNROE has a few Muffs remaining, which will be sold very cheap.

Quincy, Feb, 14th 1851.

Straw Carpeting.

4 4 5 4 and 6 4 Straw Carpeting, for sale by

I W MUNROE.

Quincy, March 8th. tf

Furniture and Feathers.

for sale by

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy, March 8th.

Granite Quarries For Sale. IN QUINCY.

ABOUT Sixty Acres of Land belonging to the late Capt. JOSIAH BASS, with several valuable STONE LEDGES on the same. It will be devided into Lots to suit purchasers For further information inquire of LEWIS BASS

Quincy Feb 22d tf

Linen Cambrick Handk's.

LADIES in want of Handks are invited to examine.

I W. MUNROE.

Quincy, Feb. 14th, 1851. tf

Crockery and Glass Ware.

GOOD assortment for sale at the very lowes prices, please examine prices and quality before purchasing.

I W MUNROE

Quincy, Feb, 14th, 1851.

CHOICE & PRETTY.

Geo. W. Warren & Co.

No. 192 Washington Street, Boston,

ARE now opening their SPRING IMPORTATION of NONVEAUTES, in

LONG and SQUARE SHAWLS;
DRESS and BLACK SILKS;
THIN DRESS FABRICS; M. DE LAINES;
EMBROIDERIES; LACE and WHITE GOODS;
All kinds of MOURNING GOODS;
All kinds of HOUSEKEEPING ARTICLES;
STUFFS for BOYS' WEAR;
GINGHAMS, PRINTS, HOSIERY, GLOVES &c

All in great variety, and at very low prices.

Boston, March 22d. 6w.

Carpeting.

4-4, 5-4, and 6-4, SRAW and PAINTED CARPETING, for sale by

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, March 22d tf

DRY GOOD'S

☞ NOTICE. ☜

THE undersigned most respectfully inform the public that they keep constantly on hand a large Stock of

DRY GOODS,

well adapted to the wants of the community.

At all times can be found a good assortment of

Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinets and Doe-Skins, Prints, De Laines, Cashmeres, Alpaccas,

and a great variety of

DRY GOODS AND SHAWLS,

Sheetings, Shirtings, Flannels, and Blankets,

With a good Assortment of such artices as are usually found in a well selected

Stock of Dry Goods.

Feeling confident that our prices will insure a ready sale, our GOODS will be freely shown to all wishing to examine them.

GEORGE SAVIL & CO,
Washington Street, Quincy.

A few rods east of the Stone Meeting House.

Quincy, October 5. tf

Babbitts Cythercan Cream of SOAP. expressly for the use of Ladies.

BABBITT'S PANARISTON SHAVING CREAM for Gentlemen, HONEY SOAP, MUSK SOAP, Low's genuine old brown Windsor and a great variety of other soap for sale by

MRS E HAYDEN

Quincy March 1st tf

JUST received, a good assortment of GENTLEMENS', LADIES and MISSES

INDIA RUBBER SHOES

of the best quality, for sale cheap, by

I. W. MUNROE

Quincy, Jan. 11th, 1851. tf

BROAD CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, TWEEDS and VESTINGS, for sale at a great discount from former prices.

Please call and examine before purchasing, at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

Beef and Pork.

A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere.

Also—Fresh BEEF and PORK, constantly on hand, and delivered to any part of the town free of expense. H. A. RANSOM & CO.

m16 tf

Hotel Furniture.

The entire Stock of Furniture of the

HANCOCK HOUSE IN QUINCY.

WILL be sold by public auction, without reserve, on MONDAY, March 31st,

Commencing at ten o'clock in the forenoon.

All the FURNITURE of the Hancock House, comprising a large number of Bedsteads, Beds, Mattresses, etc, and Bedding for the same; Carpets for more than forty rooms; Oil Carpets and Entry Carpets; Mahogany Extension, Dining and Card Tables; Sofas, Chairs, Bureaus; Ivory Knives and Forks; Looking Glasses, Chandeliers, Centre and Hanging Solar Lamps China and Glass Ware, Castors, and a great vareity of excellent Furnitnre as is required for a Hotel of this class.

Also—A large collection of Kitchen Furniture and Cooking Utensils.

Also—1 Horse, 1 Cow, 2 Hogs, Wagon and Harness, Seddle, Bridles, Robes, and Stable Furniture.

Conditions made known at the sale.

GEORGE H. FRENCH, Auctioneer.

Quincy, March 19th. 2w

Corporation Notice.

A Meeting of the Petitioners for the QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY will be holden at the room over Mr. J. Briesler's store Hancock Street, near the Town Hall, on WEDNESDAY, April 2d, 1851, at 3 o'clock P. M., to act upon the acceptance of the Act of Incorporation, and such other business as may come before them.

T. C. WEBB,

One of the persons named in the act of Incorporation.

Quincy, March 22d 2w

Old Colony Railroad.

Depot Corner of South and Kneeland Streets

PASSENGER TRAINS DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS—

For Plymouth, 8 1-2 A. M.; 4 1-2, P. M.

For Bridgewater, 8 1-2 A. M.; 4 1-2 P. M.

For Quincy and Braintree, 7 3-4, 8 1-2 A. M.; 1 3-4, 4, 4 1-2, 6, 9 1-4 P. M.

For Hingham and Cohasset, 8 1-2 A. M.; 6, P M.

For Milton, U. M., 9 3-4 A. M.; 1, 2 3-4, 5 1-2, P. M.

Plymouth for Boston, 7 1-4 A. M.; 3 1-4 P. M.

Bridgewater for Boston and Plymouth, 7 1-2 A. M.; 3 1-2 P. M.

Cohasset for Boston, 6 3-4, A. M.; 4 P. M.

Milton U. M. for Boston, 8, 10 1-2 A. M.; 1 3-4 4 3-4, P. M.

Braintree for Boston, 7 18, 8 1-2, 8 40, 11.04, A. M. 2 48, 4 1-2, 5 13, P. M.

☞ The 5 P. M. Train from Boston for Plymouth will not stop short of South Braintree.

JOS. H. MOORE, Sup't.

Boston, July 25. tf

Trains leave Quincy for Boston as follows:—

7 24, 8.38, 8.47, 11.10, A. M.; 2 54, 4 39 5.15 P. M

Chowder!!!

THE Subscriber takes this method to inform the Citizens of Quincy that he has taken the

"FRANKLIN STREET SALOON."

Where may always be found such articles as OYSTERS, PIGS FEET, LAMB'S TONGUES, PICKLED CLAMS, and other Refreshments.

Also, CONFECTIONARY, CIGARS, etc.,

CHOWDER, twice a week Wednesday, and Saturday. Open day and Evening

CHARLES C BRACKETT,

Quincy, Feb 8th tf

NEW ENGLAND PROTECTIVE Union, Division No. 179.

JUST opened on Washington Street, a few doors below the Stone Temple, in the Store resently occupied by J. Williams.

The Company respectfully solicit the attention of the public to their mode of Trade, and examine for themselves the quality of their Goods, and their Prices, which will be always exhibited upon a bulletin board.

Their Stock of Goods consists of all kinds of Groceries, Country Produce, FLOUR, CROCKERY WARE, &c.

All of Superior quality, and sold at the lowest possible advance from cost.

No Damaged, Mixed, or inferior goods will be offered for sale.

Quincy, Oct. 5. tf

Dyer's Washing Fluid.

A first rate article for washing clothes. For sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Sept 14 tf

Pure Cider Vinegar.

BY the gallon or barrel, just received, and for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

Salt Pork.

A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quncy March 9th, tf

Executrix Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Executrix of the will of JOSIAH FRENCH, late of Braintree in the County of Norfolk, yeoman deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

RACHEL FRENCH Executrix

Braintree March 15th 3w*

Family Bibles.

WE continue to sell BEAUTIFUL QUARTO BIBLES, of superior quality and binding, at unprecedentedly low prices. Many have availed themselves of the opportunity offered in a former notice, to purchase a good Bible cheap. We have more left, and invite all to call and examine before purchasing. C GILL & CO.

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Quincy, Jan. 4th., 1850. 3w.

Wanted Immediately.

8 OR 10 FIRST rate PANTALOON and VEST makers to make Custom Work—to whom the highest price will be paid, apply to

GEORGE SAVIL & CO, Washington St.

Quincy, March 22d. tf

ALL READY

AND NOW OPENING

NEW STYLE OF FALL AND WINTER TRADE,

JUST RECEIVED AT THE

Town Hall Cloth and Clothing Store, Quincy.

RUSSELL & CO,

WOULD Respectfully intimate to the Citizens of QUINCY, and vicinity, that they have made great additions to their present expensive assortment of CLOTHS AND CLOTHING; and would particularly invite those purchasing for CASH, to inspect THEIR STOCK before buying elsewhere, feeling confident we can sell BETTER ARTICLES FOR LESS MONEY, than can be procured anywhere in this vicinity.

N. B.—Our STOCK consists of every variety in Color and Quality of GERMAN, ENGLISH and FRENCH and AMERICAN GOODS. Some of the RICHEST VEST PATTERNS, and a HOST OF PANTALOONERY!

BOYS' CLOTHING, OF EVERY DESCRIPTION ON HAND,

Furnishing Goods and Hosiery.

HATS CAPS &C.

P. S.—RUSSELL & CO, having adopted the CASH SYSTEM entirely in their mode of doing business, deeming it most advisable for public and private interest, having REDUCED THE PRICE of every article in the Clothing Line, to meet the foregoing arrangement.

—NO DEVIATION FROM CASH WILL BE MADE.—

Quincy, March 22.

POETRY.

THE DAYS OF CHILDHOOD.

The pleasant days of Childhood,
How swi fily have they flown,
Like young flowers in the wild wood,
When Autum Winds have blown ;
They' re gone, they're gone forever,
They will not more return,
Though Memory holds them in the heart,
Like ashes in the urn.

The happy days of Childhood,
When innocence and glee
With gentle fingers, tuned the heart
To music wild and free ;
They're gone they're gone forever.
Like rivers to the main
Their dancing waves of joy and mirth,
Will ne'er return again.

The holy days of Childhood,
Ere evil thoughts came near,
When in the heart no sin was found,
And on the cheek no tear ;
They're gone, they're gone forever,
Like foot-prints on the shore,
Washed out by Time's relentless waves
They will return no mere.

The pleasant, holy, happy days,
Life's only blossom time,
Where are your buds which promise gave
Of flowers in Summer's prime ?
Though gone, though gone forever,
Ye haunt the heart and brain,
And Memory keeps ye to annoint
Life's after years of pain.

TIME'S TEACHING.

Time to me this truth has taught,
('Tis a truth that's worth revealing.)
More offend for want of thought
Than from any want of feeling—
If advice we would convey,
There's a time we should convey it,
If we've butja word to say,
There's a time in which to say it.

Oft unknowingly the tongue
Touches on a cord so aching,
That a word or accent wrong
Pains the heart almost to breaking,
Many a tear of wounded pride,
Many a fault of human blindness,
Has been soothed or turned aside
By a quiet voice of Kindness.

Many a beautious flower decays,
Though we tend it e'er so much—
Something secret on it preys,
Which no human aid can touch ;
So in many a lovely breast
Lies some canker-grief concealed
That it touched is more oppressed—
Left unto itself, is healed.

UNION.

Why link we not out trembling hands,
And all our joys and sorrows blend,
Since crossing o'er life's desert sands,
We have a common aim and end ?

The rich, the poor, the bond, the free,
This lesson ought to learn,
That gliding down life's stormy sea,
Their barks to one broad haven turn.

The same rough tide impels beneath ;
The same fixed light shines out above ;
Our common fate is pain and death ;
Our hopes the same—why not our love ?

Ah, let us break the chain that binds
Each single shalop in the foam,
And bravely trust the common winds
To fill our sails and waft us home !

ACROSTIC.

Joyous bird from sunny clime,
Ever ring thy welcome chime !
Nature's minstrel, sweetly sing—
None would soil thy glossy wing :
Young and old a tribute bring.

Long may peace thy steps surround,
In thy pathway joy abound,
Nearer Heaven they journey tend,
Daily fill thy warblings end !

ANECDOTES.

'Mother,' said a bright little girl, is hell a hot place ?' Being a little puzzled what reply to make the mother answered.

'Yes.'

'Then,' said the little girl, 'why don't they turn the damper.'

—

'Humble as I am,' said a bullying political demagogue at a mass meeting, 'I still remember that I am a fraction of this magnificent republic.'

'You are, indeed,' said a bystander, and a vulgar one at that.'

—

A lady after hearing a very impressive sermon condemnatory of wickedness in every shape, coolly exclaimed,

'Well, after all I should like to see everything for once ?'

—

'Josh., does the sun ever rise in the West ?

'Never.'

'You don't say so. Well, you won't catch me to emigrate to the West, if its always night there. I've a cousin in Iowa, who is always writing how pleasant it is in that region, but it must be moonshine, I reckon.

—

"Dan, Dan, what on earth are you doing up there?"—"Nothing, sir," was the response. 'Then stop doing it, right off."

—

Carry a cheap umbrella ; you will discover why when you lose it, which you of course, will do in about six weeks.

Notice.

THE Subscribnr returns his thanks to his friends and the public generally who have favored him with their custom—and would say to those who are purchasing goods, thet he intends keeping a good Assortment of

WEST INDIA GOODS AND GROCERIES :

OF ALL KINDS—Also,

BEEF, PORK, BACON, LARD, & POTATOES,

— AND —

FLOUR:

Of various kinds—by the Barrel or Bag—as low as can be bought for Cash or Credit.

N, B. And delivered as usual.

GEORGE H. LOCKE.

Quincy, Feb, 15, 1851.

HAT AND CAP STORE

A. B. PACKARD has remodled his Store, making the sales room twice as large as formerly, where he intends keeping a large stock of

HATS AND CAPS,

suitable for the young, the fashionable and the middle-aged, and the old gentlemen, at prices to suit the wants of the people.

Also,

A large supply of STOCKS, SHIRTS, BOSOMS COLLARS, and CLOTHING, of the latest Spring siyles.

Plain high colored Delaines, Prints, Flannels, Ginghams, Cotton Cloths, Linen Handkerchiefs, &c.

With that never to be forgotten INK, for Boot-Makers' use

Quincy, April 13. tf

Crockery Ware.

A Splendid Assortment of CROCKERY WARE just received and for sale at the Union Store, on Washington Street, Quincy

Blue Stone Chine Tea Setts	-	1,75
Mulbary " " " -	-	1,75
Light Blue " " -	-	1,37
White " " -	-	1,37

— AND —

A Good Assortment of GLASS & BRITANIA OIL & FLUID LAMPS

Quincy, Dec 7 1850: tf

Beef and Pork.

A prime lot, put up by the subscribers, cheap as can be bought elsewhere.

Also—Fresh BEEF and PORK, constantly on hand, and delivered to any part of the town free of expense. H. A. RANSOM & CO.

m16 tf

Super Cashmere Scarfs.

A GOOD Assortment of Colors and Sizes, just received, and for sale very low, at

I. W. MUNROE'S.

Quincy, Jan. 18, 1851. tf

Hats and Caps.

2 CASES, Fall stylo, just received, and for sale cheap for cash, by

A. B. PACKARD.

Quincy, Dec. 6. 6w

Hats and Caps.

For sale at very low prices by

I. W. MUNROE.

Quincy March 8th.

Salt Pork and Beef.

A FIRST rate article of PORK and BEEF, packed by the subscribers and for sale by the barrel or in smaller quantites to suit purchasers, cheap for CASH. J & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy. March 16th. tf

New England Protective Union.

DIVISION.....No. 180.

AT the STORE recently occupied by Mr. Frederick Hardwick on Franklin street, may be found a good assortment of

GROCERIES, CROCKERY and GLASS WARE.

Together with a supply of

OOA T MAKERS' FINDINGS.

— ALSO —

BEEF,
PORK,
SAUSAGES,
TRIPE,
LARD,
MACKEREL,
PICKELS,
POTATOES, &c.

All of which will be kept constantly on hand, and will be sold, at a small advance from cost, for cash.

The public are invited to call, and examine our goods, and become acquainied with our mode of trade

N. B —The spacious Hall over the store will be let on favorable terms.

☞ Goods delivered to any part of the town free of chearge ☜

Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. tf

Notice.

THE Subscribers return their thanks to their friends and the public generally who have favored them with their custom, and would say to those who are purchasing goods, that we intend keeping as good assortment of English, West India goods and Groceries of all kinds.

Also, Beef, Pork, Bacon, Lard, Mackerel, and Vegatables, which will be sold as low as can be bought elsewhere for cash or credit.

Also, Flour by the barrel or bag, as low as can be bought for cash.

N. B. Goods delivered as usual

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, Oct. 5th. tf

☞Shirts.....Shirts.☜

I. W. MUNROE, has just received a prime assortment of

☞.....FINE SHIRTS.....☜

of the latest style, which will be sold at very low prices.

Quincy, Jan. 25, 1851. tf

Bakery Business.

THE subscribers respectfully inform the public that they have commenced the baking business at the bakery formerly occupied by L. G. Horton, and hope by their constant attention to the business to merit a share of the public patronage.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Jan. 18th, 1851. tf

Mattresses.

PALM LEAF and HUSK MATTRESSES just received and for sale as low as can be bought in the City, and delivered at any part of this Town, free of expense.

I W MUNROE.

Quincy, March 8th. tf

NEW DE LAINES AND PRINTS, just received and for sale at

I. W. MUNROE,

Quincy, Feb. 14th, 1851, tf

Pies, Puddings, Custards, &c.

MRS. E. HAYDEN has on hand, a variety of articles for flavoring, viz:—

Peach water; Rose water; etc., etc. Essence of Rose, Cinnamon, Lemon, etc.

Also—Sweet Marjorams, Sage, Summer Savory, Thyme, &c.

Quincy, Nov. 16. tf

New Paper Hangings.

A GOOD assortment of new Pattens just received and for sale by

I W MUNROE.

Quincy March 8th.

Paper Hangings.

3 TO 400 rolls PAPER HANGINGS, new styles, for sale very cheap by

D BAXEER & CO.

Quincy, March 8th.

Flannels.

WHITE, Red, Yellow, and Blue mixed Flannels Twilled and plain, an assortment just received and for sale low at GEO. SAVILL & Co. Washington Street Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21 tf

CASH

PAID FOR

OLD IRON, COPPER, BRASS,

PEWTER, LEAD, GLASS,

Rubbers and Ink Bottles, Junk,

COBDAGE, PAPER STOCK &c.

—BY—

A. B. PACKARD.

Pure Cider Vinegar.

BY the gallon or barrel, just received, and for sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Sept. 14. tf

Salt Pork.

A FIRST RATE article of Salt Pork, packed by the subscribers, for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, as cheap as can be bought for Cash, and delivered at any part of the town free of expense.

D. BAXTER & Co

Quncy March 9th, tf

Dyer's Washing Fluid.

A first rate article for washing clothes. For sale by H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Sept 14. tf

Cider Vinegar.

FIRST rate article of good, Cider Vinegar. Just received and for sale by

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, August 17. tf

Bay State Long Shawls.

AN Assortment just received of the different sizes Styles and Qualities, which will be sold at the lowest prices, by GEO. SAVIL and Co., Washington Street, Quincy.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

W. Porter.

DEALER IN

Pine, Spruce and Hemlock

LUMBER,

CLAPBOARDS, SHINGLES,

LATHS, PICKETS,

CEDAR POSTS, &c.,

At his new Wharf near Brackett's.

Quincy, July 31 tf

Magazines.

LADY'S BOOK, GRAHAM'S, SARTAN'S, PETERSON'S HARPER'S

And other Magazines :

LIVING AGE, BLACKWOOD, NORTH AMERICAN.

And other Reviews :

CHRISTIAN EXAMINER, MONTHLY RELIGIOUS MAGAGZINE, UNIVERSALIST QUARTERLY, MERRY'S MUSEUM, GOLDEN AGE,

And many others :

For which Subscriptions will always be received and the Numbers promptly furnished — Or :

Single copies sold at the lowest prices, at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Quincy, Feb 15, 1851. 4w

French Calf Boots.

MADE to order, in the neatest and most fashionable style, and a FIRST RATE FIT WARRANTED, by W. S. UNDERWOOD,

Hancock St., Quincy,

Next door to the Quincy Bookstore.

Quincy, May 5. tf

Velvet Trimmings.

JUST Received, an assortment of Velvet Trimmings, Fancy Colors, and for sale by

GEO SAVIL & Co., Washington St.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

Wool Frocking.

200 TO 300 yds of all wool FROCKING, an extra article, just received, and for sale as cheap as can possibly be purchased elsewhere.

ALSO—FROCKS ready made.

DANIEL BAXTER £Co.

Quincy, Sept. 29. tf

Prepartion for the Hair.

THE celebrated "Der Schon Glanz," or Jenny Lind Hair Gloss; Camm's Spanish Lustral, or medicated hair pre-ervative; Tompkins' Chlorion gustrale: Batchelor's instantaneous hair dye; Jules Haules vegetable hair dye. For sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

Boot Makers's Shop to Let

ON Washington street; a few rods frem the Old Colony Depot. The Shop is pleasantly situated and well lighted ! It is suitable for carrying on the business, and will comfortably seat eight or ten persons. It will be let to one person, or by the single seat.

N B. A limited number can be accommodated with board.

For information enquire on the premises of

G, W. KENISON.

Quincy, Feb. 15, 1851.

Particular Notice.

THE Subscribers respectfully inform their customers and the public, that on and after the First of OCTOBER next, all goods will be sold at reduced prices for cash only.

All those who wish to buy cheap, are invited to call, as the prices cannot fail to suit them.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy. Sept. 7th. tf

List Carpeting.

for sale by

I W MUNROE.

Quincy, March 8th. ts

Watches and Silver Ware.

THE subscriber having established himself at the Store of GEORGE B. FOSTER, 29 Tremont Row, (opposite the Boston Museum,) informs the public that at the above establishment can be found a large assortment of

Gold and Silver

WATCHES,

Silver Ware, Parlor Lamps, and Ric

HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

His attention will be given personally, at all times, to the REPAIRING AND ADJUSTING OF WATCHES, which his long experience in that department with Mr. JEFFREY R. BRACKETT, entitles him to the confidence of his friends and customers.

☞His friends and acquaintance when in Boston are invited to call.

THOMAS S. JOHNSON.

Boston, Feb. 23. 1stf

Mrs. E. Hayden.

GRATEFUL for the patronage she has received for more the twenty years, offers to her friends and the public an ENLARGED STOCK of the best

FAMILY MEDICINES,

Selected and Prepared with care

—ALSO—

Various articles for the use of the sick, among which are, SPOUT DRINKING CUPS; Leech Glasses; Nursing Tubes, of Porcelain, ivory and silver, with and without bottles; India Rubber Breast Pumps, glass Pipes and Shells; Pratt's Patent Nursing Shields; India Rubber and Box-Wood do; Bed Pans; Metal and Glass Syringes; Crain's, Ingall's and Chapin's Supporters; Horse Hair Mittens; English Patent Lint and Surgeon's Tow; Spread Plasters, on kid, cloth and paper; Jew David's Plaster, in Boxes: Dtistering Paper and Tissue Dressing; European Leeches, &c, &c.

Physicians' Prescriptions,

Put up with ACCURACY and DESPATCH.

She has also on hand and is constantly receiving the New and Popular Medicines of the day.

Washington St., rear of Stone Temple.

Quincy, Oct. 20. tf

Bounty Land.

FOR SOLDIERS' OF THE WAR OF 1812—and of any Indian War since 1790, their widows and minor children, obtained All claims, business, and suits, under any of the PENSION or PATENT LAWS of the United States,—also PROBATE and other business connected with the settlement of Estates, of deceased persons attended to by

EBEN. SMITH, JR.

Boston, Dec. 28, 1850. 3m

Periodical Agency.

C. GILL & Co. are Agents for all the Quarterlys, Monthly and Weekly Magazines, receiving subscriptions therefor and furnishing the Numbers free from any expense for Postage or transportation. All who wish to subscribe for any Magazine can be promptly supplied with all the numbers for the time for which they pay. For Terms please apply at the QUINCY BOOKSTORE, where numbers can be examined or single numbers purchased at the lowest prices. tf Quincy, Dec. 22

New Goods.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.,

HAVE recently made large additions to their Stock of Goods consisting of in part as follows:

Mouslin DeLaine, a good assortment, very low;
Prints and Ginghams in great variety;
Furniture Patches, some very low, for Comforters
Wool and Cotton Flannels, of all colors
Wool Yarn, of all colors;

A great assortment of Bleached and Unbleached Sheetings and Shirtings, of all qualities, for 5, 8 and 12 1-2 cts per yard;

Together with a GREAT VARIETY of other Goods, all of which will be sold at the

VERY LOWEST PRICES.

Quincy, August 31. tf

Let the Public Call.

THE subscriber, at the shop formerly occupied by Joshua Jones, continues the Collar and Harness Making and Carriage Trimming, in all its branches, stock of the best material only used, and the workmanship will vie with any other establishment

By attention to business and promptness to orders, a liberal share of support is solicited.

RALPH LOWE.

Quincy April 13th.

Israel W. Munroe.

OFFERS for sale at the old stand of JOSIAH BRIGHAM & CO., a good assortment of

ENGLISH and WEST INDIA GOODS, CROCKERY, GLASS and HARD WARE, SHOES, HATS and CAPS, PAPER HANGINGS,

And almost every article kept in a variety store, at the lowest prices for cash or approved credit.

Quincy, Jan. 11, 1851. tf

Onions.

50 BUSHELS of prime Onions, for sale by

H. A. RANSOM & CO.

Quincy, Oct 12th, 1850. tf

Crockery and Glass Ware.

JUST added to our previous assortment, new an choice patterns of

Tea and Dining Setts, Washbowls, and Ewers.

H A RANSOM & Co.

Quincy Sept. 1. tf

Cider Vineger.

JUST received, and for sale by the subscribers, twenty barrels extra Cider vinegar.

J. & H. H. FAXON.

Quincy, Aug. 23, 1850. tf

Cholera, Dysentery, &c.

MRS. E. HAYDEN offers for sale various articles for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, &c.

Among which are Whiteman's Vegetable Syrup; Java Balsam, (a celebrated East Indian remedy!) Billings's Summer Cordial; Arnold's Balsam; Holden's Dysentery Cordial; Jayne's Carminative Balsam; Anti-Cholera Drops: Whitwell's Sulphur and Charcoal Pills. And a variety of other articles, for the same diseases

Quincy, July 20. tf

BOSTON MUSEUM,

Tremont Street,..... Boston.

ALWAYS OPEN DAY AND EVENING.

THIS MUSEUM is the largest, most valuable, and best arranged in the United States. It comprises no less than

SEVEN DIFFERENT MUSEUMS,

to which has been added the present year, besides the constant daily accumulation of articles, One Half of the celebrated

PEALE'S PHILADELPHIA MUSEUM,

swelling the already immense collection to upwards of

HALF A MILLION ARTICLES,

the greatest amount of objects of interest to be found together at any one place in America; and an entirely

NEW HALL OF WAX STATUARY,

One Hundred Feet in length, filled to its utmost capacity with WAX FIGURES of the size of life, single and in groups, to the number of upwards of TWO HUNDRED, which have been in preparation for the last two years by a corps of the most distinguished artists to be found in either the old country or the new, and are so NATURAL and LIFELIKE as to

Mock Reality.

and lead the beholder to doubt whether the figures do not actually live and breathe. Among the most prominent will be found the celebrated Tableaux of

CHRIST'S LAST SUPPER

with his Twelve Disciples; representing the consternation and dismay of the chosen ones at the moment when he told them that ONE OF THEM SHOULD BETRAY HIM.

THE PRODIGAL SON,

returned home clothed in rags, and received by his forgiving father. The imposing spectacle of

THE CRUCIFIXION,

composed of more than forty figures; a correct representation of that event, according to the best received authorities.

Christ Disputing with the Doctors;

a characteristic group of seven figures.

THE GAME OF LIFE,

in which is shown the Christian and Satan contending for the mastery.

THE SIAMESE TWINS,

and their beautiful American wives.

Representation by nine figures, of the

MASSACRE BY PIRATES

of the passengers of a merchantman in the India Seas. After a description by one of the survivors.

HORRORS OF SLAVERY,

as exemplified by seven figures, being actual likenesses of a slave-owner, a slave-driver, and their victims.

MURDER OF MISS McCREA,

by the Indians during the Revolutionary war; a thrilling group, showing the characteristics of the Red Men.

INTEMPERANCE,

and its certain evils; illustrated in three groups, the last a correct picture of a

Wife Murdered by her Husband.

Also, groups of a School,—a Milliner's Shop,—a Shoemaker's Shop,—a Barber's Shop,—a Blacksmith's Shop, &c., as well as a variety of single figures of distinguished men, &c., with upwards of

One Hundred of Cabinet Size,

rendering it the largest collection of Wax Figures in America. The entire of the above, and the immense collection of

BIRDS, BEASTS, FISH, INSECTS & REPTILES,

obtained from all parts of the world, together with innumerable varieties of Natural and Artificial Curiosities;

Paintings, Engravings and Statuary,

OIL PORTRAITS

of the GREAT and GOOD of all nations,—Naval and Military Heroes, Patriots, Statesmen, and Divines;—Rare Coins and Medals;—Shells, Corals, and Fossils;

EGYPTIAN MUMMIES,

and ancient Sarcophagi, 3000 Years old; and an entire

Family of Peruvian Mummies:

the DUCK-BILLED PLATYPUS, the connecting link between the BIRD and BEAST, being evidently half each;—the curious half-fish, half-human

FEJEE MERMAID,

which was exhibited in most of the principal cities of America, in the years 1840, '41, and '42, to the wonder and astonishment of thousands of naturalists and other scientific persons, whose previous doubts of the existence of such an astonishing creation were entirely removed;

Elephants and Ourang-Outangs;

ANIMALS and BIRDS of every nation; Sharks, Seals, and a variety of FISHES, including the curious

SAW AND SWORD FISH,

all in lifelike preservation; the whole forming a School of Instruction, blended with Amusement, that for extent and interest is unequalled in the known world;—the whole to be seen for the small admission fee of

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

In Addition to which, and

WITHOUT EXTRA CHARGE,

visitors are admitted to the gorgeous Exhibition Hall, which has been newly decorated at an expense of nearly five thousand dollars, where they can witness the magnificent

THEATRICAL ENTERTAINMENTS,

given EVERY EVENING, and WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, by a Company of Comedians and an Orchestra of Musicians, admitted to be SUPERIOR to any ever before collected in this country, with the aid of

Stage and Scenic Arrangements,

the most grand and superb ever seen in either Europe or America; thus warranting the universal admission that the Boston Museum, besides being the most comfortable and genteel, is also the

Cheapest Place of Amusement

IN THE WORLD! A single visit will prove the truth of this assertion, as the admission is only

☞ 25 Cents to the Whole!!! ☜

Boston, Sept. 14th 1850. tf

PUBLISHED E

NUMBER 14.

JOHN A. GRE

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CONDITIONS.

Two Dollars per annum in advance—
ARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not paid till the months—THREE DOLLARS if delayed till ration of the year.

No subscription nor advertisement will previous to the payment of all arrearage the option of the proprietor. When subs their papers discontinued, they will give no effect at the time their subscription expir subscriber will be held responsible for t of his paper so long as it is sent to his ad
Post Office, Tavern, or any other place he may have ordered it, until legally no contrary.

Advertisements, correctly and conspic ed at the customary prices. The number required must be marked on the advertise wise they will be continued until orde charged for accordingly.

The privilege of annual advertisers i their own immediate business; and all adv for the benefit of other persons, as well advertisements, and advertisements of a ent in by them, must be paid for at the us

Business letters and communications addr
Editor, postage paid, will receive early atte

☞ Single copies of the paper, FIVE CE

AGENTS FOR THE PATRIOT.

The following gentlemen are authorize pay and requested to procure subscription

JOSIAH BABCOCK,	Quincy Ra
GEORGE H. LOCKE,	" Stone
ORIN P. BACON,	Dorchester
FISHER A. KINGSBURY,	Weymouth.
JOSEPH CLEVERLY,	Abington.
SAMUEL A. TURNER	South Scitu
N. B. OSBORNE,	Salem
FREEMAN HUNT,	New York

MISCELLANY.

EDWARD LAYTON'S REW

'I could not have believed it!' Mrs. Pierce Bradshaw. 'I could not lieved it" she repeated over and over she fell into a fit of abstraction.

Her husband, who had been glancin over the pages of a magazine, turning leaf without reading, or perhaps ev the heading of a page, at length said,

"You have large faith, my dear,' the lady.

'Fortunately, for Selina, I have n hion,' was the reply.

Mrs. Pierce Bradshaw was not an person; she never troubled her husb one else with many words; so she mured, in a subdued tone, 'Fortu deed.'

'What a fellow he was!' said M shaw, as he closed the magazine. 'I member how delighted you were wi evening of the tableaux at lady We There was something so elegant and in his loving; so much ease and gra ner; his address was perfect—the of a well bred gentlemen, subdued not quite into softness by the inability This was thrown into strong relief b ners of the young men of the fam habits and voices might have entitled take the lead, even now in the go-a-h which then was hardly in existen events in England.'

'You was quite as much taken wi I was.'

'No, my dear, not quite. Edwar was especially suited for the society His tastes and feelings are—or wer time—all sincerely refined; he was impulse of talent, which he had strength to bring forth; his thoughts wandering, and he needed perpetual particularly the excitement of beauty sic, to bring them and keep them whe He was strongly and strangely mov cellence of any kind, so that it was e and the only thing I ever heard hi contempt for was wealth!—yes wealt

'I could not have believed it,' Pierce Bradshaw.

'That particular night it was wh was engaged to Lelia Medwin. sung, he stood like a young Appo harp, too entranced to turn over the music, his eyes overflowing with de the poor little girl was so bewitched b tentions that she fancied every whispe ration of love.'

'Shameful!' said Mrs Pierce Brad

'Then her mother showed every or lovely sketch he had made of Lelia's h ing, that indeed it was too lovely; bu was a partial judge.'

'She was a silly woman,' observed th

'She would not have been consid they had been married,' replied the g 'Mammas have no mercy on each oth delecate manœuvings. Well, he wa her always; and bent over her, willo looked with her at the moon; and w net which she took to herself, for it w ed 'To mine own dear——;' and th about eight weeks afterwards, we m the dejeuner at Sally Lodge, he was with Lizzy Grey's guitar as he had Lelia's harp sketched her little tiger her grandmother, waltzed with her, her, willow fashion, looked with her a and wrote another sonnet address loved one.'

'Such men——' exclaimed Mrs P shaw. She did not finish the sentenc ed as if such men ought to be ext and so they ought!

'There was so much about him th